4828. Courts of justice of the state.

SECTION 1. The following shall be the courts of justice for this state: First, the supreme court; second, the district courts; third, justices' courts; and, fourth, such municipal courts as may from time to time be established by the legislature in incorporated cities or towns.

See Const., sec. 316.

SUPREME COURT

4829. Supreme court, how composed—Justices commissioned by governor—Oath.

SEC. 2. The supreme court shall consist of a chief justice and two associates. Each justice hereafter elected or appointed shall be commissioned by the governor, and before entering upon the discharge of his duties, shall take the constitutional oath of office.

See Const., sec. 317.
Justice must be an attorney, sec. 525.

4830. Election—Senior justice to be chief justice.

SEC. 3. The justices of the supreme court shall be chosen at general elections by the qualified voters of the state; one of the justices shall be chosen at the general election of the year one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six (1866), and at the general election every second year thereafter, and shall hold his office for the term of six years from the first day of January next after his election. The senior justice in commission shall be the chief justice, and in case the commission of any two or more of said justices shall bear the same date, they shall determine by lot who shall be chief justice.

4831. Governor to fill vacancies—Election.

SEC. 4. When, from any cause, a vacancy shall occur in the office of a justice of the supreme court, the governor shall fill the same by granting a commission, which shall continue until the election and qualification of a justice to fill such vacancy. A justice to fill a vacancy shall be chosen at the first general election subsequent to the occurrence of the vacancy.

4832. Appellate jurisdiction.

SEC. 5. The supreme court shall have appellate jurisdiction in all cases in equity, and also in all cases at law in which is involved the title or right of possession to, or the possession of, real estate or mining claims, or the legality of any tax, impost, assessment, toll, or municipal fine, or in which the demand, exclusive of interest or the value of the property in controversy, exceeds three hundred (300) dollars; also, in all other civil cases not included in the general subdivisions of law and equity, and also on questions of law alone, in all criminal cases in which the offense charged amounts to a felony.

See Const., sec. 319.

An order of a justice's court imposing costs against a garnishee that had refused to make a statement is not a "tax, impost, assessment or municipal fine," within the meaning of those words as used in Const., sec. 319, ante. Wearne v. Haynes, 13 Nev. 103, 104.

Where the case as made in a court of law is one of which the supreme court might have appellate jurisdiction, it has jurisdiction of an appeal from an order retaxing costs, made subsequent to judgment, though the case was dismissed by the plaintiff in the court below, and although the amount involved is less than three hundred dollars. Comstock M. and M. Co. v. Allen, 21 Nev. 325, 328 (31 P. 434).

4833. Jurisdiction to review on appeal.

SEC. 6. The supreme court shall have jurisdiction to review upon appeal: First, a judgment in an action or proceeding, commenced in a district court, when the matter in dispute is embraced in the general jurisdiction of the supreme court, and to review upon appeal from such judgment any intermediate order or decision involving the merits and necessarily affecting the judgment; second, an order granting or refusing a new trial in such cases; an order granting or refusing to change the place of trial of an action or proceeding after motion is made therefor in the cases in which that court has appellate jurisdiction, and from an order granting or refusing to grant an injunction or mandamus in the case provided for by law.

See secs. 319, 5329, 5340.

As the provision of this section, expressly authorizing an appeal from an order granting or refusing a change of venue, was omitted from section 327, Stats. 1869, 196, which enumerates the judgments and orders appealable, no appeal will lie upon such an order. (Fitzgerald, J., dissenting.) Peters v. Jones, 26 Nev. 259, 262–269 (66 P. 743).

This, however, has been changed by statute. See sec. 5329.

Under this section and section 8 of this act, the court on reversing an order denying a new trial demanded for insufficiency of evidence to support the verdict may remand the case, with directions to the trial court to consider and pass upon such ground anew. Goldfield-Mohawk M. Co. v. Frances-Mohawk M. and L. Co., 33 Nev. — (112 P. 42, 47).

The refusal of the judge to pass upon the insufficiency of the evidence to support the verdict, when urged in support of a motion for new trial, is error. Idem.

4834. Original writs, what may issue.

SEC. 7. This court, and each of the justices thereof, shall have power to issue writs of mandamus, certiorari, prohibition, quo warranto, and habeas corpus, and also all writs and process necessary to the complete exercise of its appellate jurisdiction; such writs may be issued to any part of the state, and in granting writs of habeas corpus, such court, or a judge thereof, may issue the writ upon application by or on behalf of any person held in actual custody in any part of the state, and may make such writs returnable before the court, or either of the justices thereof, or before any district court of the state, or any judge of said courts.

Section 4 of article 6 of the constitution (sec. 319, ante) provides that the supreme court shall have power to issue writs of mandamus, certiorari, prohibition, quo warranto, and habeas corpus, and all writs necessary to the complete exercise of its appellate jurisdiction, and confers upon each of the justices power to issue writs of habeas corpus to any part of the state.

4835. Power of court on appeal.

SEC. 8. This court may reverse, affirm, or modify the judgment or order appealed from as to any or all of the parties, and may, if necessary, order a new trial, or the place of trial to be changed. When the judgment or order appealed from is reversed or modified, this court may make, or direct the inferior court to make, complete restitution of all property and rights lost by the erroneous judgment or order.

See sec. 5359.

Even if the supreme court on appeal from a judgment might order an execution and sale made before appeal to be set aside, yet it is clear that the district court after case reversed has concurrent jurisdiction to do the same thing. Hastings v. Am. G. and S. M. Co., 2 Nev. 100, 103, 104.

It is the proper practice after a judgment has been reversed in the supreme court, to move the court below, when the facts justify such proceedings, to set aside a sale made on execution under an erroneous judgment. Idem.

4836. Terms of court, length of.

SEC. 9. There shall be four terms of this court in each year, to commence on the first Mondays of January, April, July, and October. Such terms shall continue until the business before the court is determined, or for such length of time as, in the opinion of the court, the public interest may require.

See Const., sec. 322.

Cited, State v. Jackman, 31 Nev. 516 (104 P. 13).

4837. Two justices may pronounce judgment—Reargument, when—Chamber business.

SEC. 10. Two justices shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, excepting such business as may be done at chambers, and the concurrence of two justices who heard the argument shall be necessary to pronounce any judgment, except in chamber business; and if two justices who have heard the argument do not agree, the case shall be reargued.

The constitution provides that a concurrence of a majority of the justices shall be necessary to render a decision, sec. 317.

4838. Sessions shall be held at capital—Power to provide necessaries.

SEC. 11. The supreme court shall hold its sessions at the capital of the state. If a room in which to hold the court, together with attendants, fuel, lights, and stationery, suitable and sufficient for the transaction of business, be not provided by the state, the court may direct the sheriff of the county in which it is held to provide such room, attendants, fuel, lights, and stationery, and the expense thereof shall be paid out of the state treasury.

Const., sec. 322.

The supreme court has the power to procure, at the expense of the state, furniture for the court-room when the capitol commissioners had refused to procure the same. State ex rel. Kitzmeyer v. Davis, 26 Nev. 373, 378 (68 P. 689).

4839. Opinions in writing—Record to be kept.

SEC. 12. All opinions and decisions rendered by the supreme court shall be in writing, signed by the justices concurring therein, and shall be spread at large on the records of the court kept for that purpose.

See Const., sec. 376.
See secs. 4847, 5315.

DISTRICT COURT

[Secs. 13, 14 and 15 superseded by following acts.]

[Sec. 16 is obsolete.]

4840. Original and appellate jurisdiction.

SEC. 17. The district courts shall, severally, have original jurisdiction in all cases in equity; also, in all cases at law which involve the title, or the right of possession to, or the possession of, real property or mining claims, or the legality of any tax, impost, assessment, toll, or municipal fine; also, in all actions to foreclose mechanics' liens; and in all cases in which the demand, exclusive of interest, or the value of the property in controversy, exceeds three hundred dollars; also, in all cases relating to the estates of deceased persons, and the person and estates of minors, idiots, and insane persons, and of the action of forcible entry and unlawful detainer; and, also, in all criminal cases not otherwise provided for by law; they shall also have final appellate jurisdiction in cases arising in justices' courts, and such other inferior tribunals as may be established by law. The district courts and the judges thereof, shall have power to issue writs of mandamus, injunction, quo warranto, certiorari, and all other writs proper and necessary to the complete exercise of their jurisdiction; and also shall have power to issue writs of habeas corpus, on petition by, or on behalf of, any person held in actual custody in their respective districts. As amended, Stats. 1866, 59.

See Const., sec. 321.
May appoint temporary district attorney, sec. 1597.
Revisory power over corporate elections, secs. 1130–1223.
May order sale of real property of religious or charitable corporations, sec. 1369.
Proceedings for removal of officers of corporations, secs. 1180–1183.
Proceedings to remove revenue officers (revenue act), judge may suspend commissioners, sec. 3753.
See juvenile court law, secs. 728–756.
See act in relation to contributory dependency and delinquency, secs. 757–764.

Proceedings to require new certificate of stock of incorporated company in case of lost certificate, sec. 1165.

Awards to dissatisfied stockholders under merger provisions of corporation act, may be contested, secs. 1147, 1148.

Proceedings for disincorporation under act of 1865, sec. 1240.

District judge to canvass returns of election of legislative officers and county commissioners, sec. 1513.

May require services of veterinarian, when, sec. 4379.

See cross-references before sec. 4828.

Under similar powers (Stats. 1861, 418, sec. 608) it was held that the probate court had the power to issue a writ of restitution, in an action of forcible entry and unlawful detainer, brought before it on certiorari. Paul v. Armstrong, 1 Nev. 82, 103.

The district court, on appeal from a justice's judgment, has the same jurisdiction as existed in the justice's court and a judgment of a justice's court which is void because for a greater amount than the justice has jurisdiction to render, is not appealable. Fitchett v. Henley, 31 Nev. 327, 338 (102 P. 865).

Certiorari lies to annul such a justice court judgment, since there is no right of appeal. Idem.

4841. Court, where held—May provide necessities.

SEC. 18. The terms of the district court shall be held at the county-seat of the several counties. If a room for holding the court be not provided by the county, together with attendants, fuel, lights, and stationery, suitable and sufficient for the transaction of business, the court may direct the sheriff to provide such room, attendants, fuel, lights, and stationery, and the expenses thereof shall be a county charge.

See sec. 4921.

It is indispensable to the validity of a judgment that it be rendered at the time and place prescribed by law.

The intention of the legislature in prescribing the times for the commencement and the place for holding the terms of the district court is to attain certainty. State v. Roberts, 8 Nev. 240, 241.

4842. Terms of district court—Judgments and orders, when may be entered.

See sec. 4906.

A court may amend its orders of record concerning the extension of time given to file a statement so as to conform with the truth, at any time during the term in which they are entered. Marshall v. G. F. G. and S. M. Co., 16 Nev. 156, 170.

4843. Business at chambers—What may be heard.

SEC. 20. The district judges shall, at all reasonable times, when not engaged in holding courts, transact such business at chambers as may be done out of court. At chambers they may try and determine writs of mandamus, certiorari, quo warranto, hear and dispose of motions for new trials, and all applications for writs which are usually granted, in the first instance, upon ex parte application, and may also, in their discretion, hear and determine applications to discharge such orders and writs. They may also hear and determine applications for writs of assistance at chambers.

4844. May hold court in any district upon request—Governor may direct.

SEC. 21. A district judge may hold a term in any judicial district in this state, upon the request of the judge of the district in which such term is to be held; and when, by reason of sickness or absence from the state, or from any other cause, a term cannot be held in a district by the judge thereof, a certificate of that fact shall be transmitted by the clerk to the governor, who shall thereupon direct some other district judge to hold such term. It shall be the duty of the judge thus directed to hold such term; provided, it will not conflict with his duties in his own district.

See sec. 4906, 4922.

4845. Court may make rules—When to take effect—Certain rules prohibited.

SEC. 22. Each district court shall have power to make rules not inconsistent with the constitution and laws of this state, for its own government and the government of its officers; but such rules shall not be in force until thirty days after their adoption and publication, except for the first terms held under the constitution of the state; and no rule shall be made imposing any tax or charge upon any legal proceeding, except as a penalty upon overruling a demurrer, or making an allowance to any officer for services.

Rules of supreme and district courts will be found under sec. 4928.

A rule of the district court relative to the settlement of a statement on motion for a new trial will not be considered by the supreme court unless it is embodied in the statement. Marshall v. Golden Fleece G. and S. M. Co., 16 Nev. 156.

(This case was decided before adoption and approval of district court rules. For which rules see under sec. 4928.)

The rules adopted by the district court and by the supreme court were intended to be supplemental to the provisions of the statute as rules for the government in all proceedings in the district court and have the same force and effect as if incorporated in their statutory provisions. Haley v. Eureka Co. Bank, 20 Nev. 410 (22 P. 1098).

Evidence of an oral agreement by plaintiff's attorney not to take any default against defendants is inadmissible on the application to set aside the default, as this would be in effect an enforcement of such agreement in violation of the district court rules. Idem.

4846. Judges not to charge as to matters of fact.

SEC. 23. District judges shall not charge juries upon matters of fact, but may state the evidence and declare the law. In stating the evidence, the judge should not comment upon the probability or improbability of its truth, nor the credibility thereof. If the judge state the evidence, he must also inform the jury that they are not to be governed by his statement upon matters of fact.

See sec. 327.

4847. May be required to reduce decision to writing—Exception noted.

SEC. 24. A district judge may be required, in deciding any question of law, to reduce his decision to writing at the time such decision is made, and note any exception thereto, which may be taken by either party, to a trial or proceeding before him.

See secs. 4839, 5315.

4848. Jurisdiction of public offenses—Indictments—Appeals from inferior courts.

SEC. 25. The district courts shall have jurisdiction to inquire, by the intervention of a grand jury, of all public offenses, committed or triable in their respective districts, to try and determine all indictments found therein, and to hear and determine appeals from justices' or other inferior courts in all cases of a criminal nature.

See secs. 237, 321, 323.

Certiorari does not lie from the supreme court to review a conviction before a justice of the peace on the ground that the statute authorizing the conviction is unconstitutional, since the constitutional question may be raised before the justice and an appeal taken from any judgment rendered by him. Chapman v. District Court, 29 Nev. 154, 158 (86 P. 552).

4849. Powers over estates minors and guardians—Probate of wills—Orders generally.

SEC. 26. The district courts shall have power to open and receive the proofs of last wills and testaments, and to admit them to probate; to grant letters testamentary of administration and guardianship, and to revoke the same for cause shown, according to law; to compel executors, administrators, and guardians to render an account when required, or at the period fixed by law; to order the sale of property of estates, or belonging to minors; to order the payment of debts due by estates; to order and regulate all partitions of property or estates of deceased persons; to compel the attendance of witnesses; to appoint appraisers or arbitrators; to compel the production of title papers or other property of an estate or of a minor, and to make such other orders as may be necessary and proper in the exercise of the jurisdiction conferred upon them by law.

4850. Powers of court in vacation.

SEC. 27. The district judge shall have power, in vacation, to appoint appraisers, to receive inventories and accounts to be filed in his court; to suspend the powers of executors, administrators, or guardians, in cases allowed by law; to grant special letters of administration or guardianship, to approve claims and bonds, and to direct the issuance from his court of all writs and process necessary to the exercise of his powers over the estates of deceased persons, and over the property and persons of minors, idiots, and insane persons.

JUSTICES' COURTS

[Secs. 28, 29, and 30 repealed, Stats. 1866, 125, and the act of 1866 was repealed, 1869, 288.]

4851. Jurisdiction of public offenses.

SEC. 31. Justices' courts shall also have jurisdiction of the following public offenses, committed within the respective counties in which courts are established: First, petit larceny; second, assault and battery, not charged to have been committed upon a public officer in the discharge of his duties, or with intent to kill; third, breaches of the peace, riots, affrays, committing a wilful injury to property, and all misdemeanors punishable by fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or imprisonment not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Cited, Moore v. Orr, 30 Nev. 470 (98 P. 398).

If the district court did not have the power to proceed originally by indictment in a criminal case prohibition is the proper remedy to prevent it from taking jurisdiction. Moore v. Orr, 30 Nev. 458, 461 (98 P. 398).

Relator was indicted in the district court for a misdemeanor punishable by a fine not exceeding $200 or by imprisonment not exceeding three months, or both, and brings prohibition to prevent the district court from taking original jurisdiction of the offense, claiming that it has only appellate jurisdiction. It was held that under Const., sec. 321, ante, where the legislature gave justices' courts jurisdiction of misdemeanors of the class mentioned, the district court was deprived of original jurisdiction in such cases and had only appellate jurisdiction so that it could not try such a case by indictment. Idem.

4852. Justice of peace—Terms of office and election—Vacancies—Commissioners to fill—Oath and bond.

SEC. 32. Justices of the peace shall hold their offices for two years, and until their successors are elected and qualified. They shall be chosen by the electors of their respective townships or cities, at the general election in the year one thousand eight hundred and sixty-five (1865), and the general election every two years thereafter, and shall enter upon their duties on the first Monday of January succeeding their election. Whenever a vacancy shall occur in the office of a justice by death, resignation, or otherwise, such vacancy shall be filled by appointment of the board of county commissioners of the proper county. The justice appointed to supply a vacancy shall hold his office for the unexpired term of his immediate predecessor. Each justice, before entering upon the discharge of his duties, shall take the constitutional oath of office, and shall execute a bond to the state in the sum of five thousand (5,000) dollars, conditioned for the faithful performance of his duties, and file the same with the county clerk.

MUNICIPAL COURTS

4853. Recorders' courts in incorporated cities—Jurisdiction.

SEC. 33. Recorders' courts, which are already established, or which may hereafter be established in any incorporated city of this state, shall have jurisdiction: First—Of an action or proceeding for the violation of any ordinance of their respective cities. Second—Of an action or proceeding to prevent or abate a nuisance within the limits of their respective cities. Third—Of proceedings respecting vagrants and disorderly persons.

See secs. 316, 323, 324, 325.

4854. Idem—Further jurisdiction—Public offenses.

SEC. 34. The recorders' courts already established, or which may hereafter be established, shall also have jurisdiction of the following public offenses, committed in their respective cities: First, petit larceny; second, assault and battery, not charged to have been committed upon a public officer in the execution of his duties, or with intent to kill; third, breaches of peace, riots, affrays, committing a wilful injury to property, and all misdemeanors punishable by fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or imprisonment not exceeding three months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

See secs. 323, 324, 4851.
Cited, State v. Rising, 10 Nev. 100.

4855. Idem—Where court to be held.

SEC. 35. A recorder's court shall be held by a judge who shall be designated as the "Recorder of the City," and said court shall be held at such place in the city within which it is established as the government of such city may by ordinance direct.

4856. Election of recorder—Term—Oath.

SEC. 36. The recorders shall be chosen by the electors of their respective cities, on a day to be fixed by the government of such cities, and shall hold their offices for one year, unless a longer period be fixed in the acts incorporating such cities; in which case, for such period fixed. Before entering upon their duties, they shall take the constitutional oath of office.

4857. Compensation fixed by charter—No increase or decrease during term.

SEC. 37. The recorders shall receive compensation, to be fixed by the charter, or when not so fixed by the government of their respective cities, to be paid by such cities quarterly, in equal proportions. Such compensations shall not be increased or diminished during the period for which they are elected.

4858. Powers and duties—Committing magistrates.

SEC. 38. The recorders shall possess the powers and exercise the duties of committing magistrates, in the criminal causes in which the courts held by them have no jurisdiction by this act; and as such magistrates, they may examine, commit or discharge all persons brought before them, as the justice and law of the case may require.

The power sought to be conferred upon city and town recorders by this section, "to exercise the duties of committing magistrates," is completely judicial in its character. Meagher v. Storey Co., 5 Nev. 244, 245, 248–250.

The words "municipal purposes only," as used in Const., sec. 316, restrict the jurisdiction to be exercised by municipal courts to such matters as relate to the affairs of the incorporated cities or towns where alone they are authorized to be established. Idem.

This section, in so far as it authorized city and town recorders "to possess the powers and exercise the duties of committing magistrates," is unconstitutional and void.

4859. May issue process.

SEC. 39. Recorders and recorders' courts may issue all legal process, writs, and warrants necessary and proper to the complete exercise of their powers.

4860. Recorders' courts always open.

SEC. 40. There shall be no terms in recorders' courts. These courts shall always be open.

GENERAL PROVISIONS RESPECTING COURTS AND COURT OFFICERS

ARTICLE I

4861. Courts of record.

SEC. 41. The supreme court, the several district courts, and such other courts as the legislature shall designate, shall be courts of record.

4862. Proceedings public—Exception.

SEC. 42. The sittings of every court of justice shall be public, except as provided in the next section.

4863. Idem—Divorce proceedings—Public may be excluded.

SEC. 43. In an action for divorce the court may direct the trial of any issue of fact joined therein to be private, and upon such directions all persons may be excluded, except the officers of the court, the parties, their witnesses, and counsel.

4864. Powers of court—Enforce order—Obedience to judgments and orders—Control conduct of its ministerial officers.

SEC. 44. Every court shall have power to preserve and enforce order in its immediate presence; to enforce order in the proceedings before it, or before a person or persons empowered to conduct a judicial investigation under its authority; to compel obedience to its lawful judgments, orders, and process, and to the lawful orders of its judge out of court in an action or proceeding pending therein; to control, in furtherance of justice, the conduct of its ministerial officers.

ARTICLE II

4865. When judge disqualified—Not applicable to arrangement of calendar or order of business.

SEC. 45. A judge shall not act as such in an action or proceeding to which he is a party, or in which he is interested. Second, when he is related to either party by consanguinity or affinity within the third degree. Third, when he has been attorney or counsel for either party in the action or proceeding. Fourth, when he is related to any attorney or counselor, for either of the parties, by consanguinity or affinity within the fourth degree, but this section shall not apply to the arrangement of the calendar, or the regulation of the order of business. As amended, Stats. 1907, 25.

Bias or prejudice on the part of a judge constitutes no legal incapacity to sit on the trial of a cause, and is not sufficient ground to authorize the change of the place of trial. Allen v. Reilly, 15 Nev. 452, 455.

Acts of a judge, involving the exercise of judicial discretion, in a case where he is disqualified from acting, are not voidable only, but void. Frevert v. Swift, 19 Nev. 363, 364 (11 P. 273).

A judge who is disqualified from hearing the case cannot extend the time within which to file a statement on motion for a new trial. Idem.

This section does not disqualify a judge, who is a property owner and taxpayer in the city of Reno, from sitting in a cause to enjoin the city from executing a contract for the construction of water-works, to be paid for with municipal bonds since, under the act incorporating the city, the council is not expressly authorized to tax property within the city to pay the interest and ultimately redeem the bonds, and it may not be necessary for it to do so under any implied power, for the reason that the council is authorized to impose rates for the consumption of water. State ex rel. Schaw v. Noyes, 25 Nev. 32, 49 (56 P. 946).

A judge who is a stockholder of a corporation presenting a claim against the state is disqualified from passing thereon, and should call in another judge to act. State ex rel. Bullion and Exchange Bank v. Mack, 26 Nev. 430, 442 (69 P. 862).

No formal application for the calling of a qualified judge was necessary where the record disclosed that the acting judge was disqualified. Idem.

Under this section it is the duty of a judge who has been of counsel for a party to change the place of trial to some other judicial district. Gamble v. District Court, 27 Nev. 233, 242 (74 P. 530).

Mandamus will lie to compel a judge who was of counsel in an action previous to his appointment as judge to change the place of trial of such action to some other judicial district, although no motion for that purpose was ever made in open court where the application for the change, signed by the petitioner's attorneys, was presented to the judge, the originals being later properly filed, and the motion for removal was informally made, and a list of authorities forwarded to him, he being engaged in judicial duties in another county, and from his reasons for refusal it was evident he would not have granted a motion, had it been formally made. (Talbot, J., dissenting.) Idem.

4866. Not to act as attorney or counsel except when party.

SEC. 46. A judge of the supreme court, or of the district courts, shall not act as attorney or counsel in any court, except in an action or proceeding to which he is a party on the record.

4867. Judge or justice of peace not to have partner in practice.

SEC. 47. A judge or justice of the peace shall not have a partner acting as attorney or counsel in any court in this state.

4868. Absence from state in excess of 90 days forfeiture of office.

SEC. 48. A judge of the supreme court, or of the district court, shall not absent himself from this state for more than ninety consecutive days. A violation of the provisions of this section shall work a forfeiture of such office. As amended, Stats. 1865, 185.

See sec. 332.

ARTICLE III

4869. Judicial days.

SEC. 49. The courts of justice may be held, and judicial business may be transacted, on any day except as provided in the next section.

4870. Nonjudicial days enumerated—What business allowed—Falling on Sunday, Monday following observed.

SEC. 50. No court shall be open, nor shall any judicial business be transacted on Sunday, on the 1st day of January (New Year Day), on the 12th day of February (Lincoln's birthday), on the 22d day of February (Washington's birthday), on the 30th day of May, commonly known as Memorial Day, on the 4th day of July, on the 1st Monday of September of each year (Labor Day), on the 31st day of October, to be known as Admission Day, on Thanksgiving Day, on the 25th day of December (Christmas Day), on a day on which the primary election is held throughout the state, on a day on which the general election is held, or on any day that may be appointed by the president of the United States, or by the governor of this state, for public fast, thanksgiving or holiday, except for the following purposes:

First—To give, upon their request, instructions to a jury then deliberating on their verdict.

Second—To receive a verdict or discharge a jury.

Third—For the exercise of the powers of a magistrate in a criminal action, or in a proceeding of a criminal nature.

Fourth—For the issue of a writ of attachment, which may be issued on each and all of the days above enumerated upon the plaintiff, of some person in his behalf, setting forth in the affidavit required by law for obtaining said writ, the additional averment as follows: That the affiant has good reason to believe, and does believe, that it will be too late for the purpose of acquiring a lien by said writ to wait till a subsequent day for the issuance of the same. And all proceedings instituted, and all writs issued and all official acts done on any of the days above specified, under and by virtue of this section, shall have all the validity, force and effect of proceedings commenced on other days, whether a lien be obtained or a levy made, under and by virtue of said writ.

If the 1st day of January, 12th day of February, 22d day of February, 30th day of May, 4th day of July, 31st day of October, or the 25th day of December fall upon Sunday, all business transactions shall be suspended on the following Monday. As amended, Stats. 1911, 22.

The board of county commissioners is not a court. Such bodies may lawfully meet and transact business on the first day of January. Brumfield v. Douglas Co., 2 Nev. 65, 66.

The provisions of this section authorizing the court "to receive a verdict or discharge a jury" carries with it the power to have the verdict recorded, and authorizes the court to make such other orders as may be incident to the power given, such as designating a day when it will pronounce judgment upon the verdict. State v. Rover, 13 Nev. 18, 23.

An undertaking on appeal executed on Sunday is valid. The execution of such a bond is not "transacting judicial business," and is not prohibited by the statute. State v. Cal. M. Co., 13 Nev. 203.

An attachment suit can be commenced and the writ served on Sunday whenever the plaintiff, or some person in his behalf, makes the affidavit required by this section. Levy v. Elliott, 14 Nev. 435, 437.

The use of the word "upon" instead of "by" in the affidavit, held to be a clerical mistake which did not destroy its sufficiency. Idem.

A judgment of a justice of the peace rendered upon the trial of a criminal case on Sunday is null and void. Ex Parte White, 15 Nev. 146 (37 A. R. 466).

Sec. 5 of the act to redistrict the state (Stats. 1865, 60), providing that "the district court shall always be open for the transaction of business," does not abolish the existing nonjudicial days and even if it did, would not be beyond the powers of the legislature. State ex rel. Coffin v. Atherton, 19 Nev. 333, 346 (10 P. 901).

4871. Courts, where held.

SEC. 51. Every court of justice, except justice's or recorder's court, shall sit at the county-seat of the county in which it is held; justices' courts shall be held in their respective townships, precincts, or cities, and recorders' courts in their respective cities.

4872. Adjournment of court in certain cases—Powers of sheriff or clerk in absence of judge—Judge may order adjournment by letter or telegram.

SEC. 52. If no judge attend on the day appointed, or to which court may have been adjourned before noon, the sheriff or clerk shall adjourn the court until the next day at 10 o'clock, and if no judge attend on that day before noon, the sheriff or clerk shall adjourn the court until the following day, and so on from day to day for one week; if no judge attend for one week, the sheriff or clerk shall adjourn the court for the term; provided, that at any time before or during the week which the sheriff or clerk is authorized to adjourn the court, the judge, while in or out of the state, shall order by letter or telegram to adjourn the court to any day within the term, the sheriff or clerk shall adjourn the court to the day so ordered. As amended, Stats. 1869, 136; 1881, 165.

The purpose of this section is to prevent the loss of a term in case of the failure of a judge to attend on the first day of the term. State v. Roberts, 8 Nev. 239, 241.

4873. Place of holding court may be changed, when—Notice of.

SEC. 53. A judge authorized to hold or preside at a court appointed to be held in a city, precinct, or town, may, by an order filed with the county clerk, and published as he may prescribe, direct that the court be held or continued at any other place in the city or county than that appointed, when war, pestilence, or other public calamity, or the dangers thereof, or the destruction of the building appointed for holding the court, may render it necessary; and may, in the same manner, revoke the order, and, in his discretion, appoint another place in the same city or county for holding the court.

4874. Idem—Parties to appear.

SEC. 54. When the court is held at a place appointed as provided in the last section, every person held to appear at the court shall appear at the place so appointed.

4875. Supreme and district courts to have seals.

SEC. 55. Each of the following courts, and no other, shall have a seal: First, the supreme court; second, the district courts.

4876. Clerk to procure seal upon order of judge or court—Form of seal.

SEC. 56. The several district courts for which separate seals have not been heretofore provided, or the respective judges thereof, by an order, in writing, filed with the respective clerks of such courts, shall direct such clerks to procure such seals, and shall have the following inscriptions surrounding the same: For the district courts: "District Court, _____ District, County of _____," inserting the number of the district and the name of the county, and any such order that may have been made by any judge of a district court, shall have the same effect as if it had been made in open court. As amended, Stats. 1879, 36.

4877. Clerk's private seal may be used, when.

SEC. 57. Until the seals, devised as provided in the last section, are procured, the clerk of each court may use his private seal whenever a seal is required.

4878. Clerk to keep seal.

SEC. 58. The clerk of each court shall keep the seal thereof.

4879. Seal to be affixed to what papers.

SEC. 59. The seal of the court need not be affixed to any proceedings therein, except: First, to a summons, writ, or commission to take testimony; second, to the proof of a will, or the appointment of an executor, administrator, or guardian; third, to the authentication of a copy of a record or other proceeding of the court, or an officer thereof; fourth, to certificates of acknowledgment, and all final process.

4880. Seal, how impressed.

SEC. 60. The seal may be affixed by impressing it on the paper, or on a substance attached to the paper and capable of receiving the impression.

ARTICLE V

4881. Orders refused or granted conditionally by one judge, no application to be made to other judge except of higher court—Rule not to apply to informalities.

SEC. 61. If an application for an order made to a judge of a court in which the action or proceeding is pending be refused, in whole or in part, or be granted conditionally, no subsequent application for the same order shall be made to any other judge, except of a higher court; provided, that nothing in this section be so construed as to apply to motions refused for any informality in the papers or proceedings necessary to obtain an order.

4882. Idem—Violation a contempt—Order, by whom may be vacated.

SEC. 62. A violation of the last section may be punished as a contempt; and an order made contrary thereto may be revoked by the judge who made it, or vacated by a judge of the court in which the action or proceeding is pending.

See sec. 5394.

4883. Judicial officers may take acknowledgment and affidavits.

SEC. 63. The judges and clerks of the supreme court, and of the district courts, shall have power in any part of the state; and justices of the peace and recorders, within their respective cities, precincts, or townships, shall have power to take and certify: First, the acknowledgment of conveyances and the satisfaction of a judgment of any court; second, an affidavit to be used in any court of justice in this state.

The fact that this section authorizes judicial recorders to take acknowledgments of conveyances does not take away a like power conferred on county recorders by the act of 1861, 422. State ex rel. Ford v. Hoover, 5 Nev. 141, 144.

4884. Vacancy in office or failure of term not to affect action.

SEC. 64. No action or proceeding in a court of justice shall be affected by a vacancy in the office of all or any of the judges, or by the failure of a term thereof.

4885. English language to be used—Abbreviations—Numbers.

SEC. 65. Every written proceeding in a court of justice in this state, or before a judicial officer, shall be in the English language; but such abbreviations as are now commonly used in that language may be used, and numbers may be expressed by figures or numerals, in the customary manner.

An Act to prevent unnecessary delay in rendering judicial decisions by the courts of this state.

Approved March 5, 1891, 28

4886. Not to receive monthly salary unless affidavit filed—Ninety-day limitation for decisions.

SECTION 1. No justice of the supreme court nor judge of the district court in this state shall, after the first day of July, A. D. one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one, be allowed to draw or receive any monthly salary unless he shall take and subscribe an affidavit before an officer authorized to administer oaths that no cause in his court remains undecided that has been submitted for the period of ninety days.

See secs. 258, 330.

4887. To be filed with controller—Authority for warrant.

SEC. 2. The said affidavit shall be filed with the state controller, and shall constitute his authority for drawing and delivering the monthly salary warrant for any such justice or judge.

The salary of such deputy shall be $1,800 per annum. Said salary shall be payable as the salaries of other state officers are paid.

DISTRICT COURT

An Act to amend an act entitled "An act to amend an act entitled 'An act to create judicial districts in the State of Nevada, provide for the election of district judges therein, and to fix their residences and salary, and to repeal all other acts in relation thereto,' approved March 27, 1907," approved February 8, 1908.

Approved March 23, 1909, 289

4901. Judicial districts established.
4902. Salary of district judges—How paid—"District judges' salary fund"—Counties to contribute to—County commissioners to order quota—May make transfers—County treasurers to forward—State treasurer to pay.
4903. Judges to have concurrent and coextensive jurisdiction—May make rules for the transaction of judicial business.
4904. Judges seventh judicial district.
4905. Mineral county, part of seventh judicial district.

4901. Judicial districts established.

SECTION 1. The State of Nevada is hereby divided into nine judicial districts. The counties of Storey, Douglas, Ormsby, and Lyon shall constitute the first judicial district; the county of Washoe shall constitute the second judicial district; the counties of Eureka and Lander shall constitute the third judicial district; the counties of Elko, Lincoln, and Clark shall, except as hereinafter provided, constitute the fourth judicial district; the county of Nye shall constitute the fifth judicial district; the county of Humboldt shall constitute the sixth judicial district; the county of Esmeralda shall constitute the seventh judicial district; the county of Churchill shall constitute the eighth judicial district, and the county of White Pine shall constitute the ninth judicial district. For each of said districts judges shall be elected by the qualified electors thereof at the general election in the year 1910, and every four years thereafter, except as otherwise provided in this act, as follows: For each of said districts, except the second judicial district and the seventh judicial district, there shall be elected one judge. For the second judicial district there shall be two judges elected, and for the seventh judicial district there shall be two judges elected.

[Sec. 2 provided that after January 1, 1911, there should be but one district judge in the seventh judicial district. Provisions of this section now obsolete; see, also, sec. 4904.]

Mineral county, carved out of Esmeralda county by Stats. 1911, p. 10, remains part of seventh judicial district, sec. 4905.

4902. Salary of district judges—How paid—"District judges' salary fund"—Counties to contribute to—County commissioners to order quota—May make transfers—County treasurer to forward—State treasurer to pay.

SEC. 3. The salary of each judge herein elected, or appointed to fill vacancies whenever such vacancies shall occur, shall be four thousand dollars per annum, except the judge of the fourth judicial district whose salary shall be five thousand dollars per annum, and the judge of the fifth judicial district whose salary shall be seven thousand dollars per annum, and the judge or judges of the seventh judicial district whose salary shall be seven thousand dollars per annum, and the judge of the eighth judicial district whose salary shall be three thousand dollars per annum, all of said salaries to be paid in equal monthly installments out of the district judges' salary fund, hereby created in the state treasury, which fund shall be supplied in the manner following, to wit:

Each county in each district in the state shall contribute annually to the said fund its proportionate share of the money necessary to pay the judge or judges of its district their respective salaries monthly for such year, based upon the assessment roll of each county for the previous year; and it is hereby made the duty of the county commissioners of each county to make such arrangements and orders as may be necessary to insure the forwarding of their county's quota of said district judges' salary fund to the state treasurer, at such times and in such installments as will enable the state treasurer to pay each district judge one-twelfth of his annual salary on the first Monday of each and every month, and to cause such money to be forwarded by the county treasurers, and if necessary in order to render certain the forwarding of such money in ample time to prevent any default in said monthly installments, said board of county commissioners shall transfer and use any moneys in the county treasuries except those belonging to the public school fund. No salary of any district judge shall be paid in advance.

4903. Judges to have concurrent and coextensive jurisdiction—May make rules for transaction of judicial business.

SEC. 4. The second judicial district shall be entitled to, and shall have two district judges * * *.

The said district judges shall have concurrent and coextensive jurisdiction within said district, under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by law, and they shall have power to make such rules and regulations as will enable them to transact judicial business of said district in a convenient and lawful manner * * *. As amended, Stats. 1909, 298.

Portion of section omitted was rendered obsolete upon the establishment of the sixth and eighth judicial districts, which were carved out of the second judicial district. See sec. 4901.

4904. Judges, seventh judicial district.

SEC. 5. The seventh judicial district shall be entitled to and shall have two district judges to hold office until the first Monday in January, one thousand nine hundred and eleven, and after the said first Monday in January, one thousand nine hundred and eleven, the seventh judicial district shall be entitled to but one district judge, and at the general election of 1910, and every four years thereafter, except as otherwise provided in this act, there shall be but one district judge elected for the seventh judicial district. * * *

Portion of section omitted because obsolete.

NOTE—The acts referred to in the title of this act are not amended, but are superseded by it.

[From Act creating and organizing the county of Mineral, Stats. 1911, 10.]

[Sections 1 and 2, relating to boundaries and county-seat, will be found under Mineral County, secs. 1479, 1480.]

4905. Mineral County part of seventh judicial district—Court, when held—Commissioners to pay traveling expenses.

SEC. 12. Said Mineral County shall be attached to and become a part of the seventh judicial district in which said Mineral County court shall be held at least twice in each calendar year, at dates to be fixed by the judge of said district court, and the board of county commissioners of said Mineral County are hereby authorized and directed to pay the necessary traveling expenses of the judge of said district court from the county-seat of Esmeralda County to the county-seat of Mineral County and return.

An Act to provide for the appointment of official reporters for the district courts, their duties, qualifications and compensation, and to repeal all former acts in relation thereto.

Approved March 12, 1907, 99

4908. District court judges to appoint official reporters—Removable at pleasure—Duties.

4909. Idem — Qualifications — Examined by bar committee—Test of competency —Certificate of.

4910. Duty to attend office—When may be excused—Reporter pro tempore.
4911. Must take oath.
4912. Transcript prima facie evidence.
4913. Reporter's fees — County to pay in criminal cases — Parties in civil cases—May be taxed as costs.

4908. District court judges to appoint official reporters—Removable at pleasure—Duties.

SECTION 1. The judge or judges of any district court in the state may appoint a competent phonographic reporter, or as many such reporters as there are judges, to be known as official reporter or reporters of such court, and to hold office during the pleasure of the judge or judges appointing them. Such reporter, or any one of them, where there are two or more, must, at the request of either party, or of the court in a civil action or proceeding, and on the order of the court, the district attorney or the attorney for the defendant in a criminal action or proceeding, take down in shorthand all the testimony, the objections made, the rulings of the court, the exceptions taken, all arraignments, pleas and sentences of defendants in criminal cases, and all statements and remarks made and oral instructions given by the judge; and if directed by the court, or requested by either party, must, within such reasonable time after the trial of such case as the court may designate, write out the same, or such specific portions thereof as may be requested, in plain and legible longhand, or by typewriter, or other printing machine, and certify to the same as being correctly reported and transcribed, and when directed by the court file the same with the clerk of the court.

4909. Idem—Qualifications—Examined by bar committee—Test of competency—Certificate of.

SEC. 2. No person shall be appointed to the position of official reporter of any court in this state except upon satisfactory evidence of good moral character and without being first examined as to his competency by at least three members of the bar practicing in said court, such members to be designated by the judge or judges of said court. The committee of members of the bar so designated shall, upon the request of the judge or judges of said court, examine any person as to his qualifications whom said judge or judges may wish to appoint as official reporter; and no person shall be appointed to such position upon whose qualifications such committee shall not have reported favorably. The test of competency before such committee shall be as follows: The party examined must write in the presence of such committee at the rate of at least one hundred and fifty words per minute for five consecutive minutes, upon matter not previously written by or known to him, immediately read the same back to the committee, and transcribe the same into longhand writing, plainly and with accuracy. If he pass such test satisfactorily, the committee shall furnish him with a written certificate of that fact, signed by at least a majority of the members of the committee, which certificate shall be filed among the records of the court.

4910. Duty to attend to office—When may be excused—Reporter pro tempore.

SEC. 3. The official reporter of any district court shall attend to the duties of his office in person, except when excused for good and sufficient reason by order of the court, which order shall be entered upon the minutes of the court. Employment in his professional capacity elsewhere shall not be deemed a good and sufficient reason for such excuse. When the official reporter of any court has been excused in the manner provided in this section, the court may designate an official reporter pro tempore, who shall perform the same duties and receive the same compensation during the term of his employment as the official reporter.

4911. Must take oath.

SEC. 4. The official reporter of any court, or official reporter pro tempore, shall, before entering upon the duties of his office, take and subscribe the constitutional oath of office.

4912. Transcript prima facie evidence.

SEC. 5. The report of the official reporter, or official reporter pro tempore, of any court, duly appointed and sworn, when transcribed and certified as being a correct transcript of the testimony and proceedings in the case, is prima facie evidence of such testimony and proceedings.

4913. Reporter's fees—County to pay in criminal cases—Parties in civil cases—May be taxed as costs.

SEC. 6. For his services the official reporter shall receive the following fees:

For reporting testimony and proceedings, ten dollars per day, which amount, when more than one case is reported in one day, must be apportioned by the court between the several cases.

For transcription, he shall receive ten cents per hundred words for the first copy, and five cents per hundred words for each additional copy.

In criminal cases the fees for reporting and for transcripts ordered by the court to be made must be paid out of the county treasury upon the order of the court; provided, that when there is no official reporter in attendance, and a reporter pro tempore is appointed, his reasonable expenses for traveling and detention must be fixed and allowed by the court and paid in like manner.

In civil cases the fees for reporting and for transcripts ordered by the court to be made must be paid by the parties in equal proportions, and either party may, at his option, pay the whole thereof; and in either case, all amounts so paid by the party to whom costs are awarded must be taxed as costs in the case. The fees for transcripts and copies ordered by the parties must be paid by the party ordering the same. No reporter must be required to perform any service in a civil case until his fees therefor have been paid to him or deposited with the clerk of the court.

An Act to provide for the appointment of bailiffs for the district courts of the several judicial districts of this state in the counties polling forty-five hundred or more votes; defining the powers and duties of such bailiffs; fixing their compensation and repealing all acts or parts of acts in conflict with this act.

Approved February 24, 1909, 36

4914. Judge may appoint bailiff in certain counties.
4915. Idem—Where more than one judge—Each may appoint.
4916. Duty of bailiff.
4917. Qualifications—Bond—Powers of peace officer.
4918. Compensation—How paid.
4919. Limitation of powers—Sheriff not relieved.
4920. Commissioners to allow salary—Auditor and treasurer to pay.

4914. Judge may appoint bailiff in certain counties.

SECTION 1. The judge of each district court of this state may appoint a bailiff for such court in counties polling forty-five hundred or more votes; such bailiff to be appointed and removed at the pleasure of the judge appointing him.

4915. Idem—Where more than one judge, each may appoint.

SEC. 2. In all judicial districts where there are more than one judge, each judge may appoint a bailiff to attend upon the division of the court presided over by him in counties polling forty-five hundred or more votes.

4916. Duty of bailiff.

SEC. 3. It shall be the duty of each bailiff to preserve order in the court, or the division to which he may be appointed; to attend upon the jury; to open and close court, and to perform such other duties as may be required of him by the judge of the court.

4917. Qualifications—Bond—Powers of peace officer.

SEC. 4. The said bailiff shall be a qualified elector of the county, and shall give a bond in the sum of two thousand ($2,000) dollars, conditioned for the faithful performance of his duty, said bond to be approved by the district judge. The bailiff shall have all the powers of a peace officer.

4918. Compensation, how paid.

SEC. 5. The compensation of each bailiff for his services shall be one hundred and fifty ($150) dollars per month, and shall be paid by the county wherein he is appointed, the same as the salaries of other county officers are paid.

4919. Limitation of powers—Sheriff not relieved.

SEC. 6. The provisions of this act shall not be construed to authorize the bailiff to serve any civil or criminal process, except such orders of the court which shall be specially directed by the court, or the presiding judge thereof, to him for service. Nor shall it be construed as relieving the sheriff of any duty required of him by law to maintain order in the said court-room.

4920. Commissioners to allow salary—Auditor and treasurer to pay.

SEC. 7. The board of county commissioners of the respective counties shall allow the salary named in section 5 of this act, as other salaries are allowed to county officers, and the auditor shall draw his warrant for the same, and the county treasurer shall pay the same.

An Act providing offices for the district judges in this state.

4921. Offices for district judges—Failure of commissioners to furnish—Court may direct sheriff—Charge against county.

SECTION 1. Offices shall be provided and furnished by, and at the expense of the several counties in this state, for the several district judges therein; and whenever the county commissioners of any county in this state shall neglect or refuse to provide and furnish an office for the use of the district judge, it shall be lawful for such district judge to make an order (which shall be entered upon the minutes of the court), requiring the sheriff to provide and furnish such office; and the necessary expenses incurred therein shall become a legal and valid claim against said county.

An Act concerning the district courts of the State of Nevada and the judges thereof.

Approved March 13, 1895. 56

4922. District judges—Equal, coextensive and concurrent jurisdiction—Functions of court and judges at chambers—Decision signed any part of state—Clerk to enter—Several may hold court in one county at one time—Court held in each county, how often—Judge to control business in his district.

SECTION 1. The district judges of the State of Nevada shall possess equal coextensive and concurrent jurisdiction and power. They shall each have power to hold court in any county of this state. They shall each exercise and perform the powers, duties and functions of the court, and of judges thereof, and of judges at chambers. The decision in an action or proceeding may be written or signed at any place in the state, by the judge who acted on the trial and may be forwarded to, and filed by the clerk, who shall thereupon enter judgment as directed to in the decision, or judgment may be rendered in open court, and, if so rendered, shall be entered by the clerk accordingly. If the public business requires, each judge may try causes and transact judicial business in the same county at the same time. Each judge shall have power to transact business which may be done in chambers at any point within the state, and court shall be held in each county at least once in every six months, and as often and as long as the business of the county requires. All of this section is subject to the provision that each judge may direct and control the business in his own district, and shall see that it is properly performed.

See sec. 4844.

Where, on the determination of a cause, the court entered an order that all further business not completed and all new business brought before the court during the absence of such judge should be referred to the judge of another district, the judge of such other district had jurisdiction in chambers within his own district to grant an ex parte order extending the time for the preparation of statement on motion for new trial in a cause tried by the absent judge without an affidavit that the latter was still absent at the time the order was granted. Twaddle v. Winters, 29 Nev. 88, 97, 99 (85 P. 280).

An Act making it lawful for the district judge for each judicial district of this state, to sign any and all minutes and records of the district court for which he is incumbent, left unsigned by his predecessor in office, or by any district judge previously sitting in the district or county, and making such minutes and records when thus signed of the same force and effect, as if they had been signed by such predecessor or such district judge previously sitting.

4923. District judge may sign records left unsigned by predecessor—Effect of.

SECTION 1. At any time after the passage and approval of this act, it shall be lawful for the district judge of each judicial district of this state, during his continuance in office, to sign any and all minutes and records of the court of the district for which he is incumbent, in whatsoever district or county the same may be, left unsigned by his predecessor in office or by any district judge previously sitting in the said district or county, and such minutes and records, when thus signed, shall have the same force and effect, to which they would have been entitled, had they been signed by such predecessor in office, or by such district judge previously sitting in the said district or the said county.

An Act concerning the duties of district judges in this state.

Approved February 12, 1879, 32

4924. District judges to instruct grand juries text of statutes relative to duties of military, civil and peace officers.

SECTION 1. It shall be and it is hereby made the special duty of all district judges in this state to give in charge to the grand juries, at the commencement of each term of their respective courts, the full text of the statutes of this state, in reference to the duties, conduct, responsibilities, and penalties of military, civil, and peace officers in this state.

See sec. 7014.

An Act to amend section one of an act entitled "An act concerning the duties of district judges in the state," approved February 23, 1901.

4925. To instruct grand juries relative to statutes requiring erection of guide-boards.

SECTION 1. It shall be and is hereby made the special duty of all district judges in this state to give in charge to the grand juries, whenever grand juries are impaneled in their respective courts, the full text of the statutes of this state in reference to the erection of guide-boards on public roads and highways, also to give in charge to said grand juries, the full text of the statutes of this state in reference to the record of births, deaths and marriages.

Original act, consisting of but one section, was superseded by above, and is therefore omitted.

See sec. 7014 regarding charging of grand jury.

JUSTICES OF THE PEACE

An Act concerning justices of the peace.

Approved March 4, 1881, 141

4926. One justice may act for another—Time limited—Registry agent.

SECTION 1. Whenever any justice of the peace, in consequence of ill health, absence from his township, or other cause, shall be prevented from attending to his official duties, it shall be lawful for him to invite any other duly qualified justice of the peace of the same county to attend to his official duties, including that of registry agent, instead of such absent or disqualified justice of the peace; provided, such temporary vacancy, resulting from absence or disqualification, shall not be so filled for more than thirty days at any one time. As amended, Stats. 1885, 20.

See secs. 1705, 4851.

An Act concerning official bonds of justices of the peace and constables.

Approved February 10, 1873, 51

4927. Justices of the peace, oath and bond—Approval and filing.

SECTION 1. Each justice of the peace hereafter elected or appointed in this state shall, before entering upon the duties of his office, take the oath prescribed by law, and execute a bond to the State of Nevada, to be approved by the board of county commissioners, in the penal sum of not less than one thousand dollars nor more than five thousand dollars, as may be designated by such board of county commissioners; which bond shall be conditioned for the faithful performance of the duties of his office, and shall be filed in the county clerk's office.

4928. Constable, oath and bond—Approval and filing.

SEC. 2. Each constable hereafter elected or appointed in this state shall, before entering upon the duties of his office, take the oath prescribed by law, and execute a bond to the State of Nevada, to be approved by the board of county commissioners, in the penal sum of not less than one thousand dollars nor more than three thousand dollars, as may be designated by such board of county commissioners; which bond shall be conditioned for the faithful performance of the duties of his office, and shall be filed in the county clerk's office.

4929. Who are qualified jurors.
4930. Regular panel of trial jurors—How, when and where drawn—Sheriff to serve and return venire.
4931. Grand jury — Number of — Judge or clerk and commissioners to select.
4932. Exemption from jury duty, who entitled to—Proof of, required—When residence sixty miles or more from county-seat.
4933. Court may excuse juror for cause.
4934. Penalty for nonattendance.
4935. Per diem and mileage.

4929. Who are qualified jurors.

SECTION 1. Every qualified elector of the state, whether registered or not, who has sufficient knowledge of the English language, and who has not been convicted of treason, felony, or other infamous crime, and who is not rendered incapable by reason of physical or mental infirmity, is a qualified juror of the county in which he resides, or the county to which it is attached for judicial purposes. As amended, Stats. 1881, 23.

The privilege, or duty of being a juror is not always an incident of citizenship. State v. Ah Chew, 16 Nev. 58 (48 A. R. 488).

The state has the right to prescribe the qualifications of its jurors, provided it does not discriminate against persons because of their race or color. A mixed jury in a particular case is not essential to the equal protection of the law and is not guaranteed by the fourteenth amendment to the United States constitution. Idem.

See Philips v. Eureka Co., 19 Nev. 351 (11 P. 32).

4930. Regular panel of trial jurors, how, when and where drawn—Discretion to exclude certain names drawn—List subject to inspection—Venire to issue—Sheriff to serve and return—Inspection of.

SEC. 4. To constitute the regular panel of trial jurors for any term of the district court such number of names as the judge may direct shall be drawn from the jury box. The regular panel of trial jurors may be drawn before the commencement of the term of court, and, if so drawn, the judge thereof must make and file with the county clerk an order that one be drawn, and the number of jurors to be drawn must be named in the order. The drawing shall take place in the office of the county clerk, during regular office hours, in the presence of all persons who may choose to witness it. If the panel be drawn before the commencement of the term it shall be drawn by the judge and clerk, or, if the judge so directs, by any one of the county commissioners of the county and the clerk, and if the judge directs that the panel be drawn by one of the county commissioners of the county and the clerk, the judge must make and file with the clerk an order designating the name of such county commissioner, and fixing the number of names to be drawn as trial jurors and the time at which the persons whose names are so drawn shall be required to attend in court. The drawing shall be conducted as follows: The number to be drawn having been previously determined by the judge, the box containing the names of the jurors shall first be thoroughly shaken; it shall then be opened and the judge and clerk, or one of the county commissioners of the county and the clerk, if the judge has so ordered, shall alternately draw therefrom one ballot until of nonexempt jurors the number determined upon is obtained; provided, that if the officers drawing such jury deem that the attendance of any juror whose name is so drawn cannot be conveniently and cheaply to the county obtained, by reason of the distance of the residence of such juror from the court or other cause, his name may, in the discretion of such officers, be returned to the box and in its place the name of another juror drawn whose attendance said officers may deem can be conveniently and cheaply to the county obtained. A list of the names so obtained shall be made out and certified by the officers drawing the jury, which list shall remain in the clerk's office subject to inspection by any officer or attorney of the court, and the clerk shall immediately issue a venire, directed to the sheriff of the county, commanding him to summon the persons so drawn as trial jurors to attend in court at such time as the judge may have directed, and the sheriff shall make return of the venire at least the day before the day named for their appearance, after which the venire shall be subject to inspection by any officer or attorney of the court. As amended, Stats. 1879, 33; 1881, 26.

The form of oath as prescribed by statute should always be followed; its substance cannot be dispensed with. Idem.

4931. Grand jury—Number of—Judge or clerk and commissioners to select—Judge to make order concerning—Venire to sheriff—Judge to select seventeen—Additional selections.

SEC. 8. It shall be the duty of the district judge and any one of the county commissioners of the county, at least once in each year and as much oftener as the public interest may require, to select from the jury list twenty-four persons who shall be summoned to appear as grand jurors at such time as the judge may order; provided, that if the district judge deems proper he may direct any one of the county commissioners of the county and the clerk to select the grand jurors, and such county commissioner and clerk, if the judge so directs, shall select from the jury list twenty-four persons as grand jurors. If the judge directs the grand jurors to be selected by one of the county commissioners of the county and the clerk, the judge must make and file with the clerk, an order designating the name of such county commissioner, and the judge shall in said order fix the time during the term of court when said grand jurors shall be required to appear; and if from any cause, such county commissioner and clerk should fail to select the grand jurors, the judge and any one of the county commissioners may, at any time, select the same. A list of the names so selected as grand jurors shall be made out and certified by the officers making such selection and be filed in the clerk's office, and the clerk shall immediately issue a venire, directed to the sheriff of the county, commanding him to summon the persons so drawn as grand jurors to attend in court at such time as the judge may have directed; and the sheriff shall summon such grand jurors, and out of the number so summoned the court shall select seventeen persons to constitute the grand jury. If from any cause a sufficient number do not appear, or those who appear are excused or discharged, an additional number, sufficient to complete the grand jury, shall be selected from the jury list by the judge and clerk and summoned to appear in court at such time as the court may direct. As amended, Stats. 1879, 34; 1881, 27.

It is not necessary to have the full venire of twenty-four present before a grand jury of seventeen is selected; the provisions for a larger venire than the grand jury selected being directory. Idem.

4932. Exemption from jury duty, who entitled to—Proof of required—When residence sixty miles or more from county-seat.

SEC. 9. Upon satisfactory proof, made by affidavit or otherwise, the following-named persons, and no other shall be exempted from service as grand or trial jurors: Any federal or state officer, judge, justice of the peace, county clerk, sheriff, constable, assessor, recorder, attorney at law, physician, minister of the gospel, telegraph operator, locomotive or stationary engineer, mail carrier, engaged in the actual carrying of the United States mail, on a regular mail route, and one-half of all members of each regularly enrolled fire company in the state, said half to be determined by the several fire companies respectively, and all officers of such fire companies, not exceeding ten for each company, and also in all cities and towns wherein there is a paid fire department, after such paid fire department shall have been organized and put in operation, all members of said paid fire department, and all persons who are now or may hereafter become members of any exempt firemen's association, society or organization within this state; but such exemption shall not extend to any member of such association, society or organization, unless prior to becoming a member of the same, such member shall have served as an active fireman, in some regularly organized fire department in this state, for the period of three years, and also, in all cities and towns in this state, wherein there are volunteer fire departments, after such volunteer departments shall have been organized and put in operation all members thereof; and also, all members thereof, who may hereafter become members of any exempt fireman's association, society or organization, within this state; but such exemption shall not extend to any member of such association, society or organization, unless prior to becoming a member of the same, such member shall have served as an active fireman in some regularly organized volunteer fire department in this state, for the period of five years; provided, that the entire exemption of such exempt firemen, where there is a paid fire department, shall not exceed in one town or city, one hundred and fifty; and where there is a volunteer fire department, the entire exemption shall not exceed, in any one town or city, fifty; and further provided, that any person liable to grand or trial jury duty residing sixty or more miles distant from the county-seat of his county, shall be exempted from service on either grand or trial juries for the period of one year upon making affidavit to the fact that he so resides and filing the same with the clerk of the district court of the district in which his county is situated and paying to such clerk the sum of twenty-five dollars. Upon the receipt of such affidavit and such sum, the said clerk shall deliver to such person a certificate stating the fact of such receipts, and thereafter, for the period of one year from the date of such payment, the name of such person shall not be placed in the jury box, nor shall such person be selected as a grand or trial juror. It shall be the duty of said clerk, upon the receipt of said sum, to deliver the same to the county treasurer of his county, and the said treasurer shall immediately place the same to the credit of the general fund of said county. As amended, Stats. 1875, 137; 1877, 176; 1881, 155; 1895, 51.

(SEC. 2.) All portions of the act of which this act is amendatory, relative to the prescribing of bounds by the judges of the several district courts, in their several counties, and the exemption of persons from serving on juries by payment for such exemption, are hereby repealed.

Where in a criminal case it was objected that the accused was unconstitutionally deprived of a common-law jury by operation of this section allowing bounds to be fixed by judges and exempting persons residing outside thereof from jury duty on the payment of a fee, it was held, that this was but the exercise of a legitimate legislative power of exemption and therefore not unconstitutional. Approved March 5, 1875, 139

4936. Discharge of excess trial jurors.

SECTION 1. When at any time there shall be a larger number of trial jurors in attendance upon any court than are required for the business of the term, or for the time being, the court may excuse, temporarily, or discharge for the term, a sufficient number of those who have served longest, to reduce the panel to the number required.

An Act regulating the manner of drawing juries in the district courts of this state.

Approved February 20, 1885, 32

4937. County commissioners to estimate number of trial jurors required and select names—Residence and occupation entered on minutes.
4938. Names to be written on slips and deposited in jury box—How kept.
4939. Juror not serving may be drawn again—Jurors who serve not to be drawn following year—Exception.
4940. Manner of drawing juries after box exhausted—Commissioners to make additional selection — Grand jury, how selected—Open venire, when.

4937. County commissioners to estimate number of trial jurors required and select names—Residence and occupation entered on minutes.

SECTION 1. The board of county commissioners in each county of the State of Nevada, shall, at its first meeting after the approval of this act, and thereafter at its first regular meeting in each year, by an order duly made and entered on its minutes, estimate as nearly as possible, the number of trial jurors that will be required for attendance on the district court of said county until the next annual selection of trial jurors under this act. The said board shall thereupon select from the qualified electors of the county, whether registered or unregistered, not exempt by law from jury duty, such number of qualified electors as it has been estimated to be necessary. The names of the electors so selected, shall be entered upon the minutes of said board, together with the occupation and place of residence of each of such electors so selected. As amended, Stats. 1895, 51.

It is within the discretion of the court to vacate an order under which a venire has issued before the return day thereof and if it is so vacated the names thereon should be returned to the jury box under the provisions of this section. State v. Jackman, 31 Nev. 512, 520 (104 P. 13).

4938. Names to be written on slips and deposited in jury box—How kept.

SEC. 2. The names so selected shall at the same time be written on separate slips of paper, and deposited in a box, to be provided and kept for that purpose, and known as the jury box; said box, when not in use as herein provided, shall be kept securely locked by the county clerk.

4939. Juror not serving may be drawn again—Jurors who serve not to be drawn following year—Exception.

SEC. 3. When a juror drawn is not summoned, or fails to appear, or after appearing is excused by the judge from serving, his name shall be returned to the box to be drawn again. The board of commissioners shall not select the name of any person whose name was selected the previous year, and who actually served on the jury, unless there be not enough other suitable jurors in the county to do the required jury duty.

4940. Manner of drawing juries after box exhausted—Commissioners to make additional selection—Grand jury, how selected—Open venire, when.

SEC. 4. When all the names in the jury box have been exhausted, or there are not enough therein to complete the next panel that may be drawn, the district judge shall certify the same to the board of county commissioners, together with a statement of the number of additional names that will be required, and said board shall thereupon proceed and select such required number of jurors in the manner hereinbefore provided, and thereafter trial jurors may be drawn therefrom as before. Grand jurors may be selected from the qualified jurors of the county whether their names are or are not upon the list selected by the board of commissioners, and it shall at all times be in the discretion of the court, with the consent of all parties litigant to the action or actions to be tried thereby, either to draw the names of the jurors from the box, as in this act provided, or to issue an open venire directed to the sheriff, requiring him to summon, either immediately or for a day fixed, from the citizens of the county, but not from the bystanders, such number of persons having the qualifications of jurors as may be needed; the persons thus summoned shall be as competent trial jurors in all respects as if drawn from the jury box. As amended, Stats. 1887, 121.

The question as to the necessity of selecting additional trial jurors by an open venire is within the discretion of the district court. State v. Angelo, 18 Nev. 425.

Regarding grand jurors, see sec. 4931.

An Act to exempt certain persons from duty as jurors on account of age.

Approved January 30, 1889, 26

4941. Persons aged 65 years, or over, exempt.

SECTION 1. All persons of the age of sixty-five years, or over, are hereby exempt from serving as grand or trial jurors, and whenever it shall appear to the satisfaction of the court, by affidavit or otherwise, that a juror is over the age of sixty-five years, the court shall order said juror excused from all service as a grand or trial juror, if the juror so desires.

An Act concerning certain expenses relative to jurors in civil cases.

Approved March 5, 1869, 111

4942. Expense of board and lodging of jury, how paid—Charged as costs—Clerk to disburse.

SECTION 1. In all cases when a jury is kept together by reason of the requirements concerning special juries, or by failure to agree upon a verdict, the expenses of their board and lodging shall be taxed as other disbursements and expenses in favor of the prevailing party. No verdict shall be entered or judgment rendered thereon, until the same is paid or rendered. The clerk shall receive and properly disburse all money properly taxable under the provisions of this act.

See sec. 5208.

Former acts in relation to jurors have been cited as follows:

A defendant indicted for a misdemeanor may be tried by a jury of eleven men, if he consents to such a jury, and his consent is not a waiver of a jury trial. State v. Borowsky, 11 Nev. 119.

Act of 1861, 138: At common law, a grand juror was not precluded from finding an indictment because he was either a witness or a prosecutor. State v. Millain, 3 Nev. 409.

Our statute fixes distinctly what shall be the disqualification of a grand juror, and nothing else than what the statute prescribes can disqualify one from acting as such. Idem.

A prosecutor is "one who prefers an accusation against a party whom he suspects to be guilty." A party who appears in response to a subpena is not a prosecutor, but only a witness. Idem.

A jury drawn while the court is in session, in the presence of the court and its officers must be held to have been drawn in open court, whether it was done in the room where the court usually sits or in any other room of the court-house building. Idem.

A mere suspicion on the mind of a juror that the defendant is guilty does not disqualify him from sitting on a petit jury, especially if that suspicion mainly arises from the examination to which he is subjected by the prisoner's counsel touching his qualifications as a juror. It is only an unqualified opinion that disqualifies. Idem.

"Unqualified opinion or belief" commented on. Idem.

As the law formerly stood, six grounds of challenge were allowed to grand jurors. The last three were as follows: "Fourth, that he is a prosecutor on a charge or charges against defendant; fifth, that he is a witness on the part of the prosecution and has been served with process, or bound by an undertaking as such; sixth, that he has expressed a decided opinion that defendant is guilty of the offense for which he is held to answer." The insertion of the fourth and fifth clauses shows a distinction was taken between witness and prosecutor. Idem.

A challenge to the panel of trial jurors must be in writing, specifically stating the grounds of challenge or other facts on which the challenge is based. Idem.

Act of 1865, 137, secs. 2 and 3: A judgment will not be reversed for failure to comply strictly with these sections, unless it shall appear that the defendant may have been injured by such failure. State v. Squaires, 2 Nev. 226–229.

It was not the intention of the legislature to require the judge and assessor to pass on the qualifications of each person in selecting names out of which to form a jury. Idem.

The names should be selected from the assessment roll. As to the qualifications of those selected, that could not be passed on at the time of selection. Idem.

The failure to return the panel at the time required could not prejudice the defendant if he had ample time after the return to inspect the panel. Idem.

It is error to allow a jury to disperse after an impanelment without the consent of the prisoner. But a jury is not properly impaneled until they are sworn and charged with the case. Idem.

This court cannot review the action of the court below in disallowing a challenge for cause when the party objecting makes no specification as to the nature of the objection upon which he interposes the challenge. The party challenging should specify the grounds of his challenge. Idem.

Act of 1866, 191: The selection of grand jurors during a term of the court must be by the same officers, or it will not be a legal grand jury. State v. McNamara, 3 Nev. 71–75.

An indictment found by a grand jury not legally selected, is invalid. Idem.

Under section 8 of this act, a grand jury may be selected and impaneled after the commencement of a term, whenever one is wanted. State v. Lawry, 4 Nev. 161, 165.

The discharge of a jury impaneled in a criminal case after they have been sworn might operate as a bar to a subsequent prosecution; but not so when they have not been charged with the case. Idem.

Act of 1881, 26, sec 2: A motion to quash an indictment because the grand jurors were not selected acording to law, ought to be made before plea. State v. Collyer, 17 Nev. 275, 277–279 (30 P. 891).

If the plea has been entered, and the motion to quash thereafter made in good faith, before the trial commences, the court should allow the plea to be withdrawn, and give defendant an opportunity to be heard upon his motion. Idem.

This statute requiring grand jurors to be selected from the "jury list" was not intended simply as a protection to parties who might be brought before the grand jury. When the persons selected by the proper officers were qualified jurors, whose names ought to have been on the jury list, and the selection was made without fraud or collusion, the mere failure of the officers to keep the jury list reformed does not furnish a sufficient ground to authorize the court to set aside an indictment. Idem.

RULES OF THE SUPREME COURT OF THE STATE OF NEVADA

Adopted September 1, 1879, with Amendments of October 25, 1911, Which Do Not Become Effective Until April 1, 1912

RULE I

1. Applicants for license to practice as attorneys and counselors will be examined in open court on the first day of the term.

2. Examination for Attorney at Law—The supreme court, upon application of the district judge of any judicial district, will appoint a committee to examine persons applying for admission to practice as attorneys and counselors at law. Such committee will consist of the district judge and at least two attorneys resident of the district.

The examination by the committee so appointed shall be conducted and certified according to the following rules:

Examination by Committee—The applicant shall be examined by the district judge and at least two others of the committee, and the questions and answers must be reduced to writing.

No intimation of the questions to be asked must be given to the applicant by any member of the committee previous to the examination.

Examination to Embrace—The examination shall embrace the following subjects:

1. The history of this state and of the United States;
2. The constitutional relations of the state and federal governments;
3. The jurisdiction of the various courts of this state and of the United States;
4. The various sources of our municipal law;
5. The general principles of the common law relating to property and personal rights and obligations;
6. The general grounds of equity jurisdiction and principles of equity jurisprudence;
7. Rules and principles of pleadings and evidence;
8. Practice under the civil and criminal codes of Nevada;
9. Remedies in hypothetical cases;
10. The course and duration of the applicant's studies.

3. The examiners will not be expected to go very much at large into the details of these subjects, but only sufficiently so fairly to test the extent of the applicant's knowledge and the accuracy of his understanding of those subjects and books which he has studied.

4. Examination by Committee—When the examination is completed and reduced to writing, the examiners will return it to this court, accompanied by their certificate showing whether or not the applicant is of good moral character and has attained his majority, and is a bona fide resident of this state. Such certificate shall also contain the facts that the applicant was examined in the presence of the committee; that he had no knowledge or intimation of the nature of any of the questions to be propounded to him before the same were asked by the committee, and that the answers to each and all the questions were taken down as given by the applicant without reference to any books or other outside aid.

5. Fee To Be Deposited Before Examination—The fee of thirty-five dollars for license must in all cases be deposited with the clerk of the court before the application is made, to be returned to the applicant in case of rejection.

6. Oath of Attorney—In addition to the constitutional oath or affirmation, attorneys, before being admitted to practice, shall take the following oath or affirmation:

1. That I will maintain the respect due to courts of justice and judicial officers;
2. That I will counsel and maintain such actions, proceedings, and defenses only, as appear to me legal and just; except the defense of a person charged with a public offense;
3. To employ for the purpose of maintaining the causes confided to me, such means only as are consistent with truth, and never to seek to mislead the judge by any artifice or false statement of facts or law;
4. That I will maintain inviolate the confidence and, at every peril to myself, preserve the secrets of my client;
5. That I will abstain from all offensive personality, and advance no fact prejudicial to the honor or reputation of a party or witness, unless required by the justice of the cause with which I am charged;
6. That I will never reject, from any consideration personal to myself, the cause of the defenseless or oppressed. So help me God. (As amended, October 25, 1911.)

RULE II

Filing Transcript—The transcript of the record on appeal shall be filed within thirty (30) days after the appeal has been perfected and the statement settled, if there be one. (As amended, October 25, 1911.)

Cited, Lightle v. Ivancovich, 10 Nev. 41–43; Hayes v. Davis, 23 Nev. 235; Robinson v. Kind, 25 Nev. 272; Young v. Updike, 29 Nev. 303, 304; Adams v. Rogers, 31 Nev. 154; Western E. & C. Co. v. Nev. A. Co., 31 Nev. 238.

RULE III

1. Appeal May Be Dismissed—Can Be Restored—If the transcript of the record be not filed within the time prescribed by rule II, the appeal may be dismissed on motion without notice. A cause so dismissed may be restored during the same term, upon good cause shown, on notice to the opposite party; and, upon good cause shown, on notice to the opposite party and, unless so restored, the dismissal shall be final and a bar to any other appeal from the same order or judgment.

2. How Restored—On such motion there shall be presented the certificate of the clerk below, under the seal of the court, certifying the amount or character of the judgment; the date of its rendition; the fact and date of the filing of the notice of appeal, together with the fact and date of service thereof on the adverse party, and the character of the evidence by which said service appears; the fact and date of the filing of the undertaking on appeal; and that the same is in due form; the fact and time of the settlement of the statement, if there be one; and also that the appellant has received a duly certified transcript, or that he has not requested the clerk to certify to a correct transcript of the record; or, if he has made such request, that he has not paid the fees therefor, if the same have been demanded. (As amended, October 25, 1911.)

Cited, Lightle v. Ivancovich, 10 Nev. 41; Young v. Updike, 29 Nev. 303, 304; Adams v. Rogers, 31 Nev. 152–160, 162; Western E. & C. Co. v. Nev. A. Co., 31 Nev. 338; Robinson v. Kind, 25 Nev. 261, 273; Hayes v. Davis, 23 Nev. 234; Collins v. Goodwin, 32 Nev. 342.

RULE IV

1. Printed Transcripts—All transcripts of record in civil cases, when printed, shall be printed on unruled white paper, ten inches long by seven inches wide, with a margin on the outer edge of not less than one inch. The printed page shall not be less than seven inches long and three and one-half inches wide. The folios, embracing ten lines each, shall be numbered from the commencement to the end, and the numbering of the folios shall be printed between lines or on the margin. Nothing smaller than minion type leaded shall be used in printing.

2. Transcripts in Criminal Cases—Transcripts in criminal cases may be printed in like manner as prescribed for civil cases; or, if not printed, shall be written on one side only of transcript paper, sixteen inches long by ten and one-half inches in width, with a margin of not less than one and one-half inches wide, fastened or bound together on the left sides of the pages by ribbon or tape, so that the same may be secured, and every part conveniently read. The transcript if written, shall be in a fair, legible hand, and each paper or order shall be separately inserted.

3. To Be Indexed—The pleadings, proceedings, and statement shall be chronologically arranged in the transcript, and each transcript shall be prefaced with an alphabetical index, specifying the folio of each separate paper, order, or proceeding, and of the testimony of each witness; and the transcript shall have at least one blank fly-sheet cover.

4. Cannot Be Filed—No record which fails to conform to these rules shall be received or filed by the clerk of the court. (As amended October 25, 1911.)

Cited, Robinson v. Kind, 25 Nev. 274.

RULE V

Printing Transcripts—The written transcript in civil causes, together with sufficient funds to pay for the printing of the same, may be transmitted to the clerk of this court. The clerk, upon the receipt thereof shall file the same and cause the transcript to be printed, and to a printed copy shall annex his certificate that the said printed transcript is a full and correct copy of the transcript furnished to him by the party; and said certificate shall be prima facie evidence that the same is correct. The said printed copy so certified shall also be filed, and constitute the record of the cause in this court, subject to be corrected by reference to the written transcript on file.

RULE VI

1. Cost of Typewriting or Printing Transcripts—The expense of printing or typewriting transcripts, affidavits, briefs, or other papers on appeal in civil causes and pleadings, affidavits, briefs, or other papers constituting the record in original proceedings upon which the case is heard in this court, required by these rules to be printed or typewritten, shall be allowed as costs, and taxed in bills of costs in the usual mode; provided, that no greater amount than twenty-five cents per folio of one hundred words shall be taxed as costs for printing, and no greater amount than twelve and one-half cents per folio for one copy only shall be taxed as costs for typewriting. All other costs to be taxed by the clerk in accordance with the fee bill.

2. To Serve Cost Bill, When—Either party desiring to recover as costs his expenses for printing or typewriting in any cause in this court, shall, within five days after the decision of the cause, file with the clerk and serve upon the opposite party a verified cost bill, setting forth or stating the actual cost of such printing or typewriting, and no greater amount than such actual cost shall be taxed as costs.

3. Mode of Objecting to Costs—If either party desires to object to the costs claimed by the opposite party, he shall, within ten days after the service upon him of a copy of the cost bill, file with the clerk and serve his objections. Said objections shall be heard and settled and the costs taxed by the clerk. An appeal may be taken from the decision of the clerk, either by written notice of five days, or orally and instanter, to the justices of this court, and the decision of such justices shall be final. If there be no objections to the costs claimed by the party entitled thereto, they shall be taxed as claimed in his cost bill.

4. Indorsed Upon Remittitur—In all cases where a remittitur or other final order is sent to a district court or other inferior tribunal, the costs of the party entitled thereto as taxed by the clerk shall be indorsed upon such remittitur or order, and shall be collected as other costs in such district court, or other inferior court or tribunal, and shall not be subject to retaxation in such district court or other tribunal. (As amended, October 25, 1911).

RULE VII

To Correct Error in Transcript—For the purpose of correcting any error or defect in the transcript from the court below, either party may suggest the same, in writing, to this court, and, upon good cause shown, obtain an order that the proper clerk certify to the whole or part of the record as may be required, or may produce the same, duly certified, without such order. If the attorney of the adverse party be absent, or the fact of the alleged error or defect be disputed, the suggestion, except when a certified copy is produced at the time, must be accompanied by an affidavit showing the existence of the error or defect alleged.

RULE VIII

Exceptions—Diminution of Record—Exceptions or objections to the transcript, statement, the undertaking on appeal, notice of appeal or to its service or proof of service, or any technical exception or objection to the record affecting the right of the appellant to be heard on the points of error assigned, which might be cured on suggestion of diminution of the record, must be taken at the first term after the transcript is filed, and must be noted in the written or the printed points of the respondent, and filed at least one day before the argument, or they will not be regarded.

Justice Court, 29 Nev. 192, 200; Smith v. Wells Estate Co., 29 Nev. 411, 416; Kirman v. Johnson, 30 Nev. 146, 150; State v. Hill, 32 Nev. 185, 187; Botsford v. Van Riper, 32 Nev. 214, 225.

RULE IX

Substitution in Case of Death—Upon the death or other disability of a party pending an appeal, his representative shall be substituted in the suit by suggestion in writing to the court on the part of such representative, or any party on the record. Upon the entry of such suggestion, an order of substitution shall be made and the cause shall proceed as in other cases.

Cited, Robinson v. Kind, 25 Nev. 279; Twaddle v. Winters, 29 Nev. 89, 107.

RULE X

2. Causes shall be placed on the calendar in the order in which the transcripts are filed by the clerk.

3. The calendar shall be called on the first day of each term and cases set for oral argument upon a day certain, upon request of counsel upon either side of the case, or upon stipulation, subject to the approval of the court. Requests for settings may be made by counsel in open court or by written communication addressed to the clerk. Upon stipulation of counsel, subject to the approval of the court, cases may be submitted on briefs filed without oral argument. Where no request is made by stipulation or otherwise for the setting of a case the same may be passed or be set by the court of its own motion. (As amended, October 25, 1911.)

RULE XI

1. Time for Appellant to Serve Brief—Respondent—Within fifteen days after the filing of the transcript on appeal in any case, the appellant shall file and serve his points and authorities or brief; and within fifteen days after the service of appellant's points and authorities or brief, respondent shall file and serve his points and authorities or brief; and within fifteen days thereafter, appellant shall file and serve his points and authorities or brief in reply, after which the case may be argued orally.

2. The points and authorities shall contain such brief statement of the facts as may be necessary to explain the points made.

3. Oral Argument—The oral argument may, in the discretion of the court, be limited to the printed or typewritten points and authorities or briefs filed, and a failure by either party to file points and authorities or briefs under the provisions of this rule and within the time herein provided, shall be deemed a waiver by such party of the right to orally argue the case, and such party shall not recover cost for printing or typewriting any brief or points and authorities in the case. Counsel shall not read from decisions nor argue more than one hour on each side without permission of the court.

4. No more than two counsel on a side will be heard upon the oral argument, except by special permission of the court, but each defendant who has appeared separately in the court below may be heard through his own counsel.

5. Optional in Criminal Cases—In criminal cases it is left optional with counsel either to file written, printed, or typewritten points and authorities or briefs.

6. When Submitted—When the oral argument is concluded, the case shall be submitted for the decision of the court.

7. Stipulation as to Time—The times herein provided for may be shortened or extended by stipulation of parties or order of court, or a justice thereof. (As amended, October 25, 1911.)

Cited, Smith v. Wells Estate Co., 29 Nev. 411, 415, 416; Adams v. Rogers, 31 Nev. 161.

RULE XII

Printing and Paper To Be Uniform—In all cases where a paper or document is required by these rules to be printed, it shall be printed upon similar paper, and in the same style and form (except the numbering of the folios in the margin) as is prescribed for the printing of transcripts.

RULE XIII

Number of Copies To Be Filed—Besides the original, there shall be filed five copies of all printed transcripts, briefs, and points and authorities, which copies shall be distributed by the clerk. (As amended, October 25, 1911.)

RULE XIV

Opinions Recorded—All opinions delivered by the court, after having been finally corrected, shall be recorded by the clerk.

RULE XV

Rehearing—Remittitur to Issue, When—Time May Be Shortened or Extended—All motions for a rehearing shall be upon petition in writing, and filed with the clerk within fifteen days after the final judgment is rendered, or order made by the court, and publication of its opinion and decision. Personal service or service by mail upon counsel of a copy of the opinion and decision shall be deemed the equivalent of publication. The party moving for a rehearing shall serve a copy of the petition upon opposing counsel, who within ten days thereafter may file a reply to the petition, and no other argument shall be heard thereon. No remittitur or mandate to the court below shall be issued until the expiration of the fifteen days herein provided, and decisions upon the petition, except upon special order. The times herein provided for may be shortened or extended, for good cause shown, by order of court.

RULE XVI

Opinion To Be Transmitted—Where a judgment is reversed or modified, a certified copy of the opinion in the case shall be transmitted, with the remittitur, to the court below.

RULE XVII

No Paper To Be Taken Without Order—No paper shall be taken from the court room or clerk's office, except by order of the court, or of one of the justices. No order will be made for leave to withdraw a transcript for examination, except upon written consent to be filed with the clerk.

RULE XVIII

Writ of Error, or Certiorari—No writ of error or certiorari shall be issued, except upon order of the court, upon petition, showing a proper case for issuing the same.

Rules 18–22 cited, State v. Preston, 30 Nev. 308.

RULE XIX

Writ of Error to Operate as Supersedeas—Where a writ of error is issued, upon filing the same and a sufficient bond or undertaking with the clerk of the court below, and upon giving notice thereof to the opposite party or his attorney, and to the sheriff, it shall operate as a supersedeas. The bond or undertaking shall be substantially the same as required in cases on appeal.

RULE XX

When Returnable—The writ of error shall be returnable within thirty days, unless otherwise specially directed.

RULE XXI

To Apply—The rules and practice of this court respecting appeals shall apply, so far as the same may be applicable, to proceedings upon a writ of error.

RULE XXII

Time Concerning Writ—The writ shall not be allowed after the lapse of one year from the date of the judgment, order or decree which is sought to be reviewed, except under special circumstances.

RULE XXIII

Concerning Change of Venue—Additional Notice Given—Appeals from orders granting or denying a change of venue, or any other interlocutory order made before trial, will be heard at any regular or adjourned term, upon three days' notice being given by either appellant or respondent, when the parties live within twenty miles of Carson. When the party served resides more than twenty miles from Carson, an additional day's notice will be required for each fifty miles, or fraction of fifty miles, from Carson.

Cited, Peters v. Jones, 26 Nev. 267.

RULE XXIV

Notice of Motion—In all cases where notice of a motion is necessary, unless, for good cause shown, the time is shortened by an order of one of the justices, the notice shall be five days.

RULE XXV

1. Transcripts May Be Typewritten—To Be Bound in Boards with Flexible Backs—All transcripts of the record in any action or proceeding may be typewritten. The typewriting shall be the first impression, clearly and legibly done, with best quality of black ink, in type not smaller than small pica, upon a good quality of typewriting paper, thirteen inches long by eight inches wide, bound in boards with flexible backs, in volumes of a size suitable for convenient handling and ready reference, and arranged and indexed as required by the rules of this court. When so typewritten such transcript, in the discretion of the party appealing, need not be printed, but, if printed, all the rules concerning the same shall still apply thereto.

2. Briefs May Be Typewritten—Briefs and points and authorities, instead of being printed, may be typewritten upon the same paper and in the same style and form as is prescribed for typewritten transcripts.

3. Copy To Be Served—Two Copies To Be Filed—When so typewritten, but one copy of such transcript need be filed in the case; but a copy thereof shall be served upon the opposite party. Two copies of the briefs and points and authorities—viz., the first impression and a copy thereof—shall be filed with the clerk, and a copy shall be served upon each opposite party who appeared separately in the court below. (As amended, October 25, 1911.)

RULE XXVI

Payment of Advance Fee Required—Clerk Prohibited from Filing—No transcript or original record shall be filed or cause registered, docketed, or entered until an advance fee of twenty-five dollars is paid into the clerk's office, to pay accruing costs of suit. The clerk of the court is prohibited from filing or registering any record without first having received as a deposit the aforesaid fee.

RULES OF THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE STATE OF NEVADA

The following rules were approved in 1887 by all the district judges and by the supreme court when the state was in one judicial district, under the act of March 4, 1885 (Stats. 1885, 60), and are still in force, excepting the amendments of October 25, 1911, which do not become effective until April 1, 1912.

RULE I

The hour of 10 o'clock a. m. is fixed for the opening of court, unless otherwise ordered.

RULE II

1. Calendars—The clerk of each county of the state shall make three calendars for the district court of his county, upon one of which he shall place all civil causes at issue upon questions of fact as soon as the issue is made; upon another he shall place all civil causes at issue upon a question of law, and all motions of every nature, except ex parte motions, as soon as the issue is made, or as soon as notice of motion is filed; and upon the third of which he shall place all criminal business of every kind. The names of the attorneys of the respective parties shall be appropriately placed on such calendars. The clerk shall on every Saturday, forward to the presiding judge of the court and also to the judge who is to sit in his county a full statement of all court matters filed with him during the preceding week.

2. In districts having more than one judge the judges shall, by special rules, provide for the division of the business in their district and the calendars of their courts shall be prepared and kept in accordance with such division.

3. On all law days the clerk shall deliver to the judge or judges holding court in his county the calendars showing the business before such judge or judges. All law matters on said calendars at issue shall be called by the court and disposed of in order of filing, where possible, unless continued for good cause.

4. Each judge shall fix at least one law day in each month for the setting of cases for trial on issues of fact, unless the business of his district or of any county thereof requires a different arrangement. (As amended, October 25, 1911.)

RULE III

The judge who is to hold court in any county, where court is not held continuously, shall give the clerk of such county notice of the time when court will sit. The clerk shall, immediately upon receiving such notice, give all the attorneys having business in said court, as shown by the calendar, and also all attorneys practicing in his county notice in writing of the time when court will be held. He shall also give notice of the time of holding court, in some newspaper published at the county-seat, provided it can be done without expense. (As amended, October 25, 1911.)

RULE IV

When Calendar Called—Order—Upon the meeting of the court, as provided in rule III, and on law days as elsewhere provided in these rules, the law calendar will be called and disposed of. The trial calendar will then be called in districts or counties where a trial calendar day is not otherwise fixed as provided in rule II and causes at issue on questions of fact be set for trial for a time certain or otherwise disposed of. Parties are expected to be ready to try their causes, whether at issue on questions of law or fact, when the calendar is called, and in the order in which they are set. They may fix the day of trial by stipulation, in writing or in open court, subject to the approval of the court or judge. The daily business of the court will be disposed of in the following order:

First—The minutes of the previous day's business shall be read, approved, and signed by the judge.

Second—Ex parte motions.

Third—Demurrers, motions and questions of law.

Fourth—Issues arising subsequent to the calendar shall be set.

Fifth—Probate business, when there is no contest on questions of fact.

Sixth—Trial of causes as previously set. (As amended, October 25, 1911.)

RULE V

Law Day—On each Saturday of any session of court held by any district judge, law questions shall take precedence, when at issue, and be heard without previous setting or notice, unless the court, for good cause, continue the consideration thereof. The absence of an attorney or party shall not in itself be sufficient ground for such continuance, where the opposing attorney or party, whether the moving party or not, has given at least five days' written notice that he will call up the law question sought to be determined on a law day specified in said notice. When it appears to the court that such written notice has been given, he shall not, unless the other business of his court requires such action, further continue the matter specified in said notice unless upon a showing by affidavit or oral testimony, that such continuance is reasonably necessary and is not sought merely for delay or by reason of neglect. (As amended, October 25, 1911.)

RULE VI

Relating to Motions—When any motion or proceeding has been noticed, or set for a time certain, and for any cause is not heard at the time appointed, the hearing of the same shall be continued without further order, and the motion or proceeding shall be placed upon the calendar and disposed of as other issues thereon.

RULE VII

Issues of Law—Decision—Any issue of law, and any motion of any nature or kind may be heard orally by stipulation of the parties, at any time or place agreed on in the state, with the consent of the judge first having jurisdiction of the cause, or such questions of law, or motions, as the case may be, may be submitted on briefs to such judge, with his consent, and the decision may be filed thereafter at any time, which decision shall fix the time when the decision of the court is to be complied with; and in all such cases the party who is required to act by such decision shall receive due written notice thereof from the opposite party. Time for complying with such decision shall commence to run from the time when service is made in the manner required by the statutes for service of pleadings in a case; provided, that when the parties are present by their respective attorneys when the decision is rendered, no notice shall be required.

RULE VIII

1. Demurrers—When a demurrer is interposed in any case, if it be made to appear to the satisfaction of the court that such demurrer has not been interposed in good faith, but merely for delay, the defendant shall only answer upon such terms as the court may prescribe, and upon the filing of the answer, the case shall be set down for trial for as early a day as the business of the court will permit.

2. In other cases, when a demurrer is sustained or overruled, the losing party shall be allowed to amend or plead, as the case may be, as of course, within ten days from the decision on the demurrer, if the losing party is present by his attorney when the decision is rendered, otherwise within ten days from the receipt of written notice of the decision from the clerk or the prevailing party. The court may, by its order, fix a different time.

3. Whenever a general demurrer is interposed counsel for the opposite party, by written notice served at least three days before the hearing of the demurrer, may require the counsel for demurrant to furnish him with a written statement of the points and authorities upon which he expects to rely in presenting the demurrer. This statement must be furnished at least one day before the argument. Upon failure to do so the court may, in its discretion, overrule the demurrer without permitting argument. (As amended, October 25, 1911.)

RULE IX

Documents and Pleadings—All documents and pleadings, intended for the files of this court, shall be on paper known as "legal cap," of good quality, and without interlineations, unless noted thereon by the clerk at the time of filing. No original pleading or paper shall be amended by making erasures or interlineations thereon, or by attaching slips thereto, except by leave of court. Copies of all papers issued from this court, or to be used therein, which are required by law or rule of court to be served, shall be upon legal cap paper in a legible hand, and in default of so doing, the party failing shall be compelled to renew the paper, or be precluded from using the original, as the court may deem proper.

RULE X

Motions—Motions in all cases, except ex parte motions, motions for continuance, and motions to amend pleadings pending a trial, shall be noticed at least five days before the day specified for a hearing, and a copy of all papers to be used by the moving party, except pleadings or other records of the court, shall be served with the notice of motion. The notice of motion shall be in writing, and shall specify the papers to be used and the names of witnesses to be examined by the moving party, and the grounds upon which the motion is made; provided, that the court may, upon good cause shown, shorten or enlarge the time for hearing. For a failure to comply with this rule the motion shall be denied.

Cited, Symons-Kraussman Co. v. Reno W. L. Co., 32 Nev. 241, 242.

RULE XI

1. Hearing of Motions—Upon reading and filing the notice of motion, with due proof of service of the same, and of the papers mentioned therein, if no one appears to oppose the motion, the moving party shall be entitled to have the motion decided. Upon the hearing, the affidavits to be used by either party shall be endorsed and filed before the affidavits shall be used. The manner of making motions shall be as follows:

First—The moving party shall read the moving papers, or state the contents thereof, or introduce his oral evidence.

Second—The party opposing shall then read or state the contents of his opposing papers, or introduce his oral evidence.

Third—The moving party may then read his rebutting papers, or introduce oral evidence, if admissible under the rules of practice in law or equity. The counsel for the moving party shall make his argument, to be followed by the counsel of the opposing party, and the counsel for the moving party may reply.

Fourth—No motion once heard and disposed of shall be renewed in the same cause, nor shall the same matters therein embraced be reheard, unless by leave of the court granted upon motion therefor, after notice of such motion to the adverse parties. (As amended, October 25, 1911.)

RULE XII

Hearing of Motions of Continuance—Testimony of Absentees—Counter-Affidavits—All motions for the continuance of causes shall be made on affidavit; and, when made on the ground of absence of witnesses, the affidavit shall state:

First—The names of the absent witnesses, and their present residence or abiding place, if known.

Second—What diligence has been used to procure their attendance, or depositions, and the causes of a failure to procure the same.

Third—What the affiant has been informed and believes will be the testimony of each of such absent witnesses, and whether or not the same facts can be proven by other witnesses than parties to the suit, whose attendance or depositions might have been obtained.

Fourth—At what time the applicant first learned that the attendance or depositions of such absent witnesses could not be obtained.

Fifth—That the application is made in good faith, and not for delay merely. And no continuance will be granted unless the affidavit upon which it is applied for conforms to this rule, except where the continuance is applied for in a mining case, upon the special ground provided by statute. A copy of the affidavits upon which a motion for a continuance is made, shall be served upon the opposing party as soon as practicable after the cause for the continuance shall be known to the moving party. Counter-affidavits may be used in opposition to the motion. No amendments or additions to affidavits for continuance will be allowed after they have been read, and no argument will be heard on motions for a continuance, except such as relate to the sufficiency of the affidavits read on the hearing.

RULE XIII

Attorneys as Witnesses—When a lawyer is a witness for his client, except as to merely formal matters, such as the attestation or custody of an instrument or the like, he shall not argue the cause or sum it up to the jury without the permission of the court. In no event shall such lawyer be permitted to comment upon his own testimony before the court or a jury. (As amended, October 25, 1911.)

RULE XIV

Sureties—No attorney will be received as surety on any bond or recognizance to be filed or entered into in any action or proceeding in this court.

RULE XV

Depositions—Affidavit—Settling Interrogatories—A party making application for a commission to take the deposition of a witness, out of the state, shall serve, with the notice of such application, an affidavit setting forth the grounds for such application, and a copy of the direct interrogatories; and at least one day before the hearing of the application, the adverse party shall serve upon the moving party a copy of the cross-interrogatories. The direct and cross-interrogatories shall be settled at the time of hearing the application, unless the court or judge otherwise direct; provided, that the parties may agree to the interrogatories without submission to the court or judge, or may stipulate that the deposition may be taken without written interrogatories. (As amended, October 25, 1911.)

RULE XVI

Publication of Depositions—When a deposition is received by the clerk, he shall endorse upon the envelope the time of receiving it, and immediately file it with the papers of the case in which it was taken; and at any time afterward, upon the application of any attorney in the case, he shall open the same, and endorse upon the envelope the time of opening, and the name of the attorney upon whose application it was opened, and shall then file the deposition. (As amended, October 25, 1911.)

RULE XVII

Amended Pleadings—In cases where the right to amend any pleading is not of course, the party desiring to amend shall serve, with the notice of application to amend, an engrossed copy of the pleading, with the amendment incorporated therein, or a copy of the proposed amendment, referring to the page and line of the pleading where it is desired that the amendment be inserted, and, if the pleading were verified, shall verify such amended pleading, or such proposed amendment, before the application shall be heard.

Cited, Weir v. Washoe H. & S. Co., 31 Nev. 528, 529.

RULE XVIII

To Strike Out—The party moving to strike out any part of a pleading shall, in the notice of motion, distinctly specify the part asked to be stricken out.

RULE XIX

Withdrawal of Papers—No paper or record belonging to the files of the court shall be taken from the office and custody of the clerk, except upon the special order of the judge in writing, specifying the record or paper, and limiting the time the same may be retained; but in no case shall original documentary evidence be taken from the office of the clerk.

RULE XX

Additional Undertaking—Attachments—If the undertaking required before issuing a writ of attachment is shown to the satisfaction of the court or judge, upon proper notice, to be insufficient to secure the party whose property is attached, against damages, the court or judge may require an additional undertaking to be filed, and if not filed, the attachment shall be dissolved. No attachment shall be dissolved by reason of any defect in the attachment papers that can be amended without affecting the substantial rights of the parties.

RULE XXI

Trials—Upon a reference to try all the issues, both of fact and law, and to report a judgment thereon, the referee shall set forth in his report the facts found and conclusions of law separately, and shall, upon the day when his report is filed, serve upon the respective parties, or their attorneys, notice that such report is filed; and the trial of the cause for the purpose of notice and motion for new trial shall not be deemed concluded until such notice is served.

RULE XXII

Appeals—Certificate of Appeal to State—Supersedeas—When an appeal is perfected and a proper undertaking to stay proceedings is filed, it shall stay all further proceedings in the court below, upon the judgment or order appealed from, or upon the matter embraced therein; and if an execution or other order shall have been issued to the sheriff, coroner, or elisor, he shall return the same, with the cause therefor, and his proceedings thereunder, endorsed thereon upon receiving from the clerk a certificate, under the seal of the court, of the perfecting of the appeal. The certificate shall state the title of the action, the filing and service of the notice of appeal and the date of such filing and service, together with the filing and approval of the undertaking staying all proceedings, and the date of such filing and approval; and such certificate shall operate as a supersedeas of the execution, or a vacation of the order.

RULE XXIII

Foreclosing Mortgage—Service by Publication—If, in an action to foreclose a mortgage, the defendant fails to answer within the time allowed for that purpose, or the right of plaintiff as stated in the complaint is admitted by the answer, the court may make an order referring it to some suitable person as referee, to compute the amount due to the plaintiff, and to such of the defendants as are prior incumbrancers of the mortgaged premises, and to examine and report whether the mortgaged premises can be sold in parcels, if the whole amount secured by the mortgage has not become due. If any of the defendants have been served by publication, the order of reference shall also direct the referee to take proof of the facts and circumstances stated in the complaint, and to examine the plaintiff, or his agent, on oath, as to any payments which have been made, and to compute the amount due on the mortgage, preparatory to the application for decree of foreclosure.

RULE XXIV

Further Time—When an order shall be made enlarging the time to file a statement or affidavits on motion for a new trial, the adverse party, unless the court otherwise directs, shall have the same number of days to propose amendments or file counter-affidavits as was allowed by such order to file such statement or affidavits. (As amended, October 25, 1911.)

RULE XXV

Settled by Referee—When a motion for a new trial is made in a cause tried before a referee, the statement shall be settled by the referee.

RULE XXVI

Undertakings—Stay of Execution—Certificate To State—No stay of execution upon motion for a new trial shall be granted or allowed, nor execution or other proceeding be stayed in any case, except upon the giving of a good and sufficient undertaking, in the manner and form as other undertakings are given, to be approved by the judge, with at least two sureties, for the payment of the judgment or debt, or performance of the act directed by the judgment or order, in such amount as may be fixed by the judge. An order to stay execution, or other proceedings in an action, shall be of no effect until a copy of notice thereof is served upon the opposite party, or his attorney, and any other party or officer whose proceedings are to be stayed thereby, unless said attorney or officer be present at the time of making such order. And if an execution or other order shall have been issued to the sheriff, coroner, elisor, or other person, he shall return the same with the cause therefor and his proceedings thereunder endorsed thereon, upon receiving from the clerk a certificate, under the seal of the court, of the granting of the stay of execution or other proceedings. The certificate shall state the title of the action, the order staying the execution or other proceedings, and the date of such order, together with the filing and approval of the undertaking above required, and the date of such filing and approval; and such certificate shall operate as a supersedeas of the execution or a vacation of the order.

Cited, Frevert v. Swift, 19 Nev. 401, 402.

RULE XXVII

Stipulations—No agreement or stipulation between the parties in a cause, or their attorneys, in respect to proceedings therein, will be regarded, unless the same shall be entered in the minutes in the form of an order, by consent, or unless the same shall be in writing, subscribed by the party against whom the same shall be alleged, or by his attorney or counsel.

Cited, Haley v. Eureka Bank, 20 Nev. 410, 422, 425; Stretch v. Montezuma M. Co., 29 Nev. 163, 167.

RULE XXVIII

Juror, How Excused—No juror shall be excused except in open court; and when a juror is excused, the clerk shall immediately withdraw his name from the box for the period for which he has been excused.

RULE XXIX

Guardians—No person shall be appointed guardian ad litem, either upon the application of the infant or otherwise, unless he be the general guardian of the infant, or an attorney, or other officer of this court, or is fully competent to understand and protect the rights of the infant; has no interest adverse to that of the infant, and is not connected in business with the attorney or counsel of the adverse party, nor unless he be of sufficient pecuniary ability to answer to the infant for any damage which may be sustained for his negligence or misconduct in defense of the suit.

RULE XXX

Attorneys as Guardians Ad Litem—Every attorney, or officer of this court, shall act as guardian of an infant defendant whenever appointed for that purpose by an order of the court. He shall examine into the circumstances of the case so far as to enable him to make the proper defense, and shall be entitled to such compensation as the court may deem reasonable.

RULE XXXI

Guardians Ad Litem—No guardian ad litem shall receive any money or property, or proceeds of sale of real estate, until he has given security by bond, in double the amount of such property or money, with two sureties, who shall justify as in other cases, approved by the judge and filed by the clerk, conditioned for the faithful discharge of his trust.

RULE XXXII

To Furnish to the Clerk—The counsel obtaining any order, judgment, or decree, shall furnish the form of the same to the clerk.

RULE XXXIII

To Be Filed—The sheriff shall file with the clerk the affidavit and order on which any arrest is made, within five days after such arrest is made.

RULE XXXIV

Retax Costs—The party against whom judgment is entered shall have five days after service of a copy of the cost bill in which to move to retax costs. (As amended, October 25, 1911.)

RULE XXXV

Mechanics' Liens—In actions to enforce mechanics' liens, other lienholders coming in under the notice published by the plaintiff shall do so by filing with the clerk and serving on the plaintiff and also on the defendant, if he be within the state, or be represented by counsel, a written statement of the facts constituting their liens, together with the dates and amounts thereof, and the plaintiff and other parties adversely interested shall be allowed five days to answer such statements.

RULE XXXVI

Notice of Order Extending Time—No order, made on ex parte application and in the absence of the opposing party, provided he has appeared, granting or extending the time to file any paper or do any act, shall be valid for any purpose, in case of objection, unless written notice thereof is promptly given to such opposing party. Such notice shall be given as other notices are given, or may be given by registered mail sent to the last known address of the attorney for such party, or, if he has no attorney, to such party himself. If the address of such attorney or party be not known then the notice may be addressed to such attorney or party in care of the clerk. (As amended, October 25, 1911.)

RULE XXXVII

Appeal from Justice's Court—Dismissed, When—When an appeal from the justice's court to this court has been perfected, and the papers are not filed in this court within fifteen days from the day of filing the undertaking on appeal, this court, on the production of a certificate from the justice to the effect that an appeal has been taken and perfected, but the papers have not been ordered up, or the proper costs not paid, or upon showing that any other necessary steps have not been taken, shall dismiss the appeal at the cost of the appellant.

Cited, Andrews v. Cook, 28 Nev. 268.

RULE XXXVIII

Appeal Dismissed, When—The plaintiff shall cause the papers in a case certified to this court under the provisions of the 539th section of the practice act, to be filed in the office of the clerk of this court within fifteen days from the day upon which the order of the justice is made directing the transfer of the case. If the papers are not so filed the case shall be dismissed, upon filing a certificate from the justice to the effect that he has certified the papers as required by said section, but that the same have not been ordered up, or the proper costs paid; or if it shall appear that such papers are not filed in this court by reason of the neglect of the plaintiff to pay the fees of the clerk for filing the same.

RULE XXXIX

Duties of the Sheriff—During the time the court remains in session it shall be the duty of the sheriff in attendance to prevent all persons from coming within the bar, except officers of the court, attorneys and parties to, or jurors or witnesses in, the cause or matter being tried or heard. The sheriff shall also keep the passage way to the bar clear for ingress or egress.

RULE XL

Instructions To Be Settled and Given, When—Before the argument begins counsel shall prepare their instructions, submit them to the inspection of the opposite party, and deliver them to the court. The court will hear objections to instructions and if either party request it will settle the instructions in advance of the argument and permit counsel to use them when addressing the jury, but this shall not prevent the giving of further instructions which may become necessary by reason of the argument. (As amended, October 25, 1911.)

Regarding the giving of instructions in civil cases, see sections 5210, 5212; in criminal cases, section 7159.

RULE XLI

Cited, Twaddle v. Winters, 29 Nev. 88, 93.

RULE XLII

Writs—When an application or petition for any writ, rule or order shall have been made to a district judge and is pending, or has been denied by such judge, the same application or motion shall not again be made to the same or another district judge, unless upon the consent in writing of the judge to whom the application or motion was first made.

RULE XLIII

Duties of Judge—No judge, except the judge having charge of the cause or proceeding, shall grant further time to plead, move, or do any act or thing required to be done in any cause or proceeding, unless it be shown by affidavit that such judge is absent from the state, or from some other cause is unable to act; provided, that this rule may be abrogated or modified in districts having more than one judge, in the manner indicated in rule XLI. (As amended, October 25, 1911.)

Cited, Twaddle v. Winters, 29 Nev. 88, 97.

RULE XLIV

Causes Certified by State Land Register—When a cause shall have been certified by the state land register to the district court for trial, it shall be the duty of the first applicant, within thirty days after receiving notice of such certification, to file and serve upon the adverse party a complaint setting forth the facts upon which he claims to be entitled to the land. The adverse party shall, within ten days after service of the complaint, file and serve his answer, in which answer he shall set forth the facts upon which he relies.

RULE XLV

Vacating Judgments and Orders—Time To Amend—No judgment, order, or other judicial act or proceeding, shall be vacated, amended, modified or corrected by the court or judge rendering, making, or ordering the same, unless the party desiring such vacation, amendment, modification or correction shall give notice to the adverse party of a motion therefor, within six months after such judgment was rendered, order made, or action or proceeding taken. (As amended, October 25, 1911.)

[NOTE—Three acts prescribing a general system of civil practice have been passed in this state, namely Stats. 1861, 314; 1869, 196, and the following. The acts of 1861 and 1869 were frequently amended and supplemented by other acts and all existing law on the subject was finally merged into the present act. The former acts had numerous citations, many of which are yet authoritative for the reason that numerous sections of this act are continuations of those of former acts, or the difference is so slight as to render the construction put upon such sections by the courts still in point. So far as possible the annotations contained in this act have been apposed to the corresponding section.]

An Act to regulate proceedings in civil cases in this state and to repeal all other acts in relation thereto.

In adopting the practice act of California, it must be presumed to have been adopted as interpreted by the highest court of judicature of that state. Williams v. Glasgow, 1 Nev. 533, 538; Whitmore v. Shiverick, 3 Nev. 303; Weil v. Howard, 4 Nev. 393.

Our practice act was indirectly borrowed from New York. Howe v. Coldren, 4 Nev. 176; Rose v. Treadway, 4 Nev. 460.

The provisions of the civil practice act, not inconsistent with the revenue laws, are applicable to suits brought for the collection of taxes. State v. Yellow J. S. M. Co., 14 Nev. 220, 235, 236.

The practice act is a remedial law. It was designed to simplify legal proceedings, to expedite them and render them less costly and burdensome to litigants (Beatty, J.). Idem, 253.

CHAPTER 1

PRELIMINARY PROVISIONS

4943. One form of action.

SECTION 1. There shall be in this state but one form of civil action for the enforcement or protection of private rights, and the redress or prevention of private wrongs.

Kerr, C. C. P., 307.
See Const., sec. 329.

Mining companies failing to file annual statements may not prosecute or defend until statement filed, section 1338.
Same in case of foreign corporations failing to comply with laws, sections 1355, 1364.
Cited, State v. Yellow Jacket S. M. Co., 14 Nev. 238.

Although the same court has jurisdiction, under our system, of cases at law and in equity in matters of probate, yet the several classes of cases must be kept separate, and a petition to the court of probate cannot be confounded with an action at law or a suit in chancery. Lucich v. Medin, 3 Nev. 93 (93 A. D. 376).

It is as necessary, under our system of practice, to maintain in the pleadings the distinction between actions arising out of torts and those growing out of contracts, as it was under the old practice. Knickerbocker N. S. M. Co. v. Hall, 3 Nev. 194, 198.

If the pleading be upon contract a recovery should not be allowed if the proof be of a trespass, from which there could be no presumption of a contract. Idem.

The district courts in proper cases may administer both legal and equitable relief. Botsford v. Von Riper, 33 Nev. — (110 P. 706).

4944. Designation of parties.

SEC. 2. In such action the party complaining shall be known as the plaintiff, and the adverse party as the defendant.

Kerr, C. C. P., 308.

4945. When special issues may be tried by jury.

SEC. 3. In a case where neither party can, as of right, require a trial by jury of an issue of fact arising upon the pleadings, or where a question of fact, not in issue upon the pleadings, is to be tried, an order for the trial thereof by a jury may be made, stating distinctly and plainly the question of fact to be tried. Such an order is the only authority necessary for the trial.

CHAPTER 2

LIMITATIONS IN GENERAL

4946. Actions to be commenced within periods prescribed.

SEC. 4. Civil actions can only be commenced within the periods prescribed in this act, after the cause of action shall have accrued, except where a different limitation is prescribed by statute.

Kerr, C. C. P., 312.

Mining companies failing to file annual statements may not prosecute or defend until statement filed, sec. 1338.

Same in case of foreign corporations failing to comply with law, secs. 1355, 1364.

Statutes of limitations cited generally. Bullion M. Co. v. Croesus M. C., 2 Nev. 174, 181, 182.

Where plaintiff originally sued on a written contract, and afterwards amended his complaint by adding a second count on an implied contract for the same cause of action: Held, that such amendment could not be resisted on the ground that a new suit on such second count would then be barred by the statute of limitations, and that to strike out such second count on that ground was error. Tucker v. Virginia, 4 Nev. 20.

A foreign corporation cannot plead the statute of limitations either in personal or real actions. Barstow v. Union Con. S. M. Co., 10 Nev. 386, 387; Sutro T. Co. v. S. B. M. Co., 19 Nev. 125.

The statute of limitations, like any other statute, is to be construed according to the manifest intention of the legislature, and in ascertaining such intention, the language used should be construed if possible, according to the usual meaning of the words used. Treadway v. Wilder, 12 Nev. 108, 113.

The revenue laws of this state do not except taxes from the operation of the statute of limitations or extend the time for bringing suits for their collection beyond the period allowed by that statute. State v. Y. J. S. M. Co., 14 Nev. 229.

To make the possession of one tenant in common adverse as against the others, it is not necessary that notice should be given of the adverse intent; but the intent must be manifested by outward acts of an unequivocal kind. Abernathie v. Con. Va. M. Co., 16 Nev. 261.

4947. Cause of action arising in another state or foreign country.

SEC. 5. When a cause of action has arisen in another state, or in a foreign country, and by the laws thereof an action thereon cannot there be maintained against a person by reason of the lapse of time, an action thereon shall not be maintained against him in this state, except in favor of a citizen thereof who has held the cause of action from the time it accrued.

Kerr, C. C. P., 361.

Where default is made in a payment of a firm note executed in California by a partner residing there, and the other partner is a resident of New York, the right of action, as against the latter, accrues in New York, and not in California; and, if no action is brought on the note in New York within a time prescribed by the statutes of limitations of that state, the holder cannot maintain an action against him in Nevada by reason of this section. Lewis v. Hyams, 26 Nev. 68, 79–84 (99 A. S. 677, 63 P. 126).

LIMITATIONS—REAL PROPERTY

4948. When action cannot be brought by grantee from this state.
4949. When actions by state or its grantees are to be brought within seven years.
4950. State not to sue, when.
4951. Action for recovery of mining claims —Occupation and possession defined —Other provisions applicable.
4952. No cause of action effectual unless party or predecessor seized or possessed within five years.
4953. Idem—Five years.
4954. When peaceable entry not valid as claim.
4955. Possession presumed in legal owner, unless adversely held.
4956. Adverse possession under written instrument, decree—What deemed held.
4957. Idem — What constitutes possession and occupancy.
4958. Adverse possession under claim of title only—Land deemed held.
4959. Idem—What constitutes possession and occupancy.
4960. Adverse possession, must be five years continuously, all taxes paid.
4961. Possession of tenant or landlord—Presumption limited.

4962. Right of possession not affected by descent cast.
4963. Action to recover estate sold by guardian, three years.
4964. Action to recover estate sold by executor, three years.
4965. Legal disability prevents running of statute—Removal.
4966. Idem—Time of disability not reckoned.

4948. When action cannot be brought by grantee from this state.

SEC. 6. No action can be brought for or in respect to real property by any person claiming under letters patent, or grants from this state, unless the same might have been commenced by the state as herein specified in case such patent had not been issued or grant made.

Kerr, C. C. P., 316.

4949. When actions by state or its grantees are to be brought within seven years.

SEC. 7. When letters patent or grants of real property issued or made by this state, are declared void by the determination of a competent court, an action for the recovery of the property so conveyed may be brought, either by the state, or by any subsequent patentee or grantee of the property, his heirs or assigns, within seven years after such determination, but not after that period.

Kerr, C. C. P., 317.

4950. State not to sue, when.

SEC. 8. The State of Nevada will not sue any person for, or in respect to, any real property, or the issues or profits thereof, by reason of the right or title of the state to the same unless:

1. Such right or title shall have accrued within ten years before any action or other proceeding for the same; or,

2. Unless the state, or those from whom it claims, shall have received the rents and profits of such real property, or of some part thereof within the space of ten years.

Kerr, C. C. P., 315.

4951. Action for recovery of mining claims—Occupation and possession defined—Other provisions applicable—Proviso.

SEC. 9. No action for the recovery of mining claims, or for the recovery of the possession thereof, shall be maintained, unless it appear that the plaintiff, or those through or from whom he claims, were seized or possessed of such mining claim, or were the owners thereof, according to the laws and customs of the district embracing the same, within two years before the commencement of such action. Occupation and adverse possession of a mining claim shall consist in holding and working the same, in the usual and customary mode of holding and working similar claims in the vicinity thereof. All the provisions of this act, which apply to other real estate, so far as applicable, shall be deemed to include and apply to mining claims; provided, that in such application "two years" shall be held to be the period intended whenever the term "five years" is used; and, provided further, that when the terms "legal title" or "title" are used, they shall be held to include title acquired by location or occupation, according to the usages, laws, and customs of the district embracing the claim.

Under some circumstances lapse of time is a good defense, although the statute of limitations is not specially pleaded. Gottschall v. Melsing, 2 Nev. 185, 188–190.

The act of Congress in relation to the location of mining claims and the determination of the rights thereto in case of conflict (U. S. Stats. 1872, 91, sec. 7) does not prevent the application of the state statute of limitation; on the contrary, an actual, exclusive and uninterrupted adverse possession for the statutory period constitutes a complete bar. 420 M. Co. v. Bullion M. Co., 9 Nev. 240, 249.

The pendency of a suit to recover possession of real estate does not estop the plaintiff, in case of a suit subsequently commenced against himself, from setting up the statute of limitations and claiming rights and privileges under it. Idem.

Locating, holding and working a mining claim in the usual mode constitutes occupation and adverse possession under this section. Patchen v. Keeley, 19 Nev. 410 (14 P. 347).

Occupation and adverse possession of a mining claim shall consist in holding and working the same, in the usual and customary mode of holding and working similar claims in the vicinity. South End M. Co. v. Tinney, 22 Nev. 34, 35, 65, 70 (35 P. 89).

The statute of limitations does not begin to run against a person entitled to the legal title to mining ground until the patent is issued to him. South End M. Co. v. Tinney, 22 Nev. 221 (38 P. 401).

Cited, Nash v. McNamara, 30 Nev. 130 (93 P. 405, 16 L. R. A. (N. S.) 168).

4952. No cause of action effectual unless party or predecessor seized or possessed within five years.

SEC. 10. No cause of action, or defense to an action, founded upon the title to real property, or to rents, or to services out of the same, shall be effectual, unless it appear that the person prosecuting the action, or making the defense, or under whose title the action is prosecuted, or the defense is made, or the ancestor, predecessor, or grantor of such person, was seized or possessed of the premises in question within five years before the committing of the act in respect to which said action is prosecuted or defense made.

Kerr, C. C. P., 318.

The statute of limitations does not begin to run against a resulting trust in favor of the trustee because the trustee's possession is deemed in law the possession of the cestui que trust. Levy v. Ryland, 32 Nev. 461 (109 P. 905).

The statute does not begin to run against the trust until it has been openly disavowed by the trustee insisting on an adverse right and interest clearly and unequivocally made known to the cestui que trust. Idem.

The statute does not begin to run against an action by cestui que trust until the time of the discovery by the latter of the fraud or mistake on which it is based. Idem.

Section 33 of this act does not in any way qualify this section. This section prescribes the general rule as to limitations of real actions or actions for the possession of real estate, and section 33 declares the exceptions to the general rule. Chollar-Potosi M. Co. v. Kennedy, 3 Nev. 361, 368–370 (93 A. D. 409).

See 420 M. Co. v. Bullion M. Co., under last preceding section.

Cited, Malmstrom v. People's D. D. Co., 32 Nev. 246, 253 (107 P. 98, 102).

4953. Idem—Five years.

SEC. 11. No action for the recovery of real property, or for the recovery of the possession thereof other than mining claims, shall be maintained, unless it appear that the plaintiff, his ancestor, predecessor, or grantor was seized or possessed of the premises in question, within five years before the commencement thereof.

Kerr, C. C. P., 318.

Cited, South End M. Co. v. Tinney, 22 Nev. 65, 70.

4954. When peaceable entry not valid as claim.

SEC. 12. No peaceable entry upon real estate shall be deemed sufficient and valid as a claim, unless an action be commenced by the plaintiff for possession within one year from the making of such entry, or within five years from the time when the right to bring such action accrued.

Kerr, C. C. P., 320.

A party claiming a prescriptive right for five years who, within that time, enlarges the use, cannot, at the end of that time, claim the use as enlarged within that period. The acts by which the right is sought to be established must be such as to operate as an invasion of the right claimed to such an extent that during the whole period of use the party whose estate is sought to be charged with the servitude could have maintained an action therefor. Boynton v. Longley, 19 Nev. 69, 76 (3 A. S. 781, 6 P. 437).

Cited in dissenting opinion of Murphy, C. J., in South End M. Co. v. Tinney, 22 Nev. 69.

See Levy v. Ryland, under sec. 10 of this act.

4955. Possession presumed in legal owner, unless adversely held.

SEC. 13. In every action for the recovery of real property, or the possession thereof, the person establishing a legal title to the premises shall be presumed to have been possessed thereof within the time prescribed by law; and the occupation of such premises by any other person shall be deemed to have been under and in subordination to the legal title, unless it shall appear:

1. That it has been protected by a substantial inclosure; or,

2. That it has been cultivated or improved in accordance with the usual and ordinary methods of husbandry.

Kerr, C. C. P., 321.

Under this section, a party is entitled to maintain an action for the possession of real property at any time before the expiration of five years of adverse possession after he obtained the legal title. Where the legal title remains in the government until the issuance of a patent, the statute of limitations does not commence to run until that date; the time between the date of the certificate of the purchase and of the issuance of the patent is not to be computed as a part of the five years of adverse possession. Treadway v. Wilder, 12 Nev. 108, 112, 113.

Cited in dissenting opinion of Murphy, C. J., in South End Co. v. Tinney, 22 Nev. 66, 69 (35 P. 89).

Color of title in plaintiff and its payment of taxes on land make it impossible under this section for title by adverse possession to be acquired by one whose possession was subordinate to that of another who occupied the premises in subordination to the title of plaintiff and virtually as its tenant. Reno Brewing Co. v. Packard, 31 Nev. 433, 440 (103 P. 415).

4956. Adverse possession under written instrument, decree, what deemed held.

Kerr, C. C. P., 322.

When a deed to real estate, absolute upon its face, is given to secure a debt, and there is no agreement when such debt shall become due, the statute of limitations begins to run in favor of the grantee in possession immediately on the delivery of the deed.

In an action to redeem mortgaged real estate the payment of taxes on the land by either the mortgageor or the mortgagee after the mortgage debt was due will not arrest the operation of the statute of limitations in favor of the mortgagee in possession, and such action is barred when not brought within the time limited after the maturity of the debt. Borden v. Clow, 21 Nev. 275, 278 (37 A. S. 511, 30 P. 821).

4957. Idem—What constitutes possession and occupancy.

SEC. 15. For the purpose of constituting adverse possession by any person claiming a title, founded upon a written instrument, or judgment, or decree, land shall be deemed to have been possessed and occupied in the following cases:

1. Where it has been usually cultivated or improved.

2. Where it has been protected by a substantial inclosure.

3. Where, though not inclosed, it has been used for the supply of fuel, or of fencing timber, for the purpose of husbandry; or, for the use of pasturage, or for ordinary uses of the occupant.

4. Where a known farm or single lot has been partly improved, the portion of such farm or lot that may have been left not cleared, or not inclosed according to the usual course and custom of the adjoining country, shall be deemed to have been occupied for the same length of time as the part improved and cultivated.

Kerr, C. C. P., 323.

4958. Adverse possession under claim of title only—Land deemed held.

SEC. 16. Where it appears that there has been an actual continued occupation of premises, under a claim of title, exclusive of any other right, but not founded upon a written instrument, or a judgment, or decree, the premises so actually occupied, and no other, shall be deemed to have been held adversely.

Kerr, C. C. P., 324.

4959. Idem—What constitutes possession and occupancy.

SEC. 17. For the purpose of constituting an adverse possession, by a person claiming title, not founded upon a written instrument, judgment, or decree, land shall be deemed to have been possessed and occupied in the following cases only:

1. Where it has been protected by a substantial inclosure.
2. Where it has been usually cultivated or improved.

Kerr, C. C. P., 325.

4960. Adverse possession, must be five years continuously, all taxes paid.

SEC. 18. In no case shall adverse possession be considered established unless it be shown, in addition to the above requirements, that the land has been occupied and claimed for the period of five years, continuously, and that the party or persons, their predecessors and grantors, have paid all taxes, state, county and municipal, which may have been levied and assessed against said land for the period above mentioned.

Kerr, C. C. P., 325.

4961. Possession of tenant or landlord—Presumption limited.

SEC. 19. Whenever the relation of landlord and tenant shall have existed between any persons, the possession of the tenant shall be deemed the possession of the landlord until the expiration of five years from the expiration of the tenancy, or, where there has been no written lease, until the expiration of five years from the time of the last payment of rent, notwithstanding that such tenant may have acquired another title, or may have claimed to hold adversely to his landlord. But such presumptions shall not be made after the periods herein limited.

Kerr, C. C. P., 326.

4962. Right of possession not affected by descent cast.

SEC. 20. The right of a person to the possession of any real property, shall not be impaired or affected by a descent being cast in consequence of the death of a person in possession of such property.

Kerr, C. C. P., 327.

4963. Actions to recover estate sold by guardian, three years.

SEC. 21. No action for the recovery of any estate sold by a guardian can be maintained by the ward, or by any person claiming under him, unless it is commenced within three years next after the termination of the guardianship.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1806; Utah, 2869.
See secs. 6018, 6185.

4964. Action to recover estate sold by executor, three years.

SEC. 22. No action for the recovery of any estate sold by an executor or administrator in the course of any probate proceeding can be maintained by any heir or other person claiming under the decedent, unless it be commenced within three years next after such sale. An action to set aside the sale may be instituted and maintained at any time within three years from the discovery of the fraud or other lawful grounds upon which the action is based.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1573; Utah, 2870.
See sec. 6018.

4965. Legal disability prevents running of statute—Removal.

SEC. 23. The two preceding sections shall not apply to minors or others under any legal disability to sue at the time when the right of action first accrues, but all such persons may commence an action at any time within one year after the removal of the disability.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1574, 1806; Utah, 2871.
See sec. 6018.

4966. Idem—Time of disability not reckoned.

SEC. 24. If a person entitled to commence an action for the recovery of real property, or for the recovery of the possession thereof, or to make any entry or defense, founded on the title to real property, or to rents or services out of the same, be at the time such title shall first descend or accrue, either:

1. Within the age of majority; or,
2. Insane; or,
3. Imprisoned on a criminal charge, or in execution upon conviction of a criminal offense, for a term less than for life—

the time during which such disability continues is not deemed any portion of the time in this chapter limited for the commencement of such actions, or the making of such entry or defense, but such action may be commenced or entry or defense made, within the period of two years after such disability shall cease, or after the death of the person entitled, who shall die under such disability, but such action shall not be commenced, or entry or defense made, after that period.

Kerr, C. C. P., 328.
See sec. 6018.
Part of this section is Stats. 1861, 30, sec. 22, which has had the following citation: Chollar-Potosi M. Co. v. Kennedy, 3 Nev. 368 (93 A. D. 409).

CHAPTER 4

LIMITATIONS OTHER THAN REAL PROPERTY

4967. Limitations of various actions.
4968. Time, how reckoned.
4969. Idem—From last item of mutual account.
4970. Action for relief not provided for—Four years.
4971. Limitations apply to state.
4972. Proceedings to contest election of state officer, limitation.
4973. Proceedings to contest the election of county officer, limitation.

4967. Limitations of various actions.

SEC. 25. Actions other than those for the recovery of real property, can only be commenced as follows:

Within six years: 1. An action upon a judgment, or decree of any court of the United States, or of any state or territory within the United States.

2. An action upon a contract, obligation, or liability, founded upon an instrument in writing, except those mentioned in the preceding sections.

Within four years: 1. An action on an open account for goods, wares, and merchandise sold and delivered.

2. An action for any article charged in a store account.

3. An action upon a contract, obligation or liability, not founded upon an instrument in writing.

Within three years: 1. An action upon a liability created by statute, other than a penalty or forfeiture.

2. An action for waste or trespass of real property; provided, that when the waste or trespass is committed by means of underground works upon any mining claim, the cause of action shall not be deemed to have accrued until the discovery by the aggrieved party of the facts constituting such waste or trespass.

3. An action for taking, detaining, or injuring personal property, including actions for specific recovery thereof; provided, that in all cases where the subject of the action is a domestic animal usually included in the term "live stock," having upon it at the time of its loss a recorded mark or brand, and when such animal was strayed or stolen from the true owner without his fault, the statute shall not begin to run against an action for the recovery of such animal until the owner has actual knowledge of such facts as would put a reasonable man upon inquiry as to the possession thereof by the defendant.

4. An action for relief on the ground of fraud or mistake; the cause of action in such case not to be deemed to have accrued until the discovery by the aggrieved party of the facts constituting the fraud or mistake.

Within two years: 1. An action against a sheriff, coroner, or constable, upon the liability incurred by the doing of an act in his official capacity and in virtue of his office, or by the omission of an official duty, including the nonpayment of money collected upon an execution.

2. An action upon a statute for a penalty or forfeiture, where the action is given to an individual, or to the state, or an individual and the state, except when the state imposing it prescribes a different limitation.

3. An action for libel, slander, assault, battery, false imprisonment or seduction.

4. An action against a sheriff, or other officer, for the escape of a prisoner arrested or imprisoned on civil process.

5. An action to recover damages for the death of one caused by the wrongful act or neglect of another.

Within one year: 1. An action against an officer, or officers de facto: (a) To recover any goods, wares, merchandise or other property seized by any such officer in his official capacity, as tax collector, or to recover the price or value of any goods, wares, merchandise, or other personal property so seized, or for damages for the seizure, detention, sale of, or injury to, any goods, wares, merchandise, or other personal property seized, or for damages done to any person or property in making any such seizure. (b) For money paid to any such officer under protest, or seized by such officer in his official capacity, as a collector of taxes, and which, it is claimed, ought to be refunded.

2. Actions or claims against a county, incorporated city or town, which have been rejected by the board of county commissioners, city council, or board of trustees, as the case may be; after the first rejection thereof by such board, city council, or board of trustees.

See sec. 6048.

On bond of guardian, 6185.

This section is a modification of Stats. 1861, p. 29, sec. 16, which has had the following citations:

When a debt secured by mortgage is barred by the statute of limitations, the mortgage is not thereby extinguished.

Even when all action or legal proceeding on the mortgage is barred, still, if the mortgagee gets rightful possession of the premises mortgaged, he may retain the same until his debt is paid.

The [old] statute of limitations provides a limitation of six months to the maintenance of an action on contracts for the payment of money made out of this state. But this same statute would only bar an action to foreclose a mortgage executed on property within this state to secure such debt after the lapse of four years. Henry v. Confidence M. Co., 1 Nev. 619, 620.

A party holding a mortgage is not barred of his right to foreclose the same until four years shall have elapsed from the accruing of the action, although the statute may have barred an action at law on the debt before that time.

A party taking a second mortgage during the period intervening between the time when the statute bars the action at law, and when it bars the proceeding to foreclose, holds his lien, subject to the first mortgage. Mackie v. Lansing, 2 Nev. 302.

See Chollar-Potosi M. Co. v. Kennedy, 3 Nev. 361.

Cited State v. Y. J. S. M. Co., 14 Nev. 229.

An action to recover sheep alleged to have been owned jointly with the defendant's testator, where the joint ownership was denied by the deceased in 1895, was barred by this section, since an action of replevin could have been maintained on the denial of ownership, the property being severable. Schwartz v. Stock, 26 Nev. 129, 153 (65 P. 351).

Cited, Chollar-Potosi M. Co. v. Kennedy, 3 Nev. 368–370, 372; Warren v. Sweeney, 4 Nev. 103.

Where money is loaned without note or writing and a mortgage is given to secure its repayment, although the statute of limitations may run against an action on the debt in two years, it does not run against a foreclosure of the mortgage in less than four years. Cookes v. Culvertson, 9 Nev. 199, 208.

An action for the collection of taxes is an action upon "a liability created by statute," and is barred in three years. State v. C. P. R. R. Co., 10 Nev. 80.

Cited, State v. Y. J. S. M. Co., 14 Nev. 232.

Suit to foreclose mortgage was commenced more than four years after the date of the mortgage, or trust deed, but less than four years after the bonds secured thereby became due: Held, that the action was not barred by the statute of limitations. Bassett v. Monte Cristo M. Co., 15 Nev. 293.

When a married woman, who holds the legal title to real estate in her own name, mortgages the same to a bona fide mortgagee, without notice that she holds the same in secret trust for another, to whom she afterwards conveys it, the right of the mortgagee to foreclose the mortgage is not barred, as against such grantee, because more than four years have elapsed since the maturity of the indebtedness secured, unless the right to foreclose is barred as against the mortgageor. Rickards v. Hutchinson, 18 Nev. 216, 220, 223, 224 (2 P. 52).

This section embraces all character of actions, legal and equitable, and mere lapse of time, not extending beyond the period fixed in the statute of limitations for the commencement of the suit, constitutes no bar to the action. Lang Syne M. Co. v. Ross, 20 Nev. 140 (19 A. S. 334, 18 P. 358).

Cited, Borden v. Clow, 21 Nev. 279 (37 A. S. 511, 30 P. 821).

An action upon a bail bond is an action upon an obligation founded upon an instrument in writing, and is not an action upon a statute for a forfeiture or penalty to the state which must be commenced within two years after the right of action has accrued. State v. Murphy, 23 Nev. 390, 399 (48 P. 628).

Cited, Mandelbaum v. Gregovich, 24 Nev. 158 (50 P. 849).

See Levy v. Ryland under sec. 10 of this act.

4968. Time, how reckoned.

SEC. 26. The time in the preceding section shall be deemed to date from the last transaction or the last item charged, or last credit given; and whenever any payment on principal or interest has been or shall be made upon an existing contract, whether it be a bill of exchange, promissory note or other evidence of indebtedness if such payment be made after the same shall have become due, the limitation shall commence from the time the last payment was made.

4969. Idem—From last item of mutual account.

SEC. 27. In an action brought to recover a balance due upon a mutual, open, and current account, where there have been reciprocal demands between the parties, the cause of action shall be deemed to have accrued from the time of the last item proved in the account on either side.

Kerr, C. C. P., 344.

"A mutual, open and current account where there have been reciprocal demands," within the meaning of this section, is one consisting of demands upon which each party respectively might maintain an action.

If all the items on one side of an account were intended by the parties as payments or credits on account, it is not a mutual, open and current account where there are reciprocal demands. Warren v. Sweeney, 4 Nev. 101, 102, 106.

Cited, Chollar-Potosi M. Co. v. Kennedy, 3 Nev. 368 (93 A. D. 409).

4970. Action for relief not provided for—Four years.

SEC. 28. An action for relief, not hereinbefore provided for, must be commenced within four years after the cause of action shall have accrued.

Kerr, C. C. P., 343.

Cited, Chollar-Potosi v. Kennedy, 3 Nev. 368 (93 A. D. 409); Schwartz v. Stock, 26 Nev. 156 (65 P. 354).

The statute of limitations embraces all characters of actions, legal and equitable, and is as obligatory upon the courts in a suit in equity as in actions of law.

A cestui que trust of an expressed trust has no right of action until the trust is denied or some act is done by the trustee inconsistent with the trust; and until then the statute of limitations does not begin to run.

In a case of the purchase of property alleged to be in trust, where it became necessary for the plaintiff to establish facts out of which the trust arose, and then to show that the trust property had been converted into money: Held, that under the circumstances the ordinary action for money had and received to plaintiff's use would not lie against the trustee, and that the section of the statute of limitations applicable was the four years' limitation, and not the two years' one. White v. Sheldon, 4 Nev. 280, 288, 289, 294.

Cited, State v. Y. J. S. M. Co., 14 Nev. 229, 230.

4971. Limitations apply to state.

SEC. 29. The limitations prescribed in this act shall apply to actions brought in the name of the state, or for the benefit of the state, in the same manner as to actions by private parties.

Kerr, C. C. P., 345.

Cited, Chollar-Potosi M. Co. v. Kennedy, 3 Nev. 368 (93 A. D. 409).

The statute of limitations applies to suits brought by the state for the collection of delinquent taxes. State v. Y. J. S. M. Co., 14 Nev. 229, 230.

4972. Proceedings to contest election of state officer, limitation.

SEC. 30. Proceedings to contest the election of any state officer must be begun within sixty days after the facts or evidence upon which the contest is based come to the knowledge of the contestant.

4973. Proceedings to contest the election of county officer, limitation.

SEC. 31. Proceedings to contest the election of any county officer or any other officer than a state officer, must be begun within forty days after the facts of evidence upon which the contest is based become known to the contestant.

CHAPTER 5

LIMITATIONS—MISCELLANEOUS

4974. No limitation where property or money deposited in bank.
4975. Absence suspends running of statute.
4976. Legal disability prevents running of statute—Removal.
4977. Death before expiration of limitation—Effect—Filing of claim.
4978. Death of debtor out of state, statute suspended.
4979. Action by alien enemy—War suspends limitation.
4980. Judgment reversed—Action to be brought within one year.
4981. Action stayed by injunction.
4982. Disability, when available.
4983. Coexisting disability must be removed.
4984. Action against directors or stockholders for penalty or forfeiture—Three years after discovery of facts.
4985. Renewal of cause to be in writing.

4974. No limitation where property or money deposited in bank.

SEC. 32. To actions brought to recover money or other property deposited with any bank, banker, trust company or savings and loan society, there is no limitation.

Kerr, C. C. P., 348.

4975. Absence suspends running of statute.

SEC. 33. If, when the cause of action shall accrue against a person, he be out of the state, the action may be commenced within the time herein limited after his return to the state; and if after the cause of action shall have accrued, he depart the state, the time of his absence shall not be part of the time prescribed for the commencement of the action.

Kerr, C. C. P., 351.

This section does not in any way qualify section 10 of this act. This section declares the exceptions to the general rule. Chollar-Potosi M. Co. v. Kennedy, 3 Nev. 361, 369, 370, 372 (93 A. D. 409).

Foreign corporations are within the exception of this section. Idem.

This section, in the use of the expression "cause of action," includes real actions or actions as to real estate as well as personal actions.

Chollar-Potosi M. Co. v. Kennedy (3 Nev. 361), in so far as it expresses an opinion that a foreign corporation is entitled to avail itself of the bar of the statute in an action concerning real property, disapproved. Robinson v. Imperial S. M. Co., 5 Nev. 45, 46, 73–76.

This section has entirely overthrown the old rule, that the statute, when once it began to run, continued to run, notwithstanding absence from the state. Todman v. Purdy, 5 Nev. 239, 242.

Cited, Barstow v. Union Con. S. M. Co., 10 Nev. 387.

Cited, Perkins v. Sierra Nevada S. M. Co., 10 Nev. 406, 416; Rickards v. Hutchinson, 18 Nev. 222 (2 P. 52).

This section applies to the class of cases mentioned in section 32 [old act] as well as to those mentioned in section 25 of this act. It applies to all causes of actions; to foreign corporations as well as individuals absent from this state; to contracts made out of this state to be performed within it as well as contracts made within the state. Sutro T. Co. v. S. B. M. Co., 19 Nev. 121, 125, 126 (7 P. 271).

Cited, Mandelbaum v. Gregovich 24 Nev. 159 (50 P. 849); Lewis v. Hyams, 26 Nev. 82 (99 A. S. 677, 63 P. 126).

4976. Legal disability prevents running of statute—Removal.

SEC. 34. If a person entitled to bring an action other than for the recovery of real property, be, at the time the cause of action accrued, either:

1. Within the age of twenty-one years; or,
2. Insane; or,
3. Imprisoned on a criminal charge, or in execution under the sentence of a criminal court, for a term less than his natural life; or,
4. A married woman—

the time of such disability shall not be a part of the time limited for the commencement of the action.

Kerr, C. C. P., 352.

Cited, Chollar-Potosi M. Co. v. Kennedy, 3 Nev. 368–372 (93 A. D. 409); Robinson v. Imperial S. M. Co., 5 Nev. 75.

4977. Death before expiration of limitation—Effect—Filing of claim.

SEC. 35. If the person entitled to bring an action, die before the expiration of the time limited for the commencement thereof, and the cause of action survive, an action may be commenced by his representatives, after the expiration of that time, and within one year from his death. If a person against whom an action may be brought die before the expiration of the time limited for the commencement thereof, and the cause of action survives, an action may be commenced against his executors or administrators after the expiration of that time, and within one year after the issuing of letters testamentary or of administration; provided, the final account of such executor or administrator in the estate of such decedent be not sooner filed, and, provided, a claim therefor be presented as required by the law governing estates of deceased persons.

Kerr, C. C. P., 353.

When a party dies owing a debt not barred by the statute of limitations at his death, the holder of the claim has one year after administration granted on the debtor's estate within which to bring his action, although the action would have been barred in less than one year if the debtor had lived; if, however, the claim is presented to the administrator and rejected, suit must be brought thereon within three months after the rejection.

The statute giving one year after administration granted applies to all classes of cases. Wick v. O'Neale, 2 Nev. 303–305.

Cited, Robinson v. Imperial S. M. Co., 5 Nev. 75.

The object of this section was to extend the time, in certain cases, within which actions might be commenced and was not intended to limit the time given by other sections of the act. Rickards v. Hutchinson, 18 Nev. 216, 223 (2 P. 52).

Under the provisions of this section, trover for conversion of sheep by a testator cannot be maintained against his executrix where not brought within a year from the issuance of letters testamentary. Schwartz v. Stock, 26 Nev. 155, 157 (65 P. 357).

4978. Death of debtor out of state, statute suspended.

SEC. 36. If a person against whom a cause of action exists dies without the state, the time which elapses between his death and the expiration of one year after the issuing, within this state, of letters testamentary or letters of administration, is not a part of the time limited for the commencement of an action therefor, against his executor or administrator.

4979. Action by alien enemy—War suspends limitation.

SEC. 37. When a person shall be an alien subject, or citizen of a country at war with the United States, the time of the continuance of the war shall not be a part of the period limited for the commencement of the action; provided, however, that nothing in this section shall be so construed as to consider any citizen or person of any state engaged in rebellion against the United States government as an alien.

Kerr, C. C. P., 354.

4980. Judgment reversed—Action to be brought within one year.

SEC. 38. If an action shall be commenced within the time prescribed therefor, and a judgment therein for the plaintiff be reversed on appeal, the plaintiff, or if he die and the cause of action survive, his heirs or representatives, may commence a new action within one year after the reversal.

Kerr, C. C. P., 355.

4981. Action stayed by injunction.

SEC. 39. When the commencement of one action shall be stayed by injunction or statutory prohibition, the time of the continuance of the injunction or prohibition shall not be part of the time limited for the commencement of the action.

Kerr, C. C. P., 356.

4982. Disability, when available.

SEC. 40. No person shall avail himself of a disability, unless it existed when his right of action accrued.

Kerr, C. C. P., 357.
Cited, Robinson v. Imperial S. M. Co., 5 Nev. 74.

4983. Coexisting disability must be removed.

SEC. 41. When two or more disabilities coexist, at the time the right of action accrues, the limitation shall not attach until they all be removed.

Kerr, C. C. P., 358.

4984. Action against directors or stockholders for penalty or forfeiture—Three years after discovery of facts.

SEC. 42. The preceding sections shall not affect actions against directors or stockholders of a corporation to recover a penalty or forfeiture imposed or to enforce a liability created by law; but such actions must be brought within three years after the discovery, by the aggrieved party, of the facts upon which the penalty or forfeiture attached, or the liability was created.

Kerr, C. C. P., 359.

4985. Renewal of cause to be in writing.

SEC. 43. No acknowledgment or promise shall be sufficient evidence of a new or continuing contract, whereby to take the case out of the operation of this act, unless the same be contained in some writing signed by the party to be charged thereby, except as provided in section 26 of this act.

Kerr, C. C. P., 360.
Indebtedness of public officer, does not run against, sec. 2866.

The above sections in regard to limitations of actions are taken from Stats. 1861, 26, secs. 32, 33, and 34, which (omitted) have had the following citations:

Whenever a debt secured by mortgage is barred by the statute of limitations, the mortgage is not thereby extinguished. Henry v. Confidence M. Co., 1 Nev. 619.

See, also, Lewis v. Hyams, under sec. 5 of this act.

Where a bond is drawn up in California and there signed and sealed by an obligor and then sent to this state to be signed and sealed by the remaining obligor, the finishing act in the execution of the bond having been done in this state, it must be held in regard to the statute of limitations as a bond executed in this state, and not in another state. Alcalda v. Morales, 3 Nev. 132, 136.

Upon review of facts it was held that a note and mortgage were consummated in this state. Reade v. Edwards, 2 Nev. 262.

Cited, Wick v. O'Neale, 2 Nev. 304.

Statutes of limitation apply only to the remedy on a contract, and not to the right or obligation, so that, although the statutory bar has fully run against a contract where made, yet, if it is to be performed at another place, and it is not there barred, it may be enforced, provided the statute has not absolutely, by its terms, extinguished and nullified the claim itself.

A promissory note, made in California, and payable "in California and Nevada," can at payer's option be paid in either state, and therefore cannot be construed into a contract to be performed in Nevada, so as to bring it within the purview of the rule touching the place of payment.

The statute of limitations in force at the time of suit brought governs the remedy on a contract; provided, in case of the passage of a new statute after the making of a contract, a reasonable time be given to bring suit.

This section excludes an acknowledgment or promise not in writing as evidence of a new or continuing contract to take a case out of the operation of a statute.

Part payment is not sufficient as a new promise to take a case out of the operation of the statute of limitations.

An acknowledgment, to take a case out of the operation of the statute of limitations, must be clear, explicit, and direct to the point that the debt is due.

If a plaintiff, relying upon an acknowledgment in writing to take a case out of the operation of the statute of limitations, proves a general acknowledgment of indebtedness, the burden of proof is on the defendant to show that it related to a different demand from the one in controversy.

A promise to pay a debt when able, is not sufficient of itself as an acknowledgment or new promise to take a case out of the operation of the statute of limitations. Wilcox v. Williams, 5 Nev. 207, 214, 215.

Part payment under our statute of limitations does not avail to raise its bar.

The acknowledgment or promise in writing, contemplated by the statute to take a case out of its operation, must be made by the party to be charged or his authorized agent and to some one having interest or authority to receive it. Taylor v. Hendry, 8 Nev. 243, 246.

PARTIES

4986. Action to be brought in name of real party in interest.
4987. Action by executor or trustee—Trustee of express trust defined.
4988. Assignment of a thing in action—Effect—Not to apply to negotiable paper, when.
4989. Actions by or against a married woman.
4990. Husband and wife sued together—Wife may defend.
4991. Deserted husband or wife as a party.
4992. Infant, insane, or incompetent person to appear by guardian.
4993. Guardian ad litem, how appointed.
4994. Unmarried female may sue for seduction.
4995. Idem—When parent or guardian may sue.
4996. Parent or guardian may sue for death of minor child or ward.
4997. Heirs, guardian, or personal representatives may sue for death of adult.
4998. Persons interested may be joined as plaintiffs.
4999. Who may be joined as defendants.
5000. Persons claiming under common title.
5001. Parties in interest, when to be joined—When one or more may sue or defend for all.
5002. Plaintiff may sue in one action the different parties to commercial paper—Insurers of property.
5003. Defendants may be sued in the name designated in contract—Judgment, how entered.
5004. Action not to abate by death or transfer—Substitution.
5005. Another person may be substituted for the defendant, when—Deposit of money or delivery of property—Conflicting claimants must interplead.
5006. Intervention, when it takes place, and how made—Costs.
5007. Associates may be sued by name of association—Summons, how served—Judgment binding.
5008. Court may decide controversy or order other parties brought in.
5009. Unknown heirs to real property may be made parties.
5010. Idem—Allegations and proof that names and residences of heirs are unknown.

4986. Action to be in name of real party in interest.

SEC. 44. Every action shall be prosecuted in the name of the real party in interest, except as otherwise provided in this act.

Kerr, C. C. P., 367.

Under our practice the real parties in interest are made plaintiffs and defendants. Sherman v. Dilley, 3 Nev. 25.

A party to whom certain lands are granted for the purpose of bringing an action for water rights connected therewith, there being an oral agreement between the parties that upon the termination of the litigation the lands should be reconveyed, may prosecute and maintain the action in his own name. Such suit is founded on the legal title. Smith v. Logan, 18 Nev. 149, 152 (1 P. 678).

A pledgee of a negotiable note has collateral security, is entitled to be protected as a bona fide holder to the same extent as one who becomes the absolute owner, and may maintain suit thereon in his own name as the real party in interest. The only difference between the rights of such parties is that the absolute owner may recover in full, while the pledgee, if there be equities, is restricted to the extent of his advances. Haydon v. Nicoletti, 18 Nev. 290, 299 (3 P. 473).

A plaintiff may maintain an action on a simple contract, to which he was not a party, upon which he was not consulted, and to which he did not assent, when it contains a provision for his benefit. Miliani v. Tognini, 19 Nev. 133, 134 (7 P. 279).

When two cotenants separately convey their interest in a mine, a subsequent deed from one of them, conveying to the other all his interests and title in the land for the express purpose of enabling the grantee to sue in her own name to set aside the first deed for fraud, and recover all the land, and providing that, in the event of recovery, such grantee shall reconvey to the grantor his interest, and pay him his proportion of any damages recovered, does not give the grantee such an interest in the grantor's interest as will entitle her to sue in her own name to set both the deeds aside. (By Murphy, J., Belknap, J., dissenting.)

The assignment of a bare right to file a bill in equity for a fraud committed on the assignor cannot be maintained in the name of the assignee. It is contrary to public policy, and savors of the character of maintenance. (Belknap J., dissenting.) Gruber v. Baker, 20 Nev. 453, 465, 467 (23 P. 858, 9 L. R. A. 302).

Under this section, an assignee of an interest in a judgment is a proper party plaintiff in an action on such judgment. Mandelbaum v. Gregovich, 24 Nev. 154, 158 (50 P. 849).

4987. Action by executor or trustee—Trustee of express trust defined.

SEC. 45. An executor or administrator, or trustee of an express trust, or a person expressly authorized by statute, may sue without joining with him the person or persons for whose benefit the action is prosecuted. A trustee of an express trust, within the meaning of this section, shall be construed to include a person with whom, or in whose name, a contract is made for the benefit of another.

Kerr, C. C. P., 369.

An assignee of an account may sue on it in his own name though the assignor have an interest in it. The assignor, in such case, need not be made a party. Carpenter v. Johnson, 1 Nev. 332, 334.

4988. Assignment of a thing in action—Effect—Not to apply to negotiable paper, when.

SEC. 46. In the case of an assignment of a thing in action, the action by the assignee shall be without prejudice to any set-off or other defense, existing at the time of, or before notice of, the assignment; but this section shall not apply to a negotiable promissory note, or bill of exchange, transferred in good faith, and upon good consideration, before due.

Kerr, C. C. P., 368.

To an action brought upon an undertaking on attachment, defendants' defense would be as complete, in case they were sued by an assignee, as it would be if the suit were brought by the party to whom the undertaking was given. Elder v. Shaw, 12 Nev. 82.

A negotiable note payable to two or more persons jointly, indorsed by only one of the payees, is subject to any equities in favor of the maker, the same as though it had not been indorsed by either. Such a note is payable to all the payees, or to their joint order, and cannot be transferred except by the joint endorsement of all the payees. Haydon v. Nicoletti, 18 Nev. 299 (3 P. 473).

4989. Actions by or against a married woman.

SEC. 47. When a married woman is a party, her husband must be joined with her, except:

1. When the action concerns her separate property, or her right or claim to the homestead property, she may sue alone.

2. When the action is between herself and her husband, she may sue or be sued alone.

3. When she is living separate and apart from her husband by reason of his desertion of her, or by agreement, in writing, entered into between them, she may sue or be sued alone.

Kerr, C. C. P., 370.

4990. Husband and wife sued together—Wife may defend.

SEC. 48. If husband and wife are sued together, the wife may defend of her own right, and if either neglect to defend, the other may defend for both.

Kerr, C. C. P., 371; Utah, 2905; Iowa, McClain's An. C. (1888), 3768.

4991. Deserted husband or wife as a party.

SEC. 49. When a husband has deserted his family, the wife may prosecute or defend in his name any action which he might have prosecuted or defended, and shall have the same powers and rights therein as he might have, and, under like circumstances, the husband shall have the same right.

Utah, 2906; Iowa, McClain's An. C. (1888), 3769.

4992. Infant, insane, or incompetent person to appear by guardian.

SEC. 50. When an infant, or an insane or incompetent person is a party, he must appear either by his general guardian or by a guardian ad litem appointed by the court in which the action is pending, in each case. A guardian ad litem may be appointed in any case, when it is deemed by the court in which the action or proceeding is prosecuted, or by a judge thereof, expedient to represent the infant, insane, or incompetent person in the action or proceeding, notwithstanding he may have a general guardian and may have appeared by him.

Kerr, C. C. P., 372.

4993. Guardian ad litem, how appointed.

SEC. 51. When a guardian ad litem is appointed by the court, he must be appointed as follows:

1. When the infant is plaintiff, upon the application of the infant, if he be of the age of fourteen years, or if under that age, upon the application of a relative or friend of the infant.

2. When the infant is defendant, upon the application of the infant, if he be of the age of fourteen years, and apply within ten days after the service of the summons, or if under that age, or if he neglect to so apply, then upon the application of a relative or friend of the infant, or any other party to the action.

3. When an insane or incompetent person is a party to an action or proceeding, upon the application of a relative or friend of such insane or incompetent person, or of any other party to the action or proceeding.

Kerr, C. C. P., 373.

4994. Unmarried female may sue for seduction.

SEC. 52. An unmarried female, under twenty years of age at the time of her seduction, may prosecute, as plaintiff, an action therefor, and may recover therein such damages, pecuniary or exemplary, as are assessed in her favor.

Kerr, C. C. P., 374.

4995. Idem—When parent or guardian may sue.

SEC. 53. A father, or, in case of his death or desertion of his family, the mother, may prosecute as plaintiff for the seduction of the daughter, who, at the time of her seduction, is under the age of majority; and the guardian, for the seduction of the ward, who, at the time of her seduction, is under the age of majority, though the daughter or the ward be not living with or in the service of the plaintiff at the time of the seduction, or afterwards, and there be no loss of service.

Kerr, C. C. P., 375.

4996. Parent or guardian may sue for death of minor child or of ward.

SEC. 54. A father, or, in case of his death or desertion of his family, the mother, may maintain an action for the death or injury of a minor child, when such injury or death is caused by the wrongful act or neglect of another; and a guardian may maintain an action for the injury or death of his ward, if the ward be of lawful age, when such injury or death is caused by the wrongful act or neglect of another, the action by the guardian to be prosecuted for the benefit of the heirs of the ward. Any such action may be maintained against the person causing the injury or death, or, if such person be employed by another person who is responsible for his conduct, also against such other person.

Kerr, C. C. P., 376.

When the action was commenced, the party to whom the cause of action belonged was a minor; it was held that suit was therefore properly brought in the name of his mother, who was also his guardian. Ricord v. C. P. R. R. Co., 15 Nev. 167, 175.

At the time of the trial the minor had attained his majority, and upon his motion was joined with his mother as party plaintiff. This was held error, and that it would have been proper to substitute him as the sole plaintiff in her place, but having no joint interest in the cause of action they could not be united as plaintiffs. Idem.

4997. Heirs, guardian, or personal representatives may sue for death of adult.

SEC. 55. When the death of a person not a minor is caused by the wrongful act or neglect of another, his heirs, or his personal representatives for the benefit of his heirs, may maintain an action for damages against the person causing the death, or, if such person be employed by another person who is responsible for his conduct, then also against such other person. If such adult person have a guardian at the time of his death, only one action can be maintained for the injury to or death of such person, and such action may be brought by either the personal representatives of such adult person deceased for the benefit of his heirs, or by such guardian for the benefit of his heirs as provided in section 54. In every action under this and the preceding section such damages may be given as under all the circumstances of the case may be just.

Kerr, C. C. P., 377.

4998. Persons interested may be joined as plaintiffs.

SEC. 56. All persons having an interest in the subject of the action, and in obtaining the relief demanded, may be joined as plaintiffs, except when otherwise provided in this act.

Kerr, C. C. P., 378.

While this section declares that all persons having an interest in the subject of an action, and in obtaining the relief demanded, may be joined as plaintiffs, the converse of the proposition is also true, that none can be united who have not such interest. McBeth v. Van Sickle, 6 Nev. 134, 135.

See Mandelbaum v. Gregovich, 24 Nev. 154. 158 (50 P. 849), under sec. 44 of this act.

All tenants in common may unite in prosecuting an action for possession of the common property so one tenant in common may sue for his share. Bullion M. Co. v. Croesus G. & S. M. Co., 2 Nev. 169 (89 A. D. 526).

4999. Who may be joined as defendants.

SEC. 57. Any person may be made a defendant, who has or claims an interest in the controversy adverse to the plaintiff, or who is a necessary party to a complete determination or settlement of the question involved therein.

Kerr, C. C. P., 379.

Executors not qualifying need not be joined, sec. 6027.

In an action to dissolve a copartnership where one of the questions involved in a suit is whether the property described in the complaint is the homestead of the defendant, or the property of the partnership, the wife of the defendant is a necessary party to the action. Rhodes v. Williams, 12 Nev. 20, 27.

5000. Persons claiming under common title.

SEC. 58. Any two or more persons claiming any estate or interest in lands under a common source of title, whether holding as tenants in common, joint tenants, coparceners or in severalty, may unite in an action against any person claiming an adverse estate or interest therein for the purpose of determining such adverse claim, or of establishing such common source of title, or of declaring the same to be held in trust, or of removing a cloud upon the same.

Kerr, C. C. P., 381.

5001. Parties in interest, when to be joined—When one or more may sue or defend for all.

SEC. 59. Of the parties to the action, those who are united in interest shall be joined as plaintiffs or defendants; but if the consent of any one, who should have been joined as plaintiff, cannot be obtained, he may be made a defendant, the reason thereof being stated in the complaint; and when the question is one of a common or general interest, of many persons, or when the parties are numerous, and it is impracticable to bring them all before the court, one or more may sue or defend for the benefit of all. Tenants in common, joint tenants, or coparceners, or any number less than all, may jointly or severally bring or defend or continue the prosecution or defense of any action for the enforcement of the rights of such person or persons.

Cited, Smith v. Shrieves, 13 Nev. 326.

A suit was brought by a minor in the name of his mother and guardian. At the time of the trial, the minor had attained his majority, and upon his motion he was joined with his mother as a party plaintiff: Held, error; that it would have been proper to substitute him as the sole plaintiff in her place, but having no joint interest in the cause of action, they could not be united as plaintiffs. Ricord v. C. P. R. R. Co., 15 Nev. 167, 175.

Where there are many persons having a common interest, one or more may sue for the benefit of all, and those who come in and establish their claims share with the plaintiff in the benefits of the decree.

The creditor who commences the action in behalf of himself, and all others who may come in and establish their debts, is not required to give notice to the other creditors or to get their consent to the bringing of the suit. Thompson v. Lake, 19 Nev. 104, 117 (3 A. S. 797, 7 P. 68).

It was the intention of the legislature by this section to make the equity rule as to joinder of parties available in an action at law. In an action against voluntary associations, it is proper to sue the associations as such and join a few natural persons, members of the association, to represent all the members. Branson v. I. W. W., 30 Nev. 270, 290 (95 P. 354).

5002. Plaintiff may sue in one action the different parties to commercial paper—Insurers of property.

SEC. 60. Persons severally liable on the same obligation or instrument, including the parties to bills of exchange and promissory notes, and sureties on the same or separate instruments, may all or any of them be included in the same action, at the option of the plaintiff; and all or any of them join as plaintiffs in the same action, concerning or affecting the obligation or instrument upon which they are severally liable. Where the same person is insured by two or more insurers separately in respect to the same subject and interest, such person, or the payee under the policies, or the assignee of the cause of action, or other successor in interest of such assured or payee, may join all or any of such insurers in a single action for the recovery of a loss under the several policies, and in case of judgment a several judgment must be rendered against each of such insurers according as his liability shall appear.

Kerr, C. C. P., 383.

This section authorizes the joinder of a guarantor and an original obligor in the same action. Van Doren v. Tjader, 1 Nev. 387.

The release of one joint debtor operates to release his portion of the debt. Hoppin v. First Nat. Bank, 25 Nev. 84, 92.

5003. Defendants may be sued in name designated in contract—Judgment, how entered.

SEC. 61. In all actions brought on contract, the defendants may be sued by the name or style under which the contract was made, and upon its being shown on the trial who are the persons of whom the name or style are descriptive, judgment may be rendered against them.

5004. Action not to abate by death or transfer—Substitution.

SEC. 62. An action shall not abate by the death or other disability, of a party, or by the transfer of any interest therein, if the cause of action survive or continue. In case of the death or disability of a party, the court, on motion, may allow the action to be continued by or against his representative or successor in interest. In case of any other transfer of interest, the action may be continued in the name of the original party, or the court may allow the person to whom the transfer is made to be substituted in the action. After verdict shall have been rendered in any action for a wrong, such action shall not abate by the death of any party, but the case shall proceed thereafter in the same manner as in cases where the cause of action now survives by law.

Kerr, C. C. P., 385.

See sec. 6032.

Dissolved corporation may be party for certain purposes, secs. 1191, 1194.

Under this section, where a person is substituted as plaintiff, he does not come in as a new party, as under the old chancery practice, but he takes the place of the original plaintiff, who ceases to be a party to the suit. Virgin v. Brubaker, 4 Nev. 32, 38, 39.

Under this section it is proper to substitute a minor for whom a suit had been brought by guardian as the sole plaintiff in place of the guardian. Ricord v. C. P. R. R. Co., 15 Nev. 175.

Held, that supreme court rule 9 is not in conflict with this section, the two agreeing and allowing the substitution of the representative of a deceased litigant, but the statute going further and directing that the action may be continued by or against his successor in interest or the person to whom he has transferred his interest.

Where there is a conflict between a statute and a supreme court rule, the former will control. Twaddle v. Winters, 29 Nev. 89, 90, 107 (85 P. 280).

5005. Another person may be substituted for the defendant, when—Deposit of money or delivery of property—Conflicting claimants must interplead.

SEC. 63. A defendant against whom an action is pending upon a contract, or for specific personal property, may, at any time before answer, upon affidavit that a person not a party to the action makes against him, and without any collusion with him, a demand upon such contract, or for such property, upon notice to such person and the adverse party, apply to the court for an order to substitute such person in his place, and discharge him from liability to either party, on his depositing in court the amount claimed on the contract, or delivering the property, or its value, to such person as the court may direct; and the court may, in its discretion, make the order. And whenever conflicting claims are or may be made upon a person for or relating to personal property or the performance of an obligation or any portion thereof, such person may bring an action against the conflicting claimants to compel them to interplead and litigate their several claims among themselves. The order of substitution may be made, and applicant or plaintiff be discharged from liability to all or any of the conflicting claimants, although their titles or claims have not a common origin, or are not identical, but are adverse to and independent of one another.

Kerr, C. C. P., 386.

5006. Intervention, when it takes place, and how made—Costs.

SEC. 64. Any person may, before the trial, intervene in an action or proceeding, who has an interest in the matter in litigation, in the success of either of the parties, or an interest against both. An intervention takes place when a third person is permitted to become a party to an action or proceeding between other persons, either by joining the plaintiff in claiming what is sought by the complaint, or by uniting with the defendant in resisting the claims of the plaintiff, or by demanding anything adversely to both the plaintiff and the defendant; and is made by complaint, setting forth the grounds upon which the intervention rests, filed by leave of the court and served upon the parties to the action or proceeding who have not appeared, and upon the attorneys of the parties who have appeared, who may answer or demur to it as if it were an original complaint. The court shall determine upon the intervention at the same time that the action is decided; if the claim of the party intervening is not sustained he shall pay all costs incurred by the intervention.

Kerr, C. C. P., 387.

This section is similar in part to section 599, Stats. 1869, 287, which has had the following citations:

To entitle a person to intervene, he must have such an interest in the matter of litigation that he would either gain or lose by the direct legal operation and effect of the judgment which might be rendered in the suit between the original parties.

Where there is no statement of any fact which entitles petitioner to interevene, the petition must be treated the same as a complaint which fails to state facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action; hence, an objection to its sufficiency can be taken at any time.

The defendant cannot avail itself of the testimony admitted upon the issues presented by an intervention that was improperly allowed by the court. Harlan v. Eureka M. Co., 10 Nev. 92, 94.

A corporation of which the district judge was a stockholder brought mandamus to compel him to pass upon a claim against an insolvent estate: Held, that another claimant had sufficient interest to intervene by asking that he be compelled to call another judge. State ex rel. B. & E. Bank v. Mack, 26 Nev. 430, 441 (69 P. 862).

5007. Associates may be sued by name of association—Summons, how served—Judgment binding.

SEC. 65. When two or more persons, associated in any business, transact such business under a common name, whether it comprise the names of such persons or not, the associates may be sued by such common name, the summons in such cases being served on one or more of the associates; and the judgment in the action shall bind the joint property of all the associates, in the same manner as if all had been made defendants, and had been sued upon their joint liability.

Kerr, C. C. P., 388.

When a company is sued by its firm name, and on the trial it is proved who composed that company, judgment may not only go against the company property but against the individuals composing the company. Gillig v. Lake Bigler R. Co., 2 Nev. 214, 226.

The "proprietors of the Mexican Mill," a copartnership or unincorporated association, cannot prosecute an action under such copartnership or associate name. Proprietors v. Y. J. S. M. Co., 4 Nev. 40, 42.

An action cannot be maintained in a name as plaintiff which is neither that of a natural person, nor of such an artificial person as is recognized by the law as capable of suing. A proceeding commenced in such a name, there being no plaintiff, is not an action, but a mere nullity, and may be dismissed at any time. Idem.

This section is similar in part to section 597, Stats. 1869, p. 287, which has had the following citation:

An account was filed in the justice's court against "Irving McKay & Co."; the summons was returned served on "the defendants," and the judgment was entered by default: Held, that the complaint and summons were sufficient to sustain the judgment. Martin v. District Court, 13 Nev. 85, 89.

5008. Court may decide controversy or order other parties brought in.

Kerr, C. C. P., 389.

The provision in above section as to bringing in of other parties is not a matter of discretion but of judicial duty and if the parties to the record neglect to raise the question, the court, upon its own motion, will supply the omission; hence, the contention that by answering the complaint and going to trial, the demurrer of defendants upon the ground of defect of parties was waived, is not tenable. Robinson v. Kind, 23 Nev. 330, 338 (47 P. 1).

All parties materially interested either legally or equitably in the subject-matter of the suit must be made parties when their rights will be affected by the final decree. Bliss v. Grayson, 24 Nev. 422, 451 (56 P. 231).

5009. Unknown heirs to real property may be made parties.

SEC. 67. In any action in which the title to real property situate in this state is involved and in which the heir or heirs, or any thereof, of a deceased person may be necessary or proper party or parties defendant and the name or names and place or places of residence of which heir or heirs are unknown to the plaintiff or plaintiffs, such heir or heirs may be made a party or parties defendant by being described in the complaint and summons as the unknown heir or heirs of such deceased person, giving the name and last place of residence of such deceased person, with any further description that may be necessary to reasonably identify him.

5010. Idem—Allegations and proof that names and residences of heirs are unknown.

SEC. 68. In any such action the plaintiff, or plaintiffs, shall allege, in the complaint, and prove at the trial, that diligent search and inquiry have been made by or in behalf of the plaintiff, or plaintiffs, to ascertain the name, or names, and place, or places, of residence of such heir, or heirs, without success, and that the same are and remain unknown to the plaintiff or plaintiffs.

CHAPTER 7

PLACE OF TRIAL

5011. Actions affecting realty tried where subject situated.
5012. Action tried where cause arose.
5013. Actions against or between counties, how brought—Papers delivered to district attorney.
5014. Residence of parties determines place of trial—Change of place.
5015. Change of venue—Grounds.

5011. Actions affecting realty tried where subject situated.

SEC. 69. Actions for the following causes shall be tried in the county in which the subject of the action, or some part thereof, is situated, subject to the power of the court to change the place of trial, as provided in this act:

1. For the recovery of real property, or an estate, or interest therein, or for the determination in any form of such right or interest, and for injuries to real property.

2. For the partition of real property.

3. For the foreclosure of all liens and mortgages on real property. Where the real property is situated partly in one county and partly in another the plaintiff may select either of the counties, and the county so selected is the proper county for the trial of such action; provided, that in the case mentioned in this subdivision if the plaintiff prays in his complaint for an injunction pending the action, or applies pending the action for an injunction, the proper county for the trial shall be the county in which the defendant resides or a majority of the defendants reside at the commencement of the action.

Kerr, C. C. P., 392.

This section is similar in parts to sec. 18, Stats. 1869, p. 198, which has had the following citations:

An order changing the place of trial is not appealable but is properly brought before the court on an appeal from the judgment as an intermediate order involving the merits and necessarily affecting the judgment.

The provisions of the practice act governing the place of trial are not applicable to actions to recover delinquent taxes. State v. Shaw, 21 Nev. 222 (29 P. 321).

An action to cancel a deed of real and personal property located in part in the county in which the action is brought, is an action, in part, within this section, and being substantially a proceeding in rem, may be pursued against a nonresident by publication. Robinson v. Kind, 23 Nev. 330 341 (47 P. 1).

5012. Action tried where cause arose.

SEC. 70. Actions for the following causes shall be tried in the county where the cause, or some part thereof, arose, subject to the like power of the court to change the place of trial:

1. For the recovery of a penalty or forfeiture imposed by statute; except, that when it is imposed for an offense committed on a lake, river, or other stream of water, situated in two or more counties, the action may be brought in any county bordering on such lake, river, or stream, and opposite to the place where the offense was committed.

2. Against a public officer, or person especially appointed to execute his duties, for an act done by him in virtue of his office, or against a person who, by his command, or in his aid, does anything touching the duties of such officer.

Kerr, C. C. P., 393.

5013. Actions against or between counties, how brought—Papers delivered to district attorney.

SEC. 71. Actions against a county may be commenced in the district court of the judicial district embracing said county; provided, that actions between counties shall be commenced in a court of competent jurisdiction in any county not a party to the action. Immediately on the service of process, it shall be the duty of the officer served to deliver such process, and all papers accompanying such service to the district attorney for such county. Actions brought for or against the county shall be in the name of such county.

Kerr, C. C. P., 394, 411, subd. 5.

5014. Residence of parties determines place of trial—Change of place.

SEC. 72. In all other cases, the action shall be tried in the county in which the defendants, or any one of them, may reside at the commencement of the action; or, if none of the defendants reside in the state, or if residing in the state, the county in which they so reside be unknown to the plaintiff, the same may be tried in any county which the plaintiff may designate in his complaint; and if any defendant, or defendants, may be about to depart from the state, such action may be tried in any county where either of the parties may reside or service be had, subject, however, to the power of the court to change the place of trial, as provided in this act.

Kerr, C. C. P., 395.

As a general rule, the matter of change of place of trial is within the discretion of the court; but when the motion to change is made on the ground of the residence of defendant, there is no room for the exercise of discretion.

A defendant who comes within purview of this section is entitled, as a matter of right, to have an action against him tried in the county of his residence; the statute is peremptory.

There cannot properly be any such practice as an affirmative motion to retain a cause for trial; everything usually called so is only a matter of defense to a motion for a change.

Where a defendant in a proper case moves to change the place of trial to the county of his residence, he has an absolute right to such change; and the mere fact that he files counter affidavits and contests an effort to retain a cause on the ground of convenience of witnesses, will not amount to any waiver of his right.

The legal presumption of a waiver of any right by a litigant will not be drawn except in a clear case, and especially not when to allow such a presumption would be to deprive a party of his day in court.

Where a defendant in a proper case moves to change the place of trial to the county of his residence, the court is by force of his motion ousted of all jurisdiction in the cause, except to decide upon the proposition of his residence at the time of the commencement of the action, and to transfer the case. Williams v. Keller, 6 Nev. 141, 144.

See State v. Shaw, 21 Nev. 222, 224 (29 P. 321), under sec. 69 of this act.

5015. Change of venue—Grounds.

SEC. 73. If the county designated for that purpose in the complaint be not the proper county, the action may, notwithstanding, be tried therein, unless the defendant before the time for answering expires demand in writing that the trial be had in the proper county, and the place of trial be thereupon changed by consent of the parties, or by order of the court, as provided in this section. The court may, on motion, change the place of trial in the following cases:

1. When the county designated in the complaint is not the proper county.

2. When there is reason to believe that an impartial trial cannot be had therein.

3. When the convenience of the witnesses and the ends of justice would be promoted by the change. When the place of trial is changed, all other proceedings shall be had in the county to which the place of trial is changed; unless otherwise provided by the consent of the parties in writing duly filed, or by order of the court, and the papers shall be filed, or transferred, accordingly.

Kerr, C. C. P., 396, 397.

This section is in part similiar to sec. 21, Stats. 1869, p. 199, which has had the following citations:

See Williams v. Keller, 6 Nev. 144, under last preceding section.

An action against a county is a civil suit; and in the absence of any special provision or statute to the contrary it is governed by the same rules of practice applicable to other civil suits in reference to jurisdiction and change of venue.

Where a county is sued in a judicial district of which it did not form a part, but it appeared and answered without presenting any objection to the jurisdiction: Held, that it thereby waived its right to a change of venue and trial in its own judicial district. Clarke v. Lyon Co., 8 Nev. 182, 186.

Defendants, residents of Eureka County, were sued, in an action for debt, in Lincoln County. Held, that the court had no authority to change the venue because no demand in writing was made therefor, as contemplated by this section. Elam v. Griffin, 19 Nev. 442, 443 (14 P. 582).

The district court of one county has no power to make an order that an action pending in the court of another county shall be transferred to the first-named court. Such an order is void, and gives the court no jurisdiction of the action. Ex Parte Gardner, 22 Nev. 280, 284 (39 P. 570).

Mandamus will issue to compel a judge who was of counsel in an action previous to his appointment as judge to change the place of trial of such action to some other judicial district although no motion for that purpose was ever made in open court, where the application for the change, signed by petitioner's attorneys, was presented to the judge, the originals later being properly filed, and the motion for removal was informally made, and a list of authorities forwarded to him, he being engaged in judicial duties in another county, and, from his reasons for refusal, it was evident that he would not have granted the motion, had it been formally made. (Talbot, J., dissenting.) Gamble v. District Court, 27 Nev. 233, 247, 248 (74 P. 530).

This section is similar to section 21 of the old practice act, which has had the following citations:

Affidavits which do not show that a fair and impartial trial cannot be had in the county where an action is brought, are not sufficient, under this section, to entitle a party to a change of venue. Hale & N. G. & S. M. Co. v. Bajazette and G. E. G. & S. M. Co., 1 Nev. 322, 323.

An application for a change of venue to suit the convenience of witnesses should not be denied because the application was not made until after the answer was filed and the cause set for trial. Nor is it necessary that the answer should make any allusion to the facts on which such application is based.

The fact that the case had been set down for trial on a certain day should not interfere with an application for change of venue to suit the convenience of witnesses, unless there had been delay in making the application, or the parties had already prepared for the trial by subpenaing witnesses, etc. Sheckles v. Sheckles, 3 Nev. 404, 407.

CHAPTER 8

MANNER OF COMMENCING ACTION

5016. Actions, how commenced.
5017. Complaint and summons, manner of filing and issuing—Alias summons.
5018. Summons, what shall state.
5019. Idem—Answer, time allowed for.
5020. Idem—Notice of claim to be inserted in.
5021. Actions affecting real property—Lis pendens.
5022. Summons, by whom served, proof of, return.
5023. Summons, how served.
5024. Foreign corporation to appoint resident agent upon whom process may be served—Secretary of state.
5025. Idem—When no agent, service on secretary of state or deputy.
5026. When service made by publication.
5027. Idem—Order, mailing copies, personal service, when complete.
5028. Service by publication on unknown heirs.
5029. Idem—Affidavit showing want of knowledge before judgment entered.
5030. Service by publication on unknown parties generally.
5031. Summons served on part of several defendants jointly or severally liable.
5032. Proof of service, how made.
5033. Idem—Affidavit.
5034. Jurisdiction, when acquired.

5016. Actions, how commenced.

SEC. 74. Civil action in the district courts shall be commenced by the filing of a complaint with the clerk of the court, and the issuance of a summons thereon and the placing of the same in the hands of the sheriff of the county, or other person authorized to serve the same; provided, that after the filing of the complaint a defendant in the action may appear, answer, or demur, whether the summons has been issued or not, and such appearance, answer, or demurrer shall be deemed a waiver of summons.

Kerr, C. C. P., 405.

The limitation within which adverse action on application for patent for mining claim must be commenced is fixed by the federal statute, but the question as to what constitutes the commencement of an action is determined by this section. Harris v. Helena G. M. Co., 29 Nev. 506, 513 (92 P. 1).

Where the complaint was filed within the thirty days, the filing by defendant of a general demurrer after the thirty days, was a waiver of the issuance of the summons under this section. Idem.

Section 20 of the act of 1861, 26, providing when an action shall be deemed to be commenced, so as to take it out of the statutes, applies to all actions, both real and personal. Robinson v. Imp. S. M. Co., 5 Nev. 44, 75.

This section is largely similar to sec. 22, Stats. 1869, p. 199, which has had the following citations:

Cited, Marshall v. Golden Fleece M. Co., 16 Nev. 176.

Defendant, by demurring and answering, waives the issuance of summons. Iowa M. Co. v. Bonanza M. Co., 16 Nev. 64; Rose v. Richmond M. Co., 17 Nev. 54 (37 P. 1105, affirmed, 114 U. S. 576).

Cited, Sweeney v. Schultes, 19 Nev. 57 (6 P. 44).

Where, in an action under Rev. Stats. U. S. 2326 (U. S. Comp. Stats. 1901, p. 1430), providing that an adverse action must be commenced within thirty days after the filing of the adverse claim, the complaint was filed within thirty days, the filing by defendants of a general demurrer after the thirty days was a waiver of the issuance of summons under this section, and had the effect of the issuance of summons on the day the complaint was filed, conferring on the court jurisdiction of the subject-matter and the parties. Harris v. Helena G. M. Co., 29 Nev. 506, 513, 515, 516 (92 P. 1).

5017. Complaint and summons, manner of filing and issuing—Alias summons.

SEC. 75. The clerk must indorse on the complaint the day, month, and year the same is filed, and at any time within one year after the filing of the same the plaintiff may cause to be issued a summons thereon. The summons shall be issued and signed by the attorney of the plaintiff, or by the clerk, and when issued by the clerk shall be issued under the seal of the court. If the summons is returned without being served on any or all of the defendants, or if it has been lost, the clerk, upon the demand of the plaintiff, may issue an alias summons in the same form as the original.

Kerr, C. C. P., 406, 408.

5018. Summons, what shall state.

SEC. 76. The summons shall state the parties to the action, the court in which it is brought, the county in which the complaint is filed, the cause and general nature of the action, and require the defendant to appear and answer the complaint within the time mentioned in the next section, after the service of summons, exclusive of the day of service; or that judgment by default will be taken against him, according to the prayer of the complaint, briefly stating the sum of money or other relief demanded in the complaint. The names of the plaintiff's attorneys shall be indorsed upon the summons.

Kerr, C. C. P., 407.
Summons, tax suit, sec. 3663.
Cited, Sweeney v. Schultes, 19 Nev. 57 (6 P. 44); Sherwin v. Sherwin, 33 Nev.— (111 P. 288).

5019. Idem—Answer, time allowed for.

SEC. 77. The time in which the summons shall require the defendant to answer the complaint shall be as follows:

1. If the defendant is served within the county in which the action is brought, ten days.
2. If the defendant is served out of the county, but in the district in which the action is brought, twenty days.
3. In all other cases, forty days.

Kerr, C. C. P., 407.

Where a plaintiff might proceed under either one of two laws prescribing the method of serving summons, one of which laws would require the defendant to answer within twenty days, and the other forty, and the summons were so contradictory and indefinite as not to show under which law the plaintiff was proceeding, the defendant would not be bound to answer within twenty days, and no default could legally be taken until after the expiration of forty days.

When the first clause of a summons requires the defendant to appear and answer within forty days, and the concluding clause notifies him that if he does not answer in twenty days a default will be taken, this is too contradictory and uncertain to require an answer within the shorter period. Kidd v. Four-Twenty M. Co., 3 Nev. 381, 383, 384.

The courts have uniformly held that the provisions of the statute in regard to personal service and published notice must be strictly complied with, or the court is without jurisdiction to proceed.

Process, except in particular cases, requiring an appearance forthwith, is ordinarily void. Golden v. District Court, 31 Nev. 260 (101 P. 1021).

Cited, Sherwin v. Sherwin, 33 Nev.— (111 P. 288).

5020. Idem—Notice of claim to be inserted in.

SEC. 78. There shall also be inserted in the summons a notice in substance as follows:

1. In an action arising on contract for the recovery only of money or damages, that the plaintiff will take judgment for a sum specified therein if the defendant fail to answer the complaint.

2. In other actions, that if the defendant fail to answer the complaint, the plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded therein.

Kerr, C. C. P., 407.

The distinction made in above section of notice required in different cases should be observed and enforced by the courts as essential and necessary.

The object of a summons is to put the defendant upon notice of a demand against him, and to bring him into court at the time therein specified.

If the defendant makes a general appearance by filing a demurrer or answer, the court could thereafter, proceed and grant any relief to which the plaintiff is entitled, regardless of the error in the form of the notice inserted in the summons.

Held, that the error of the court in refusing to set aside the summons, on the ground that it did not contain the notice required by the statute, was immaterial and harmless and must be disregarded. Sweeney v. Schultes, 19 Nev. 53, 54–57 (6 P. 44).

The omission in the notice in the summons of the amount for which plaintiff will take judgment on failure to answer, when a certified copy of the complaint served with the summons states the amount, if it be an error, is not one affecting any substantial right, and the court should, in every stage of the proceedings, disregard it. Higley v. Pollock, 21 Nev. 198, 201 (27 P. 895).

Where the notice in a summons in an action on a promissory note is that upon failure to answer the complaint plaintiff will "take judgment * * * according to the prayer of the complaint," and the prayer of the complaint is full and explicit, this is sufficient to warrant the entering of defendant's default and a judgment thereon. Prezeau v. Spooner, 22 Nev. 88, 91 (35 P. 514).

5021. Actions affecting real property—Lis pendens.

SEC. 79. In an action for the foreclosure of a mortgage upon real property, or affecting the title or possession of real property, the plaintiff, at the time of filing the complaint, and the defendant, at the time of filing his answer, when affirmative relief is claimed in such answer, or at any time afterwards, may file with the recorder of the county in which the property, or some part thereof, is situated, a notice of the pendency of the action, containing the names of the parties, the object of the action, and a description of the property, in that county affected thereby, and the defendant may also in such notice state the nature and extent of the relief claimed in the answer. From the time of filing, only, shall the pendency of the action be constructive notice to a purchaser or incumbrancer of the property affected thereby; and in case of the foreclosure of such mortgage all purchasers or incumbrancers, by unrecorded deed or other instrument in writing made prior to the filing of such notice, and subsequent to the date of such mortgage, shall be deemed and held purchasers or incumbrancers subsequent to the filing of such notice, and subject thereto, unless they can show that at the time of filing the notice the plaintiff had actual notice of such purchase or incumbrance.

Kerr, C. C. P., 409.

5022. Summons, by whom served, proof of, return.

SEC. 80. The summons shall be served by the sheriff of the county where the defendant is found, or by his deputy, or by any citizen of the United States over twenty-one years of age; and, except as hereinafter provided, a copy of the complaint, certified by the clerk or the plaintiff's attorney, shall be served with the summons. When the summons shall be served by the sheriff or his deputy, it shall be returned with the certificate or affidavit of the officer, of its service, and of the service of a copy of the complaint, to the office of the clerk of the county in which the action is commenced. When the summons is served by any other person, as before provided, it shall be returned to the office of the clerk of the county in which the action is commenced, with the affidavit of such person of its service, and of the service of a copy of the complaint. If there be more than one defendant to the action residing within the county in which the action is brought, a copy of the complaint need be served only on one of such defendants.

Kerr, C. C. P., 410.

Where service of a summons has been made, and the demands of the writ satisfied, the conclusive presumption of the law is that its office having been accomplished, no person can effectively thereafter use it for its original purpose.

Where a summons has been served upon a defendant out of the district and afterwards served upon him in the district, with the intention of shortening the time allowed him to answer: Held, that the second service was an absolute nullity. Mayenbaum v. Murphy, 5 Nev. 383, 387, 388.

Courts could acquire jurisdiction over foreign corporations doing business in the state by following the statutory rules for the service of summons by publication, where no agent or other officer was found in the state upon whom service could be made. Brooks v. Nickel Syndicate, 24 Nev. 324(53 P. 527).

Cited, Harris v. Helena M. Co., 29 Nev. 517 (92 P. 1); Sherwin v. Sherwin, 33 Nev. —(111 P. 288).

5023. Summons, how served.

SEC. 81. The summons must be served by delivering a copy thereof attached to a certified copy of the complaint as follows:

1. If the suit is against a corporation formed under the laws of this state; to the president or other head of the corporation, secretary, cashier, or managing agent thereof.

2. If the suit is against a foreign corporation, or a nonresident joint-stock company or association, doing business and having a managing or business agent, cashier, or secretary within this state; to such agent, cashier, or secretary, or to an agent designated in section 82; or in the event no such agent is designated as provided in section 82, to the secretary of state or the deputy secretary of state, as provided in section 83.

3. If against a minor, under the age of fourteen years, residing within this state, to such minor, personally, and also to his father, mother, or guardian; or if there be none within this state, then to any person having the care or control of such minor, or with whom he resides, or in whose service he is employed.

4. If against a person residing within this state who has been judicially declared to be of unsound mind, or incapable of conducting his own affairs, and for whom a guardian has been appointed, to such person, and also to his guardian.

5. If against a county, city, or town, to the chairman of the board of commissioners, president of the council or trustees, mayor of the city, or other head of the legislative department thereof.

6. In all other cases to the defendant personally.

Kerr, C. C. P., 411.

Service of legal process upon corporation, sec. 1178.

This section is similar to sec. 29 of the old practice act, which has had the following citations:

Service of summons on a corporation may be made by serving a copy of the same on the secretary of the company. Gillig v. Ind. M. Co., 1 Nev. 247, 249.

Service of summons upon a California corporation, made in accordance with this section is valid.

Where an attempted service of summons upon a California corporation was made in this state, and a subsequent service in California, under this section: Held, that it made no difference whether an order refusing to quash the first service was correct or not, it appearing that the second service was good, and no prejudice done. Caples v. C. P. R. R. Co., 6 Nev. 265, 268.

A party relying solely upon a constructive service of summons is bound to prove a strict compliance with some of the modes prescribed by the statute for obtaining such service.

Where the officer certifies that he served the summons upon the business manager of a corporation: Held, that this was not a compliance with the provisions of the statute requiring the service to be upon the managing agent.

Courts must know, and officers must be presumed to know, what the legislature meant by the term managing agent; but courts cannot know what an officer means by a designation unknown to the law. Scorpion S. M. Co. v. Marsano, 10 Nev. 370, 381.

The statutory provisions for acquiring jurisdiction by other than personal service must be strictly pursued. Victor M. & M. Co. v. Justice Court, 18 Nev. 24–27 (1 P. 831).

The service of the summons upon the managing agent was a personal service upon the corporation. Lang Syne Co. v. Ross, 20 Nev. 137 (19 A. S. 337, 18 P. 358).

Held, that in the absence of the personal service required by law, the mailing of a copy of the summons and complaint to the president and trustees of the defendant corporation added no force to the officer's return on the summons. Lonkey v. Keyes S. M. Co., 21 Nev. 312, 317, 318 (17 L. R. A. 351, 31 P. 57).

Under this section, service on an assistant cashier of a bank in charge of a branch bank who has power to sign drafts and correspondence, and who is under the supervision of the cashier, and who has nothing to do with the control or management of the corporation, is not sufficient. Karns v. State Bank & T. Co., 31 Nev. 170, 171, 178 (101 P. 564).

5024. Foreign corporation to appoint resident agent upon whom process may be served—Secretary of state.

SEC. 82. Every incorporated company or association created and existing under the laws of any other state, or territory, or foreign government, or the government of the United States, owning property or doing business in this state, shall appoint and keep in this state an agent upon whom all legal process may be served for such corporation or association. Such corporation shall file a certificate, properly authenticated by the proper officers of such company, with the secretary of state, specifying the full name and residence of such agent, which certificate shall be renewed by such company as often as a change may be made in such appointment, or vacancy shall occur in such agency.

Mutual insurance companies, secs. 1316, 1325; mining companies, sec. 1218. See sec. 1178.

5025. Idem—When no agent, service on secretary of state or deputy.

SEC. 83. If any such company shall fail to appoint such agent, or fail to file such certificate for fifteen days after a vacancy occurs in such agency, on the production of a certificate of the secretary of state showing either fact, which certificate shall be conclusive evidence of the fact so certified to and be made a part of the return of service, it shall be lawful to serve such company with any and all legal process, by delivering a copy to the secretary of state, or, in his absence, to any duly appointed and acting deputy secretary of state, and such service shall be valid to all intents and purposes; provided, that in all cases of such service the defendant shall have forty days (exclusive of the day of service) within which to answer or plead. This section shall be construed as giving an additional mode and manner of serving process and as not affecting the validity of any other valid service.

Service on insurance company, on attorney or controller, secs. 1273, 1276, 1316, 1325.

5026. When service made by publication.

SEC. 84. When the person on whom the service is to be made resides out of the state, or has departed from the state, or cannot, after due diligence, be found within the state, or conceals himself to avoid the service of summons, and the fact shall appear by affidavit, to the satisfaction of the court or judge thereof, and it shall appear, either by affidavit or by a verified complaint on file, that a cause of action exists against the defendant in respect to whom the service is to be made or that he is a necessary or proper party to the action, such court or judge may grant an order that the service be made by the publication of the summons.

Kerr, C. C. P., 412.

To obtain a legal service by publication of a summons against a nonresident, it must appear by affidavit, not only that the defendant is a nonresident, but also that a cause of action exists against him; and a judgment procured in such a case before a justice of the peace, when the latter fact does not appear by affidavit, is void. Little v. Currie, 5 Nev. 90–92.

This section applies to justices' courts; but the precise method of acquiring jurisdiction prescribed by law must be pursued.

This section and section 511 (old act) of the practice act are to be construed together as parts of the same statute relating to the same general subject of jurisdiction; the latter being evidently intended to cover residents of this state, while the former was intended to reach nonresidents.

Affidavit for publication of summons against a nonresident defendant, which states legal conclusions instead of facts, is fatally defective. Roy v. Whitford, 9 Nev. 370, 372.

Cited, Scorpion S. M. Co. v. Marsano, 10 Nev. 385; Victor M. & M. Co. v. Justice Court, 18 Nev. 21, 24 (1 P. 831); Lonkey v. Keyes S. M. Co., 21 Nev. 315 (17 L. R. A. 351, 31 P. 57); Robinson v. Kind, 23 Nev. 340 (47 P. 1); Brooks v. Nickel Syndicate, 24 Nev. 324 (53 P. 597).

Held, that an affidavit stating that complaint had been filed to recover a sum of money, which cause of action was fully set out therein, and making the complaint part of the affidavit, was sufficient to authorize the justice to order service of summons by merely publication, though the complaint consisted merely of a copy of an account for goods sold and delivered. Pratt v. Stone, 25 Nev. 365, 370, 371 (60 P. 514).

5027. Idem—Order, mailing copies, personal service, when complete.

Kerr, C. C. P., 413.

In a suit brought against the Scorpion S. M. Co., a corporation, where the justice of the peace deposited a copy of the complaint and summons in the postoffice addressed to "Robert Apple, R. W. H. Martin, San Francisco, California," and there was no evidence at the time of such deposit, before the justice that either Apple or Martin was connected with the corporation in any manner or capacity whatever: Held, that this was not a compliance with the law which required the summons to be directed to the defendant. Scorpion S. M. Co. v. Marsano, 10 Nev. 370, 383.

An affidavit for publication of summons against a foreign corporation must show that the corporation had no officer within this state upon whom personal service could be made, and must state the facts showing what diligence had been used to obtain personal service. An affidavit which merely states that the constable had returned the summons not served, and that due diligence had been used to find defendant, is not sufficient.

If service is made by publication, and the residence of the absent defendant is known, the service is void unless the court directs a copy of the complaint and summons to be deposited in the postoffice, directed to the person to be served, at his place of residence.

A deposit made by an attorney without an order of court is insufficient.

The affidavit must state the facts necessary to show that a cause of action exists against the defendant. An averment that the amount claimed was "due from the defendant to plaintiff" is simply an allegation of a legal conclusion, and is insufficient. Victor M. Co. v. Justice Court, 18 Nev. 21, 22, 25 (1 P. 831).

Where a constructive service is relied upon to sustain a judgment, a strict compliance with the provisions of the statute is required; otherwise the court acquires no jurisdiction over the defendant. Coffin v. Bell, 22 Nev. 169 (58 A. S. 738, 37 P. 240).

A void service of a summons does not preclude another and perfect service of the same; and the fact of the summons having been returned and filed does not prevent its being withdrawn and properly served. Idem.

The order for publication of summons must succeed, not precede, the issuance of the summons. Idem.

Personal service of the summons out of the state is by this section made equivalent to publication and deposit in the postoffice. Coffin v. Bell, 22 Nev. 169, 183 (58 A. S. 738, 37 P. 240).

Where an affidavit for publication of summons sets forth that the "defendant is a nonresident of this state, but is a resident of the State of California, county unknown," it is not necessary to deposit in the postoffice a copy of the complaint and summons. The statute requires such deposit only in case the place of residence of the defendant is known. Pratt v. Stone, 25 Nev. 366, 374 (60 P. 514).

When personal service without the state is made in lieu of publication, or in lieu of publication and deposit in the postoffice, the service is not complete until expiration of six weeks from such personal service, and, where such service was made November 10th, defendant had forty-two days after the service in addition to the statutory period of forty days in which to answer, and a default entered December 21st, and a decree thereon entered December 28th, were premature, and plaintiff could have them set aside. Sherwin v. Sherwin, 33 Nev.— (111 P. 286).

5028. Service by publication on unknown heirs.

SEC. 86. When it appears to the satisfaction of the court or the judge thereof from the verified complaint or from an affidavit in behalf of the plaintiff or plaintiffs in any action that any heir or heirs of a deceased person is or are necessary or proper party or parties defendant, that a cause of action in favor of the plaintiff or plaintiffs exists against him or them, and that due diligence to ascertain the name or names and the place or places of residence of such heir or heirs has been unsuccessfully exercised by, or in behalf of the plaintiff or plaintiffs, the court or judge may grant an order for the service of the summons in such action on such unknown heir or heirs by publication in like manner and for the period of time prescribed by the laws of the State of Nevada for the publication of summons in other actions; and such service when made shall as to such unknown heir or heirs be sufficient to confer on the court jurisdiction to hear and determine the issues in such action, and the judgment of the court based on such service and duly made and entered in such action shall bind each and every one of the heirs of such deceased person whose name or names and place or places of residence were so as aforesaid unknown to the plaintiff or plaintiffs with like effect as if the name or names of such heir or heirs had been inserted in the complaint and published summons, regardless of whether such heir or heirs shall subsequently appear to have been residents or nonresidents of the State of Nevada at the time of such publication.

5029. Idem—Affidavit showing want of knowledge before judgment entered.

SEC. 87. Before final judgment in favor of the plaintiff or plaintiffs and against any such unknown heir or heirs shall be entered in any such action every such plaintiff shall make and file with the clerk of the court in which said action is pending an affidavit showing that since the commencement of said action he has neither learned the name or names of any such heir or heirs nor received any information indicating a line of search or inquiry which if properly pursued might lead to the discovery of such name or names and that the same still remains or remain unknown to such plaintiff; or, if he has received such information, such affidavit shall so state and show that diligent search and inquiry along the lines indicated had been made by or in behalf of such plaintiff and resulted in failure to learn such name or names and that the same are still unknown to such plaintiff.

5030. Service by publication on unknown parties generally.

SEC. 88. If any plaintiff shall allege that there are, or that he verily believes that there are, persons, other than heirs, interested in the subject-matter of the complaint, whose names he cannot insert therein, because they are unknown to him, and shall describe the interest of such persons, and how derived, so far as his knowledge extends, the court, or the judge thereof, shall make an order for the publication of summons, reciting, moreover, the substance of the allegations of the complaint in relation to the interest of such unknown parties; and after the completion of service by such publication, the court shall have jurisdiction of such persons, and any judgment or decree rendered in the action shall apply to and conclude such persons with respect to such interest in the subject-matter of the action.

Colorado, Mills An. C. (1896), 44; Utah, 2951.

5031. Summons served on part of several defendants jointly or severally liable.

SEC. 89. Where the action is against two or more defendants, and the summons is served on one or more, but not on all of them, the plaintiff may proceed as follows:

1. If the action be against the defendants jointly indebted upon a contract, he may proceed against the defendant served, unless the court otherwise direct; and if he recover judgment, it may be entered against all the defendants thus jointly indebted, so far only as that it may be enforced against the joint property of all and the separate property of the defendant served; or,

2. If the action be against defendants severally liable, he may proceed against the defendants served in the same manner as if they were the only defendants.

Kerr, C. C. P., 414.

Cited, Gillig v. Lake Bigler R. Co., 2 Nev. 225, 226.

"Copartnership property and assets" is joint property, within the meaning of that term as used in this section. Whitmore v. Shiverick, 3 Nev. 288, 289, 304–308.

Where an action was commenced against two persons, alleged to be partners, for a debt, alleged to be a partnership debt, and one of them only was served, who appeared and filed an answer admitting all the allegations of the complaint; and the court found in favor of plaintiff, and rendered judgment against both parties, to be enforced against the joint property of both, and the separate property of the defendant served: Held, that the proceeding and judgment were authorized by, and in strict accordance with, this section.

This section does not require, nor does it seem to authorize, one of several joint debtors, upon whom only service is made, to appear in answer for his codefendants who are not served; but service upon any one alone is sufficient to warrant a judgment against the joint property.

A judgment by confession of one joint debtor will not reach the joint property, but be effective only against him who authorizes its entry, for the reason that this section does not authorize such a judgment by confession. Flannery v. Anderson, 4 Nev. 437, 441–443.

This section does not provide a rule for the disposition of actions against several joint debtors, where all have been served and appeared, and the proceedings against one are suspended by bankruptcy. Tinkum v. O'Neale, 5 Nev. 93, 98.

Where the defendants in an action against two are both served with the summons, a judgment, under this section, cannot be entered against one to be executed against his separate property and the joint property of both. Mayenbaum v. Murphy, 5 Nev. 383, 387.

5032. Proof of service, how made.

SEC. 90. Proof of the service of the summons shall be as follows:

1. If served by the sheriff or his deputy, the affidavit or certificate of such sheriff or deputy; or,

2. If by any other person, his affidavit thereof; or,

3. In case of publication, the affidavit of the publisher, his foreman or principal clerk, or other employee having knowledge thereof, showing the same, and an affidavit of a deposit of a copy of the summons in the postoffice, if the same shall have been deposited; or,

4. The written admission of the defendant.

Kerr, C. C. P., 415.

See Mayenbaum v. Murphy 5 Nev. 383, 388, under section 80 of this act.

Where a party relies upon the publication of summons, it is necessary not only to publish a copy of the summons but to deposit another copy in the postoffice directed to the defendant at his place of residence if known; and the statute prescribes that such deposit shall be proved by affidavit. Scorpion S. M. Co. v. Marsano, 10 Nev. 370, 383, 384.

See Sherwin v. Sherwin, under sec. 85 of this act.

5033. Idem—Affidavit.

SEC. 91. In case of service otherwise than by publication, the certificate or affidavit shall state the time and place of the service.

Kerr, C. C. P., 418.

5034. Jurisdiction, when acquired.

SEC. 92. From the time of the service of the summons in a civil action, the court shall be deemed to have acquired jurisdiction, and to have control of all the subsequent proceedings. A voluntary appearance of a defendant shall be equivalent to personal service of the summons upon him.

Kerr, C. C. P., 416.

The statute, having prescribed what shall be an appearance for certain purposes, does not preclude an appearance in a different manner for other purposes.

Although an alternative writ of mandamus may not properly be returnable in less than ten days after its issuance, yet if the respondent appears upon such writ and asks for time to make his answer, and that time is granted, he cannot afterwards be heard to complain that the writ was irregular as to the time when a return was required.

A general appearance not only waives defect in a writ, or summons, but gives jurisdiction over the person in cases where the writ was void. State ex rel. Curtis v. McCullough, 3 Nev. 202, 214.

PLEADINGS

5035. Defined.

SEC. 93. The pleadings are the formal allegations by the parties of their respective claims and defenses, for the judgment of the court.

Kerr, C. C. P., 420.

5036. Forms and sufficiency, how determined.

SEC. 94. All the forms of pleadings in civil actions, and the rules by which the sufficiency of the pleadings shall be determined, shall be those prescribed in this act.

This section manifestly refers to the pleadings in cases of mandamus as well as to the pleadings in other actions or proceedings provided for by the act. State ex rel. Piper v. Gracey, 11 Nev. 232.

Secs. 37–40 of the acts of 1869, 196, corresponding with secs. 94–97 of this act, were cited in State v. Y. J. S. M. Co., 14 Nev. 220, 238.

See McKim v. District Court, under sec. 96 of this act.

5037. Pleadings of plaintiff—Of defendant.

SEC. 95. The pleadings on the part of the plaintiff are:

1. The complaint;
2. The demurrer to the answer;
3. The reply.

And on the part of the defendant:

1. The demurrer to the complaint;
2. The answer;
3. The demurrer to the reply.

Kerr, C. C. P., 422; Utah, 2958.

Where a document styled a "motion" was filed by the defendant asking that the complaint be dismissed for certain reasons set forth therein, ascertaining a defense which could only be asserted by demurrer or answer, it should have been dismissed as having no legal standing and not merely denied. Symons-Kraussman Co. v. Reno B. Co., 32 Nev. 241 (107 P. 96).

This section is similar to section 38 of the old practice act which has had the following citations:

After an answer is filed, judgment cannot be entered by default, although the answer may not be served.

Service of answer is for convenience of plaintiff's counsel and may be enforced by the court, but is not necessary to give jurisdiction of the defendant. Maples v. Geller, 1 Nev. 233, 236.

COMPLAINT

5038. Complaint, what to contain.

SEC. 96. The complaint shall contain:

1. The title of the action, specifying the name of the court and the name of the county in which the action is brought, and the names of the parties to the action, plaintiff and defendant.

2. A statement of the facts constituting the cause of action, in ordinary and concise language.

3. A demand for the relief which the plaintiff claims. If the recovery of money or damages be demanded, the amount thereof shall be stated.

Kerr, C. C. P., 426.

A complaint setting out a note in full, and alleging the execution and delivery to, and ownership thereof by plaintiff, and that there is "due, owing and payable," a certain sum, is a good complaint, although it does not in direct terms allege the nonpayment of the note. Howard v. Richards, 2 Nev. 128, 131 (89 A. D. 520).

A complaint under this section must contain a statement of the fact constituting the cause of action. Under the statute a mere detention of property will not support an action, but the detention must be wrongful. Whether the detention is rightful or wrongful depends on the circumstances of the particular case, and must be shown by the complaint. Perkins v. Barnes, 3 Nev. 564.

The allegation that the defendant became indebted to plaintiff is simply a statement of a conclusion of law; the facts out of which the indebtedness arose should be stated. Cal. State Tel. Co. v. Patterson, 1 Nev. 158, 161.

A complaint on a promissory note is good where all other facts are properly alleged, although nonpayment is not alleged in direct terms. Howard v. Richards, 2 Nev. 128.

In an action on a promissory note, the averment in the complaint, that plaintiff "is now the holder and owner of said promissory note," is immaterial. Allen v. Riley, 15 Nev. 452.

Though the holder of a promissory note, which proves to be void, may, in a proper case, recover on the consideration for which the note was intended to be given, he cannot do so unless the pleadings set out such consideration. Wayman v. Torreyson, 4 Nev. 124.

An allegation that defendant "is a corporation duly organized and doing business as such in the State of Nevada" is equivalent to an averment that such defendant is a corporation duly organized in the State of Nevada.

An amendment which changes the parties to a suit cannot be made. Little v. V. & G. H. W. Co., 9 Nev. 317.

The allegations of complaint stated and held equivalent to a positive averment that the note was made and delivered to the plaintiff, as surviving partner in the name of the firm and to be sufficient to enable plaintiff to maintain the action. Manning v. Smith, 16 Nev. 85.

To hold one who has obtained the legal title of land as trustee for another, who claims to be the owner, as being substituted to the rights of a third person, it is necessary to set forth and show that such third person was the owner. Gentry v. Low, 4 Nev. 99.

Where a complaint for work, labor and services alleged an indebtedness in a sum certain therefor, but omitted to allege specifically the value of the same or a promise to pay; and defendant, without demurring, put in an answer denying indebtedness, admitting service performed, and setting up payment in full, and there was a verdict for plaintiff: Held, that whatever the defects of the complaint, they were cured by defendant's pleading and by the verdict. McManus v. Ophir S. M. Co., 4 Nev. 15.

Failure to allege "promise to pay": Held, "complaint did not state facts sufficient, etc." Gerrens v. Huhn & Hunt S. M. Co., 10 Nev. 137.

Where a complaint upon a contract does not show a breach of the contract by the defendant, it fails to state facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action. Hutchins v. Sutherland, 22 Nev. 363 (40 P. 409).

Averments that money was expended "to defendant's use," and alleging his "promise to pay," may be treated as surplusage. Orr Water Ditch Co. v. Reno Water Co., 19 Nev. 60 (6 P. 72).

Complaint must allege not only value of wood delivered to defendant, but that their contract made them liable for that quantity. Horton v. Ruhling, 3 Nev. 498.

Allegation of actual damage or facts from which it must be inferred is indispensably necessary to recover more than nominal damages. Richardson v. Jones & Denton, 1 Nev. 405.

If complaint charges indebtedness, manner in which it accrued, promise to pay and refusal, it is sufficient. Williams v. Glasgow, 1 Nev. 533.

If an appellate court finds on investigation that the facts stated in the complaint, with all legal intendments in its favor, will not support the judgment, the court can do no less than reverse such judgment, although counsel may not have hit on the proper grounds for asking a reversal.

Where the terms and conditions of an agreement are set out in the complaint and the violation of that agreement is charged against the defendant, if it is such an instrument as the law requires to be in writing and the complaint is silent as to whether it was oral or written, courts will presume it to be a lawful or written agreement until the contrary is shown. Van Doren v. Tjader, 1 Nev. 380.

If, in an action on insurance policy, the claimant alleges generally a compliance with its terms and verifies his pleadings, he will not be put to proof unless in the answer particular breach is averred. Healey v. Imperial Ins. Co., 5 Nev. 268.

Where a complaint alleged that plaintiff was the owner and entitled to the possession of lands, that there were improvements thereon, that defendants were in possession and threatened to destroy and would if not enjoined destroy such improvements, and that defendants were insolvent and unable to respond in damages: Held, sufficient to support an order enjoining defendants from removing the improvements or committing waste.

After a verdict or decision in a district court upon issue joined, the complaint will be supported by every legal intendment, if there be nothing material in the record to prevent it.

The rule that carries every legal intendment in favor of a complaint in case there has been a judgment thereon after issue joined, equally applies in case of an order, such as an injunction, made upon it after a full hearing. Meadow Valley M. Co. v. Dodds, 6 Nev. 261.

An allegation that property was assessed "in an amount greatly in excess of that authorized by law" is not sufficient to raise any issue as to the true cash value of the property, and to raise such issue such value should be alleged.

The statute expressly provides that "where the person complaining of the assessment has refused to give the assessor his list under oath, no reduction shall be made by the board of equalization in the assessment made by the assessor." Held, that an allegation that defendant made application to the board of equalization for a reduction of his assessment must include the averment that the sworn statement was furnished to the assessor, or that no demand was made for it, in order to constitute a defense to an action for taxes. State v. Sadler, 21 Nev. 13 (33 P. 799).

In an action for the diversion of water, the complaint, filed April 11, 1894, was sworn to November 17, 1893, and it was objected that it did not, for this reason, state a cause of action existing at the time of the commencement of the action: Held, that the allegations of the complaint should be construed as referring to the time of the commencement of the action, and that it was sufficient. Ronnow v. Delume, 23 Nev. 29 (41 P. 1074).

In a case where plaintiff was not allowed to remove fixtures: Held, there was no necessity of alleging the value of the fixtures. The plaintiffs only had to allege the extent of the damage they sustained in consequence of not being permitted to remove the same. Prescott v. Wells, Fargo & Co., 3 Nev. 82.

Although all forms of pleadings are abolished, a party must prove the case he makes in his pleadings, or fail. A party who alleges a contract, and seeks to recover under that contract, cannot recover on proof of a trespass. Carson R. L. Co. v. Bassett, 2 Nev. 249.

It is as necessary, under our system of practice, to maintain in pleadings the distinction between actions arising out of torts and those growing out of contracts, as it was under the old practice.

If the pleadings be upon contract, a recovery should not be allowed if the proof be of a trespass, from which there could be no presumption of a contract. Knickerbocker & N. S. M. Co. v. Hall, 3 Nev. 194.

When a statute makes an instrument void it is proper to plead the statute specially.

At common law, a party could not plead his own fraud or violation of law as a defense to an action. But when the statute declares certain instruments shall be void, a defendant may plead the facts which make it void, although in so doing he shows a violation of law by himself. It being the policy of the law to allow such pleas to prevent the violation of the statute. Maynard v. Johnson, 2 Nev. 16.

In an action for damages for improperly suing out a writ of attachment, it is necessary to aver that the attachment was sued out "without probable cause." Levey v. Fargo, 1 Nev. 415.

In a complaint for money expended and services performed, it is always best to use technical words, the meaning of which have long been established, rather than phrases of doubtful import. The complaint should state the money was expended for the use and benefit of defendant, and at his instance and request. So in regard to the performance of labor. Huguet v. Owen, 1 Nev. 464.

The allegation that defendant became indebted to plaintiff is simply a statement of a conclusion of law; the facts out of which the indebtedness arose should be stated. Cal. St. Co. v. Patterson, 1 Nev. 151.

In a complaint by a husband to recover a chose in action given in the name of his wife, but belonging to the community, it is sufficient for him, to show his right of action, to allege either that he is the owner or that it is common property, and even both allegations in the same complaint will not render it demurrable. Crowe v. Van Sickle, 6 Nev. 146.

This provision is uniformly construed to mean that the plaintiff must set forth in his complaint, specifically, every fact in an issuable form, which is necessary to establish his right of action, or which, if admitted to be true, or not denied by the defendant, will enable the court to grant the relief sought. State ex rel. Piper v. Gracey, 11 Nev. 232.

A cause of action is stated by an allegation of the facts, and the alleged amount of damages demanded. Waters v. Stevenson, 13 Nev. 165 (29 A. R. 293).

A judgment must accord with, and be sustained by the pleadings of the party in whose favor it is rendered. Marshall v. Golden Fleece M. Co., 16 Nev. 156, 176.

Cited, Rose v. Richmond M. Co., 17 Nev. 52 (37 P. 1105, affirmed 114 U. S. 576); Gillson v. Price, 18 Nev. 116, 117 (1 P. 459).

A complaint showing a good cause of action is not bad because of unnecessary averments contained in it. Orr Water Ditch Co. v. Reno Water Co., 19 Nev. 60, 65 (6 P. 72).

Cited, Branson v. I. W. W., 30 Nev. 285 (95 P. 354).

A complaint alleging that plaintiff is a subcontractor for the erection of walls of a state prison, and responsible for the labor thereon; that defendant (the architect for the state) had, pursuant to an agreement with the plaintiff and the principal contractor, received from the state, for the use and benefit of plaintiff, the sum of fifteen thousand dollars, and had only paid out on plaintiff's account ten thousand dollars, and refused to pay over or account for the remaining five thousand dollars; states fact sufficient to constitute a cause of action. Richardson v. Hoole, 13 Nev. 492.

In all cases where there is nothing remaining to be done except the payment of money by the defendant, the plaintiff may declare generally upon the common counts; and the facts which create the indebtedness or liability need not, in order to sustain the count of money had and received, be stated in the complaint. White Pine Co. Bank v. Sadler, 19 Nev. 98 (6 P. 941).

Upon a review of the pleadings in an action against the trustees of a corporation for levying unnecessary assessments with intent to defraud the stockholders, and to have the assessments declared null and void, and for other relief: Held, that the demurrer to the complaint was properly overruled; that the complaint stated the cause of action against the personal defendant; and that the corporation was a proper party defendant. Marshall v. Golden Fleece M. Co., 16 Nev. 157.

If the plaintiff is the owner of a promissory note, he has a right of action notwithstanding the defendant may be in possession thereof.

The plaintiff's want of possession changes the character of the proof to be introduced, but not the character of the pleadings.

A party need not plead the loss of an instrument to be allowed to introduce secondary evidence of its contents. It is only necessary to prove such loss on trial.

When a note sued on is in possession of defendant, the remedy is at law. McClusky v. Gerhauser, 2 Nev. 47.

Corresponding to sec. 39, of the act of 1869, 196, cited, State v. Northern Belle M. Co., 12 Nev. 92.

Under this section, and sec. 102, matters in abatement or bar can only be set up in the answer. McKim v. District Court, 33 Nev. — (110 P. 4).

Where the answer raises a question preliminary to the right of a court to determine the merits, it is proper for the court to first determine such matters before considering issues going to the merits. Idem.

5039. Joinder of causes of action.

SEC. 97. The plaintiff may unite several causes of action in the same complaint, when they all arise out of:

1. Contracts, express or implied; or,

2. Claims to recover specific real property, with or without damages for the withholding thereof, or for waste committed thereon, and the rents and profits of the same; or,

3. Claims to recover specific personal property, with or without damages for the withholding thereof; or,

4. Claims against a trustee, by virtue of a contract, or by operation of law; or,

5. Injuries to character; or,

6. Injuries to person; or,

7. Injuries to property—

but the causes of action so united shall all belong to only one of these classes and shall affect all the parties to the action, and not require different places of trial, and shall be separately stated; provided, however, that an action for malicious arrest and prosecution, or either of them, may be united with an action for either injury to character or to the person.

Kerr, C. C. P., 427.

Notwithstanding this section authorizes the recovery of mesne profits and damages for waste committed on the premises in the action of ejectment, it is not necessary for the plaintiff to prove damages to entitle him to recover the possession of the premises. Dilley v. Sherman, 2 Nev. 69.

This section is not inconsistent with the revenue law. State v. Y. J. S. M. Co., 14 Nev. 237, 239, 241, 255–258, 261.

Cited, Lake v. Lake, 17 Nev. 235 (50 P. 878).

An objection that the several causes of action set out in the complaint are not separately stated, is waived by answering to the merits. Gardner v. Gardner, 23 Nev. 207, 211 (45 P. 139).

CHAPTER 11

DEMURRER TO COMPLAINT

5040. Demurrer, grounds for.
5041. Demurrer must specify grounds.
5042. Defendant may demur, or demur and answer.
5043. Amended complaint to be served—Answer—Default.
5044. Objections not apparent taken by answer.
5045. Objections not taken, what deemed waived.

5040. Demurrer, grounds for.

SEC. 98. The defendant may demur to the complaint within the time required in the summons to answer, when it appears upon the face thereof, either:

1. That the court has no jurisdiction of the person of the defendant, or the subject of the action; or,

2. That the plaintiff has not legal capacity to sue; or,

3. That there is another action pending between the same parties for the same cause; or,

4. That there is a defect or misjoinder of parties, plaintiff or defendant; or,

5. That several causes of action have been improperly united; or,

6. That the complaint does not state facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action; or,

7. That the complaint is ambiguous, unintelligible, or uncertain.

Kerr, C. C. P., 430.

The defendant in a suit brought for the collection of delinquent taxes has a right to interpose a demurrer to the complaint upon any of the grounds set forth in this section as a cause of demurrer. State v. Y. J. S. M. Co., 14 Nev. 220, 238, 239.

The district court has jurisdiction of an action involving the question of title to real property. If the jurisdiction is irregularly acquired, objection upon this question cannot be raised by demurrer. James v. Leport, 19 Nev. 175, 178 (8 P. 47).

If the question of misjoinder is not raised by either demurrer or answer, it is waived. Ronnow v. Delume, 23 Nev. 33 (41 P. 1074).

A complaint which is ambiguous in respect to whether the cause of action is based on an express or implied contract should be attacked on the seventh ground above set forth and not by general demurrer. Burgess v. Helm, 24 Nev. 242 (51 P. 1025).

It is error in an action against a voluntary unincorporated association in which are joined a few natural persons, members of the association, to represent all the members, to grant a combined motion to strike the complaint, to vacate the summons and annul all the proceedings of the cause and dismiss the action by dismissing only as to the association of such, since the court, not being able to grant the relief asked, should have denied the motion in toto and left the parties to their remedy by demurrer. Branson v. I. W. W., 30 Nev. 270, 292 (95 P. 354).

For further authorities on demurrer, see sec. 96 of this act.

Demurrer admits truth of whatever is contained in complaint, but does not admit new facts. Van Doren v. Tjader, 1 Nev. 380.

"Misjoinder of causes of action"—Action on official bond. Cause of action against principal and sureties cannot be united with cause of action for damages against principal alone. State v. Kruttschnitt, 4 Nev. 179.

Misjoinder of actions cannot be taken advantage of on general demurrer. Ruhling v. Hackett, 1 Nev. 360.

An action on an undertaking given to the sheriff upon the return of property replevined, should be brought in the name of the real party at interest, and where the name of the sheriff was joined with his as plaintiff: Held, that the complaint was demurrable for misjoinder of parties. McBeth v. Van Sickle, 6 Nev. 134.

The proper practice when a demurrer is overruled is to give time to replead. Eastabrook v. Upton, 1 Nev. 398.

A joint demurrer may be sustained as to one defendant, and overruled as to another. Wood v. Olney, 7 Nev. 109.

When an answer is put in effective only in form, plaintiff should demur and not move for judgment on the pleadings. He cannot by moving for judgment on the pleadings, deprive defendant of the right to amend. Gallagher v. Dunlap, 2 Nev. 326.

If a complaint states a substantial allegation only by way of recital, the defect should be objected to specifically and cannot be taken advantage of on general demurrer.

Where a demurrer to a complaint was overruled and judgment rendered for plaintiff, there being neither showing nor suggestion of a defense on the merits: Held, that the defendant was not entitled as a matter of absolute right to answer.

Where a demurrer to a complaint has been overruled an entry of default is not a prerequisite to the rendition of judgment. Winter v. Winter, 8 Nev. 129, 130.

To file answer and move for judgment on pleadings irregular; must be sustained, however, when complaint is fatally defective in not stating a cause of action. Lake Bigler R. Co. v. Bedford, 3 Nev. 399.

When a pleading contains a defective statement of a cause of action, as distinguished from a statement of a defective cause of action, the defect, if relied on by the opposite party, should be pointed out by demurrer, so as to afford an opportunity to amend—neither the spirit of the code nor properly speaking its practice allowing a substantial right to be cut off by a mere technical judgment without giving such opportunity. Treadway v. Wilder, 8 Nev. 91.

If, instead of demurring, advantage be taken of a defective pleading by motion for judgment, the court should permit an amendment of the pleading where an amendment will cover the defect the same as if a demurrer had been interposed. Cal. St. Co. v. Patterson, 1 Nev. 151.

If a demurrant wishes to take advantage of any supposed error in overruling the demurrer he must let final judgment be entered upon it; for, if he shall answer after such ruling, he waives any objection to it, except the two radical defects—want of jurisdiction and failure to state a cause of action. Harden v. Emmons, 24 Nev. 329 (53 P. 854).

If party demur for nonjoinder of parties or uncertainty, he must let final judgment be entered on demurrer. If he answers, he waives right to rely on demurrer. Lonkey v. Wells, 16 Nev. 271; Hammersmith v. Avery, 18 Nev. 225; Gardner v. Gardner, 23 Nev. 207.

A defense that an action should not be maintained for the reason that the defendants were authorized to commit the acts complained of by general law of the state, should be taken by demurrer and not by plea in abatement.

A defense on the ground of a defect of parties defendant should be made by answer, and not by plea in abatement. Mandelbaum v. Russell, 4 Nev. 551.

Misjoinder of actions cannot be taken advantage of on a general demurrer. Ruhling v. Hackett, 1 Nev. 360.

A demurrer for "defect of parties plaintiff," or "that plaintiff has not legal capacity to sue," will not reach the defect of a proceeding in a name, as plaintiff, of neither a natural or artificial person. Proprietors of Mexican Mill v. Y. J. S. M. Co., 4 Nev. 41, 43 (97 A. D. 510).

The demurrer should have specified distinctly in what the uncertainty or ambiguity or want of clearness consisted. This it wholly fails to do, and ought not, therefore, to be considered. Ferguson v. V. & T. R. R. Co., 13 Nev. 187.

See McKim v. District Court, under sec. 96 of this act.

5041. Demurrer, must specify grounds.

SEC. 99. The demurrer shall distinctly specify the grounds upon which any of the objections to the complaint are taken. Unless it do so it may be disregarded.

Kerr, C. C. P., 431.

5042. Defendant may demur, or demur and answer.

SEC. 100. The defendant may demur to the whole complaint, or to one or more of several causes of action stated therein and answer the residue; or may demur and answer at the same time.

Kerr, C. C. P., 431.

5043. Amended complaint to be served—Answer—Default.

SEC. 101. If the complaint be amended, a copy of the amendment shall be filed, or the court may, in its discretion, require the complaint as amended to be filed, and a copy of the amendment shall be served upon every defendant to be affected thereby, or upon his attorney, if he has appeared by attorney. The defendant shall answer in such time as may be ordered by the court, and judgment by default may be entered upon failure to answer, as in other cases.

Kerr, C. C. P., 432.

5044. Objections not apparent taken by answer.

SEC. 102. When any of the matters enumerated in section 98 do not appear upon the face of the complaint, the objection may be taken by answer.

Kerr, C. C. P., 433.

A defense on the ground of a defect of parties defendant should be made by answer, and not in the way of a plea in abatement. Mandelbaum v. Russell, 4 Nev. 551, 556.

Cited, Ronnow v. Delmue, 23 Nev. 33 (41 P. 1074).

See McKim v. District Court, under sec. 96 of this act.

5045. Objections not taken, what deemed waived.

SEC. 103. If no such objection is taken, either by demurrer or answer, the defendant shall be deemed to have waived the same, excepting only the objection to the jurisdiction of the court, and the objection that the complaint does not state facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action.

Kerr, C. C. P., 434.

Cited, Proprietors Mexican Mill v. Y. J. S. M. Co., 4 Nev. 43 (97 A. D. 510); Howe v. Howe, 4 Nev. 472.

If the question of misjoinder is not raised by either demurrer or answer, it is waived. Ronnow v. Delmue, 23 Nev. 33 (41 P. 1074).

CHAPTER 12

ANSWER

5046. Answer, what to contain—Denial—Counterclaim.
5047. Counterclaim defined.
5048. Effect of failure to set up counterclaim.
5049. Cross-demands compensated as far as equal.
5050. Several defenses allowed.
5051. Proceeding when new party necessary to decision on counterclaim.
5052. Cross-complaint against codefendants—Delay—Provisional remedies.

5046. Answer, what to contain—Denial—Counterclaim.

SEC. 104. The answer of the defendant shall contain:

1. If the complaint be verified, a special denial to each allegation of the complaint, controverted by the defendant, or a denial thereof according to his information and belief; if the complaint be not verified, then a general denial to each of such allegations; but a general denial shall only put in issue the material and express allegations of the complaint.

2. A statement, in ordinary and concise language, of any new matter constituting a defense or counterclaim.

Kerr, C. C. P., 437.

An answer in which an officer attempts to justify his seizure under execution should not only set out the execution but also the judgment on which it is founded, and show distinctly that defendant is an officer properly acting under such execution. McDonald v. Prescott, 2 Nev. 109.

The answer must be direct and not argumentative. Gallagher v. Dunlap, 2 Nev. 326.

The answer may be stricken out when frivolous or not verified when it should be, and judgment may be rendered on complaint if defect is not cured in reasonable time. Lehane v. Keyes, 2 Nev. 361.

Under our practice an equitable defense may be set up to an action at law, and in this way the common law and chancery practice become to some extent blended in the same case. Lucich v. Medin, 3 Nev. 99 (93 A. D. 376).

The answer may be held to aid the complaint and sustain the action. Hawthorne v. Smith, 3 Nev. 182.

New matter in avoidance of prima facie case should be specially pleaded, and no proof of such facts can be had unless specially pleaded. Horton v. Ruhling, 3 Nev. 498.

All mere formal objections to a complaint are waived by a plea of confession and avoidance. McManus v. Ophir S. M. Co., 4 Nev. 15.

In an action for the conversion of chattels alleged by plaintiff to be of a certain value, defendant denied that they were of such value or of any greater value than a certain less sum named: Held, that this was an admission that they were worth the less sum named.

Where a fact is admitted by the pleadings, there is no necessity of proof upon the point. Carlyon v. Lannan, 4 Nev. 156.

A general denial in an answer which is required to be verified is inoperative; the very object of putting a defendant on his oath being to have a specific answer on his conscience as to each separate allegation of the complaint. State v. W. U. T. Co., 4 Nev. 338.

A defendant claiming affirmative relief must plead as fully as if he were a plaintiff. Rose v. Treadway, 4 Nev. 455.

All affirmative matter in an answer is taken as denied. Cahill v. Hirschman, 6 Nev. 57.

An estoppel cannot be proved if it be not sufficiently pleaded. Sharon v. Minnock, 6 Nev. 378.

As "new matter" is matter in confession and avoidance, such as cannot be introduced in evidence under an answer simply denying the allegations of the complaint, it follows that in an action on a contract, it is not proving new matter for the defendant to show that there are other terms in the contract relied on besides those shown by plaintiff, whether such proof be calculated to defeat the action or only to reduce the damages. Ferguson v. Rutherford, 7 Nev. 385.

Where a complaint in replevin alleged the value of the property taken to be five hundred and seventy dollars, and the answer denied "that the property and the complaint described is or was of the value of five hundred and seventy dollars"; and the court, without any testimony on the subject, found the value as alleged: Held, that the pleadings justified a finding of any sum less than five hundred and seventy dollars, and that, if by finding that exact amount, any error occurred, it was of that infinitesimal character which could do no injury. Blackie v. Cooney, 8 Nev. 41.

Where a complaint is of an equitable nature, such as in a suit to quiet title to the use of water, the mere fact that the answer raises questions as to the plaintiff's title does not destroy the equitable character of the action. Lake v. Tolles, 8 Nev. 285.

Where the complaint alleges that the defendant agreed to pay plaintiff four dollars per day for his services, and the answer does not deny that allegation, no issue is presented by the pleading as to the value of plaintiff's services. Smith v. Lee, 10 Nev. 208.

Where a defendant relies upon the defense of estoppel he must, in his answer, allege the facts constituting the estoppel. Hansen v. Chiatovich, 13 Nev. 395.

Cited, Gillson v. Price, 18 Nev. 117.

In an action for possession of a schooner alleged to have been wrongfully detained by defendant, together with damages for its detention, a claim for services rendered by defendant in caring for such schooner, not exceeding the amount of damages demanded, is connected with the subject-matter of the action, and is a proper counterclaim, though on the trial plaintiff fails to recover any damages. Lapham v. Osborne, 20 Nev. 168 (18 P. 881).

In an action to recover delinquent taxes and penalties, an answer denying a possessory claim to the lands and stating facts showing that the rights claimed are untaxable, presents a good defense, although it does not deny all claim, title or interest in the property assessed. State v. C. P. R. R. Co., 21 Nev. 94 (25 P. 442).

A party that relies on an equitable defense to an action of ejectment must set up in his answer the facts constituting the same or it will not be considered. Brady v. Husby, 21 Nev. 453 (33 P. 801).

The defendant can set up an equitable defense to an action for the possession of lands, and as to such defense the case is to be tried in the same manner and upon the same principles as apply to an original bill in equity. South End M. Co. v. Tinney, 22 Nev. 19 (35 P. 89).

Where, by the language of an answer, it was evidently intended to set up a prescriptive title in defendants, and the cause is tried without objection to its sufficiency, all objections to it have been waived. Authors v. Bryant, 22 Nev. 242 (38 P. 439).

5047. Counterclaim defined.

SEC. 105. The counterclaim mentioned in the last section shall be one existing in favor of the defendant and against a plaintiff, between whom a several judgment might be had in the action, and arising out of one of the following causes of action:

1. A cause of action arising out of the transaction set forth in the complaint as the foundation of the plaintiff's claim, or connected with the subject of the action.

2. In an action arising upon contract, any other cause of action arising also upon contract and existing at the commencement of the action.

Kerr, C.C. P., 438; see Kerr, C. C. P., secs. 439–440.

A counterclaim arising upon contract cannot be pleaded by a defendant to an action brought to recover damages for a trespass. Nor can unliquidated damages arising out of a tort be pleaded as a counterclaim in an action brought upon contract. Knickerbocker & N. S. M. Co. v. Hall, 3 Nev. 198.

The defendant, alleging a counterclaim, must establish it to the satisfaction of the jury by a preponderance of evidence. Margaroli v. Milligan, 11 Nev. 96.

In an action arising upon contract, any other cause of action arising also upon contract and existing at the time of the commencement of the action is a good counterclaim. Foulkes v. Rhodes, 12 Nev. 225, 232.

A demand of one of several defendants cannot be pleaded as a counterclaim to a demand upon which they are jointly liable unless there is an agreement that it shall so operate. Davis v. Noteware, 13 Nev. 421, 423.

See Lapham v. Osborne, 20 Nev. 168, 171 (18 P. 881), under last preceding section.

Plaintiff's failure to object in the trial court by demurrer or otherwise that the facts alleged in the answer did not constitute a proper counterclaim, constitutes a waiver of his objection thereto. Ennor v. Raine, 27 Nev. 178, 214 (74 P. 1).

5048. Effect of failure to set up counterclaim.

SEC. 106. If the defendant omit to set up a counterclaim in the cases mentioned in the first subdivision of the next preceding section, neither he nor his assignee can afterward maintain an action against the plaintiff therefor.

Kerr, C. C. P., 439.

5049. Cross-demands compensated as far as equal.

SEC. 107. When cross-demands have existed between persons under such circumstances that if one had brought an action against the other a counterclaim could have been set up, neither shall be deprived of the benefit thereof by the assignment or death of the other, but the two demands shall be deemed compensation, so far as they equal each other.

Kerr, C. C. P., 440.

5050. Several defenses allowed.

SEC. 108. The defendant may set forth by answer as many defenses and counterclaims as he may have. They shall each be separately stated, and the several defenses shall refer to the causes of action which they are intended to answer in a manner in which they may be intelligibly distinguished.

Kerr, C. C. P., 441.
Cited, Perkins v. Barnes, 3 Nev. 566.

5051. Proceeding when new party necessary to decision on counterclaim.

SEC. 109. When a new party is necessary to a final decision upon a counterclaim, the court may either permit such party to be made, or direct that the counterclaim be stricken out of the answer and made the subject of a separate action.

Iowa, McClain's An. C. 3868; Kansas (1889), 4180; Utah, 2973.

5052. Cross-complaint against codefendants — Delay—Provisional remedies.

SEC. 110. When a defendant has a cause of action affecting the subject-matter of the action against a codefendant, he may, in the same action, file a cross-complaint against the codefendant. The defendant thereto may be served as in other cases, and defense thereto shall be made in the time and manner prescribed in regard to the original complaint, and if such defendant file an answer to the cross-complaint a reply may be filed and served in time and manner as in the case of a reply to an answer to the original complaint, and with the same right of obtaining provisional remedies applicable to the case. The prosecution of the cross-complaint shall not delay the trial of the original action unless the court otherwise direct.

Kerr, C. C. P., 442; Utah, 2974; Iowa, McClain's An. C. 3869.

DEMURRER TO ANSWER

5053. Grounds of demurrer to answer.
5054. Grounds of demurrer to counterclaim.
5055. Idem — How taken — Demurrer and reply—Grounds specified.
5056. Objections taken by reply—Not taken, deemed waived—Exceptions.

5053. Grounds of demurrer to answer.

SEC. 111. The plaintiff may, within ten days after the service of the answer, demur to the same or any defense therein, upon one or more of the following grounds:

1. That several causes of counterclaim have been improperly joined;
2. That the answer does not state facts sufficient to constitute a defense;
3. That the answer is ambiguous, unintelligible, or uncertain.

Kerr, C. C. P., 443, 444.

5054. Grounds of demurrer to counterclaim.

SEC. 112. The plaintiff may also demur to a counterclaim where one or more of the following objections thereto appear upon the face of the counterclaim:

1. That the court has not jurisdiction of the subject thereof;
2. That the defendant has not legal capacity to maintain the same;
3. That there is another action pending between the same parties for the same cause;
4. That there is a defect or misjoinder of parties;
5. That the counterclaim does not state facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action;
6. Because the cause of action stated is not pleadable as a counterclaim to the action;
7. Because it is ambiguous, unintelligible or uncertain.

Mont. Civ. P. 714; Utah, 2977.

5055. Idem—How taken—Demurrer and reply—Grounds specified.

SEC. 113. Such demurrer may be taken to the whole answer, or to any of the alleged defenses or counterclaims therein; and the plaintiff may demur to one or more of the several defenses and counterclaims, and reply to the residue of the counterclaims. The demurrer shall distinctly specify the grounds of objection taken, and when to a counterclaim, in a similar manner to that required in a demurrer to the complaint; otherwise, it may be stricken out.

Mont. Civ. P., 712, 715; Utah, 2978.

5056. Objections taken by reply—Not taken, deemed waived—Exceptions.

SEC. 114. When any of the objections to a counterclaim mentioned in sections 111 and 112, do not appear upon the face of the answer, the objection may be taken by reply. If not so taken, either by the demurrer or reply, the plaintiff shall be deemed to have waived the same, excepting only the objection to the jurisdiction of the court, and the objection that the counterclaim does not state facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action.

Kerr, C. C. P., 433, 434; Utah, 2979.

CHAPTER 14

REPLY

5057. Reply to counterclaim, what to contain—When filed and served.

SEC. 115. There shall be no reply except:

1. Where a counterclaim is alleged; or,
2. Where some matter is alleged in the answer to which the plaintiff claims to have a defense, by reason of the existence of some fact which avoids the matter alleged in the answer. When a reply must be filed, it shall be served and filed within ten days after the service of the answer or of notice of the overruling of a demurrer, and it shall consist of:

First—A specific denial of each allegation or counterclaim controverted, or a denial on information and belief; or,

Second—Any new matter not inconsistent with the complaint constituting a defense to the matter alleged in the answer; or the matter in the answer may be confessed, and any new matter alleged, not inconsistent with the complaint, which avoids the same.

A '13 300

Mont. Civ. P., 720; Utah, 2980.

5058. Failure to demur or reply admits counterclaim.

SEC. 116. If the plaintiff fails to demur or reply to the counterclaim, the same shall be deemed admitted.

Mont. Civ. P., 722; Utah, 2981.

5059. Demurrer to reply for insufficiency.

SEC. 117. The defendant may, within ten days, demur to the reply, or any defense therein, when upon the face thereof it does not state facts sufficient to constitute a defense, stating such grounds.

Mont. Civ. P., 723; Utah, 2982.

CHAPTER 15

VERIFICATION

5060. Pleadings to be subscribed—When to be verified.
5061. Verification, when may be omitted.
5062. Written instrument — When deemed admitted.
5063. Defense, written instrument—Exception to rules.
5064. Verification of pleadings, how and by whom made—Actions on behalf of state by attorney-general need not be verified.

5060. Pleadings to be subscribed—When to be verified.

SEC. 118. Every pleading shall be subscribed by the party or his attorney, and when the complaint is verified by affidavit the answer and reply shall be verified also, except as provided in the next section.

Kerr, C. C. P., 446.

Cited, Marshall v. Golden Fleece M. Co., 16 Nev. 176.

A verified answer should not deny facts unquestionably true. Parties doing so lay themselves liable to the penalties of the criminal law. Roeder v. Stein, 23 Nev. 92 (42 P. 867).

5061. Verification, when may be omitted.

SEC. 119. The verification of the answer or reply required in the last section may be omitted when an admission of the truth of the complaint or answer, as the case may be, might subject the party to prosecution for felony.

Kerr, C. C. P., 446.

5062. Written instrument—When deemed admitted.

SEC. 120. When an action is brought upon a written instrument, and the complaint contains a copy of such instrument, or a copy is annexed thereto, the genuineness and due execution of such instrument shall be deemed admitted, unless the answer denying the same be verified.

Kerr, C. C. P., 447, 449.

5063. Defense, written instrument—Exception to rules.

SEC. 121. When the defense to an action is founded upon a written instrument, and a copy thereof is contained in a verified answer, or a copy is annexed thereto, the genuineness and due execution of such instrument shall be deemed admitted, unless the plaintiff file with the clerk, ten days after the service of the answer, an affidavit denying the same; provided, the execution of the instrument is not deemed admitted by a failure to deny the same under oath, if the party desiring to controvert the same is, upon demand, refused an inspection of the original. Such demand must be in writing, served by copy, upon the adverse party or his attorney, and filed with the papers in the case.

Kerr, C. C. P., 448, 449.

This section is in part similar to section 54, Stats. 1869, 204, which has had the following citation:

Where a contract set up in defendant's answer did not appear upon its face to have been signed or executed by either of the parties, and did not purport to be a complete instrument, plaintiff was not required to file an affidavit denying its execution and genuineness. Tonopah Lumber Co. v. Riley, 30 Nev. 312, 318 (95 P. 1001).

5064. Verification of pleadings, how and by whom made—Actions on behalf of state by attorney-general need not be verified.

SEC. 122. In all cases of the verification of a pleading, the affidavit of the party shall state that the same is true of his own knowledge, except as to the matters which are therein stated on his information and belief, and as to those matters, that he believes it to be true. And where a pleading is verified, it shall be by the affidavit of the party, unless he be absent from the county where the attorneys reside, or from some cause unable to verify it, or the facts are within the knowledge of his attorney or other person verifying the same. When the pleading is verified by the attorney, or any other person except the party, he shall set forth in the affidavit the reasons why it is not made by the party. When a corporation is a party, the verification may be made by any officer thereof; or when the state, or any officer thereof in its behalf, is a party, the verification may be made by any person acquainted with the facts; except that in actions prosecuted by the attorney-general, in behalf of the state, the pleadings need not, in any case, be verified.

Kerr, C. C. P., 446.

Where there is a defective verification of an answer, the defendant should be allowed to correct the error if he desires to do so. Heintzelman v. L'Amoroux, 3 Nev. 377–379.

The verification to a petition for mandamus in the form of a jurat to ordinary affidavits is sufficient. State ex rel. Sears v. Wright, 10 Nev. 167, 172.

When the allegations of the complaint are made positively, and no averments stated upon information or belief, a verification, which omits the words "except as to those matters which are therein stated on his information and belief and as to those matters he believes it to be true," but otherwise follows the form prescribed by statute, is sufficient. Kelly v. Kelly, 18 Nev. 49 (51 A. R. 732, 1 P. 194).

CHAPTER 16

GENERAL RULES OF PLEADING

5065. Pleadings liberally construed.
5066. Errors, not substantial, disregarded.
5067. Sham and irrelevant matter may be stricken out—Bill of particulars.
5068. Account, how pleaded—Copy furnished, when.
5069. Description of real property in pleading.
5070. Judgment, how pleaded—Proof.
5071. Conditions precedent, how pleaded—Proof.
5072. Private statutes, how pleaded.
5073. Libel or slander, how pleaded—Proof.
5074. Idem—Truth and mitigating circumstances—Evidence.
5075. Allegations not controverted taken as true—Exception.
5076. Supplemental complaint, answer, and reply.
5077. Pleadings after complaint to be filed and served.
5078. Corporation, partnership, representative capacity pleaded generally.
5079. Corporate existence need not be proved unless denied.

5065. Pleadings liberally construed.

SEC. 123. In the construction of a pleading for the purpose of determining its effect, its allegations shall be liberally construed, with a view to substantial justice between the parties.

Kerr, C. C. P., 452.

Cited, Howard v. Richards, 2 Nev. 132 (89 A. D. 520).

Because, under our practice, the pleadings are to be liberally construed, with a view to substantial justice between the parties, it does not follow that the substantial rules of pleading can be disregarded. Knickerbocker G. & S. Mining Co. v. Hall, 3 Nev. 199.

This and the following section have liberalized the rules of construction applicable to pleadings so as not only to embrace the whole of the English statutes of jeofails and amendments, but to go somewhat beyond. McManus v. Ophir S. M. Co., 4 Nev. 15.

A petition for mandamus to compel the calling of a first annual meeting of the stockholders of a mining corporation for the election of the second board of trustees alleged that such meeting should have been held on a certain day two months before; that it was not called or held; that in consequence of failure to call it the petitioner requested the incumbent board of trustees, in writing, to call such meeting, at as early a day as practicable, and that the incumbent board refused, and continued to refuse to call such meeting, or any meeting, for the election of trustees: Held, that though as a pleading the petition might have been more explicit on the point that no election had been held, it was not so defective as to warrant a refusal of the writ on the ground of showing of that fact. Flagg v. Board of Trustees, 4 Nev. 401, 408.

The old common-law rule, that a pleading must be construed most strongly against the pleader, is replaced by the broader, more sensible and just rule of the code, that it shall be liberally construed with a view to substantial justice between the parties. State v. C. P. R. R. Co., 7 Nev. 99, 103.

This section applies merely to the construction of the language and the terms used, and has no reference to the question of the sufficiency of the facts or matters of substance. It is to be applied, as was the rule under the old system, mainly where words are equivocal and terms and expressions are capable of different meanings. State ex rel. Piper v. Gracey, 11 Nev. 232.

The rule of construing pleadings most strongly against the pleader has been changed by this section. Ferguson v. V. & T. R. R. Co., 13 Nev. 184, 191.

5066. Errors, not substantial, disregarded.

SEC. 124. The court shall, in every stage of an action, disregard any error or defect in the pleadings or proceedings, which shall not affect the substantial rights of the parties; and no judgment shall be reversed or affected by reason of such error or defect.

Kerr, C. C. P., 475.

Cited, Levey v. Fargo, 1 Nev. 418.

Where a complaint in the nature of a bill in equity sets out distinctly most of the facts necessary to entitle the plaintiff to the relief sought, but omits one or two material allegations or facts, and these facts are clearly stated and admitted in the answer, the answer may be held to aid the complaint and sustain the action. Hawthorne v. Smith, 3 Nev. 182, 190 (93 A. D. 397).

See McManus v. Ophir M. Co., 4 Nev. 15, under preceding section.

Cited, Harper v. Mallory, 4 Nev. 454.

Construction of pleading in petition for mandamus. Flagg v. Lady Bryan M. Co., 4 Nev. 401.

After issue has been joined and a decision rendered upon the merits, it is the duty of appellate courts to support the pleadings by every legal intendment if there is nothing material in the record to prevent it. Skyrme v. Occidental M. and M. Co., 8 Nev. 228.

The general tendency of the decisions is to look with disfavor upon mere technical objections which relate solely to the form of the process or proceedings, especially where it is apparent that the error is one which has caused no substantial injury to the complaining party. Sweeney v. Schultes, 19 Nev. 58 (6 P. 44).

The omission in the notice in the summons of the amount for which plaintiff will take judgment on failure to answer, when a certified copy of the complaint served with the summons states the amount, if it be an error, is not one affecting any substantial right, and the court should, in every stage of the proceedings, disregard it. Higley v. Pollock, 21 Nev. 198, 207 (27 P. 895).

The rule of construing proceedings most strongly against the pleader has been changed. For the purpose of determining its effect, a pleading should be liberally construed. Ferguson v. V. & T. R. R. Co., 13 Nev. 184.

Technical error to be disregarded, notice not properly served but purpose accomplished. Lake v. Lake, 16 Nev. 363.

Where no substantial right of the appellant can possibly be affected by an error occurring in the lower court, both law and common sense require courts to disregard such error. Prezeau v. Spooner, 22 Nev. 88, 91 (35 P. 514).

Cited, Burgess v. Helm, 24 Nev. 249 (51 P. 1025).

It was held, under this section, where plaintiff and others, several owners of different lots, sued for the diversion of waters therefrom and a demurrer for misjoinder of parties and causes of action was sustained, it was improper to strike out plaintiff's amended complaint in which he sued alone; the allegations of the amended complaint relating alone to property, acts and matters set out in the original complaint, and both demanding damages and general relief. Smith v. Wells Estate Co., 29 Nev. 411, 419 (91 P. 315).

See Branson v. I. W. W., 30 Nev. 270, 293 (95 P. 354) under section 98 of this act.

Cited, Hoffman v. Owens, 31 Nev. 484 (103 P. 414).

A recognizance reciting that "an indictment having been found charging W. with the crime of uttering and passing false paper," sufficiently designates the crime without stating that the false paper was passed with intent to defraud. State v. O'Keefe, 32 Nev. 331 (108 P. 2).

5067. Sham and irrelevant matter may be stricken out, when—Bill of particulars.

SEC. 125. Sham and irrelevant answers and replies and so much of any pleading as may be irrelevant, redundant or immaterial, may be stricken out on motion, and upon such terms as the court, in its discretion, may impose. When any pleading is too general in its terms to be readily understood, the court may, on motion, require the same to be made more specific and certain, or may require a bill of particulars to be filed therewith.

Kerr, C. C. P., 453.

5068. Account, how pleaded—Copy furnished, when.

SEC. 126. It shall not be necessary for a party to set forth in a pleading the items of an account therein alleged, but he shall deliver to the adverse party within five days after a demand thereof, in writing, a copy of the account, or be precluded from giving evidence thereof. The court, or a judge thereof, may order a further account when the one delivered is too general, or is defective in any particular.

Kerr, C. C. P., 454.

5069. Description of real property in pleading.

SEC. 127. In an action for the recovery of real property, such property shall be described with its metes and bounds, in the complaint, or with other equal certainty.

Kerr, C. C. P., 455.

5070. Judgment, how pleaded—Proof.

SEC. 128. In pleading a judgment or other determination of a court, or officer of especial jurisdiction, it shall not be necessary to state the facts conferring jurisdiction, but such judgment or determination may be stated to have been duly given or made. If such allegation be controverted, the party pleading shall be bound to establish on the trial the facts conferring jurisdiction.

Kerr, C. C. P., 456.

In pleading the judgment or other determination of a court of limited jurisdiction, it is made necessary by this section to allege that such judgment or determination was duly made or given.

Without such an allegation in the pleading, the proof of the judgment proceedings of such court would be inadmissible. Keyes v. Grannis, 3 Nev. 548, 551.

In bringing suit on a judgment recovered in a sister state, it is not necessary to allege in the complaint that the court, in which the judgment was rendered, had jurisdiction either of the subject-matter of the action, or of the defendant. Want of jurisdiction is a matter of defense. Phelps v. Duffy, 11 Nev. 80, 85.

The fact of a suit or the judgment therein cannot be proved by parol. Davis v. Noteware, 13 Nev. 421.

5071. Conditions precedent, how pleaded—Proof.

SEC. 129. In pleading the performance of conditions precedent in a contract, it shall not be necessary to state the facts showing such performance, but it may be stated generally that the party duly performed all the conditions on his part; and if such allegation be controverted, the party pleading shall establish on the trial the facts showing such performance.

Kerr, C. C. P., 457.

In an action brought by a county against the sureties on an official bond of the county treasurer, to recover an amount of money for which the treasurer was in default, it is not necessary, in order to entitle the county to recover, that the complaint should specifically aver a performance of the several acts required to be performed by the county commissioners, but an averment that the commissioners complied with all the requirements and conditions of said bond, and the requirements of all acts of the legislature pertaining to the official bonds of county officers is sufficient. White Pine Co. v. Herrick, 19 Nev. 34, 36, 37 (5 P. 276).

5072. Private statutes, how pleaded.

SEC. 130. In pleading a private statute, or a right derived therefrom, it shall be sufficient to refer to such statute by its title and the day of its passage, and the court shall thereupon take judicial notice thereof.

Kerr, C. C. P., 459.

5073. Libel or slander, how pleaded—Proof.

SEC. 131. In an action for libel or slander, it shall not be necessary to state in the complaint any extrinsic facts for the purpose of showing the application to the plaintiff of the defamatory matter out of which the action arose; but it shall be sufficient to state generally that the same was published or spoken concerning the plaintiff; and if such allegation be controverted, the plaintiff shall establish on the trial that it was so published or spoken.

Kerr, C. C. P., 460.

5074. Idem—Truth and mitigating circumstances—Evidence.

SEC. 132. In the actions mentioned in the last section, the defendant may, in his answer, allege both the truth of the matter charged as defamatory, and any mitigating circumstances to reduce the amount of the damages; and, whether he prove the justification or not, he may give in evidence the mitigating circumstances.

Kerr, C. C. P., 461.

In an action for libel, the intent and motive of the defendant in the publication of the alleged libelous article, may be shown in mitigation of damages. Thompson v. Powning, 15 Nev. 195, 204.

5075. Allegations not controverted taken as true—Exception.

SEC. 133. Each material allegation of the complaint not controverted by the answer, and each material allegation of new matter in the answer not controverted by the reply, where a reply is required, must, for the purposes of the action, be taken as true. But an allegation of new matter in the answer to which a reply is not required, or of new matter in a reply, is to be deemed controverted by the adverse party.

Kerr, C. C. P., 462; Utah, 2996.

When the death of one of the defendants is put in issue by the pleadings, it should, like every other issue of fact, be left to the jury. Fowler v. Houston, 1 Nev. 469, 472.

Under our practice, all affirmative matter in an answer is taken as denied. Cahill v. Hirschman, 6 Nev. 57, 60.

A defendant's plea of estoppel is new matter and he is bound to plead and prove it. Gillson v. Price, 18 Nev. 110, 117 (1 P. 459).

Where, in an action for services as agent from June 30, 1896, to June 30, 1900, the answer alleged the determination of the agency on February 24, 1897, there is an admission of liability for part of the time in question which will render a general verdict for defendant erroneous. Manning v. Bowman, 26 Nev. 451, 453 (69 P. 995).

If it be conceded that new matter alleged against a defendant in the answer of a codefendant is deemed denied without answer or reply thereto, the rule is not applicable where the answer setting up the new matter is not served on such defendant. Gulling v. Washoe County Bank, 28 Nev. 450 (82 P. 800).

Cited, in dissenting opinion of Talbot, J., Gulling v. Washoe County Bank, 29 Nev. 278 (89 P. 25).

"A material allegation in a pleading is one essential to the claim or defense and which could not be stricken from the pleading without leaving it insufficient." Above being sec. 66 of the act of 1869, 196, cited, Gillson v. Price, 18 Nev. 117 (1 P. 459).

5076. Supplemental complaint, answer, and reply.

SEC. 134. Either party may be allowed to make a supplemental complaint, answer, or reply, alleging facts material to the case, which have happened, or have come to his knowledge, since the filing of the former pleading; such new pleading shall not be considered a waiver of former pleadings.

Kerr, C. C. P., 464; Utah, 2998.

5077. Pleadings after complaint to be filed and served.

SEC. 135. All pleadings subsequent to the complaint must be filed with the clerk and copies thereof served upon the adverse party or his attorney.

Kerr, C. C. P., 465; Utah, 2999.

5078. Corporation, partnership or representative capacity pleaded generally.

SEC. 136. A plaintiff suing as a corporation, partnership, executor, guardian, or in any other way implying corporate, partnership, representative, or other than individual capacity, need not state the facts constituting such capacity or relation, but may aver the same generally, or as a legal conclusion, and where a defendant is held in such capacity or relation a plaintiff may aver such capacity or relation in the same general way.

Iowa, McClain's An. C. 3923; Utah, 3000.

5079. Corporate existence need not be proved unless denied.

SEC. 137. In an action by or against a corporation, the plaintiff need not prove upon the trial the existence of the corporation, unless the answer is verified, and contains an affirmative allegation that the plaintiff or defendant, as the case may be, is not a corporation.

Utah, 3000.
Due incorporation cannot be attacked collaterally, sec. 1154.
See sec. 1184.

CHAPTER 17

VARIANCE, MISTAKES IN PLEADINGS, AND AMENDMENTS

5080. Variance not prejudicial deemed immaterial—Amendment.
5081. Idem—Order, if variance immaterial —Amendment.
5082. Idem—Failure of proof distinguished from variance.
5083. Amendments as of course—If demurrer to answer or reply be overruled, what facts deemed denied—Time for pleading over.
5084. Discretionary power of court as to amendments, defaults, mistakes, neglects; defendant not personally served.
5085. Defendant's name unknown — Fictitious name used.
5086. Time to amend, answer, or reply runs from service of notice—Exception.

5080. Variance not prejudicial deemed immaterial—Amendment.

SEC. 138. No variance between the allegations in a pleading and the proof is to be deemed material, unless it has actually misled the adverse party to his prejudice in maintaining his action or defense upon the merits. Whenever it appears that a party has been so misled, the court may order the pleading to be amended, upon such terms as may be just.

Kerr, C. C. P., 469.

5081. Idem—Order, if variance immaterial—Amendment.

SEC. 139. Where the variance is not material, as provided in the next preceding section, the court may direct the fact to be found according to the evidence, or may order an immediate amendment, without costs.

Kerr, C. C. P., 470.

5082. Idem—Failure of proof distinguished from variance.

SEC. 140. Where, however, the allegation of the claim or defense to which the proof is directed is unproved, not in some particular or particulars only, but in its general scope and meaning, it is not to be deemed a case of variance within the last two sections, but a failure of proof.

Kerr, C. C. P., 471.

5083. Amendments as of course—If demurrer to answer or reply be overruled, what facts deemed denied—Time for pleading over.

SEC. 141. Any pleading may be amended once by the party as of course, and without costs, at any time before the time for pleading to it has expired, or after demurrer and before the trial of the issue of law thereon, by filing the same as amended and serving a copy on the adverse party, who may have ten days thereafter in which to answer, reply, or demur to the amended pleading. A demurrer is not waived by filing an answer or reply at the same time; and when the demurrer to a complaint or counterclaim is overruled and there is no answer or reply filed, the court may, upon such terms as may be just, allow an answer or reply to be filed. If a demurrer to the answer or reply be overruled, the facts alleged therein must be considered as denied to the extent mentioned in section 133.

Kerr, C. C. P., 472.

5084. Discretionary power of court as to amendments, defaults, mistakes, neglects; defendant not personally served.

Kerr, C. C. P., 473.

The object of this section is to relieve a party from the effects of some judgment or order made by the court in its regular proceedings; not to give some affirmative right which he has lost by his own conduct, but in regard to which the court has made no order whatever. Killip v. Empire M. Co., 2 Nev. 35, 43–45.

When default is improperly taken, defendant should apply to the court during the term for relief. Kidd v. Four Hundred and Twenty M. Co., 3 Nev. 381.

When upon the trial of a cause it appears that plaintiff's complaint is so defective as not to stay the cause of action, the court should either grant leave to plaintiff to amend his complaint or dismiss the action without prejudice. Horton v. Ruhling, 3 Nev. 498.

Cited, Proprietors Mexican M. v. Y. J. S. M. Co., 4 Nev. 44 (97 A. D. 510).

The punctuation after the words "excusable neglect," in this section, as printed, is absurd; there should be a full stop after these words.

Courts should be liberal in setting aside defaults, when it appears that the party defaulted has a good defense, and has been guilty only of carelessness and inattention, without wilful or fradulent delay. Howe v. Coldren, 4 Nev. 171, 175.

On a motion to open a judgment by default defendant presented his affidavit that he had employed an attorney to defend him in due time; that the attorney had filed a demurrer and advised him that it was good and would be sustained, and ample time be given to answer; that immediately afterwards defendant was called away and unavoidably detained until after the demurrer was overruled, and till the next day (Sunday) after the five days given to answer had expired; that the next day (Monday), when he came to prepare and file his answer, he found that default and judgment had been entered against him and that he had a meritorious defense; and his attorney also presented an affidavit that during the five days allowed to answer, he had made repeated efforts to advise with the defendant but without success; and that he had every reason to suppose until the evening of the last day, that the time to answer would be extended by consent. Held, a case of inexcusable negligence, and that the refusal of the court below to open the default and judgment was proper.

Howe v. Coldren, 4 Nev. 171, so far as the supreme court refused to interfere with the order of the court below in setting aside the default in that case, was correctly decided; but the opinion contains many dicta on the subject of defaults which are not applicable to the facts involved therein, and are therefore not authority. Harper v. Mallory, 4 Nev. 447, 448, 452, 454.

The allowance of the filing of an answer after the time prescribed by statute is a matter very much in the discretion of the court, and especially so where there has been no default entered and there is no showing, but a failure to plead has occasioned any delay or injury to the opposite party. Conley v. Chedic, 7 Nev. 336.

An amendment which changes the parties to a suit cannot be made. Little v. V. & G. H. W. Co., 9 Nev. 320.

After the term of court expires the records cannot be amended, unless there is something in the record to amend by. Clark v. Strouse, 11 Nev. 76.

The court has no jurisdiction at a subsequent term to set aside a default or vacate a decree or judgment rendered at a previous term of court unless its jurisdiction is saved by some proper proceeding instituted within the time allowed by law. Daniels v. Daniels, 12 Nev. 118; State v. First Nat. Bank, 4 Nev. 358; Lang Syne M. Co. v. Ross, 20 Nev. 127 (19 A. S. 334, 18 P. 358).

A party wishing to amend his pleading ought, as a general rule, to ask leave of the court to amend when objections to the sufficiency of the pleadings are made, and before the introduction of testimony; but courts in allowing amendments are necessarily clothed with discretionary power, and whenever an offer is made to amend at any such stage of the proceedings, that the opposite party will not lose an opportunity to fairly present his case, it cannot be said that the court has abused its discretion in allowing an amendment. McCausland v. Ralston, 12 Nev. 195, 203 (28 A. R. 781).

Courts have the power, as between parties to a suit, in furtherance of justice, to amend the pleadings by adding to or striking out, names of parties plaintiff or defendant; but this power cannot be exercised so as to change the rights and liabilities of third parties. Quillen v. Arnold, 12 Nev. 235, 245, 250.

Cited, State v. Con. Va. M. Co., 13 Nev. 202.

On motion of one joint defendant, the judgment may be set aside as to both. Stevenson v. Mann, 13 Nev. 268.

If evidence is objected to because the pleadings are defective, the court should allow the pleadings to be amended. Jeffree v. Walsh, 14 Nev. 144.

Defendant was sued and served with process as "The San Francisco Sulphur company." It suffered default. At a subsequent term it specially appeared under its full name of "The San Francisco Sulphur Mining company," and moved to set aside the default, upon the ground of a technical mistake in its name: Held, that this section was only intended to apply for the benefit of those who have a meritorious defense and who offer to make it, and not to those who offer a mere technical excuse for not answering in time. Jones v. S. F. Sulphur Co., 14 Nev. 172, 174, 175.

A judgment entered by default should not be set aside upon affidavits and an answer which failed to show that the defendant had a good and meritorious defense to the action. The judgment should not be set aside to enable the defendant to raise some technical objection. Ewing v. Jennings, 15 Nev. 379, 382.

The court, after the findings were made, properly denied plaintiff's application to amend its complaint so that it should conform to the findings of the referee. Marshall v. Golden Fleece G. & S. M. Co., 16 Nev. 157.

The manner of vacating judgments is regulated by statute, and the statutory provisions must be complied with, in order to authorize the court to act. The court has no jurisdiction to set aside a judgment upon a mere motion. State ex rel. Smith v. District Court, 16 Nev. 371, 373.

In construing the provisions of this section: Held, that a defendant corporation, in a case where personal service was made upon its managing agent, cannot have the judgment set aside, and leave given to answer, after the term has expired at which the judgment was rendered.

The above clause giving the party the right to move "within six months after the rendition of any judgment in such action to answer to the merits of the original action," only applies to cases where the defendant has not been personally served with summons. Lang Syne G. M. Co. v. Ross, 20 Nev. 127, 136 (19 A. S. 337, 18 P. 358).

On application to set aside the default of defendant, it appeared that the defendants procured the suit to be instituted against themselves. They employed one attorney for both sides, paying all fees, and managed the entire case for a time, withdrew the demurrer they had filed, and asked for and obtained ten days to file an answer, but filed none, and, after allowing nearly a year to pass without further action, a default was entered against them. They alleged that the action was an amicable one instituted for their benefit, on plaintiff's verbal agreement to convey to them on obtaining judgment, and the plaintiff agreed not to take a default against them: Held, that this did not excuse their delay in filing an answer, and their negligence in having one attorney only to manage both sides of the case, and plaintiff's subsequent action in assigning the judgment to the third person was not grounds sufficient to authorize the court to set aside the default. Haley v. Eureka County Bank, 20 Nev. 410, 421 (22 P. 1098).

The courts should liberally exercise the power of amendment for the purpose of establishing the truth and sustaining the substance of the proceedings before them, and when a decision upon the sufficiency of an affidavit might operate as a surprise and deprive appellant of a substantial right, leave will be granted to amend the proof of service. Elder v. Frevert, 13 Nev. 279 (3 P. 237).

In support of a motion to set aside a default and judgment thereon, an affidavit of merits made by the attorney, is sufficient, when it shows that he is familiar with all the facts in the case.

Facts recited and held that the neglect to file an answer, while reprehensible, was not inexcusable, and that the motion to open the default should have been granted, upon such terms as would be just. (Murphy, J., dissenting.)

An application to open a default should be made immediately. Horton v. New Pass G. & S. M. Co., 21 Nev. 184 (27 P. 376).

Held, that where defendants were not personally served with summons, and where judgment had been rendered against them in the action or an appearance for them by an unauthorized attorney, they were not guilty of laches where they commenced proceedings to set aside the judgment at any time within six months from the date of the judgment. Stanton-Thompson Co. v. Crane, 24 Nev. 171, 178, 181 (51 P. 116).

Where the matter of the allowance of cost still remains in the hands of the court under a motion to retax or strike out, the court has power to permit the cost bill to be amended so as to include jury fees incurred in such courts. State ex rel. Cohn v. District Court, 26 Nev. 253, 258 (66 P. 743).

Under facts in this case, held, the motion or order ought not to have covered less than the vacation of the whole judgment, and the restoration of their right to defend the suit (Per Talbot, J., concurring). Mitchell v. Mitchell, 28 Nev. 126 (79 P. 50).

After reciting facts, held, that defendant was not guilty of inexcusable delay, and was entitled to a vacation of the default and leave to answer. Stretch v. Montezuma M. Co., 29 Nev. 63, 168 (86 P. 445).

See Smith v. Wells Estate Co., 29 Nev. 411, 419 (91 P. 315), cited under sec. 124 of this act.

Facts recited and held that the affidavit of counsel shows "mistake, inadvertence, surprise or inexcusable neglect," and entitled him to relief against his default and a further extension of time in which to make the motion. Sherman v. S. P. R. R. Co., 31 Nev. 285–290 (102 P. 257).

An amended complaint filed without asking leave of court or in any way compliant with district court rule 17, or with this section, was properly stricken out on motion. Weir v. Washoe H. & S. Co., 31 Nev. 528, 529 (104 P. 19).

An amendment of the ad damnum clause of the complaint by increasing the amount claimed, is a matter within the discretion of the court, and may be allowed during the trial. Shields v. Orr Ditch Co., 23 Nev. 349 (47 P. 194).

The trial court had jurisdiction to set aside by an order of May 25 a default judgment for defendant entered on March 11, upon motion therefor on the ground that plaintiff had no notice of the time of trial or entry of judgment until ten days after its entry. State ex rel. Kerr v. District Court, 32 Nev. 189 (105 P. 1025).

5085. Defendant's name unknown—Fictitious name used.

SEC. 143. When the plaintiff is ignorant of the name of a defendant, such defendant may be designated in any pleading or proceeding by any name, and when his true name is discovered, the pleading or proceeding may be amended accordingly .

Kerr, C. C. P., 474.

5086. Time to amend, answer or reply runs from service of notice—Exception.

SEC. 144. When a demurrer to any pleading is sustained or overruled and time to amend, answer, or reply is given, the time so given runs from service of notice of the decision or order, except when the party against whom the decision is made, or his attorney, is present and asks for and is given time to amend, answer, or reply, in which case no notice of the decision is required.

Kerr, C. C. P., 476.

CHAPTER 18

ARREST AND BAIL

5087. Arrest in civil cases.
5088. Idem—When may be made.
5089. Order for arrest—From whom obtained.
5090. Affidavit necessary for arrest—Contents.
5091. Undertaking required before order for arrest made.
5092. When order may be made—Requisites of order.

5093. Copy of affidavit and order delivered to defendant.
5094. Arrest, by whom and how made.
5095. Defendant discharged on bail or deposit.
5096. Idem—Form of undertaking.
5097. Bail may surrender defendant.
5098. Idem—Bail may arrest defendant—When exonerated.
5099. Action against bail.
5100. Bail exonerated by death, imprisonment or discharge of defendant.
5101. Return of officer—Plaintiff may except to bail.
5102. Notice of justification of bail.
5103. Qualifications of bail.
5104. Justification of bail, how conducted.
5105. Allowance of bail exonerates officer.
5106. Deposit in lieu of bail—Certificate—Discharge.
5107. Sheriff must pay into court.
5108. Undertaking may be substituted for deposit.
5109. Disposition of deposit.
5110. When sheriff liable as bail—Discharge.
5111. Idem—Recovery on sheriff's official bond.
5112. Defendant may move to vacate arrest or reduce bail—Hearing.
5113. Idem—Order.

5087. Arrest in civil cases.

SEC. 145. No person shall be arrested in a civil action except as prescribed by this act.

Kerr, C. C. P., 478.

5088. Idem—When may be made.

SEC. 146. The defendant may be arrested, as hereinafter prescribed, in the following cases arising after the passage of this act:

1. In an action for the recovery of money or damages on a cause of action arising upon contract, express or implied, when the defendant is about to depart from the state with intent to defraud his creditors, or when the action is for libel or slander.

2. In an action for a fine or penalty, or for money or property embezzled, or fraudulently misapplied or converted to his own use by a public officer, or an officer of a corporation, or an attorney, factor, broker, agent, or clerk, in the course of his employment as such or by any other person in a fiduciary capacity, or for misconduct or neglect in office, or in professional employment, or for a wilful violation of duty.

3. In an action to recover the possession of personal property unjustly detained, when the property, or any part thereof, has been concealed, removed, or disposed of, so that it cannot be found or taken by the sheriff.

4. When the defendant has been guilty of a fraud in contracting the debt or incurring the obligation for which the action is brought, or in concealing or disposing of the property, for the taking, detention, or conversion of which the action is brought.

5. When the defendant has removed or disposed of his property, or is about to do so, with intent to defraud his creditors.

Kerr, C. C. P., 479.

Under subdivision 5 of this section the district court had jurisdiction to arrest and detain petitioner. Const., ante, 243.

Article 1, section 14, of the constitution does not prohibit the arrest and detention of a defendant for the fraudulent disposition of his property with intent to defraud his creditors under a judgment in an action for debt.

The imprisonment of petitioner is for the fraud practiced in attempting to evade the payment of the judgment, and, while in the nature of a punishment, is only a coercive means given by the statute and sanctioned by the constitution to enforce the collection of the judgment.

The imprisonment is authorized for the costs which are incurred in using the coercive means, as well as for the amount of the principal debt or demand. Ex Parte Bergman, 18 Nev. 331, 335, 339–341 (4 P. 209).

5089. Order for arrest—From whom obtained.

SEC. 147. An order for the arrest of the defendant shall be obtained from a judge of the court in which the action is brought.

Kerr, C. C. P., 480.

5090. Affidavit necessary for arrest—Contents.

SEC. 148. The order may be made whenever it shall appear to the judge, by the affidavit of the plaintiff or some other person, that a sufficient cause of action exists, and the case is one of those mentioned in section 146. The affidavit shall be either positive or upon information and belief; and when upon information and belief, it shall state the facts upon which the information and belief are founded. If an order of arrest be made, the affidavit shall be filed with the clerk of the court.

Kerr, C. C. P., 481.

5091. Undertaking required before order for arrest made.

SEC. 149. Before making the order the judge shall require a written undertaking, payable in gold coin of the United States, on the part of the plaintiff, with sureties, to the effect that if the defendant recover judgment, the plaintiff will pay all costs and charges that may be awarded to the defendant, and all damages which he may sustain by reason of the arrest, not exceeding the sum specified in the undertaking, which shall be at least five hundred dollars. Each of the sureties shall annex to the undertaking an affidavit that he is a resident and householder or freeholder within the state, and worth double the sum specified in the undertaking over and above all his debts and liabilities, exclusive of property exempt from execution. The undertaking shall be filed with the clerk of the court.

Kerr, C. C. P., 482.

5092. When order may be made—Requisites of order.

SEC. 150. The order may be made to accompany the summons, or any time afterwards before judgment. It shall require the sheriff of the county where the defendant may be found forthwith to arrest him and hold him to bail in a specified sum, naming the money or currency in which it is payable, and to return the order at a time therein mentioned to the clerk of the court in which the action is pending.

Kerr, C. C. P., 483.

5093. Copy of affidavit and order delivered to defendant.

SEC. 151. The order of arrest, with a copy of the affidavit upon which it is made, shall be delivered to the sheriff, who, upon arresting the defendant shall deliver to him the copy of the affidavit, and also, if desired, a copy of the order of arrest.

Kerr, C. C. P., 484.

5094. Arrest, by whom and how made.

SEC. 152. The sheriff shall execute the order by arresting the defendant and keeping him in custody until discharged by law.

Kerr, C. C. P., 485.

5095. Defendant discharged on bail or deposit.

SEC. 153. The defendant, at any time before execution, shall be discharged from the arrest either upon giving bail or upon depositing the amount mentioned in the order of arrest in the money or currency therein named, as provided in this chapter.

Kerr, C. C. P., 486.

5096. Idem—Form of undertaking.

SEC. 154. The defendant may give bail by causing a written undertaking, payable in the money of the contract (if any be named), and in other cases as directed by the judge, to be executed by two or more sufficient sureties, stating their places of residence and occupations, to the effect that they are bound in the amount mentioned in the order of arrest; that the defendant shall at all times render himself amenable to the process of the court during the pendency of the action, and to such as may be issued to enforce the judgment therein; or that they will pay to the plaintiff the amount of any judgment which may be recovered in the action.

Kerr, C. C. P., 487.

5097. Bail may surrender defendant.

SEC. 155. At any time before judgment, or within ten days thereafter, the bail may surrender the defendant in their exoneration; or he may surrender himself to the sheriff of the county where he was arrested.

Kerr, C. C. P., 488.

See Ex Parte Bergman, 18 Nev. 339, 340 (4 P. 209), under sec. 146 of this act.

5098. Idem—Bail may arrest defendant—When exonerated.

SEC. 156. For the purpose of surrendering the defendant the bail at any time or place before they are finally charged, may themselves arrest him; or by a written authority, indorsed on a certified copy of the undertaking, may empower the sheriff to do so. Upon the arrest of the defendant by the sheriff, or upon his delivery to the sheriff by the bail, or upon his own surrender, the bail shall be exonerated; provided, such arrest, delivery, or surrender shall take place before the expiration of ten days after judgment; but if such arrest, delivery, or surrender be not made within ten days after judgment, the bail shall be finally charged on their undertaking, and be bound to pay the amount of the judgment within ten days thereafter.

Kerr, C. C. P., 489.

5099. Action against bail.

SEC. 157. If the bail neglect or refuse to pay the judgment within ten days after they are finally charged, an action may be commenced against such bail for the amount of such original judgment.

Kerr, C. C. P., 490.

5100. Bail exonerated by death, imprisonment or discharge of defendant.

SEC. 158. The bail shall also be exonerated by the death of the defendant, or his imprisonment in a state prison, or by his legal discharge from the obligation to render himself amenable to the process.

Kerr, C. C. P., 491.

5101. Return of officer—Plaintiff may except to bail.

SEC. 159. Within the time limited for that purpose, the sheriff shall file the order of arrest in the office of the clerk of the court in which the action is pending, with his return indorsed thereon, together with a copy of the undertaking of the bail. The original undertaking he shall retain in his possession until filed, as herein provided. The plaintiff, within ten days thereafter, may serve upon the sheriff a notice that he does not accept the bail, or he shall be deemed to have accepted them, and the sheriff shall be exonerated from liability. If no notice be served within ten days, the original undertaking shall be filed with the clerk of the court.

Kerr, C. C. P., 492.

5102. Notice of justification of bail.

SEC. 160. Within five days after the receipt of notice, the sheriff or defendant may give to the plaintiff, or his attorney, notice of the justification of the same, or other bail (specifying the places of residence and occupations of the latter), before the judge of the court, or clerk, at a specified time and place; the time to be not less than five nor more than ten days thereafter, except by consent of parties. In case other bail be given, there shall be a new undertaking.

Kerr, C. C. P., 493.

5103. Qualifications of bail.

SEC. 161. The qualifications of bail shall be as follows:

1. Each of them shall be a resident and householder, or freeholder, within the county.

2. Each shall be worth the amount specified in the order of arrest, or the amount to which the order is reduced, as provided in this chapter, over and above all his debts and liabilities, exclusive of property exempt from execution; but the judge, or clerk, on justification, may allow more than two sureties to justify severally in amounts less than that expressed in the order, if the whole justification be equivalent to that of two sufficient bail.

Kerr, C. C. P., 494.

5104. Justification of bail, how conducted.

SEC. 162. For the purpose of justification, each of the bail shall attend before the judge, or clerk, at the time and place mentioned in the notice, and may be examined on oath, on the part of the plaintiff, touching his sufficiency, in such manner as the judge, or clerk, in his discretion may think proper. The examination shall be reduced to writing, and subscribed by the bail, if required by the plaintiff.

Kerr, C. C. P., 495.

5105. Allowance of bail exonerates officer.

SEC. 163. If the judge, or clerk, find the bail sufficient, he shall annex the examination to the undertaking, indorse his allowance thereon, and cause them to be filed, and the sheriff shall thereupon be exonerated from liability.

Kerr, C. C. P., 496.

5106. Deposit in lieu of bail—Certificate—Discharge.

SEC. 164. The defendant may, at the time of his arrest, instead of giving bail, deposit with the sheriff the amount mentioned in the order. In case the amount of the bail be reduced, as provided in this chapter, the defendant may deposit such amount instead of giving bail. In either case the sheriff shall give the defendant a certificate of the deposit made, and the defendant shall be discharged out of custody.

Kerr, C. C. P., 497.

5107. Sheriff must pay deposit into court.

SEC. 165. The sheriff shall, immediately after the deposit, pay the same into court, and take from the clerk receiving the same two certificates of such payment; the one of which he shall deliver or transmit to the plaintiff, or his attorney, and the other to the defendant. For any default in making such payment, the same proceedings may be had on the official bond of the sheriff to collect the sum deposited as in other cases of delinquency.

Kerr, C. C. P., 498.

5108. Undertaking may be substituted for deposit.

SEC. 166. If the money be deposited, as provided in the last two sections, bail may be given and may justify upon notice at any time before judgment; and on the filing of the undertaking and justification with the clerk, the money deposited shall be refunded by such clerk to the defendant.

Kerr, C. C. P., 499.

5109. Disposition of deposit.

SEC. 167. Where money shall have been deposited, if it remain on deposit at the time of a recovery of a judgment in favor of the plaintiff, the clerk shall, under the direction of the court, apply the same in satisfaction thereof, and after satisfying the judgment shall refund the surplus, if any, to the defendant. If the judgment be in favor of the defendant, the clerk shall, under like direction of the court, refund to him the whole sum deposited and remaining unapplied.

Kerr, C. C. P., 500.

5110. When sheriff liable as bail—Discharge.

SEC. 168. If, after being arrested, the defendant escape or be rescued, the sheriff shall himself be liable as bail; but he may discharge himself from such liability by the giving and justification of bail at any time before judgment.

Kerr, C. C. P., 501.

5111. Idem—Recovery on sheriff's official bond.

SEC. 169. If a judgment be recovered against the sheriff, upon his liability as bail, and an execution thereon be returned unsatisfied, in whole or in part, the same proceedings may be had on his official bond for the recovery of the whole or any deficiency, as in other cases of delinquency.

Kerr, C. C. P., 502.

5112. Defendant may move to vacate arrest or reduce bail—Hearing.

SEC. 170. A defendant arrested may, at any time before the justification of bail, apply to the judge who made the order, or the court in which the action is pending, upon reasonable notice to the plaintiff, to vacate the order of arrest or to reduce the amount of bail. If the application be made upon affidavits on the part of the defendant, but not otherwise, the plaintiff may oppose the same by affidavits or other proofs in addition to those on which the order of arrest was made.

Kerr, C. C. P., 503.

5113. Idem—Order.

SEC. 171. If, upon such application, it shall satisfactorily appear that there was not sufficient cause for the arrest, the order shall be vacated, or if it satisfactorily appear that the bail was fixed too high, the amount shall be reduced.

Kerr, C. C. P., 504.

Where a defendant was held upon preliminary examination upon a complaint charging him with the larceny of eighteen head of cattle of the value of $30 each with bail fixed by the justice at $5,000: Held, that the bail was excessive and ordered reduced. Ex Parte Douglas, 25 Nev. 425.

CHAPTER 19

DISCHARGE FROM ARREST

5114. Discharge from arrest as provided in this chapter.
5115. Notice of application to court.
5116. Idem—Service upon whom and when made.
5117. Hearing—Creditor may have evidence written.
5118. Discharge, oath to be taken, form.
5119. Order of discharge.
5120. Renewal of application for discharge.
5121. Exemption from further arrest—Judgment remains in force.
5122. Plaintiff may order discharge.
5123. Plaintiff must advance jailer's costs.

5114. Discharge from arrest as provided in this chapter.

SEC. 172. Every person confined in jail on an execution issued on a judgment rendered in a civil action, shall be discharged therefrom upon the conditions hereinafter specified.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1143.

Respondent was discharged from imprisonment under the provisions of this act. Evidence reviewed and held sufficient to authorize his discharge. Deal v. Schlomberg, 20 Nev. 330, 331 (22 P. 155).

Petitioner voluntarily surrendered himself into custody before any process had been issued against him, and thereafter, while he was so in custody, the plaintiff notified the sheriff that he did not demand the arrest and detention, and petitioner was allowed to depart. It was held that such surrender, notice and release did not prevent plaintiff from causing his subsequent arrest and detention under an execution issued on a judgment in the second action. Ex Parte Bergman, 18 Nev. 332, 339 (4 P. 209).

5115. Notice of application to court.

SEC. 173. Such person shall cause a notice, in writing, to be given to the plaintiff, his agent, or attorney, that at a certain time and place he will apply to the district judge of the county in which such person may be confined for the purpose of obtaining a discharge from his imprisonment.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1144.

5116. Idem—Service upon whom and when made.

SEC. 174. Such notice shall be served upon the plaintiff, or his agent or attorney, one day at least before the hearing of the application. If the plaintiff be not a resident of the county, and have no agent or attorney in the county, no such notice need be served.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1145.

5117. Hearing—Creditor may have evidence written.

SEC. 175. At the time and place specified in the notice, such person shall be taken before such judge, who shall examine him, under oath, concerning his estate and property and effects, and the disposal thereof, and his ability to pay the judgment for which he is committed, and such judge shall also hear any other legal and pertinent evidence that may be produced by the debtor or creditors.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1146.

5118. Discharge, oath to be taken—Form.

SEC. 176. If, upon examination, the judge be satisfied that the prisoner is entitled to his discharge, such judge shall administer to him the following oath: "I, ..., do solemnly swear, or affirm, that I have not any estate, real or personal, to the amount of fifty dollars, except such as is by law exempted from being taken in execution; and that I have not any other estate now conveyed or concealed, or in any way disposed of with design to secure the same to my use, or to defraud my creditors."

Kerr, C. C. P., 1148.

5119. Order of discharge.

SEC. 177. After administering the oath, the judge shall issue an order that the prisoner be discharged from custody, if he be imprisoned for no other cause; and the officer, upon service of such order, shall discharge the prisoner forthwith, if he be imprisoned for no other cause.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1149.

5120. Renewal of application for discharge.

SEC. 178. If such judge should not discharge the prisoner, he may apply for his discharge at the end of every succeeding ten days, in the same manner as above provided, and the same proceeding shall thereupon be had.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1150.

5121. Exemption from further arrest—Judgment remains in force.

SEC. 179. The prisoner, after being so discharged, shall be forever exempt from arrest and imprisonment for the same debt; but the judgment against him shall remain in full force against any estate, present or future, of the prisoner, not exempt from execution.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1151, 1152.

5122. Plaintiff may order discharge.

SEC. 180. The plaintiff in the action may, at any time, order the prisoner to be discharged, and he shall not thereafter be liable to imprisonment for the same cause of action.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1153.

5123. Plaintiff must advance jailer's costs.

SEC. 181. Whenever a person is committed to jail on a judgment recovered in a civil action, the creditor, his agent, or attorney, shall advance to the jailer immediately upon such commitment, sufficient money to pay for the support of said prisoner for at least two weeks, at the rate of two dollars and a half per day, and in case the money should not be so advanced, the jailer shall forthwith discharge such prisoner from custody, and such discharge shall be a bar against imprisonment for the same debt. At the expiration of such two weeks, should such creditor refuse to advance a like sum, the prisoner will be discharged as above provided, and with the same effect.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1154, 1237–1264.

CHAPTER 20

CLAIM AND DELIVERY

5124. Delivery may be claimed before answer.
5125. Requirements of affidavit.
5126. Order to sheriff indorsed on affidavit.
5127. Undertaking, sheriff to take property and serve papers.
5128. Defendant may except to sureties, notice, justification, waiver.
5129. Redelivery to defendant on giving bond.
5130. Plaintiff may except to sureties—Notice.
5131. Qualifications of sureties and manner of justification.
5132. Concealed property may be taken by force after demand.
5133. Keeping and delivery of property on payment of fees.
5134. Claimed by other person—Plaintiff to indemnify officer.
5135. Return to be made within twenty days.

5124. Delivery may be claimed before answer.

SEC. 182. The plaintiff in an action to recover the possession of personal property may, at the time of issuing the summons, or at any time before answer, claim the delivery of such property to him as provided in this chapter.

Kerr, C. C. P., 509.

When replevin lies. As a general principle the owner of a chattel may take it by replevin from any person whose possession is unlawful, unless it is in the custody of the law or unless it has been taken by replevin from him by the party in possession. Buckley v. Buckley, 9 Nev. 373.

Description of property in replevin. In replevin the description of the property must be so clear that an officer can identify it. Idem.

Replevin of goods in hands of plaintiff in other replevin. Where personal property in the hands of the plaintiff in a suit of claim and delivery is claimed by a third person, the latter is not obliged to intervene in the pending action, but may institute an original action of claim and delivery. Idem.

Right to maintain replevin. In an action for the recovery of specific personal property, it is necessary for the plaintiff to show that he is entitled to the immediate possession. Hilger v. Edwards, 5 Nev. 85.

Replevin—Practice. When the plaintiff in an action of replevin has introduced evidence showing that he had purchased the property and became vested with the legal title thereto, the defendants cannot raise the question of fraud in the sale, or of want of delivery, until they have shown some right or interest in the property, or some lien upon it that entitles them to attack the sale. West v. Humphrey, 21 Nev. 80 (25 P. 446).

Action of replevin—Demand not necessary. Not indispensably necessary to show a demand upon the defendant to return the property before suit brought. A demand serves no purpose, except to establish a conversion or a wrongful detention. Perkins v. Barnes, 3 Nev. 557, approved; Whitman M. C. v. Tritle, 4 Nev. 494.

Demand not necessary in trover. Ward v. C. R. W. Co., 13 Nev. 45.

Demand—When not necessary. Hanson v. Chiatovich, 13 Nev. 395.

Replevin—Measure of damages in—Value of property involved in—Fluctuation of valuation during litigation. When the value of the cattle—the subject of the litigation—had fluctuated during the pendency of the action, an instruction that plaintiff could recover the highest value between the taking and the trial was erroneous. The value at the time of the trial is the only competent indemnity. Gardner v. Brown, 22 Nev. 156 (37 P. 240).

Replevin—Recovery of possession primary object of. Idem.

Form of judgment in replevin. An absolute judgment for value, not allowing defendant to satisfy judgment by return of property with costs and damages, is erroneous. Lambert v. McFarland, 2 Nev. 58.

Replevin—Gift from deceased person set up by defendant—Declaration of party as part of res gestæ. Rollins v. Strout, 6 Nev. 150.

Questions involved on replevin against a United States marshal. Where a replevin suit was commenced in a state court against a marshal for goods seized by him under attachment process from a United States court: Held, that the state court could not extend its inquiry beyond the question as to whether the federal process was valid; and if so, that the question of title to the goods was irrelevant. Feusier v. Lammon, 6 Nev. 209.

If the goods have been taken from the marshal, court has jurisdiction to return them to him. Idem.

Verdict in replevin — Requisites — Judgment and execution. Carson v. Applegarth, 6 Nev. 187.

Primary object of action of replevin. The recovery of damages in a proper case is as much a primary object of the action of replevin as is the recovery of the property in specie. Buckley v. Buckley, 12 Nev. 423.

Replevin for sheep—Right to recover increase and wool—Indemnity. Idem.

Measure of damages—Action of trover. Value of the article when converted, with interest on that value to the time of trial. O'Meara v. North American M. Co., 2 Nev. 112. Rule explained at length. Idem; approved in Carlyon v. Lannan, 4 Nev. 156; Ward v. C. R. W. Co., 13 Nev. 44.

Replevin for timber cut—Tenants in common. When one tenant in common sells the right to a stranger to cut timber off of the common property, another tenant in common of the same property cannot maintain replevin for the timber after it has been cut. Alford v. Bradeen, 1 Nev. 228.

Trover for wood cut—Title to land, when immaterial—Place and time of conversion—Liability of bailee. Ward v. C. R. W. Co., 13 Nev. 44.

Trover—Allegation of value material. If not denied it need not be proven. Hixon v. Pixley, 15 Nev. 475.

Time of conversion immaterial—Notice and demand—Instruction. Idem.

Trover for mining stock against assignee for benefit of creditors. Boylan v. Huguet, 8 Nev. 345.

Trover — Form of — Verdict. Swan v. Smith, 13 Nev. 257.

5125. Requirements of affidavit.

SEC. 183. Where a delivery is claimed, an affidavit shall be made by the plaintiff, or by some one in his behalf, showing:

1. That the plaintiff is the owner of the property claimed (particularly describing it), or is lawfully entitled to the possession thereof.

2. That the property is wrongfully detained by the defendant.

3. The alleged cause of the detention thereof according to his best knowledge, information, and belief.

4. That the same has not been taken for a tax, assessment, or fine, pursuant to a statute, or seized under an execution or an attachment against the property of the plaintiff, or, if so seized, that it is by statute exempt from such seizure; and,

5. The actual value of the property.

Kerr, C. C. P., 510.

5126. Order to sheriff indorsed on affidavit.

SEC. 184. The plaintiff or his attorney may thereupon, by indorsement in writing upon the affidavit, require the sheriff of the county where the property claimed may be, to take the same from the defendant.

Kerr, C. C. P., 511.

5127. Undertaking, sheriff to take property and serve papers.

SEC. 185. Upon a receipt of the affidavit and notice, with a written undertaking, executed by two or more sufficient sureties, approved by the sheriff, to the effect that they are bound to the defendant in double the value of the property, in gold coin of the United States, as stated in the affidavit for the prosecution of the action, for the return of the property to the defendants, if return thereof be adjudged, and for the payment to him of such sum as may from any cause be recovered against the plaintiff, in gold coin of the United States, the sheriff shall forthwith take the property described in the affidavit, if it be in the possession of the defendant or his agent, and retain it in his custody. He shall also, without delay, serve on the defendant a copy of the affidavit, notice, and undertaking, by delivering the same to him personally, if he can be found, or to his agent, from whose possession the property is taken; or, if neither can be found, by leaving them at the usual place of abode of either, with some person of suitable age and discretion; or if neither have any known place of abode, by putting them in the nearest postoffice, directed to the defendant.

Kerr, C. C. P., 512.

5128. Defendant may except to sureties, notice, justification, waiver.

SEC. 186. The defendant may, within two days after the service of a copy of the affidavit and the undertaking, give notice to the sheriff that he excepts to the sufficiency of the sureties. If he fails to do so, he shall be deemed to have waived all objection to them. When the defendant excepts, the sureties shall justify on notice in like manner as upon bail on arrest; and the sheriff shall be responsible for the sufficiency of the sureties until the objection to them is either waived, as above provided, or until they justify. If the defendant except to the sureties he cannot reclaim the property, as provided in the next section.

Kerr, C. C. P., 513.

5129. Redelivery to defendant on giving bond.

SEC. 187. At any time before the delivery of the property to the plaintiff, the defendant may, if he do not except to the sureties of the plaintiff, require the return thereof, upon giving to the sheriff a written undertaking, executed by two or more sufficient sureties, to the effect that they are bound in double the value of the property, in gold coin of the United States, as stated in the affidavit of the plaintiff, for the delivery thereof to the plaintiff, if such delivery be adjudged, and for payment to him of such sum, in gold coin of the United States, as may for any cause be recovered against the defendant. If a return of the property be not so required within five days after the taking and serving of notice to the defendant, it shall be delivered to the plaintiff, except as provided in section 192.

Kerr, C. C. P., 514.

An action on an undertaking given to the sheriff upon a return of property replevied, should be brought in the name of the real party at interest; and when the name of the sheriff was joined with his as plaintiff: Held, that the complaint was clearly demurrable for misjoinder of parties.

Though this section requires the undertaking given on return of property replevied to be delivered to the sheriff, the officer has no interest in it, and is not a proper party in a suit on it. McBeth v. Van Sickle, 6 Nev. 134, 135.

5130. Plaintiff may except to sureties—Notice.

SEC. 188. The defendant's sureties, upon notice to the plaintiff of not less than two or more than five days, shall justify before the judge or the clerk in the same manner as upon bail on arrest; and upon such justification, the sheriff shall deliver the property to the defendant. The sheriff shall be responsible for the defendant's sureties until they justify, or until the justification is completed or expressly waived, and may retain the property until that time. If they or others in their place, fail to justify at the time and place appointed, he shall deliver the property to the plaintiff.

Kerr, C. C. P., 515.

5131. Qualifications of sureties and manner of justification.

SEC. 189. The qualifications of sureties and their justification shall be such as are prescribed by this act in respect to bail upon an order of arrest.

Kerr, C. C. P., 516.

5132. Concealed property may be taken by force after demand.

SEC. 190. If the property, or any part thereof, be concealed in a building or inclosure, the sheriff shall publicly demand its delivery. If it be not delivered, he shall cause the building or inclosure to be broken open, and take the property into his possession, and, if necessary, he may call to his aid the power of his county.

Kerr, C. C. P., 517.

5133. Keeping and delivery of property on payment of fees.

SEC. 191. When the sheriff shall have taken property, as in this chapter provided, he shall keep it in a secure place, and deliver it to the party entitled thereto upon receiving his lawful fees for taking, and necessary expenses for keeping the same.

Kerr, C. C. P., 518.

5134. Claimed by other person—Plaintiff to indemnify officer.

SEC. 192. If the property taken be claimed by any other person than the defendant or his agent, and such person make affidavit of his title thereto, or right to possession thereof, stating the grounds of such title or right, and serve the same upon the sheriff, the sheriff shall not be bound to keep the property or deliver it to the plaintiff, unless the plaintiff, on demand of him or his agent, indemnify the sheriff against such claim by an undertaking, made payable in gold coin of the United States, by two sufficient sureties, accompanied by their affidavits that they are each worth double the value of the property, as specified in the affidavit of the plaintiff, over and above their debts and liabilities, exclusive of property exempt from execution, and are freeholders or householders in the county; and no claim to such property by any other person than the defendant or his agent shall be valid against the sheriff unless so made.

Kerr, C. C. P., 519.

5135. Return to be made within twenty days.

SEC. 193. The sheriff shall file the notice, undertaking and affidavit, with his proceedings thereon, with the clerk of the court in which the action is pending, within twenty days after taking the property mentioned therein.

Kerr, C. C. P., 520.

CHAPTER 21

INJUNCTION

5136. Injunction defined, granted by court or judge.
5137. In what cases injunction may be granted.
5138. Injunction, when granted—Complaint verified.
5139. Injunction not allowed after answer except on notice—Restraining order.
5140. Undertaking required upon injunction.
5141. Court or judge may order hearing before granting injunction—Affidavits used.
5142. Injunction to suspend business of corporation—Notice—Exception when state a party.
5143. Motion to dissolve or modify injunction—Notice—Hearing.
5144. Supreme court may prescribe rules.
5145. Injunction refused or dissolved—Bond given, when — Receiver appointed, when.
5146. Bond instead of dissolution.

5136. Injunction defined, granted by court or judge.

SEC. 194. An injunction is a writ or order requiring a person to refrain from a particular act. The order or writ may be granted by the court in which the action is brought, or by a judge thereof, and when made by a judge may be enforced as the order of the court.

Kerr, C. C. P., 525.

Under this section an injunction can only be granted after notice, or after an order to show cause; and an order refusing an injunction will not be disturbed on appeal if the record does not show such notice or order to show cause. Lady Bryan G. and S. M. Co. v. Lady Bryan M. Co., 4 Nev. 414, 415.

As a general rule an injunction will not be granted upon a pleading alone, whose material averments are denied by the pleadings of the opposite party. Idem.

An injunction can only be granted after notice, or after an order to show cause; and an order refusing an injunction will not be dismissed on appeal if the record does not show such notice or order to show cause. Idem.

A temporary restraining order, to continue during the pendency of the application for an injunction, may be granted without notice or order to show cause; but it seems that an appeal is authorized only from an order granting or refusing an injunction properly so called. Idem.

Cited, W. U. Tel. Co. v. A. & P. S. T. Co., 5 Nev. 110.

Injunction will not issue where there is a full, complete and adequate remedy at law. Conley v. Chedic, 6 Nev. 222.

Injunction, a preventive remedy. An injunction is only issued to prevent apprehended injury or mischief, and affords no redress for wrongs already committed. Sherman v. Clark, 4 Nev. 138 (97 A. D. 516).

Probability of injury to justify injunction. To make out a case for injunction, it must appear that there is at least a reasonable probability, not merely a bare possibility, that a real injury will occur if the writ is not granted. Idem.

Acts not authorizing injunction. Idem.

Injunction—Proper practice by court. Hawthorne v. Smith, 3 Nev. 182 (93 A. D. 397).

No injunction on complaint alone when fully denied by answer — General rule. Magnet M. Co. v. P. & P. S. M. Co., 9 Nev. 346.

Discretion in granting preliminary injunctions. When it is granted on a complaint exhibiting a prima facie case, and there is no answer put in, and no showing made that any defense on the merits exists, the order will not be disturbed. Hobart v. Ford, 6 Nev. 77; Sierra Nevada M. Co. v. Sears, 10 Nev. 346.

Sufficiency of complaint — Insolvency of defendant. Idem.

Injunction auxiliary to controverted legal right. Parties have a right to have legal right determined by a jury before injunction can properly issue. Ophir Co. v. Carpenter, 4 Nev. 534 (97 A. D. 550).

Injunction—Escaping water—Prescriptive right. Where, in an action against the owner of a ditch, for escape of water therefrom onto the plaintiff's land, defendants claim a prescriptive right, which would in time ripen into an adverse right, plaintiff prevailing is entitled to an injunction. Shields v. Orr Ditch Co., 23 Nev. 349 (47 P. 194).

Remedy at law — Continuing trespass. Where no appreciable injury will be done by the acts of defendants, that are threatened to be continued, and the defendants are solvent and able to respond in damages, an injunction will not be granted, although the title of plaintiff is undisputed. To justify the issuance of an injunction there must be cause to fear irreparable damage for which courts of law furnish no adequate remedy. Thorne v. Sweeney, 12 Nev. 251.

Injunction in actions of trespass. The foundation of the jurisdiction in a court of equity to issue an injunction, in aid of the action of trespass, is the probability of irreparable injury; the inadequacy of pecuniary compensation; or the prevention of a multiplicity of suits. Idem.

Pleadings—Irreparable injury. It is not sufficient that the complaint alleges that the injury would be irreparable. The plaintiff must affirmatively state the necessary facts to show the court that the injury will be irreparable. Idem. Affirmed, Rivers v. Burbank, 13 Nev. 398; Thorne v. Sweeney, 13 Nev. 415; Hoye v. Sweetman, 19 Nev. 376 (12 P. 504).

No injunction where motion affords remedy. Hamer v. Kane, 7 Nev. 61.

When injunction will not issue to restrain collection of taxes. No court of equity will allow its injunction to issue to restrain the collection of a tax, except when actually necessary to protect the rights of citizens who have no plain, speedy and adequate remedy at law. W. F. & Co. v. Dayton, 11 Nev. 161.

Before an injunction will be granted, it must appear that the enforcement of the tax would lead to a multiplicity of suits, or produce irreparable injury, or, if the property is real estate, throw a cloud upon the title of complainant, or there must be some allegation of fraud. Idem.

Insolvency of assessor. The mere allegation of the insolvency of the assessor is not sufficient to authorize the court to grant an injunction to restrain the collection of a tax. Idem.

Injunction too late to restrain act already done. Warrants already issued by a county auditor are beyond the reach of an injunction suit brought to restrain him from issuing such warrants. Webster v. Fish, 5 Nev. 190.

Injunction not the proper remedy—Assignment of undertaking on attachment or commencement of action thereon. Elder v. Shaw, 12 Nev. 78.

5137. In what cases injunction may be granted.

SEC. 195. An injunction may be granted in the following cases:

1. When it shall appear by the complaint that the plaintiff is entitled to the relief demanded, and such relief or any part thereof consists in restraining the commission or continuance of the act complained of, either for a limited period or perpetually.

2. When it shall appear by the complaint or affidavit that the commission or continuance of some act, during the litigation, would produce great or irreparable injury to the plaintiff.

3. When it shall appear, during the litigation, that the defendant is doing or threatens, or is about to do, or is procuring or suffering to be done, some act in violation of the plaintiff's rights respecting the subject of the action, and tending to render the judgment ineffectual.

Kerr, C. C. P., 526.

May enjoin bank examiner from closing solvent bank, sec. 675.

An injunction is only issued to prevent apprehended injury or mischief, and affords no redress for wrongs already committed. Sherman v. Clark, 4 Nev. 141 (97 A. D. 516).

Under this section the court may, in its sound discretion, grant a temporary injunction where the rights of the parties under the circumstances may be better protected thereby. Rhodes M. Co., v. Belleville P. M. Co., 32 Nev. 230 (106 P. 561).

5138. Injunction, when granted—Complaint verified.

SEC. 196. The injunction may be granted at the time of issuing the summons upon the complaint, and at any time afterwards, before judgment, upon affidavits or other evidence. The complaint in the one case, and the affidavits or other evidence in the other, shall show satisfactorily that sufficient grounds exist therefor. No injunction shall be granted on the complaint unless it be verified by the oath of the plaintiff, or some one in his behalf, that he, the person making the oath, has read the complaint, or heard the complaint read, and knows the contents thereof, and the same is true of his own knowledge, except the matters therein stated on information and belief, and that as to those matters he believes it to be true. When granted on the complaint, a copy of the complaint and verification attached shall be served with the injunction; when granted upon affidavit, without notice, a copy of the affidavit shall be served with the injunction.

Kerr, C. C. P., 527.

Where the verification to the complaint is in the form required by this section, it is sufficient. Sierra Nev. M. Co. v. Sears, 10 Nev. 346, 353.

5139. Injunction not allowed after answer except on notice—Restraining order.

SEC. 197. An injunction shall not be allowed after the defendant has answered, unless upon notice, or upon an order made as provided in section 199, but in such case the defendant may be restrained until the decision of the court or judge granting or refusing the injunction.

Kerr, C. C. P., 528.

5140. Undertaking required upon injunction.

SEC. 198. On granting an injunction, or a restraining order, the court or judge must require, except when the state, a county, or municipal corporation, or a married woman in a suit against her husband, is a party plaintiff, a written undertaking on the part of the plaintiff, with sufficient sureties, to the effect that the plaintiff will pay to the party enjoined such damages, not exceeding an amount to be specified, as such party may sustain by reason of the injunction, if the court finally decide that the plaintiff was not entitled thereto. Within five days after the service of the injunction, the defendant may except to the sufficiency of the sureties. If he fails to do so he is deemed to have waived all objections to them. When excepted to, the plaintiff's sureties, upon notice to the defendant of not less than two nor more than five days must justify before a judge or county clerk in the same manner as upon bail on arrest, and upon failure to justify, or if others in their place fail to justify at the time and place appointed, the order granting an injunction shall be dissolved.

Kerr, C. C. P., 529.

5141. Court or judge may order hearing before granting injunction—Affidavits used.

SEC. 199. If the court or judge deem it proper that the defendant, or any of several defendants, should be heard, before granting the injunction, an order shall be made fixing a time and place for hearing the application for the injunction, a copy of which order shall be served upon the person or persons designated therein, and the defendant may in the meantime be restrained. Upon the hearing, the parties may use affidavits, other written evidence, and oral testimony.

Kerr, C. C. P., 530.

5142. Injunction to suspend business of corporation—Notice—Exception—When state a party.

SEC. 200. An injunction or restraining order to suspend the general and ordinary business of a corporation shall not be granted without due notice of the application therefor, to be served in the manner prescribed for service of the summons in the action, except when the state is a party to the proceeding.

Kerr, C. C. P., 531.

Under this section, in a proceeding by stockholders to appoint a receiver for a bank, and to enjoin its further operation, the directors of the bank must be made parties to the proceeding, and notice commanding an appearance forthwith to show cause why a receiver should not be appointed is not a sufficient notice, and all orders made in such a proceeding without making the directors parties are void. Golden v. District Court, 31 Nev. 250, 261 (101 P. 1021).

5143. Motion to dissolve or modify injunction—Notice—Hearing.

SEC. 201. If an injunction be granted without notice, the defendant, at any time before the trial, may apply, upon reasonable notice, to the judge who granted the injunction, or to the court in which the action is pending, or a judge thereof, to dissolve or modify the same. The application may be made upon the complaint and the affidavit or affidavits on which the injunction was granted, if any were used, or upon affidavits or other testimony on the part of the defendant, with or without the answer. If the application be made upon affidavit, or other evidence, on the part of the defendant, but not otherwise, the plaintiff may oppose the same by affidavits or other evidence in addition to the affidavits on which the injunction was granted, and the defendant may then, in proper cases, introduce rebutting affidavits or other evidence; provided, that for the purpose of allowing the plaintiff to introduce further evidence, the answer or verification thereto attached shall be deemed an affidavit.

Kerr, C. C. P., 532.

5144. Supreme court may prescribe rules.

SEC. 202. The supreme court may prescribe by rule the time when and the cases in which the service of affidavits to be used upon applications for injunctions, and motions to dissolve injunctions, shall be made; and may also provide by rule for the giving of notice before such hearing of the kind of testimony to be used, and make all needful rules on the subject of injunctions not in conflict with this or other acts.

5145. Injunction refused or dissolved — Bond given, when — Receiver appointed, when.

SEC. 203. If, upon the hearing of an application for an injunction, or for the dissolution of an injunction, it does not satisfactorily appear that there is a sufficient cause for an injunction, or if it appear that the extent of the injunction is too great, it shall be refused, dissolved, or modified, as the case may be, and upon all such applications, in actions respecting mines, or in actions respecting or involving the question of the irrigation of lands, the court or judge hearing the same may, instead of granting or continuing the injunction, make an order requiring the party against whom the application is made, to give a bond in an amount fixed by such court or judge, with sufficient sureties, to be approved by such court or judge, conditioned for the payment to the plaintiff of all damages which he may sustain by reason of the use or occupation of the mine or other acts complained of by the party giving the bond, his or its agents, servants, employees, grantees or other persons by his or its consent, pending the litigation. If the plaintiff finally recover, or if upon failure to give such bond within the time prescribed in the order, the injunction shall be granted or continued, as the case may be, or the court or judge may appoint a receiver to take charge of the mine, or the proceeds thereof, pending litigation.

Kerr, C. C. P., 530–533.

The district court has the power to appoint a receiver, on an ex parte application, when a proper showing is made, as in this case. Maynard v. Railey, 2 Nev. 313.

The court will appoint receiver, when one partner excludes his copartner from a participation in the affairs of the partnership. So, too, when both partners have assigned their respective interests, and the assignees cannot agree. Idem.

When suit is brought and summons issued, the court has power to appoint a receiver before the summons is served on defendants. But the appointment of a receiver ought not to be made without notice, except in cases of emergency. Idem.

Injunction, when to be dissolved—Denial of equities. An injunction granted upon a complaint, the allegations of which have been fully and fairly denied by the answer, should on motion and in the absence of further showing be dissolved, unless in exceptional cases when good reason appears for continuing it. Magnet v. P. & P. S. M. Co., 9 Nev. 346.

Motion to dissolve injunction on complaint and answer. On a motion to dissolve an injunction, heard upon complaint and answer alone, the full and fair denials of the answer are taken as true. Idem.

Where no evidence to sustain complaint, injunction must be dissolved. Where the main allegations of a complaint for injunction, made upon information and belief, were fully and positively denied by the answer; and on motion to dissolve an injunction granted thereon without notice, the evidence entirely failed to sustain any of the material allegations of the complaint: Held, that a denial of such motion was too erroneous to admit of discussion. Perley v. Forman, 7 Nev. 309.

5146. Bond instead of dissolution.

SEC. 204. It shall be good cause, in the discretion of the court or judge, for the dissolution of an injunction that the plaintiff is doing, or causing, or permitting to be done, some act pending the litigation which, if continued, will be injurious to the defendant if he finally recover, or to the property in dispute. But the court or judge hearing a motion to dissolve an injunction, may, instead of granting such motion, direct by order that the plaintiff give to the parties restrained a bond conditioned, as provided in section 203, or upon his failure to do so within the time prescribed in such order, that the injunction shall be dissolved.

Kerr, C. C. P., 530–533.

5147. Attachment of property of defendant, when allowed.

SEC. 205. The plaintiff at the time of issuing the summons, or at any time afterwards, may have the property of the defendant attached as security for the satisfaction of any judgment that may be recovered, unless the defendant give security to pay such judgment as hereinafter provided in the following cases:

1. In an action upon a judgment or upon a contract, express or implied, for the direct payment of money, which is not secured by mortgage, lien or pledge upon real or personal property situated or being in this state; or if originally so secured, when such security has, without any act of the plaintiff or the person to whom the security was given, become valueless or insufficient in value to secure the sum due the plaintiff, in which case the attachment shall issue only for the unsecured portion of the amount due the plaintiff, or excess of the amount due the plaintiff above the value of the security as the same has become so insufficient.

2. In an action against a defendant not residing in this state.

3. In an action by a resident of this state for the recovery of the value of property, where such property has been converted by a defendant without the consent of the owner.

4. Where a defendant has absconded, or is about to abscond with the intent to defraud his creditors.

5. Where a defendant conceals himself so that service of summons cannot be made upon him.

6. Where a defendant is about to remove his property, or any part thereof, beyond the jurisdiction of the court, with the intent to defraud his creditors.

7. Where a defendant is about to convert his property, or any part thereof, into money, with the intent to place it beyond the reach of his creditors.

8. Where a defendant has assigned, removed, disposed of, or is about to dispose of his property, or any part thereof, with the intent to defraud his creditors.

9. Where a defendant has fraudulently or criminally contracted the debt or incurred the obligation for which suit has been commenced.

Kerr, C. C. P., 537.

The attachment law of 1861 was not repealed by the amendment of 1864–5. The old law remains unimpaired as to debts contracted prior to the amendment, while the amendments have application only to liabilities incurred since their enactment. Williams v. Glasgow, 1 Nev. 533.

An amendment of an attachment act continues the old law in full force so far as it relates to prior contracts. Idem. Bowers v. Beck, 2 Nev. 157–159.

This section is somewhat similar to section 143, Stats. 1861, 337, which section has had the following citations:

The district court has the power to appoint a receiver on an ex parte application, where a proper showing is made. Maynard v. Railey, 2 Nev. 313, 315.

Cited, Lake Bigler R. Co. v. Bedford, 4 Nev. 404.

Where an affidavit was made on October 5th, stating the necessary facts to justify the issuance of an attachment, but it was not filed until the 16th, on which day the attachment was issued: Held, this was sufficient to justify the issuance of the writ. It having been shown that the debt was past due and unpaid on the 5th, the presumption of law is it still remains so on the 16th, there being no showing to the contrary. O'Neil v. N. Y. & S. P. M. Co., 3 Nev. 141, 150–153.

The process of attachment creates a lien upon the property of the debtor that is seized thereunder, and it is thereafter held as security for the satisfaction of any judgment that may be obtained by the plaintiff in the action. Gaudette v. Roeder, 13 Nev. 347.

An attachment is a mere ancillary remedy, and in all cases an action must be commenced or must be pending at the time the writ is issued. Levy v. Elliot, 14 Nev. 438.

Cited, Sadler v. Tatti, 17 Nev. 435 (30 P. 1082).

Under the provisions of the ninth clause of this section an attachment will lie where the cause of action arose out of a rape on plaintiff's daughter. Kuehn v. Paroni, 20 Nev. 206 (19 P. 273).

An affidavit reciting that an action had been brought to recover a sum of money for goods sold and delivered at defendant's request, and that defendant was indebted to plaintiff in such sum over and above all set-offs or counterclaims, and averring the existence of two grounds for attachment, was sufficient to warrant the issuance of an attachment. Pratt v. Stone, 25 Nev. 365, 372 (60 P. 514).

After reciting the facts, in an action against the voluntary unincorporated association and its members where damages for injuries to plaintiff's business by boycott, etc., wherein the affidavit for attachment recites subdivision 9 above as the ca se therefor: Held, that the affidavit states a good cause of action for attachment upon the grounds stated. Held, also, that it was not necessary that all the specific acts alleged to have been committed in pursuance of the conspiracy be in themselves of a criminal nature, or that it be determined whether each and every specific act is unlawful. Branson v. I. W. W., 30 Nev. 271, 286, 293 (95 P. 354).

When a party acts in good faith, he is not guilty of constructive fraud in commencing an attachment suit upon a stated account for a greater sum than is actually due. His attachment to the extent of the amount actually due him is valid against subsequent attaching creditors. Mendes v. Freiters, 16 Nev. 388.

An objection to the validity of an attachment on the ground that the affidavit and the undertaking were defective, cannot be raised by a third party in a collateral proceeding. Moresi v. Swift, 15 Nev. 215.

Wood cut by contractor not attachable as his property. Hilger v. Edwards, 5 Nev. 84.

Bill of sale subsequent to attachment is not admissible in evidence because the case upon the facts necessarily turned upon the question as to whether the property was liable to attachment. Tognini v. Kyle, 17 Nev. 209 (45 A. R. 442, 30 P. 829).

5148. Clerk to issue writ of attachment upon affidavit—Contents.

SEC. 206. The clerk of the court shall issue the writ of attachment upon receiving and filing an affidavit by or on behalf of the plaintiff showing the nature of the plaintiff's claim, that same is just, the amount which the affiant believes the plaintiff is entitled to recover, and the existence of any one of the grounds for an attachment enumerated in the preceding section.

Kerr, C. C. P., 538.

When an attachment is issued upon a claim incurred prior "to the taking effect of a new attachment act," the affidavit is sufficient if it conforms to the requirements of the old act, and need not contain the averments required by the new act. Williams v. Glasgow, 1 Nev. 533, 538.

Great strictness in the form of the affidavit should not be required. The defendant is protected by bond. Bowers v. Beck, 2 Nev. 140.

See Pratt v. Stone, 25 Nev. 365, 372 (60 P. 514), under sec. 205 of this act.

5149. Undertaking required before writ issues.

SEC. 207. Before issuing the writ the clerk shall require a written undertaking on the part of the plaintiff payable in gold coin of the United States, in a sum not less than two hundred ($200) dollars; and not less than one-fourth of the amount claimed by plaintiff, and not exceeding five thousand ($5,000) dollars, with two or more sureties to the effect that if said plaintiff dismiss such action or if the defendant recover judgment the plaintiff will pay in gold coin of the United States all costs that may be awarded to the defendant, and all damages which he may sustain by reason of the attachment including attorney's fees, not exceeding the sum specified in the undertaking. Each of the sureties shall annex to the undertaking an affidavit that he is a resident and householder or freeholder within the state, and worth double the sum specified in the undertaking over and above all his debts and liabilities, exclusive of property exempt from execution. Upon showing by the defendant after notice to the plaintiff, the court may require an additional bond.

Kerr, C. C. P., 539.

Cited, Bowers v. Beck, 2 Nev. 149.

5150. Writ directed to sheriff—Contents—To different counties.

SEC. 208. The writ shall be directed to the sheriff of any county in which property of such defendant may be, and require him to attach and safely keep all the property of such defendant within his county not exempt from execution, or so much thereof as may be sufficient to satisfy the plaintiff's demand, the amount of which shall be stated in conformity with the complaint, unless the defendant give him security by the undertaking, of at least two sufficient sureties, in an amount sufficient to satisfy such demand, besides costs, in the money or currency of the contract, in which case to take such undertaking. Several writs may be issued at the same time to the sheriffs of different counties.

Kerr, C. C. P., 540.

When sureties, not knowing that a writ of attachment had been levied upon the property of the defendant, execute an undertaking to prevent the levy of an attachment, and the property that had previously been levied upon is subsequently released from the attachment: Held, in an action against sureties, that their promise was only to prevent a levy of the writ of attachment, and that they could not be held liable for the release of the property after the attachment had been levied. Laveaga v. Wise, 13 Nev. 296, 301.

An undertaking under this section is not a "special promise to answer for the debt, default or miscarriage of another." Lightle v. Berning, 15 Nev. 389.

Such an undertaking is not void because the consideration is not expressed therein The release of property from an attachment constitutes a sufficient consideration for the undertaking. Idem.

An attachment must be served by the sheriff of the county where the property is situated, except in cases where one county is attached to another for judicial purposes. Sadler v. Tatti, 17 Nev. 435 (30 P. 1082).

Cited, State ex rel. N. T. G. & T. Co. v. Grimes, 29 Nev. 59 (84 P. 1061).

5151. Property subject to attachment.

SEC. 209. The rights or shares which the defendant may have in the stock of any corporation or company, together with the interest and profits therein, and all debts due such defendant, and all other property in this state of such defendant not exempt from execution, may be attached, and if judgment be recovered, be sold to satisfy the judgment and execution.

Kerr, C. C. P., 541.

Regarding preferred claims for wages, see section 5494; and preferred lien on bullion for ore, section 5492.

5152. Writ, how executed.

SEC. 210. The sheriff to whom the writ is directed and delivered shall execute the same without delay, and if the undertaking mentioned in section 208 be not given, as follows:

1. Real property shall be attached by leaving a copy of the writ with the occupant thereof; or, if there be no occupant, by posting a copy in a conspicuous place thereon, and filing a copy, together with a description of the property attached, with the recorder of the county.

2. Personal property capable of manual delivery shall be attached by taking it into custody.

3. Stock or shares, or interest in stock or shares, of any corporation or company, domestic or foreign, shall be attached by leaving with the president, or other head of the corporation or company, or secretary, cashier or managing agent thereof, a copy of the writ, and a notice stating the stock or interest of the defendant is attached in pursuance of such writ. If the corporation or company have no president or other head, or secretary, cashier or managing agent in this state, and is doing business in this state, upon whom a copy of the writ and notice may be left, the attachment may be made by service of the writ and notice in the manner allowed for the service of summons. Any transfer or attempt to transfer stock so attached shall be deemed a contempt of court and punished accordingly.

4. Debts and credits, due or to become due, and other personal property, not capable of manual delivery, shall be attached by leaving with the person owing such debts, or having in his possession, or under his control, such credits or other personal property, a copy of the writ, and a notice that the debts owing by him to the defendant, or the credits and other personal property in his possession or under his control, belonging to the defendant, are attached in pursuance of such writ.

Kerr, C. C. P., 542.

Neglect of sheriff in attachment, sec. 1651.

Where a sheriff seized and sold on execution out of a district court goods which were held by a constable on attachment out of a justice's court: Held, that the sheriff, though he was responsible to the constable, was not so to the creditor in the attachment suit. Foulks v. Pegg, 6 Nev. 136.

An officer who has seized goods upon attachment has a special property in them, coupled with the right of possession; and any interference therewith gives him a right of action against the wrongdoer. Idem.

In an estate, where no order for distribution has been made, neither the executor nor administrator is liable to the process of garnishment, nor can an allowed and approved claim against the estate be levied upon and sold under an execution, against the claimant. Norton v. Clarke, 18 Nev. 247, 250 (2 P. 529).

5153. Idem—Property in the hands of other persons—Service.

SEC. 211. Upon receiving information in writing from the plaintiff or his attorney, that any person has in his possession, or under his control, any credits or other personal property belonging to the defendant, or is owing any debt to defendant, the sheriff shall serve upon such person a copy of the writ, and a notice that such credits or other property or debts, as the case may be, are attached in pursuance of such writ.

Kerr, C. C. P., 543.

Debts not actually due or owing but depending on a contingency, cannot be reached by garnishment. Reinhart v. Hardesty, 17 Nev. 141, 145 (30 P. 694).

5154. Liability of other persons for property—Garnishment.

SEC. 212. All persons, including municipal and other corporations, having in their possession, or under their control, any credits or other personal property belonging to the defendant, or owing any debts to the defendant at the time of service upon them of a copy of the writ and notice as provided in the last two sections, shall be, unless such property is delivered up or transferred, or such debts be paid to the sheriff, liable to the plaintiff for the amount of such credits, property, or debts, until the attachment be discharged or any judgment recovered by him be satisfied.

Kerr, C. C. P., 544.

See Norton v. Clarke, 18 Nev. 247, 250 (2 P. 529), under sec. 210 of this act; also, Reinhart v. Hardesty, 17 Nev. 141, 145 (30 P. 694), under sec. 211 of this act.

5155. Examination of defendant and others—Order for delivery.

SEC. 213. Any person owing debts to the defendant or having in his possession or under his control any credits or other personal property belonging to the defendant, may be required to attend before the court, or judge, or a referee appointed by the court or judge, and be examined on oath respecting the same. The defendant may also be required to attend for the purpose of giving information respecting his property, and may be examined on oath. The court or judge may, after such examination, order personal property capable of manual delivery to be delivered to the sheriff on such terms as may be just, having reference to any liens thereon or claims against the same, and a memorandum to be given of all other personal property, containing the amount and description thereof.

Kerr, C. C. P., 545.

Where defendant in an attachment suit was examined under this section, and on its appearing that his only property subject to attachment consisted of mining stock which he had upon his person, a district judge ordered it delivered to the sheriff to be held subject to the result of suit, it was held that such order was not in excess of the judge's jurisdiction. Bivins v. Harris, 8 Nev. 153–156.

The examination of the defendant, provided for in this section, contemplates the examination of defendant, not only as a witness in a proceeding against a garnishee, but in a direct proceeding against himself; and it authorizes a discovery of property concealed upon his own person and an application of it to his just debts. Idem.

Where a district judge, in proceedings under this section, made an order requiring a garnishee to deliver to the sheriff moneys in her hands claimed to belong to the attachment debtor, it was held that, as the statute conferred upon the judge full jurisdiction over person and subject-matter, his order, however erroneous, could not be reviewed on certiorari. Birchfield v. Harris, 9 Nev. 382–386.

Plaintiff having attached property of defendant in the hands of a pledgee thereof, and having obtained a judgment against defendant, cannot apply the attached property to the satisfaction of his judgment by proceeding under this section; he must move by direct proceeding against the pledgee under sec. 365, et seq., of this act to prevent disposition of the property by the pledgee, pending an action to determine the rights in the property. Persing v. Reno B. Co., 30 Nev. 342, 350 (96 P. 1054).

Such plaintiff may, to convert to the satisfaction of the judgment property in the hands of a third person, proceed under this section, where the title to the property is undisputed, and the facts clearly show that it belongs to defendant and that the third person claims no interest therein. Idem.

5156. Officer to make inventory—Statement of persons served—Costs.

SEC. 214. The sheriff shall make a full inventory of the property attached and return the same with the writ. To enable him to make such returns as to debts and credits attached, he shall request at the time of service the party owing the debt, or having the credit, to give him a memorandum stating the amount and description of each; and if such memorandum be refused, he shall return the fact of refusal with the writ. The party refusing to give the memorandum may be required to pay the costs of any proceeding taken for the purpose of obtaining information respecting the amount and description of such debt or credit.

Kerr, C. C. P., 546.

An order imposing costs against a garnishee who had refused to make a statement, is not a "tax, impost, assessment, or municipal fine" within the meaning of those words as used in Const., sec. 321, ante. Wearne v. Haynes, 13 Nev. 104, 105.

A contention, under this section and sec. 221 of this act, that, in giving an undertaking, only property in the hands of the sheriff could be released and not property in a bank which had been garnisheed, was of no merit. Goldfield-Mohawk M. Co. v. Frances-Mohawk M. & L. Co., 31 Nev. 349, 358 (102 P. 963).

5157. Perishable property to be sold—Proceeds—Debts to be collected—Sheriff's receipt.

SEC. 215. If any of the property attached be perishable, the sheriff shall sell the same in the manner in which such property is sold on execution. The proceeds and other property attached by him shall be retained by him to answer any judgment that may be recovered in the action, unless sooner subject to execution upon another judgment recovered previous to the issuing of the attachment. Debts and credits attached may be collected by him, if the same can be done without suit. The sheriff's receipt shall be a sufficient discharge for the amount paid.

Kerr, C. C. P., 547.

The term "perishable property" applies only to property which is necessarily subject to immediate decay. Newman v. Kane, 9 Nev. 234.

5158. Property attached may be sold under execution, when.

SEC. 216. Whenever property has been taken by an officer under a writ of attachment, and it is made to appear satisfactorily to the court, or a judge thereof, that the interest of the parties to the action will be subserved by a sale thereof, the court or judge may order such property to be sold in the same manner as property is sold under an execution, and the proceeds to be deposited in the court to abide the judgment of the action. Such order can be made only upon notice to the adverse party or his attorney.

Kerr, C. C. P., 548.

When a sheriff attaches personal property he is not allowed, under the statute, to consider the element of expense in its preservation or keeping, but is bound to have it ready to be disposed of according to the judgment, unless compelled to sell on account of its being perishable; and it is no excuse for a failure to have it so ready that the best interests of the parties were subserved by a sale. Newman v. Kane, 9 Nev. 238.

5159. Judgment, how satisfied—Notice of sale—Sale for balance due.

SEC. 217. If judgment be recovered by the plaintiff, the sheriff shall satisfy the same out of the property attached by him which has not been delivered to the defendant or a claimant, as hereinafter provided, or subjected to execution on another judgment recovered previous to the issuing of the attachment, if it be sufficient for that purpose:

1. By paying to the plaintiff the proceeds of all sales of perishable property sold by him or of any debts or credits collected by him, or so much as shall be necessary to satisfy the judgment;

2. If any balance remain due, and an execution shall have been issued on the judgment, he shall sell under the execution so much of the property, real or personal, as may be necessary to satisfy the balance, if enough for that purpose remain in his hands. Notice of the sales shall be given, and the sales conducted as in other cases of sales on execution.

Kerr, C. C. P., 550.

Cited, Gaudette v. Roeder, 13 Nev. 347.

5160. Deficiency—Collected as upon execution—Redelivery.

SEC. 218. If, after selling all the property attached by him remaining in his hands, and applying the proceeds, together with the proceeds of any debts or credits collected by him, deducting the fees, to the payment of the judgment, any balance shall remain due, the sheriff shall proceed to collect such balance as upon an execution in other cases. Whenever the judgment shall have been paid, the sheriff, upon reasonable demand, shall deliver over to the defendant the attached property remaining in his hands, and any proceeds of the property attached unapplied on the judgment.

Kerr, C. C. P., 551.

5161. Action on defendant's undertaking.

SEC. 219. If the execution be returned unsatisfied, in whole or in part, the plaintiff may prosecute any undertaking given pursuant to section 208 or section 222, or he may proceed as in other cases upon the return of an execution.

Kerr, C. C. P., 552.

5162. Proceedings when defendant recovers judgment.

SEC. 220. If the defendant recover judgment against the plaintiff, any undertaking received in the action, all the proceeds of sales and money collected by the sheriff, and all the property attached remaining in the sheriff's hands, shall be delivered to the defendant or his agent; the order of attachment shall be discharged and the property released therefrom.

5162 A '13 30

Kerr, C. C. P., 553.

The adjudication of bankruptcy dissolves an attachment and vests the title to the property in the assignee. The sheriff is not thereafter entitled to recover any costs for keeping the property. Baker v. McLeod, 14 Nev. 148.

See Newman v. Kane, 9 Nev. 238, under sec. 216 of this act.

A judgment for defendant vacates the attachment, and an order of the court refusing to vacate and dismiss such judgment is a nullity and is not appealable. Ranft v. Young, 21 Nev. 401, 402 (30 P. 490).

The fact that there was a new trial pending did not tend to keep the attachment in force. Idem.

In such case defendant's remedy was by a proceeding against the sheriff, on his refusal to deliver the property, to recover it or its value. Idem.

5163. Application to discharge or modify on giving bond.

SEC. 221. Whenever the defendant shall have appeared in the action, he may apply, upon reasonable notice to the plaintiff, to the court in which the action is pending, or to the judge thereof, for an order to discharge the attachment, wholly or in part, upon the execution and filing of the undertaking mentioned in the next section. Such order may be granted directing the release from the operation of the attachment, upon the filing of such undertaking and the justification of the sureties thereon, if required by the plaintiff, of all or any part of the property, money, debts, or credits attached, as the case may be. All the proceeds of sales and moneys collected by the sheriff, and all the property attached remaining in his hands, so released, shall be delivered or paid to the defendant upon the filing of such undertaking and making such justification, if required by the plaintiff.

Kerr, C. C. P., 554.

Where sureties, not knowing that a writ of attachment has been levied upon property of defendant in an attachment suit, execute an undertaking to prevent the levy of an attachment, and the property that had been previously levied upon is subsequently released from the attachment, it was held, in an action against the sureties, that their promise was only to prevent levy of a writ of attachment, and that they could not be held liable for the release of the property after the attachment had been levied. Laveaga v. Wise, 13 Nev. 296, 301.

See Goldfield-Mohawk M. Co. v. Frances-Mohawk M. & L. Co., 31 Nev. 348, under sec. 214 of this act.

This does not mean that the defendant can apply for the discharge only at the time he appears, and no later. Goldfield-Mohawk M. Co. v. Frances-Mohawk M. & L. Co., 31 Nev. 348, 354, 357 (102 P. 963).

5164. Undertaking for release—Justification of sureties.

SEC. 222. On granting such order, the court or the judge shall require an undertaking on behalf of the defendant, with at least two sureties, residents and freeholders, or householders, in the county, which shall be filed to the effect, in case the value of the property or the amount of money, debts, or credits sought to be released shall equal or exceed the amount claimed by the plaintiff in the complaint, that the defendant will pay to the plaintiff the amount of the judgment which may be recovered in favor of the plaintiff in the action not exceeding the sum specified in the undertaking, which shall be at least double the amount so claimed by the plaintiff, and in the money or currency of the contract; or to the effect, in case the value of the property or the amount of money, debts, or credits sought to be released shall be less than the amount so claimed by the plaintiff, that the defendant will pay the amount of such judgment, to the extent of the value of the property, or amount of money, debts, or credits sought to be released, not exceeding the sum specified in the undertaking, which shall be at least double the amount of such property, money, debts, or credits, and in the money or currency of the contract. The value of the property sought to be released, if disputed, shall be determined, in the money or currency of the contract, by the court or judge thereof, upon proof or by a sworn appraiser or sworn appraisers, not exceeding three, to be appointed by the court or judge for that purpose. Before filing the undertaking, the defendant shall serve a copy thereof upon the plaintiff, and if the plaintiff require a justification by the sureties, he shall give notice thereof to the defendant within two days; or at the time of giving notice of motion for an order to discharge the attachment, the defendant may in his notice name the sureties, and if the plaintiff require them to justify he shall give notice thereof at the hearing of the motion. If required, the sureties shall justify before the court in which the suit is pending, or the judge thereof, after reasonable notice.

Kerr, C. C. P., 555.

There is nothing in the policy of the law to forbid a bond, given to release property from attachment, being enforced according to the strict letter of its condition. Bowers v. Beck, 2 Nev. 139.

Facts held not to discharge surety on bond given to release property attached. Seawell v. Cohn, 2 Nev. 308.

See Laveaga v. Wise, under sec. 221 of this act.

One keeping house with a hired servant doing the cooking and housework for him in a house in which he made his home and residence, and which he rented from a corporation bearing his name, in which he owned a majority of the stock and controlling interest, was a "householder" so as to qualify him as a surety on a bond for the discharge of an attachment. Goldfield-Mohawk M. Co. v. Frances-Mohawk M. & L. Co., 31 Nev. 348 (102 P. 963).

One whose rights depended on a quit-claim deed in possession, and who was not shown to have secured the government title, was none the less a freeholder so as to qualify him on such a bond. Idem.

An objection that the trial court should not have granted a motion for the discharge of attachment because a similar motion was pending and undetermined was of no merit, the earlier motion having been denied before or at the time the later one was granted. Idem.

5165. Motion to discharge writ for irregularity.

SEC. 223. The defendant may also, any time before the time of answering expires, apply upon motion, upon reasonable notice to the plaintiff, to the court in which the action is brought, or to the judge thereof, for the discharge of the attachment, on the ground that the writ was improperly issued.

Kerr, C. C. P., 556.

See Bowers v. Beck, under sec. 205 of this act.

On a motion to dissolve, where plaintiff had levied two attachments, his counsel stated that plaintiff claimed nothing under the second writ; it was held that such statement was a confession of error and the second writ should have been discharged. Kuehn v. Paroni, 20 Nev. 203, 206 (19 P. 273).

Where an attachment is issued under a statute allowing the writ where the liability was criminally incurred, an affidavit denying the averments of plaintiff's complaint constituting the cause of action, will not support a motion to dissolve, as that would necessitate a decision on the merits. Idem.

5166. Idem—When made upon affidavits.

SEC. 224. If the motion be made upon affidavits on the part of the defendant, but not otherwise, the plaintiff may oppose the same by affidavits or other evidence, in addition to those on which the writ of attachment was issued.

Kerr, C. C. P., 557.

5167. Writ improperly issued, discharged—Amendment of writ.

SEC. 225. If upon such application it satisfactorily appears that the writ of attachment was improperly or irregularly issued, it must be discharged; provided, that such attachment shall not be discharged if at or before the hearing of such application the writ of attachment or the affidavit or undertaking upon which such attachment was based shall be amended and made to conform to the provisions of this chapter.

Kerr, C. C. P., 558.

5168. Return of writ by sheriff—Contents.

SEC. 226. The sheriff shall return the writ of attachment with the summons, if issued at the same time; otherwise within twenty days after its receipt, with a certificate of his proceeding indorsed thereon or attached thereto.

CHAPTER 23

GARNISHMENT

5169. Garnishment issuable with attachment or afterward.
5170. When garnishee ordered to appear.
5171. Writ issued by the officer—Form.
5172. Names of garnishees inserted in writ—Service and return—Alias writ.
5173. Service and return of writ give court jurisdiction.
5174. Garnishee to answer under oath—Fee—Substance of interrogatories.
5175. Property to be delivered to sheriff—Sale—Judgment against garnishee.
5176. Garnishee may deliver property or money—Release—Return.
5177. Judgment against garnishee on failure to answer.
5178. Answer of garnishee—Reply.
5179. New matter in plaintiff's reply deemed denied—Trial—Judgment—Costs.

5180. Third person may be interpleaded—Notice—Proceedings.
5181. Garnishee may deduct sums due him by either party—Record.
5182. Judgment acquits garnishee for the amounts paid.
5183. Discharge of garnishee does not bar action by defendant.
5184. Judgment against garnishee for debt not due—Execution deferred.
5185. Property pledged to garnishee delivered on payment.
5186. Idem—If held to secure performance, plaintiff may perform.
5187. Idem—Disposal of proceeds—Plaintiff reimbursed.
5188. Garnishee liable for contempt.
5189. Costs taxed in discretion of court—Garnishee paid witness fee.
5190. Garnishment after judgment—Procedure—Liberal construction.
5191. New trials and appeals as in other cases.

5169. Garnishment issuable with attachment or afterward.

SEC. 227. At the time of issuing a writ of attachment in an action, or at any time thereafter, the plaintiff may have a writ of garnishment issue, and thereupon attach the credits, effects, debts, choses in action, and other personal property of the defendant in the possession or under the control of any third person, as garnishee, for the security of any judgment the plaintiff may recover in such action against the defendant.

Colo., Mills, An. C. (1896), 118; Utah, 3090.

5170. When garnishee ordered to appear.

SEC. 228. Whenever, in any action pending in any court of record, a writ of attachment has been issued and delivered to the proper officer, and the officer after diligent search shall not be able to find property of the defendant sufficient to satisfy the claim of plaintiff, the officer shall, upon the request of plaintiff, his agent, or attorney, summon such person or persons as the plaintiff may direct as garnishees to appear before the court wherein such action is pending.

Colo., Mills, An. C. (1896), 119; Utah, 3091.

5171. Writ issued by the officer—Form.

SEC. 229. The writ of garnishment shall be issued by the officer to whom the writ of attachment is delivered, and may be in substance as follows:

In the.....Judicial District Court of the State of Nevada, in and for the County of.....

....., Plaintiff, vs....., Defendant.

The State of Nevada, to....., garnishee, Greeting:

You are hereby notified that you are attached as garnishee in the above-entitled action, and you are commanded not to pay any debt due or to become due from yourself to the said....., defendants, or either of them, and that you must retain possession and control of all personal property, effects and choses in action of said....., defendants, or either of them, in order that the same may be dealt with according to law; you are required to answer the interrogatories attached hereto within ten days from the date of the service of this writ upon you if you are served in the county in which said action is brought, otherwise within twenty days from the date of such service. In case of your failure within the time aforesaid, the plaintiff may apply to the court for relief against you.

Given under my hand this.....day of....., 19.....

Colo., Mills, An. C. (1896), 120; Utah, 3092.

5172. Names of garnishees inserted in writ—Service and return—Alias writ.

SEC. 230. The names of as many individuals, corporations, or other persons as are sought to be charged as garnishees may be inserted in the same or different writs of garnishment; and the writ shall be served and returned by the officer issuing the same, in the same manner as a summons in the action; and in like manner alias writs may be issued, served, and returned.

Colo., Mills, An. C. (1896), 121; Utah, 3093.

5173. Service and return of writ give court jurisdiction.

SEC. 231. It shall not be necessary for the sheriff to return the writ of attachment before serving the writ of garnishment, but the return of the latter writ, showing due service on the person therein named as garnishee, shall give the court jurisdiction to proceed against such garnishee as hereinafter provided.

Colo., Mills, An. C. (1896), 122; Utah, 3094.

5174. Garnishee to answer under oath—Fee—Substance of interrogatories.

SEC. 232. The garnishee shall answer the interrogatories in writing upon oath or affirmation; but in no case shall the garnishee be required to answer any interrogatories unless and until he is paid or tendered by the plaintiff in the action or the officer serving the writ, a fee of two dollars, and unless such sum is paid or tendered to him or to the person making the answer in his behalf, no answer can be required of such garnishee or any person acting for him. In case such fee is paid or tendered, it is hereby made the duty of the officer serving the writ of garnishment to administer such oath or affirmation and to take and return such answer with the writ, or the garnishee after receiving the fees aforesaid may answer in like manner before anyone authorized to administer oaths and affirmations, and in the latter case it shall be the duty of the garnishee to file his answer, or to cause the same to be filed, in the proper court within the proper time required by the writ, or he shall be deemed in default.

The interrogatories may be in substance as follows:

1. Are you in any manner indebted to the defendants, or either of them, either in property or money, and is the same now due? If not due, when is the same to become due? State full particulars.

Answer.....

2. Have you in your possession, in your charge, or under your control, any property, effects, goods, chattels, rights, credits, or choses in action of said defendants, or either of them, or in which he is interested? If so, state what is the value of the same, and state fully all particulars.

Answer.....

I (insert the name of the garnishee), do solemnly swear (or affirm) that the answers to the foregoing interrogatories by me subscribed are true.

..... Signature of garnishee.

Subscribed and sworn to before me, this.....day of....., 19....

Colo., Mills, An. C. (1896), 123; Utah, 3095.

5175. Property to be delivered to sheriff—Sale — Judgment against garnishee.

SEC. 233. If the answer of the garnishee shows that he has personal property of any kind in his possession, or under his control, belonging to the defendant, the court shall enter judgment that the garnishee deliver the same to the sheriff, and if the plaintiff recover judgment against the defendant in the action, such property or so much thereof as may be necessary shall be sold as upon execution, and the proceeds applied toward the satisfaction of such judgment, together with the costs of the action and proceedings, and if there be a surplus of such property, or of the proceeds thereof, it shall be restored to the defendant. If the answer shows that the garnishee is indebted to the defendant, then, if the plaintiff recover judgment against the defendant in the action, the court shall also enter judgment in favor of the defendant for the use of the plaintiff against the garnishee for the amount of the indebtedness admitted in the answer; provided, that the judgment against the garnishee shall not be for a greater sum than is necessary to satisfy the judgment of the plaintiff against the defendant, together with costs as aforesaid; and in no case shall the garnishee be chargeable with costs unless his answer shall be successfully controverted as hereinafter provided.

Colo., Mills, An. C. (1896), 124; Utah, 3096.

A third person in possession of property attached as property of a defendant is liable to plaintiff for any property or credits of defendant which he may hold after his own rights, if any, are satisfied. Persing v. Reno B. Co., 30 Nev. 342, 350 (96 P. 1054).

5176. Garnishee may deliver property or money—Release—Return.

SEC. 234. In all cases the garnishee, upon making answer, may deliver to the officer serving the writ the property belonging to the defendant, together with the money due to the defendant, as shown by the answer, and the officer shall make return of such property and money with the writ to the court, to be dealt with as provided in the foregoing section; and thereupon the garnishee shall be relieved from further liability in the proceedings, unless his answer shall be successfully controverted as hereinafter provided.

Colo., Mills, An. C. (1896), 125; Utah, 3097.

5177. Judgment against garnishee on failure to answer.

SEC. 235. If the garnishee, having been duly served with the writ of garnishment and interrogatories, and having been paid or tendered the fee of two dollars, and the fact of such payment or tender is duly certified by the officer who served the writ over his official signature, or such fact is made to appear by the person serving the writ under oath, by affidavit, and after such payment or tender, when duly certified or proved as above provided fails or refuses to answer the interrogatories, within the time required, the plaintiff may commence an action against him in the manner other civil actions are commenced to recover a judgment against such garnishee. The plaintiff may, prior to the institution of such action, have a citation issued out of the court and served upon the said garnishee requiring him to appear before the court for examination and to testify as to any liability upon his part to the defendant in the action and may likewise require other witnesses upon subpena to appear at the same time and testify as to such liability. Upon the complaint and summons being served upon the garnishee, the action shall proceed as in other civil cases. If the plaintiff obtain a verdict or decision against the garnishee, the plaintiff may have judgment entered the same as if the garnishee had answered in accordance with such verdict or decision; and if a verdict or decision charge the garnishee with any liability, the plaintiff may recover costs of the proceedings against the garnishee.

5178. Answer of garnishee—Reply.

Colo., Mills, An. C. (1896), 127; Utah, 3099.

5179. New matter in plaintiff's reply deemed denied—Trial—Judgment—Costs.

Colo., Mills, An. C. (1896), 128; Utah, 3100.

5180. Third person may be interpleaded—Notice—Proceedings.

SEC. 238. When the answer of the garnishee shall disclose that any other person than the defendant claims the indebtedness or property in his hands, and the name and residence of such claimant, the court may on motion order that such claimant be interpleaded as a defendant to the garnishee action; and that notice thereof, setting forth the facts, with a copy of such order, in such form as the court shall direct, be served upon him, and that after such service shall have been made, the garnishee may pay or deliver to the officer or the clerk such indebtedness or property, and have a receipt therefor, which shall be a complete discharge from all liability to any party for the amount so paid or property so delivered. Such notice shall be served in the manner required for service of a summons in a civil action. Upon such service being made, such claimant shall be deemed a defendant to the garnishee action, and shall answer within ten days, setting forth his claim, or any defense which the garnishee might have made. In case of default, judgment may be rendered which shall conclude any claim upon the part of such defendant.

N. Dak. (1895), 5397; Utah, 3101.

5181. Garnishee may deduct sums due him by either party—Record.

SEC. 239. Every garnishee shall be allowed to retain or deduct out of the property, effects, or credits of the defendant in his hands all demands against the plaintiff and all demands against the defendant of which he could have availed himself if he had not been summoned as garnishee, whether the same are at the time due or not, and he shall be liable for the balance, only after all mutual demands between himself and plaintiff and defendant are adjusted, not including unliquidated damages for wrongs and injuries; provided, that the verdict or finding as well as the record of the judgment shall show in all cases against which party, and the amount thereof, any counterclaim shall be allowed, if any shall be allowed.

Colo., Mills, An. C. (1896), 130; Utah, 3102.

5182. Judgment acquits garnishee for amounts paid.

SEC. 240. The judgment against a garnishee shall acquit him from all demands by the defendant for all goods, effects, and credits paid, delivered, or accounted for by the garnishee by force of such judgment.

Colo., Mills, An. C. (1896), 132; Utah, 3104.

5183. Discharge of garnishee does not bar action by defendant.

SEC. 241. If the person summoned as garnishee is discharged the judgment shall be no bar to an action brought against him by the defendant for the same demand.

Colo., Mills, An. C. (1896),'133; Utah, 3105.

5184. Judgment against garnishee for debt not due—Execution deferred.

SEC. 242. When the judgment is rendered against any garnishee and it shall appear that the debt from him to the defendant is not yet due, execution shall not issue until the debt shall have become due.

Colo., Mills, An. C. (1896), 134; Utah, 3106.

5185. Property pledged to garnishee delivered on payment.

SEC. 243. When any personal property, choses in action, or effects of the defendant in the hands of a garnishee are mortgaged or pledged, or in any way liable for the payment of a debt to him, the plaintiff may, under an order of the court for that purpose, pay or tender the amount due to the garnishee, and thereupon the garnishee shall deliver the personal property, choses in action, and effects to the sheriff, as in other cases.

Colo., Mills, An. C. (1896), 135; Utah, 3107.

5186. Idem—If held to secure performance, plaintiff may perform.

SEC. 244. If the personal property or effects are held for any purpose other than to secure the payment of money, and if the contract, condition, or other thing to be done or performed is such as can be performed by the plaintiff without damage to the other parties, the court may make an order for the performance thereof by him, and upon such performance, or a tender of performance the garnishee shall deliver the personal property and effects to the sheriff, as in other cases.

Colo., Mills, An. C. (1896), 136; Utah, 3108.

5187. Idem—Disposal of proceeds—Plaintiff reimbursed.

SEC. 245. All personal property, choses in action, and effects received by the sheriff under either of the two preceding sections shall be disposed of in the same manner as if they had been delivered by the garnishee without condition, except that the plaintiff shall, out of the proceeds thereof, be first repaid the amount paid by him to the garnishee for the redemption of the same, or shall be indemnified for any other act or thing by him done or performed, pursuant to the order of the court for the redemption of the same.

Colo., Mills, An. C. (1896), 137; Utah, 3109.

5188. Garnishee liable for contempt.

SEC. 246. If any garnishee refuses or neglects to deliver any personal property, choses in action, or effects in his hands, when thereto lawfully required by the court, he shall be liable to be attached or punished for contempt.

Colo., Mills, An. C. (1896), 138; Utah, 3110.

See Persing v. Reno B. Co., under sec. 233 of this act.

5189. Costs taxed in discretion of court—Garnishee paid witness fee.

SEC. 247. The court may order the costs of the proceedings in any garnishment to be paid by the plaintiff, or out of the effects or credits garnished, or by the garnishee, or may apportion the same as shall appear to be just and equitable. The garnishee shall be entitled to fees and mileage as a witness, where he does not improperly resist or make costs.

Colo., Mills, An. C. (1896), 139; Utah, 3111.

5190. Garnishment after judgment—Procedure—Liberal construction.

SEC. 248. Any person having a judgment remaining unsatisfied in any court of record in the state, upon which execution has been issued and delivered, and which remains in the hands of the proper officer uncollected and unsatisfied, may have a writ of garnishment issued, and thereupon attach the credits, effects, debts, choses in action, and other personal property of the judgment debtor in the possession or under the control of any third person as garnishee, for the security of such judgment, and all rights, remedies, and proceedings under this chapter are hereby made specially available and applicable for the relief and security of such judgment creditor, the same as for a plaintiff in attachment, and the same are also made especially available and applicable for the protection and security of the judgment debtor and the garnishee, the same as for the defendant and garnishee in attachment; and the forms of all affidavits, interrogatories, writs, answers, oaths, orders, trials, judgments, and other process and proceedings hereinbefore provided for cases of garnishment before judgment, with appropriate variations, shall apply to cases of garnishment after judgment; and all courts shall be liberal in allowing amendments, and in construing this chapter so as to promote the objects thereof.

Colo., Mills, An. C. (1896), 140; Utah, 3112.

5191. New trials and appeals as in other cases.

SEC. 249. Motions for new trial may be made in the same time and manner and shall be allowed for the same grounds in garnishment proceedings as in other civil trials; and appeals may be taken and prosecuted from any final judgment or order in such proceedings as in other civil cases.

Colo., Mills, An. C. (1896), 141; Utah, 3113.

CHAPTER 24

DEPOSIT IN COURT

5192. When deposit or delivery of money or property required.

SEC. 250. When it is admitted, by the pleading or examination of a party, that he has in his possession, or under his control, any money or other thing capable of delivery, which, being the subject of litigation, is held by him as trustee for another party, or which belongs or is due to another party, the court may order the same, upon motion, to be deposited in court, or delivered to such party, upon such conditions as may be just, subject to the further direction of the court.

Kerr, C. C. P., 572.

A mining lease required the lessee to deliver the ore to the lessor, who should ship or mill the same, and pay to the lessee a specified per cent of the proceeds of the smelter or mill returns. The lessor sued the lessee for damages for violation of the lease, and admitted that it had in its possession a specified sum representing the proceeds of ore, which sum belonged to the lessee. Held, that the lessor was trustee for the lessee for such sum, and under this section the court could on motion of the lessee, require the lessor to pay such sum into court.

A lessor in a mining lease, having in its possession as trust funds money belonging to the lessee as the proceeds of ore mined and delivered by the lessee under provisions of the lease, cannot retain such funds in order that he may offset against the same an amount of damages due him for a violation of the lease by the lessee, for a debt accruing to one in his individual capacity cannot be set off against a debt due from him as trustee.

Where a lessor, in a mining lease stipulating that he should dispose of the ore mined and delivered to the lessee a specified per cent of the proceeds, admitted, in an action against the lessee for damages for violation of the lease, that it held proceeds of ore belonging to the lessee, and alleged that a considerable portion of the proceeds was derived from ore wrongfully taken by the lessee from ground expressly reserved from the lease, the virtual admission of defendant's right to such proceeds, less some indefinite portion thereof, was sufficient to give the court jurisdiction to order the lessor to pay such proceeds into court. Florence-Goldfield Mining Co. v. District Court, 30 Nev. 391, 399 (97 P. 49).

RECEIVERS

5193. Appointment of a receiver—When may be made.

SEC. 251. A receiver may be appointed by the court in which an action is pending, or by the judge thereof:

1. In an action by a vendor to vacate a fraudulent purchase of property, or by a creditor to subject any property or fund to his claim, or between partners or others jointly owning or interested in any property or fund, on application of the plaintiff, or of any party whose right to or interest in the property or fund, or the proceeds thereof, is probable, and where it is shown that the property or fund is in danger of being lost, removed, or materially injured;

2. In an action by a mortgagee for the foreclosure of his mortgage and sale of the mortgaged property, where it appears that the mortgaged property is in danger of being lost, removed, or materially injured, or that the condition of the mortgage has not been performed, and that the property is probably insufficient to discharge the mortgage debt;

3. After judgment, to carry the judgment into effect;

4. After judgment, to dispose of the property according to the judgment, or to preserve it during the pendency of an appeal, or in proceedings in aid of execution, when an execution has been returned unsatisfied, or when the judgment debtor refuses to apply his property in satisfaction of the judgment;

5. In the cases when a corporation has been dissolved, or is insolvent, or in imminent danger of insolvency, or has forfeited its corporate rights;

6. In all other cases where receivers have heretofore been appointed by the usages of the courts of equity.

Kerr, C. C. P., 564.

For dissolved corporation, see secs. 1194, 1195, 1199.

For mutual fire insurance company, see secs. 1301, 1302.

The district court has the power to appoint a receiver on an ex parte application, when a proper showing is made. Maynard v. Railey, 2 Nev. 313.

The court will appoint a receiver when one partner excludes his copartner from a participation in the affairs of a partnership. So, too, when both partners have assigned their respective interests and the assignees cannot agree. Idem.

When suit is brought and summons issued the court has power to appoint a receiver before the summons is served, but the appointment of a receiver ought not to be made without notice except in cases of emergency. Idem.

During the pendency of an appeal for an order restoring possession of property, the court can appoint a receiver to preserve the property. Lake Bigler R. Co. v. Bedford, 3 Nev. 404.

A receiver appointed by the trial court is an officer of that court, and accountable to it, and any compensation to be allowed him as costs on appeal must be allowed by the trial court, and not by the supreme court. McKenzie v. Coslett, 28 Nev. 220, 221 (80 P 1070).

CHAPTER 26

PROVISIONAL REMEDIES ON BEHALF OF DEFENDANT

5194. Defendant asking affirmative relief may have provisional remedies.

SEC. 252. When the defendant interposes a counterclaim, and thereupon demands an affirmative judgment against the plaintiff, his right to a provisional remedy is the same as in an action brought by him against the plaintiff, for the cause of action stated in the counterclaim, and demanding the same judgment; and for the purpose of applying to such a case the provisions of this act relating to provisional remedies, the defendant is deemed the plaintiff, the plaintiff is deemed the defendant, and the counterclaim so set forth in the answer is deemed the complaint.

Utah, 3123; Mont. Civ. P., 981.

CHAPTER 27

ISSUES, MODE OF TRIAL AND POSTPONEMENT

5195. Issues defined—Law—Fact.
5196. Issue of law arises upon demurrer.
5197. Issue of fact—Arises, how.
5198. Issue of law, how tried.
5199. Issue of fact, how tried—Issue of law first disposed of.
5200. Calendar, how made up—Rules.
5201. Either party may bring issue to trial.
5202. Continuance for absence of evidence—Admission.
5203. Idem—Testimony of witness present may be taken—Order, when mining case continued—Visitation a contempt.

5195. Issues defined—Law—Fact.

SEC. 253. An issue arises when a fact or conclusion of law is maintained by the one party, and controverted by the other. Issues are of two kinds:

1. Of law; and,
2. Of fact.

Kerr, C. C. P., 588.

5196. Issue of law arises upon demurrer.

SEC. 254. An issue of law arises upon a demurrer to the complaint, or an answer as to some part thereof.

Kerr, C. C. P., 589.

5197. Issue of fact—Arises, how.

SEC. 255. An issue of fact arises:

1. Upon a material allegation in the complaint, controverted by the answer; and
2. Upon new matter in the answer, except an issue of law is joined therein.

Kerr, C. C. P., 590.

Cited, in dissenting opinion of Talbot, J., Gulling v. Washoe County Bank, 29 Nev. 278 (89 P. 25).

5198. Issue of law, how tried.

SEC. 256. An issue of law shall be tried by the court, unless it is referred upon consent.

Kerr, C. C. P., 591.

5199. Issue of fact, how tried—Issue of law first disposed of.

SEC. 257. An issue of fact shall be tried by a jury, unless a jury trial is waived, or a reference be ordered, as provided in this act. Where there are issues, both of law and fact, to the same complaint, the issue of law shall be first disposed of.

Kerr, C. C. P., 592.

5200. Calendar, how made up—Rules.

SEC. 258. The clerk shall enter cases upon the calendar of the court according to the date of the issue, unless otherwise provided by rule of court.

Kerr, C. C. P., 593.

5201. Either party may bring issue to trial.

SEC. 259. Either party may bring the issue to trial, or to a hearing, and in the absence of the adverse party, unless the court for good cause otherwise direct, may proceed with his case and take a dismissal of the action, or a verdict, or judgment, as the case may require.

Kerr, C. C. P., 594.

5202. Continuance for absence of evidence—Admission.

SEC. 260. A motion to postpone a trial, on the ground of the absence of evidence, shall only be made upon affidavit showing the materiality of the evidence expected to be obtained, and that due diligence has been used to procure it. The court may also require the moving party to state upon affidavit the evidence which he expects to obtain; and if the adverse party thereupon admit that such evidence would be given, and that it be considered as actually given on the trial, or offered and overruled as improper, the trial shall not be postponed.

Kerr, C. C. P., 595.

Continuance—When not properly refused. When a party makes out a good prima facie case for a continuance on account of the absence of a material witness, the court is not justified in refusing the continuance because it may imagine the possible existence of facts which, if shown, would have been sufficient in avoidance of the case made by the party moving. Beatty v. Sylvester, 3 Nev. 228.

Continuance — Joint debtor defendant declared a bankrupt. Held, on motion for continuance as to other partner, trial could not proceed against him until a disposition of bankrupt proceedings of his copartner. Tinkum v. O'Neale, 5 Nev. 93.

Continuance—Power of court to impose conditions other than the payment of costs. Brown v. Warren, 17 Nev. 417.

Continuance—Error cured. Where witness afterwards appears and testifies, the error, if any was committed, is cured. Allen v. Reilly, 15 Nev. 452.

A motion for a continuance is always addressed to the sound discretion of the court, and should not be interfered with except where there has been a manifest abuse of that discretion. Choate v. Bullion M. Co., 1 Nev. 73, 74.

When an application is made for a continuance on the ground of the absence of a witness it is certainly in the discretion, if it is not the absolute duty, of the court to deny the application when the party opposing the motion will admit that the witness, if present, would swear to the facts as set out by the party applying for the continuance. O'Neil v. N. Y. S. P. M. Co., 3 Nev. 141, 144.

A continuance will not be granted by reason of the absence of witnesses residing outside of the state, though such witnesses have promised to appear and testify, as the party relying on their testimony should have taken their depositions. Yori v. Cohn, 26 Nev. 206, 225 (65 P. 945).

Where a motion for a continuance in an action for injuries was based on the absence of a witness who was not present when the injury occurred, and the testimony which he was expected to give in regard to other matters was not only immaterial, but could have been supplied by other witnesses, there was no abuse of discretion in refusing continuance. Taylor v. N. C. O. R. R., 26 Nev. 415 (69 P. 858).

5203. Idem—Testimony of witness present may be taken—Order when mining case continued—Violation a contempt.

SEC. 261. The party obtaining the postponement of a trial shall also, if required by the adverse party, consent that the testimony of any witness of such adverse party who is in attendance be then taken by deposition before a judge or clerk of the court in which the case is pending, or before such notary public as the court may indicate, which shall accordingly be done, and the testimony so taken may be read on the trial, with the same effect, and subject to the same objections, as if the witnesses were produced. In actions involving the title to mining claims, if it be made to appear to the satisfaction of the court that in order that justice may be done, and the action fairly tried on its real merits, it is necessary that further developments should be made, and that the party applying has been guilty of no laches and is acting in good faith, the court shall grant the postponement of the trial of the action, giving the party a reasonable time in which to prepare for trial. And in granting such postponement, the court may, in its discretion, annex as a condition thereto an order that the party obtaining such postponement shall not, pending the trial of the action, remove from the premises in controversy any valuable earth or ore, and for any violation of an order so made, the court or the judge thereof may punish for contempt, as in the cases of violation of an order of injunction, and may also vacate the order of postponement.

Kerr, C. C. P., 596.

There is nothing in this section to show that it was intended to make actual developments the only, or even the best, evidence admissible. Silver M. Co. v. Fall, 6 Nev. 117, 124.

CHAPTER 28

TRIAL BY JURY

5204. Drawing of jury, number upon consent, examination of.
5205. Parties united must join in challenge—Four peremptory challenges.
5206. Grounds for challenge for cause.
5207. Challenges—How tried—Witnesses.
5208. Oath and custody of jury.
5209. Juror, when sick, procedure.
5210. Order of trial—Evidence, defense, instructions, argument.
5211. Jury may view property or premises.
5212. Charge to jury—Court must furnish in writing, upon request, points of law.

5213. Deliberation of jury, how and where conducted—Duty of officer in charge—Parties may appoint persons to remain with officer.
5214. Jury may take with them certain papers.
5215. Jury may come into court for further instructions.
5216. When prevented from giving verdict, the cause may be again tried.
5217. While jury absent, court may adjourn—Sealed verdict.
5218. Verdict, how declared.
5219. Proceedings when verdict informal.
5220. Clerk to record verdict—Jury assents.

5204. Drawing of jury, number upon consent, examination of.

SEC. 262. When the action is called for trial by jury the clerk shall prepare separate ballots containing the names of the jurors summoned who have appeared and not been excused, and deposit them in a box, the kind to be approved by the judge. He shall then, after thoroughly mixing the same, draw from the box twelve names, and the persons whose names are so drawn shall then be examined as to their qualifications to serve as jurors. If the ballots become exhausted before the jury is complete, or if for any cause a juror or jurors be excused or discharged, a sufficient number of additional jurors shall be drawn from the jury box and summoned as provided by law. The jury shall consist of twelve persons, unless the parties consent to a less number. The parties may consent to any number not less than four. Such consent shall be entered by the clerk in the minutes of the trial.

Kerr, C. C. P., 600.
The right of trial by jury is secured by the constitution, sec. 232.
General statutes concerning jurors and juries, secs. 4925–4942.
Juries in criminal cases, secs. 7124, 7129.

It is competent for the legislature to point out the mode of impaneling juries, and the forms of the common law in procuring a jury can be changed and made subject to statutory regulations. State v. McClear, 11 Nev. 39. See State v. Johnson 12 Nev. 124; State v. Crozier, 12 Nev. 300, 304. See also citations under Const., art. 1, sec. 3.

In a purely equity case, the calling of a jury is a matter of discretion with the judge and not a matter of right in the parties. Van Vliet v. Olin, 4 Nev. 95 (97 A. D. 513).

5205. Parties united must join in challenge—Four peremptory challenges.

SEC. 263. Either party may challenge the jurors; but when there are several parties on either side, they shall join in a challenge before it can be made, unless the court otherwise order or direct. The challenges shall be to individual jurors, and shall either be peremptory or for cause. Each party shall be entitled to four peremptory challenges.

Kerr, C. C. P., 601.

5206. Grounds for challenge for cause.

SEC. 264. Challenges for cause may be taken on one or more of the following grounds:

1. A want of any of the qualifications prescribed by statute to render a person competent as a juror.

2. Consanguinity or affinity within the third degree to either party.

3. Standing in the relation of debtor or creditor, guardian and ward, master and servant, employer and clerk, or principal and agent, to either party; or being a member of the family of either party or a partner, or united in business with either party; or being security on any bond or obligation for either party.

4. Having served as a juror or been a witness on a previous trial between the same parties for the same cause of action; or being then a witness therein.

5. Interest on the part of the juror in the event of the action, or in the main question involved in the action; except the interest of the juror as a member or citizen of a municipal corporation.

6. Having formed or expressed an unqualified opinion or belief as to the merits of the action, or the main question involved therein; provided, that the reading of newspaper accounts of the subject-matter before the court shall not disqualify a juror either for bias or opinion.

7. The existence of a state of mind in the juror evincing enmity against or bias to either party.

Kerr, C. C. P., 602.

One who was a stockholder when suit was commenced against a corporation and would be liable for his share of any costs incurred while he remained a stockholder, would be disqualified as a juror. Fleeson v. Savage S. M. Co., 3 Nev. 157, 162.

The grounds of challenge to jurors for cause are pointed out by this section, and a party desiring to have such challenge tried must specify the grounds upon which he bases it. Estes v. Richardson, 6 Nev. 129.

Facts on which it was held that a challenge for cause was properly overruled. Idem.

Cited, Conley v. Chedic, 7 Nev. 336, 340.

Upon the facts of this case it is not shown that the juror challenged had either formed or expressed any unqualified opinion. Weill v. Lucerne M. Co., 11 Nev. 200, 206.

The general abstract bias which a juror may entertain when he expresses his sympathy for plaintiff in an injury case, because of his unfortunate condition resulting from the accident, where he believes that he can set aside such sympathy and render a just verdict on the evidence and instructions, is not sufficient to disqualify him. Burch v. S. P. R. R. Co., 32 Nev. 75, 100 (104 P. 225).

Even though the court errs in denying a challenge of a juror for cause, if the complaining party has peremptory challenges remaining, the peremptory challenging of the same juror cures the error, unless the party was thereby forced to exhaust its peremptory challenges, and was deprived of the substantial right to use the challenge on some other juror. Idem.

The relation of landlord and tenant between a juror and a party authorizes the sustaining of a challenge to a juror. Sherman v. S. P. R. R. Co., 33 Nev.—(111 P. 416).

Any error in sustaining a challenge to a juror is harmless if no objectionable persons are on a jury as finally constituted. Idem.

5207. Challenges—How tried—Witnesses.

SEC. 265. Challenges for cause shall be tried by the court. The juror challenged, and any other person, may be examined as a witness on the trial of the challenge.

Kerr, C. C. P., 603.

5208. Oath and custody of jury.

SEC. 266. As soon as the jury is completed, an oath or affirmation shall be administered to the jurors, in substance that they, each of them, will well and truly try the matter in issue between....., the plaintiff, and ....., the defendant, and a true verdict render according to the evidence. After the oath or affirmation has been administered and the jury has been fully impaneled, it shall be the duty of the court to order the jury into the custody of the sheriff, or other officer selected by the court, and the jurors shall not be allowed to separate or depart from the custody of the sheriff or other officer until they have been duly discharged, unless by the consent of the parties to the action. It shall be the duty of the sheriff, at the charge of the parties to the action, to prepare suitable and comfortable apartments, and prepare food for the jury pending the trial.

Kerr, C. C. P., 604.

5209. Juror, when sick, procedure.

SEC. 267. If, after the impaneling of the jury, and before verdict, a juror becomes sick, so as to be unable to perform his duty, the court may order him to be discharged. In that case, the trial may proceed with the other jurors, or a new juror may be sworn, and the trial begun anew; or the jury may be discharged, and a new jury then or afterwards impaneled.

Kerr, C. C. P., 615.

5210. Order of trial—Evidence, defense, instructions, argument.

SEC. 268. When the jury has been sworn, the trial must proceed in the following order, unless the judge, for special reasons, otherwise directs:

1. The pleadings shall be read by counsel for the plaintiff or of the respective parties, as they may prefer, or, if not so read, counsel for plaintiff may state the issue. Counsel for the plaintiff and defendant, respectively, shall then make opening statements, if any they desire to make;

2. The plaintiff and defendant shall then, each respectively, offer the evidence upon his part;

3. The parties may then respectively offer rebutting evidence only, unless the court, for good reason, in furtherance of justice, permit them to offer evidence upon their original case;

4. When the evidence is concluded, unless the case is submitted to the jury on either side or on both sides without argument, or unless a demand be made to have the jury instructed in advance of the argument as hereafter provided in this section, the plaintiff must commence and may conclude the argument;

5. If several defendants, having separate defenses, appear by different counsel, the court must determine their relative order in the evidence and argument;

6. The court may then charge the jury; provided, if either party demand it, the court must settle and give the instructions to the jury before the argument begins, but this shall not prevent the giving of further instructions which may become necessary by reason of the argument.

Kerr, C. C. P., 607.

Further regarding instructions to juries, see court rule 40, following section 4942.

5211. Jury may view property or premises.

SEC. 269. When, in the opinion of the court, it is proper for the jury to have a view of the property which is the subject of litigation, or of the place in which any material fact occurred, it may order them to be conducted, in a body, under the charge of an officer, to the place, which shall be shown to them by some person appointed by the court for that purpose. While the jury are thus absent, no person, other than the person so appointed, shall speak to them on any subject connected with the trial.

Kerr, C. C. P., 610.

5212. Charge to the jury—Court must furnish in writing, upon request, points of law.

SEC. 270. In charging the jury the court shall state to them all matters of law which it thinks necessary for their information in giving their verdict, and if it state the testimony of the case, it must also inform the jury that they are the exclusive judges of all questions of fact. The court must furnish to either party, at the time, upon request, a statement in writing of the points of law contained in the charge, or must sign, at the time, a statement of such points prepared and submitted by the counsel of either party.

Kerr, C. C. P., 608.

See Const., sec. 327, ante.

To inform the jury what the law is connected with the case in hand and show them how to apply it to the particular facts involved. State v. Levigne, 17 Nev. 435 (30 P. 1084).

It is proper for a court to refuse instructions containing correct principles of law, if there is no evidence before the jury making them applicable to the case on trial. Sherman v. Dilley, 3 Nev. 22.

Instructions at party's own request—Estoppel. Gillson v. Price, 18 Nev. 109 (1 P. 459); Meyer v. V. & T. R. Co., 16 Nev. 341.

When a court is laying down a general rule of law, it is not improper to notice exceptions to the general rule or such circumstances as will prevent its operation. Van Valkenburg v. Huff, 1 Nev. 142.

Facts proved and not controverted need not go to the jury. It is no error for a court in its charge to take from the consideration of the jury a fact proven by one party and not controverted by the other. Sharon v. Minnock, 6 Nev. 377.

Whole charge to jury to be considered as entirety. Caples v. C. P. R. Co., 6 Nev. 265; Allison v. Hagan, 12 Nev. 38; Solen v. V. & T. R. Co., 13 Nev. 106.

Instruction inapplicable to issue. A judgment will not be reversed on account of an erroneous instruction, when it appears that it was not applicable to the issues and could not have injured. Brown v. Lillie, 6 Nev. 244.

Charge to jury—Error—In case of money account, bill of particulars. Huguet v. Owen, 1 Nev. 464.

Charge to jury—Error—Proper measure of damages. Harvey v. Sides S. M. Co., 1 Nev. 539.

An instruction of the court, assuming as a fact that A was a creditor of B, where this was a fact in issue in the case, was clearly erroneous. Gaudette v. Travis, 11 Nev. 149; Tognini v. Kyle, 17 Nev. 209.

Action for water right and mill site, error to charge that plaintiff must prove right to premises and damages. Dillon v. Sherman, 2 Nev. 67.

The rule that a judgment must be reversed where instructions on a material point are contradictory, is not an absolute and unqualified rule. Rule explained. Lobdell v. Hall, 3 Nev. 507.

Instructions given or refused by the lower court will not be inquired into on appeal, unless the record shows that the giving or refusal to give them was excepted to at the time. Idem.

Evident meaning versus literal language —Theory regarding ledge—Instruction that it must be conclusively established, error. Silver M. Co. v. Fall, 6 Nev. 116.

When a plaintiff claims water on the ground of prior appropriation, it is error in the court to refuse an instruction to this effect: "The plaintiff is not entitled to any greater quantity of the water of Desert creek than he actually appropriated prior to defendant's appropriation." Lobdell v. Simpson, 2 Nev. 274.

"Character" of injured person not involved in suit for negligence. An instruction submitting it to the jury for such purpose is error. Johnson v. Wells, Fargo & Co., 6 Nev. 224.

The presumption in all cases of jury trials is that the jury apply the law as given by the court, and upon such law and the evidence render their verdict; and no appellate court can decide the effect of the one separate from the other. Idem.

Action for counsel fees, traveling expenses, and time lost—Charge to jury. Hardy v. Ophir S. M. Co., 4 Nev. 304.

Error—Action on insurance policy. Gerhauser v. North British Co., 6 Nev. 15.

Reiterations in instructions may be stricken out. Gerhauser v. N. B. Ins. Co., 7 Nev. 174.

If an equity case is treated as an ordinary action at law, and submitted to a jury as such, and the court considers itself bound and controlled by the verdict as in an action at law, each party has the same right with respect to instructions as if it were a case at law. Van Vliet v. Olin, 4 Nev. 95 (97 A. D. 513).

Submitting rejected portions only partly obliterated. No error, unless objected to and rewriting refused. Allison v. Hagan, 12 Nev. 38.

Refusal of instructions. Held, error in such case. Idem.

Instructions as to the law under a certain state of facts are properly denied when the uncontroverted evidence shows such facts do not exist. Shields v. Ditch Co., 23 Nev. 349 (47 P. 194).

Instructions — Where no injury occurs. Court will not consider whether correct or not. Smith v. Lee, 10 Nev. 208.

When not prejudicial. When upon the appellant's own showing of facts, the judgment if rendered in his favor, would have to be reversed. Bishop v. Stewart, 13 Nev. 25; Gaudette v. Travis, 11 Nev. 149.

Stating to a jury a fact not controverted, not error. Menzies v. Kennedy, 9 Nev. 152.

Instructions calculated to mislead jury should be repressed. Thompson v. Powning, 15 Nev. 195.

The court is not required to instruct a jury upon any question not raised by the pleadings nor authorized by the evidence nor at issue in the case. Shafer v. Gilmer, 13 Nev. 330; Longabaugh v. V. & T. R. R. Co., 9 Nev. 271; Fulton v. Day, 8 Nev. 80; Schissler v. Chesshire, 7 Nev. 427; Tognini v. Hansen, 18 Nev. 61 (1 P. 198); Meyer v. V. & T. R. R. Co., 16 Nev. 341.

Unintelligible instruction was properly refused. Colquhorn v. Wells, Fargo & Co., 21 Nev. 459 (33 P. 977).

The rule in criminal cases, that where an instruction is refused for the reason that it has already been given, the court should so inform the jury, does not apply in civil cases. Gerhauser v. N. B. and M. Ins. Co., 7 Nev. 177.

Instruction as to veins apexing in mining location, held harmless error. Southern Nev. G & S. M. Co. v. Holmes, 27 Nev. 108 (103 A. S. 759, 73 P. 759).

Forfeit money breach of contract. Eager v. Mathewson, 27 Nev. 220 (74 P. 404).

An instruction cannot be reviewed on appeal where the record fails to disclose any objection made or exception taken thereto. McGurn v. McInnis, 24 Nev. 370 (55 P. 304); McNamee v. Nesbitt, 24 Nev. 400 (56 P. 37).

Use of whistle as warning. Powell v. N. C. O. R. R. Co., 28 Nev. 305 (82 P. 96).

Issues covered by charges given. Burch v. S. P. Co., 32 Nev. 75.

Court may refuse to give a partially erroneous instruction. Idem.

5213. Deliberation of jury, how and where conducted—Duty of officer in charge—Parties may appoint persons to remain with officer.

SEC. 271. After hearing the charge, the jury may either decide in court or retire for deliberation. If they retire, they shall be kept together in a room provided for them, or some other convenient place under charge of one or more officers, until they agree upon their verdict or are discharged by the court. The officer shall, to the utmost of his ability, keep the jury separate from other persons. He shall not suffer any communication to be made to them, or make any himself, unless by order of the court or judge, except to ask them if they have agreed upon their verdict; and he shall not, before the verdict is rendered, communicate to any person the state of their deliberations, or the verdict agreed upon. Each party to the action may appoint one or more persons, one of whom on each side shall be entitled to remain with the officer or officers in charge of the jury, and to be present at all times when any communication is had with the jury, or any individual member thereof, and no communication, either oral or written, shall be made to or received from the jurors, or any of them, except in the presence of and hearing of such persons so selected by the parties; and in case of a written communication, it shall not be delivered till read by them.

"Treating" jury, verdict and judgment set aside. Idem.

What tampering with jury avoids verdict. Idem.

Treating jury to liquor, what will not violate verdict. Schissler v. Chesshire, 7 Nev. 427.

Drinking liquor by juror, when not furnished by prevailing party will not vitiate verdict. Richardson v. Jones, 1 Nev. 405.

Intoxication of jury avoids verdict. Davis v. Cook, 9 Nev. 134.

Separation of jury without objection, in the absence of showing of harm, verdict not disturbed. Menzies v. Kennedy, 9 Nev. 153.

5214. Jury may take with them certain papers.

SEC. 272. Upon retiring for deliberation, the jury may take with them all papers, except depositions, which have been received as evidence in the cause, or copies of such papers as ought not, in the opinion of the court, to be taken from the person having them in possession; and they may also take with them notes of the testimony, or other proceedings on the trial, taken by themselves or any of them, but none taken by any other person.

Kerr, C. C. P., 612.

5215. Jury may come into court for further instructions.

SEC. 273. After the jury have retired for deliberation, if there be a disagreement between them as to any part of the testimony, or if they desire to be informed of any point of law arising in the cause, they may require the officer to conduct them into court. Upon their being brought into court, the information required shall be given in the presence of or after notice to the parties or counsel.

Kerr, C. C. P., 614.

5216. When prevented from giving verdict, the cause may be again tried.

SEC. 274. In all cases where a jury are discharged, or prevented from giving a verdict by reason of accident or other cause during the progress of the trial, or after the cause is submitted to them, the action may be again tried, immediately or at a future time, as the court shall direct.

Kerr, C. C. P., 616.

5217. While jury absent, court may adjourn—Sealed verdict.

SEC. 275. While the jury are absent, the court may adjourn from time to time in respect to other business, but it shall, nevertheless, be deemed open for every purpose connected with the cause submitted to the jury until a verdict is rendered or the jury discharged. The court may direct the jury to bring in a sealed verdict at the opening of the court, in case of an agreement during a recess or adjournment for the day.

Kerr, C. C. P., 617.

5218. Verdict, how declared.

SEC. 276. When the jury have agreed upon their verdict, they shall be conducted into court by the officer having them in charge; their names shall then be called, and they shall be asked by the court, or the clerk, whether they have agreed upon their verdict; and if the foreman answer in the affirmative, they shall, on being required, declare the same.

Kerr, C. C. P., 618.

5219. Proceedings when verdict informal.

SEC. 277. If the verdict be informal or insufficient in not covering the whole issue or issues submitted, the verdict may be corrected by the jury, under the advice of the court, or the jury may again be sent out.

Kerr, C. C. P., 619.

5220. Clerk to record verdict—Jury to assent to.

SEC. 278. When the verdict is given, and is not informal or insufficient, the clerk shall immediately record it in full in the minutes, and shall read it to the jury, and inquire of them whether it is their verdict. If more than one-fourth of the jurors disagree, the jury shall be again sent out; but if no disagreement be expressed, the verdict shall be complete, and the jury shall be discharged from the case.

The constitution provides that three-fourths of the jury may determine a civil case, sec. 232.
Kerr, C. C. P., 618.

CHAPTER 29

THE VERDICT

5221. General and special verdicts defined.
5222. When a general or special verdict may be rendered.
5223. Verdict in actions for recovery of money, or on counterclaim.
5224. Verdict in action to recover specific property.
5225. Entry of verdict.

5221. General and special verdicts defined.

SEC. 279. The verdict of a jury is either general or special. A general verdict is that by which they pronounce generally upon all or any of the issues, either in favor of the plaintiff or defendant; a special verdict is that by which the jury find the facts only, leaving the judgment to the court. The special verdict shall present the conclusions of fact, as established by the evidence, and not the evidence to prove them; and those conclusions of fact shall be so presented as that nothing shall remain to the court but to draw from them conclusions of law.

Kerr, C. C. P., 624.

A special verdict must expressly present all the material facts, so that nothing shall remain for the court but to draw from them the conclusions of law. Knickerbocker & N. S. M. Co. v. Hall, 3 Nev. 194, 280.

Upon a special verdict the court must find conclusions of law. Fitzpatrick v. Fitzpatrick, 6 Nev. 66.

If a verdict is absolutely defective under the pleadings, no legal judgment can be entered thereon. Brown v. Lillie, 6 Nev. 177.

5222. When a general or special verdict may be rendered.

SEC. 280. In an action for the recovery of money only, or specific real property, the jury, unless instructed by the court to render a special verdict, may in their discretion render a general or special verdict. In all cases the court must upon the request in writing of any of the parties, direct the jury to find a special verdict in writing upon all or any of the issues and in all cases must instruct them upon the request in writing of any of the parties, if they render a general verdict, to find upon particular questions of fact, to be stated in writing, and must direct a written finding thereon. The special verdict or finding must be filed with the clerk and entered upon the minutes. Where a special finding of facts is inconsistent with the general verdict, the former controls the latter and the court must give judgment accordingly.

Kerr, C. C. P., 625.

5223. Verdict in actions for recovery of money, or on counterclaim.

SEC. 281. When a verdict is found for the plaintiff, in an action for the recovery of money, or for the defendant, when a counterclaim is established, exceeding the amount of the plaintiff's claim as established, the jury shall also find the amount of the recovery.

Kerr, C. C. P., 626.

Cited, Knickerbocker & N. S. M. Co. v. Hall, 3 Nev. 201.

Where the verdict, though irregular, is sufficient to enable the court to understand it, and judgment is entered in accordance therewith, except as to rate of interest, it was held that the court had the right to allow interest on the amount found at the rate expressed in the note. Allen v. Reilly, 15 Nev. 452, 459.

5224. Verdict in action to recover specific property.

SEC. 282. In an action for the recovery of specific personal property, if the property has not been delivered to the plaintiff, or the defendant, by his answer, claim a return thereof, the jury, if their verdict be in favor of the plaintiff, or if being in favor of the defendant, they also find that he is entitled to a return thereof, shall find the value of the property, and may, at the same time, assess the damages, if any are claimed in the complaint or answer, which the prevailing party has sustained by reason of the taking or detention of such property.

Kerr, C. C. P., 627.

As the value of the property at the time of the conversion is not the true measure of damage, a general finding of its value is not a sufficient assessment of the sum of money to be recovered by the successful party in an action for the wrongful conversion of such property. Knickerbocker & N. S. M. Co. v. Hall, 3 Nev. 194.

In replevin, where the property has not been delivered to plaintiff, the verdict and judgment in his favor are required to be in the alternative, and so also is the execution. Carson v. Applegarth, 6 Nev. 187, 189.

5225. Entry of verdict.

SEC. 283. Upon receiving a verdict, an entry shall be made by the clerk in the minutes of the court, specifying the time of trial, the names of the jurors and witnesses, and the verdict; and where a special verdict is found, either the judgment rendered thereon, or if the case be reserved for argument or further consideration, the order thus reserving it.

Kerr, C. C. P., 628.

CHAPTER 30

TRIAL BY THE COURT

5226. Jury trial may be waived, when and how.
5227. Decision of court, when filed—Modification of findings.
5228. Findings of fact may be waived.
5229. Judgment on issue of law, reference ordered, when—Chancery cases tried by court.

5226. Jury trial may be waived, when and how.

SEC. 284. Trial by jury may be waived by the several parties to an issue of fact in actions arising on contract, or for the recovery of specific real or personal property, with or without damages, and with the assent of the court, in other actions, in the manner following:

1. By failing to demand the same at or before the time the cause is set for trial or to appear at the trial.

2. By written consent, in person or by attorney, filed with the clerk.
3. By oral consent in open court, entered in the minutes.

Kerr, C. C. P., 631.

5227. Decision of court, when filed—Modification of findings.

SEC. 285. Upon a trial of a question of fact by the court its decision must be given in writing, and filed with the clerk within thirty days after the cause is submitted for decision. The court may, however, at any time before a notice of appeal is served and filed, or before a motion for a new trial is ruled upon, if such motion is made, add to or modify the findings in any respect, so as to make the same conform to the issues presented by the pleadings, and to the evidence adduced at the trial. No such additions to or modifications of, the findings shall be made unless a notice in writing specifying generally the additions or modifications desired, shall have been served on the adverse party, or his attorney of record.

Kerr, C. C. P., 632.

Where a cause is tried by a court without a jury, the same weight and consideration is given to its findings as to a verdict; and the same rules apply as to reversing them on appeal on the ground of being contrary to evidence, as to a verdict of the jury. State v. Yellow Jacket M. Co., 5 Nev. 415.

When a finding of facts is defective, it must be excepted to in the court below, or this court will not reverse the case for such defect. Whitmore v. Shiverick, 3 Nev. 288.

It is not necessary for a court to find a fact which is admitted in the pleadings. Virgin v. Brubaker, 4 Nev. 31.

Judgment not sustained. Lockhart v. Mackie, 2 Nev. 294.

This is a modification of Stats. 1861, sec. 180, p. 343, and Stats. 1869, sec. 182, p. 224, which have had the following citations:

The written decision referred to in this section is something which must precede the judgment and upon which it is entered. Corbett v. Job, 5 Nev. 201.

The formal decision required to be filed after trial of an issue of fact by the court is different from the written opinion of the court mentioned in sec. 414 of this act. Reno W. L. & L. Co. v. Osburn, 25 Nev. 53, 68 (56 P. 945).

Though the court refused to make certain specific findings on the issues made by the pleadings, such refusal will not constitute reversible error, in the absence of any affirmative showing in the record that the court failed or refused to make findings of fact as required by this section, since a presumption of the regularity of the proceedings exists. Schwartz v. Stock, 26 Nev. 128, 142 (65 P. 351).

Specific findings of fact on the issues made by the pleadings, requested after the rendition of judgment, were properly refused, as the statute does not authorize such practice. Idem.

5228. Findings of fact may be waived.

SEC. 286. Findings of fact may be waived by the several parties to an issue of fact:

1. By failing to appear at the trial.
2. By consent in writing, filed with the clerk.
3. By oral consent, in open court, entered in the minutes.

Kerr, C. C. P., 634.

5229. Judgment on issue of law, reference ordered, when—Chancery cases tried by court.

SEC. 287. On a judgment upon an issue of law, if the taking of an account be necessary to enable the court to complete the judgment, a reference may be ordered. Chancery cases may be tried by the court, with or without the finding of a jury, upon issues formed by the court.

Kerr, C. C. P., 636.

When there are two distinct defenses, it is not proper practice to impanel one jury to try the equitable defense, and another the legal defense. It is, however, proper to keep the two defenses separate. The judge himself may first hear and determine the equitable side of the case; or, if in doubt, he may submit special issues to the jury who are to try the law side of the case. Low v. Crown Point, 2 Nev. 75.

CHAPTER 31

REFERENCES AND TRIALS BY REFEREES

5230. Reference ordered upon agreement of parties, in what cases.
5231. Reference ordered on motion, in what cases.
5232. Number of referees, qualifications.
5233. Either party may object, grounds for.
5234. Objections, how disposed of.
5235. Report of referees to stand as decision of court.

5230. Reference ordered upon agreement of parties, in what cases.

SEC. 288. A reference may be ordered upon the agreement of the parties, filed with the clerk, or entered in the minutes:

1. To try any or all of the issues in an action or proceeding whether of fact or of law, and to report a finding and a judgment thereon.

2. To ascertain a fact necessary to enable the court to proceed and determine the case.

Kerr, C. C. P., 638.

If a reference is general, the report stands as a decision of the court, and, upon filing, judgment should have been thereon entered, unless such decision had been altered or amended. If the reference is to find the facts, then the report stands as a special verdict, and upon that special verdict the court should have found conclusions of law. Fitzpatrick v. Fitzpatrick, 6 Nev. 65.

Referees appointed, in an action involving a leasehold, to try all issues and report, after trial and reporting in favor of defendant, had no further authority, and could not make a subsequent order suspending all proceedings pending motion for new trial about to be filed by plaintiffs. Cline v. Langan, 31 Nev. 239, 243 (101 P. 553).

5231. Reference ordered on motion, in what cases.

SEC. 289. When the parties do not consent, the court may upon the application of either, or of its own motion, direct a reference in the following cases:

1. When the trial of an issue of facts requires the examination of a long account on either side; in which case the referees may be directed to hear and decide the whole issue, or report upon any specific question of fact involved therein.

2. When the taking of an account is necessary for the information of the court before judgment, or for carrying a judgment or order into effect.

3. When a question of fact, other than upon the pleadings, arises upon motion or otherwise in any stage of the action; or,

4. When it is necessary for the information of the court in a special proceeding.

Kerr, C. C. P., 639.

The supreme court will, in an election contest involving a state office, where it is apparent some twenty-five thousand votes are to be counted, appoint a commissioner to segregate the disputed from the undisputed ballots and report to the court the ballots in dispute with the objections interposed to the same. Springmeyer v. Baker, 34 Nev. —; Legate v. Josephs, 34 Nev. —.

5232. Number of referees, qualifications.

SEC. 290. A reference may be ordered to any person or persons, not exceeding three, agreed upon by the parties. If the parties do not agree, the court or judge shall appoint one or more referees, not exceeding three, who reside in the county in which the action or proceeding is triable, and against whom there is no legal objection. When there are three referees, all shall meet, but two of them may do any act which may be done by all.

Kerr, C. C. P., 640.

5233. Either party may object, grounds for.

SEC. 291. Either party may object to the appointment of any person as referee on one or more of the following grounds:

1. A want of any of the qualifications prescribed by statute to render a person competent as a juror.

2. Consanguinity or affinity within the third degree to either party.

3. Standing in the relation of guardian and ward, master and servant, employer and clerk, or principal and agent to either party, or being a member of the family of either party, or a partner in business with either party, or being security on any bond or obligation for either party.

4. Having served as a juror or been a witness on any trial between the same parties for the same cause of action, or being then a witness in the cause.

5. Interest on the part of such person in the event of the action, or in the main question involved in the action.

6. Having formed or expressed an unqualified opinion or belief as to the merits of the action.

7. The existence of a state of mind in such person evincing enmity against or bias to either party.

Kerr, C. C. P., 641.

5234. Objections, how disposed of.

SEC. 292. The objections taken to the appointment of any person or [as] referee shall be heard and disposed of by the court. Affidavits may be read and any person examined as a witness as to such objections.

Kerr, C. C. P., 642.

5235. Report of referees to stand as decision of court.

SEC. 293. The referees shall make their report within ten days after the testimony before them is closed. Their report upon the whole issue shall stand as the decision of the court, and upon filing the report with the clerk of the court, judgment may be entered thereon in the same manner as if the action had been tried by the court. The decision of the referees may be excepted to and reviewed in like manner as if made by the court. When the reference is to report the facts, the report shall have the effect of a special verdict.

Kerr, C. C. P., 643–645.

Majority of referees may decide, sec. 5488.

Court may revoke order of continuance and appoint a referee. Young v. Clute, 12 Nev. 31.

Power of referee same as court would have to continue the hearing from time to time. Idem.

Removal of referee. If referee fails to make report in time ordered, he may be removed upon application of either party, but if not removed, his authority to hear the case does not expire. Rhodes v. Williams, 12 Nev. 20.

See Fitzpatrick v. Fitzpatrick, under sec. 288 of this act.

Cited, Maher v. Swift, 14 Nev. 332.

See Cline v. Langan, under sec. 288 of this act.

CHAPTER 32

JUDGMENT BY DEFAULT

5236. Judgment on failure to answer, how to be entered.

SEC. 294. Judgment may be had, if the defendant fail to answer the complaint, as follows:

2. In other actions, if no answer has been filed with the clerk of the court within the time specified in the summons, or such further time as may have been granted, the clerk shall enter the default of the defendant; and thereafter the plaintiff may apply at the first, or any subsequent term of the court, for the relief demanded in the complaint. If the taking of an account, or the proof of any fact, be necessary to enable the court to give judgment or to carry the judgment into effect, the court may take the account, or hear the proof, or may, in its discretion, order a reference for that purpose. And where the action is for the recovery of damages, in whole or in part, the court may order the damages to be assessed by a jury; or if, to determine the amount of damages the examination of a long account be necessary, by a reference, as above provided.

3. In actions where the service of the summons was by publication, the plaintiff, upon the expiration of the time, within which, by law the defendant is required to answer, may, upon proof of the publication, and that no answer has been filed, apply for judgment; and the court shall thereupon require proof to be made of the demand mentioned in the complaint, and if the defendant be not a resident of the state, shall require the plaintiff, or his agent, to be examined on oath respecting any payments that have been made to the plaintiff, or to any one for his use, on account of such demand, and may render judgment for the amount which he is entitled to recover. The word answer used in this section shall be construed to include any pleading that raises an issue of law or fact, whether the same be by general or special appearance.

Kerr, C. C. P., 585.

Where defendant fails to appear in action for recovery of unliquidated damages, it is not necessary to call a jury to assess damages. Court may either hear proof itself or order a reference for that purpose. One of these modes must, however, be pursued. It is erroneous to render judgment by default without proof in such cases. Ballard v. Purcell, 1 Nev. 342, 343, 344.

Cited, Laird v. Morris, 23 Nev. 37, 38 (42 P. 11).

Appeal will not lie from a judgment by default. Paul v. Armstrong, 1 Nev. 82, 96.

Where a demurrer to a complaint has been overruled, an entry of default is not a prerequisite to the rendition of judgment. Winter v. Winter, 8 Nev. 130, 136.

A judgment entered by default should not be set aside by affidavits and an answer which failed to show that the defendant had a good and meritorious defense to the action. The judgment should not be set aside to enable the defendant to raise some technical objection. Ewing v. Jennings, 15 Nev. 379, 382.

A motion to quash summons does not stay proceedings, or deprive the clerk of the power to enter judgment on a money demand against defendant on his default. Higley v. Pollock, 21 Nev. 198, 209 (27 P. 895).

Judgment by default confined to prayer of complaint. Burling v. Goodman, 1 Nev. 314.

Judgment of dismissal, where no summons has been served, should be without prejudice. Cedar Hill M. Co. v. J. Little M. Co., 15 Nev. 302.

Default improperly taken. The defendant ought, if an opportunity is presented during the term at which it was taken, to apply to the court below for relief. Kidd v. Four-Twenty M. Co., 3 Nev. 381.

Judgment by default—Inexcusable negligence. Harper v. Mallory, 4 Nev. 448.

Judgment by default—Excusable negligence. State v. Con. Va. M. Co., 13 Nev. 194.

CHAPTER 33

JUDGMENT ON DISMISSAL OR NONSUIT

5237. Dismissal of action or nonsuit, in what cases granted.

SEC. 295. An action may be dismissed, or a judgment of nonsuit entered in the following cases:

1. By the plaintiff himself at any time before trial, upon the payment of costs, if a counterclaim has not been made. If a provisional remedy has been allowed, the undertaking shall thereupon be delivered by the clerk to the defendant, who may have his action thereon.

2. By either party upon the written consent of the other.

3. By the court when the plaintiff fails to appear on the trial, and the defendant appears and asks for the dismissal.

4. By the court when upon trial and before the final submission of the case the plaintiff abandons it.

5. By the court, upon motion of the defendant, when upon the trial the plaintiff fails to prove a sufficient case for the court or jury. The dismissal mentioned in the first two subdivisions shall be made by an entry in the clerk's register. Judgment may thereupon be entered accordingly. In every other case the judgment shall be rendered on the merits.

Kerr, C. C. P., 581, 582.

The grounds urged for a nonsuit must be as specifically designated as any other exceptions or objections taken in the course of a trial. Sharon v. Minnock, 6 Nev. 377.

Where an action for ejectment for the recovery of a mining claim is dismissed by stipulation that each party pay his own costs and plaintiff be released from all liability on his injunction bond, and the defendant conveys his interest to plaintiff, it was held that the judgment of dismissal is a bar to any other suit between the same parties on the identical cause of action, and that an action for mesne profits, founded upon the same title, could not thereafter be maintained. Phillpotts v. Blasdel, 10 Nev. 19, 23.

A nonsuit can only be granted upon the grounds stated and in the manner provided. Burns v. Rodefer, 15 Nev. 59, 63.

The dismissal of a party defendant at the instance of plaintiff before trial, in a case where no counterclaim has been made, is not a judgment on the merits and is not a bar to further proceedings against the dismissed defendant upon the cause of action stated in the complaint. James v. Leport, 19 Nev. 175, 177 (8 P. 47).

The fact that respondent makes a counterclaim that even her counsel admits cannot be set up in proceeding, does not change the situation. It is precisely the same as if a counterclaim had not been made. State ex rel. Miles v. Wedge, 28 Nev. 39 (78 P. 760).

This section does not change the inflexible rule that a judgment of nonsuit is not a judgment on the merits, and such judgment of nonsuit is no bar to another suit upon the same cause of action. Laird v. Morris, 23 Nev. 37, 38 (42 P. 11).

The only purpose of the section was to determine in what cases nonsuits or dismissals should be entered. The statute is in affirmance of the common law, and, though by a consolidation of sections it is subject to criticism for uncertainty, the presumption is that no change was intended in the law. Idem.

History of this section explained. Idem.

The words "sufficient case for the jury" are not words of limitation as to cases which were only tried before a jury, but were intended to prescribe the test of the sufficiency of the evidence; and hence the court's right to grant a nonsuit extended to equity cases, and was not limited to those only which were triable by a jury. McCafferty v. Flinn, 32 Nev. 269 (107 P. 225).

In considering a motion for nonsuit at the close of plaintiff's case, every fact essential to plaintiff's recovery that his evidence tends to prove and all legal presumptions arising from such evidence must be taken as established. Fox v. Meyers, 29 Nev. 169; Burch v. S. P. R. R. Co., 32 Nev. 75; Patchen v. Keeley, 19 Nev. 409; Brown v. Warren, 16 Nev. 231.

CHAPTER 34

JUDGMENT IN GENERAL

5238. Judgment defined.
5239. Judgment, how given, for or against whom.
5240. Judgment, joint or several, when given.
5241. Relief to be awarded to plaintiff.
5242. Actions against sheriff for official acts —Notice to sureties.

5238. Judgment defined.

SEC. 296. A judgment is the final determination of the rights of the parties in the action or proceeding.

Kerr, C. C. P., 577.

The jurisdiction of a court to render judgment in a cause is coextensive with its authority to inquire into the facts. Feusier v. Lammon, 6 Nev. 209.

The decision of the court is the judgment; the entry by the clerk is the evidence of it merely. Cal. State Tel. Co. v. Patterson, 1 Nev. 150.

A judgment may be final, although it is not recorded in a judgment book or entered in a judgment docket. Idem.

The question whether a judgment is final must be determined with reference to the facts presented by the record. Idem.

A judgment is none the less final because some future orders of the court may become necessary to carry it into effect. Idem.

A judgment is a judicial act of the court, and it is as final when pronounced by the court as when it is entered and recorded by the clerk as required by the statute, the entry being the ministerial act of the clerk. Central Trust Co. v. Holmes, 30 Nev. 437 (97 P. 390).

There cannot be two final judgments in the same action. Low v. C. P. M. Co., 2 Nev. 75.

A judgment rendered at a time and place other than those appointed by law, is no judgment; it is not merely erroneous; it is void. Dalton v. Libby, 9 Nev. 192.

Judgment, how set aside. Idem.

Judgment entered in vacation on demurrer is irregular and void. Champion v. Sessions, 1 Nev. 478.

Judgment void for want of jurisdiction. A judgment by a justice of the peace against a nonresident, where the affidavit or order of publication is insufficient and there is no personal service nor any appearance, is absolutely void. Little v. Currie, 5 Nev. 90.

See Forsyth v. Chambers, 30 Nev. 337 (96 P. 930).

Judgment in equity case—Special issues. A judgment based on a general verdict in such an action is erroneous. Hulley v. Chedic, 22 Nev. 127 (58 A. S. 729, 36 P. 783).

Power of court over its judgment. When a judgment has once been rendered, the court has no right to set it aside, except in case of error in some respect, or injustice in the result. Scott v. Haines, 4 Nev. 426.

Wrong reason does not vitiate correct judgment. A wrong reason for a judgment, which is in itself correct, will not vitiate or affect it. Idem.

Clerical error may be amended when the error is shown by the record, and there is no necessity to resort to other evidence than is afforded by the record to correct the error. Sparrow v. Strong, 2 Nev. 362, 368.

There is a great conflict of authority as to whether an inferior court can amend its record whilst the case is pending, on writ of error, in a superior court: Held, that the pendency on the writ of error is not an impediment to the amending of the record so as to correct clerical errors. Idem.

Judgment, when under control of court. During the term in which the judgment is rendered the court has complete control of it, and on proper showing may set it aside. Ballard v. Purcell, 1 Nev. 342.

Jurisdiction over judgment after expiration of term. To continue full and complete jurisdiction in the court over the case beyond the term, some order must be made or proceeding taken in accordance with statute. State v. First National Bank, 4 Nev. 358; State v. Fourth District Court, 16 Nev. 371; Daniels v. Daniels, 12 Nev. 118.

Amendment of judgment after adjournment of term. The court has no power to amend a judgment after the adjournment of the term unless there is something in the record to amend by. Solomon v. Fuller, 14 Nev. 63.

Judgment not a bar when not on merits, nor can it be used as evidence in another action to establish the facts constituting the merits of the action in which it was rendered. Van Vliet v. Olin, 1 Nev. 495.

Proceedings not conclusive without a judgment on the merits. Idem.

Judgment conclusive. A judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction, between the same parties, and upon the same issues, is as a plea, a bar, or as evidence, conclusive, not only of the rights which it establishes, but of the facts which it directly decides. McLeod v. Lee, 17 Nev. 103; Brown v. Ashley, 16 Nev. 311; Sherman v. Dilley, 3 Nev. 21.

Judgment—Finality of. Where a party has treated a judgment as final by appealing from it to the supreme court, which appeal has been entertained and decided upon its merits, he cannot afterwards claim that no final judgment has been entered in the case. State v. Com. Lander Co., 22 Nev. 71 (35 P. 300).

County — Judgment against, same as audited claim against. The rendition of a judgment against a county is an auditing of the claim within the meaning of the statute, and it becomes the duty of the commissioners to allow it as an audited claim, unless some sufficient defense exists to the judgment. It makes no difference in this rule whether in the action in which the judgment was obtained the county was plaintiff or defendant. Idem.

Guardianship matters—Judgment of courts in—How only to be resisted. The judgment of the district court on matters concerning persons or estates of minors cannot be successfully resisted until overruled or modified by some proceeding impeaching it. Deegan v. Deegan, 22 Nev. 185 (58 A. S. 742, 37 P. 360).

Rights claimed under judgment. When any rights are claimed by virtue of a judgment of a court of special and limited jurisdiction, all the facts necessary to confer jurisdiction must be affirmatively shown. Mallett v. Uncle Sam Mining Co., 1 Nev. 188.

Judgment must correspond with pleadings. A judgment must accord with and be warranted by the pleadings of the party in whose favor it is rendered. Frevert v. Henry, 14 Nev. 191.

Judgment must conform to the issue. A judgment must conform with, and be sustained by, the pleadings of the party in whose favor it is rendered. No court, jury or referee has any authority to find a fact or draw therefrom a legal conclusion which is outside the issue. Marshall v. G. F. G. & S. M. Co., 16 Nev. 156.

Presumption in favor of judgment. An appellate court will presume that the judgment of the lower court was sustained by the evidence in the absence of a showing to the contrary. Carpenter v. Johnson, 1 Nev. 332; Nesbitt v. Chisholm, 16 Nev. 39.

Judgment—Presumption of findings. In an action to reform a deed for mutual mistake, the existence of which is denied by defendant, it was the duty of the lower court to determine which contention was correct; and, by giving judgment in favor of plaintiff, the presumption is that the issue was implicitly found in his favor. Wilson v Wilson, 23 Nev. 267 (45 P. 1009).

Mistake in judgment should be corrected by motion of lower court. Howard v. Richards, 2 Nev. 128.

Error in calculation—Modification of judgment. Feusier v. Va. City, 3 Nev. 58.

Amendment of judgment of supreme court. A judgment rendered at a previous term of the supreme court can only be amended upon something appearing in the original record. Peacock v. Leonard, 8 Nev. 247.

Action on judgment, etc. Rogers v. Hatch, 8 Nev. 35.

Sherman v. Dilley, 3 Nev. 21, criticized. The opinion expressed in Sherman v. Dilley, 3 Nev. 21, that a judgment cannot be pleaded in bar or operate by way of estoppel while the case is pending on appeal, is rather dictum than decision. Idem.

A judgment is final that disposes of the issues presented in the case, determines the costs, and leaves nothing for the future determination of the court. Perkins v. Sierra Nev. S. M. Co., 10 Nev. 411.

The question whether a judgment is final must be determined with reference to the facts presented by the record. Idem.

The sufficiency of the writing claimed to be a judgment should always be tested by its substance rather than its form. Humboldt M. & M. Co. v. Terry, 11 Nev. 237, 243; Terry v. Berry, 13 Nev. 514.

The entry of the judgment, as made by the clerk, is a final determination of the rights of the parties. Idem.

The court granted a decree of divorce with alimony in favor of plaintiff, and decreed the property in controversy to be the separate property of defendant. An appeal was taken by plaintiff from the portion of the decree "respecting the property rights of the respective parties." It was held that the appeal was properly taken from a part of the judgment. Lake v. Lake, 17 Nev. 230, 235 (30 P. 878).

When there is nothing before the court but the pleadings and papers constituting the judgment roll, and no error is disclosed therein, the judgment will be affirmed. Reinhart v. Company D, 23 Nev. 369 (47 P. 979).

An appellant may appeal from a judgment and, at the same time, prosecute a motion to vacate and set it aside, they being separate and independent remedies. Brooks v. Nickel Syndicate, 24 Nev. 311 (53 P. 597).

An appeal from a judgment does not operate to vacate or suspend it. Idem.

A judgment is binding upon the parties to a suit, and all persons whom they represent and claim under them, or as privy to them. Ahlers v. Thomas, 24 Nev. 407 (77 A. S. 820, 56 P. 93).

Attorney — Unauthorized action of, is ground for relief from judgment. Stanton-Thompson Co. v. Crane, 24 Nev. 171 (51 P. 116).

Right of action upon. Common-law rule prevails. Mandelbaum v. Gregovich, 24 Nev. 154 (50 P. 849).

Good cause for bringing action on. Idem.

Trust deed — Mortgage — Second lien — Foreclosure—Erroneous judgment. Gulling v. Washoe Co. Bank, 24 Nev. 477 (56 P. 580).

Certiorari—Scope of injury—Bar of proceedings. Wilson v. Morse, 25 Nev. 375 (60 P. 832).

Judgment of sister state is a bar to action in this state between the same parties and upon the same cause of action. Idem.

Conclusiveness — Persons included and affected—Codefendants. Gulling v. Washoe Co. Bank, 29 Nev. 257 (89 P. 25).

Where pleadings on their face and the judgment roll do not show the issue tried and determined between parties, it may be shown by extrinsic evidence. Idem.

Conclusiveness — Nature and requisites. Idem.

Evidence of judgment—Issues. Idem.

Order for judgment—Exception—Time of taking. Berry v. Equitable G. M. Co., 29 Nev. 451 (91 P. 537).

Entry by clerk without authority void. Idem.

General and special verdict, latter controls. Idem.

Decree on special verdict. Idem.

Justices of the peace—Process—Publication — Entry of judgment. Forsyth v. Chambers, 30 Nev. 337 (96 P. 930).

Indorsement of attorney's name on summons—Publication of summons—Idem.

Execution—Void judgment. Idem.

Vacating default judgment. State ex rel. Kerr v. District Court, 32 Nev. 189 (105 P. 1022).

Execution—Final judgment a prerequisite. Kapp v. District Court, 32 Nev. 264 (107 P. 95).

5239. Judgment, how given, for or against whom.

SEC. 297. Judgment may be given for or against one or more of several plaintiffs and for or against one or more of several defendants; and it may, when the justice of the case requires it, determine the ultimate rights of the parties on each side, as between themselves.

Kerr, C. C. P., 578.

The rule that a joint judgment has to be reversed in toto, if not good as an entirety, does not apply under our statutes and system of practice. Wood v. Olney, 7 Nev. 110, 115.

Cited, Lake v. Lake, 17 Nev. 235 (30 P. 878); Ronnow v. Delmue, 23 Nev. 33 (41 P. 1074).

5240. Judgment, joint or several, when given.

SEC. 298. In an action against several defendants, the court may, in its discretion, render judgment against one or more of them, leaving the action to proceed against the others whenever a several judgment is proper.

Kerr, C. C. P., 579.

5241. Relief to be awarded to plaintiff.

SEC. 299. The relief granted to the plaintiff, if there be no answer, shall not exceed that which he shall have demanded in his complaint; but in any other case the court may grant him any relief consistent with the case made by the complaint and embraced within the issue. In any action involving the title to real property situate in this state or the specific performance of a contract to convey such real property, in which action the court shall determine that a party thereto holds title to, or an interest in, such real property which equitably belongs to and should be vested in or conveyed to another party to such action, the court shall have power by virtue of its judgment or decree alone to transfer such title or interest accordingly and vest it in the party so found to be entitled thereto; or the court may, in its discretion, direct the party so found to be wrongfully holding such title or interest to convey the same, within a specified time, to the party so found to be entitled thereto, and may further direct that, in default of such conveyance by said party, the clerk or other officer of the court who may be designated for that purpose in the judgment or decree shall make such conveyance. In all such cases, whether jurisdiction of the defendant is based on personal or constructive service of summons or whether the judgment or decree was heretofore or may be hereafter given or made, such judgment or decree of the court, or the conveyance of the clerk or other officer of the court so designated, as the case may be, is and shall be sufficient to transfer said title or interest to and vest the same in the party so found to be entitled thereto as fully and effectually as might be done by proper conveyance of the party so found to be wrongfully holding such title or interest.

Kerr, C. C. P., 580.

When judgment by default is taken, the plaintiff is confined to a recovery of the particular amount or thing demanded in the prayer of the complaint. Burling v. Goodman, 1 Nev. 314, 317.

Where the answer to a complaint is treated upon the trial as the answer to the petition for intervention, the case will be considered the same as if an answer to the petition had been filed. Marshall v. Golden Fleece M. Co., 16 Nev. 156, 173.

In such a case defendants cannot complain because the relief granted exceeded the demand in the petition, if that which was granted was consistent with the case made and was embraced within the issue. Idem.

5242. Actions against sheriff for official acts—Notice to sureties.

SEC. 300. If an action be brought against a sheriff for an act done by virtue of his office, and he give written notice thereof to the sureties on any bond of indemnity received by him, the judgment recovered therein shall be conclusive evidence of his right to recover against such sureties, and the court or judge in vacation, may, on motion, upon notice of five days, order judgment to be entered up against them for the amount so recovered, including costs.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1055.

The provisions of this section can only be invoked by the sheriff. An order substituting the sureties as defendants in place of the sheriff was utterly null and void. Gaudette v. Roeder, 13 Nev. 341, 348.

CHAPTER 35

PARTIES NOT ORIGINALLY SUMMONED

5243. Parties not summoned in action on joint contract may be summoned after judgment.
5244. Idem—Summons, what to contain and how served.
5245. Affidavit to accompany summons.
5246. Answer, when filed—What may contain.
5247. What constitute the pleadings in the case.
5248. Issues, how tried—Verdict.

5243. Parties not summoned in action on joint contract may be summoned after judgment.

SEC. 301. When a judgment is recovered against one or more of several persons jointly indebted upon an obligation, by proceedings as provided in section 89, those who were not originally served with the summons, and did not appear to the action, may be summoned to show cause why they should not be bound by the judgment in the same manner as though they had been originally served with the summons.

Kerr, C. C. P., 989.

Where there is a joint judgment in ejectment against several, a reversal as to one of the defendants necessarily reverses it as to all. Bullion M. Co. v. Croesus G. & S. M. Co., 3 Nev. 336.

5244. Idem—Summons, what to contain and how served.

SEC. 302. The summons, as provided in the last section, shall describe the judgment, and require the person summoned to show cause why he should not be bound by it, and shall be served in the same manner, and returnable within the same time, as the original summons. It shall not be necessary to file a new complaint.

Kerr, C. C. P., 990.

5245. Affidavit to accompany summons.

SEC. 303. The summons shall be accompanied by an affidavit of the plaintiff, his agent, representative or attorney, that the judgment, or some part thereof, remains unsatisfied, and shall specify the amount due thereon.

Kerr, C. C. P., 991.

5246. Answer, when filed—What may contain.

SEC. 304. Upon such summons, the defendant may answer within the time specified therein, denying the judgment or setting up any defense which may have arisen subsequently, or he may deny his liability on the obligation upon which the judgment was recovered, except a discharge from such liability by the statute of limitations.

Kerr, C. C. P., 992.

5247. What constitute the pleadings in the case.

SEC. 305. If the defendant, in his answer, deny the judgment, or set up any defense which may have arisen subsequently, the summons, with the affidavit annexed, and the answer, shall constitute the written allegations in the case. If he deny his liability on the obligation upon which the judgment was recovered, a copy of the original complaint and judgment, the summons, with the affidavit annexed, and the answer, shall constitute such written allegations.

Kerr, C. C. P., 993.

5248. Issues, how tried—Verdict.

SEC. 306. The issues formed may be tried as in other cases, but when the defendant denies, in his answer, any liability on the obligation upon which the judgment was rendered, if a verdict be found against him, it shall be for the amount remaining unsatisfied on such original judgment, with interest thereon.

Kerr, C. C. P., 994.

CHAPTER 36

JUDGMENT BY CONFESSION

5249. Judgment by confession for debt due or contingent liability.

SEC. 307. A judgment by confession may be entered without action, either for money due or to become due or to secure any person against contingent liability on behalf of the defendant, or both, in the manner prescribed by this chapter.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1132.

5250. Idem—Statement in writing, form of.

SEC. 308. A statement in writing shall be made, signed by the defendant, and verified by his oath, to the following effect:

1. It shall authorize the entry of judgment for a specified sum.

2. If it be money due, or to become due, it shall state concisely the facts out of which it arose, and shall show that the sum confessed therefor is justly due, or to become due.

3. If it be for the purpose of securing the plaintiff against a contingent liability, it shall state concisely the facts constituting the liability, and shall show that the sum confessed therefor does not exceed the same.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1133.

Where a statement and affidavit of confession authorizing the entry of judgment was filed with the clerk, who copied these papers in the judgment book and added "Judgment entered," with date and his name as clerk, and endorsed the same on back of statement, it was held that this constituted a valid judgment (Beatty, J., dissenting). Humboldt M. & M. Co. v. Terry, 11 Nev. 237, 241–247.

The statement and endorsement as entered in the judgment book was evidently intended as a determination of the rights of the parties to the confession and clearly shows in intelligible language, the relief granted. Idem.

In proceedings under this section there is no suit, no recovery or adjudication. It expressly authorizes the clerk to enter the judgment. He is not invested with any judicial functions. It is his duty to enter a judgment, and he can only enter such judgment as the parties themselves have expressly authorized by their statement. Idem.

5251. Filing statement, entering judgment.

SEC. 309. The statement shall be filed with the clerk of the court in which the judgment is to be entered, who shall indorse upon it, and enter in the judgment book a judgment of such court for the amount confessed, with ten dollars costs. The judgment and affidavit, with the judgment indorsed, shall thereupon become the judgment roll.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1134.

The authority to enter the judgment is derived from the statute and the statement. The statement with the endorsement and entry of the clerk, with sufficient certainty, exhibits the parties, the subject-matter, and the result, and substantially complies with the provisions of the statute. Humboldt M. & M. Co. v. Terry, 11 Nev. 238, 241–247.

CHAPTER 37

SUBMITTING CONTROVERSY WITHOUT ACTION

5252. Controversy, how submitted without action.

SEC. 310. Parties to a question in difference, which might be the subject of a civil action, may, without action, agree upon a case containing the facts upon which the controversy depends, and present a submission of the same to any court which should have jurisdiction if an action had been brought.

But it must appear, by affidavit, that the controversy is real, and the proceedings in good faith, to determine the rights of the parties. The court shall thereupon hear and determine the case and render judgment thereon, as if an action were pending.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1138.

Cited, State v. Tilford, 1 Nev. 243; Philips v. Eureka Co., 19 Nev. 348 (11 P. 32); Sadler v. Tatti, 17 Nev. 429 (30 P. 1082).

5253. Idem—Judgment on without costs—What constitutes judgment roll.

SEC. 311. Judgment shall be entered in the judgment book as in other cases, but without costs for any proceeding prior to the trial. The case, the submission, and a copy of the judgment, shall constitute the judgment roll.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1139.

Cited, State v. Tilford, 1 Nev. 243.

5254. Judgment, how enforced—Appeal from.

SEC. 312. The judgment may be enforced in the same manner as if it had been rendered in an action, and shall be in the same manner subject to appeal.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1140.

Cited, State v. Tilford, 1 Nev. 243.

CHAPTER 38

ARBITRATION

5255. What may be submitted to arbitration.
5256. Idem—How made.
5257. Submission to arbitration, how entered.
5258. Powers of arbitrators.
5259. Majority of arbitrators may determine—Must be shown.
5260. Award to be in writing—Judgment, when to be entered.
5261. Award may be vacated, when.
5262. Court may modify or correct award, when.
5263. Decision on motion, subject to appeal, but not judgment entered before motion.
5264. Submission revoked, what to be recovered.

5255. What may be submitted to arbitration.

SEC. 313. Persons capable of contracting may submit to arbitration any controversy which might be the subject of a civil action between them, except a question of title to real property in fee or for life. This qualification shall not include questions relating merely to the partition or boundaries of real property.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1281.

Our statutory proceedings in cases of arbitration are in derogation of the common law, and must be strictly pursued.

Whenever a statute prescribes certain specific acts to be done as prerequisite to acquiring of jurisdiction, or the enforcement of a legal remedy, such acts must be substantially performed in the manner prescribed, in order to give validity to the proceeding.

The filing of the submission and the entry of the same in the clerk's register, in cases of arbitration, answer the purposes of the complaint and answer in ordinary actions, and like them must be filed before a hearing, trial, or judgment.

At common law scarcely any matter short of a want of power or jurisdiction appearing upon the face of an award is subject to a question or inquiry, and every reasonable intendment should be made to uphold it. But in statutory awards no such liberal interpretation can be invoked to its aid. Its validity must be determined by the provisions of the statute providing it. Steel v. Steel, 1 Nev. 27, 30–32.

5256. Idem—How made.

SEC. 314. The submission to arbitration shall be in writing, and may be to one or more persons.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1282.

5257. Submission to arbitration, how entered.

SEC. 315. It may be stipulated in the submission that it be entered as an order of the court, for which purpose it shall be filed with the clerk of the court, where the parties, or one of them, reside. The clerk shall thereupon enter in his register of actions, a note of the submission, with the names of the parties, the names of the arbitrators, the date of the submission, when filed, and the time limited by the submission, if any, within which the award shall be made. When so entered the submission shall not be revoked without the consent of both parties. The arbitrators may be compelled by the court to make an award, and the award may be enforced by the court in the same manner as a judgment. If the submission be not made an order of the court, it may be revoked at any time before the award is made.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1283.
See Steel v. Steel, 1 Nev. 32, under sec. 313 of this act.

5258. Powers of arbitrators.

SEC. 316. Arbitrators shall have power to appoint a time and place for hearing, to adjourn from time to time, to administer oaths to witnesses, to hear the allegations and evidence of the parties, and to make an award thereon.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1284.

5259. Majority of arbitrators may determine—Must be sworn.

SEC. 317. All the arbitrators shall meet and act together during the investigation, but, when met, a majority may determine any question. Before acting, they shall be sworn before an officer authorized to administer oaths, faithfully and fairly to hear and examine the allegations and evidence of the parties in relation to the matters in controversy, and to make a just award according to their understanding.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1285.
See sec. 5488.

5260. Award to be in writing—Judgment, when to be entered.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1286.

5261. Award may be vacated, when.

SEC. 319. The court, on motion, may vacate the award upon either of the following grounds, and may order a new hearing, before the same arbitrators, or not, in its discretion:

1. That it was procured by corruption or fraud.

2. That the arbitrators were guilty of misconduct or committed gross error in refusing, on cause shown, to postpone the hearing or in refusing to hear pertinent evidence, or otherwise acted improperly, in a manner by which the rights of the party were prejudiced.

3. That the arbitrators exceeded their powers in making their award; or that they refused or improperly omitted to consider a part of the matters submitted to them; or, that the award is indefinite, or cannot be performed.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1287.

5262. Court may modify or correct award, when.

SEC. 320. The court may, on motion, modify or correct the award where it appears:

1. That there was a miscalculation in figures upon which it was made, or that there is a mistake in the description of some person or property therein.

2. When a part of the award is upon matters not submitted, which part can be separated from other parts, and does not affect the decision on the matter submitted.

3. When the award, though imperfect in form, could have been amended if it had been a verdict, or the imperfection disregarded.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1288.
See Steel v. Steel, 1 Nev. 30, under sec. 313 of this act.

5263. Decision on motion subject to appeal, but not judgment entered before motion.

SEC. 321. The decision upon the motion shall be subject to appeal in the same manner as an order which is subject to appeal in a civil action; but the judgment entered before a motion is made shall not be subject to appeal.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1289.
See Steel v. Steel, 1 Nev. 30, under sec. 313 of this act.

5264. Submission revoked, what to be recovered.

SEC. 322. If a submission to arbitration be revoked, and action be brought therefor, the amount to be recovered shall only be the costs and damages sustained in preparing for and attending the arbitration.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1290.

CHAPTER 39

OFFER OF COMPROMISE

5265. Proceedings on offer of defendant to compromise after suit brought.

SEC. 323. The defendant may at any time before trial or judgment, serve upon the plaintiff an offer to allow judgment to be taken against him for the sum, or property, or to the effect therein specified. If the plaintiff accept the offer, and give notice thereof within five days, he may file the summons, complaint and offer, with an affidavit of notice of acceptance, and the clerk shall thereupon enter judgment accordingly. If the notice of acceptance be not given, the offer shall be deemed withdrawn, and shall not be given in evidence; and if the plaintiff fail to obtain a more favorable judgment he shall not recover costs, but shall pay the defendant's costs from the time of the offer.

Kerr, C. C. P., 997.

CHAPTER 40

MANNER OF GIVING AND ENTERING JUDGMENT

5266. Judgment to be entered, when.
5267. Either party may bring case before court for argument.
5268. When counterclaim exceeds plaintiff's demand.
5269. Replevin, judgment to be in alternative and with damages.
5270. Judgment book to be kept by clerk.
5271. Judgments, how computed—Interest.
5272. If party die after verdict, judgment, effect of.
5273. Judgment roll, what to constitute.
5274. Judgment lien, how long same runs.
5275. Docket, how kept, and what to contain.
5276. Docket to be open for inspection without charge.
5277. Transcript to be filed in any county, judgment to become lien there.
5278. Interest and costs must be included by clerk in judgment.

5266. Judgment to be entered, when.

SEC. 324. When trial by jury has been had, judgment shall be entered by the clerk in conformity to the verdict, within twenty-four hours after the rendition of the verdict, unless the court order the case to be reserved for argument or further consideration, or grant a stay of proceedings.

Kerr, C. C. P., 664.

When there was a verdict for plaintiff, and defendant moved for judgment non obstante veredicto and obtained it: Held, that such a motion, if allowable at all under the practice act, was only a motion for plaintiff, and that the action of the court was erroneous. Brown v. Lillie, 6 Nev. 177, 180.

Cited, Howard v. Richards, 2 Nev. 134.

A judgment is as final when pronounced by the court as when it is entered and recorded by the clerk as required by this section; the judgment is the judicial act of the court; the entry is the ministerial act of the clerk. Cal. State Tel. Co. v. Patterson, 1 Nev. 150.

The decision of the court is the judgment, the entry by the clerk is the evidence of it merely. Idem.

The right of appeal does not depend upon the entry or perfection of the judgment of the lower court, but upon its rendition Idem.

See Central Trust Co. v. Holmes, 30 Nev. 437 (97 P. 390).

5267. Either party may bring case before court for argument.

SEC. 325. When the case is reserved for argument or further consideration, as mentioned in the last section, it may be brought by either party before the court for argument.

Kerr, C. C. P., 665.

5268. When counterclaim exceeds plaintiff's demand.

SEC. 326. If a counterclaim, established at the trial, exceed the plaintiff's demand, so established, judgment for the defendant shall be given for the excess; or, if it appear that the defendant is entitled to any other affirmative relief, judgment shall be given accordingly.

Kerr, C. C. P., 666.

5269. Replevin, judgment to be in alternative and with damages.

SEC. 327. In an action to recover the possession of personal property, judgment for the plaintiff may be for the possession, or the value thereof, in case a delivery cannot be had, and damages for the detention or the value of the use thereof. If the property has been delivered to the plaintiff, and the defendant claim a return thereof, judgment for the defendant may be for a return of the property, or the value thereof, in case a return cannot be had, and damages for taking and withholding the same, or the value of the use thereof. In an action on a contract or obligation for the direct payment of money, payable in a specified or agreed kind of money or currency, judgment for the plaintiff, whether the same be by default or after verdict, or decision of the court or referee, may follow the contract or obligation, and be made payable in the kind of money or currency therein specified or thereby agreed. And in an action against any person for the recovery of money received by such person in a fiduciary capacity, or to the use of another, judgment for the plaintiff, whether the same be by default or after verdict, or decision of the court or referee, may be made payable in the same kind of money or currency so received by such person; and in all cases of damage the judgment shall be for gold coin.

Kerr, C. C. P., 667.

In an action of replevin, the judgment must be for the return of the property, and an alternative judgment for its value if not returned. An absolute judgment for its value, not allowing defendant to satisfy the judgment by return of the property with costs and damages, is erroneous. Lambert v. McFarland, 2 Nev. 58, 59; Sierra Nev. M. Co. v. Sears, 10 Nev. 352.

The proper method of ascertaining and computing damages in replevin discussed. Buckley v. Buckley, 12 Nev. 429, 431, 445.

In a replevin case, where the property has not been delivered to plaintiff, a verdict and judgment in his favor are required to be in the alternative and so also is the execution. Carson v. Applegarth, 6 Nev. 187, 189; Clarke v. Nev. L. & M. Co., 6 Nev. 203, 208.

A judgment for gold coin in a trespass suit is in conformity with the statute, which is constitutional. Treadway v. Sharon, 7 Nev. 38, 46, 47.

The amendments to the act of 1861, 314, by the act of 1865, 84, were commonly known as "the specific contract" act, and the latter act was construed in the following cases: Milliken v. Sloat, 1 Nev. 573; Mitchell v. Bromberger, 1 Nev. 604, 607; Burling v. Goodman, 1 Nev. 314, 315; Hastings v. Burning Moscow Co., 2 Nev. 93, 96; Linn v. Minor, 4 Nev. 462, 463; Wells, Fargo & Co. v. Van Sickle, 6 Nev. 45, 50.

5270. Judgment book to be kept by clerk.

SEC. 328. The clerk shall keep among the records of the court a book for the entry of judgments, to be called the "Judgment Book," in which each judgment shall be entered, and shall specify clearly the relief granted, or other determination of the action.

Kerr, C. C. P., 668.

Where a judge orders a judgment in a cause, and that order is entered on the journal or minutes of the court, and no further facts are to be ascertained to determine the extent, amount and character of their judgment, but there simply remains the clerical duty of entering in the judgment book that which the court has determined and ordered to be entered, this is a final judgment from which an appeal lies. Cal. State Tel. Co. v. Patterson, 1 Nev. 150.

Cited, Humboldt M. & M. Co. v. Terry, 11 Nev. 243, 246.

5271. Judgments, how computed—Interest.

SEC. 329. In all judgments and decrees, rendered by any court of justice, for any debt, damages, or costs, and in all executions issued thereon, the amount shall be computed, as near as may be, in dollars and cents, rejecting smaller fractions, and no judgment, or other proceedings, shall be considered erroneous for such omission. When no rate of interest is provided by contract or otherwise by law or specified in the judgment, the judgment shall draw interest at the rate of seven per centum per annum from the time of the entry of the judgment until satisfied.

See secs. 2497-2500, interest.

5272. If party die after verdict, judgment, effect of.

SEC. 330. If a party die after a verdict or decision upon any issue of fact, and before judgment, the court may nevertheless render judgment thereon. Such judgment shall not be a lien on the real property of the deceased party, but shall be payable in the course of administration on his estate.

Kerr, C. C. P., 669.

5273. Judgment roll, what to constitute.

SEC. 331. Immediately after entering the judgment, the clerk must attach together and file the following papers, which constitute the judgment roll:

1. In case the complaint is not answered by any defendant, the summons, with the affidavit or proof of service; the complaint with memorandum indorsed thereon that the default of the defendant in not answering was entered, and a copy of the judgment; and in case where the service so made be by publication, the affidavit for publication of summons, and the order directing the publication of summons must also be included.

2. In all other cases, the pleadings, a copy of the verdict of the jury, or finding of the court or referee, all bills of exceptions taken and filed, and a copy of any order made on demurrer or relating to the change of parties, and a copy of the judgment; if there are two or more defendants in the action, and any one of them has allowed judgment to pass against him by default, the summons, with proof of its service on such defendant, must also be added to the other papers mentioned in this subdivision; and if the service of such defaulting defendant be by publication, then the affidavit for publication, and the order directing the publication of the summons in such cases must also be included.

Kerr, C. C. P., 670.

The judgment roll is the first and best evidence in the way of estoppel or otherwise. Low v. C. P. M. Co., 2 Nev. 79.

A cost bill is no part of the judgment roll and when there is no statement or bill of exceptions, the appellate court cannot pass on its correctness. Howard v. Richards, 2 Nev. 136.

Cited, Botsford v. Van Riper, 32 Nev. 214 (106 P. 441).

Cited, in dissenting opinion of Hawley, C. J., Quillen v. Arnold, 12 Nev. 251.

The summons, with the affidavit or proof of service, is as much a part of the record as the judgment. Lonkey v. Keyes S. M. Co., 21 Nev. 318 (17 L. R. A. 351, 31 P. 57).

Findings of fact and conclusions of law are no part of the judgment roll, and are no part of the record on appeal when not made so by a statement of the case or bill of exceptions. Peers v. Reed, 23 Nev. 404, 406 (48 P. 897); Schwartz v. Stock, 26 Nev. 128, 143 (65 P. 351).

Cited, Brandon v. West, 29 Nev. 135, 138 (85 P. 449).

The special orders that may be appealed from after final judgment, are those made subsequent to its rendition, of which a copy must be made a part of the judgment. Lake v. Lake, 17 Nev. 236 (30 P. 878).

5274. Judgment lien, how long same runs.

SEC. 332. Immediately after filing a judgment roll the clerk shall make the proper entries of the judgment, under appropriate heads, in the docket kept by him, and from the time the judgment is docketed it shall become a lien upon all the real property of the judgment debtor not exempt from execution in the county, owned by him at the time, or which he may afterwards acquire, until the said lien expires. The lien shall continue for three years, unless the judgment be previously satisfied. But the time during which the execution of the judgment is suspended by appeal or action of the court or defendant shall not be computed.

Kerr, C. C. P., 671.

Under this section, as a general rule, every money judgment may be immediately docketed and become a lien; but such is not the effect of the docketing of a personal judgment in a foreclosure case, for the reason that such judgment is suspended until after the equitable remedy against the mortgaged property is exhausted. Weil v. Howard, 4 Nev. 384, 392.

If a plaintiff in a foreclosure suit simply takes a decree in equity without a common-law judgment, and the mortgaged property falls short of paying the entire debt, he may take out an execution for the balance. Idem.

5275. Docket, how kept and what to contain.

SEC. 333. The docket mentioned in the last section is a book which the clerk shall keep in his office, with each page divided into columns: Judgment debtors; judgment creditors; judgment; time of entry; where entered in judgment book; appeals; when taken; judgment of appellate court; satisfaction of judgment; when entered. If judgment be for the recovery of money or damages, the amount shall be stated in the docket under the head of judgment; if the judgment be for any other relief, a memorandum of the general character of the relief granted shall be stated. The names of the defendants shall be entered in the docket in alphabetical order.

When the proper entries for the docketing of a judgment are prematurely made, it is unnecessary for the clerk to make them over again; when the proper time arrives at which they should be made, they become operative and effectual. Weil v. Howard, 4 Nev. 384, 394.

A mistake in the heading of the columns does not affect the lien. Idem.

5276. Docket to be open for inspection without charge.

SEC. 334. The docket kept by the court shall be open at all times during office hours for the inspection of the public, without charge; and it shall be the duty of the clerk to arrange the several dockets kept by him in such a manner as to facilitate their inspection.

5277. Transcript to be filed in any county, judgment to become lien there.

SEC. 335. A transcript of the original docket certified by the clerk, may be filed with the recorder of any other county, and from the time of the filing the judgment shall become a lien upon all the real property of the judgment debtor not exempt from execution in such county, owned by him at the time, or which he may afterwards acquire, until the said lien expires. The lien shall continue for three years, unless the judgment be previously satisfied. But the time during which the execution of the judgment is suspended by appeal, or action of the court or defendant, shall not be computed.

5278. Interest and costs must be included by clerk in judgment.

SEC. 336. The clerk must include in the judgment entered up by him, any interest on the verdict or decision of the court, from the time it was rendered or made, and the costs, if the same have been taxed or ascertained; and he must, within two days after the same are taxed or ascertained, if not included in the judgment, insert the same in a blank left in the judgment for that purpose, and must make a similar insertion of the costs in the copies and docket of the judgment.

CHAPTER 41

SATISFACTION OF JUDGMENT

5279. Satisfaction of judgment, entry of.

SEC. 337. Satisfaction of a judgment may be entered in the clerk's docket upon an execution returned satisfied, or upon an acknowledgment of satisfaction filed with the clerk, made in the manner of an acknowledgment of a conveyance of real property, by the judgment creditor, or within one year after the judgment, by the attorney, unless a revocation of his authority be previously filed. Whenever a judgment shall be satisfied in fact, otherwise than upon execution, it shall be the duty of the party or attorney to give such acknowledgment, and upon motion the court may compel it, or may order the entry of satisfaction to be made without it.

Kerr, C. C. P., 675.

It is only when a judgment is satisfied "otherwise than upon execution" that a court may order a judgment creditor to make acknowledgment of that fact. Sweeney v. Hawthorne, 6 Nev. 129, 131.

Upon an execution of sale, when the judgment creditor bid in the property, but refused to pay, and the property had to be offered again, it was held that the execution was not satisfied. Idem.

An execution must be authorized by the judgment, and must follow it in every essential particular, not only as to material matters of form, but also as to the amount for which it is rendered. Hastings v. Johnson, 1 Nev. 613; Solen v. V. & T. R. R. Co., 14 Nev. 405.

5281. Execution, who may issue—Form—To whom directed—Requirements of.

SEC. 339. The writ of execution shall be issued in the name of the State of Nevada, sealed with the seal of the court, and subscribed by the clerk, and shall be directed to the sheriff; and shall intelligently refer to the judgment, stating the court, the county where the judgment roll is filed, the names of the parties, the judgment, and if it be for money, the amount thereof, and the amount actually due thereon; and if made payable in a specified kind of money or currency, as provided in section 327, the execution shall also state the kind of money or currency in which the judgment is payable, and shall require the sheriff substantially as follows:

1. If it be against the property of the judgment debtor, it shall require the sheriff to satisfy the judgment with interest, out of the personal property of such debtor, and, if sufficient personal property cannot be found, then out of his real property; or if the judgment be a lien upon real property, then out of the real property belonging to him on the day when the judgment was docketed; or, if the execution be issued to a county other than the one in which the judgment was recovered, on the day when the transcript of the docket was filed in the office of the recorder of such county, stating such day, or at any time thereafter.

2. If it be against real or personal property in the hands of the personal representatives, heirs, devisees, legatees, tenants of real property, or trustees, it shall require the sheriff to satisfy the judgment, with interest, out of such property.

3. If it be against the person of the judgment debtor, it shall require the sheriff to arrest such debtor, and commit him to the jail of the county until he pay the judgment, with interest, or be discharged according to law.

4. If it be issued on a judgment made payable in a specified kind of money or currency, as provided in section 327, it shall also require the sheriff to satisfy the same in the kind of money or currency in which said judgment is made payable, and the sheriff shall refuse payment in any other kind of money or currency; and in case of levy and sale of the property of the judgment debtor, he shall refuse payment from any purchaser at such sale in any other kind of money or currency than that specified in the execution; the sheriff collecting money or currency in the manner required by this act shall pay to the plaintiff, or party entitled to recover the same, the same kind of money or currency received by him, and in case of neglect or refusal so to do, he shall be liable on his official bond to the judgment creditor in three times the amount of money so collected.

5. If it be for the delivery of the possession of real or personal property, it shall require the sheriff to deliver the possession of the same, particularly describing it, to the party entitled thereto, and may at the same time require the sheriff to satisfy any costs, damages, rents, or profits, recovered by the same judgment out of the personal property of the party against whom it was rendered, and the value of the property for which the judgment was recovered, to be specified therein; if a delivery thereof cannot be had, and if sufficient personal property cannot be found, then out of real property, as provided in the first subdivision of this section.

5282. Judgment on joint contract, how satisfied.

SEC. 340. When a writ of execution is issued on a judgment recovered against two or more persons, in an action upon a joint contract, in which action all the defendants were not served with summons, or did not appear, it shall direct the sheriff to satisfy the judgment out of the joint property of all the defendants, and the individual property only of the defendants who were served, or who appeard in the action. In other respects the writ shall contain the directions specified in subdivisions 1 and 4 of the last section.

5283. Execution, when returnable.

SEC. 341. The execution may be returnable at any time not less than ten nor more than sixty days after its receipt by the sheriff, to the clerk with whom the judgment roll is filed.

Act of 1861, 350, sec. 214, cited, Perkins v. Sierra Nev. S. M. Co., 10 Nev. 416.

5284. Money judgments and others, how enforced.

SEC. 342. Where a judgment requires the payment of money, or the delivery of real or personal property, the same shall be enforced in those respects by execution. Where it requires the performance of any other act, a certified copy of the judgment may be served upon the party against whom it is given, or upon the person or officer who is required thereby, or by law, to obey the same, and his obedience thereto enforced.

Kerr, C. C. P., 684.

5285. Execution may issue after death of party.

SEC. 343. Notwithstanding the death of a party after the judgment, execution thereon may be issued, in case of the death of the plaintiff, the same as if he were living, upon the application of his executor or administrator, or successor in interest, to the court in which the judgment was rendered, and in case of the death of the defendant, if the judgment be for the recovery of real or personal property, execution may be issued against such property, in the same manner and with the same effect as if he were still living.

Kerr, C. C. P., 686.

5286. Execution, how and to whom issued.

SEC. 344. Where the execution is against the property of the judgment debtor, it may be issued to the sheriff of any county in the state. Where it requires the delivery of real or personal property, it shall be issued to the sheriff of the county where the property, or some part thereof, is situated. Executions may be issued at the same time to different counties.

Kerr, C. C. P., 687.

5287. What liable to execution, not be affected until levy made.

SEC. 345. All goods, chattels, moneys, and other property, real and personal, of the judgment debtor, or any interest therein of the judgment debtor not exempt by law, and all property and rights of property seized and held under attachment in the action, shall be liable to execution. Shares and interests in any corporation or company, and debts and credits, and other property not capable of manual delivery, may be attached in execution, in like manner as upon writs of attachment. Gold dust and bullion shall be returned by the officer as so much money collected, at its current value, without exposing the same to sale. Until a levy, property shall not be affected by the execution.

5288. What exempt from execution.

SEC. 346. The following property is exempt from execution, except as herein otherwise specially provided:

1. Chairs, tables, desks and books to the value of two hundred dollars, belonging to the judgment debtor.

2. Necessary household, table, and kitchen furniture belonging to the judgment debtor, including one sewing machine, stove, stove pipe and furniture, wearing apparel, beds, bedding, and bedsteads, hanging pictures, oil paintings and drawings drawn or painted by any member of the family, and the family portraits and their necessary frames, provisions and fuel actually provided for individual or family use, sufficient for three months, and three cows and their suckling calves, four hogs with their suckling pigs, and food for such cows and hogs for one month; also, one piano, one shotgun, and one rifle.

3. The farming utensils or implements of husbandry of the judgment debtor, not exceeding in value the sum of one thousand dollars; also, two oxen, or two horses, or two mules, and their harness, one cart or buggy and two wagons, and food for such oxen, horses, or mules, for one month; also, all seed, grain, or vegetables actually provided, reserved, or on hand for the purpose of planting or sowing at any time within the ensuing six months, not exceeding in value the sum of two hundred dollars; and seventy-five beehives, one horse and vehicle belonging to any person who is maimed or crippled, and the same is necessary in his business.

4. The tools or implements of a mechanic or artisan, necessary to carry on his trade; the notarial seal, records, and office furniture of a notary public; the instruments and chests of a surgeon, physician, surveyor, or dentist, necessary to the exercise of their profession, with their professional libraries and necessary office furniture; the professional libraries of attorneys, judges, ministers of the gospel, editors, school teachers, and music teachers, and their necessary office furniture, including one safe and one typewriter; also, the musical instruments of music teachers, actually used by them in giving instructions, and all the indices, abstracts, books, papers, maps and office furniture, of a searcher of records necessary to be used in his profession; also, the typewriters, or other mechanical contrivances employed for writing in type, actually used by the owner thereof for making his living; also one bicycle, when the same is used by its owner for the purpose of carrying on his regular business, or when the same is used for the purpose of transporting the owner to and from his place of business.

5. The cabin or dwelling of a miner or prospector, not exceeding in value the sum of five hundred dollars; also, his sluices, pipes, hose, windlass, whim, derrick, cars, pumps, tools, implements, and appliances necessary for carrying on any mining operations, not exceeding in value the aggregate sum of five hundred dollars; and two horses, mules, asses, or oxen with their harness, and food for such horses, mules, asses, or oxen for one month, when necessary for use by him in working any mining claim or in prospecting for minerals, or when necessary to be used on any whim, windlass, derrick, car, pump or hoisting gear; and also his mining claim actually worked by him not exceeding in value the sum of one thousand dollars.

6. Two horses, two oxen, or two mules, and their harness, and one cart or wagon, one dray or truck, one coupe, one hack, or carriage, for one or two horses by the use of which a cartman, drayman, truckman, huckster, peddler, hackman, teamster, or other laborer habitually earns his living; and one horse, with vehicle and harness or other equipments, used by a physician, surgeon, constable, or minister of the gospel, in the legitimate practice of his profession or business; with food for such oxen, horses, or mules for one month.

7. Poultry not exceeding in value seventy-five dollars.

8. The earnings of the judgment debtor for his personal services rendered at any time within thirty days next preceding the levy of execution or attachment, when it appears, by the debtor's affidavit or otherwise, that such earnings are necessary for the use of his family, residing in this state, supported in whole or in part by his labors; but where debts are incurred by any such person, or his wife or family, for the common necessaries of life, or have been incurred at a time when the debtor had no family, residing in this state, supported in whole or in part by his labor, the one-half of such earnings above mentioned is nevertheless subject to execution, garnishment, or attachment to satisfy debts so incurred.

9. All fire engines, hooks and ladders, with the carts, trucks and carriages, hose, buckets, implements, and apparatus thereunto appertaining, and all furniture and uniforms of any fire company or department organized under the laws of this state.

10. All arms, uniforms, and accouterments required by law to be kept by any person, and also one gun, to be selected by the debtor.

11. All courthouses, jails, public offices, and buildings, lots, grounds, and personal property, the fixtures, furniture, books, papers and appurtenances belonging and pertaining to the courthouse, jail, and public offices belonging to any county of this state and all cemeteries, public squares, parks, and places, public buildings, town halls, markets, buildings for the use of fire departments and military organizations, and the lots and grounds thereto belonging and appertaining, owned or held by any town or incorporated city, or dedicated by such town or city to health, ornament, or public use, or for the use of any fire, or military company organized under the laws of this state.

12. All material not exceeding one thousand dollars in value, purchased in good faith for use in the construction, alteration, or repair of any building, mining claim or other improvement, as long as in good faith the same is about to be applied to the construction, alteration, or repair of such building, mining claim, or other improvement.

13. All machinery, tools and implements, necessary in and for boring, sinking, putting down and constructing surface or artesian wells; also the engines necessary for operating such machinery, implements, tools, etc.; also all trucks necessary for the transportation of such machinery, tools, implements, engines, etc.; provided, that the value of all the articles exempted under this subdivision shall not exceed one thousand dollars.

14. All moneys, benefits, privileges, or immunities accruing or in any manner growing out of any life insurance, if the annual premium paid do not exceed five hundred dollars, and if they exceed that sum, a like exemption shall exist which shall bear the same proportion to the moneys, benefits, privileges, and immunities so accruing or growing out of such insurance that said five hundred dollars bears to the whole annual premium paid.

15. And the homestead as provided for by law.

No article, however, or species of property, mentioned in this section, is exempt from execution issued upon a judgment to recover for its price, or upon a judgment of foreclosure of a mortgage or other lien thereon.

Materials for construction, repair or alteration of a building exempt, sec. 2225.

A teamster need not necessarily drive his team. One is a teamster who is engaged with his own team or teams in the business of teaming, that is to say, in the business of hauling freight for other parties for a consideration, by which he habitually supports himself and family. Elder v. Williams, 16 Nev. 416–424.

It is the right and privilege of the debtor (a teamster) to select and designate his exempt property, and, when so selected and pointed out, the law will recognize and protect them as exempt, and such selection may be made without regard to the quality or value of the property selected. Idem.

If plaintiff fraudulently concealed other property and refused to surrender the same in execution, equal in amount to the value of the property claimed as exempt, that fact does not deprive him of an otherwise valid claim of exemption. Idem.

The business of a livery-stable keeper is plainly distinguishable from that in which cartmen, hucksters, peddlers, or teamsters are engaged, and a livery-stable keeper is not an "other laborer." Edgecomb v. Creditors, 19 Nev. 149, 152, 155 (7 P. 533).

A stallion kept for breeding purposes, and not used as a work horse, is not exempt from execution. The legislature intended to exempt to the debtor such animals as will be useful in assisting him to gain a livelihood by farming as ordinarly conducted. Kraig v. Fellows, 21 Nev. 307, 310 (30 P. 994).

5289. Writ, how executed.

SEC. 347. The sheriff shall execute the writ against the property of the judgment debtor by levying on a sufficient amount of property, if there be sufficient, collecting or selling the things in action, and selling the other property, and paying to the plaintiff or his attorneys so much of the proceeds as will satisfy the judgment, or depositing the amount with the clerk of the court. Any excess in the proceeds over the judgment and the sheriff's fees shall be returned to the judgment debtor. When there is more property of the judgment debtor than is sufficient to satisfy the judgment and the sheriff's fees within the view of the sheriff, he shall levy only on such part of the property as the judgment debtor may indicate; provided, that the judgment debtor may indicate at the time of the levy such part; and, provided, that the property indicated be amply sufficient to satisfy such judgment and fees.

Damages—Seizure of property, exempt from execution—Certain evidence held inadmissible. Hammersmith v. Avery, 18 Nev. 225 (2 P. 55).

An execution creditor, under whose direction a levy is unlawfully made, is liable and may be sued with the sheriff in an action to recover damages for the trespass. Elder v. Frevert, 18 Nev. 446 (5 P. 69).

In an action against a judgment creditor for the unlawful seizure of property exempt from execution, the defendants cannot set up the judgment, under which the seizure was made, as a counterclaim to the action. Idem.

5290. Notice of sale under execution, how given.

SEC. 348. Before the sale of property on execution, notice thereof shall be given as follows:

2. In case of other personal property, by posting a similar notice in three public places of the township or city where the sale is to take place, not less than five nor more than ten days, successively, and, in case of sale on execution issuing out of a district court, by the publication of a copy of said notice at least once a week, for the same period, in a newspaper, if there be one, in the county.

3. In case of real property, by posting a similar notice particularly describing the property, for twenty days, successively, in three public places of the township or city where the property is situated, and also where the property is to be sold; and also by publishing a copy of said notice once a week, for the same period, in a newspaper, if there be one, in the county; provided, that the cost of such publication shall in no case exceed the sum of two dollars and fifty cents per square for the first insertion, and one dollar per square for each subsequent insertion; and provided further, that in any case where the paper authorized by this act to publish such notice of sale shall neglect or refuse, from any cause, to make such publication, then the posting of notices, as provided in the preceding section of this act, shall be deemed sufficient notice; provided, further, notices of the sale of property on execution, upon a judgment for any sum less than five hundred dollars, exclusive of costs, shall be given only by posting in three public places in the county, one of which notices shall be posted at the courthouse.

Kerr, C. C. P., 692.

5291. Selling without notice, liability for—Penalty for defacing notice.

SEC. 349. An officer selling without the notice prescribed by the last section, shall forfeit five hundred dollars to the aggrieved party, in addition to his actual damages; and a person wilfully taking down or defacing the notice posted, if done before the sale or the satisfaction of the judgment if the judgment be satisfied before sale, shall forfeit five hundred dollars to the aggrieved party.

Kerr, C. C. P., 693.

5292. Sale under execution, how made.

SEC. 350. All sales of property under execution shall be made at auction to the highest bidder, and shall be made between the hours of nine in the morning and five in the afternoon. After sufficient property has been sold to satisfy the execution, no more shall be sold. Neither the officer holding the execution nor his deputy shall become a purchaser, or be interested in any purchase at such sale. When the sale is of personal property capable of manual delivery, it shall be in view of those who attend the sale, and be sold in such parcels as are likely to bring the highest price; and when the sale is of real property, and consisting of several known lots or parcels, they shall be sold separately, or when a portion of such real property is claimed by a third person, and he requires it to be sold separately, such portion shall be thus sold. All sales of real property shall be made at the courthouse of the county in which the property or some part thereof, is situated. If the land to be sold under execution consists of a single parcel, or two or more contiguous parcels, situated in two or more counties, notice of the sale must be posted and published in each of such counties, as provided in this act. The judgment debtor, if present at the sale, may also direct the order in which property, real or personal, shall be sold. When such property consists of several known lots or parcels, or of articles which can be sold to advantage separately, the sheriff shall be bound to follow such directions.

Kerr, C. C. P., 694.
Sheriff not to become purchaser, sec. 1655.

5293. Purchaser refusing to pay bid, what proceedings.

SEC. 351. If a purchaser refuse to pay the amount bid by him for property struck off to him at a sale under execution, the officer may again sell the property to the highest bidder, after again giving the notice hereinbefore provided; and if any loss be occasioned thereby from the purchaser refusing to pay his bid, the officer may recover the amount of such loss, with costs, for the benefit of the party aggrieved, by motion upon previous notice of five days to such purchaser, before any court of competent jurisdiction.

Kerr, C. C. P., 695.

When a judgment creditor, to whom property is struck off at execution sale, refuses to consummate his purchase, there should be a resale, the same as in the case of any other purchaser. Sweeney v. Hawthorne, 6 Nev. 130.

Where the judgment creditor is the purchaser at execution sale, it does not follow that he need not pay any money—the officer may require payment when the fees are due, or to become due to him, and in default of payment may resell. Idem.

If the highest bidder at a sheriff's sale fails to pay the amount of his bid, the next highest bidder is not bound by his bid. Dazet v. Landry, 21 Nev. 291, 295 (30 P. 1064).

5294. Proceedings against party refusing to pay bid.

SEC. 352. Such court shall proceed in a summary manner in the hearing and disposition of such motion, and give judgment and issue execution therefor forthwith, but the refusing purchaser may claim a jury. And the same proceedings may be had against any subsequent purchaser who shall refuse to pay, and the officer may, in his discretion, thereafter reject the bid of any person so refusing.

Kerr, C. C. P., 696.
See Sweeney v. Hawthorne, under sec. 351 of this act.

5295. Liability of officer.

SEC. 353. The two preceding sections shall not be construed to make the officer liable for any more than the amount bid by the second or subsequent purchaser, and the amount collected from the purchaser refusing to pay.

Kerr, C. C. P., 697.

5296. Personal property capable of manual delivery, how delivered.

SEC. 354. When the purchaser of any personal property capable of manual delivery shall pay the purchase money, the officer making the sale shall deliver to the purchaser the property, and if desired shall execute and deliver to him a certificate of the sale and payment. Such certificate shall convey to the purchaser all the right, title, and interest which the debtor had in and to such property on the day the execution was levied.

Kerr, C. C. P., 698.

5297. Idem—Not capable of manual delivery, how sold and delivered.

SEC. 355. When the purchaser of any personal property not capable of manual delivery shall pay the purchase money, the officer making the sale shall execute and deliver to the purchaser a certificate of sale and payment. Such certificate shall convey to the purchaser all right, title, and interest which the debtor had in and to such property on the day the execution was levied.

Kerr, C. C. P., 699.

5298. Real estate subject to redemption—Certificate of sale to state, what.

SEC. 356. Upon a sale of real property, the purchaser shall be substituted to and acquire all the right, title, interest, and claim of the judgment debtor thereto; and when the estate is less than a leasehold of two years' unexpired term, the sale shall be absolute. In all other cases the real property shall be subject to redemption as provided in this chapter. The officer shall give to the purchaser a certificate of the sale containing:

1. A particular description of the real property sold.
2. The price bid for each distinct lot or parcel.
3. The whole price paid.
4. When subject to redemption it shall be so stated; and when the judgment, under which the sale has been made, is made payable in a specified kind of money or currency, the certificate shall also state the kind of money or currency in which said redemption may be made, which shall be the same as that specified in the judgment. A duplicate of such certificate shall be filed by the officer in the office of the county recorder of the county.

5299. Real property sold subject to redemption, who may redeem.

SEC. 357. Property sold subject to redemption, as provided in the last section, or any part sold separately, may be redeemed in the manner hereinafter provided by the following persons, or their successors in interest:

1. The judgment debtor, or his successor in interest, in the whole or any part of the property.
2. A creditor having a lien by judgment or mortgage on the property sold, or on some share or part thereof, subsequent to that on which the property was sold. The persons mentioned in the second subdivision of this section are, in this chapter, termed redemptioners.

Kerr, C. C. P., 701.

5300. Time and conditions of redemption.

SEC. 358. The judgment debtor or redemptioner may redeem the property by paying to the sheriff making the sale, within six months after the sale, the amount of the purchase price, in the kind of money or currency specified in the judgment, if any is specified, with one per cent per month thereon in addition, from the time of the sale to the time of redemption, together with the amount of any assessment or taxes which the purchaser may have paid after the purchase, and a statement of which the purchaser shall file, before the time of redemption, with the officer making the sale, and interest on such amount; and if the purchaser is also a creditor, having a lien prior to that of the redemptioner, other than the judgment under which the purchase was made, the amount of such lien, with interest.

Kerr, C. C. P., 702.

5301. Subsequent redemptions, conditions of, sheriff's deed, who entitled.

SEC. 359. If the property is so redeemed by a redemptioner, either the judgment debtor or another redemptioner may, within sixty days after the last redemption, again redeem it from the last redemptioner, by paying the sum paid on such last redemption with two per cent thereon in addition, and the amount of any assessments or taxes which the said last redemptioner may have paid thereon after the redemption by him, with interest on such amount, and in addition, the amount of any liens held by said last redemptioner prior to his own, with interest; provided, that the judgment under which the property was sold need not be paid as a lien. The property may again, and as often as the debtor or redemptioner is disposed be redeemed from the officer making the sale, within sixty days after the last redemption, with two per cent thereon in addition, and the amount of any assessments or taxes which the last previous redemptioner shall have paid after the redemption by him, with interest thereon, and the amount of any liens, other than the judgment under which the property was sold, held by the said last redemptioner previous to his own, with interest. Written notice of the redemption must be filed with the recorder of the county; and if any taxes or assessments are paid by the redemptioner, or if he has or acquires any lien other than that upon which the redemption was made, notice thereof must be given to the sheriff and filed with the recorder; and if such notice is not filed, the property may be redeemed without paying such tax, assessment or lien. If no redemption is made within six months after the sale, the purchaser or his assignee is entitled to a conveyance; or if so redeemed, whenever sixty days have elapsed, and no other redemption has been made, and notice thereof given, and the time for redemption has expired, the last redemptioner or his assignee is entitled to a sheriff's deed; but in all cases the judgment debtor shall have the entire period of six months from the date of the sale in which to redeem the property. If the debtor redeem, the effect of the sale is terminated and he is restored to his estate. Upon a redemption by the debtor, the sheriff to whom the payment is made must execute and deliver to him a certificate of redemption, acknowledged or approved before an officer authorized to take acknowledgments of conveyances to real property. Such certificate must be filed and recorded in the office of the recorder of the county in which the property is situated, and the recorder must note the record thereof in the margin of the record of the certificate of sale.

Kerr, C. C. P., 703.

Successor of sheriff or constable may execute deed, sec. 1662.

Plaintiff purchased from B the right of redemption to certain land and redeemed the same from the purchaser at a foreclosure sale. It was held that he was not entitled to the possession of the land against a lessee under a demise made subsequent to the mortgage. Gilson v. Boston, 11 Nev. 413, 414.

After redeeming, plaintiff had some estate in the land that B had before the sale and was as much bound by the lease as B would have been. Idem.

One who brings an action to recover real estate purchased under execution cannot show that the execution issued under a different judgment than the one recited on its face, nor can he contradict the recitals in the deed under which he claims. Zabriskie v. Mead, 2 Nev. 285.

If a defendant in execution has no title to premises in question, either at the date of sale, or at any time subsequent to the period when the judgment was rendered, as appears by the recitals in the execution, in the advertisement of sale, in the certificate of sale, and the sheriff's deed, a party claiming under such execution sale will not be allowed to show that the true date of the judgment under which the execution was issued was different from all those recitals. Idem.

5302. Payment of redemption money.

SEC. 360. The payments mentioned in the last two sections must be made to the sheriff who made the sale; when the judgment under which the sale has been made is payable in a specified kind of money or currency, payments must be made in the same kind of money or currency, and a tender of the money is equivalent to payment. A redemptioner must serve with his notice to the sheriff:

1. A copy of the judgment under which he claims the right to redeem, certified by the clerk of the court or of the county where the judgment is docketed, or if he redeems upon a mortgage or other lien, a note of the record thereof, certified by the recorder.

2. A copy of any assignment necessary to establish his claim, verified by the affidavit of himself, or his agent, or of a subscribing witness thereto.

3. An affidavit by himself or his agent, showing the amount then actually due on the loan.

Upon the payment to the sheriff of any money for the redemption of property as provided in this act the sheriff shall pay over the same to the person entitled thereto.

Kerr, C. C. P., 704–705.

5303. What redemptioner must do in order to redeem.

SEC. 361. A redemptioner shall produce to the officer or person from whom he seeks to redeem, and serve with his notice to the sheriff:

1. A copy of the docket of the judgment under which he claims the right to redeem, certified by the clerk of the court, or of the county where the judgment is docketed; or, if he redeem upon a mortgage or other lien, a note of the record thereof certified by the recorder.

2. A copy of an assignment necessary to establish his claim, verified by the affidavit of himself or of subscribing witnesses thereto; and, third, an affidavit by himself, or his agent, showing the amount then actually due on the lien.

Kerr, C. C. P., 705.

5304. Until expiration of redemption period court may restrain waste—Waste defined.

Kerr, C. C. P., 706.

5305. Rents and profits, how disposed of.

SEC. 363. The purchaser from the time of a sale until a redemption, and a redemptioner from the time of his redemption until another redemption, shall be entitled to receive from the tenant in possession, the rents of the property sold, or the value of the use and occupation thereof; provided, that in case the property shall be redeemed as provided in this chapter, the amount of such rents, and profits which may have been received by such purchaser or redemptioner, or which said purchaser or redemptioner may have been entitled to claim or receive, unless such claim shall be released to the person claiming such right of redemption, shall be deducted from the amount which said purchaser or redemptioner would be entitled to receive on such redemption.

Kerr, C. C. P., 707.

5306. Purchaser may recover from judgment creditor, when.

SEC. 364. If the purchaser of real property sold on execution, or his successor in interest, or a redemptioner be evicted therefrom in consequence of irregularities in the proceedings concerning the sale or of the reversal or discharge of the judgment, he may recover the price paid, with interest, from the judgment creditor. If the purchaser of property at sheriff's sale, or his successor in interest, fail to recover possession in consequence of irregularity in the proceedings concerning the sale, or because the property sold was not subject to execution and sale, the court having jurisdiction thereof shall, on petition of such party in interest, or his attorney, revive the original judgment for the amount paid by such purchaser at the sale, with interest thereon from the time of payment at the same rate that the original judgment bore, and when so revived, the said judgment shall have the same effect as an original judgment of the said court of that date, and bearing interest as aforesaid, and any other or after acquired property, rents, issues, or profits of the said debtor shall be liable to levy and sale, under execution in satisfaction of such debt; provided, that no property of such debtor bona fide sold upon the filing of such petition, shall be subject to the lien of such judgment; and, provided further, that notice of the filing of such petition shall be made by filing a notice thereof in the office of the recorder of the county where such property is situated, and that said judgment shall be revived in the name of the original plaintiff or plaintiffs, for the use of said petitioner, the party in interest.

Kerr, C. C. P., 708.

PROCEEDINGS SUPPLEMENTARY TO EXECUTION

5307. Debtor, required to answer concerning his property, when.
5308. Proceedings to compel debtor to appear—Arrest—Bail—Commitment.
5309. Debtor of judgment debtor may pay latter's creditor.
5310. Parties owing judgment debtor must answer concerning same.
5311. Witnesses required to testify.
5312. Judge may order property to be applied on execution.
5313. Proceedings on claim of other party to property or on denial of debt to judgment debtor.
5314. Disobedience of orders, how punished.

5307. Debtor required to answer concerning his property, when.

SEC. 365. When an execution against property of the judgment debtor, or of any one of several debtors in the same judgment, issued to the sheriff of the county where he resides, or if he do not reside in this state, to the sheriff of the county where the judgment roll is filed, is returned unsatisfied, in whole or in part, the judgment creditor, at any time after such return is made, shall be entitled to an order from the judge of the court requiring such judgment debtor to appear and answer upon oath concerning his property, before such judge or a referee appointed by him at a time and place specified in the order; but no judgment debtor shall be required to attend before a judge or referee out of the county in which he resides, when proceedings are taken under the provisions of this chapter.

Kerr, C. C. P., 714.

5308. Proceedings to compel debtor to appear—Arrest—Bail—Commitment.

SEC. 366. After the issuing of an execution against property, and upon proof by affidavit of a party or otherwise, to the satisfaction of the court or of the judge thereof, that any judgment debtor has property which he unjustly refuses to apply towards the satisfaction of the judgment, such court, or judge, may by an order require the judgment debtor to appear at a specified time and place before such judge, or referee appointed by him, to answer concerning the same; and such proceedings may thereupon be had for the application of the property of the judgment debtor towards the satisfaction of the judgment as are provided upon the return of an execution. Instead of the order requiring the attendance of the judgment debtor, the judge may, upon affidavit of the judgment creditor, his agent, or attorney, if it appear to him that there is danger of the debtor absconding, order the sheriff to arrest the debtor and bring him before such judge.

Upon being brought before the judge, he may be ordered to enter into an undertaking, with sufficient surety, that he will attend from time to time before the judge, or referee, as shall be directed during the pendency of proceedings, and until the final determination thereof, and will not in the meantime dispose of any portion of his property not exempt from execution. In default of entering into such undertaking, he may be committed to prison.

Kerr, C. C. P., 715.

5309. Debtor of judgment debtor may pay latter's creditor.

SEC. 367. After the issuing of an execution against property, any person indebted to the judgment debtor may pay to the sheriff the amount of his debt, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy the execution, and the sheriff's receipt shall be a sufficient discharge for the amount so paid.

Kerr, C. C. P., 716.

5310. Parties owing judgment debtor must answer concerning same.

Kerr, C. C. P., 717.

In proceedings supplementary to execution, the judgment creditor can, in a summary manner, compel the disclosure of any property belonging to the judgment debtor in the hands, or under the control of, any other person, and of any indebtedness due to the judgment debtor. Hagerman v. Lee, 12 Nev. 331–335.

The judge or referee can only order property to be applied to the satisfaction of the judgment when the debtor's title thereto is clear and undisputed. Idem.

If the debt is denied the only course for plaintiff is to apply for an order forbidding any transfer or other disposition of the debt, and for an order authorizing a commencement of an action in a proper court, as provided in sec. 371 of this act. Idem.

Notice of garnishment served upon a debtor, while giving a right of action against him for money owing to the defendant in the garnishment proceedings, does not constitute a lien upon money with which he may subsequently pay his debts, so as to enable the garnisher to follow the money into the hands of third persons to whom it has been paid. Hulley v. Chedic, 22 Nev. 127 (58 A. S. 729, 56 P. 783).

5311. Witnesses required to testify.

SEC. 369. Witnesses may be required to appear and testify before the judge, or referee, upon any proceeding under this chapter, in the same manner as upon the trial of an issue.

Kerr, C. C. P., 718.

5312. Judge may order property to be applied on execution.

SEC. 370. The judge or referee may order any property of the judgment debtor not exempt from execution, in the hands of such debtor or any other person, or due to the judgment debtor, to be applied towards the satisfaction of the judgment.

Kerr, C. C. P., 719.

See Hagerman v. Lee, under sec. 368 of this act.

5313. Proceedings on claim of other party to property or on denial of debt to judgment debtor.

SEC. 371. If it appears that a person or corporation alleged to have property of the judgment debtor, or indebted to him, claims an interest in the property adverse to him, or denies the debt, the court or judge may authorize, by an order made to that effect, the judgment creditor to institute an action against such person or corporation for the recovery of such interest or debt; and the court or judge may, by order, forbid a transfer or other disposition of such interest or debt until an action can be commenced and prosecuted to judgment. Such order may be modified or vacated by the judge granting the same, or the court in which the action is brought, at any time, upon such terms as may be just.

Kerr, C. C. P., 720.

See Hagerman v. Lee, under sec. 368 of this act.

Plaintiff must move by direct action under this chapter to prevent disposition of the property by the pledgee, pending an action to determine the rights in the property. Persing v. Reno S. B. Co., 30 Nev. 342, 351 (96 P. 1054).

5314. Disobedience of orders, how punished.

SEC. 372. If any person, party, or witness disobey an order of the referee, properly made in the proceedings before him under this chapter, he may be punished by the court or judge ordering the reference, for a contempt.

Kerr, C. C. P., 721.

CHAPTER 44

EXCEPTIONS

5315. Exception defined—When taken—Must be material.
5316. Exception, how taken—Proved before supreme court.
5317. No particular form required—Substance of evidence or documents may be stated.
5318. Matters deemed excepted to.

5315. Exception defined—When taken—Must be material.

SEC. 373. An exception is an objection upon a matter of law to the decision made by a court, judge, referee, or other judicial officer, in an action or proceeding. The exception must be taken at the time the decision is made, except as provided in the next section. No exception shall be regarded on a motion for a new trial or on an appeal unless the exception be material and affect the substantial rights of the parties.

Utah, 3282.

Parol evidence as to written agreement admitted without objection is competent. Vietti v. Nesbitt, 22 Nev. 390 (41 P. 151).

Though the proceedings of the court are plainly irregular in point of practice, if no objection be made on that ground, such irregularity will not be considered in the supreme court. Fitzpatrick v. Fitzpatrick, 6 Nev. 63.

If evidence, secondary or hearsay in its character, be admitted without objection, no advantage can be taken of that fact afterward, and the jury may and should accept it as if it were admissible under the strictest rule of evidence. Sherwood v. Sissa, 5 Nev. 349; Watt v. N. C. R. R. Co., 23 Nev. 154 (62 A. S. 772, 44 P. 423).

If evidence is objected to because the pleadings are defective, the court should allow the pleadings to be amended. Jeffree v. Walsh, 14 Nev. 144.

A bill of exceptions, in order to be available on motion for a new trial or on appeal from judgment in a civil case, must be reduced to writing and settled by the judge at or before the conclusion of the trial. Burns v. Rodefer, 15 Nev. 59, 61.

The bill of exceptions cannot be reduced to writing and settled after the adjournment of the term at which the judgment is rendered, if there is no order of court made at such term extending the time therefor. Idem.

A general order, continuing "all matters in court not disposed of until the next term," did not extend the time for settling and signing a bill of exceptions. Idem.

Cited, State v. N. C. R. R., 26 Nev. 365 (68 P. 294).

The supreme court will consider objections to the admission of evidence only upon the grounds of objection as specified in the court below. Gooch v. Sullivan, 13 Nev. 78.

The particular ground of objection or exception taken in the course of a trial is required to be stated so that the court may decide intelligently upon it, and the opposite party be afforded an opportunity of obviating the objection if it be in his power to do so. Sharon v. Minnock, 6 Nev. 377, 382.

The only bills of exception which can be brought up by appeal are those taken during the progress of a cause before judgment. Weinrich v. Porteous, 12 Nev. 102, 104.

If an exception is actually taken at the trial but not drawn up in form for the judge's signature, and no note of it is made, either by the judge or clerk, still the party dissatisfied with the judgment has the right to make his statement on motion for a new trial or on appeal, and in either of such statements he may show any exception that he really took during the trial, although there be no note of the same. Lobdell v. Hall, 3 Nev. 507, 529.

An objection to the introduction of evidence which specifies specifically the ground of objection; therefore, objecting to the introduction of evidence upon the general ground of irrelevancy in that it is inadmissible under the pleadings, is not specifically specific. Keys v. Grannis, 3 Nev. 548, 556.

The exceptions which may be contained in a bill of exceptions under Stats. 1885, 394, sec. 4, are governed by this section, and a bill of exceptions based on an order of a referee denying a motion to set aside his conclusions of law, and the specification of error relating thereto, made two or three weeks after the filing of his decision and order directing judgment, and in the absence of and without service on or notice to the adverse party, cannot be considered. Western E. and C. Co. v. Nev. A. Co., 33 Nev. — (110 P. 1129).

Under statutes relating to the making of records on which the rulings of a trial court may be reviewed, both parties may participate in making the record, and the supreme court ought not to rely on statements that the adverse party has not had an opportunity to amend or correct. Idem.

The findings of fact and conclusions of law of a referee cannot be considered on appeal when they are not included in any statement on appeal or motion for a new trial or proper bill of exceptions, because they are not a part of the judgment roll. Idem.

A simple reservation of exception is not sufficient; the point of it must be stated at the time the exception is taken or it will be disregarded. McGurn v. McInnis, 24 Nev. 370, 375 (55 P. 304).

5316. Exception, how taken—Proved before supreme court.

SEC. 374. The point of the exception shall be stated, and may be delivered in writing to the judge or taken by the stenographic reporter of the case, if there be one, or, if the party require it, shall be written down by the clerk. When delivered in writing or written down, as above, it shall be made conformable to the truth, or be at the time corrected until it is so made conformable. If the judge shall in any case refuse to allow an exception in accordance with the facts, any party aggrieved thereby may petition the supreme court for leave to prove the same, and shall have the right so to do, in such mode and manner and according to such regulations as the supreme court may prescribe, or by rules impose, and such exceptions as are allowed by said supreme court shall become a part of the record of the case.

In the absence of any statute upon the subject, the supreme court has no power to settle a statement on motion for a new trial in a criminal case when the district court refuses to settle such statement according to the facts claimed by the moving party. State v. Warren, 18 Nev. 459, 461 (5 P. 134).

See Lobdell v. Hall, under sec. 373 of this act.

When petitioner has failed to comply with this section the appellate court will not allow exceptions alleged to have been taken and refused where there is a conflict in the statement of witnesses based upon their memory of what occurred. Lewis v. Hyams, 25 Nev. 242, 258 (59 P. 376).

Cited, Finnegan v. Ulmer, 31 Nev. 525 (104 P. 17).

On an application to prove exceptions, a claim that a reporter's transcript of the proceedings does not give correctly petitioner's exceptions taken at the trial, is unsupported where the transcript is accompanied by affidavits of the reporter and others present at the trial as to its correctness. Lewis v. Hyams, 25 Nev. 242 (59 P. 376).

See Sharon v. Minnock, under sec. 373 of this act.

An exception to the rejection of certain evidence will not be considered where no point to the exception was stated. Schwartz v. Stock, 26 Nev. 128, 150 (65 P. 351).

5317. No particular form required—Substance of evidence or documents may be stated.

SEC. 375. No particular form of exception is required, and where the exception is taken to a ruling upon an objection the point of which has been stated, it is sufficient to note an exception to the ruling without repeating the point of objection. The exception must be stated, with so much of the evidence or other matter as is necessary to explain it. Documents on file in the action or proceedings may be copied, or the substance thereof stated, or a reference thereto sufficient to identify them may be made.

In the absence of a statement on motion for a new trial, the appellate court cannot review the action of the court below in refusing the same. Van Valkenburg v. Huff, 1 Nev. 142.

The act of 1865, 394, sec. 2, similar to the above, has had the following citations:

A defective finding of facts is not ground for reversing a judgment when that defect is not noticed or complained of in the court below. McClusky v. Gerhauser, 2 Nev. 52; Whitmore v. Shiverick, 3 Nev. 289, 312; State v. Manhattan S. M. Co., 4 Nev. 336; Warren v. Quill, 9 Nev. 259, 267; Smith v. Logan, 18 Nev. 149, 153(1 P. 678); Schwartz v. Stock, 26 Nev. 144 (65 P. 351); Weinrich v. Porteous, 12 Nev. 104.

An exception to a ruling granting a motion to strike out portions of the answer, taken three months after the trial, is not in time, and should be disallowed. Lewis v. Hyams, 25 Nev. 242, 256 (59 P. 376).

Orders denying motions to strike out and amend a judgment may be presented by statement on appeal, instead of by bill of exceptions. State ex rel. Equitable G. M. Co. v. Murphy, 29 Nev. 248, 256 (88 P. 335).

Cited, Finnegan v. Ulmer, 31 Nev. 525 (104 P. 17).

See Western E. and C. Co. v. Nev. A. Co., under sec. 373 of this act.

5318. Matters deemed excepted to.

SEC. 376. The verdict of the jury, the final decision in an action or proceeding, the findings of fact, conclusions of law made by the court, findings of the referee, an interlocutory order or decision finally determining the rights of the parties, or some of them; an order or decision from which an appeal may be taken; an order sustaining or overruling a demurrer, allowing or refusing to allow an amendment to a pleading, striking out a pleading or a portion thereof, refusing a continuance; an order made upon ex parte application; and an order or decision made in the absence of a party, unless made with his consent, are deemed to have been excepted to.

Utah, 3283.

Cited, Robinson v. Kind, 25 Nev. 277 (59 P. 863).

CHAPTER 45

NEW TRIALS

5319. New trial defined.
5320. New trial, for what causes granted.
5321. New trial, application for, how made and determined — Verdict against evidence—Only two new trials.
5322. Memorandum of exceptions relied upon, verified by attorney to be well founded, must be served.
5323. Notice of intention to be filed and served, what must contain.
5324. Motion based on affidavits and counter affidavits.

5319. New trial defined.

SEC. 377. A new trial is a reexamination of an issue of fact in the same court after a trial and decision by a jury, court, or referee.

Utah, 3291.

The method of vacating judgments is regulated by statute, and its provisions must be complied with in order to authorize the court to act. The court has no jurisdiction to set aside a judgment upon a mere motion. State ex rel. Smith v. District Court, 16 Nev. 371, 373.

After a verdict rendered in the district court upon the trial of a case appealed from a justice's court, the district court has jurisdiction where a proper showing is made to grant a new trial. State ex rel. Koppe v. District Court, 23 Nev. 343, 345 (47 P. 100).

Cited, in dissenting opinion of Bonnifield, C. J., Bliss v. Grayson, 24 Nev. 459 (56 P. 231).

New trials and appeals in contested election cases are regulated by the civil practice act. Sweeney v. Karsky, 25 Nev. 197, 201 (58 P. 813).

See Western E. and C. Co. v. Nev. A. Co., under sec. 373 of this act.

If the newly discovered evidence brings to light some new fact bearing upon the main question, and it would be likely to change the result, a new trial should be granted. Gray v. Harrison, 1 Nev. 502.

That only is cumulative evidence which is in addition to or corroborative of what has been given at the trial. To render evidence subject to this objection, it must be cumulative, not with respect to the main issue between the parties, but upon some collateral or subordinate fact bearing upon that issue. Idem.

5320. New trial, for what causes granted.

SEC. 378. The former verdict or other decision may be vacated, and a new trial granted on the application of the party aggrieved, for any of the following causes, materially affecting the substantial rights of such party:

1. Irregularity in the proceedings of the court, jury, referee, or adverse party, or any order of the court, or referee, or abuse of discretion by which either party was prevented from having a fair trial.

2. Misconduct of the jury or prevailing party.

3. Accident or surprise which ordinary prudence could not have guarded against.

4. Newly discovered evidence material for the party making the application which he could not, with reasonable diligence, have discovered and produced at the trial.

5. Excessive damages appearing to have been given under the influence of passion or prejudice.

6. Insufficiency of the evidence to justify a verdict or other decision, or that it is against law.

7. Error in law occurring at the trial and excepted to by the party making the application.

Utah, 3292.

For history of this section, see Elder v. Frevert, 18 Nev. 284 (3 P. 237).

To justify a new trial on the ground of newly discovered evidence, three things must be shown: First, materiality of evidence; second, that it could not by due diligence have been produced at the first trial; third, that it is not cumulative. Howard v. Winters, 3 Nev. 539.

To justify the granting of a new trial on such ground, the party applying for relief should show clearly that the failure to produce evidence on the first trial was not the result of negligence on his part. Idem.

The rule that a judgment must be reversed where instructions on the material point are contradictory is not absolute and unqualified. If one party asks for an instruction which is given by the court, laying down a rule of law in language too broad and unqualified, and the other side then asks an instruction, which is also given, qualifying and limiting the former instruction, and to some extent contradicting it; if the second instruction contains only sound law, the conflict between the two is not an error of which the party who obtained the instruction which was too broad and unqualified can complain. Lobdell v. Hall, 3 Nev. 507, 519, 520.

Instructions given or refused by the lower court will not be inquired into on appeal, unless the record shows that the giving or refusal to give them was excepted to at the time. Idem.

Instructions given to a jury without objection are presumed to be with the consent of the parties, and such consent is a waiver of any right thereafter to question their correctness in that case. Idem.

A verdict or other decision cannot be set aside where no irregularity or error whatever is shown, and a verdict or decision is in accordance with and justified by the evidence. Scott v. Haines, 3 Nev. 426, 427.

When a judgment has once been rendered the court has no right to set it aside, except in case of error in some respect or injustice in the result. Idem.

A wrong reason for a judgment, which is in itself correct, will not vitiate or affect it, Idem.

The duty of determining the truth where the testimony is conflicting belongs almost exclusively to nisi prius courts, and should always be exercised and determined by an impartial judgment. Barnes v. Sabron, 10 Nev. 218, 248.

The findings of fact are like a special verdict of a jury, and must be taken in connection with the pleadings to support the judgment; they cannot be detached from each other, but must be read together for the purpose of ascertaining their meaning and, if there is any conflict or discrepancy between general and specific findings, the specific findings must control. Idem.

Under the sixth subdivision above the district court is authorized to decide whether the findings sustain the judgment, and its action in regard thereto can be reviewed on appeal from an order overruling motion for new trial. Idem.

Facts held not to indicate "passion or prejudice" on the part of the jury. Solen v. V. & T. R. R. Co., 13 Nev. 107, 137; Murphy v. S. P. R. R. Co., 31 Nev. 120, 123 (101 P. 322); Burch v. S. P. R. R. Co., 32 Nev. 75 (104 P. 239).

If the decision or finding of a court or referee is against law, a new trial is the proper remedy. The decision is against law if it is contrary to, or inconsistent with, the case made and embraced within the issue. Marshall v. Golden Fleece M. Co., 16 Nev. 157, 172, 174.

When the notice for motion for new trial specified, as one of the grounds relied upon, "that said decisions, findings and decree are against law," and the specification of error in the statement, which would have been proper if classed under this subdivision of error, was referred to as an error "committed by the court on the trial of the case," it was held that the specification was sufficient under proper subdivision of error. Jones v. Adams, 17 Nev. 84, 85 (28 P. 64).

Where a new trial is applied for upon the sixth and the seventh grounds above, the application must be made upon statements prepared as the statute requires. Simpson v. Ogg, 18 Nev. 28, 31 (1 P. 827).

The rule that the supreme court will not review the evidence upon an appeal from the judgment alone, for the purpose of determining its sufficiency to sustain the findings of the lower court, no motion for a new trial having been made, applies to suits in equity where the evidence is entirely documentary as well as all other actions. Burbank v. Rivers, 20 Nev. 81, 82 (16 P. 430).

Affidavits in support of motion for a new trial will be stricken from the record where not shown by indorsement of the judge or clerk to have been read or referred to on the hearing of the motion, and the requirement cannot be avoided by incorporating the affidavits in the body of the statement on motion for new trial, since unauthorized. Hoppin v. First Nat. Bank, 25 Nev. 84, 90 (56 P. 1121).

When the notice of intention to move for new trial designates subdivision 6 above, the sufficiency of the pleadings and errors appearing in the judgment roll may be considered on an appeal from an order denying a new trial (Bonnifield, C. J., dissenting). Bliss v. Grayson, 25 Nev. 329, 344, 345 (59 P. 888).

After a case was regularly called, evidence introduced and judgment regularly entered for plaintiff without defendant's appearance for trial, it was held that such was not a judgment by default which could be set aside on motion, but that defendant's remedy was by motion for a new trial under subdivision 3 above. Luke v. Coffee, 31 Nev. 165, 169 (101 P. 555).

Affidavits not filed until after the denial of a motion for a new trial for misconduct of parties could not be considered on appeal in reviewing the court's alleged error in denying the motion.

Where alleged misconduct of plaintiff's guide in conducting the jury to the mine in controversy for a view was immaterial if defendants' views of the law were sustained, and would probably have been remedied by an instruction by the court if promptly brought to its attention immediately after the jury returned, but was not called to the court's attention until by defendants' motion for a new trial, the court's refusal to grant the motion on that ground, was not error. Golden v. Murphy, 31 Nev. 395, 425 (103 P. 394).

See Western E. & C. Co. v. Nev. A. Co., under sec. 373 of this act.

Where a motion for a new trial is made on the ground of newly discovered evidence and also because the evidence was insufficient to sustain the judgment, and it appeared that there was a substantial conflict therein, an order granting the motion will not be disturbed on appeal. McCafferty v. Flinn, 32 Nev. 269 (107 P. 225).

The record on appeal from an order denying a new trial should contain only such papers as were used or referred to on the hearing of the motion. Botsford v. Van Riper, 32 Nev. 214 (106 P. 443).

The refusal of a trial judge to pass upon the sufficiency of the evidence when such ground is alleged in support of a motion for a new trial, is error. Goldfield-Mohawk M. Co. v. Frances-Mohawk M. & L. Co., 33 Nev. — (112 P. 43).

New trials not matters of discretion. The granting or refusing a new trial is not a matter of mere discretion. Sacto. & M. M. Co. v. Showers, 6 Nev. 291.

Liquor used by juror, during the progress of a trial, or after the case has been submitted, unless furnished by the party in whose favor the verdict is given, or unless it is shown that intoxicating effects were produced, is no ground for setting aside the verdict or awarding a new trial. Richardson v. Jones, 1 Nev. 405.

Every irregularity on the part of a jury does not authorize the verdict to be set aside, unless the party complaining shows, by reasonable presumption at least that he has been injured thereby. Idem.

Surplus matter in verdict no cause for new trial unless it appears from that surplus matter that the jury based their verdict on absurd reasoning or false premises. Gregory v. Frothingham, 1 Nev. 253.

Surprise. When a party applies for a new trial on the ground of surprise he must show that he has evidence which, if introduced on a second trial, will probably change the result; or at least has evidence tending to rebut the point made by the other side which he complains of as a matter of surprise. McClusky v. Gerhauser, 2 Nev. 47.

Accident and surprise—Affidavit when insufficient — Probative facts. Brown v. Warren, 17 Nev. 417 (30 P. 1078).

Mistake as to material facts. A new trial may be granted for a mistake as to a material fact if the defeated party had no knowledge thereof until after the case was closed and ready for submission to the jury. Sultan v. Sherwood, 18 Nev. 454 (5 P. 71).

Newly discovered evidence. If bears upon main question and would be likely to change result, new trial should be granted. Gray v. Harrison, 1 Nev. 502.

Newly discovered evidence—Materiality of. Wall v. Trainor, 16 Nev. 131.

New trial—Newly discovered evidence—Diligence. An affidavit for a new trial on the ground of newly discovered evidence which states that the attorney "diligently searched for testimony to establish the defense" is insufficient. It is too general. The acts performed should be particularly stated so as to enable the court to determine whether the conclusions stated are supported by the facts. Pinschower v. Hanks, 18 Nev. 99 (1 P. 454).

Newly discovered evidence — Diligence. Manning v. Gignoux, 23 Nev. 322 (46 P. 886).

Excessive damages. Barnes v. W. U. Tel. Co., 24 Nev. 125 (77 A. S. 791, 50 P. 438); Roberts v. Webster, 25 Nev. 94, 125 (57 P. 180); Cutler v. Pittsburg Silver Peak G. M. Co., 34 Nev. — (116 P. 418).

No consideration of insufficiency of evidence on appeal where no motion for new trial. This rule settled beyond discussion. Conley v. Chedic, 7 Nev. 336; James v. Goodenough, 7 Nev. 324; Whitmore v. Shiverick, 3 Nev. 288; Cooper v. Pac. Mutual Ins., Co., 7 Nev. 116; Burbank v. Rivers, 20 Nev. 81.

New trial statement for insufficiency of evidence should show all the evidence. The statement will not be considered unless it affirmatively shows that it contains all the material evidence produced at the trial. Sherman v. Shaw, 9 Nev. 148.

Granting or refusing new trial—Sound discretion of trial judge not disturbed by appellate court. The granting or the refusal of a motion for a new trial on the ground that the evidence does not support the findings rests in the sound discretion of the trial judge, and such order will not be disturbed by appellate courts when based upon conflicting evidence, and made in the exercise of a sound discretion. Edwards v. Carson W. Co., 21 Nev. 469 (34 P. 381).

Conflict of evidence. If a new trial is granted upon the ground that the evidence is insufficient to sustain the verdict, the action of the court will be sustained by the appellate court, if there is a substantial conflict in the evidence. McLeod v. Lee, 14 Nev. 398; Margaroli v. Milligan, 11 Nev. 96; Worthing v. Cutts, 8 Nev. 118; Smith v. Mayberry, 13 Nev. 427; Phillpotts v. Blasdel, 8 Nev. 61; Treadway v. Wilder, 9 Nev. 67; Palmer v. Culverwell, 24 Nev. 114; State v. V. & T. R. R. Co., 24 Nev. 53; Roberts v. Webster, 25 Nev. 94.

Statement of new trial—Specification of insufficiency of evidence. On motion for new trial on the ground of insufficiency of the evidence, it is indispensable in the statement to designate the particulars in which the insufficiency consists. Caldwell v. Greely, 5 Nev. 258; Elder v. Shaw, 12 Nev. 78; Watt v. N. C. R. Co., 23 Nev. 156 (62 A. S. 772, 44 P. 425); Beck v. Thompson, 22 Nev. 109 (36 P. 562).

Verdict contrary to law—New trial. The court properly instructed the jury as to the measure of damages, and they brought in a verdict contrary to such instruction: Held, that the court properly granted a new trial. Hoffman v. Bosch, 18 Nev. 360 (4 P. 703).

Errors of law to be pointed out in statements. A statement on motion for new trial on the ground of errors in law must particularly designate the errors relied on, otherwise it will be disregarded. Caldwell v. Greely, 5 Nev. 258; McWilliams v. Herschman, 5 Nev. 263.

5321. New trial, application for—How made and determined—Verdict against evidence—Only two new trials.

SEC. 379. In an application for a new trial, it shall be sufficient for the party applying for the same to state, in the language of the statute only, or in language of similar import, one or more grounds as specified in the preceding section; provided, that when the application is made upon subdivisions 1, 2, 3, or 4 of the preceding section, it must be supported by affidavit. In all other cases it must be made upon the minutes of the court without statement or bill of exceptions. The application for a new trial shall be heard at the earliest practicable period after notice of the motion, if the motion is to be heard upon the minutes of the court, and in other cases after the affidavits are filed. It may be brought to a hearing by either party upon five days' notice to the opposite party. On such hearing, reference may be had in all cases to the pleadings and the orders of the court, and, when the motion is made on the minutes, reference may also be had to the depositions, documentary evidence, and the stenographic notes or report of the testimony and the records of the court. The court or judge granting or refusing a new trial shall state, in writing, generally, the grounds upon which the same is granted or refused. The verdict of a jury may also be vacated and a new trial granted by the court in which the action is pending, on its own motion, without the application of either of the parties when there has been such a plain disregard by the jury of the instructions of the court, or the evidence in the case, as to satisfy the court that the verdict was rendered under a misapprehension of such instructions, or under the influence of passion or prejudice, but not more than two new trials shall be granted by the court, upon its own motion, or otherwise upon the ground that the verdict is contrary to the weight of the evidence.

It would be error to grant a new trial where there is no affidavit and no statement in support of the motion for that object. Whitmore v. Shiverick, 3 Nev. 388.

See Simpson v. Ogg, under sec. 378 of this act.

The verdict of a jury or findings by a court will not be set aside on the ground that they are not supported by the evidence, unless it appears by the statement that all the evidence is before the court. Howard v. Winters, 3 Nev. 541.

The admission by respondent's attorney, that a statement on motion for new trial is correct, does not admit such statement to contain all the evidence offered, when the statement itself does not purport to contain it all. It can only be held to be an admission that so far as the evidence is stated it is stated correctly. It does not negative the order of other evidence being given. Idem.

A notice of motion for new trial, which fails to designate the grounds upon which the motion will be made, is insufficient. Street v. Lemon M. & M. Co., 9 Nev. 251, 253.

The trial court, in determining the right of a party to new trial, is not limited to the specific matters contained in the statement or affidavits on motion for new trial; and the original pleadings will be considered as part of the record on appeal, although not embodied in such statement, or identified as having been read or referred to on the hearing of the motion. Bliss v. Grayson, 24 Nev. 422, 459 (56 P. 231).

5322. Memorandum of exceptions relied upon, verified by attorney to be well founded, must be served.

SEC. 380. Where the motion is made upon the seventh cause mentioned in the preceding section, the party moving shall, within ten days after the service of notice of motion for a new trial, unless further time be obtained by stipulation or order of the court, serve upon the adverse party a memorandum of such errors excepted to as he intends to rely on upon the motion, and such memorandum shall contain a verified statement of his attorney that in the judgment of such attorney the exceptions so relied upon are well taken in the law. No other errors under subdivision 7 shall be considered either upon the motion for a new trial or upon appeal than those mentioned in such memorandum.

A verdict on conflicting evidence should not be disturbed, unless there is a clear preponderance of evidence against it, or the court can say that the jury was swayed by improper motions from rendering a just verdict. Burch v. S. P. R. R. Co., 32 Nev. 75 (104 P. 239).

Where no objection is made to a proposed amendment within the time specified, it is deemed to have been accepted by the adverse party and the statement is in effect agreed on by the parties, the same should be allowed and certified before being used on the motion. Collins v. Goodwin, 32 Nev. 342 (108 P. 4).

Where the parties submit a motion for a new trial on the statement as agreed on, they waive the objection that the statement was not properly allowed and certified. Idem.

See Botsford v. Van Riper, under sec. 378 of this act.

5323. Notice of intention to be filed and served, what must contain.

SEC. 381. The party intending to move for a new trial must, within five days after the verdict of the jury, if the action was tried by jury, or within ten days after notice of the decision of the court, or referee, if the action was tried without a jury, file with the clerk, and serve upon the adverse party, a notice of his intention, designating the grounds upon which the motion will be made and whether the same will be made upon affidavits or upon the minutes of the court.

See citations under sec. 389 of this act.

Under the former practice act it was held that findings are no portion of the judgment roll, and that there was no statutory provision for their introduction into the transcript on appeal; that they must therefore be brought up, if at all, by means of a statement, and, if not so brought up they could not be considered. Imperial S. M. Co. v. Barstow, 5 Nev. 254, 255, 263–268; Richards v. Howard, 2 Nev. 128; Corbett v. Job, 5 Nev. 201.

Sec. 198, Stats. 1861, 227, corresponding in part to this section, was cited in State v. C. P. R. R. Co., 17 Nev. 268 (30 P. 887).

5324. Motion based on affidavits and counter affidavits.

SEC. 382. If the motion is to be made upon affidavits, the moving party must, within five days after serving the notice, file such affidavits with the clerk, and serve a copy upon the adverse party, who shall have five days to file counter affidavits, a copy of which must be served upon the moving party.

Utah, 3295.

5353. Undertakings may be in one instrument in certain cases.
5354. Affidavit of sureties—Undertaking on appeal, waiver of—Deposit in lieu of undertaking.
5355. Appeal stays proceedings except on order directing sale of perishable property.
5356. Appeal from final judgment or order—Transcript of, what to consist.
5357. Transcript on appeal may be either printed or typewritten—Rule of costs.
5358. Appeals not to be dismissed except for substantial errors in proceeding.
5359. Power of appellate court on appeal.
5360. Judgment on appeal, how certified and entered.
5361. Execution for costs to be issued when remittitur filed.

5325. Judgment or order, how to be reviewed.

SEC. 383. A judgment or order in a civil action, except when expressly made final by this act, may be reviewed as prescribed by this title, and not otherwise.

Where the district court, in a case certified to it from a justice's court, renders judgment on an issue exclusively within the jurisdiction of the justice, the supreme court has no jurisdiction of an appeal from the judgment. Union Ditch Co. v. Leete, 24 Nev. 345 (54 P. 724).

When an error appears on the face of a judgment roll, in computation or anything of that character, which would have been corrected in the court before if attention had been called to it, and an appellant had an opportunity to do so, which he neglected, the supreme court will make the proper correction at the cost of the appellant, but costs will not be imposed if the appellant did not have such opportunity in the lower court. Flannery v. Anderson, 4 Nev. 444.

Where a fact, necessary to be proven to support a judgment, was found by a district court, and there is nothing in the record on appeal to negative such finding, it will be presumed to have been established by competent and satisfactory evidence. Idem.

Cited, Peters v. Jones, 26 Nev. 259, 263, 265, 266 (66 P. 745).

When an appeal is taken from an order made on affidavits, no statement is required, and those sections of the practice act making it the duty of the appellant to prepare a statement containing the grounds upon which he intends to rely on appeal, have no application to an appeal from such an order. Gray v. Harrison, 1 Nev. 502.

New trials and appeals in contested election cases are regulated by the civil practice act. Lynip v. Buckner, 22 Nev. 426, 435 (30 L. R. A. 354, 41 P. 762); Sweeney v. Karsky, 25 Nev. 197 (58 P. 813).

A statement on appeal must contain a specific statement of the particular errors or grounds relied on. Corbett v. Job, 5 Nev. 201, 204; Irwin v. Samson, 10 Nev. 383.

Where it is not shown that the statement on appeal was filed with the clerk, or that a copy of it was served, or that it was agreed to, or settled by the judge, it was held that it did not comply with any of the requirements of the statute and could not be considered. Baum v. Meyer, 16 Nev. 91, 92.

Cited, State v. Y. J. S. M. Co., 14 Nev. 240.

The court cannot consider an appeal where no notice of, or undertaking on, appeal has been filed, even though counsel by express stipulation waived the same. Marx v. Lewis, 24 Nev. 306, 307 (53 P. 600).

5326. Order made out of court may be vacated or modified, how.

SEC. 384. An order made out of court, without notice to the adverse party, may be vacated or modified without notice, by the judge who made it or may be vacated or modified on notice, in the manner in which other motions are made.

Kerr, C. C. P., 937.

5327. Party aggrieved may appeal—Appellant and respondent defined.

SEC. 385. Any party aggrieved may appeal in the cases prescribed in this title. The party appealing shall be known as the appellant, and the adverse party as the respondent.

Kerr, C. C. P., 938.
Cited, Gaudette v. Glissan, 11 Nev. 185.

5328. When motion for new trial must be made before appeal taken—When not necessary.

SEC. 386. Where the appeal is based upon the ground that the evidence is insufficient to justify the verdict or decision of the court, or to support the findings, or upon alleged errors in ruling upon the evidence, or upon instructions claimed to be erroneous, a motion for a new trial must be made and determined before the appeal is taken. In all other cases the party aggrieved may appeal with or without first moving for a new trial; but by appealing without first moving for a new trial, the right to move for a new trial is waived.

5329. Time within which an appeal may be taken.

SEC. 387. An appeal may be taken:

1. From a final judgment in an action or special proceeding commenced in the court in which the judgment is rendered, within six months after the rendition of the judgment.

2. From an order granting or refusing a new trial, or refusing to grant or dissolve an injunction, or appointing or refusing to appoint a receiver, or dissolving or refusing to dissolve an attachment, or changing or refusing to change the place of trial, and from any special order made after final judgment, within sixty days after the order is made and entered in the minutes of the court.

3. From an interlocutory judgment, order or decree hereafter made or entered in actions to redeem real or personal property from a mortgage thereof or lien thereon, determining such right to redeem and directing an accounting, and from an interlocutory judgment in actions for partition which determines the rights and interests of the respective parties and directs partition, sale or division to be made, within sixty days after the rendition of the judgment or order.

Where the notice of appeal is filed one day before the expiration of the time limited for taking an appeal, but the undertaking is not filed until three days after the expiration of that time, but within five days after the filing of the notice of appeal, it was held that the appeal was taken within the year allowed by statute. Peran v. Monroe, 1 Nev. 484, 486.

An appeal is taken by the filing and serving of the notice, but it is effectual for no purpose until the undertaking is filed, and the failure to file such undertaking within the time prescribed renders the notice nugatory, but if filed within that time, it relates back to the time of filing and service of the notice of appeal. Idem.

Under this section an appeal is authorized from an order refusing to change the place of trial. Table Mt. G. & S. M. Co. v. Waller's Defeat S. M. Co., 4 Nev. 218 (97 A. D. 526).

An affidavit for change of venue, that affiant "verily believes and so says that the convenience of witnesses and the ends of justice would be promoted by the change of the place of trial," states mere conclusions, and not facts, and is clearly insufficient. Kercheval v. McKenney, 4 Nev. 294, 296.

Where an appeal, devoid of merit, appears to have been made for delay, damages in addition to costs will be imposed. Idem.

The practice act of this state allows an appeal from an order setting aside judgment. Ballard v. Purcell, 1 Nev. 342.

During the term in which judgment is rendered, the court has complete control of it, and upon a proper showing may set it aside. Idem.

The district court has jurisdiction in all chancery cases, whatever may be the amount in controversy. Wilde v. Wilde, 2 Nev. 308.

Under the statute providing for the payment of alimony pendente lite, the court cannot make an order for the payment of past expenses after the suit has been finally decided against the wife, although the motion was made before the decision of the case. Idem.

An appeal does not lie from the action of a district court in simply sustaining the demurrer; there must be a final judgment in such case before an appeal can be taken. Keyser v. Taylor, 4 Nev. 435, 436.

An order refusing to transfer a cause from a state district court to a United States court is not one of the orders contemplated by this section and no direct appeal lies therefrom. State ex rel. Comb. S. M. Co. v. Curler, 4 Nev. 445, 446.

Where the record on appeal discloses simply the sustaining of a demurrer, without showing a judgment, the appeal will be dismissed. Idem.

Where the clerk, in entering an order overruling defendant's motion for a new trial, enters defendant's name incorrectly, defendant is bound to take notice that the order was meant for his case, and, in the absence of proof that he was deceived or misled by the mistake, the time within which he must take an appeal begins to run from the date of such entry, and not from that of an order nunc pro tunc correcting the mistake. Burbank v. Rivers, 20 Nev. 159 (18 P. 753).

An appeal not taken within the time allowed by law must be dismissed. Paroni v. Simonsen, 33 Nev.—(115 P. 415).

Upon a writ of prohibition the appellate court cannot review an interlocutory order of the court below. That can only be reviewed on appeal from the final judgment. Low v. Crown Point M. Co., 2 Nev. 75, 79.

The supreme court has appellate jurisdiction only in cases commenced or tried by a court. The legislature may enjoin upon a judge the performance of judicial functions in matters outside of actions or proceedings in courts, but, in such cases, there is nothing in the statutes authorizing an appeal from his orders. Lyon Co. v. Esmeralda Co., 18 Nev. 169 (1 P. 839).

If an appeal lies from an order refusing to open a default, under the provisions of sec. 330, Stats. 1869, 196, it must be taken within sixty days or the right of appeal therefrom is lost. Reinhart v. Company D, 23 Nev. 369, 371 (47 P. 979).

Where a suit to foreclose a mechanic's lien is brought in a justice's court and appealed to the district court, it was held that an appeal lies from the district court to the supreme court. Dickson v. Corbett, 10 Nev. 442, 446.

The supreme court has no appellate jurisdiction in cases of contempt, where the proceeding is purely criminal. Phillips v. Welch, 11 Nev. 189, 190.

An appeal from a special order made after final judgment must be taken within sixty days after the order is made. Weinrich v. Porteous, 12 Nev. 104.

Under former sec. 330 (Stats. 1869, 196) it was held: If an appeal from the judgment is not taken within one year, it will be dismissed. Solomon v. Fuller, 13 Nev. 276, 278.

A party having the right to appeal may, within twenty days after the entry of the judgment or order, file his statement upon appeal and have it settled by the judge, and, within the time limited, jurisdiction of the case for that purpose is retained by the district court, even though the appeal be perfected before such statement is prepared. James v. Leport, 19 Nev. 175, 176 (8 P. 47).

Under the former practice act an order changing the place of trial was not appealable, but was held properly brought before the court as an intermediate order involving the merits and necessarily affecting the judgment. State v. Shaw, 21 Nev. 222, 224.

Orders denying motions to strike out and amend a judgment may be presented by statement on appeal, instead of by bill of exceptions. State ex rel. Equitable G. M. Co. v. Murphy, 29 Nev. 248, 256 (88 P. 335).

An appeal from an order setting aside a default entered by the clerk is not within the cases in which sec. 330 (Stats. 1869, 196) provides that an appeal may be taken and therefore mandamus will not lie. State ex rel. Botsford v. Langan, 29 Nev. 459, 463, 464 (91 P. 737).

The time within which an appeal must be taken begins to run from the date the court made its decision and ordered judgment to be entered accordingly, though the judgment was not entered until later. Central Trust Co. v. Holmes M. Co., 30 Nev. 437, 439 (97 P. 390).

An order increasing alimony pendente lite is not appealable, not being embraced by sec. 330, Stats. 1869, 196, prescribing what judgments and orders may be appealed. Kapp v. Kapp, 31 Nev. 70, 72 (99 P. 1077).

Under sec. 330, Stats. 1869, 196, expressly requiring that appeals from judgments be taken within one year after the rendition thereof, one not so taken must be dismissed. Candler v. Washoe Lake Ditch Co., 28 Nev. 151, 162, 163 (80 P. 751); Luke v. Coffee, 31 Nev. 165, 167 (101 P. 555).

An appeal taken before the rendition of a judgment will be dismissed. Elko-Tuscarora M. Co. v. Wines, 24 Nev. 305 (53 P. 177).

5330. Appeal, how taken.

SEC. 388. An appeal is taken by filing with the clerk of the court in which the judgment or order appealed from is entered, a notice stating the appeal from the same or some specific part thereof, and within three days thereafter serving a similar notice or copy thereof on the adverse party or his attorney. When the appeal is from the judgment and from an order denying a motion for a new trial, one notice of appeal so specifying shall be sufficient. The order of service is immaterial, but the appeal is ineffectual for any purpose unless within five days after service of the notice of appeal an undertaking be filed, or a deposit of money be made with the clerk, as hereinafter provided, or the undertaking be waived by the adverse party in writing.

See annotations under sec. 389 of this act.

A notice of appeal given orally to respondents, even if given in open court and entered on the minutes of the court, is not sufficient to make an appeal and dispense with the filing of a written notice. Lambert v. Moore, 1 Nev. 345–347.

The filing and service of a written notice of appeal must be followed by the filing of a proper undertaking, or the deposit in lieu thereof, within five days, or the notice becomes inoperative and a nullity. Idem.

See Peran v. Monroe, under sec. 387 of this act.

Where the notice of appeal specifies only a part of the judgment, and is served only upon the parties whose interests would not be affected by a reversal of the parts specified, it was held that the appellate court has no jurisdiction over the other parties, or over the judgment in so far as it affects them. Dick v. Bird, 14 Nev. 161, 163.

A copy of the notice of appeal, as filed, must be served before or at the time of filing the undertaking on appeal. Johnson v. Badger M. & M. Co., 12 Nev. 261.

The notice should state that appellants do appeal, not that they will appeal. Simpson v. Ogg, 18 Nev. 29 (1 P. 827).

A party may appeal from the whole or any part of a judgment. State v. C. P. R. R. Co., 21 Nev. 175 (26 P. 225).

Cited, Marx v. Lewis, 24 Nev. 306 (53 P. 600), which decision was reversed.

Notices of appeal are to be liberally construed and they will be held sufficient, if, by fair construction or reasonable intendment, the court can say that the appeal is taken from a judgment or an order in a particular case. Bliss v. Grayson, 24 Nev. 422, 434 (56 P. 231).

Where codefendants have made a separate motion for new trial, the defendant whose motion is denied may appeal without serving a notice of appeal on his codefendants, whose motion has never been passed upon by the court, and who are not adverse parties to the appellant. Idem.

The time within which an appeal must be taken begins to run from the date the court made its decision and ordered judgment to be entered accordingly, though the judgment was not entered until later. Central Trust Co. v. Holmes M. Co., 30 Nev. 437, 439 (97 P. 390).

The order in which the notice is filed and served is immaterial. State ex rel. Jones v. Brown, 30 Nev. 495, 503, 504 (98 P. 371).

Service of notice of appeal, what held substantial compliance. Clark v. Strouse, 11 Nev. 76.

5331. Statement on appeal, how prepared, served, filed, amended and settled.

SEC. 389. When the party who has the right to appeal wishes a statement of the case to be annexed to the record of the judgment or order, he shall, within twenty days after the entry of such judgment or order, if he or his attorney was present at the time of the making or entry thereof, or if the appeal is from a judgment based upon a verdict, and in other cases within twenty days after receiving written notice of the entry of the judgment or order, prepare a proposed statement, and number the pages and lines thereof, which proposed statement shall specify the particular errors or grounds upon which he intends to rely on the appeal, and shall contain so much of the evidence as may be necessary to explain the particular errors or grounds specified, and no more, and shall file the same with the clerk and serve a copy thereof upon the adverse party, but only one copy need be served upon the parties who are represented by the same attorney in the action, and no service need be made upon any party whose default has been entered. The respondent may, within ten days thereafter, prepare and file amendments to the statement, referring to the page and line thereof, and shall serve a copy of the amendments on the appellant, who shall, within five days thereafter, give written notice to the party filing amendments if he declines admitting the amendments, or they shall be deemed accepted. If the amendments are so accepted, either party may incorporate them in a new statement, embodying all matter in the original statement not in conflict with the amendments, and present the same to the judge or referee for his approval; or if no amendments are served, or if served are accepted, the proposed statement may be presented with the amendments, if any, to the judge or referee for settlement without notice to the adverse party. If the amendments be not accepted, the statement and amendments shall be presented to the court, or to the judge or referee who tried or heard the case upon notice of two days to the respondent, and a true statement shall thereupon be settled by the court or such judge or referee. When the proposed statement and amendments are received by the clerk, and the appellant files the notice declining to admit the amendments, the clerk must immediately deliver the statement and amendments to the judge if he be in the county; if he be absent from the county, and either party desires the papers to be forwarded to the judge, the clerk must, upon notice in writing from such party, immediately forward them to the judge by mail or other safe channel. If not thus forwarded, the clerk must deliver them to the judge immediately after his return to the county. When received from the clerk, the judge must designate the time at which he will settle the statement, and the clerk must immediately notify the parties of such designation. At the time designated the judge must settle the statement.

As this act has dispensed with the necessity for any statement on motion for a new trial, and requires only a statement on appeal, in case an appeal is taken, reference is here made by analogy to the more important decisions regarding statements on motion for a new trial which were required under the former practice, section 197 of the old act, and which generally served the purpose of a statement on appeal, as well as to cases relating to statements on appeal.

This section, corresponding to Stats. 1861, 346, sec. 195, has been construed in the following cases: Gregory v. Frothingham, 1 Nev. 253, 258–260; Hoopes v. Meyer, 1 Nev. 433, 439; Lockwood v. Marsh, 3 Nev. 138, 139; Whitmore v. Shiverick, 3 Nev. 288, 300; Lobdell v. Hall, 3 Nev. 507, 531.

Statement must be filed in time. A statement on motion for new trial which was not filed within the time allowed by law should, on motion, be stricken out. Williams V. Rice, 13 Nev. 235; Harrison v. Lockwood, 14 Nev. 263; Robinson v. Benson, 19 Nev. 331 (10 P. 441); G. F. M. Co. v. Cable Co., 15 Nev. 450.

Statement must be made within statutory time. Tull v. Anderson, 15 Nev. 426.

Assignment of error — Insufficiency of evidence—Findings of fact. Watt v. N. C. R. Co., 23 Nev. 156 (62 A. S. 772, 44 P. 423); Beck v. Thompson, 22 Nev. 109 (36 P. 562).

The method of making and settling statements on motion for new trial commented on. Levy v. Fargo, 1 Nev. 417; Bliss v. Grayson, 24 Nev. 422 (56 P. 231); Hoppin v. Cheney, 24 Nev. 222 (52 P. 12).

Meaning of "settled" in judge's certificate. The express requirement of the statute, that a judge's certificate to a settled statement on motion for a new trial shall affirm its correctness, does not preclude such presumptions as fairly arise from the language actually employed; so that when a judge certifies that he has settled a statement, he in effect certifies that it is a true and correct statement. Overman S. M. Co. v. American M. Co., 7 Nev. 312.

Stipulation of counsel ignoring the positive requirements of law will be disregarded. April Fool M. Co. v. Dooley, 24 Nev. 290 (52 P. 648).

New trial order reversed, if not supported. On appeal from an order granting a new trial, if the affidavits upon which it was granted are not identified so as to entitle them to be considered, the order, having no foundation, will be reversed. Dean v. Pritchard, 9 Nev. 232; Albion M. Co. v. Richmond Co., 19 Nev. 225 (8 P. 480); Hoppin v. First Nat. Bank, 25 Nev. 90.

Certificate of judge to statement. If it be stated in a statement that it contains all the material evidence, the certificate of the judge to the correctness of the statement is sufficient to establish that fact; but a certificate that a statement is correct does not show that it contains all the evidence when that fact is not stated in it. Sherwood v. Sissa, 5 Nev. 349.

Statement not containing all the evidence. Where the statement does not show that it contains all the evidence, it will be presumed that the findings were supported by the evidence. Gammans v. Roussell, 14 Nev. 171; Mandelbaum v. Liebes, 17 Nev. 131 (28 P. 1040); White Pine Co. v. Herrick, 19 Nev. 311 (10 P. 215); Howard v. Winters, 3 Nev. 539; Terry v. Berry, 13 Nev. 514; Greeley v. Holland, 14 Nev. 320; Bowker v. Goodwin, 7 Nev. 135; Libby v. Dalton, 9 Nev. 23; Lonkey v. Wells, 16 Nev. 271; McLeod v. Lee, 17 Nev. 103 (38 P. 124); Caples v. C. P. R. Co., 6 Nev. 265; In Re Winkleman, 9 Nev. 303; Bailey v. Papina, 20 Nev. 177 (19 P. 33).

Evidence to be inserted. When the appellant does not rely upon the "insufficiency of the evidence," it is only necessary to insert so much of the evidence as is necessary to explain the particular errors relied on. Rose v. Richmond M. Co., 17 Nev. 25 (37 P. 1105).

Statement—Particulars must be stated. A statement must specify the particulars in which the evidence is alleged to be insufficient, or it will be disregarded. Dick v. Bird, 14 Nev. 161; Lamance v. Byrnes, 17 Nev. 197 (30 P. 700); Rosina v. Trowbridge, 20 Nev. 105 (17 P. 751).

Objection to evidence—Grounds of must be stated. Rosina v. Trowbridge, 20 Nev. 105.

Findings — Documentary evidence must be embodied in a statement. Neither the findings of the court below, nor the documentary evidence admitted at the trial will be considered in the appellate court unless embodied in the statement or identified as required by statute. Hanson v. Chiatovich, 13 Nev. 395; Alderson v. Gilmore, 13 Nev. 84; Bowker v. Goodwin, 7 Nev. 135; Beck v. Truckee Lodge, 18 Nev. 246 (2 P. 390); Simpson v. Ogg, 18 Nev. 28 (1 P. 827); Imp. S. M. Co. v. Barstow, 5 Nev. 252; Corbett v. Job, 5 Nev. 201; Nesbitt v. Chisholm, 16 Nev. 400.

Judgment of nonsuit — Specification of error. Held, sufficient. Brown v. Warren, 16 Nev. 228.

Assignment of errors — When sufficient. Jones v. Adams, 17 Nev. 84 (28 P. 64).

Manner of inserting testimony in statement—Use of word "proved." Wilson v. Hill, 17 Nev. 401 (30 P. 1076).

Adjournment for term — Notice served. When notice of intention to move for new trial is served within two days after judgment, and followed up by statement, etc., as the statute prescribes, the court retains jurisdiction of the case so far as to be able to dispose properly of the motion for new trial, although the court may have adjourned for the term between the day judgment was rendered and the filing of notice, without making any order retaining the jurisdiction over the case. Killip v. Empire Mill Co., 2 Nev. 34.

But if term expires, and no notice of intention to move for a new trial is filed within the statutory time, then the court loses jurisdiction of the case. Idem.

Notice must be in writing, or in open court, and a minute made of it. Idem.

See State v. Bank of Nevada, 4 Nev. 358.

New trial—Notice—Trial without jury—Decision of court distinct from findings. Time within which notice must be given begins to run from the announcement of judgment. Robinson v. Benson, 19 Nev. 331 (10 P. 441); Elder v. Frevert, 18 Nev. 278 (3 P. 237); Stanton-Thompson Co. v. Craine, 25 Nev. 114 (58 P. 53); Duffy v. Moran, 12 Nev. 98.

Notice of motion for new trial, without specifying grounds, insufficient. A notice of motion for new trial, which fails to designate the grounds upon which the motion will be made, is insufficient. Street v. Lemon M. & M. Co., 9 Nev. 251.

Defective notice for new trial not helped by statement. The language of section 197 of the old practice act, requiring a notice of motion for new trial to "designate generally the grounds upon which the motion will be made," is clear, plain and explicit; and a disregard of it is not helped out by designating the grounds in the statement. Idem.

New trial statement need not designate general grounds. A statement on motion for new trial need not designate the general grounds of error relied on, but only specify the particulars wherein the error lies—the practice act requiring the notice to designate the general grounds, and the statement to contain the specifications. Worthing v. Cutts, 8 Nev. 118.

Hoopes v. Meyer, 1 Nev. 443, and Gillig v. Lake Bigler Road Company, 2 Nev. 214, on the point that a statement is not required to specifically state the errors relied on, disapproved. Corbett v. Job, 5 Nev. 210; Roberts v. Webster, 25 Nev. 94 (57 P. 180).

Evidence, when not reviewed. The supreme court will not review the evidence in the absence of a regular statement on motion for a new trial. State v. Sadler, 21 Nev. 13 (23 P. 799).

Statement must be authenticated. A statement on motion for a new trial will not be considered on appeal unless it is authenticated in the mode prescribed by statute. Jones v. Adams, 18 Nev. 60 (8 P. 798); White v. White, 6 Nev. 20; Solomon v. Fuller, 13 Nev. 276.

Authentication of statement. A certificate of the clerk, to the effect that no amendments to the statement have been filed, is such an authentication as is required by old section 197. Borden v. Bender, 16 Nev. 49; Tull v. Anderson, 15 Nev. 426.

Naming a paper does not endorse its correctness as such. White v. White, 6 Nev. 20.

Identification of affidavits used on motion for new trial. To entitle affidavits, used on motion for new trial, to be considered on appeal in the supreme court, they must be identified by indorsement of the judge or clerk, made "at the time" of use; and a certificate made after appeal taken, will not avail. Dean v. Pritchard, 9 Nev. 232; Albion M. Co. v. Richmond M. Co., 19 Nev. 225 (8 P. 480).

Certificate of judge to statement for new trial. Where a district judge certified at the end of a statement "that the foregoing is the settled and engrossed statement on motion for new trial of the above entitled cause": Held, that though not a literal compliance with the statute, such certificate was a substantial compliance and sufficient. Overman M. Co. v. Am. M. Co., 7 Nev. 312.

Presumptions in favor of judge's certificate. Idem.

Identification of documents—When sufficient. Martens v. Gilson, 13 Nev. 489; Marshall v. G. F. M. Co., 16 Nev. 156; Bliss v. Grayson, 24 Nev. 422 (56 P. 231).

Defects in clerk's certificate and notice on motion for new trial waived, when. Idem.

Waiver of right to object to proposed amendments—Statement on motion for new trial, when. Hoppin v. Cheney, 24 Nev. 222 (52 P. 12).

Power of court to make statement conform to truth. Idem.

Statement—Objections to, when waived. When counsel appear and orally argue a case upon its merits, and afterwards, by leave of the court, file a brief and therein rely upon objections to the statement: Held, that the oral argument upon the merits amounted to a waiver of the objections to the statement. Truckee Lodge v. Wood, 14 Nev. 293; Sweeney v. Hjul, 23 Nev. 409 (48 P. 1036).

Facts must be embodied in statement. State v. C. P. R. Co., 17 Nev. 259 (30 P. 887).

Statement on motion for new trial—Settled in trial court—Appellate court on motion cannot correct, alter, or amend. The statement having been settled and certified by the district judge, according to the statute, this court has no power to alter or amend it. Gardner v. Brown, 22 Nev. 156 (37 P. 240).

Admission by respondent's attorney that a statement on motion for new trial is correct, does not admit such statement to contain all the evidence offered in the case, where the statement itself does not purport to contain it all. It can only be held to be an admission that so far as the evidence is stated, it is stated correctly. It does not negative the idea of other evidence having been given. Howard v. Winters, 3 Nev. 539.

Statement should be complete. Map referred to should be included. Hamburg M. Co. v. Stephenson, 17 Nev. 449 (30 P. 1088).

Amendments should be liberally allowed. Courts should be liberal in allowing amendments to defective statements on motion for a new trial, etc., and should themselves suggest them whenever a defect or deficiency is apparent. Caldwell v. Greely, 5 Nev. 258.

Statement on motion for new trial cannot be certified to after appeal is taken—Effect of order prematurely made. Thomas v. Sullivan, 11 Nev. 280; Caples v. C. P. R. R. Co., 6 Nev. 266.

New trial—Premature ruling upon. A motion for new trial, when made upon a statement, should not be ruled upon until the statement has been settled and authenticated. If done, the ruling is irregular and premature, and should be vacated upon motion. Crosby v. N. B. S. M. Co., 23 Nev. 70 (42 P. 583).

Motion for, submitted, how vacated. Where a motion for new trial has been regularly submitted upon a sufficient statement, a ruling thereon cannot be subsequently vacated on motion, but the only remedy is by appeal. Idem.

Statement for new trial—Specification of error. In a statement on motion for a new trial, which contains the charge of the judge as an entirety, a specification of error "that the court erred in giving to the jury the instructions as set forth in this statement," is sufficient. Ellis v. C. P. R. R. Co., 5 Nev. 255.

Statement. When a party in assigning errors, or stating the grounds on which he will move for a new trial, says that the court erred in doing a certain thing, this is no evidence that the court did as charged. To establish that fact, it must appear in the statement of facts. The assignment of errors, and the statement of the facts or evidence to sustain these alleged errors, are separate and distinct things The party moving for a new trial may state the errors complained of in his own language. Neither the court nor the opposite party can correct that. The court can only correct the statement of facts or evidence. Fleeson v. Savage M. Co., 3 Nev. 157; McGurn v. McInnis, 24 Nev. 370 (55 P. 304).

Statement on motion for new trial—Settlement of by judge or referee—Practice. In a case tried before a referee, where all the proceedings are reported to the court, the statement on motion for a new trial may be settled by the judge. Marshall v. G. F. M. Co., 16 Nev. 156.

Statement, when considered "used" in the court below. If prepared, settled and on file in the clerk's office. State v. C. P. R. Co., 17 Nev. 259 (30 P. 887).

Facts must be embodied in statement, to be considered on appeal. Idem.

Order overruling motion for new trial need not be excepted to. Idem.

New trial—Statement—When must be filed—Waiver. A failure to file a statement within five days after giving notice of intention to move for a new trial, nothing having been done in the meantime to retain jurisdiction, operates as a waiver of the right to move for a new trial, and no power exists in the district court to reinstate this right. Elder v. Frevert, 18 Nev. 278 (3 P. 237); Hoppin v. Cheney, 24 Nev. 222 (52 P. 12).

Motion for new trial—Waiver of notice of decision. If he proceed in the case upon actual knowledge of such decision, he waives his right to written notice. Corbett v. Swift, 6 Nev. 194.

Time to move for new trial. Idem.

Waiver of error to be shown by party claiming waiver. McWilliams v. Herschman, 5 Nev. 263; White v. White, 6 Nev. 20.

Extending time to file statement on motion for new trial. An order signed by the judge extending the time fixed by statute for filing a statement on motion for a new trial, must not only be signed, but must be filed with the papers in the case, or entered of record in the minutes of the court, within the time prescribed by statute. Clark v. Strouse, 11 Nev. 76.

In an equity case, this court may order the proper decree to be entered in the court below without the formality of a new trial. Feusier v. Sneath, 3 Nev. 120.

New trial, when to be granted by nisi prius court. A judge who tries a cause should not hesitate to set aside the verdict, where there is a clear preponderance of evidence against it. Phillpotts v. Blasdel, 8 Nev. 61.

A verdict will not be set aside merely because it is against the weight of evidence. Bryant v. Carson L. Co., 3 Nev. 313.

New trial of portion of the issues in action for divorce may be granted. Lake v. Bender, 18 Nev. 361 (4 P. 711).

Order granting new trial—When it will be sustained. Where, on appeal from an order granting a new trial, the record shows that the motion was made upon two grounds, without showing upon which of them the action was based, the order will be affirmed, if the action of the court can be sustained upon either ground. McLeod v. Lee, 14 Nev. 398.

New trial — Improperly granted. When judgment and verdict are in accordance with evidence, no substantial conflict in it upon material issue and no error, court has no right to grant new trial. Lawrence v. Burnham, 4 Nev. 361; Scott v. Haines, 4 Nev. 426.

New trial—When should not be granted. A new trial ought not to be granted on a motion to set aside a verdict, merely because the court had erred in finding a fact in some preliminary proceeding in the case. Solomon v. Fuller, 14 Nev. 63.

Distinction as to weight of evidence on new trial and on appeal. State v. Y. J., 5 Nev. 415.

See Gray v. Harrison, under sec. 377 of this act.

When there is a statement on appeal from the judgment, and subsequently a statement on appeal from an order overruling the motion for a new trial, each statement must be considered separately, and portions of one cannot be taken to aid the other. Whitmore v. Shiverick, 3 Nev. 302.

It would be error to grant a new trial where there is no affidavit and no statement in support of the motion for that object. Idem.

A statement on appeal must be made twenty days after judgment, and if a sufficient statement be not made within that time it cannot subsequently be made. Idem.

The exercise of the right in a district court to grant a new trial will be presumed to be correct and proper until affirmatively shown to be erroneous. State v. Stanley, 4 Nev. 71, 75.

When an appeal is taken only from the judgment the statement that it had been prepared and used as a statement on motion for a new trial cannot be considered as a statement on appeal. (Beatty, J., dissenting). Williams v. Rice, 13 Nev. 237–341.

A statement on appeal must contain a specific statement of the errors or grounds relied on. Corbett v. Job, 5 Nev. 201, 204.

The word "order" in sec. 232, Stats. 1869, 196, does not refer to the ordinary order on motion for a new trial. Johnson v. Wells, Fargo & Co., 6 Nev. 224, 228.

Where there is no assignment or specification of errors, they cannot be reviewed by the appellate court. Meadow Valley M. Co. v Dodds, 6 Nev. 261, 264.

Where there is no statement on appeal, no proper assignment of errors, and no judgment roll, the appeal must be dismissed. Irwin v. Samson, 10 Nev. 282, 283.

In taking an appeal from orders based upon affidavits, no statement on appeal is required. It is only necessary to annex the affidavits to the orders and have them properly certified. Weinrich v. Porteous, 12 Nev. 103, 104.

Where it is not shown that the statement on appeal was filed with the clerk or that a copy of it was served, or that it was agreed to, or settled by the judge, it does not comply with the requirements of the statute, and cannot be considered. Baum v. Meyer, 16 Nev. 91, 92.

Cited, Marshall v. Golden Fleece M. Co., 16 Nev. 168.

When appellant does not rely upon the insufficiency of the evidence to sustain the findings of the court, it is only necessary to insert so much of the evidence in the statement on appeal as is necessary to explain the particular errors relied upon. Rose v. Richmond M. Co., 17 Nev. 25, 50, 51 (37 P. 1105, 114 U. S. 576).

Cited, James v. Leport, 19 Nev. 174, 176 (8 P. 47).

A statement of a case on appeal must be settled and authenticated by the judge or referee hearing the case, or by agreement of the parties; and unless so authenticated thirty days prior to the commencement of a term of the supreme court the appellant is not in default for failure to file a transcript by the first day of the term, though the statement may have been on file with the clerk of the trial court for a longer time, and no amendments proposed thereto. Hayes v. Davis, 23 Nev. 233 (45 P. 466).

5332. Appeal from judgment and order denying new trial, one statement for both—Statement, what to contain.

SEC. 390. When the appeal is taken both from the judgment and from an order denying a motion for a new trial, there shall be but one statement for both such appeals, which shall embody all errors relied on upon the appeal both from the judgment and from such order, and the time for filing and serving the proposed statement for both such appeals, and also the time for filing and serving the proposed statement on appeal from an order granting a motion for a new trial, shall be the same as the time provided for filing and serving the proposed statement on appeal from the order. The statement on appeal from an order granting or denying a motion for a new trial may contain so much of the evidence admitted or offered, exceptions taken, or proceedings had upon the trial or before or after the trial, as may be necessary to explain the particular errors specified and which were considered or presented upon the hearing of the motion for a new trial.

5333. Idem—Testimony to be reduced to narrative form—When complete transcript may be furnished.

SEC. 391. In all cases where the appeal is not taken on the ground that the evidence does not support the verdict or decision, or that the trial court erred in denying a motion for a new trial applied for on that ground, where it is necessary to embody the testimony, or any part thereof, in the statement, any such testimony exceeding fifty pages in the proposed statement or exceeding fifty pages in the amendments proposed to the statement, and any such testimony exceeding one hundred pages in the statement as settled, shall be reduced to narrative form, without undue repetition, except as otherwise provided in this section. Where it is necessary in order to properly present an exception to a ruling upon the admissibility of testimony, only such portion of the testimony as is necessary to intelligently present the exceptions need be set out by question and answer. If a party shall include in the statement any more of the testimony and proceedings than is pertinent and necessary to fairly present the exceptions taken, he shall not be allowed costs for the typewriting or printing of such surplusage. In the event a party fails to embody in the proposed statement a fair and substantial portion of the testimony or of the effect thereof essential to a proper presentation of the exceptions relied upon, he shall not be allowed costs therefor, but the opposite party shall be entitled to such costs as he may incur in order that a proper statement may be settled. The effect of the testimony or the ultimate facts testified to may be stated preferably, instead of the full testimony by question and answer.

In cases other than the ones in which the appeal is taken on the ground that the evidence does not support the verdict or decision, or that the district court erred in denying a motion for a new trial applied for on that ground, it will be presumed that the evidence does support the verdict and decision, and shall not be necessary to include in the statement any testimony for the purpose of showing that the evidence supports the verdict or decision. When one of the grounds upon which the appeal is taken is that the evidence does not support the verdict or decision, or that the trial court improperly refused a motion for a new trial applied for on that ground, either party may have all or any part of the testimony by question and answer inserted in the statement, as he may deem appropriate or desire; but when the appellant specifies as one of the grounds for the appeal that the evidence does not support the verdict or decision, or that the court or judge erred in denying a motion for a new trial applied for on that ground, and the appellant does not prevail in the supreme court on one of these grounds, he shall not recover his costs for the typewriting or printing or for the obtaining and insertion in the statement of the testimony and the respondent shall be entitled to recover his costs for the obtaining, typewriting and printing of any testimony which he had inserted in the statement, regardless of whether the appellant may prevail on other alleged errors or grounds.

In cases in which the appeal is not taken on the ground that the evidence does not support the verdict or decision, or that the trial court erred in denying a motion for a new trial applied for on that ground, either party may have all the testimony by question and answer inserted in the record at his own expense, but he shall not recover costs for printing, typewriting or inserting of any testimony in excess of one hundred pages, unless such excess be set out in the statement in narrative form. If the statement contains more than one hundred pages of testimony by question and answer, each party shall prepare and file with the clerk, at least two days before the argument in the supreme court, an abstract of the particular testimony upon which he relies. If the judge, referee or judicial officer in any case refuses to settle the statement in accordance with the facts, the party desiring to have the statement settled may apply by petition to the supreme court for leave to prove the same. The application and proof shall be made in the mode and manner and under such regulations as the court may prescribe; and the statement when proven must be certified by the chief justice, or in his absence or inability to act by one of the associate justices, to be correct, and filed with the clerk of the court in which the action was tried, and when so filed it shall have the same force and effect as if settled by the judge who tried the cause.

5334. Idem—Bill may be settled by referee; judge or other judicial officer may settle after term expires; refusal or death of judge, how settled then.

SEC. 392. When the decision excepted to was made by a referee or any judicial officer other than a judge, the statement shall be presented to such referee or judicial officer, and be settled and signed by him in the same manner as it is required to be presented to, settled, and signed by a court or judge. A judge, referee, or judicial officer may settle and sign a statement after as well as before he ceases to be such judge, referee, or judicial officer. If such judge, referee or judicial officer, before the statement is settled, dies, is removed from office, becomes disqualified, is absent from the state, or refuses to settle the statement, or if no mode is provided by law for the settlement of the same, it shall be settled and certified in such manner as the supreme court may, by its order or rules, direct.

5335. If statement not made within time limited, same waived—Judge may correct misstatement of rulings appearing in statement.

SEC. 393. If the party shall omit to make a statement within the time limited, he shall be deemed to have waived his right thereto; and when a statement is made and the parties shall omit within the several times above limited, the one party to propose amendments, the other to give the notice that he declines to admit the amendments, they shall respectively be deemed, the former to have agreed to the statement as prepared, and the latter to have agreed to the amendments as proposed; but the judge or referee who tried or heard the case shall, notwithstanding such omission or implied agreement, have power to correct any misstatement of his rulings which such statement may contain.

A failure to make a statement on appeal within twenty days after the entry of judgment is equivalent to a waiver of such statement; but such waiver may itself be waived; and a stipulation that the statement on new trial shall also be the statement on appeal, though made more than twenty days after judgment, is such a waiver. Johnson v. W. F. & Co., 6 Nev. 225, 229.

When an appeal is only taken from a judgment, a statement that had been prepared and used as a statement on motion for a new trial, cannot be considered as a statement on appeal. Williams v. Rice, 13 Nev. 234, 236, 241.

5336. Idem—Further time may be given by judge.

SEC. 394. The several periods of time above limited may be enlarged, upon good cause shown, by the court, judge or referee before whom the cause was tried.

5337. Statement to be signed by judge, when; by parties or their attorneys, when—To be filed with the clerk.

SEC. 395. The statement, when settled by the judge or referee, shall be signed by him, with his certificate that the same has been allowed and is correct. When the statement is agreed upon by the parties, they or their attorneys shall sign the same, with their certificate that it has been agreed upon by them and is correct. In either case, when settled or agreed upon, it shall be filed with the clerk.

It was held under sec. 335, Stats. 1869, 196, that said section does not contemplate that the judge shall certify that a statement on appeal contains all the evidence, but simply that it has been allowed by him and is correct. Caples v. C. P. R. R. Co., 6 Nev. 265, 272.

A judge's certificate to a statement on motion for new trial and appeal, that the record contains all the evidence, will not be allowed to be added after the appeal has been perfected and the transcript becomes a record of the appellate court. Idem.

Cited, Williams v. Rice, 13 Nev. 236.

5338. Idem—When copy of statement to be attached to judgment roll or order—Appeal may be upon judgment roll alone—What errors considered.

SEC. 396. A copy of the statement on appeal, if there be one, shall be annexed to a copy of the judgment roll, if the appeal be from the judgment; if the appeal be from an order, to a copy of such order. A party may appeal upon the judgment roll alone, in which case only errors can be considered which appear upon the face of such judgment roll.

Where there is no statement and the appeal is simply from the judgment, nothing is brought to the appellate court but the judgment roll. Howard v. Richards, 2 Nev. 133.

Where the appeal is taken from the judgment, the statement on appeal must be annexed to the judgment roll. Irwin v. Samson, 10 Nev. 282, 283.

Cited, Kirman v. Johnson, 30 Nev. 146, 152 (93 P. 500).

5339. Idem—Appeals made from order based on affidavit must have copy of order annexed.

SEC. 397. The provisions of the last preceding section shall not apply to appeals taken from an order made upon affidavit filed, but a certified copy of such affidavit and counter affidavit, if any, shall be annexed to the order, in the place of the statement on appeal mentioned in that section.

See Gray v. Harrison, under sec. 377 of this act.

In taking an appeal from orders based upon affidavits, no statement on appeal is required. It is only necessary to annex the affidavits to the orders, and have them properly certified. Weinrich v. Porteous, 12 Nev. 102, 104.

The fact that the orders are embodied in a bill of exceptions allowed by the judge, is not sufficient to prevent a dismissal of the appeal, unless the affidavits are annexed to the orders. Idem.

SEC. 398. Upon an appeal from a judgment the court may review any intermediate order involving the merits and necessarily affecting the judgment which comes within the specifications of error and statement or is embraced in affidavits.

Upon appeal from a final judgment, the appellate court will review an order of a district court dismissing an attachment, if the appeal is also taken from such order. Williams v. Glasgow, 1 Nev. 533, 537.

5341. Appeal from agreed statement of facts, how taken.

SEC. 399. Where the case has been determined upon an agreed statement of facts, and the appeal is upon the ground that the judgment is contrary thereto, the appeal may be taken upon a certified copy of the statement of facts and the judgment roll, without other statement.

5342. Findings contrary to judgment or order—Record on appeal.

SEC. 400. When a party desires to appeal on the ground that the decision, judgment, or order is contrary to the findings, the appeal may be taken upon a certified copy of the judgment roll which includes the findings, if the appeal is from a judgment, or upon a certified copy of the findings attached to a certified copy of the order, if the appeal is from an order.

5343. Bill of exceptions may be taken and settled at time of decision, order or ruling.

SEC. 401. At the time a decision, order or ruling is made, and during the progress of the cause, before or after judgment, if the opposing party or his attorney be present, a party may take his bill of exceptions to the decision, order, admission or exclusion of testimony or evidence, or other ruling of the court or judge on points of law, and it shall not be necessary to embody in such bill anything more than sufficient facts to show the point or pertinency of the exceptions taken. The presiding judge shall sign the same as the truth of the case may be, and such bill shall then become a part of the record, and any party aggrieved may appeal from the judgment or any appealable order without further statement or motion; and on such appeal it shall only be necessary to bring to the supreme court a transcript of the pleadings, the judgment, and the bill or bills of exception so taken.

5344. Exhibits when not included in the record—Originals.

SEC. 402. Where it is not practicable to embody an exhibit in the record on appeal, a copy thereof, if it be in the nature of a map or drawing, may be certified up separately, and in case the exhibit be of such a character that a copy or duplicate of the same cannot conveniently or accurately be made, then the original exhibit duly certified to by the clerk, may be sent to the supreme court together with the record, but in no other case may original papers, records or documents be sent to the supreme court, except upon the order of the supreme court.

This section is similar in part to the act of 1895, 58, which has had the following citations: Where, instead of a regular transcript, the original papers are sent up on appeal, they must be certified to be such originals and to constitute, in whole or in part, the record on appeal. Where there is no certificate to that effect the appeal will, on motion, be dismissed. Holmes v. Iowa M. Co., 23 Nev. 24 (41 P. 762); Becker v. Becker, 24 Nev. 476, 477 (56 P. 243).

Papers not properly in the record on appeal will be stricken out on motion. The above statute has not changed the method of presenting questions in the supreme court. Streeter v. Johnson, 23 Nev. 194, 199 (44 P. 819).

Under said act, a volume of the original engrossed statement on motion for new trial may be considered, although not filed until after the other volumes in the record have been filed. Bliss v. Grayson, 24 Nev. 422, 437.

A motion to dismiss an appeal because of the insufficiency of the clerk's certificate attached to the record will be denied where the appellant asks leave to have the defective certificate corrected. State v. Bouton, 26 Nev. 34, 39 (62 P. 595).

Matters or questions that could be properly presented to the supreme court on appeal before this act only by a statement of the case on a motion for a new trial, or by a statement of the case on appeal, or by bill of exceptions, can now be presented alone in the same manner, with the sole exception that maps and exhibits, under the conditions named in the act, may be sent separately. Peers v. Reed, 23 Nev. 404, 406 (48 P. 897).

Where the record of an appealed case is in two volumes, only one of which is certified "to be a true and correct transcript of the appeal herein," the supreme court can only consider the volume so certified. State v. Hill, 32 Nev. 185 (105 P. 1026).

The record on appeal from an order denying a new trial, should contain only such papers as were used or referred to on the hearing of the motion. Botsford v. Van Riper, 32 Nev. 214 (106 P. 441).

5345. Judgment when reversed for want or insufficiency of finding.

SEC. 403. In cases tried by the court, without a jury, no judgment shall be reversed for want of a finding, or for a defective finding of the facts, unless exceptions be made in the court below to the finding, or to the want of a finding; and in case of a defective finding, the particular defects shall be specifically and particularly designated; and upon failure of the court below to remedy the alleged error, the party moving shall be entitled to his exceptions, and the same shall be settled by the judge as in other cases; provided, that such exceptions to the finding, or want of finding, shall be filed in the court within five days after the making of the finding or decision to which exception is made, if the party filing the exception or his attorney was present at the time the finding or decision was made, or if neither he nor his attorney was present, within five days after he receives written notice of the making of the finding or decision.

A motion for new trial on the ground that the evidence is insufficient to justify the findings, based upon the alleged existence of a proven fact not noticed in the findings, cannot be sustained unless it appear that the complaining party requested a finding upon the subject. Warren v. Quill, 9 Nev. 263.

Where certain facts have been found which are warranted by the evidence, but there is an omission defined on an issue of fact essential to the determination of the rights of the losing party, such party should except to the findings as defective, and point out the issue upon which he desires a finding; if he fails to do so the judgment will not be reviewed. Idem.

5346. Undertaking on appeal—Deposit—State and municipalities excepted.

SEC. 404. To render an appeal effectual for any purpose, in any case, a written undertaking shall be executed on the part of the appellant by at least two sureties, to the effect that the appellant will pay all damages and costs which may be awarded against him on the appeal, not exceeding three hundred dollars; or that sum shall be deposited with the clerk with whom the judgment or order was entered, to abide the event of the appeal. Such undertaking shall be filed, or such deposit made with the clerk, within five days after the notice of appeal is filed; provided, however, that nothing in this section shall apply when the State of Nevada, or any county, city or town of the State of Nevada or officer thereof in his official capacity, is the appellant; nor shall such undertaking, as provided for in this section, be necessary to perfect such appeal, when the action or proceeding is brought for and in the name of this state, or for and in the name of any county in the state.

The act of 1887, 86, as amended 1903, 63, authorizing the giving of bonds by a surety company as surety, is a general law, and does not repeal the provisions of this section, but only provides an additional method of furnishing such undertaking at

The presentation and acceptance by the clerk of a certificate of deposit is a sufficient compliance with this section if the transaction is made in good faith. Alt v. Cal. F. S. Co., 18 Nev. 423, 424 (4 P. 743).

An appeal from an order rejecting a claim against a decedent's estate from an order dismissing the suit of appellant against the estate as represented by his attorneys ad litem and the sole heir and from an order dismissing his suit against the administrator of the estate with only one undertaking for $300, will be dismissed for misjoinder of appeals. Griswold v. Bender, 27 Nev. 369, 377 (75 P. 161).

An undertaking on appeal is not essential where the attorney for respondent entered into a written stipulation waiving an undertaking, such stipulation being filed with the clerk. (Marx v. Lewis, 24 Nev. 306 reversed); Hoffman v. Owens, 31 Nev. 481, 483.

One undertaking is sufficient for an appeal taken both from the judgment and from an order denying a new trial. Robinson v. Kind, 25 Nev. 261, 277 (59 P. 863).

A mistake in date held not ground for dismissing appeal, where the undertaking otherwise clearly identified the order appealed from and the mistake was simply a clerical error.* Paul v. Cragnaz, 25 Nev. 311 (47 L. R. A. 540, 59 P. 857).

The fact that an undertaking was prepared and completed, ready for filing, before the notice of appeal was filed, does not render it insufficient when it was not actually filed until the proper time after the notice of appeal was filed. Idem.

5347. Undertaking for appeal from judgment or order directing payment of money, or dissolving attachment, form of.

SEC. 405. If the appeal be from a judgment or order directing the payment of money, or from an order dissolving or refusing to dissolve an attachment, it shall not stay the execution of the judgment or order unless a written undertaking be executed on the part of the appellant by two or more sureties, stating their places of residence and occupation, to the effect that they are bound in double the amount named in the judgment or order, or double the sum of the value of the property attached, as the case may be, that if the judgment or order appealed from, or any part thereof, be affirmed, the appellant shall pay the amount directed to be paid by the judgment or order, or the part of such amount as to which the judgment or order shall be affirmed, if affirmed only in part, and all damages and costs which shall be awarded against the appellant upon the appeal. When the judgment or order appealed from is made payable in a specified kind of money or currency, the undertaking required by this section shall be drawn and made payable in the same kind of money or currency specified in such judgment or order, and in case of any appeal from an order dissolving or refusing to dissolve an attachment, such undertaking shall be conditioned, that if the order appealed from or any part thereof be affirmed, the appellant shall pay to the opposing party on such appeal, all damages and costs caused by him by reason of said appeal and the stay of execution thereon.

Kerr, C. C. P., 942.

Appellants, in order to procure a stay of execution on a judgment for $778, pending motion for a new trial, gave an undertaking conditioned, among other things, that if the new trial was denied, the principal should give a good and sufficient undertaking on appeal: Held, that an undertaking on appeal, given by the principal, in the sum of $300, was not a "good and sufficient undertaking within the contemplation of the provisions of the previous undertaking." Frevert v. Swift, 19 Nev. 401 (13 P. 6).

An undertaking which complies with this section for the stay of execution with the exception of binding the sureties to pay in gold coin, is sufficient. State v. Cal. M. Co., 13 Nev. 203–211.

An appeal from a judgment does not operate to vacate or suspend such judgment. Brooks v. Nickel Syndicate, 24 Nev. 311, 321 (53 P. 507).

5348. One undertaking only required for appeal from judgment or order denying new trial.

SEC. 406. An appeal may be taken from an order granting or denying a motion for a new trial and from the judgment at the same time by giving only one bond, in the sum of three hundred dollars, for the costs on appeal; and in the notice of such double appeal it may be stated that the appeal is from both the judgment and the order granting or denying the motion for a new trial, and upon the taking of such double appeal the one undertaking to stay execution in the ordinary form, and in the amount required to stay execution on appeal from the judgment, is sufficient to stay the execution.

5349. Bond on appeal from order or judgment directing delivery of documents or personal property.

SEC. 407. If the judgment or order appealed from direct the assignment or delivery of documents, or personal property, the execution of the judgment or order shall not be stayed by appeal, unless the things required to be assigned or delivered be placed in the custody of such officer or receiver as the court may appoint; or unless an undertaking be entered into on the part of the appellant, with at least two sureties, and in such amount as the court or the judge thereof may direct, to the effect that the appellant will obey the order of the appellate court upon the appeal.

5350. Appeal from judgment or order directing execution of conveyance stays act.

SEC. 408. If the judgment or order appealed from direct the execution of a conveyance or other instrument, the execution of the judgment or order shall not be stayed by the appeal until the instrument is executed and deposited with the clerk with whom the judgment or order is entered, to abide the judgment of the appellate court.

Kerr, C. C. P., 944.

5351. Appeal from judgment or order directing sale of property does not stay execution unless undertaking given—Mortgaged premises.

SEC. 409. If the judgment or order appealed from direct the sale or delivery of possession of real property, the execution of the same shall not be stayed unless a written undertaking be executed on the part of the appellant, with two or more sureties, to the effect that during the possession of such property by the appellant he will not commit nor suffer to be committed, any waste thereon, and that if the judgment be affirmed he will pay the value of the use and occupation of the property from the time of the appeal until the delivery of possession thereof, pursuant to the judgment or order, not exceeding a sum to be fixed by the judge of the court by which the judgment was rendered or order made, and which shall be specified in the undertaking. When the judgment is for the sale of mortgaged premises, and the payment for a deficiency arising upon the sale, the undertaking shall also provide for the payment of such deficiency. In all other cases, not hereinbefore mentioned, the amount of the undertaking to stay the execution of the judgment or order shall be fixed by the court or the judge thereof.

Kerr, C. C. P., 945.

See Brooks v. Nickel Syndicate, under sec. 405 of this act.

At the time the motion to redeliver property was made no notice of appeal had been given, and at the time the court denied the motion for redelivery of possession the appeal had not been perfected. It was held that the order of the court denying the motion was correct. Reese M. Co. v. Rye Patch M. Co., 15 Nev. 143, 145.

In construing sec. 345, Stats. 1869, 196, it was held that there is nothing in said section that requires an undertaking, in an action to foreclose a mechanic's lien, to secure the money part of the judgment in order to stay the order directing the sale of the property. Arrington v. Wittenberg, 11 Nev. 285–287.

The only provision for a covenant in the undertaking to pay any deficiency arising upon the sale applies solely to cases in which the judgment is for the sale of mortgaged premises. Idem.

The stay of execution in contested election cases, not being specifically provided for, comes under the last clause of this section. Sweeney v. Karsky, 25 Nev. 197, 201 (58 P. 813).

What held sufficient bond under said last clause. Idem.

When application was first made to fix a stay bond pending appeal, the court authorized a temporary stay on the giving of bond for $300, reserving the right thereafter to establish the amount of a permanent bond pending appeal. The court thereafter fixed $150,000 as the amount of the bond to stay execution pending motion for new trial. Defendants failed to introduce any proof regarding value of ore they were removing from the property and as to plaintiff's damage from waste by their continued possession. It was held that the court had jurisdiction to fix the amount of such stay bond. Silver Peak Mines v. District Court, 33 Nev.—(110 P. 504).

5352. Appeal stays further proceedings—In appeal by executor, trustee or administrator, court may dispense with or limit undertaking.

SEC. 410. Whenever an appeal is perfected, as provided by the preceding sections in this chapter, it shall stay all further proceedings in the court below, upon the judgment or order appealed from, or upon matter embraced therein; but the court below may proceed upon any other matter included in the action and not affected by the judgment or order appealed from. And the court below may, in its discretion, dispense with or limit the security required by said sections, when an appellant is an executor, administrator, trustee, or other person acting in another's right.

Kerr, C. C. P., 946.

See Silver Peak Mines v. District Court, under sec. 409 of this act.

This section does not give jurisdiction to the district court to matter affecting the appellate court. It refers solely to matters incident to the district court. Lake v. Lake, 17 Nev. 230, 242, 244 (30 P. 878).

5353. Undertakings may be in one instrument in certain cases.

SEC. 411. The undertaking prescribed by sections 404, 405, 406 and 407, may be in one instrument or several, at the option of the appellant.

Kerr, C. C. P., 947.

5354. Affidavit of sureties—Undertaking on appeal, waiver of—Deposit in lieu of undertaking.

SEC. 412. An undertaking on appeal shall be of no effect unless it be accompanied by the affidavit of the sureties that they are each worth the amount specified therein, over and above their just debts and liabilities, exclusive of the property exempt from execution; except where the judgment exceeds three thousand dollars and the undertaking on appeal is executed by more than two sureties, they may state on their affidavit, that they are severally worth amounts less than that expressed in the undertaking, if the whole amount be equivalent to that of two sufficient sureties. The adverse party may, however, except to the sufficiency of the sureties within five days after the filing of the undertaking, and, unless they or other sureties justify before the judge of the court below, or clerk, within five days thereafter, upon notice to the adverse party, to the amounts stated in their affidavits, the appeal shall be regarded as if no such undertaking had been given; and in all cases where an undertaking is required on appeal by the provisions of this chapter, a deposit in the court below of the amount of the judgment appealed from, and three hundred dollars in addition, shall be equivalent to filing the undertaking, and in all cases the undertaking or deposit may be waived by the written consent of the respondent.

An undertaking on appeal is not essential where waived by respondent. Hoffman v. Owens, 31 Nev. 481, 486 (103 P. 414).

5355. Appeal stays proceedings except on order directing sale of perishable property.

SEC. 413. In cases not provided for in sections 404, 405, 408 and 409, the perfecting of an appeal by giving the undertaking, and the justification of the sureties thereon, if required, or making the deposit mentioned in section 404, shall stay proceedings in the court below upon the judgment or order appealed from, except that where it directs the sale of perishable property the court below may order the property to be sold, and the proceeds thereof to be deposited to abide the judgment of the appellate court.

Kerr, C. C. P., 949.

See Silver Peak Mines v. District Court, under sec. 409 of this act.

5356. Appeal from final judgment or order—Transcript of, what to consist.

SEC. 414. On an appeal from a final judgment, the appellant shall furnish the court with a transcript of the notice of appeal, and the statement, if there be one, certified by the respective attorneys of the parties to the appeal, or by the clerk of the court. On an appeal from an order, the appellant shall furnish the court with a copy of the notice of appeal, the order appealed from, and a copy of the papers used on the hearing in the court below, and a statement if there be one, such copies to be certified in like manner to be correct. If any written opinion be placed on file in rendering judgment or making the order in the court below, a copy shall be furnished, certified in like manner. If the appellant fails to furnish the requisite papers, the appeal may be dismissed.

The formal decision required to be filed after trial of an issue of fact by the court, under sec. 285 of this act, is different from the written opinion mentioned in this section. Reno W. L. & L. Co. v. Osburn, 25 Nev. 53 (56 P. 945).

The "written opinion" does not refer to findings. Corbett v. Job, 5 Nev. 201, 205.

In the authentication of papers to be used upon appeal, the policy of the statute is to restrict the authority of the clerk to the record of the case. Thompson v. Reno S. Bank, 19 Nev. 293, 294 (9 P. 883).

When the motion upon which an order was passed was one that could be made or opposed on other evidence than the records of the case, the fact cannot be established by the certificate of the clerk, and it must be presumed, in the absence of an affirmative showing to the contrary, that evidence necessary to support the order was introduced at the hearing. Idem.

The written opinion and findings of the lower court do not constitute any part of the "judgment roll," but are only intended to aid the appellate court in the determination of an appeal. Werner v. Babcock, 33 Nev. — (116 P. 357).

As an appeal, in the absence of statement or bill of exceptions, carries up the judgment roll alone, findings made by the trial court cannot be considered, in the absence of a statement or bill of exceptions. Idem.

Where a judgment is supported by the pleadings, and nothing save the record proper is before the appellate court, it must be affirmed. Idem.

In appeals from orders granting or refusing a new trial, a statement on appeal is not necessary. Gregory v. Frothingham, 1 Nev. 253, 259.

This section directs that certain papers shall be brought up on appeal; it does not in express terms prohibit other papers from being brought up. Howard v. Richards, 2 Nev. 129, 137, 138.

The legislature never intended to deprive the appellate court of the power to examine bills of exception and other parts of the record which are not mentioned in this section. Idem.

We must look to the record to see if there is any foundation for a judgment appealed from. As the filing of a cost bill is the only thing that gives jurisdiction to enter up a judgment for costs, we must look to the record to see if any such bill was ever filed and if an examination of the cost bill shows error in the judgment for costs, that error must be corrected. Idem.

Appeal — Transcript — Original papers. Where, instead of a regular transcript, the original papers are sent up on appeal, they must be certified to be such originals, and to constitute, in whole or in part, the record on appeal. Where there is no certificate to that effect, the appeal will, upon motion, be dismissed. Holmes v. Iowa M. Co., 23 Nev. 23 (41 P. 762); Peers v. Reed, 23 Nev. 404 (48 P. 897).

Appeal—Statutory regulations—Questions to be considered. The method of taking appeals, and the questions to be considered thereunder by the appellate court, are matters of purely statutory regulation. Burbank v. Rivers, 20 Nev. 81 (16 P. 430).

Transcript without statement. Where a transcript on appeal contained neither a statement on motion for new trial nor on appeal: Held, that there was nothing in it for review except the judgment roll. McCausland v. Lamb, 7 Nev. 238.

Failure of transcript to show disposition of motion for new trial. Judgment roll only will be looked into; and if no error appears in it, the judgment will be affirmed. Neil v. Daniel, 4 Nev. 436.

Points not covered by transcript not considered. Alleged error in refusing to grant a continuance cannot be considered by the supreme court, if the affidavits are not properly in the transcript, and there is no bill of exceptions, nor statement. State v. Wallin, 6 Nev. 280.

See Bliss v. Grayson, 24 Nev. 436, 437 (56 P. 231).

Transcript must show facts directly. State v. Manhattan S. M. Co., 4 Nev. 318.

Statement on appeal—Papers not part of record. Papers not made a part of the statement on motion for new trial, nor otherwise identified as provided by the statute, cannot be considered upon the appeal. Beck v. Thompson, 22 Nev. 109 (36 P. 562).

5357. Transcript on appeal may be either printed or typewritten—Rule of costs.

SEC. 415. The transcript on appeal may be either printed or typewritten, but in case the transcript is printed, the appellant shall not be entitled to recover as costs a greater amount than he would be entitled to if the transcript were typewritten.

5358. Appeals not to be dismissed except for substantial errors in proceeding.

SEC. 416. No appeal shall be dismissed for insufficiency of the notice of appeal or undertaking thereon; provided, that a good and sufficient undertaking approved by the justices of the supreme court or a majority thereof, be filed in the supreme court before the hearing upon motion to dismiss the appeal; provided, that the respondent shall not be delayed, but may move when the cause is regularly called, for the disposition of the same, if such undertaking be not given. An appeal shall not be dismissed for any irregularity not affecting the jurisdiction of the court to hear and determine the appeal or affecting the substantial rights of the parties and where any defect or irregularity can be cured by amendment, such amendment shall be allowed on proper application upon such terms as the supreme court shall deem just.

The act of 1889, 22, provides that the statement "when settled or agreed to shall be presumed to contain all the evidence and other matters pertinent to the proper presentation of the question involved, unless the contrary affirmatively appears," and was cited to the following effect: This section does not require that the presumption exist when the contrary appears from the statement itself. 5359. Power of appellate court on appeal.

SEC. 417. Upon an appeal from a judgment or order, the appellate court may reverse, affirm, or modify the judgment or order appealed from, in the respect mentioned, in the notice of appeal, and as to any or all of the parties; and may set aside, or affirm, or modify, any or all of the proceedings subsequent to or dependent upon such judgment or order, and may, if necessary or proper, order a new trial, or that further action or proceedings be had in the lower court without a new trial, and may remand the case for such further action or proceedings only. When the judgment or order is reversed or modified, the appellate court may make complete restitution of all property and rights lost by erroneous judgment or order, and when it appears to the appellate court that the appeal was made for delay, it may add to the costs such damages as may be just.

See sec. 4835.

Probate appeals, sec. 6113.

Under this section, providing that the supreme court may reverse, affirm, or modify the judgment or order appealed from, and may, if necessary, order a new trial, etc., the court on reversing an order denying a new trial demanded for insufficiency of evidence to support the verdict may remand the case, with directions to the trial court to consider and pass on such grounds anew. Goldfield-Mohawk M. Co. v. Frances-Mohawk M. Co., 33 Nev. — (112 P. 43).

Under the statute making insufficiency of the evidence to justify the verdict ground for a new trial, the refusal of the trial judge to pass on such ground in support of a motion for new trial is error. Idem.

Damages for appealing for delay are properly assessed on dismissal for failure to appeal in time, where appellant waited until what he supposed to be the last day for appeal, brought no record up, and did not resist the motion to dismiss. Paroni v. Simonsen, 33 Nev. — (115 P. 415).

Where an appeal, devoid of merit, appears to have been made for delay, damages in addition to costs will be imposed. Kercheval v. McKenney, 4 Nev. 294; Escere v. Torre, 14 Nev. 51; Allen v. Mayberry, 14 Nev. 115; Gammans v. Roussell, 14 Nev. 171.

Whilst the mere reversal of a judgment will not invalidate a sale regularly made, there is no doubt that courts may, under proper circumstances (when the rights of innocent parties are not thereby injuriously affected) set aside such sales. Hastings v. B. M. G. & S. Co., 2 Nev. 100, 104.

Sales under erroneous judgments will be set aside so far as can be done without injury to third parties. Idem.

When a judgment is reversed the parties should as near as possible be restored to the condition they were in before error was committed. Idem.

A party purchasing at a judicial sale and paying his money ought, as a matter of policy, to be protected. Idem.

It is only in cases where the judgment is reversed, or so far modified as to make it inequitable to allow the sale to stand that a court would be authorized to set aside an execution sale. Martin v. Victor M. & M. Co., 19 Nev. 197, 198 (9 P. 336).

Cited, State v. C. P. R. R. Co., 21 Nev. 175 (26 P. 225); State v. Shaw, 21 Nev. 224 (29 P. 321).

Where a judgment was excessive through misadvertence of the trial judge, the supreme court, in the event of a denial of a new trial without requiring remission of the excess, on its attention being called to the error, would modify the judgment, and affirm the order denying the motion for a new trial. Costello v. Scott, 30 Nev. 45, 85 (93 P. 1).

5360. Judgment on appeal, how certified and entered.

SEC. 418. When judgment is rendered upon the appeal, it shall be certified by the clerk of the supreme court to the clerk with whom the judgment roll is filed or the order appealed from is entered. In cases of appeal from the judgment, the clerk with whom the roll is filed shall attach the certificate to the judgment roll and enter a minute of the judgment of the supreme court on the docket against the original entry. In cases of appeal from an order, the clerk shall enter at length, in the records of the court, the certificate received, and minute against the entry of the order appealed from a reference to the certificate, with a brief statement that the order has been affirmed, reversed, or modified, as the case may be, by the supreme court on appeal.

5361. Execution for costs to be issued when remittitur filed.

SEC. 419. Whenever costs are awarded to a party by an appellate court, such party may have an execution for the same on filing a remittitur with the clerk of the court below, and it shall be the duty of such clerk, whenever the remittitur is filed, to issue the execution upon application therefor, and whenever costs are awarded to a party by an order of any court, such party may have an execution therefor in like manner as upon a judgment.

CHAPTER 47

MOTIONS AND ORDERS

5362. Order and motion defined.
5363. Motions and orders, where made.
5364. Notice of motion, at what time to be given.
5365. When judge unable to hear motion or order, another judge may hear.
5366. Order for payment of money, how enforced.

5362. Order and motion defined.

SEC. 420. Every direction of a court or judge made or entered in writing, and not included in a judgment, is denominated an order. An application for an order is a motion.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1003.

The statute clearly points out the distinction between the word "judgment" and the word "order." Sparrow v. Strong, 2 Nev. 368.

Title 15 of the act of 1861, 392, was taken from and very nearly conforms to chapter 11 of the New York code of 1848. Curtis v. McCullough, 3 Nev. 213.

Cited, Iowa M. Co. v. Bonanza M. Co., 16 Nev. 71.

5363. Motions and orders, where made.

SEC. 421. Motions and orders which may be made at chambers may be made in any part of the state.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1004.

5364. Notice of motion, at what time to be given.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1005.

Where a copy of notice of appeal was served on the attorneys for defendant at a certain time and place by "exhibiting to them personally the said copy and by leaving the same in a conspicuous place in their office," it was held a substantial compliance with the statute. Clark v. Strouse, 11 Nev. 76, 77.

Service of a notice of appeal is completed on its deposit in the postoffice, since the extension of time provided does not apply to a notice of appeal for which no such time to enable action to be taken thereon is necessary. Simon v. Matson, 25 Nev. 405, 409 (61 P. 478).

When a statute says an order may be made on due notice to the opposite side, it means the statutory written notice of five days, and it would not be proper to hear a motion and make the order until such notice had been given and the full five days expired. Wilde v. Wilde, 2 Nev. 306, 307.

5365. When judge unable to hear motion or order, another judge may hear.

SEC. 423. When a notice of a motion is given, or an order to show cause is made returnable before a judge out of court, and at the time fixed for the motion, or, on the return day of the order, the judge is unable to hear the parties, the matter may be transferred by his order to some other judge before whom it might originally have been brought.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1006.

See sec. 4922.

5366. Order for payment of money, how enforced.

SEC. 424. Whenever an order for the payment of a sum of money is made by a court, it may be enforced by execution in the same manner as if it were a judgment.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1007.

CHAPTER 48

NOTICES—FILING AND SERVING OF PAPERS

5367. Notices and papers, how served.
5368. Title does not apply to original or final process.
5369. Service, when and how made.
5370. Service by mail, when.
5371. Service of writ or papers sent by telegraph—Original filed with court.
5372. Idem—Description of seal not necessary.
5373. Service by mail, how made.
5374. Appearance—Notice after appearance.
5375. Service on nonresidents—When service to be on attorney.

5367. Notices and papers, how served.

SEC. 425. Written notices and other papers, when required to be served on the party or an attorney, shall be served in the manner prescribed in the next three sections, when not otherwise provided.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1010.

Power of attorney to bind client, secs. 507-509.

5368. Title does not apply to original or final process.

SEC. 426. Nothing in this title shall be applicable to original or final process, or any proceedings to bring a party into contempt.

5369. Service, when and how made.

SEC. 427. The service may be personal, by delivery to the party or his attorney, on whom the service is required to be made, or it may be as follows:

1. If upon an attorney, it may be made during his absence from his office, by leaving the notice or other papers with his clerk therein, or with a person having charge thereof; or when there is no person in the office, by leaving them, between the hours of eight in the morning and six in the afternoon, in a conspicuous place in the office; or if it be not open, so as to admit of such service, then by leaving them at the attorney's residence, with some person of suitable age and discretion; and if his residence be not known, then by putting the same, inclosed in an envelope, postage thereon prepaid, into the postoffice, directed to such attorney.

2. If upon a party, it may be made by leaving the notice or other paper at his residence, between the hours of eight in the morning and six in the evening, with some person of suitable age and discretion, and if his residence be not known, by putting the same, inclosed in an envelope, postage thereon prepaid, into the postoffice, directed to such party; provided, however, that in all cases where the party on whom the service is to be made has no office, or does not reside at the county-seat where the action or proceeding is pending, the service may be made by filing the papers or notice to be served in the county clerk's office and the service shall be deemed complete at the expiration of ten days from the date of such filing.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1011.

See Clark v. Strouse, under sec. 422 of this act.

If the affidavit does not show that an attempt was made to serve notice on the attorney at his residence, it is insufficient. Reese M. Co. v. Rye Patch M. Co., 15 Nev. 341, 344.

5370. Service by mail, when.

SEC. 428. Service by mail may be made, when the person making the service and the person on whom it is to be made reside at different places, between which there is a regular communication by mail.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1012.

See Clark v. Strouse, and Simon v. Matson, under sec. 422 of this act.

5371. Service of writ or papers sent by telegraph—Original to be filed with court.

SEC. 429. Any writ or order in any civil suit or proceeding, and all other papers requiring service, may be transmitted by telegraph for service in any place; and the telegraphic copy of such writ, or order or paper, so transmitted, may be served or executed by the officer or person to whom it is sent for that purpose, and returned by him, if any return be requisite, in the same manner, and with the same force and effect, in all respects, as the original thereof might be, if delivered to him; and the officer or person serving or executing the same shall have the same authority, and be subject to the same liabilities, as if the said copy were the original. The original, when a writ, or order, shall also be filed in the court from which it was issued, and a certified copy thereof shall be preserved in the telegraph office from which it was sent. In sending it either the original or certified copy may be used by the operator for that purpose.

5372. Idem—Description of seal not necessary.

SEC. 430. Whenever any document to be sent by telegraph bears a seal, either private or official, it shall not be necessary for the operator, in sending the same, to telegraph a description of the seal or any words or device thereon; but the same may be expressed in the telegraphic copy by the letters "L. S.," or by the word "seal"; and wherever any such document bears a revenue stamp, it shall be sufficient to express the same in the telegraphic copy by the word "stamp," without any other or further description thereof.

5373. Service by mail, how made.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1013.

5374. Appearance—Notice after appearance.

SEC. 432. A defendant shall be deemed to appear in an action when he answers, demurs, or gives the plaintiff written notice of his appearance, or when an attorney gives notice of appearance for him. After appearance, a defendant, or his attorney, shall be entitled to notice of all subsequent proceedings of which notice is required to be given. But where a defendant has not appeared, service of notice or papers need not be made upon him, unless he be imprisoned for want of bail.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1014.

The statute, having prescribed what shall be an appearance for certain purposes, does not preclude an appearance in a different manner for other purposes. Curtis v. McCullough, 3 Nev. 202, 212, 213.

A general appearance not only waives defect in a writ or summons, but gives jurisdiction over the person in cases where the writ was void. Idem.

Cited, In re Schnitzer, 33 Nev. — (112 P. 849).

Where it is necessary on the application to determine several questions of fact, such motion should not be entertained except on notice to the opposite party, and a refusal to vacate an order obtained without notice, is error. Pratt v. Rice, 7 Nev. 123, 126.

Cited, State v. Pritchard, 15 Nev. 84.

The object of a summons is to put the defendant upon notice of a demand against him, and to bring him into court at the time therein specified. If the defendant makes a general appearance by filing a demurrer or answer, the court could thereafter proceed and grant any relief to which the plaintiff is entitled, regardless of the error in form of the notice inserted in the summons. Sweeney v. Schultes, 19 Nev. 53, 57 (6 P. 44).

By answering to the merits the defendant waived any question of service and could not, at the same time, answer and reserve a question of jurisdiction based on a matter of service of process. Golden v. Murphy, 31 Nev. 395, 419 (103 P. 394).

In an action for divorce, the notice of application for the allowance of counsel fees must be served upon the attorney (if there be one) instead of the party. Lake v. Lake, 16 Nev. 363, 366.

5375. Service on nonresidents—When service to be on attorney.

SEC. 433. When a plaintiff or a defendant who has appeared resides out of the state and has no attorney in the action or proceeding, the service may be made on the clerk for him. But in all cases where a party has an attorney in the action or proceeding, the service of papers, when required, shall be upon the attorney instead of the party, except subpenas, or writs, and other process issued in the suit, and of papers to bring him into contempt.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1015.

COSTS

5376. Attorney fees, agreement and lien for—Costs to prevailing party.
5377. Costs, when allowed.
5378. Several action—Costs allowed for one only.
5379. Defendant's costs must be allowed in certain cases.
5380. Costs, when in the discretion of the court.
5381. Costs on appeal, when allowed.
5382. Referees, fees of.
5383. Continuance, costs may be imposed as condition of.
5384. Action for the recovery of money, tender, costs.
5385. Costs in action by or against administrator or trustee.
5386. Costs in review other than by appeal.
5387. Filing and service of verified cost bill, retaxing.
5388. Interest and costs must be included by clerk in judgment.
5389. When plaintiff nonresident or foreign corporation, defendant may require security for costs.
5390. Idem—Sureties must make affidavit.
5391. Idem—If security not given, action may be dismissed.
5392. Costs, when state is a party.
5393. Costs, when county is a party.

5376. Attorney fees, agreement and lien for—Costs to prevailing party.

SEC. 434. The compensation of an attorney and counselor for his services is governed by agreement, express or implied, which is not restrained by law. From the commencement of an action, or the service of an answer containing a counterclaim, the attorney who appears for a party has a lien upon his client's cause of action or counterclaim which attaches to a verdict, report, decision, or judgment in his client's favor and the proceeds thereof in whosesoever hands they may come, and cannot be affected by any settlement between the parties before or after judgment. There shall be allowed to the prevailing party in any action, or special proceeding in the nature of an action, in the supreme and district courts, his costs and necessary disbursements, in the action or special proceeding.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1021.

Premium on surety bond recovered as costs, sec. 699.

Section 311 of the act of 1861, 237, relating to estates, does not conflict with this section, for it only provides for the allowance of costs in cases not otherwise provided for by law. Estate of Millenovich, 5 Nev. 163, 188.

This section applies to contempt proceedings to enforce a judgment. Ahlers v. Thomas, 24 Nev. 407, 410 (77 A. S. 820, 56 P. 93).

5377. Costs, when allowed.

SEC. 435. Costs shall be allowed of course to the plaintiff upon a judgment in his favor, in the following cases:

1. In an action for the recovery of real property.

2. In an action to recover the possession of personal property, where the value of the property amounts to three hundred dollars or over; such value shall be determined by the jury, court or referee by whom the action is tried.

3. In an action for the recovery of money or damages, where plaintiff recovers three hundred dollars or over.

4. In a special proceeding.

5. In an action which involves the title or possession of real estate, or the legality of any tax, impost, assessment, toll or municipal fine, including the costs accrued in such action if originally commenced in a justice court.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1022.

In an election contest involving a state office, where the supreme court appoints a court commissioner to assist in the preliminary stages of the contest in segregating the disputed ballots from those not in dispute and report the same to the court for its consideration, the compensation allowed the commissioner and the costs attendant on the trial are to be awarded against the losing party. State ex rel. Springmeyer v. Baker, 34 Nev. —; State ex rel. Legate v. Josephs, 34 Nev. —.

See sec. 5231.

5378. Several actions—Costs allowed for one only.

SEC. 436. When several actions are brought on one bond, undertaking, promissory note, bill of exchange, or other instrument in writing, or in any other case for the same cause of action, against several parties who might have been joined as defendants in the same action, no costs shall be allowed to the plaintiff in more than one of such actions, which may be at his election, if the party proceeded against in the other actions were at the commencement of the previous action openly within this state; but the disbursements of the plaintiff shall be allowed to him in each action.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1023.

5379. Defendant's costs must be allowed in certain cases.

SEC. 437. Costs shall be allowed of course to the defendant upon a judgment in his favor in the actions mentioned in section 435, and in a special proceeding in the nature of an action.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1024.

5380. Costs, when in the discretion of the court.

SEC. 438. In other actions than those mentioned in section 435, costs may be allowed or not, and if allowed, may be apportioned between the parties, or on the same or adverse sides in the discretion of the court, but no costs shall be allowed in any action for the recovery of money or damages when the plaintiff recovers less than three hundred dollars, nor in any action to recover the possession of personal property, when the value of the property is less than three hundred dollars; provided, that if, in the judgment of the court, the plaintiff believes he was justified in bringing the action in the district court, and he recovers at least one hundred and fifty dollars in money or damages, or personal property of that value, the court may, in its discretion, allow the plaintiff part, or all of his costs. When there are several defendants in the actions mentioned in section 435, not united in interest, and making separate defenses by separate answers, and the plaintiff fails to recover judgment against all, the court shall award costs to such of the defendants as have judgment in their favor.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1025.

The provision of this section, that no costs shall be allowed when less than three hundred dollars is recovered, is obviously confined to cases in the district courts, and was evidently adopted to prevent the bringing of actions in those courts which should or might be instituted in justices' courts. Klein v. Allenbach, 6 Nev. 159, 161.

In construing sec. 478, Stats. 1869, 196, it was held that the allowance or disallowance of costs in actions to settle copartnership accounts, is within the discretion of the court. Young v. Clute, 16 Nev. 32, 37.

Under the same section, in an injunction suit, it was held that the court erred in rendering judgment for costs. Thorne v. Sweeney, 13 Nev. 415, 417.

See Randall v. Lyon Co., 20 Nev. 35 (14

P. 583), under sec. 1523, ante, allowing costs where the recovery is less than $300.

Costs on motions. Caples v. C. P. R. R., 6 Nev. 265.

Costs in equity. Welland v. Huber, 8 Nev. 203.

Costs in correcting errors in judgment roll. Flannery v. Anderson, 4 Nev. 438.

5381. Costs on appeal, when allowed.

SEC. 439. In the following cases the costs of an appeal to the supreme court shall be in the discretion of the court:

1. Where a new trial is ordered.

2. When a judgment is modified. In the event no order is made by the court relative to the costs in the two instances mentioned in this section, the party obtaining any relief shall have his costs.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1027.

5382. Referees, fees of.

SEC. 440. The fees of referees shall be ten dollars to each, for every day spent in the business of the reference; but the parties may agree in writing upon any other rate of compensation, and thereupon such rate shall be allowed.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1028.

State ex rel. Springmeyer v. Baker, 34 Nev. —; State ex rel. Legate v. Josephs, 34 Nev. —.

5383. Continuance, costs may be imposed as condition of.

SEC. 441. When an application is made to a court or referee to postpone a trial, the payment of costs occasioned by the postponement may be imposed, in the discretion of the court or referee, as a condition of granting the same.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1029.

5384. Action for the recovery of money, tender, costs.

SEC. 442. When, in an action for the recovery of money only, the defendant alleges in his answer that before the commencement of the action he tendered to the plaintiff the full amount to which he was entitled, and thereupon deposits in court, for the plaintiff, the amount so tendered, and the allegations be found to be true, the plaintiff shall not recover costs, but shall pay costs to the defendant.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1030.

5385. Costs in action by or against administrator or trustee.

SEC. 443. In an action prosecuted or defended by an executor, administrator, trustee of express trust, or a person expressly authorized by statute, costs may be recovered as in an action by and against a person prosecuting and defending in his own right; but such costs shall, by the judgment, be made chargeable only upon the estate, fund, or party represented, unless the court shall direct the same to be paid by the plaintiff or defendant, personally, for mismanagement or bad faith in the action or defense.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1031.

5386. Costs in review other than by appeal.

SEC. 444. When the decision of a court of inferior jurisdiction in a special proceeding is brought before a court of higher jurisdiction for a review, in any other way than by appeal, the same costs shall be allowed as in cases on appeal, and may be collected by execution, or in such manner as the court may direct, according to the nature of the case.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1032.

5387. Filing and service of verified cost bill, retaxing.

SEC. 445. The party in whose favor judgment is rendered, and who claims his costs, must deliver to the clerk, and serve a copy upon the adverse party, within five days after the verdict or notice of the decision of the court or referee, or such further time as the court or judge may grant, a memorandum of the items of his costs and necessary disbursements in the action or proceeding, which memorandum must be verified by the oath of the party, or his attorney or agent, or by the clerk of his attorney, stating that to the best of his knowledge and belief the items are correct, and that the disbursements have been necessarily incurred in the action or proceeding. He shall be entitled to recover the witness fees, although at the time he may not have actually paid them. It shall not be necessary to embody in the memorandum the fees of the clerk, but the clerk shall add the same according to his fees fixed by statute. Within three days after service of a copy of the memorandum, the adverse party may move the court, upon two days' notice, to retax and settle the costs, a copy of which motion shall be filed and served on the prevailing party claiming costs. Upon the hearing of the motion the court or judge in chambers shall settle the costs.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1033.

Where a judgment was rendered on Saturday, the time within which the successful party could file his cost bill expired on Monday. McCafferty v. Flinn, 32 Nev. 269 (107 P. 225).

The date of the "decision of the court" means when the finding of facts was filed. Sholes v. Stead, 2 Nev. 107, 108.

The cost bill is no part of the judgment roll and where there is no statement or bill of exceptions, the court cannot pass upon its correctness. Howard v. Richards, 2 Nev. 134 (89 A. D. 520).

An appellant, to whom costs have been awarded on appeal, must comply with the statute and rules of the court governing the taxation of costs in order to make the decision effectual. Candler v. Ditch Co., 28 Nev. 422, 424 (82 P. 458).

The method of taxing costs in the supreme court is governed by supreme court rule 6, and not by this section, which is applicable to district courts only. Idem.

An order striking out a cost bill is an order made after final judgment, and if appealed from should be taken up in a statement on appeal containing only so much of the record as is necessary to present the facts, no statement on motion for a new trial being necessary. Linville v. Scheeline, 30 Nev. 106, 110 (93 P. 225).

If a party fails to file a cost bill within the time prescribed, he waives his rights to costs. Idem.

The "decision of the court" is the announcement by it of its judgment, and is distinct from the findings. Idem.

Prevailing party, who is. Lapham v. Osborne, 20 Nev. 168 (18 P. 881).

Where the record fails to show that plaintiff filed cost bill, including his trial costs, such trial costs are waived, and it will not be presumed against the correctness of the judgment that such cost bill was filed. Idem.

5388. Interest and costs must be included by clerk in judgment.

SEC. 446. The clerk shall include in the judgment entered up by him any interest on the verdict or decision of the court or referee, from the time it was rendered or made, and the costs, if the same have been taxed or ascertained; and he shall, within two days after the same shall be taxed or ascertained, if not included in the judgment, insert the same in a blank to be left in the judgment for that purpose, and shall make a similar insertion of the costs in the copies and docket of the judgment.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1035.

5389. When plaintiff nonresident or foreign corporation, defendant may require security for costs.

SEC. 447. When a plaintiff in an action resides out of the state, or is a foreign corporation, security for the costs and charges which may be awarded against such plaintiff may be required by the defendant. When required, all proceedings in the action shall be stayed until an undertaking, executed by two or more persons, be filed with the clerk, to the effect that they will pay such costs and charges as may be awarded against the plaintiff by judgment, or in the progress of the action, not exceeding the sum of three hundred dollars; or in lieu of said undertaking, the plaintiff may deposit three hundred dollars, lawful money, with the clerk of the court, subject to the same conditions as required for the undertaking. A new or an additional undertaking may be ordered by the court or judge upon proof that the original undertaking is insufficient security, and proceedings in the action stayed until such new or additional undertaking be executed and filed.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1036.

5390. Idem—Sureties must make affidavit.

SEC. 448. Each of the sureties on the undertaking mentioned in the last section shall annex to the same an affidavit that he is a resident and householder, or freeholder, within the county and is worth double the amount specified in the undertaking, over and above all his just debts and liabilities, exclusive of property exempt from execution.

5391. Idem—If security not given, action may be dismissed.

SEC. 449. After the lapse of thirty days from the service of notice that security is required, or of an order for new or additional security, upon proof thereof, and that no undertaking as required has been filed, the court or judge may order the action to be dismissed.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1037.

5392. Costs when state is a party.

SEC. 450. When the state is a party, and costs are awarded against it, they must be paid out of the state treasury.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1038.

5393. Costs when county is a party.

SEC. 451. When a county is a party, and costs are awarded against it, they must be paid out of the county treasury.

CONTEMPT

5394. What deemed contempt.
5395. Entry after eviction by lawful process, contempt—Restoration.
5396. Contempt, when punishable summarily, when not.
5397. Attachment for contempt, when to issue—Notice to show cause.
5398. Bail may be given by person arrested under such warrant.
5399. Sheriff must detain person until discharged.
5400. Bail bond, form and condition of.
5401. Return of warrant and undertaking by officer.
5402. Idem—Hearing.
5403. Penalty for contempt—Maximum.
5404. Omission of act as contempt, imprisonment.
5405. Indictment for contemptuous conduct.
5406. When defendant does not appear—Proceedings.
5407. Illness sufficient cause for nonappearance of party arrested—Confinement.

5394. What deemed contempt.

SEC. 452. The following acts or omissions shall be deemed contempts:

1. Disorderly, contemptuous, or insolent behavior towards the judge while he is holding court, or engaged in his judicial duties at chambers, or towards referees or arbitrators, while sitting on a reference or arbitration, or other judicial proceeding.

2. A breach of the peace, boisterous conduct, or violent disturbance in the presence of the court, or in its immediate vicinity, tending to interrupt the due course of the trial, or other judicial proceeding.

3. Disobedience or resistance to any lawful writ, order, rule, or process issued by the court or judge at chambers.

4. Disobedience of a subpena duly served, or refusing to be sworn or answer as a witness.

5. Rescuing any person or property in the custody of an officer by virtue of an order or process of such court or judge at chambers.

6. Disobedience of the order or direction of the court made pending the trial of an action, in speaking to or in the presence of a juror concerning an action in which the juror has been impaneled to determine, or in any manner approaching or interfering with such juror with the intent to influence his verdict.

7. Every person who shall have been, or shall be hereafter, dispossessed or rejected from out of any piece, parcel, lot, or tract of land, by the judgment, decree, or process of any court of competent jurisdiction, and who, not having any legal right so to do, shall reenter into, or upon, or take possession of any such land, or any part thereof, or induce or procure any person not having a legal right so to do, or who shall aid or abet therein, shall be deemed guilty of contempt of the court by which said judgment or decree was rendered, or from which such process issued, and shall be tried and punished therefor, in the same manner and form as provided in case of contempt not committed in the presence of the court or justice of the peace. Upon conviction for such contempt, the court or justice of the peace shall immediately issue an alias process, directed to the proper officer, and requiring him to restore the party entitled to the possession of such property under the original judgment, decree, or process, to such possession, of which he shall have been dispossessed by the wrongful conduct or act herein declared to be a contempt.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1209, 1210.

See secs. 754, 4882.

The statute relating to contempts and punishments must be strictly construed, and no interpretation should be given beyond its obvious meaning. Ex Parte Sweeney, 18 Nev. 74; Maxwell v. Rives, 11 Nev. 213, 214, 220.

A contempt for the disobedience of a decree and violation of an injunction is in the nature of a criminal offense, and the proceeding for its punishment is in the nature of a criminal proceeding. Idem.

If the contempt consists in the refusal of a party to do something which he is ordered to do for the benefit or advantage of the opposite party, the process is civil, and he stands committed till he complies with the order. The order in such case is not punitive, but coercive. Phillips v. Welch, 11 Nev. 187.

If the contempt consists in the doing of a forbidden act, injurious to the opposite party, the process is criminal, and conviction is followed by a penalty of fine or imprisonment, or both, which is purely punitive. Idem.

The supreme court has no appellate jurisdiction in cases of contempt, where the proceeding is purely criminal. Idem.

Jurisdiction as applied to any particular claim or controversy is the power to hear and determine that controversy, and where a person is charged with violating the decree of a court, no other court, except the one rendering the decree, can hear or determine the controversy, or punish such person if found guilty of a contempt. Phillips v. Welch, 12 Nev. 159, 168, 171–179.

Judgment of conviction final and conclusive. Idem.

Habeas corpus does not lie when conviction for contempt properly had. Idem.

It is not a contempt of court to fail to comply with an order which the court had no jurisdiction to make, and a party imprisoned for a contempt committed under such circumstances will be discharged upon habeas corpus. Ex Parte Gardner, 22 Nev. 281 (39 P. 570).

Though a grand jury is an adjunct of the court, it is not such part thereof as permits the judge to summarily punish offenders for any act before the grand jury, without proceeding on affidavit and citing the offender to show cause why he should not be punished. Ex Parte Hedden, 29 Nev. 353, 371 (90 P. 737).

A court-martial is given power and authority to punish for contempt. State ex rel. Huffaker v. Crosby, 24 Nev. 115, 123 (77 A. S. 786, 50 P. 127).

If a witness refuses to answer questions when the court decides he should answer, it is a contempt and punishable as such. Maxwell v. Rives, 11 Nev. 214.

5395. Entry after eviction by lawful process, contempt—Restoration.

SEC. 453. Every person dispossessed of or ejected from out of any real property, by the judgment or process of any court of competent jurisdiction, and who, not having a right so to do, reenters into or upon, or takes possession of, any such real property, or induces or procures any person not having a right so to do, or aids or abets him therein, is guilty of a contempt of the court by which such judgment was rendered, or from which such process issued, and shall be tried and punished therefor in the same manner and form as provided by law in cases of contempt not committed in the presence of the court or justice of the peace.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1210; Utah, 3359.

5396. Contempt, when punishable summarily, when not.

5396 A 13 117

Kerr, C. C. P., 1211.

See Phillips v. Welch and Ex Parte Hedden, under sec. 452 of this act.

Punishments for contempt being quasi criminal, the petition or affidavit must show contempt before the court has jurisdiction to punish, and where the court attempts to punish for violation of a void order by referees, prohibition will issue, and the party is not required to review by appeal. Cline v. Langan, 31 Nev. 239, 245 (101 P. 553).

See, also, citations under sec. 511, ante.

5397. Attachment for contempt, when to issue—Notice to show cause.

SEC. 455. When the contempt is not committed in the immediate view and presence of the court or judge, a warrant of attachment may be issued to bring the person charged to answer, or without a previous arrest a warrant of commitment may, upon notice, or upon an order to show cause, be granted; and no warrant of commitment shall be issued without such previous attachment to answer, or such notice or order to show cause.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1212.

The affidavit for contempt need not show upon its face that the party verifying the same is beneficially interested in the proceedings. Strait v. Williams, 18 Nev. 430 (4 P. 1083).

In case of an alleged contempt for the violation of a decree an affidavit is sufficient if it substantially states the fact of the rendition of judgment restraining the party from doing certain acts, that the judgment is in full force and effect, and that the party enjoined has disobeyed the decree, and threatens to continue the violation thereof. Idem.

Cited, Ex Parte Hedden, 29 Nev. 372 (90 P. 737).

5398. Bail may be given by person arrested under such warrant.

SEC. 456. Whenever a warrant of attachment is issued pursuant to this chapter, the court or judge shall direct, by an endorsement on such warrant, that the person charged may be let to bail for his appearance, in an amount to be specified in such endorsement.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1213.

5399. Sheriff must detain person until discharged.

SEC. 457. Upon executing the warrant of attachment, the sheriff shall keep the person in custody, bring him before the court or judge, and detain him until an order be made in the premises, unless the person arrested entitle himself to be discharged, as provided in the next section.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1214.

5400. Bail bond, form and conditions of.

SEC. 458. When a direction to let the person arrested to bail is contained in the warrant of attachment, or indorsed thereon, he shall be discharged from the arrest upon executing and delivering to the officer, at any time before the return day of the warrant, a written undertaking, with two sufficient sureties, to the effect that the person arrested will appear on the return of the warrant and abide the order of the court or judge thereupon; or they will pay as may be directed the sum specified in the warrant.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1215.

5401. Return of warrant and undertaking by officer.

SEC. 459. The officer shall return the warrant of arrest and the undertaking, if any, received by him from the person arrested, by the return day specified therein.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1216.

5402. Idem—Hearing.

SEC. 460. When the person arrested has been brought up or appeared, the court or judge shall proceed to investigate the charge, and shall hear any answer which the person arrested shall make to the same, and may examine witnesses for or against him, for which an adjournment may be had from time to time, if necessary.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1217.

The district court is bound to hear the witness for the defense (per Beatty, J., dissenting). Phillips v. Welch, 12 Nev. 185.

5403. Penalty for contempt—Maximum.

SEC. 461. Upon the answer and evidence taken, the court or judge shall determine whether the person proceeded against is guilty of the contempt charged; and if it be adjudged that he is guilty of the contempt, a fine may be imposed on him not exceeding five hundred dollars, or he may be imprisoned not exceeding twenty-five days, or both, but no imprisonment shall exceed twenty-five days except as provided in the next section.

5403 A '13 117

Kerr, C. C. P., 1218.

The fine imposed in such cases is punitive, inflicted for the public good; that imprisonment for nonpayment of the fine is but a mode, provided by statute, for the enforcement of the fine, incident to the power given to the court to impose the fine, and that it cannot be regarded in the light of punishment. Ex Parte Sweeney, 18 Nev. 74.

Section 440, Stats. 1861, 381, cited, Ex Parte Sweeney, 18 Nev. 75 (1 P. 379).

The statute concerning contempts is a penal statute and must be strictly construed in favor of those accused of violating its prohibitions. Maxwell v. Rives, 11 Nev. 214, 221.

Petitioner was asked a number of questions, all being addressed to the same point, which he refused to answer. The court found him guilty of a separate contempt for every such question. It was held that in refusing to answer, petitioner was guilty of but one contempt, and that the court had jurisdiction to impose but one sentence. Idem.

5404. Omission of act as contempt, imprisonment.

SEC. 462. When the contempt consists in the omission to perform an act which is yet in the power of the person to perform, he may be imprisoned until he have performed it, and in that case the act shall be specified in the warrant of commitment.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1219.

A finding on application for alimony that defendant had property, real and personal, and for more than thirty years last past had been in the main employed and had earned a monthly competence more than sufficient to support himself and family, and was then so employed, did not constitute a finding that defendant had present ability to comply with an order requiring him to pay alimony and suit money, and was therefore insufficient to sustain an order committing him to jail until he made the payments required. Lutz v. District Court, 29 Nev. 152, 153 (86 P. 445).

Where an affidavit for an order committing defendant for contempt for failure to comply with an order as above recited failed to allege petitioner's ability to make the payments required of him, or facts from which such ability might properly be inferred, it was fatally defective. Idem.

5405. Indictment for contemptuous conduct.

SEC. 463. Persons proceeded against according to the provisions of this chapter shall also be liable to indictment for the same misconduct, if it be an indictable offense, but the court before which a conviction is had on an indictment, in passing sentence shall take into consideration the punishment before inflicted.

5406. When defendant does not appear—Proceedings.

SEC. 464. When the warrant of arrest has been returned served, if the person arrested do not appear on the return day, the court or judge may issue another warrant of arrest, or may order the undertaking to be prosecuted, or both. If the undertaking be prosecuted, the measure of damages in the action shall be the extent of the loss or injury sustained by the aggrieved party by reason of the misconduct for which the warrant was issued, and the costs of the proceeding.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1220.

5407. Illness sufficient cause for nonappearance of party arrested—Confinement.

SEC. 465. Whenever, by the provisions of this chapter, an officer is required to keep a person arrested on a warrant of attachment in custody, and to bring him before a court or judge, the inability, from illness or otherwise, of the person to attend, shall be a sufficient excuse for not bringing him up; and the officer shall not confine a person arrested upon the warrant in a prison, or otherwise restrain him of personal liberty, except so far as may be necessary to secure his personal attendance.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1221.

CHAPTER 51

PUBLIC WRITINGS

5408. Judicial records proved by production of original or certified copy.
5409. Record in custody of public officer, when may be read in evidence.
5410. Records of courts of other states, how proved.
5411. Judicial record of foreign country, how proved.
5412. When copy of foreign record admissible.
5413. Printed statutes presumed to be correct.

5408. Judicial records proved by production of original or certified copy.

SEC. 466. A judicial record of this state, or the United States, may be proved by the production of the original, or a copy thereof, certified by the clerk, or other person having the legal custody thereof, under the seal of the court, to be a true copy of such record.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1905.

5409. Record in custody of public officer, when may be read in evidence.

SEC. 467. The original or a copy of any record, other than a judicial record, document, or paper in the custody of a public officer of this state, or of the United States, certified under the official seal, or verified by the oath of such officer to be the original or to be a true, full and correct copy of the original in his custody, may be read in evidence in any action or proceeding in the courts of this state, in like manner and with the like effect as the original could be if produced. A public record or document in the custody of a public officer of this state, in a public office, may be proved and admitted in evidence in any court by the certificate of the legal keeper or custodian thereof that it is genuine and authentic, and by his seal, if there be one annexed.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1919.

The affidavits and declaratory statements of entrymen applying to preempt public lands, filed in the proper land office, or copies thereof certified by the register of the land office wherein the originals are filed, are admissible as evidence of the facts therein stated. Peers v. Deluchi, 21 Nev. 164, 169 (26 P. 228).

5410. Records of courts of other states, how proved.

SEC. 468. The records and judicial proceedings of the courts of any other state of the United States, or of any territory, may be proved or admitted in the courts of this state, by the attestation of the clerk, and seal of the court annexed, if there be a seal, together with a certificate of the judge, chief justice or presiding magistrate, as the case may be, that the said attestation is in due form.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1905.

5411. Judicial record of foreign country, how proved.

SEC. 469. A judicial record of a foreign country may be proved by the production of a copy thereof, certified by the clerk, with the seal of the court annexed, if there be a clerk and seal, or by the legal keeper of the record, with the seal of his office annexed, if there be a seal, to be a true copy of such record, together with a certificate of a judge of the court, that the person making the certificate is the clerk of the court, or the legal keeper of the record, and in either case that the signature is genuine, and the certificate in due form; and, also, together with the certificate of the minister or embassador of the United States or of a consul of the United States, in such foreign country, that there is such a court, specifying generally the nature of its jurisdiction, and verifying the signature of the judge and clerk, or other legal keeper of the record.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1906.

5412. When copy of foreign record admissible.

SEC. 470. A copy of the judicial record of a foreign country shall also be admissible in evidence upon proof:

1. That the copy offered has been compared by the witness with the original, and is an exact transcript of the whole of it.

2. That such original was in the custody of the clerk of the court or other legal keeper of the same; and,

3. That the copy is duly attested by a seal, which is proved to be the seal of the court where the record remains, if it be the record of a court, or if there be no such seal, or if it be not a record of a court, by the signature of the legal keeper of the original.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1907.

5413. Printed statutes presumed to be correct.

SEC. 471. Printed copies in volumes of statutes, code or other written law, enacted by any other state, or territory, or foreign government, purporting or proved to have been published by the authority thereof, or proved to be commonly admitted as evidence of the existing law, in the courts and judicial tribunals of such state, territory, or government, shall be admitted by the courts and officers of this state on all occasions as presumptive evidence of such laws.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1900.

CHAPTER 52

PRIVATE WRITINGS

5414. Instrument affecting real property used as evidence.

SEC. 472. Every instrument conveying or affecting real property, acknowledged or proved and certified, may, together with the certificate of acknowledgment or proof, be read in evidence in an action or proceeding, without further proof; also, the original record of such conveyance or instrument thus acknowledged or proved or a certified copy of the record of such conveyance or instrument thus acknowledged or proved, may be read in evidence, with the like effect as the original instrument, without further proof.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1951.

See secs. 1043–1046.

5415. Certified copies of United States and state land patents admitted in evidence—When original recorded.

SEC. 473. All patents which have been heretofore, or which may be hereafter issued by either the State of Nevada or by the United States, for lands situate in the State of Nevada, may be recorded as they are issued in the office of the county recorder of the county in the State of Nevada where said lands are situated; and when so recorded, the record or copies thereof, certified as required by the laws of the State of Nevada, may be used in evidence in any court of the State of Nevada in the same manner and under the same circumstances, and with the same force and effect as certified copies of the records of conveyances of real estate, acknowledged or proven, and certified and recorded in the manner prescribed by the laws of the State of Nevada, may now be used.

See secs. 1053–1054.

The record of a patent from the United States is admissible in evidence. Reno B. Co. v. Packard, 31 Nev. 433, 441 (103 P. 415).

CHAPTER 53

ADMISSION OR INSPECTION OF WRITINGS

5416. Party may demand inspection of book or paper—Court may exclude.

SEC. 474. Any court in which an action is pending, or a judge thereof may, upon notice, order either party to give to the other within a specified time an inspection and copy, or permission to take a copy of any book, document, or paper in his possession, or under his control, containing evidence relating to the merits of the action, or the defense therein. If compliance with the order be refused, the court may exclude the book, document, or paper from being given in evidence, or if wanted as evidence by the party applying, may direct the jury to presume it to be such as he alleges it to be; and the court may also punish the party refusing for a contempt. This section shall not be construed to prevent a party from compelling another to produce books, papers, or documents when he is examined as a witness.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1000.

5417. Contents of writing, how proved.

SEC. 475. There shall be no evidence of the contents of a writing, other than the writing itself, except in the following cases:

1. When the original has been lost or destroyed; in which case proof of the loss or destruction shall first be made.
2. When the original is in the possession of the party against whom the evidence is offered, and he fails to produce it after reasonable notice.
3. When the original is a record or other document in the custody of a public officer, or officer of a corporation.
4. When the original has been recorded and a certified copy of the record is made evidence by statute.
5. When the original consists of numerous accounts or other documents which cannot be examined in court without great loss of time, and the evidence sought from them is only the general result of the whole. In the cases mentioned in subdivisions 3 and 4, a copy of the original, or of the record, must be produced; in those mentioned in subdivisions 1 and 2 either a copy or oral evidence of the contents.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1855.

On an issue as to the earning capacity of a railroad, it was error to permit expert accountants, who had examined the corporation books, to give parol evidence of their opinion as to what the railroad's net earnings should have been by such witnesses making an arbitrary classification and exclusion of debits and credits. State v. N. C. R. R. Co., 28 Nev. 186, 214 (113 A. S. 834, 81 P. 99).

Upon the notice to defendant who was in possession of note sued on to produce the same, and failure on his part, plaintiff may prove contents. McClusky v. Gerhauser, 2 Nev. 47, 50.

It is competent under this section, as well as under the law independent of it, for an expert, who had made full investigation of the accounts of an office, to state orally the result of his examination. State v. Rhoades, 6 Nev. 353, 376.

5418. Writing altered, who to explain.

SEC. 476. The party producing a writing as genuine, which has been altered, or appears to have been altered after its execution, in a part material to the question in dispute, and such alteration is not noted on the writing, shall account for the appearance or alteration. He may show that the alteration was made by another without his concurrence, or was made with the consent of the parties affected by it, or otherwise properly or innocently made. If he do that, he may give the writing in evidence, but not otherwise.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1982.

No one can be deprived of the benefit of a deed, instrument, contract, or written evidence on account of an alteration or erasure, provided it appear that such erasure or alteration was made without the knowledge or consent of the party wishing to use the same, and it can be ascertained by any legal method of arriving at the knowledge of that fact how the instrument originally read. State v. Manhattan S. M. Co., 4 Nev. 318, 336.

CHAPTER 54

WITNESSES—COMPETENCY

5419. Who may be witnesses—When witnesses incompetent.
5420. Idem—Religious belief or conviction of felony does not disqualify.
5421. Refusal to testify or give deposition, penalty—Contempt.
5422. Insane husband or wife as witness.
5423. Persons excluded as witnesses.
5424. Husband and wife, when one cannot be witness against the other.
5425. Attorney and client, attorney's secretary, as witnesses.
5426. Clergymen as witnesses.
5427. Physician as witness.
5428. Public officer as witness.
5429. Judge or juror may be called as witness.
5430. When an interpreter may be sworn.
5431. Subpena may require witness to bring books — Not required to attend unless mileage paid, when.
5432. Subpena, how issued.
5433. Subpena, how served.
5434. Idem—How served if witness be concealed.
5435. Persons present compelled to testify.
5436. Duty of witness.
5437. What questions witness must answer—What he may refuse.
5438. Disobedience, punishment for.
5439. Penalty for disobedience.
5440. Warrant may issue to bring witness, when.
5441. Contents of warrant.
5442. Prisoner as witness, how brought—Disposition of.
5443. Idem—On whose motion.
5444. Idem—How examined.
5445. Witnesses exempt from arrest, when.
5446. Idem—Arrest void and arresting officer liable.
5447. Witness, not Christian, how sworn.
5448. Witness may take affirmation instead of oath.
5449. Exclusion of witnesses during trial.

5419. Who may be witnesses—When witnesses incompetent.

SEC. 477. All persons, without exception, otherwise than as specified in this chapter, who, having organs of sense, can perceive, and perceiving can make known their perceptions to others, may be witnesses in any action or proceeding in any court of the state. Facts which, by the common law, would cause the exclusion of witnesses, may still be shown for the purpose of affecting their credibility. No person shall be allowed to testify:

1. When the other party to the transaction is dead.

2. When the opposite party to the action, or the person for whose immediate benefit the action or proceeding is prosecuted or defended, is the representative of a deceased person, when the facts to be proven transpired before the death of such deceased person; provided, that when such deceased person was represented in the transaction in question by an agent who is living, and who testifies as a witness in favor of the representative of such deceased person, or, when persons other than the parties to the transaction, claiming to have been present when the transaction took place, testify as witnesses in favor of the representative of such deceased person, in such case the other party may also testify in relation to such transaction.

Nothing contained in this section shall affect the laws in relation to the attestation of any instrument required to be attested.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1878–1879.

The object of this section was to make even the parties to actions competent witnesses in all cases, except where an undue advantage might be gained thereby. By the phrase "adverse party" was meant the actual party to the transaction; he who could himself testify as to it. Roney v. Buckland, 4 Nev. 45, 55, 57.

When a surviving partner is sued for a loan for the use of the fund made to a deceased partner, and of the particulars of which the deceased partner only was cognizant, the plaintiff is not a competent witness in his own behalf. Idem.

An executor is not within the exception of this section. In re Millenovich, 5 Nev. 163, 188.

The statute making parties competent witnesses does not abrogate the rule of evidence requiring the subscribing witness to a written instrument to be called, or his absence accounted for. Kalmes v. Gerrish, 7 Nev. 31.

Where a person was employed by another to work at a quartz mill for an association, to whom such latter person had assigned a lease thereof, and, after the death of the assignor, the employee sued the association for work and labor, it was held that none of the association was sued as the representative of deceased, and there was nothing in this section to prevent plaintiff from testifying as to the conversation and employment by deceased. Fulton v. Day, 8 Nev. 80, 83.

Where a person is disqualified under this section, he is a competent witness to testify to incidental and preliminary matters addressed solely to the judge, but cannot testify to any of the issues raised by the pleadings. Higgs v. Hansen, 13 Nev. 356, 357.

Where the administrator of a deceased person is plaintiff, and testifies to a contract made by deceased in his presence, it was held that defendant could not testify in his own behalf. Vesey v. Benton, 13 Nev. 284, 285.

The surviving partners are not the "representatives of a deceased person." Crane v. Gloster, 13 Nev. 279, 280, 282.

A defendant, in a suit by a surviving partner to foreclose a mortgage, will not be allowed to testify that the deceased partner accepted property under a verbal agreement in satisfaction of a mortgage. Gage v. Phillips, 21 Nev. 150, 154 (37 A. S. 494, 26 P. 60).

This section does not prohibit witnesses, who are not parties to the action and have no interest in the result thereof, from testifying concerning conversations had with the deceased person, who was the opposite party to the transaction in controversy, and concerning such transaction. Burgess v. Helm, 24 Nev. 242, 249, 250 (51 P. 1025).

In an action to recover alleged partnership property after the decease of an alleged partner, plaintiff's testimony authenticating the books containing the alleged partnership transactions, and also plaintiff's individual business accounts, was properly excluded as relating to transactions with a deceased person. Schwartz v. Stock, 26 Nev. 128, 146, 149 (65 P. 351).

5420. Idem—Religious belief or conviction of felony does not disqualify.

SEC. 478. No person shall be disqualified as a witness in any action or proceeding on account of his opinions on matters of religious belief, or by reason of his conviction of felony, but such conviction may be shown for the purpose of affecting his credibility, and the jury is to be the exclusive judges of his credibility, or by reason of his interest in the event of the action or proceeding as a party thereto, or otherwise, but the party or parties thereto, and the person in whose behalf such action or proceeding may be brought or defended, shall, except as hereinafter excepted, be competent and be compellable to give evidence, either orally or by deposition or upon a commission, in the same manner and be subject to the same rules of examination as other witnesses on behalf of himself, or either or any of the parties to the action or proceeding.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1879.

See Crane v. Gloster, under sec. 477 of this act.

Under sec. 380, Stats. 1869, 196, it was held that a person convicted of an infamous crime in the courts of another state is rendered incompetent to testify as a witness in a criminal proceeding in this state. State v. Foley, 15 Nev. 64, 73 (37 A. R. 458).

The same section was cited in State v. McKenney, 18 Nev. 201 (2 P. 171).

See Schwartz v. Stock, under sec. 477 of this act.

Cited, State v. Roberts, 28 Nev. 351, 379 (82 P. 100).

The interest which will render one incompetent as a witness, must be a direct interest in the judgment; he must either gain or lose by the direct legal operation or effect of the judgment, or the record of it must be such as would make it legal evidence for or against him in some other action. Geller v. Huffaker, 1 Nev. 22, 24.

5421. Refusal to testify or give deposition, penalty—Contempt.

SEC. 479. If a party refuse to attend and testify at the trial, or to give his deposition before trial, or upon a commission when required, his complaint, answer or reply may be stricken out and judgment be taken against him and he may be also, in the discretion of the court, proceeded against as in other cases for a contempt.

5422. Insane husband or wife as witness.

SEC. 480. When a husband or wife is insane, and has been so declared by a commission of lunacy, or in due form of law, the other shall be a competent witness to testify as to any fact which transpired before or during such insanity, but the privilege of so testifying shall cease on the restoration to soundness of mind of the insane husband or wife, unless upon the consent of both, in which case they shall be competent witnesses.

Cited, Gage v. Phillips, 21 Nev. 155, 156 (37 A. S. 494, 26 P. 60).

5423. Persons excluded as witnesses.

SEC. 481. The following persons cannot be witnesses:

1. Those who are of unsound mind at the time of their production for examination.

2. Children under ten years of age who appear incapable of receiving just impressions of the facts respecting which they are examined, or of relating them truly.

3. Parties or assignors of parties to an action or proceeding, or persons in whose behalf an action or proceeding is prosecuted, against an executor or administrator upon a claim or demand against the estate of a deceased person, as to any matter of fact occurring before the death of such deceased person.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1880.

5424. Husband and wife, when one cannot be witness against the other.

SEC. 482. A husband cannot be examined as a witness for or against his wife without her consent, nor a wife for or against her husband without his consent; nor can either, during the marriage or afterwards, be, without the consent of the other, examined as to any communication made by one to the other during marriage. But this exception shall not apply to a civil action or proceeding by one against the other, nor to a criminal action or proceeding for a crime committed by one against the other.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1881.

Where two parties are jointly indicted, but tried separately, the wife of one may be a witness for or against the other, if her husband cannot be benefited or injured by her testimony. State v. Waterman, 1 Nev. 543, 549.

Where the wife of an accomplice is called, her testimony is entitled at least to the same weight and effect as that of an accomplice. Idem.

5425. Attorney and client, attorney's secretary, as witnesses.

SEC. 483. An attorney cannot, without the consent of his client, be examined as to any communication made by the client to him, or his advice given thereon in the course of professional employment; nor can an attorney's secretary, stenographer, or clerk be examined, without the consent of his employer, concerning any fact, the knowledge of which has been acquired in such capacity.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1881, subd. 2.

An attorney or counselor cannot, without the consent of his client, and has no right to, disclose any fact which may have been communicated to him by his client, solely for the purpose of obtaining his professional assistance or advice; but this rule is not to be carried to the extent of depriving the attorney of means of obtaining or defending his own rights. Mitchell v. Bromberger, 2 Nev. 345, 348.

Whenever, in a suit between attorney and client, the disclosure of a privileged communication becomes necessary to the protection of the attorney's own rights, he is released from those obligations of secrecy which the law places upon him. He should not, however, disclose more than is necessary for his own protection. Idem.

5426. Clergymen as witnesses.

SEC. 484. A clergyman or priest shall not, without the consent of the person making the confession, be examined as a witness as to any confession made to him in his professional character.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1881.

5427. Physician as witness.

SEC. 485. A licensed physician or surgeon shall not, without the consent of his patient, be examined as a witness as to any information acquired in attending the patient, which was necessary to enable him to prescribe or act for the patient; provided, however, in any suit or prosecution against a physician or surgeon for malpractice, if the patient or party suing or prosecuting shall require or give such consent, and any such witness shall give testimony, then such physician or surgeon, defendant may call any other physicians or surgeons as witnesses on behalf of defendant, without the consent of such patient or party suing or prosecuting.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1881.

Such consent may be either express or implied. When the parents of a child institute criminal proceedings charging a defendant with committing rape upon the child and are principal witnesses against him, testifying to the nature of the injury and ailment for which the physician prescribed, a waiver of the protection which the law gives to the confidential information acquired by the physician will be upheld. State v. Dopoister, 21 Nev. 107, 117, 123 (25 P. 1000).

5428. Public officer as witness.

SEC. 486. A public officer shall not be examined as a witness as to communications made to him in official confidence, when the public interests would suffer by the disclosure.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1881.

5429. Judge or juror may be called as witness.

SEC. 487. The judge himself, or any juror, may be called as a witness by either party; but in such case it shall be in the discretion of the court or judge to order the trial to be postponed, or suspended, and to take place before another judge or jury.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1883.

Where no foundation is laid for the impeachment of a witness by asking him if he has not made certain contradictory statements, and calling his attention to the place where, the time when, and the persons to whom or in whose presence he made such statements, it is not error for the judge, by whose testimony it is sought to prove such contradictory statements, to refuse to testify. (Fitzgerald, J., dissenting.) Reno M. & L. Co. v. Westerfield, 26 Nev. 332, 341 (67 P. 961).

5430. When an interpreter may be sworn.

SEC. 488. When a witness does not understand and speak the English language, an interpreter shall be sworn to interpret for him. Any person resident of the county may be summoned by any judge or court to appear before judge or court to act as interpreter in any action or proceeding. The summons shall be served and returned in like manner as a subpena. Any person so summoned shall, for a failure to attend at the time and place named in the summons, be deemed guilty of contempt, and punished accordingly.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1884.

5431. Subpena may require witness to bring books—Not required to attend unless mileage paid, when.

SEC. 489. A subpena may require not only the attendance of the person to whom it is directed, at a particular time and place, to testify as a witness, but may also require him to bring with him any books, documents, or other things under his control, to be used as evidence. No person shall be required to attend as a witness before any court, judge, justice, referee, or other officer, out of the county in which he resides, unless the distance be less than thirty miles from his place of residence to the county of trial; provided, that such witness shall have the right to demand payment in advance of his fees for one day's attendance, and his mileage to and from the place specified in the subpena.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1985, 1989.

Fees for mileage or attendance of the opposite parties' witnesses cannot be taxed, and a judgment therefor entered against the losing party when such witnesses have not been subpenaed in the case according to law, or sworn or examined, although present in court at the request of the successful party. (Hawley, C. J., dissenting). Meagher v. Van Zandt, 18 Nev. 230, 234 (2 P. 57). (See this case, under sec. 2000, ante.)

5432. Subpena, how issued.

SEC. 490. The subpena shall be issued as follows:

1. To require attendance before a court, it shall be issued in the name and under the seal of the court before which the attendance is required.

2. To require attendance out of court, before a judge, referee, justice or other officer authorized to administer oaths or take testimony in any matter under the laws of this state, it shall be issued by the judge, referee, justice, or other officer before whom the attendance is required.

3. To require attendance before a commissioner appointed to take testimony by a court of a foreign country, or of the United States, or of any other state, or of a territory of the United States, or any district judge or justice of the peace of this state, it may be issued by a judge or justice of the peace in places within their respective jurisdictions, with like power to enforce attendance and to punish contempt of such subpena as such judge or justice could exercise if the subpena directed the attendance of the witness before his own court, in a matter pending therein.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1986.

See Meagher v. Van Zandt, under sec. 489 of this act.

5433. Subpena, how served.

SEC. 491. The service of a subpena shall be made by showing the original, and delivering a copy, or a ticket containing its substance, to the witness personally, giving or offering to him at the same time, if demanded by him, the fees to which he is entitled for travel to and from the place designated, and one day's attendance there. Such service may be made by any person.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1987.

5434. Idem—How served if witness be concealed.

SEC. 492. If a witness be concealed in a building, vessel, or elsewhere, so as to prevent the service of a subpena upon him, any court or judge, or any officer issuing the subpena, may, upon proof by affidavit of the concealment, and of the materiality of the witness, make an order that the sheriff of the county serve the subpena, and the sheriff shall serve it accordingly, and for that purpose may break into the building, vessel, or other place where the witness is concealed.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1988.

5435. Persons present compelled to testify.

SEC. 493. A person present in court, or before a judicial officer, may be required to testify in the same manner as if he were in attendance upon a subpena issued by such court or officer.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1990.
Cited, Maxwell v. Rives, 11 Nev. 219.

5436. Duty of witness.

SEC. 494. It shall be the duty of a witness, duly served with a subpena, to attend at the time appointed, with any papers under his control required by the subpena, to answer all pertinent and legal questions, and, unless sooner discharged, to remain till the testimony is closed.

5437. What questions witness must answer, what he may refuse.

SEC. 495. A witness shall answer questions legal and pertinent to the matter in issue, though his answer may establish a claim against himself; but he need not give an answer which will have a tendency to subject him to punishment for a felony, nor need give an answer which will have a direct tendency to degrade his character, unless it be to the very fact in issue, or to a fact from which the fact at issue would be presumed. But a witness shall answer as to the fact of his previous conviction for felony.

The witness might have put himself upon his privilege not to criminate or degrade himself, but having expressly disclaimed this excuse, he was bound to answer the questions. Maxwell v. Rives, 11 Nev. 220, 221.

5438. Disobedience, punishment for.

SEC. 496. Disobedience to a subpena, or a refusal to be sworn or to answer as a witness, or to subscribe an affidavit or deposition when required, may be punished as a contempt by the court or officer issuing the subpena or requiring the witness to be sworn; and if the witness be a party, his complaint may be dismissed or his answer stricken out.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1991.

5439. Penalty for disobedience.

SEC. 497. A witness disobeying a subpena, shall also forfeit to the party aggrieved the sum of one hundred dollars and all damages which he may sustain by the failure of the witness to attend, which forfeiture and damages may be recovered in a civil action.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1992.

5440. Warrant may issue to bring witness, when.

SEC. 498. In case of failure of a witness to attend, the court or officer issuing the subpena, upon proof of the service thereof and of the failure of the witness, may issue a warrant to the sheriff of the county to arrest the witness and bring him before the court or officer where his attendance was required.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1993.

5441. Contents of warrant.

SEC. 499. Every warrant of commitment, issued by a court or officer pursuant to this chapter, must specify therein the cause of the commitment, and if it be for refusing to answer a question, such question must be stated in the warrant. And every warrant to arrest or commit a witness, pursuant to this chapter, must be directed to the sheriff of the county where the witness may be, and must be executed by him in the same manner as process issued by the district court.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1994.

5442. Prisoner as witness, how brought—Deposition of.

SEC. 500. If the witness be a prisoner confined in a jail or prison within this state, an order for his examination in the prison upon deposition, or for his temporary removal and production before a court or officer for the purpose of being orally examined, may be made as follows:

1. By the court itself in which the action or special proceeding is pending, unless it be a justice court.

2. By a justice of the supreme court or district court where the action or proceeding is pending, if pending before a justice's court, or before a judge or other person out of court.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1995.

See Maxwell v. Rives, under sec. 501 of this act.

5443. Idem—On whose motion.

SEC. 501. Such order can only be made on motion of a party upon affidavit showing the nature of the action or proceeding, the testimony expected from the witness, and its materiality.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1996.

The law requiring an affidavit to be made of certain facts before the court should make an order to have the party in jail produced in court, was never designed for the protection of the prisoner, but only to prevent improper and unnecessary interference with the custody of prisoners. Maxwell v. Rives, 11 Nev. 213, 214, 218.

If the order for the prisoner's attendance in court was improvidently granted, it is no concern of the prisoner; being before the court he was bound to answer any question that he would have been required to answer if the process for bringing him there had been strictly pursued. Idem.

5444. Idem—How examined.

SEC. 502. If the witness be imprisoned in the county where the action or proceeding is pending, his production may, in the discretion of the court or judge, be required; in all other cases his examination, when allowed, shall be taken upon deposition.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1997.

See Maxwell v. Rives, under sec. 501 of this act.

5445. Witnesses exempt from arrest, when.

SEC. 503. Every person who has been in good faith served with a subpena to attend as a witness before a court, judge, commissioner, referee, or other person, in a case where the disobedience of the witness may be punished as a contempt, shall be exonerated from arrest in a civil action while going to the place of attendance, necessarily remaining there, and returning therefrom.

Kerr, C. C. P., 2067.

5446. Idem—Arrest void and arresting officer liable.

SEC. 504. The arrest of a witness contrary to the last section shall be void; but an officer shall not be liable to the party for making the arrest in ignorance of the facts creating the exoneration, but shall be liable for any subsequent detention of the party, if such party claim the exemption and make an affidavit, stating:

1. That he has been served with a subpena to attend as a witness before a court, officer, or other person, specifying the same, the place of attendance and the action or proceeding in which the subpena was issued; and,

2. That he has not been thus served by his own procurement, with the intention of avoiding an arrest.

Kerr, C. C. P., 2068.

5447. Witness, not Christian, how sworn.

SEC. 505. When a person is sworn who believes in any other than the Christian religion, he may be sworn according to the peculiar ceremonies of his religion, if there be any such.

Kerr, C. C. P., 2096.

5448. Witness may take affirmation instead of oath.

SEC. 506. Any witness who desires it, may, at his option, instead of taking an oath, make his solemn affirmation or declaration, by assenting when addressed in the following terms: "You do solemnly affirm that the evidence you shall give in this issue (or matter), pending between..... and....., shall be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth." Assent to this affirmation shall be made by the answer, "I do." A false affirmation or declaration shall be deemed perjury equally with a false oath.

Kerr, C. C. P., 2094.

5449. Exclusion of witnesses during trial.

SEC. 507. If either party require it, the judge may exclude from the court room any witness of the adverse party, not at the time under examination, so that he may not hear the testimony of other witnesses.

CHAPTER 55

AFFIDAVITS

5450. Affidavits to be used in state, before whom taken.
5451. Affidavit out of state, how taken.
5452. Idem—If taken in foreign country, before whom taken.
5453. Certificate of clerk, when taken out of state before a judge.

5450. Affidavits to be used in state, before whom taken.

SEC. 508. An affidavit to be used before any court, judge, or officer of this state may be taken before any justice, judge or clerk of any court, or any justice of the peace or notary public in this state.

Kerr, C. C. P., 2012.

5451. Affidavit out of state, how taken.

SEC. 509. An affidavit taken in another state, or in a territory of the United States, to be used in this state, shall be taken before a commissioner appointed by the governor of this state to take affidavits and depositions in such other state or territory, or before any notary public or judge of a court of record having a seal.

Kerr, C. C. P., 2013.

5452. Idem—If taken in foreign country, before whom taken.

SEC. 510. An affidavit taken in a foreign country to be used in this state shall be taken before an embassador, minister or consul of the United States, or before any judge of a court of record having a seal in such foreign country.

Kerr, C. C. P., 2014.

5453. Certificate of clerk, when taken out of state before a judge.

SEC. 511. When an affidavit is taken before a judge of a court in another state, or in a territory of the United States, or in a foreign country, the genuineness of the signature of the judge, the existence of the court, and the fact that such judge is a member thereof, shall be certified by the clerk of the court, under the seal thereof.

Kerr, C. C. P., 2015.

CHAPTER 56

DEPOSITIONS TAKEN WITHIN THE STATE

5454. Testimony of witness in state taken by deposition.
5455. Depositions may be taken before judge, clerk, justice of peace, or notary public.
5456. Manner of taking depositions, may be used by either party on trial.
5457. Deposition once taken may be read at any time.

5454. Testimony of witness in state taken by deposition.

SEC. 512. The testimony of a witness in this state may be taken by deposition in an action at any time after the service of the summons or the appearance of the defendant; and in a special proceeding, after a question of fact has arisen therein, in the following cases:

1. When the witness is a party to the action or proceeding, or a person for whose immediate benefit the action or proceeding is prosecuted or defended.

2. When the witness is the president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, or general manager of a corporation for whose benefit the action is prosecuted or defended.

3. When the witness resides out of the county in which his testimony is to be used.

4. When the witness is about to leave the county where the action is to be tried, and will probably continue absent when the testimony is required.

5. When the witness, otherwise liable to attend the trial is nevertheless too infirm to attend, or resides within the county, but more than fifty miles from the place of trial.

Kerr, C. C. P., 2021.

The affidavit required to be made to authorize the taking of a deposition of a witness within the state, has to show that the case is one of those mentioned in this section; but need not show that summons has been served. Lambert v. McFarland, 7 Nev. 159, 163.

5455. Depositions may be taken before judge, clerk, justice of peace, or notary public.

SEC. 513. Either party may have the deposition of a witness in this state taken before any judge or clerk of a court, or any justice of the peace or notary public in this state, on serving upon the adverse party previous notice of the time and place of examination, together with a copy of an affidavit showing that the case is one mentioned in the last section. At any time during the forty days immediately after the service of summons by publication has been completed, and at any time thereafter, when the defendant has not appeared, and his residence is unknown to the plaintiff, the notice required by this section may be served upon the clerk of the court where the action is pending. Such notice shall be at least five days, and, in addition, one day for every twenty-five miles of the distance of the place of examination from the residence of the person upon whom the notice is served, unless, for a cause shown, a judge, by order, prescribe a shorter time. When a shorter time is prescribed, a copy of the order shall be served with the notice.

Kerr, C. C. P., 2031.

5456. Manner of taking depositions—May be used by either party on trial.

SEC. 514. Either party may attend such examination and put such questions, direct and cross, as may be proper. The deposition, when completed, shall be carefully read to the witness and corrected by him in any particular, if desired; it shall then be subscribed by the witness, certified by the judge or officer taking the deposition, inclosed in an envelope or wrapper, sealed and directed to the clerk of the court in which the action is pending, or to such person as the parties, in writing, may agree upon, and either delivered by the judge or officer to the clerk or such person, or transmitted through the mail or by some safe private opportunity; and thereupon such deposition may be used by either party upon the trial or other proceeding against any party giving or receiving the notice, subject to all legal exceptions. But if the parties attend at the examination, no objection to the form of an interrogatory shall be made at the trial, unless the same was stated at the time of the examination. If the deposition be taken by reason of the absence or intended absence from the county of the witness, or because he is too infirm to attend, proof by affidavit or oral testimony shall be made at the trial that the witness continues absent or infirm, to the best of the deponent's knowledge or belief. The deposition thus taken may be also read in case of the death of the witness.

Kerr, C. C. P., 2032.

5457. Deposition once taken may be read at any time.

SEC. 515. When a deposition has been once taken, it may be read in any stage of the same action or proceeding by either party, and shall then be deemed the evidence of the party reading it.

Kerr, C. C. P., 2034.

CHAPTER 57

DEPOSITIONS TAKEN OUT OF THE STATE

5458. Testimony taken out of state.
5459. Idem—How taken—By whom taken.
5460. Interrogatories may be prepared or waived.
5461. Idem—Commission, what to authorize.
5462. Trial, when postponed for reason of nonreturn of commission.
5463. Deposition, by whom used.

5458. Testimony taken out of state.

SEC. 516. The testimony of a witness out of the state may be taken by deposition in an action at any time after the service of the summons or the appearance of the defendant, and in a special proceeding, at any time after a question of fact has arisen therein.

Kerr, C. C. P., 2020.

5459. Idem—How taken—By whom taken.

SEC. 517. The deposition of a witness out of this state shall be taken upon commission issued from the court, under the seal of the court, upon an order of the judge or court, on the application of either party, upon five days' previous notice to the other. It shall be issued to a person agreed upon by the parties, or, if they do not agree, to any judge, justice of the peace or notary public selected by the officer granting the commission, or to a commissioner appointed by the governor of this state to take affidavits and depositions in other states or territories.

Kerr, C. C. P., 2024.

A commission to take a deposition, authenticated by the certificate of the clerk under the seal of the court, and issued in pursuance of a former order of the court, is sufficient authority for taking the testimony of a witness. Smith v. North American Co., 1 Nev. 423.

When two cases are pending in the same court, between the same parties, a deposition may be taken upon one notice, affidavit and commission, to be read in both cases. Scott v. Bullion M. Co., 2 Nev. 81, 83, 84.

A deposition taken in one case may be used between the same parties in another; so a deposition entitled in two cases between the same parties may be used in either. Idem.

Where the parties to a suit agree that a deposition may be taken at a certain place, before T., a notary public in another state, a deposition certified by T., made under his official seal as a notary, may be read by either party without other proof that T. was a notary when the deposition was taken. The seal was prima facie evidence of his official character. Sargent v. Collins, 3 Nev. 260, 268, 279.

Where it was objected to a deposition taken out of the state that the statement that the deposition was read over to the witness before signing was interlined in the certificate, it was held that the interlineation was not material, as the statute did not prescribe any form of certificate nor require any matter to be specifically set forth, except that the commissioner had administered an oath and taken the deposition in answer to the interrogatories, or when the examination was without interrogatories in respect to the question in dispute. Blackie v. Cooney, 8 Nev. 42, 47.

As the statute provides no method of identification of the official character of the person appointed to take the deposition, such person, whether judge, justice of the peace, or commissioner, becomes for the purpose the officer of the court issuing a commission, and his certificate of his own character must be deemed to show prima facie that he is the person designated. Idem.

A stipulation that certain depositions "may be taken before F., a justice of the peace at W., in the county of C., in the province of N. B.," is a concession that there was such person occupying such official position at the place mentioned and was an agreement upon that person to take the deposition. Idem.

Depositions will not be rejected for informality in the certificate of the officer before whom they are taken, when it appears that both parties were present and the witnesses were cross-examined. Lockhart v. Mackie, 2 Nev. 294.

A stipulation of the parties to a suit may dispense with any certificate by the officer taking depositions. Idem.

It is too late to raise the objection in the supreme court for the first time that there was no proof of the absence of the witnesses whose depositions were read. Idem.

5460. Interrogatories may be prepared or waived.

SEC. 518. Such proper interrogatories, direct and cross, as the respective parties may prepare, to be settled, if the parties disagree as to their form, by the judge or officer granting the order for the commission, at a day fixed in the order, or at the time of granting the order for commission, may be annexed to the commission, or when the parties agree to that mode, the examination may be without written interrogatories.

Kerr, C. C. P., 2025.
See Sargent v. Collins, under sec. 517 of this act.

5461. Idem—Commission, what to authorize.

SEC. 519. The commission shall authorize the commissioner to administer an oath to the witness, and to take his deposition in answer to the interrogatories, or when the examination is to be without interrogatories in respect to the question in dispute, and to certify the deposition to the court, in a sealed envelope directed to the clerk or other person designated or agreed upon, and forwarded to him by mail or other usual channel of conveyance.

Kerr, C. C. P., 2026.
See citations under sec. 517 of this act.

5462. Trial, when postponed for reason of nonreturn of commission.

SEC. 520. A trial or other proceeding shall not be postponed by reason of a commission not returned, except upon evidence satisfactory to the court that the testimony of the witness is necessary, and that proper diligence has been used to obtain it.

Kerr, C. C. P., 2027.

5463. Deposition, by whom used.

SEC. 521. The deposition mentioned in this chapter may be used by either party on the trial or other proceeding, against any other party giving or receiving the notice subject to all just exceptions.

Kerr, C. C. P., 2028.

CHAPTER 58

PERPETUATING TESTIMONY

5464. Evidence may be perpetuated.
5465. Manner of application for order.
5466. Judge to designate officer to take testimony—Return.
5467. Testimony to be taken before judge.
5468. Manner of taking deposition.
5469. Affidavit prima facie proof.
5470. Idem—When the evidence may be produced.
5471. Effect of deposition.
5472. When testimony officially reported used on subsequent trial.
5473. When clerk to take down testimony.

5464. Evidence may be perpetuated.

SEC. 522. The testimony of a witness may be taken and perpetuated as provided in this chapter.

Kerr, C. C. P., 2083.

5465. Manner of application for order.

SEC. 523. The applicant shall present to a district judge a petition verified by the oath of the applicant, stating:

1. That the applicant expects to be a party to an action in a court in this state, and, in such case, the name or names of the person or persons whom he expects will be adverse parties; or,

2. That the proof of some fact or facts is necessary to perfect the title to property in which he is interested, or to establish marriage, descent, heirship, or any other matter which it may hereafter become material to establish, though no suit may at the time be anticipated, or, if anticipated, he may not know the parties to such suit; and,

3. The name of the witness to be examined and his place of residence, and a general outline of the facts expected to be proved.

Kerr, C. C. P., 2084.

5466. Judge to designate officer to take testimony—Return.

SEC. 524. The judge to whom such petition is presented shall make an order allowing the examination before any judge of a court of record, and prescribing the notice to be given, which notice, if the parties are known and reside in this state, shall be personally served on them, and if unknown, or nonresidents, such notice shall be served on the clerk of the county where the property to be affected by such testimony is situated, and a copy thereof published in some newspaper, to be designated by the judge making the order.

Kerr, C. C. P., 2084.

5467. Testimony to be taken before judge.

SEC. 525. Upon proof of the service of the notice as provided in the last section, it shall be the duty of the judge before whom the testimony is ordered to be taken to proceed to take the testimony of the witnesses named in said petition, upon the facts therein set forth, and the taking of the same may be continued from time to time, in the discretion of the judge.

5468. Manner of taking deposition.

SEC. 526. The examination shall be by question and answer, unless the parties otherwise agree. The testimony, when completed, shall be carefully read to and subscribed by the witness, then certified by the judge, and immediately thereafter filed in the office of the clerk of the district court of the county where it was taken, together with the order for the examination of the witness, the petition on which the same was granted, and the proof of service of the notice.

Kerr, C. C. P., 2086.

5469. Affidavit prima facie proof.

SEC. 527. The affidavits or other proof filed with the testimony, or certified copies thereof, shall be prima facie evidence of the facts stated therein.

Kerr, C. C. P., 2087.

5470. Idem—When the evidence may be produced.

SEC. 528. If the trial be had between the persons named in the petition as parties expectant, or their successors in interest, or between any parties wherein it may be material to establish the facts which such testimony proves or tends to prove, upon proof of the death or insanity of the witness, or of his inability to attend the trial by reason of age, sickness, or settled infirmity, the testimony, or certified copies thereof, may be used by either party, subject to all legal objections. But if the parties attend at the examination, no objection to the form of an interrogatory shall be made at the trial unless the same was stated at the examination.

Kerr, C. C. P., 2088.

5471. Effect of the deposition.

SEC. 529. The deposition so taken and read in evidence has the same effect as the oral testimony of the witness, and no other, and every objection to the witness, or to the relevancy of any question put to him, or of any answer given by him, may be made in the same manner as if he were examined orally at the trial.

Kerr, C. C. P., 2089.

5472. When testimony officially reported used on subsequent trial.

SEC. 530. Whenever in any court of record the testimony of any witness in any case shall be stenographically reported by an official court stenographer, and thereafter said witness shall die, or be beyond the jurisdiction of the court in which the cause is pending, either party to the record may read in evidence the testimony of said witness, when duly certified by the stenographer to be correct, in any subsequent trial of, or proceeding had, in the same cause, subject only to the same objection that might be made if said witness were upon the stand and testifying in open court.

5473. When clerk to take down testimony.

SEC. 531. On the trial of an action in a court of record, if there is no court stenographer in attendance, the court may require the clerk to take down the testimony in writing.

CHAPTER 59

COMMON LAW—DEFINITIONS—DEFECTIVE TITLES TO PAPERS—SUCCESSIVE AND CONSOLIDATED ACTIONS—ACTION BETWEEN SURETIES—CLERK'S REGISTER—SEAL—COMPUTATION OF TIME—OATH—GENERAL PROVISIONS RELATING TO UNDERTAKINGS AND SURETIES—MAJORITY OF REFEREES AND ARBITRATORS—ACTS OF JUDGE AFTER HIS TERM—LIEN ON BULLION—DEFERRED CLAIM FOR WAGES—ELISORS—LIEN ON ANIMALS.

5474. Common law, extent of, application of.

SEC. 532. The common law of England, so far as it is not repugnant to, or in conflict with the constitution and laws of the United States, or the constitution and laws of this state, shall be the rule of decision in all the courts of this state.

The common law of England, as modified by English statutes, adopted prior to the time of the declaration of American independence, is presumed to be the law of this state, so far as it is applicable to our conditions. Hamilton v. Kneeland, 1 Nev. 40, 55; Clark v. Clark, 17 Nev. 124 (28 P. 238); State ex rel. Donnelley v. Hamilton, 33 Nev.—(111 P. 1026).

The common-law rule, that a condition cannot be reserved to any but the grantor or his heirs, has not been recognized as the law in this country. Hamilton v. Kneeland, 1 Nev. 40, 55.

Courts are subject to the mandates and provisions of the common law, both as regards their authority and the manner of proceedings, except where that law has been modified or changed by legislation. Burling v. Goodman, 1 Nev. 318.

Whatever is a crime at common law is punishable under our statute. State v. Sales, 2 Nev. 268.

The common law forbade the transfer of any disputed title or right, whether relating to real or personal property, and made all such transfers utterly void. Stonecifer v. Y. J. S. M. Co., 3 Nev. 47.

The provisional remedies under our code are in derogation of the common law, and the statute must be strictly followed. O'Neil v. N. Y. & S. P. M. Co., 3 Nev. 142.

At common law a grand juror was not precluded from finding an indictment because he was either a witness or prosecutor. State v. Millain, 3 Nev. 409.

The territorial statute adopting the common law was adopted by the state constitution (ante, 386). Van Sickle v. Haines, 7 Nev. 251, 285.

English statutes in force at the date of the declaration of American independence and applicable to our situation are a part of the common law. Evans v. Cook, 11 Nev. 69, 75.

The law of marriage and divorce, as administered by the ecclesiastical courts, is a part of the common law of this country, except as it has been altered by statute. Wuest v. Wuest, 17 Nev. 217 (30 P. 886).

Under the common law an information in the nature of quo warranto will lie only for usurping a public office, and is never exercised in the case of a mere agency or employment determinable at the will of the employer. State ex rel. Ryan v. Cronan, 23 Nev. 237 (49 P. 41).

The English statute declaring lotteries to be public nuisances constitutes a part of the common law of the United States, and was so understood by the framers of our constitution. Ex Parte Blanchard, 9 Nev. 101.

The term "common law of England" was employed in the sense it is generally understood, and the intention of the legislature was to adopt only so much of it as was applicable to our condition. Reno S. M. & R. Works v. Stevenson, 20 Nev. 269, 276 (19 A. S. 364, 4 L. R. A. 60, 21 P. 317).

The common-law doctrine of riparian rights is unsuited to the condition of this state. Idem.

It was a principle of the common law that a right of action could not be transferred by him who had the right. Gruber v. Baker, 20 Nev. 468 (9 L. R. A. 302, 23 P. 858).

Forcible entry is a misdemeanor under the common law. Ex Parte Webb, 24 Nev. 238 (51 P. 1027).

Under the common law, in all cases where a juror is discharged during the progress of the trial from any cause of necessity, the balance of the jurors must be discharged, or rather, the discharge of the one by the court operates to the discharge of all the balance, but the balance may be immediately recalled into the jury box and their examination be entered into as originally upon their voir dire, if either party so desires, and the respective parties may have their challenges over. State v. Vaughan, 23 Nev. 112 (43 P. 193).

A common-law marriage by contract per verba de præsenti is valid. State v. Zichfeld, 23 Nev. 308 (62 A. S. 800, 34 L. R. A. 784, 46 P. 802).

The affidavits of jurors to impeach their verdict were inadmissible under the common law. So. Nev. M. Co. v. Holmes M. Co., 27 Nev. 151 (103 A. S. 759, 73 P. 759).

The rule of the common law requiring that an indictment be found in the county where the crime was committed prevails in this state, and while the crime of larceny is an exception to the rule, in the absence of statute the venue of the crime of receiving stolen goods is in the county where they are received, and not in the county where they are stolen, nor the one to which they are subsequently taken. State v. Pray, 30 Nev. 207, 221 (94 P. 218).

Under the common law as to gaming obligations, as modified by St. 9 Anne, c. 14, as found in 4 Bac. Abr. 456, making all bills securities, etc., given for money advanced during gaming or playing cards, etc., to any person playing, void, a transfer of a certificate of deposit, indorsed during a game of chance, to enable the indorser to secure funds to continue the game, was void, so that the transferee acquired no title, and could not recover thereon as against the indorser. Burke v. Buck, 31 Nev. 74, 79, 22 L. R. A. (N. S.) 627, 99 P. 1078.

Under the common-law rule allowing a nonresident to act as administrator and under this section, letters of administration may be granted to a nonresident. In re Bailey's Etsate, 31 Nev. 377 (103 P. 232, 234).

At common law, a citizen could be required to perform the duties of an officer. State ex rel. Donnelley v. Hamilton, 33 Nev. —(111 P. 1026).

5475. Words and terms defined.

SEC. 533. Words used in this act in the present tense include the future as well as the present; words used in the masculine gender include the feminine and neuter; the singular number includes the plural, and the plural the singular; the word "person" includes a company, partnership, association or corporation as well as a natural person; writing includes printing and typewriting; oath includes affirmation or declaration; and every mode of oral statement, under oath or affirmation, is embraced by the term "testify," and every written one in the term "depose"; signature or subscription includes mark, when the person cannot write, his name being written near it by a person who writes his own name as a witness; provided, that when a signature is by mark it must, in order that the same may be acknowledged or may serve as the signature to any sworn statement, be witnessed by two persons who must subscribe their own names as witnesses thereto. The following words have in this act the signification attached to them in this section, unless otherwise apparent from the context:

1. The word "property" includes both real and personal property.
2. The words "real property" are coextensive with lands, tenements, and hereditaments.
3. The words "personal property" include money, goods, chattels, things in action, and evidences of debt.
4. The word "month" means a calendar month, unless otherwise expressed.
5. The word "will" includes codicil.
6. The word "writ" signifies an order or precept in writing, issued in the name of the state, or of a court or judicial officer; and the word "process" a writ or summons issued in the course of judicial proceedings.
7. The word "state," when applied to the different parts of the United States, includes the District of Columbia and the territories; and the words "United States" may include the District of Columbia and territories or insular possessions.
8. The word "section" whenever hereinafter employed, refers to a section of this act, unless some other act or statute is expressly mentioned.
9. The word "affinity" when applied to the marriage relation, signifies the connection existing in consequence of marriage, between each of the married persons and the blood relatives of the other.

Kerr, C. C. P., 17.

5476. Papers without title or with defective title, when valid.

SEC. 534. An affidavit, notice, or other paper, without the title of the action or proceeding in which it is made, or with a defective title, shall be as valid and effectual for any purpose as if duly entitled, if it intelligibly refer to such action or proceeding.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1046.

The affidavits used on motions to set aside a default were simply entitled "State of Nevada, Storey County." It was held that, inasmuch as the affidavits intelligibly referred to the respective actions, the fact that they were not properly entitled therein, was immaterial. State v. Con. Va. M. Co., 13 Nev. 195, 202.

Cited, Mayberry v. Bowker, 14 Nev. 336, 341; State ex rel. Office S. M. Co. v. Curler, 26 Nev. 353 (67 P. 1075).

5477. Successive actions on same contract.

SEC. 535. Successive actions may be maintained upon the same contract or transaction, whenever after the former action, a new cause of action arises therefrom.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1047.

5478. Actions may be consolidated.

SEC. 536. Whenever two or more actions are pending at one time between the same parties, and in the same court, upon causes of action which might have been joined, the court may order the actions to be consolidated.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1048.

5479. Actions to determine adverse claims and by sureties.

SEC. 537. An action may be brought by one or more persons against any other person or persons for the purpose of determining an adverse claim which the latter makes against the former, for money or property, upon an alleged obligation or liability of any nature or kind, or upon any claim for an accounting, or for any other legal or equitable relief, and also against any two or more persons for the purpose of compelling one to satisfy a debt due to the other, for which plaintiff is bound as surety or otherwise. The word "person" in this section shall be deemed to include artificial as well as natural persons.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1050.

5480. Register of actions to be kept by clerk.

SEC. 538. The clerk shall keep among the records of the court a register of actions. He shall enter therein the title of the action, with brief notes under it, from time to time, of all papers filed and proceedings had therein.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1052.

5481. Seal, how affixed.

SEC. 539. A seal of a court or public office, when required to any writ or process, or proceeding, or to authenticate a copy of any record or document, may be impressed with wax, wafer, or any other substance, and then attached to the writ, process or proceeding, or to the copy of the record or document, or it may be impressed on the paper alone.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1931.

5482. Time, how computed.

SEC. 540. The time in which any act is to be done, as provided in this act, shall be computed by excluding the first day and including the last. If the last day be Sunday, or other nonjudicial day, it shall be excluded. If the last day be a nonjudicial day and be directly followed by one or more nonjudicial days, they also shall be excluded.

Kerr, C. C. P., 12.

Where a judgment was rendered on Saturday, the time within which the successful party could file his cost bill, expired on Monday. McCafferty v. Flinn, 32 Nev. 269 (107 P. 225).

5483. Who may administer oath.

SEC. 541. Every court of this state, every justice, judge or clerk of any court, every justice of the peace, and every notary public, and every officer authorized to take testimony, or to decide upon the evidence in any proceeding, shall have power to administer oaths or affirmations.

Kerr, C. C. P., 2093.

Cited, Gillig v. Ind. G. & S. M. Co., 1 Nev. 250.

5484. Undertaking of sureties generally, what affidavit required.

SEC. 542. In all cases where an undertaking with sureties is required by the provisions of this act, the judge, justice, or clerk, or other officer taking the same, shall, unless it is otherwise provided in this act, require the sureties to accompany the same with an affidavit that they are each worth the sum specified in the undertaking, over and above all their just debts and liabilities, exclusive of property exempt from execution; provided, that when the amount specified in an undertaking exceeds three thousand dollars, and there are more than two sureties thereon, they may state in their affidavits that they are severally worth amounts less than that expressed in the undertaking, if the whole amount be equivalent to that of two sufficient sureties.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1057.

5485. Justification of sureties, generally.

SEC. 543. In all cases not otherwise provided for in this act, where sureties are required to justify, they shall appear before the officer or person authorized to take the justification, and may be examined under oath by such officer or person and the adverse party, touching their qualifications as sureties, which examination shall be reduced to writing and subscribed by the sureties if required. If, upon such examination, it shall appear to such officer or person that said sureties, or either of them, have the necessary qualifications of such, he shall so indorse upon the statement, and cause the same to be filed, and thereupon the justification shall be complete.

5486. Surety, bonding company or cash may be accepted in place of personal sureties.

SEC. 544. In all cases where a bond or undertaking is required by the provisions of this act, the party required to give such bond or undertaking may furnish such bond or undertaking with a surety or bonding company, authorized to do business under the laws of this state and to furnish such bonds or undertakings, to be approved by the court or judge, in lieu of personal sureties. A party may, also, in lieu of a bond or undertaking required by this act, deposit with the court or clerk thereof, cash in the amount of the bond or undertaking required.

Regarding bonds and undertakings by surety companies, see secs. 695–701.
Surety company, secs. 698–699.

5487. Actions by or against state, county, city, town or officer thereof in official capacity, undertaking not required.

SEC. 545. In any action or proceeding before any court or other tribunal in this state, wherein the State of Nevada or any county, city or town of this state, or any officer thereof in his official capacity, is a party plaintiff or defendant, no bond, undertaking or security shall be required of the state, county, city or town, or such officer in his official capacity, but on complying with the other provisions of law the state, county, city or town, or officer thereof, acting as aforesaid, shall have the same rights, remedies and benefits as though such bond, undertaking or security were given and approved as required by law; provided, however, that the provisions of this section shall only apply where such action or proceeding is prosecuted or defended in the name of the state, county, city, town or officer thereof for the public benefit, and shall not be applicable where such action or proceeding is so prosecuted or defended for the benefit of a private individual or for the enforcement or protection of a private right.

5488. Two of three referees or arbitrators may act.

SEC. 546. When there are three referees, or three arbitrators, all shall meet, but two of them may do any act which might be done by all.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1053.

5489. Judge may perform certain acts after term expires.

SEC. 547. It shall be lawful for any district judge of this state at any time within twelve months after the expiration of his term of office, or within twelve months after he shall, from any cause, have ceased to exercise the duties of such office, to sign any records of his court that he may have left unsigned at the time of going out of office; also to sign and settle bills of exception, subject to the same regulations and restrictions that now are or hereafter may be prescribed by law. All judges about to retire from office by reason of resignation or the expiration of their term shall before such retirement, decide all cases and matters submitted to them and remaining undetermined, and such decision or decisions shall be entered in the minutes of the court, and thereafter at any time within sixty days such judge may sign the findings and decree in all cases so decided and such findings and decree so made, signed and filed shall be valid for all purposes as if made, signed and filed prior to the retirement from office of the judge making the same.

5490. Idem—Legal effect of such acts.

SEC. 548. Said records, when thus signed, and such bills of exceptions, when thus settled, shall have the same legal force and effect that they would be entitled to had they been signed or settled by the judge while in the exercise of his office.

5491. Idem—Power outgoing judge not to abridge rights of successor.

SEC. 549. The foregoing section shall not be deemed to take from the successors of any district judge the power to sign any record, or to sign and settle any bill of exceptions, as heretofore authorized by law.

5492. Parties selling ore to reduction works have preferred lien.

SEC. 550. Where ore is delivered to a custom mill or reduction works, and either sold to said mill or reduction works, or worked at a percentage, the party or parties so furnishing ore to mill or reduction works shall have a preferred lien upon the bullion product, and upon the ore not reduced as against attachment and other creditors.

5493. Wages preferred claim, when.

SEC. 551. That in all assignments of property, whether real or personal, which shall hereafter be made by any person or chartered company or corporation, or by any person or persons, owning or leasing real or personal property, to trustees or assignees on account of inability at the time of the assignment to pay his, her, or their debts, the wages of the miners, mechanics, salesmen, servants, clerks, or laborers, employed by such person or persons, or chartered company or corporation, shall be held and deemed preferred claims, and paid by such trustees or assignees, before any other creditor or creditors of the assignor; provided, that the claims of each miner, mechanic, salesman, servant, clerk, or laborer thus preferred, shall not exceed in value two hundred dollars of gold coin of the United States, and the services shall have been rendered or labor performed within ninety days next preceding said assignment.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1204.

Regarding wages as preferred claims against estates of deceased persons, see sec. 6145.

Notice of the laborer's claim must be given to the debtor and creditor as well as to the sheriff. (Hawley, J., dissenting.) Coscia v. Kyle, 15 Nev. 394–397.

Cited, Luigi v. Luchesi, 12 Nev. 308.

5494. Idem—In cases of attachments—Notice—If claim disputed—Action thereon—Claims preferred.

SEC. 552. In all cases of execution, attachments and writs of a similar nature against the property of any person or persons, or chartered company or corporation, it shall be lawful for such miner, mechanic, salesman, servant, clerk and laborer to give notice of their claim or claims, and the amount thereof, duly certified and sworn to by the creditor or creditors making the claim to the officer executing either of such writs, at any time before the actual sale of property levied upon; the creditor or creditors making the claim shall at the same time give notice in writing to the creditor or creditors at whose instance the property has been levied upon, or his or their attorney, of their said claim or claims, and the amount thereof duly certified and sworn to by such claimant or claimants; a copy of said notice shall also be served upon the debtor, if he be found within the county where the property levied upon is situated; provided, that if the debtor cannot be found within the county where the property levied upon is situated, then said notice may be served upon the officer executing either of such writs in lieu of said debtor. Upon the filing in the court where the action or actions against the debtor is, or are pending, of an affidavit of the claimant or claimants, showing his or their compliance with the foregoing provisions of this section, the officer executing either of said writs shall pay to such miners, mechanics, salesmen, servants, clerks or laborers, out of the proceeds of the sale, the amount each is justly and legally entitled to receive for services rendered, within ninety days next preceding the levy of the writ of execution, attachment, or other writ, not exceeding two hundred dollars in gold coin of the United States; provided, that either the creditor or debtor may dispute the claim of any person seeking and claiming preference under this section, and in such case the party or parties disputing such claim shall serve a written notice that they dispute such claim upon the claimant or claimants, and upon the officer executing such writs, within five days from the time of service upon such creditor or debtor of the notice of the claim by the claimant seeking preference, as hereinbefore provided for. Within ten days from the time of the service last provided for, the claimant or claimants shall commence an action in any court of competent jurisdiction against the debtor, and the person or persons disputing his or their claim, or claims, for the recovery thereof, and shall prosecute such action with due diligence, or be forever barred from any claim of priority payment thereof; but in case action is rendered necessary by the act as aforesaid, by either debtor or creditor, and judgment shall be had for said claim, or any part thereof, carrying costs, the costs attending the prosecution of said action, and legally taxable therein, shall likewise be a preferred claim with the same rank as the original claim; and, provided further, if the amount of assets, after deducting costs of levy and sale, shall not be adequate to the payment of all the preferred claims of this class, they shall be paid pro rata out of the money hereby made applicable thereto; and, provided further, that nothing in this act contained shall be construed to affect any homestead claims, mortgage, or lien of any description, created and existing before the claim of such laborer accrued.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1206.

The action upon the claim, if disputed, must be commenced within ten days after presentation of the claim to the officer who levied the writ. Coscia v. Kyle, 15 Nev. 396–400.

This statute is constitutional and does not deprive a person of his property without due process of law. Alexander v. Archer, 21 Nev. 22, 27 (24 P. 373).

When the claimant complies with the law, and his claim has not been disputed within five days, it becomes the duty of the officer selling the property and receiving the money to pay the claim, and he is liable to the claimant for the amount without an additional action to recover the same. Idem.

Service of notices and the filing of a preferred claim is in the nature of a petition in intervention, and, if either the debtor or the creditor serve written objections thereto, it becomes the duty of the claimant, within ten days, to commence an action in a court of competent jurisdiction to establish his claim. Idem.

If the claim is not disputed within five days and the sheriff fails to pay it, the justice has jurisdiction to enter an order requiring the sheriff to pay the claim. (Belknap, J., dissenting.) Idem.

5495. Elisors, when may be appointed—Must give bond, when.

SEC. 553. Process and orders, in an action or proceeding, may be executed in any county in this state by a person designated by the court, or the judge thereof, of the county in which the action or proceeding is pending, and denominated an elisor, in the following cases:

1. When the sheriff is a party.
2. When there is a vacancy in the office of sheriff.
3. When it shall be made to appear, by affidavit, to the satisfaction of the court in which the suit or proceeding is pending, or the judge thereof, that the sheriff, by reason of any bias, prejudice, or other cause, would not act promptly or impartially; provided, said court or judge may require such person so appointed to give a bond, with sufficient security, in such amount and with such condition, to the person to be served, as the court or judge may deem necessary to secure the rights of the party.

5496. Process, how executed by elisor.

SEC. 554. When process is delivered to an elisor, he shall execute it in the same manner as the sheriff is required to execute similar process in other cases.

5497. Sheriff, when arrested, how confined.

SEC. 555. If the sheriff, on being arrested by an elisor, or if another, on being arrested in an action in which the sheriff is a party, upon an order of arrest, in a civil action, neglect to give bail or make a deposit of money instead thereof, or if he be arrested on execution against his body, or on a warrant of attachment, he shall be confined in a house other than the house of the sheriff or the county jail, in the same manner as the sheriff is required to confine a prisoner in the county jail; the house in which he is thus confined shall thereupon become, for that purpose, the county jail.

5498. Powers and duties of elisors—Fees.

SEC. 556. An elisor, appointed to execute process and orders in the cases mentioned in this act, shall be invested with the powers, duties, and responsibilities of the sheriff, in the execution of such process or orders, and in every matter incidental thereto and shall be entitled to the same fees as a sheriff would be entitled to for like services.

5499. Lien upon animals—Sales—Fees.

SEC. 557. Any ranchman, or other person or persons, keeping corrals, livery or feed stables, or furnishing hay, grain, pasture, or otherwise boarding any horse or horses, mule or mules, ox or oxen, or other animal or animals, shall have a lien upon and retain possession of the same, or a sufficient number thereof, until all reasonable charges are paid; or suit can be brought and judgment obtained for the amount of such charges, and execution issued and levied on said property; provided, nothing herein shall be so construed as to include any debt other than for the boarding, keeping, or pasture of such animal or animals, together with costs of suit and sale. Sales of such animal or animals shall be made as other sales of personal property under execution. The officer making such sale shall be entitled to such fees for his services as are allowed by law in cases of other sales of personal property.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1208.

Where a stable keeper boarded a team of horses, but allowed them every day to be driven away to work, and on one occasion after being so driven away they were not returned, it was held that, though he might have retained possession of the horses, and insisted upon his lien, yet having allowed them to be driven away, he relinquished possession and thereby lost his right of lien. Cardinal v. Edwards, 5 Nev. 37.

The fixing of a future time for payment for the keeping or boarding of animals, such as an agreement to pay on the first of each month, destroys the lien contemplated by this section. Idem.

The statutory lien for keeping animals is lost when possession is parted with. Estey v. Cooke, 12 Nev. 276, 280.

5500. Idem—Sale of animals, owner to be paid surplus, when.

SEC. 558. After paying all charges, together with costs of suit and sale, the remainder, if there be any, shall be paid to the owner or owners of such animal or animals, or, in case such owner or owners is or are out of the state, or cannot be found, to the justice of the peace before whom, or the clerk of the court in which, judgment is rendered. If said money is not called for by the owner or owners thereof within six months, said justice or clerk shall pay the same to the county treasurer of his county for school purposes.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1208.

CHAPTER 60

FORECLOSURE OF MORTGAGES

5501. Judgment for amount due—Sale ordered—Land in two counties—Execution issued—Judgment for deficiency—Lien.

SEC. 559. There shall be but one action for the recovery of any debt, or for the enforcement of any right secured by mortgage or lien upon real estate, or personal property, which action shall be in accordance with the provisions of this chapter. In such action, the judgment shall be rendered for the amount found due the plaintiff, and the court shall have power, by its decree or judgment, to direct a sale of the encumbered property, or such part thereof as shall be necessary, and apply the proceeds of the sale to the payment of the costs and expenses of the sale, the costs of the suit, and the amount due to the plaintiff. If the land mortgaged consists of a single parcel, or two or more contiguous parcels, situated in two or more counties, the court may, in its judgment, direct the whole thereof to be sold in one of such counties by the sheriff, and upon such proceedings, and with like effect, as if the whole of the property were situated in that county. If it shall appear from the sheriff's return that there is a deficiency of such proceeds and balance still due to the plaintiff, the judgment shall then be docketed for such balance against the defendant or defendants personally liable for the debts, and shall, from the time of such docketing, be a lien upon the real estate of the judgment debtor, and an execution may thereupon be issued by the clerk of the court, in like manner and form as upon other judgments, to collect such balance or deficiency from the property of the judgment debtor.

Sale of corporate franchise, sec. 1152.

The mortgageor may contract to pay a counsel fee for the expense for enforcing the lien on the property mortgaged in case legal proceedings have to be taken, and such contract will be enforced to the extent of allowing a reasonable counsel fee. The courts will believe that to be reasonable for which the parties themselves contract, unless it be extravagantly large and apparently so made as to hold in terrorem over the mortgageor. Cox v. Smith, 1 Nev. 161, 172.

The allowance for a foreclosure suit should not always be the full amount mentioned in the mortgage, but a reasonable amount not exceeding that provided for. Idem.

The stipulation as to the amount of judgment does not preclude the court from entering the necessary decree to enforce the payment by sale of mortgaged property. Nosler v. Haynes, 2 Nev. 56.

This section confines the mortgagee to the pursuit of one remedy only. The action of ejectment is entirely forbidden. Nor can the action of debt be resorted to unless the mortgage lien be entirely abandoned. The remedy against the property is confined to the remedy of foreclosure and sale. Hyman v. Kelly, 1 Nev. 180, 184–188.

This section does not deprive the mortgagee of any portion of the relief which is usually granted in foreclosure suits where the sale of the property is sought. Idem.

In a suit to foreclose a mortgage there may be a good common-law judgment for the debt which cannot be enforced until the equitable remedy against the mortgaged property is exhausted. Weil v. Howard, 4 Nev. 384, 390–392.

This section limits the lien of a foreclosure judgment or decree, whatever its form, to the mortgaged property until it is exhausted; and there can be no judgment lien upon other property until a deficiency is duly ascertained and docketed. Idem.

5503. Proceedings, when debt secured falls due at different times.

SEC. 561. If the debt for which the mortgage, lien or incumbrance is held be not all due, so soon as sufficient of the property has been sold to pay the amount due, with costs, the sale shall cease; and afterwards, as often as more becomes due for principal or interest, the court may, on motion, order more to be sold. But if the property cannot be sold in portions without injury to the parties, the whole may be ordered to be sold in the first instance, and the entire debt and costs paid, there being a rebate of interest where such rebate is proper.

ACTIONS FOR NUISANCE, WASTE, ETC.

5504. Nuisance defined — Abatement of — Actions instituted, by whom.
5505. Action for waste.
5506. Trespass for cutting timber—Action for—Treble damages.
5507. Idem—Measure of damages.
5508. Forcible or unlawful entry—Treble damages.
5509. Manner of working mine—Damages, how assessed.
5510. Lien of judgment and continuation thereof.
5511. Survey may be applied for—Notice of application, and how served—Costs.
5512. Order may be made to allow party to survey and measure property.
5513. Idem—Order, what to contain, how served.

5504. Nuisance defined—Abatement of—Actions instituted, by whom.

SEC. 562. Anything which is injurious to health, or indecent and offensive to the senses, or an obstruction to the free use of property, so as to interfere with the comfortable enjoyment of life or property, is a nuisance, and the subject of an action. Such action may be brought by any person whose property is injuriously affected, or whose personal enjoyment is lessened by the nuisance; and by the judgment the nuisance may be enjoined or abated, as well as damages recovered.

Kerr, C. C. P., 731; see, also, secs. 3479 and 3480, Kerr's civil code.
Duty of officers to abate, sec. 1562.

To enable plaintiffs to maintain this action, it must be clearly shown that they have sustained, or will sustain, a special and peculiar injury, irreparable in its nature and different in kind from that sustained by the general public. Fogg v. N. C. O. R. R., 20 Nev. 429, 435 (23 P. 840).

The controlling principle, which gives the right of action to private individuals to abate a public nuisance, is the invasion, impairment, or destruction of a common right which they possess, independent, separate and distinct from the rights enjoyed by the general public. Idem.

If the facts alleged and proven constitute an injury to the health, or are indecent or offensive to the senses, or create an obstruction to the right of enjoyment and use of the property of individuals which is common to them, then the nuisance becomes to them a private nuisance, constituting a special and peculiar injury, distinct from that of the public, for which they can maintain an action. Idem.

The plaintiffs being the owners of separate and distinct town lots, having no common interest, the complaint is demurrable for misjoinder of parties. Idem.

In an action to abate and enjoin a nuisance only those persons should be made parties who would be liable to respond in damages. Bliss v. Grayson, 24 Nev. 422, 454, 455 (56 P. 231).

It is the right of both parties to insist that an easement remain substantially as it was at the time of its acquisition. Thomas v. Blaisdell, 25 Nev. 223, 228 (58 P. 903).

5505. Action for waste.

SEC. 563. If a guardian, tenant for life or years, joint tenant, or tenant in common of real property, commit waste thereon, any person aggrieved by the waste may bring an action against him therefor, in which action there may be judgment for treble damages.

Kerr, C. C. P., 732.

Waste is a permanent or lasting injury done, or permitted to be done, by the holder of a particular estate to the inheritance, or to the prejudice of any one who has an interest in the inheritance. Price v. Ward, 25 Nev. 203, 209, 214, 215 (46 L. R. A. 459, 58 P. 849).

An administrator, who takes land as assets by special provisions of law, has no such right, title or interest in and to the lands of his intestate in another state as will authorize him to sue to redeem from a mortgage thereon by setting off against the mortgage debt waste permitted by the mortgagee in possession after the death of the intestate, or to recover damages for waste or trespass on such lands. (Bonnifield, C. J. dissenting.) Idem.

5506. Trespass for cutting timber, action for—Treble damages.

SEC. 564. Any person who shall cut down or carry off any wood or underwood, tree or timber, or girdle or otherwise injure any tree or timber on the land of another person, or on the street or highway in front of any person's house, village or city lot, or cultivated grounds or on the commons or public grounds of any city or town, or on the street or highway in front thereof, without lawful authority, shall be liable to the owner of such land, or to such city or town, for treble the amount of damages which may be assessed therefor, in a civil action in any court having jurisdiction.

Kerr, C. C. P., 733.

See Price v. Ward, under sec. 563 of this act.

5507. Idem—Measure of damages.

SEC. 565. Nothing in the last section shall authorize the recovery of more than the just value of the timber taken from uncultivated wood land for the repair of a public highway or bridge upon the land, or adjoining it.

Kerr, C. C. P., 734.

5508. Forcible or unlawful entry—Treble damages.

SEC. 566. If a person recover damages for a forcible or unlawful entry in or upon, or detention of any building or any uncultivated real property, judgment may be entered for three times the amount at which the actual damages are assessed.

Kerr, C. C. P., 735.

5509. Manner of working mine—Damages, how assessed.

SEC. 567. Any person or persons, company or corporation, being the owner or owners of, or in possession under any lease or contract for the working of any mine or mines within the State of Nevada, shall have the right to institute and maintain an action for the recovery of any damages that may accrue by reason of the manner in which any mine or mines have been or are being worked and managed by any person or persons, company or corporation, who may be the owner or owners, or in possession of and working such mine or mines under a lease or contract, and to prevent the continuance of working and managing such mine or mines in such manner as to hinder, injure, or in any wise endanger the safety of any mine or mines adjacent or adjoining thereto. And any such owner of, or [person] in the possession of any mine or mining claim, who shall enter upon or into, in any manner, any mine or mining claim, the property of another, and mine, extract, excavate or carry away any valuable mineral therefrom, shall be liable to the owner or owners of any such mine or mines trespassed upon in the amount of the value of all such mineral mined, extracted, excavated or carried away, and for all other damages, and, in the absence of a showing to the contrary, the value of all such mineral mined, extracted, excavated or carried away shall be presumed to be twice the amount of the gross value of the same ascertained by an average assay of the excavated material or the ledge from which it was taken; and, provided, that if such trespass was made in bad faith, such damages may be trebled.

The act of 1861, 410, sec. 561, provided for the admission of proof of customs, usages and regulations established and enforced in the mining district and said section was cited in Smith v. N. Am. M. Co., 1 Nev. 424, 427, to the following effect: "Testimony as to mining customs may be introduced, however recent the date or short the duration of their establishment."

A statute, empowering a court of equity, on a proper showing, to order, in the absence of a pending suit, a survey of the boundaries and underground workings of adjacent mines, is not unconstitutional.

Equity has the inherent power to order, in a pending case, a survey of the boundaries and underground workings of mines constituting the subject-matter of the suit.

The court, in construing an ambiguous statute, may consider the law as it existed prior to the statute.

This section authorizes the owner or owners of any mine to sue for damages for improper mining by one in possession under a lease and for trespass to the mine, and providing for an application for an order for a survey of mines, and declaring that the costs of the order and survey shall be paid by the persons making the application unless they shall subsequently maintain an action and recover damages by reason of a trespass threatened prior to such survey, does not permit a survey of the boundaries and underground workings of adjacent mines unless there is a pending suit involving such mines.

Where a statute is equally susceptible of two constructions, the court will presume that the legislature did not intend a radical change in existing procedure, and will construe the statute in harmony therewith.

The word "maintain" in a statute in reference to actions comprehends the institution as well as the support of the action, though it may be used to express a meaning corresponding to its most restricted definition.

Where the same word is used in different parts of a statute, it will be presumed to be used in the same sense throughout, and, where its meaning in one instance is clear, such meaning will be attached to it elsewhere, unless it clearly appears that it was the intention of the legislature to use it in different senses. National Mines Co. v. District Court, 34 Nev. — (116 P. 996). Talbot J., dissenting.

5510. Lien of judgment and continuation thereof.

SEC. 568. Any judgment obtained for damages under the provisions of this act shall become a lien upon all the property of the judgment debtor or debtors, not exempt from execution, in the State of Nevada, owned by him, her, or them, or which may afterwards be acquired, as is now provided for by law, which lien shall continue two years, unless the judgment be sooner satisfied.

5511. Survey may be applied for—Notice of application, and how served—Costs.

or have been trespassing upon the mine or mines of the party complaining, or are working their mine in such manner as to damage or endanger the property of the affiant. Upon the filing of the affidavit as aforesaid, the court or judge shall cause a notice to be given to the party complained of, or the agent thereof, which notice shall state the time, place, and before whom the application will be heard, and shall cite the party to appear in not less than five or more than ten days from the date thereof, to show cause why an order of survey should not be granted; and upon good cause shown, the court or judge shall grant such order, directed to some competent surveyor or surveyors, or to some competent mechanics, or miners, or both, as the case may be who shall proceed to make the necessary examination as directed by the court and report the result and conclusions to the court, which report shall be filed with the clerk of said court. The costs of the order and survey shall be paid by the persons making the application, unless such parties shall subsequently maintain an action and recover damages, as provided for in section 567, by reason of a trespass or damage done or threatened prior to such survey or examination having been made, and in that case, such costs shall be taxed against the defendant as other costs in the suit. The parties obtaining such survey shall be liable for any unnecessary injury done to the property in the making of such survey.

See National Mines Co. v. District Court, under sec. 567 of this act.

5512. Order may be made to allow party to survey and measure property.

SEC. 570. The court in which an action is pending for the recovery of real property or for damages for an injury thereto, or a judge thereof, may, on motion, upon notice by either party for good cause shown, grant an order allowing to such party the right to enter upon the property and make survey and measurement thereof, for the purpose of the action, even though entry for such purpose has to be made through other lands belonging to parties to the action.

Kerr, C. C. P., 742.
See National Mines Co. v. District Court, under sec. 567 of this act.

5513. Idem—Order, what to contain, how served.

SEC. 571. The order shall describe the property, a copy thereof shall be served on the owner or occupant, and thereupon such party may enter upon the property with necessary surveyors and assistants, and may make such survey and measurements; but if any unnecessary injury be done to the property he shall be liable therefor.

Kerr, C. C. P., 743.
See National Mines Co. v. District Court, under sec. 567 of this act.

CHAPTER 62

ACTIONS TO QUIET TITLE, ETC.

5514. Action to quiet title, by whom brought.
5515. Costs not recoverable, when.
5516. Right terminated during action—What may be recovered—Verdict and judgment.
5517. Improvements allowed as set-off, when.
5518. Mortgage not deemed a conveyance.
5519. Court may enjoin inquiry to property during foreclosure.
5520. Damages may be recovered for injury to possession after sale and before delivery.
5521. Action not to be prejudiced by alienation pending suit.
5522. Action to determine adverse claims to real property, by whom and how brought.
5523. Idem—Summons, what to contain, how served — Unknown persons concluded by judgment.
5524. Idem—Judgment, when rendered, conclusive against whom—Proof or service of summons and filing lis pendens.
5525. Idem—Proceedings, how conducted, remedy cumulative.
5526. Adverse action on mining claim.

5514. Action to quiet title, by whom brought.

SEC. 572. An action may be brought by any person against another who claims an estate or interest in real property, adverse to him, for the purpose of determining such adverse claim.

Kerr, C. C. P., 738.

The action of ejectment is unknown to our system. Alford v. Dewin, 1 Nev. 207, 211, 212.

Tenants in common may maintain a joint action for possession of real estate. Idem.

This section does not restrict any pre-existing right or remedy, but seems to give, in some cases, a new and more extensive remedy. Low v. Staples, 2 Nev. 209, 213.

Before a court of equity will interfere to remove a cloud, they must be satisfied that the party seeking relief has the legal title. If the possession is held adversely, the court may properly refuse to act until the complainant has established his legal title by an action at law. Idem.

Cited, Four-Twenty M. Co. v. Bullion M. Co., 9 Nev. 248.

Under our practice the different forms of real actions are merged into one action in which both the right of possession and the right of property are tried. Sherman v. Dilley, 3 Nev. 26.

In an action to determine an adverse claim to land, a court cannot decree that defendant has no title or right to land in which plaintiff fails to show a possession or title in himself. Van Vliet v. Olin, 4 Nev. 95, 96 (97 A. D. 513).

The possession of real property is the base upon which an action to quiet title is founded, but it cannot be said that an admission or proof of the mere fact, which gives the right of action, establishes prima facie the cause of action. Blasdel v. Williams, 9 Nev. 161.

Burden of proof—Plaintiff must show adverse claim. Idem.

The statute gives the right of action to any person in possession irrespective of the mode by which possession has been acquired. Scorpion S. M. Co. v. Marsano, 10 Nev. 370, 378, 379.

In such actions it is not necessary for the plaintiff to set out specifically the character of the adverse claim of defendant; the burden of proof is upon the defendant, if he admits plaintiff's possession, or does not disclaim, to plead and prove a good title in himself. (Blasdel v. Williams, 9 Nev. 161, overruled.) Idem.

Where the findings of the court show that both parties were in possession of different portions of the same lode and the character of their possession is particularly defined, the party having the better right to the possession of the lode must prevail, and is entitled to maintain the action. Rose v. Richmond M. Co., 17 Nev. 26, 52, 56 (37 P. 1105, 114 U. S. 576).

Cited, Springer v. Clopath, 26 Nev. 191 (65 P. 804).

That defendant relied on a deed from a third person, who acknowledged the paramount title in plaintiff and that his possession was that of a tenant, and that defendant had no interest other than that obtained from the deed, authorizes a judgment for plaintiff. Reno B. Co. v. Packard, 31 Nev. 433, 442, 443 (103 P. 415).

5515. Costs not recoverable, when.

SEC. 573. If the defendant in such action disclaim in his answer any interest or estate in the property, or suffer judgment to be taken against him without answer, the plaintiff shall not recover costs.

Kerr, C. C. P., 739.

5516. Right terminated during action—What may be recovered—Verdict and judgment.

SEC. 574. In an action for the recovery of real property, where the plaintiff shows a right to recover at the time the action was commenced, but it appears that his right has terminated during the pendency of the action, the verdict and judgment shall be according to the fact, and the plaintiff may recover damages for withholding the property.

Kerr, C. C. P., 740.

Where parties having a joint right of action bring suit, and pending the litigation sever their interests, the suit will not abate. Alford v. Dewin, 1 Nev. 207, 213.

5517. Improvements allowed as set-off, when.

SEC. 575. When damages are claimed for withholding the property recovered, upon which permanent improvements have been made by a defendant or those under whom he claims, holding under color of title adversely to the claims of the plaintiff, in good faith, the value of such improvements shall be allowed as a set-off against such damages.

Kerr, C. C. P., 741.

5518. Mortgage not deemed a conveyance.

SEC. 576. A mortgage of real property shall not be deemed a conveyance, whatever its terms, so as to enable the owner of the mortgage to take possession of the real property without a foreclosure and sale.

Kerr, C. C. P., 744.

See Hyman v. Kelly, under sec. 559 of this act.

This section applies to mortgagees out of possession, and does not prevent the running of the statute of limitations before foreclosure in favor of a mortgagee in adverse possession under claim of title. Borden v. Clow, 21 Nev. 275, 277 (37 A. S. 511, 30 P. 821).

When a deed to real estate, absolute on its face, is given to secure a debt, and there is no agreement when such debt shall become due, the statute of limitations begins to run in favor of the grantee in possession immediately on the delivery of the deed. Idem.

Under the provision of this section a mortgage is not an alienation, but is a mere security for a debt. Orr v. Ulyatt, 23 Nev. 134, 140 (43 P. 916).

Cited, Price v. Ward, 25 Nev. 214 (46 L. R. A. 459, 58 P. 849).

A deed, absolute on its face, if clearly shown to have been given as security for a loan, will be treated as a mortgage in equity and a reconveyance to the debtor upon payment of the debt. Bingham v. Thompson, 4 Nev. 224; Saunders v. Stewart, 7 Nev. 200.

The proof necessary should be clear, satisfactory and convincing. Idem. Also Pierce v. Traver, 13 Nev. 526.

The doctrine upon which parol proof is received to show a conveyance absolute in form to be a mortgage or security for a loan, is that such evidence is received, not to contradict the instrument, but to prove an equity superior to it. Saunders v. Stewart, 7 Nev. 200.

The mere fact that property is conveyed for less than its real value is not, of itself, sufficient to authorize the court to declare a deed absolute upon its face to be a mortgage. Pierce v. Traver, 13 Nev. 526.

Where the circumstances show that a person in possession of real estate under a deed absolute on its face holds it only in fact as security for a debt, he will be compelled to account for the rents and profits. Cookes v. Culbertson, 9 Nev. 199.

Deed absolute upon its face, when a mortgage. Leahigh v. White, 8 Nev. 147.

An absolute deed made by the owner of property for the purpose of securing money due the third persons, with a written acknowledgment by the grantee that he holds it for that purpose, is a mortgage. First Nat. Bank v. Kreig, 21 Nev. 404 (32 P. 641).

5519. Court may enjoin injury to property during foreclosure.

SEC. 577. The court may by injunction, on good cause shown, restrain the party in possession from doing any act to the injury of real property during the foreclosure of a mortgage thereon; or after a sale on execution, before a conveyance.

Kerr, C. C. P., 745.

5520. Damages may be recovered for injury to possession after sale and before delivery.

SEC. 578. When real property shall have been sold on execution, the purchaser thereof, or any person who may have succeeded to his interest, may, after his estate becomes absolute, recover damages for injury to the property by the tenant in possession, after sale and before possession is delivered under the conveyance.

Kerr, C. C. P., 746.

5521. Action not to be prejudiced by alienation pending suit.

SEC. 579. An action for the recovery of real property against a person in possession cannot be prejudiced by an alienation made by such person, either before or after the commencement of the action.

Kerr, C. C. P., 747.

5522. Action to determine adverse claims to real property, by whom and how brought.

SEC. 580. An action may be brought to determine the adverse claims to and clouds upon title to real property by a person who, by himself, or by himself and his predecessors in interest, has been in the actual, exclusive and adverse possession of such property continuously for more than fifteen years prior to the filing of the complaint, claiming to own the same in fee, or by any other freehold estate, against the whole world, and who has by himself or his predecessors in interest, paid all taxes of every kind levied or assessed and due against the property during the period of five years next preceding the filing of the complaint. Said action shall be commenced by the filing of a verified complaint averring the matters above enumerated. The said complaint must include as defendants in such action, in addition to such persons as appear of record to have, all other persons who are known, or by the exercise of reasonable diligence could be known, to plaintiff to have some claim to an estate, interest, right, title, lien or cloud in or on the land described in the complaint adverse to plaintiff's ownership and may also include as defendants, any and all other persons, unknown, claiming any estate, right, title, interest, or lien in such lands, or cloud upon the title of plaintiff thereto, and the plaintiff may describe such unknown defendants in the complaint as follows: "Also all other persons unknown claiming any right, title, estate, lien or interest in the real property described in the complaint adverse to plaintiff's ownership, or any cloud upon plaintiff's title thereto." Within ten days after the filing of the complaint, plaintiff shall file or cause to be filed in the office of the county recorder of the county where the property is situated, a notice of the pendency of the action containing the matters required by section 79 of this act.

See Smith v. N. Am. M. Co., under sec. 567 of this act.

5523. Idem—Summons, what to contain, how served—Unknown persons concluded by judgment.

SEC. 581. Within one year after the filing of the complaint, as required by the preceding section, a summons must be issued, which shall contain in addition to other requirements, a description of the property described in the complaint. In said summons the said unknown defendants shall be designated as in the complaint. Within thirty days after the issuance of the summons, the plaintiff shall post or cause to be posted a copy thereof in a conspicuous place, on each separate parcel of the property described in the complaint, and each parcel of the land upon which a copy of said summons is posted shall be deemed to be in the possession of the court for all the purposes of and pending the determination of the action. All defendants residing in the State of Nevada whose place or places of residence is, or by the exercise of reasonable diligence can be, known to the plaintiff shall be served personally, except as otherwise provided by sections 84 and 85 of this act. After service on all such defendants has been made with the exception last above specified, the plaintiff or his agent or attorney shall make and file an affidavit wherein there shall be stated the names of the defendants who have been served personally, and the names of the defendants who reside out of the state and their places of residence if known to the affiant, and the names of the defendants residing in or out of the state whose places of residence are unknown to the affiant, or who resided within, but have departed from, the state, or cannot, after due diligence, be found within the state, or who conceal themselves to avoid service of summons, and thereupon the court or a judge thereof shall make an order directing the said summons to be served upon the defendants residing out of the state whose places of residence are known to the plaintiff or affiant, and upon the defendants residing in or out of the state whose places of residence are, after the exercise of due diligence unknown to the plaintiff or affiant, or who reside within, but have departed from the state, or cannot, after due diligence, be found within the state, or who conceal themselves to avoid service of summons, and upon all the unknown defendants as stated in the complaint and summons, by publication in some newspaper of general circulation printed and published in the county where the property is situated, and if there be no such paper in such county, then in some adjoining county, to be designated by the court or a judge thereof, which publication shall be for once a week for a period of six successive weeks. A copy of the summons and complaint, within ten days after the making of said order properly addressed to and with the postage thereon fully prepaid, shall be mailed to each of the defendants who reside out of the state, at their places of residence if known, and also to the defendants residing in or out of the state and whose places of residence or present whereabouts are unknown to plaintiff or affiant, addressed to them at the county-seat of the county where the action is commenced, and at their places of residence, if any, last known to the plaintiff. All such unknown persons so served shall have the same rights as are provided by law in cases of all other defendants named, upon whom service is made by publication or personally, and the action shall proceed against such unknown persons in the same manner as against the defendants who are named, upon whom service is made by publication or personally, and with like effect; and any such unknown person, who has or claims to have any right, title, estate, lien or interest in the said property, or cloud on the title thereto, adverse to plaintiff, at the time of the commencement of the action, who has been duly served as aforesaid, and anyone claiming title under him, shall be concluded by the judgment in such action as effectually as if the action had been brought against the said person by his or her name and personal service of process obtained, notwithstanding any such unknown person may be under legal disability. Service shall be deemed complete upon the completion of the publication.

5524. Idem—Judgment, when rendered, conclusive against whom—Proof of service of summons and filing lis pendens.

SEC. 582. When the summons has been served as provided in the preceding section and the time for answering has expired, the court shall proceed to hear the case as in other cases and shall have jurisdiction to examine into and determine the legality of plaintiff's title and of the title and claim of all the defendants and of all unknown persons, and to that end must not enter any judgment by default, but must in all cases require evidence of plaintiff's title and possession and receive such legal evidence as may be offered respecting the claims and title of any of the defendants and must thereafter direct judgment to be entered in accordance with the evidence and the law. The court, before proceeding to hear the case, must require proof to be made that the summons has been served and posted as hereinbefore directed and that the required notice of pendency of action has been filed. The judgment after it has become final shall be conclusive against all the persons named in the summons and complaint who have been served personally, or by publication, and against all unknown persons as stated in the complaint and summons who have been served by publication, but shall not be conclusive against the State of Nevada or the United States. Said judgment shall have the effect of a judgment in rem except as against the State of Nevada and the United States; and provided, further, that the said judgment shall not bind or be conclusive against any person claiming any recorded estate, title, right, possession or lien in or to the property under the plaintiff or his predecessors in interest, which claim, lien, estate, title, right or possession has arisen or been created by the plaintiff or his predecessors in interest within ten years prior to the filing of the complaint.

5525. Idem—Proceedings, how conducted, remedy cumulative.

SEC. 583. The remedy provided in the three preceding sections shall be construed as cumulative and not exclusive of any other remedy, form or right of action or proceeding now allowed by law.

5526. Adverse action on mining claim.

SEC. 584. In all actions brought to determine the right of possession of a mining claim, or metalliferous vein or lode, where an application has been made to the proper officers of the government of the United States by either of the parties to such action for a patent for said mining claim, vein, or lode, it shall only be necessary to confer jurisdiction on the court to try said action, and render a proper judgment therein, that it appear that an application for a patent for such mining claim, vein, or lode has been made, and that the parties to said action are claiming such mining claim, vein, or lode, or some part thereof, or the right of possession thereof.

See Smith v. N. Am. M. Co., under sec. 567 of this act.

The pendency of a contest in the land office, with respect to a mining claim, gives the district courts jurisdiction to determine the right of possession as between adverse claimants. Golden Fleece G. & S. M. Co. v. Cable Con. G. & S. M. Co., 12 Nev. 312.

Each party must prove his claim to the premises in dispute, and the better claim must prevail. Actual possession makes out a prima facie case for the contestant, and throws upon the defendant the burden of proving a superior right in himself. Idem.

Plaintiff may sustain this action without proving actual possession. A right to the possession is always necessary. Idem.

See, also, Rose v. Richmond, M. Co., 17 Nev. 25, 52, 54, 56 (37 P. 1105, 114 U. S. 576); Steele v. Gold Lead M. Co., 18 Nev. 81, 87 (1 P. 448).

CHAPTER 63

PARTITION

5527. Who may bring actions for partition—Partial partition.
5528. Interest of all parties must be set forth in complaint.
5529. Lienholders not of record need not be made parties.
5530. Plaintiff must file lis pendens.
5531. Summons must be directed to all parties interested in property.
5532. Unknown parties may be served by publication.
5533. Answer, what to contain.
5534. All rights may be determined in one action.
5535. Plaintiff must produce certificate of recorder showing no liens.
5536. Lienholders must be made parties or referee appointed.
5537. Lienholders must be notified to appear before referee.
5538. Court may order sale or partition.
5539. Partition, how made.
5540. Reports of referees.
5541. Court may set aside or affirm report—Judgment, conclusive, upon whom.
5542. Judgment not to affect tenants for years.
5543. Apportionment of counsel fees and expenses.
5544. Abstract of title in action for partition, cost of, when allowed.
5545. Abstract, how made and verified.
5546. Interest allowed on disbursements, when.
5547. Lien on individual interest, charge on, what.
5548. Estate for life or years, how set off.
5549. Proceeds of sale of incumbered property, how applied.
5550. Lien claimant holding other securities, may be required to first exhaust them.
5551. Proceeds of sale, how distributed.
5552. When paid into court, cause may be continued for determination of claims.
5553. Sales by referees, how made.
5554. Court must direct terms of sale or credit—Investment of purchase money.
5555. Referees may take securities for purchase money.
5556. Tenants, whose estate sold, to receive compensation.
5557. Idem—Court may fix compensation.
5558. Court must protect unknown tenants.
5559. Court must secure value of future interests.
5560. Terms and manner of sale must be made known.
5561. Who may not be purchasers.
5562. Referees must make report to court.
5563. Idem—If confirmed, conveyance may be executed.
5564. Proceeding if lienholder becomes purchaser.
5565. Conveyances must be recorded, are bar against parties.
5566. Proceeds belonging to unknown owners.
5567. Investment must be made in name of clerk.

5568. When interests of parties ascertained, securities to be taken in their names.
5569. Duties of clerk concerning investments.
5570. When unequal partition made, compensation to equalize.
5571. Share of infant paid to guardian.
5572. Share of insane persons to be received by guardian.
5573. Guardian may consent to partition without action and execute releases.
5574. Costs of partition—Lien and shares of parceners.
5575. Court may appoint single referee.
5576. Court may order referees to divide mining claims.
5577. Idem—Court may fix time for division.
5578. Idem—Division, how to be made by referees.
5579. Idem—Parties may unite for purposes of division—Order of court to govern.
5580. Portions sold at auction—Referees to mark off portions sold.
5581. Remainder of bids after first bidder, how marked off—Parties remaining to become owners of what.
5582. Report of referees, what to be returned with.
5583. Expenses of referees apportioned among parties.

5527. Who may bring actions for partition—Partial partition.

SEC. 585. When several persons hold and are in possession of real property, as joint tenants or as tenants in common, in which one or more of them have an estate of inheritance or for life, or lives, or for years, an action may be brought by one or more of such persons for a partial partition thereof according to the respective rights of the persons interested therein, and for a sale of such property or a part of it, if it appear that a partition cannot be made without great prejudice to the owners. Whenever from any cause it is, in the opinion of the court, impracticable or highly inconvenient to make a complete partition, in the first instance, among all the parties in interest, the court may first ascertain and determine the shares or interest respectively held by the original cotenants, and thereupon adjudge and cause a partition to be made, as if such original cotenants were the parties, and sole parties, in interest, and the only parties to the action and thereafter may proceed in like manner to adjudge and make partition separately of each share or portion so ascertained and allotted as between those claiming under the original tenant to whom the same shall have been so set apart, or may allow them to remain tenants in common thereof, as they may desire.

Kerr, C. C. P., 752, 760.

It is immaterial when a party in possession files his bill claiming that he is a tenant in common with others, asking for a division of the land, whether he shows that he has a legal title in common with the defendants, or only has an equitable title to the one-half of the land described. In either case he is entitled to substantially the same relief. Crosier v. McLaughlin, 1 Nev. 348.

The court will not only proceed to divide the land, but will, in a proper case, direct an accounting, and do equity in the case by making parties account for rents, etc. Dall v. Confidence Co., 3 Nev. 531.

When a bill is filed for a partition of realty, the court should not decree a sale except in those cases where a partition would manifestly be injurious to the interests of the cotenants. Idem.

A district court can order a partition to be made, but, it cannot itself make the partition except in the indirect mode of confirming the report of the referees appointed for the purpose of carrying out the order of partition. Dondero v. Van Sickle, 11 Nev. 389, 393.

When the court decides in favor of a partition being made, it should appoint referees and direct them to divide and mark out the land, including the improvements into parcels of equal value, instead of making the division into parcels of equal area. Idem.

A severance and removal of improvements, which are a part of the realty, from one parcel of land to another, in order to equalize their values, is not authorized by the statute, and would generally be injurious to the interest of the cotenants. Idem.

If the land cannot be divided into parcels of convenient shape and situation without throwing the valuable improvements into one tract, then, unless the value of the land in the other tract is greater than the one on which the improvements are situated, it should be increased in area until it is equal, quality and quantity considered, to the remaining tract, with the improvements included. Idem.

A person has not the right of a compulsory partition of property unless he has an estate in possession, one by virtue of which he is entitled to enjoy the present rents or the possession of the property as one of the cotenants thereof. Conter v. Herschel, 24 Nev. 152 (50 P. 851).

5528. Interest of all parties must be set forth in complaint.

SEC. 586. The interests of all persons in the property, whether such persons be known or unknown, shall be set forth in the complaint specifically and particularly, as far as known to the plaintiff; and if one or more of the parties, or the share or quantity of interest of any of the parties, be unknown to the plaintiff, or be uncertain or contingent, or the ownership of the inheritance depend upon an executory devise, or the remainder be a contingent remainder, so that such parties cannot be named, that fact shall be set forth in the complaint.

Kerr, C. C. P., 753.

5529. Lienholders not of record need not be made parties.

SEC. 587. No persons who have or claim any liens upon the property, by mortgage, judgment, or otherwise, need be made parties to the action, unless such liens be matters of record.

Kerr, C. C. P., 754.

5530. Plaintiff must file lis pendens.

SEC. 588. Immediately after filing the complaint, the plaintiff shall file with the recorder of the county in which the property is situated, a notice of the pendency of the action, containing the names of the parties so far as known, the object of the action, and a description of the property to be affected thereby. From the time of the filing it shall be deemed notice to all persons.

Kerr, C. C. P., 755.
Cited, State ex rel. N. T. G. & T. Co. v. Grimes, 29 Nev. 58.

5531. Summons must be directed to all parties interested in property.

SEC. 589. The summons shall be directed to all the joint tenants and tenants in common, and all persons having any interest in, or any liens of record by mortgage, judgment, or otherwise upon the property, or upon any particular portion thereof; and generally to all persons unknown who have or claim any interest in the property.

Kerr, C. C. P., 756.

5532. Unknown parties may be served by publication.

SEC. 590. If a party having a share or interest is unknown or any one of the known parties reside out of the state, or cannot be found therein and such fact is made to appear by affidavit, the summons may be served on such absent or unknown party by publication, as in other cases. When publication is made, the summons as published shall be accompanied by a brief description of the property which is the subject of the action.

Kerr, C. C. P., 757.

5533. Answer, what to contain.

SEC. 591. The defendants who have been personally served with the summons and a certified copy of the complaint, shall set forth in their answers, fully and particularly, the nature and extent of their interest in the property, and if such defendants claim a lien upon the property by mortgage, judgment, or otherwise, they shall state the amount and date of the same, and the amount remaining due thereon, and whether the amount has been secured in any other way or not; and if secured, the extent and nature of the security; or they shall be deemed to have waived their rights to such lien.

Kerr, C. C. P., 758.

5534. All rights may be determined in one action.

SEC. 592. The rights of the several parties, plaintiffs as well as defendants, may be put to issue, tried, and determined by such action; and when a sale of the premises is necessary, the title shall be ascertained by proof to the satisfaction of the court, before the judgment of sale shall be made; and where service of the complaint has been made by publication, like proof shall be required of the right of the absent or unknown parties before such judgment is rendered; except that where there are several unknown persons having an interest in the property, their rights may be considered together in the action, and not as between themselves.

Kerr, C. C. P., 759.

5535. Plaintiff must produce certificate of recorder showing no liens.

SEC. 593. The plaintiff shall produce to the court, on the hearing of the case, the certificate of the recorder of the county where the property is situated, showing whether there were or not any liens outstanding of record upon the property, or any part thereof, at the time of the commencement of the action.

5536. Lienholders must be made parties or referee appointed.

SEC. 594. If it shall appear to the court, by the certificate of the county recorder or county clerk, or by the sworn or verified statement of any person who may have examined or searched the records that there are outstanding liens or incumbrances of record upon such real property, or any part thereof, which existed and were of record at the time of the commencement of said action, and the persons holding such liens are not made parties to the action, the court shall either order such persons to be made parties to the action, by an amendment or supplemental complaint, or appoint a referee to ascertain whether or not such liens or incumbrances have been paid, or if not paid, what amount remains due thereon, and their order among the liens or incumbrances severally held by the said persons and the parties to said action, and whether the amount remaining due thereon has been secured in any manner, and if secured, the nature and extent of the security.

Kerr, C. C. P., 761.

5537. Lienholders must be notified to appear before referee.

SEC. 595. The plaintiff shall cause a notice to be served a reasonable time previous to the day for appearance before the referee appointed, as provided in the last section, on each person having outstanding liens of record who is not a party to the action, to appear before the referee at a specified time and place, to make proof, by his own affidavit or otherwise, of the true amount due or to become due, contingently or absolutely thereon. In case such person be absent, or his residence be unknown, service may be made by publication of notice to his agents, under the direction of the court, in such manner as may be proper. The report of the referee thereon shall be made to the court, and shall be confirmed, modified, or set aside and a new reference ordered, as the justice of the case may require.

Kerr, C. C. P., 762.

5538. Court may order sale or partition.

SEC. 596. If it be alleged in the complaint, and be established by evidence, or if it appear by the evidence without such allegation in the complaint, to the satisfaction of the court, that the property, or any part of it, is so situated that partition cannot be made without great prejudice to the owners, the court may order a sale thereof. Otherwise, upon the requisite proofs being made, it shall order a partition according to the respective rights of the parties, as ascertained by the court, and appoint three referees therefor; and shall designate the portion to remain undivided for the owners whose interests remain unknown, or are not ascertained.

Kerr, C. C. P., 763.

5539. Partition, how made.

SEC. 597. In making the partition, the referee shall divide the property and allot the several portions thereof to the respective parties, quality and quantity relatively considered, according to the respective rights of the parties, as determined by the court, designating the several portions by proper landmarks; and may employ a surveyor, with the necessary assistants, to aid them therein.

Kerr, C. C. P., 764.

5540. Report of referees.

SEC. 598. The referees shall make a report of their proceedings, specifying therein the manner of executing their trust, describing the property divided and the shares allotted to each party, with a particular description of each share.

Kerr, C. C. P., 765.

5541. Court may set aside or affirm report—Judgment, conclusive upon whom.

SEC. 599. The court may confirm, change, modify or set aside the report, and, if necessary, appoint new referees. Upon the report being confirmed, judgment shall be rendered that such partition be effectual forever, which judgment shall be binding and conclusive:

1. On all persons named as parties to the action, and their legal representatives, who have at the time any interest in the property divided, or any part thereof, as owners in fee, or as tenants for life, or for years, or as entitled to the reversion, remainder, or the inheritance of such property, or of any part thereof, after the determination of a particular estate therein, and who, by any contingency, may be entitled to a beneficial interest in the property, or who have an interest in any undivided share thereof as tenants for years, or for life.

2. On all persons interested in the property who may be unknown, to whom notice shall have been given of the action for partition by publication; and,

3. On all other persons claiming from such parties or persons, or either of them, and no judgment is invalidated by reason of the death of any party, after filing of the report of the referee and before final judgment or decree; but such judgment or decree is as conclusive against the heirs, legal representatives, or assigns of such decedent, as if it had been entered before his death.

Kerr, C. C. P., 766.

5542. Judgment not to affect tenants for years.

SEC. 600. But such judgment and partition shall not affect tenants for years less than ten, to the whole of the property which is the subject of the partition.

Kerr, C. C. P., 767.

5543. Apportionment of counsel fees and expenses.

SEC. 601. If it appear that other actions or proceedings have been necessarily prosecuted or defended by any one of the tenants in common, for the protection, confirmation, or perfecting of the title, or setting the boundaries, or making a survey or surveys of the estate partitioned, the court shall allow to the parties to the action, who have paid the expenses of such litigation or other proceedings, all the expenses necessarily incurred therein, except counsel fees, which shall have accrued to the common benefit of the other tenants in common, with interest thereon from the date of making the said expenditures, and in the same kind of money expended or paid, and the same must be pleaded and allowed by the court, and included in the final judgment, and shall be a lien upon the share of each tenant respectively, in proportion to his interest, and shall be enforced in the same manner as taxable costs of partition are taxed and collected.

Kerr, C. C. P., 798.

5544. Abstract of title in action for partition, cost of, when allowed.

SEC. 602. If it appears to the court that it was necessary to have made an abstract of the title to the property to be partitioned, and such abstract shall have been procured by the plaintiff, or if the plaintiff shall have failed to have the same made before the commencement of the action, and any one of the defendants shall have had such abstract afterward made, the cost of the abstract, with interest thereon from the time the same is subject to the inspection of the respective parties to the action, must be allowed and taxed. Whenever such abstract is procured by the plaintiff, before the commencement of the action, he must file with his complaint a notice that an abstract of the title has been made, and is subject to the inspection and use of all the parties to the action, designating therein where the abstract will be kept for inspection. But if the plaintiff shall have failed to procure such abstract before commencing the action, and any defendant shall procure the same to be made, he shall, as soon as he has directed it to be made, file a notice thereof in the action with the clerk of the court, stating who is making the same, and where it will be kept when finished. The court, or the judge thereof, may direct from time to time during the progress of the action, who shall have the custody of the abstract.

Kerr, C. C. P., 799.

5545. Abstract, how made and verified.

SEC. 603. The abstract mentioned in the last preceding section may be made by any competent searcher of records, and need not be certified by the recorder or other officer, but instead thereof it must be verified by the affidavit of the person making it, to the effect that he believes it to be correct; but the same may be corrected from time to time if found incorrect, under the direction of the court.

Kerr, C. C. P., 800.

5546. Interest allowed on disbursements, when.

SEC. 604. Whenever, during the progress of the action for partition, any disbursements shall have been made, under the direction of the court or the judge thereof, by a party thereto, interest must be allowed thereon from the time of making such disbursements.

Kerr, C. C. P., 801.

5547. Lien on individual interest, charge on, what.

SEC. 605. When a lien is on an undivided interest or estate of any of the parties, such lien, if a partition be made, shall thenceforth be a charge only on the share assigned to such party, but such share shall be first charged with its just proportion of the costs of the partition, in preference to such lien.

Kerr, C. C. P., 769.

5548. Estate for life or years, how set off.

SEC. 606. When a part of the property only is ordered to be sold, if there be an estate for life or years in an undivided share of the whole property, such estate may be set off in any part of the property not ordered to be sold.

Kerr, C. C. P., 770.

5549. Proceeds of sale of incumbered property, how applied.

SEC. 607. The proceeds of the sale of the incumbered property shall be applied, under the direction of the court, as follows:

1. To pay its just proportion of the general costs of the action.
2. To pay the costs of the reference.
3. To satisfy and cancel of record the several liens in their order of priority, by payment of the sums due and to become due; the amount due to be verified by affidavit at the time of payment.
4. The residue among the owners of the property sold, according to their respective shares therein.

Kerr, C. C. P., 771.

5550. Lien claimant holding other securities, may be required to first exhaust them.

SEC. 608. Whenever any party to an action who holds a lien upon the property, or any part thereof, has other securities for the payment of the amount of such lien, the court may, in its discretion, order such securities to be exhausted before a distribution of the proceeds of sale, or may order a just deduction to be made from the amount of the lien on the property on account thereof.

Kerr, C. C. P., 772.

5551. Proceeds of sale, how distributed.

SEC. 609. The proceeds of sale, and the securities taken by the referees, or any part thereof, shall be distributed by them to the persons entitled thereto, whenever the court so directs. But in case no direction be given all such proceeds and securities shall be paid into court, or deposited therein, or as directed by the court.

Kerr, C. C. P., 773.

5552. When paid into court, cause may be continued for determination of claims.

SEC. 610. When the proceeds of sales of any shares or parcels belonging to persons who are parties to the action, and who are known, are paid into court, the action may be continued as between such parties, for the determination of their respective claims thereto, which shall be ascertained and adjudged by the court. Further testimony may be taken in court, or by a referee at the discretion of the court, and the court may, if necessary, require such parties to present the facts or law in controversy, by pleadings, as in an original action.

Kerr, C. C. P., 774.

5553. Sales by referees, how made.

SEC. 611. All sales of real property, made by referees under this chapter, shall be made by public auction to the highest bidder, upon notice published in the manner required for the sale of real property on execution. The notice shall state terms of sale, and if the property or any part of it is to be sold subject to a prior estate, charge, or lien, that shall be stated in the notice.

Kerr, C. C. P., 775.
Cited, Dazet v. Landry, 21 Nev. 294 (30 P. 1064).

5554. Court must direct terms of sale or credit—Investment of purchase money.

SEC. 612. The court shall, in the order for sale, direct the terms of credit which may be allowed for the purchase money of any portion of the premises of which it may direct a sale on credit, and for that portion of which the purchase money is required, by the provisions hereinafter contained, to be invested for the benefit of unknown owners, infants, or parties out of the state.

Kerr, C. C. P., 776.
Cited, Dazet v. Landry, 21 Nev. 294 (30 P. 1064).

5555. Referees may take securities for purchase money.

SEC. 613. The referees may take separate mortgages and other securities for the whole or convenient portions of the purchase money, of such parts of the property as are directed by the court to be sold on credit, for the shares of any known owner of full age, in the name of such owner, and for the shares of an infant, in the name of the guardian of such infant, and for other shares, in the name of the clerk of the county and his successors in office.

Kerr, C. C. P., 777.

5556. Tenants, whose estate sold, to receive compensation.

SEC. 614. The person entitled to a tenancy for life or years, whose estate shall have been sold, shall be entitled to receive such sum as may be deemed a reasonable satisfaction for such estate, and which the person so entitled may consent to accept instead thereof, by an instrument in writing, filed with the clerk of the court. Upon the filing of such consent, the clerk shall enter the same in the minutes of the court.

Kerr, C. C. P., 778.

5557. Idem—Court may fix such compensation.

SEC. 615. If such consent be not given, filed and entered, as provided in the last section, at or before a judgment of sale is rendered, the court shall ascertain and determine what proportion of the proceeds of the sale, after deducting expenses, will be a just and reasonable sum to be allowed on account of such estate, and shall order the same to be paid to such party, or deposited in court for him, as the case may require.

Kerr, C. C. P., 779.

5558. Court must protect unknown tenants.

SEC. 616. If the person entitled to such estate for life or years be unknown, the court shall provide for the protection of their rights in the same manner, as far as may be, as if they were known and had appeared.

Kerr, C. C. P., 780.

5559. Court must secure value of future interests.

SEC. 617. In all cases of sales, when it appears that any person has a vested or contingent future right or estate in any of the property sold, the court shall ascertain and settle the proportional value of such contingent or vested right or estate, and shall direct such proportion of the sale to be invested, secured, or paid over, in such manner as to protect the rights and interests of the parties.

Kerr, C. C. P., 781.

5560. Terms and manner of sale must be made known.

SEC. 618. In all cases of sales of property, the terms shall be made known at the time; and if the premises consist of distinct farms or lots, they shall be sold separately.

Kerr, C. C. P., 782.
Cited, Dazet v. Landry, 21 Nev. 295 (30 P. 1064).

5561. Who may not be purchasers.

SEC. 619. Neither of the referees, nor any person for the benefit of either of them, shall be interested in any purchase; nor shall a guardian of an infant party be interested in the purchase of any real property, being the subject of the action, except for the benefit of the infant. All sales contrary to the provisions of this section shall be void.

Kerr, C. C. P., 783.

5562. Referees must make report to court.

SEC. 620. After completing a sale of the property, or any part thereof ordered to be sold, the referee shall report the same to the court, with a description of the different parcels of land sold to each purchaser, the name of the purchaser, the price paid or secured, the terms and conditions of the sale, and the securities, if any taken. The report shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the county where the property is situated.

Kerr, C. C. P., 784.

5563. Idem—If confirmed, conveyance may be executed.

SEC. 621. If the sale be confirmed by the court, an order shall be entered directing the referees to execute conveyances and take securities pursuant to such sale, which they are hereby authorized to do. Such order may also give directions to them respecting the disposition of the proceeds of the sale.

Kerr, C. C. P., 785.

5564. Proceeding if lienholder becomes purchaser.

SEC. 622. When a party entitled to a share of the property, or an incumbrancer entitled to have his lien paid out of the sale, becomes a purchaser, the referees may take his receipt for so much of the proceeds of the sale as belongs to him.

Kerr, C. C. P., 786.

5565. Conveyances must be recorded, are bar against parties.

SEC. 623. The conveyances shall be recorded in the county where the premises are situated, and shall be a bar against all persons interested in the property in any way, who shall have been named as parties in the action, and against all such parties and persons as were unknown if the summons has been served by publication, and against all persons claiming from them or either of them.

Kerr, C. C. P., 787.
Cited, State ex rel. N. T. G. & T. Co. v. Grimes, 29 Nev. 58.

5566. Proceeds belonging to unknown owners.

SEC. 624. When there are proceeds of a sale belonging to an unknown owner, or to a person without the state, who has no legal representative within it, the same shall be invested in securities or placed at interest for the benefit of the persons entitled thereto.

Kerr, C. C. P., 788.

5567. Investment must be made in name of clerk.

SEC. 625. When the security of the proceeds of the sale is taken, or when an investment of any such proceeds is made, it shall be done, except as herein otherwise provided, in the name of the clerk of the county where the papers are filed, and his successors in office, who shall hold the same for the use and benefit of the parties interested, subject to the order of the court.

Kerr, C. C. P., 789.

5568. When interests of parties ascertained, securities to be taken in their names.

SEC. 626. When security is taken by the referees on a sale, and the parties interested in such security, by an instrument in writing under their hands delivered to the referees, agree upon the shares and proportions to which they are respectively entitled; or when shares and proportions have been previously adjudged by the court, such securities shall be taken in the names of, and payable to, the parties respectively entitled thereto, and shall be delivered to such parties upon their receipt therefor. Such agreement and receipt shall be returned and filed with the clerk.

Kerr, C. C. P., 790.

5569. Duties of clerk concerning investments.

SEC. 627. The clerk in whose name a security is taken, or by whom an investment is made, and his successors in office, shall receive the interest and principal as it becomes due, and apply and invest the same as the court may direct, and shall file in his office all securities taken, and keep an account in a book provided and kept for that purpose in the clerk's office, free for inspection by all persons, of investments and moneys received by him thereon, and the disposition thereof.

Kerr, C. C. P., 791.

5570. When unequal partition made, compensation to equalize.

SEC. 628. When it appears that partition cannot be made equal between the parties, according to their respective rights, without prejudice to the rights and interest of some of them, and a partition be ordered by judgment, the court may adjudge compensation to be made by one party to another, on account of the inequality of partition. But such compensation shall not be required to be made to others by owners unknown, nor by infants, unless in case of an infant it appear that he has personal property sufficient for that purpose, and that his interests will be promoted thereby.

Kerr, C. C. P., 792.

5571. Share of infant paid to guardian.

SEC. 629. When the share of an infant is sold, the proceeds of the sale may be paid by the referee making the sale to his general guardian or the special guardian appointed for him in the action, upon giving the security required by law or directed by order of the court.

Kerr, C. C. P., 793.

5572. Share of insane persons to be received by guardian.

SEC. 630. The guardian who may be entitled to the custody and management of the estate of an insane person, or other person adjudged incapable of conducting his own affairs, whose interest in real property shall have been sold, may receive, in behalf of such person, his share of the proceeds of such real property, from the referee, on executing with sufficient sureties an undertaking approved by a judge of the court, that he will faithfully discharge the trust imposed in him, and will render a true and just account to the person entitled, or to his legal representatives.

Kerr, C. C. P., 794.

5573. Guardian may consent to partition without action and execute releases.

SEC. 631. The general guardian of an infant and the guardian entitled to the custody and management of the estate of an insane person, or other person adjudged incapable of conducting his own affairs, who is interested in real estate held in joint tenancy, or in common, or in any other manner so as to authorize his being made a party to an action for the partition thereof, may consent to a partition without action, and agree upon the share to be set off to such infant or other person entitled, and may execute a release in his behalf to the owners of the shares of the parts to which they may be respectively entitled, upon an order of the court.

Kerr, C. C. P., 795.

5574. Costs of partition—Lien on shares of parceners.

SEC. 632. The costs of partition, including fees of referees and other disbursements, shall be paid by the parties respectively entitled to share in the lands divided, in proportion to their respective interests therein, and may be included and specified in the judgment. In that case there shall be a lien on the several shares, and the judgment may be enforced by execution against such shares, and against other property held by the respective parties. When, however, a litigation arises between some of the parties only, the court may require the expenses of such litigation to be paid by the parties thereto, or any of them.

Kerr, C. C. P., 796.

5575. Court may appoint single referee.

SEC. 633. The court, with the consent of the parties, may appoint a single referee, instead of three referees, in the proceedings under the provisions of this chapter, and the single referee, when thus appointed, shall have all the powers and perform all the duties required of the three referees.

Kerr, C. C. P., 797.

5576. Court may order referees to divide mining claims.

SEC. 634. When the action is for partition of a mining claim among the tenants in common, joint tenants, coparceners or partners thereof, the court, upon good cause shown by any party or parties in interest, may, instead of ordering partition to be made in manner as hereinbefore provided, or a sale of the premises for cash, direct the referees to divide the claim in the manner hereinafter specified.

Cited, Dazet v. Landry, 21 Nev. 295 (30 P. 1064).

If any one or more of the cotenants files an affidavit showing that the sale of an entire mining claim would be injurious to him or them, the court must proceed to divide the claim as prescribed by statute. A sworn answer setting up the same matter is equivalent to the affidavit required. Dall v. Confidence S. M. Co., 3 Nev. 531, 533.

5577. Idem—Court may fix time for division.

SEC. 635. The court shall, in its order, or by a subsequent order made upon motion, fix the time for division of the claim by the referees, which shall not be less than twenty nor more than forty days from the day of making the order, except by consent of all the parties in interest who have appeared in the action.

5578. Idem—Division, how to be made by referees.

SEC. 636. On the day designated in the order, the referees shall go upon the claim to be divided, and proceed to make division of the same as hereinafter provided, and shall continue from day to day until the whole business is completed.

5579. Idem—Parties may unite for purposes of division—Order of court to govern.

SEC. 637. Two or more of the tenants in common, joint tenants, copartners, or parceners, may unite together for the purposes of such division, of which they shall give the referees written notice before they commence the business of division; and all who do not unite as aforesaid or give notice of separate action, shall, for the purposes of division, be deemed and held to have united. The referees in their action shall recognize those named in the order of the court, or their agents and attorneys in fact, duly appointed by instrument in writing, and acknowledged as in cases of conveyance of real estate, the guardian of an infant, and the guardian entitled to the custody and management of the estate of an insane person or other person adjudged incapable of conducting his own affairs, and as to the interest of each, shall be controlled entirely by the order of the court.

5580. Portions sold at auction—Referees to mark off portions sold.

SEC. 638. At the time and place of division, one of the referees to be selected by them shall, in the manner of public auction, offer to the party or parties who will take the least part or portion of said mining claim in proportion to the interest he or they may have therein, the privilege of first selecting the place at which his portion shall be located, and upon closing the bids the referees shall proceed to measure and mark off, by distinct metes and bounds, to the lowest bidder, his or their portion of said mining claim, at the place designated by them or him, according to the terms of his or their bid.

5581. Remainder of bids after first bidder, how marked off—Parties remaining, to become owners of what.

SEC. 639. When the referees have marked off and set apart the interest of the lowest bidder, as provided in the last section, they shall offer to the remaining parties the privilege of selection as in said section mentioned and described, and shall, upon closing the bids, proceed in the same manner to locate and mark off the portion of the lowest bidder, and shall thereafter continue in the same manner to receive bids and mark off the interest of the bidder or bidders until there shall remain but one party in interest, or parties united, forming one interest, as provided in section 637. The party or parties remaining shall become the owner or owners, as the case may be, of the entire claim not marked off and set apart to the other parties as hereinbefore provided, in proportion to their respective interests in the claim.

5582. Report of referees, what to be returned with.

SEC. 640. The referees shall return with their report in this act required to be made by them, the evidences of authority presented to them by persons other than the parties mentioned in the order of the court by which they claim the right to bid, or otherwise act, during the proceedings hereinbefore mentioned.

5583. Expenses of referees apportioned among parties.

SEC. 641. The expenses of the referees, including those of a surveyor and his assistant, when employed, shall be ascertained and allowed by the court, and the amount thereof, together with the fees allowed by law to the referees, shall be apportioned among the different parties to the action.

Kerr, C. C. P., 768.

CHAPTER 64

TERMINATION OF LIFE ESTATE

5584. Proceedings to determine—Notice—Order.

SEC. 642. If any person has died, or shall hereafter die, who at the time of his death, was the owner of a life estate which terminates by reason of his death, any person interested in the property, or in the title thereto, in which such life estate was held, may file in the district court of the county in which the property is situated, his verified petition, setting forth such facts, and thereupon and after such notice by publication or otherwise, as the court or judge may order, the court or judge shall hear such petition and the evidence offered in support thereof, and if upon such hearing it shall appear that such life estate of such deceased person absolutely terminated by reason of his death, the court or judge shall make an order to that effect, and thereupon a certified copy of such order may be recorded in the office of the county recorder.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1723; Utah, 3572.

CHAPTER 65

FORCIBLE ENTRY AND DETAINER

5585. Entry to be made only when legal and in peaceable manner.
5586. Forcible entry defined.
5587. Forcible detainer defined.
5588. Unlawful detainer defined.
5589. Tenant of agricultural lands may hold over if not notified.
5590. Tenant has similar remedies against subtenant.
5591. Notice to quit, how served.
5592. Only tenant and subtenant need be made defendants—Exception.
5593. Complaint and summons, what to contain—Service.
5594. Issue of fact tried by jury unless waived.
5595. Proof required of respective parties—What possession a bar.
5596. Amendments to conform to proof—Effect.
5597. Adjournment, when may be made and for how long.
5598. Idem—No adjournment when admission that evidence would be given.
5599. Judgment—Restitution—Rent—Treble damages—Stay of execution.
5600. Pleadings verified.
5601. Appeal within ten days—Undertaking—Stay.
5602. Court not to dismiss or quash proceedings for want of form.
5603. Civil procedure applicable.
5604. Jurisdiction.
5605. Writ of restitution—Form of.

5585. Entry to be made only when legal and in peaceable manner.

SEC. 643. No entry shall be made into any lands, tenements, or other possessions, but in cases where entry is given by law; and in such case, only in a peaceable manner, not with strong hand, nor with multitude of people.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1159.
See sec. 6300.

Forcible entry is a misdemeanor under Stats. 1861, 56, sec. 151, providing that "offenses recognized by the common law and not herein enumerated shall be punished." Ex Parte Webb, 24 Nev. 241 (51 P. 1027).

A demand of possession must be made by the landlord before bringing suit against his tenant for holding over. Such demand is indispensable, and is as necessary to be made before suit as that the relation of landlord and tenant should exist. Paul v. Armstrong, 1 Nev. 82, 94, 99, 100, 137.

Our statute does not require a demand for rent to be made on the premises at a late hour of the day the same falls due in order to produce a forfeiture of the premises rented. The only demand required is the written demand for the money, which must be made after the rent has been three days due. Hoopes v. Meyer, 1 Nev. 433, 437, 440, 442.

When rent is fixed at a certain rate for a definite period, an agreement without consideration to reduce the rent during that period is void. Idem.

Every entry into lands or tenements in the actual possession of another, with strong hand, or with multitude of people, is forcible. Lachman v. Barnett, 18 Nev. 271 (3 P. 38).

A justice of the peace has no jurisdiction of an action for forcible entry and unlawful detainer. Strozzi v. Wines, 24 Nev. 389, 396, 397 (55 P. 828); Peacock v. Leonard, 8 Nev. 84.

5586. Forcible entry defined.

SEC. 644. Every person is guilty of a forcible entry who either:

1. By breaking open doors, windows, or other parts of a house, or by fraud, intimidation, or stealth, or by any kind of violence or circumstance of terror, enters upon or into any real property; or,

2. Who, after entering peaceably upon real property, turns out by force, threats, or menacing conduct, the party in natural possession.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1159; Utah, 3573.

5587. Forcible detainer defined.

SEC. 645. Every person is guilty of a forcible detainer who either:

1. By force, or by menaces or threats of violence, unlawfully holds and keeps the possession of any real property, whether the same was acquired peaceably or otherwise; or,

2. Who in the nighttime, or during the absence of the occupant of any real property, unlawfully enters thereon, and who, after demand made for the surrender thereof, refuses for the period of three days to surrender the same to such former occupant. The occupant of real property within the meaning of this subdivision is one who, within five days preceding such unlawful entry, was in the peaceable and undisturbed possession of such lands.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1160; Utah, 3574.

5588. Unlawful detainer defined.

SEC. 646. A tenant of real property, for a term less than life, is guilty of an unlawful detainer:

1. Where he continues in possession, in person or by subtenant, of the property or any part thereof, after the expiration of the term for which it is let to him. In all cases where real property is leased for a specified term or period, or by express or implied contract, whether written or parol, the tenancy shall be terminated without notice at the expiration of such specified term or period; or,

2. When, having leased real property for an indefinite time, without monthly or other periodic rent reserved, he continues in possession thereof, in person or by subtenant, after the end of any such month or period, in cases where the landlord, fifteen days or more prior to the end of such month or period, shall have served notice requiring him to quit the premises at the expiration of such month or period; or, in cases of tenancy at will where he remains in possession of such premises after the expiration of a notice of not less than five days.

3. When he continues in possession, in person or by subtenant, after default in the payment of any rent and after a notice in writing requiring in the alternative the payment of the rent or the surrender of the detained premises, shall have remained uncomplied with for the period of three days after service thereof. Such notice may be served at any time after the rent becomes due.

4. When he assigns or sublets the leased premises contrary to the covenants of the lease, or commits or permits waste thereon, or when he sets up or carries on therein or thereon any unlawful business, or when he suffers, permits, or maintains on or about said premises any nuisance, and remains in possession after service upon him of three days' notice to quit.

5. When he continues in possession, in person or by subtenant, after a neglect or failure to perform any condition or covenant of the lease or agreement under which the property is held, other than those hereinbefore mentioned, and after notice, in writing, requiring in the alternative the performance of such condition or covenant, or the surrender of the property, served upon him, and, if there be a subtenant in actual occupation of the premises, also upon such subtenant, shall remain uncomplied with for five days after the service thereof. Within three days after the service, the tenant, or any subtenant in actual occupation of the premises, or any mortgagee of the term, or other person, interested in its continuance, may perform such condition or covenant and thereby save the lease from forfeiture; provided, that if the covenants and conditions of the lease, violated by the lessee, cannot afterwards be performed, then no notice as last prescribed herein need be given.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1161; Utah, 3575; Wash. (1896), 4776.

See Paul v. Armstrong, 1 Nev. 96, under sec. 643 of this act; Hoopes v. Meyer, 1 Nev. 433, under same section.

A justice court has jurisdiction to render judgment for plaintiff for the restitution of real estate or rent due, and for damages for deprivation of the premises, where defendant in his answer admits the execution of the lease and the payment of rent under it, as such admission establishes the relation of landlord and tenant. Fitchett v. Henley, 31 Nev. 326, 332 (102 P. 86).

Where a tenant under a lease for a term less than a year holds over with the consent of his landlord, a new tenancy for a like term is created. Fitton v. Hamilton, 6 Nev. 196, 202.

5589. Tenant of agricultural lands may hold over if not notified.

SEC. 647. In all cases of tenancy upon agricultural land where the tenant has held over and retained possession for more than sixty days after the expiration of his term, without any demand of possession or notice to quit by the landlord, or the successor in estate of his landlord, if any there be, he shall be deemed to be holding by permission of the landlord or the successor in the estate of his landlord, if any there be, and shall be entitled to hold under the terms of the lease for another full year, and shall not be guilty of an unlawful detainer during said year, and such holding over for the period aforesaid shall be taken and construed as a consent on the part of the tenant to hold for another year.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1161; Utah, 3576.

5590. Tenant has similar remedies against subtenant.

SEC. 648. A tenant may take proceedings similar to those prescribed in this chapter, to obtain possession of the premises let to any undertenant, in case of his unlawful detention of the premises underlet to him.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1161; Utah, 3577.

5591. Notice to quit, how served.

SEC. 649. The notices required by the preceding sections may be served, either:

1. By delivering a copy to the tenant personally; or,

2. If he is absent from his place of residence, or from his usual place of business, by leaving a copy with some person of suitable age and discretion at either place, and sending a copy through the mail addressed to the tenant at his place of residence or place of business; or,

3. If such place of residence or business cannot be ascertained, or a person of suitable age or discretion cannot be found there, then by fixing a copy in a conspicuous place on the leased property, and also delivering a copy to a person there residing, if such person can be found, and also sending a copy through the mail addressed to the tenant at the place where the leased property is situated. Service upon a subtenant may be made in the same manner.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1162; Utah, 3578.

5592. Only tenant and subtenant need be made defendants—Exception.

SEC. 650. No person other than the tenant of the premises and the subtenant if there be one in actual occupation of the premises when the action is commenced, need be made parties defendant in the proceeding, nor shall any proceeding abate, nor the plaintiff be nonsuited for the nonjoinder of any person who might have been made a party defendant; but when it appears that any of the parties served with process or appearing in the proceeding are guilty of the offense charged, judgment must be rendered against him. In case a person has become subtenant of the premises in controversy after the service of any notice in this chapter provided for, the fact that such notice was not served on such subtenant shall constitute no defense to the action. All persons who enter under the tenant, after the commencement of the action hereunder, shall be bound by the judgment the same as if they had been made parties to the action.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1164; Wash. (1896), 4780; Utah, 3579.

5593. Complaint and summons, what to contain—Service.

SEC. 651. The plaintiff in his complaint, which shall be in writing, must set forth the facts on which he seeks to recover, and describes the premises with reasonable certainty, and may set forth therein any circumstances of fraud, force, or violence which may have accompanied the alleged forcible entry, or forcible or unlawful detainer, and claim damages therefor, or compensation for the occupation of the premises or both. In case the unlawful detainer charged be after default in the payment of rent, the complaint must state the amount of such rent. The summons shall be issued and served as in other cases, but the court, judge or justice of the peace may shorten the time within which the defendant shall be required to appear and defend the action, in which case the officer or person serving the summons shall change the prescribed form thereof to conform to the time of service as ordered; provided, that where publication is necessary the court shall direct publication for a period of not less than one week.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1166; Wash. (1896), 4781; Utah, 3580.

5594. Issue of fact tried by jury unless waived.

SEC. 652. Whenever an issue of fact is presented by the pleadings, it must be tried by a jury, unless such jury be waived as in other cases.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1171; Utah, 3581.

5595. Proof required of respective parties—What possession a bar.

SEC. 653. On the trial of any proceeding for any forcible entry or forcible detainer, the plaintiff shall only be required to show, in addition to the forcible entry or forcible detainer complained of, that he was peaceably in the actual possession at the time of the forcible entry, or was entitled to possession at the time of the forcible detainer. The defendant may show in his defense that he or his ancestors, or those whose interest in such premises he claims, have been in the quiet possession thereof for the space of one whole year together next before the commencement of the proceedings, and that his interest therein is not then ended or determined; and such showing is a bar to the proceedings.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1172; Utah, 3582.

See Lachman v. Barnett, under sec. 643 of this act.

The expression that a tenant can only excuse himself from paying rent when evicted by paramount title, means that he can only excuse himself when he is kept out of possession by one who has a legal right to do so, and not a mere trespasser against whom he has his remedy. Hoopes v. Meyer, 1 Nev. 433, 441.

5596. Amendments to conform to proof—Effect.

SEC. 654. When, upon the trial of any proceeding under this chapter, it appears from the evidence that the defendant has been guilty of either a forcible entry or forcible or unlawful detainer, and other than the offense charged in the complaint, the judge must order that such complaint be forthwith amended to conform to such proofs. Such amendment must be without any imposition of terms. No continuance must be permitted upon account of such amendment, unless the defendant, by affidavit filed, shows, to the satisfaction of the court, good cause therefor.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1173; Utah, 3583.

5597. Adjournment, when may be made and for how long.

SEC. 655. The court or justice of the peace may for good cause shown adjourn the trial of any cause under this chapter, not exceeding five days; and when the defendant, his agent or attorney, shall make oath that he cannot safely proceed to trial, for want of some material witness, naming him, stating the evidence that he expects to obtain, showing that he has used due diligence to obtain such witness, and believes that if an adjournment be allowed he will be able to procure the attendance of such witness, or his deposition, in time to produce the same upon the trial; in which case, if such person or persons will give bond, with one or more sufficient sureties, conditioned to pay the said complainant for all rent that may accrue during the pending of such suit, and all costs and damages consequent upon such adjournment, the court or justice of the peace shall adjourn said cause for such reasonable time as may appear necessary, not exceeding thirty days.

5598. Idem—No adjournment when admission that evidence would be given.

SEC. 656. If the complainant admit that the evidence stated in the affidavit mentioned in the last preceding section would be given by such witness, and agree that it be considered as actually given on the trial, or offered and overruled as improper, the trial shall not be adjourned.

5599. Judgment—Restitution—Rent—Treble damages—Stay of execution.

SEC. 657. If, upon the trial, the verdict of the jury, or, if the case be tried without a jury, the finding of the court, be in favor of the plaintiff and against the defendant, judgment shall be entered for the restitution of the premises; and, if the proceeding be for unlawful detainer after neglect or failure to perform any condition or covenant of the lease or agreement under which the property is held, or after default in the payment of rent, the judgment shall also declare the forfeiture of such lease or agreement. The jury, or the court if the proceeding be tried without a jury, shall also assess the damages occasioned to the plaintiff by any forcible entry, or by any forcible or unlawful detainer, and any amount found due the plaintiff by reason of waste of the premises by the defendant during the tenancy, alleged in the complaint and proved on the trial, and find the amount of any rent due, if the alleged unlawful detainer be after default in the payment of rent; and the judgment shall be rendered against the defendant guilty of the forcible entry, or forcible or unlawful detainer, for the rent and for three times the amount of the damages thus assessed. When the proceeding is for an unlawful detainer after default in the payment of the rent, and the lease or agreement under which the rent is payable has not by its terms expired, execution upon the judgment shall not be issued until the expiration of five days after the entry of the judgment, within which time the tenant, or any subtenant, or any mortgagee of the term, or other party interested in its continuance, may pay into court for the landlord the amount of the judgment and costs, and thereupon the judgment shall be satisfied, and the tenant be restored to his estate; but if payment, as herein provided, be not made within the five days, the judgment may be enforced for its full amount, and for the possession of the premises. In all other cases the judgment may be enforced immediately.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1174; Utah, 3584.
As to treble damages, see Hoopes v. Meyer, 1 Nev. 441, 448.

5600. Pleadings verified.

SEC. 658. The complaint and answer must be verified.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1175; Utah, 3585.

5601. Appeal within ten days—Undertaking—Stay.

SEC. 659. Either party may, within ten days, appeal from the judgment rendered. But an appeal by the defendant shall not stay the execution of the judgment, unless, within said ten days, he shall execute and file with the court or justice his undertaking to the plaintiff, with two or more sureties, in an amount to be fixed by the court or justice, but which shall not be less than twice the amount of the judgment and costs, to the effect that, if the judgment appealed from be affirmed or the appeal be dismissed, the appellant will pay the judgment and the cost of appeal, the value of the use and occupation of the property, and damages justly accruing to the plaintiff during the pendency of the appeal. Upon taking the appeal and filing the undertaking, all further proceedings in the case shall be stayed.

Kerr, C. C. P., 978; Utah, 3586.

5602. Court not to dismiss or quash proceedings for want of form.

SEC. 660. In all cases of appeal under this chapter, the appellate court shall not dismiss or quash the proceedings for want of form; provided, the proceedings have been conducted substantially according to the provisions of this chapter; and amendments to the complaint, answer, or summons, in matters of form only, may be allowed by the court, at any time before final judgment, upon such terms as may be just; and all matters of excuse, justification, or avoidance of the allegations in the complaint, may be given in evidence under the answer.

5603. Civil procedure applicable.

SEC. 661. The provisions of this act, relative to civil actions, appeals, and new trials, so far as they are not inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter, apply to the proceedings mentioned in this chapter.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1177; Utah, 3587.

5604. Jurisdiction.

SEC. 662. Any justice of the proper county shall have jurisdiction concurring with the district courts of all actions for the possession of lands and tenements where the relation of landlord and tenant exists, or when such possession has been unlawfully or fraudulently obtained or withheld.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1163.
See Const., sec. 323.

5605. Writ of restitution—Form of.

SEC. 663. The writ of restitution issued by a justice of the peace shall be substantially in the following form: The State of Nevada to the sheriff or constable of the county of....., greeting: Whereas, A. B., of the county of.....at a court of inquiry of an unlawful holding over of lands, tenements, and other possessions, held at my office (stating the place), in the county aforesaid, on the.....day of....., A. D....., before me, a justice of the peace for the county aforesaid, by the consideration of the court, has recovered judgment against C. D., to have restitution of (here describe the premises as in the complaint). You are therefore commanded, that taking with you the force of the county, if necessary, you cause the said C. D. to be immediately removed from the aforesaid premises, and the said A. B. to have peaceable restitution of the same; and you are also commanded that of the goods and chattels of the said C. D., within said county, you cause to be made the sum of.....dollars for the said plaintiff, together with the costs of suit indorsed hereon, and make return hereof within thirty days from this date. Given under my hand, this.....day of....., A. D..... E. F., justice of the peace.

CHAPTER 66

EMINENT DOMAIN

5606. May be exercised in behalf of what uses.
5607. Estates and rights subject to condemnation.
5608. Property subject to condemnation.
5609. Conditions precedent to condemnation.
5610. Right to enter to make survey—Damage.
5611. Jurisdiction in district court—Complaint verified.
5612. Contents of complaint.
5613. All parties in interest may appear.
5614. Power of the court.
5615. Occupancy of premises pending action—Notice—Hearing proof—Bond—Restraining order.
5615. Damages, how assessed.
5617. Damages deemed accrued at date of service.

5618. Action begun anew where defendant's title defective.
5619. Damages to be paid within thirty days —Bond for railroad fence.
5620. Idem—To whom paid—Execution if not paid—Annulling proceedings.
5621. Final order made upon payment—Recording same.
5622. Authorizing occupancy by plaintiff—Deposit—Payment—Effect.
5623. Apportionment of costs.
5624. Procedure applicable.
5625. Rights of cities and towns not affected.
5626. Crossings to be made and kept in repair.
5627. Condemnation by railroad companies.
5628. When two railroad companies may have right over same territory—Change and expense of reconstruction of way or road.
5629. Right may be exercised by foreign corporations.

5606. May be exercised in behalf of what uses.

SEC. 664. Subject to the provisions of this chapter, the right of eminent domain may be exercised in behalf of the following public uses:

1. All public uses authorized by the government of the United States.

2. Public buildings and grounds for the use of the state, and all other public uses authorized by the legislature.

3. Public buildings and grounds for the use of any county, incorporated city or town, or school district; reservoirs, water rights, canals, aqueducts, flumes, ditches or pipes for conducting water for the use of the inhabitants of any county, or incorporated city or town, or for draining any county, or incorporated city or town; for raising the banks of streams, removing obstructions therefrom, and widening, deepening, or straightening their channels; for roads, streets, and alleys, and all other public uses for the benefit of any county, incorporated city or town, or the inhabitants thereof.

4. Wharves, docks, piers, chutes, booms, ferries, bridges, toll roads, by-roads, plank and turnpike roads, roads for transportation by traction engines or road locomotives, roads for logging or lumbering purposes, and railroads and street railways for public transportation.

5. Reservoirs, dams, water-gates, canals, ditches, flumes, tunnels, aqueducts, and pipes for supplying persons, mines, mills, smelters, or other works, for the reduction of ores, with water for domestic and other uses, or for irrigating purposes, or for draining and reclaiming lands, or for floating logs and lumber on streams not navigable.

6. Roads, railroads, tramways, tunnels, ditches, flumes, pipes and dumping places to facilitate the milling, smelting, or other reduction of ores, or the working of mines, and for all mining purposes; outlets, natural or otherwise, for the deposit or conduct of tailings, refuse, or water from mills, smelters or other works for the reduction of ores, or from mines, mill dams, natural gas or oil pipe lines, tanks, or reservoirs; also an occupancy in common by the owners or possessors of different mines, mills, smelters or other places for the reduction of ores, of any place for the flow, deposit or conduct of tailings or refuse matter; also necessary land upon which to erect smelters and to operate the same successfully, including deposition of fine flue dust, fumes and smoke.

7. By-roads leading from highways to residences and farms.

8. Telegraph, telephone, electric light, and electric power lines, and sites for electric light and power plants.

9. Sewerage of any city, or town, or of any settlement of not less than ten families, or of any public building belonging to the state, or of any college or university.

10. Canals, reservoirs, dams, ditches, flumes, aqueducts, and pipes for supplying and storing water for the operation of machinery for the purpose of generating and transmitting electricity for power, light or heat.

11. Cemeteries or public parks.

12. Pipe lines for the purpose of conducting any and all liquids connected with the manufacture of beet sugar.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1238; Utah, 3588.

The act of 1875, 111, whereby the mining, smelting or other reduction of ores was declared a public use, and the exercise of the right of eminent domain granted therefor, has had the following citations:

The said act declared constitutional. Dayton G. & S. M. Co. v. Seawell, 11 Nev. 394–399; Overman S. M. Co. v. Corcoran, 15 Nev. 147, 150.

When the legislative power of appropriation of the private property of a citizen is attempted to be exercised, the true test of its validity is whether or not the use for which the property is to be appropriated is a "public use" within the meaning of Const., sec. 237, ante. Idem.

The declaration of a "public use" by the legislature is not conclusive upon the courts. Idem.

Any appropriation of private property under the right of eminent domain for any purpose of great public benefit, interest or advantage to the community, is a taking for a public use. Idem.

The object for which private property is to be taken must not only be of great public benefit and for the paramount interests of the community, but the necessity must exist for the exercise of the right of eminent domain. Idem.

Condemnation of land, what held to be a necessity for. Overman S. M. Co. v. Corcoran, 15 Nev. 147, 150.

In an action of ejectment, condemnation proceedings for the premises in dispute which are still pending is a defense to the action. Byrnes v. Douglass, 23 Nev. 83, 86 (42 P. 798).

The petition for condemnation gave the court jurisdiction to make the order, and, even if erroneous, is not open to collateral attack. Idem.

It is the averments of the petition, and not proof of them, that confers jurisdiction. Idem.

Cited, Ex Parte Boyce, 27 Nev. 331 (65 L. R. A. 47, 75 P. 1).

5607. Estates and rights subject to condemnation.

SEC. 665. The following is a classification of the estates and rights in lands subject to be taken for public use:

1. A fee simple, when taken for public buildings or grounds or for permanent buildings, for reservoirs and dams, and permanent flooding occasioned thereby, or for an outlet for a flow, or a place for the deposit of debris or tailings of a mine, mill, smelter, or other place for the reduction of ores.

2. An easement, when taken for any other use.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1239; Utah, 3589.

5608. Property subject to condemnation.

SEC. 666. The private property which may be taken under this chapter includes:

1. All real property belonging to any person, company or corporation.

2. Lands belonging to the state, or to any county, or incorporated city or town, not appropriated to some public use.

3. Property appropriated to public use; provided, that such property shall not be taken unless for a more necessary public use than that to which it has been already appropriated.

4. Franchises for toll roads, toll bridges, ferries, and all other franchises; provided, that such franchises shall not be taken unless for free highways, railroads, or other more necessary public use.

5. All rights of way for any and all purposes mentioned in section 664, and any and all structures and improvements thereon, and the lands held or used in connection therewith, shall be subject to be connected with, crossed, or intersected by any other right of way or improvement or structure thereon. They shall also be subject to a limited use in common with the owner thereof, when necessary; but such uses of crossings, intersections, and connections shall be made in the manner most compatible with the greatest public benefit and the least private injury.

6. All classes of private property not enumerated may be taken for public use when such taking is authorized by law.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1240; Utah, 3590.

5609. Conditions precedent to condemnation.

SEC. 667. Before property can be taken it must appear:

1. That the use to which it is to be applied is a use authorized by law.

2. That the taking is necessary to such use.
3. If already appropriated to some public use, that the public use to which it is to be applied is a more necessary public use.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1241; Utah, 3591.

5610. Right to enter to make survey—Damage.

SEC. 668. In all cases where land is required for public use, the person or corporation or its agents in charge of such use, may survey and locate the same; but it must be located in the manner which will be most compatible with the greatest public good and the least private injury, and subject to the provisions of this chapter. The person or corporation or his or its agents in charge of such public use, may enter upon the land and make examinations, surveys, and maps thereof, and such entry shall constitute no cause of action in favor of the owners of the lands, except for actual damages sustained and all injuries resulting from negligence, wantonness, or malice.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1242; Utah, 3592.

5611. Jurisdiction in district court—Complaint verified.

SEC. 669. All proceedings under this chapter must be brought in the district court for the county in which the property or some part thereof is situated. The complaint in such cases must be verified, and the party instituting any such proceedings shall file with the recorder of each county in which any of the property is situated a notice of the pendency of the action.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1243; Utah, 3593.

5612. Contents of complaint.

SEC. 670. The complaint must contain:

1. The name of the court in which the action is commenced.
2. The name of the corporation, association, commission, or person in charge of the public use for which the property is sought, who must be styled plaintiff.
3. The names of all owners, occupants and claimants of the property, if known, or a statement that they are unknown, who must be styled defendants.
4. A statement of the right of the plaintiff.
5. If a right of way be sought, the complaint must show the location, general route, and termini, and must be accompanied with a map thereof, so far as the same is involved in the action or proceeding.
6. A description of each piece of land sought to be taken, and whether the same includes the whole or only part of an entire parcel or tract. All parcels lying in the county and required for the same public use may be included in the same or separate proceedings, at the option of the plaintiff, but the court may consolidate or separate them to suit the convenience of parties; provided, however, that each defendant, at his option, may have a separate trial.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1244; Utah, 3594.

5613. All parties in interest may appear.

SEC. 671. All persons in occupation of, or having or claiming an interest in, any of the property described in the complaint, or in the damages for the taking thereof, though not named, may appear, plead, and defend, each in respect to his own property or interest, or that claimed by him, in like manner as if named in the complaint.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1246; Utah, 3595.

5614. Power of the court.

SEC. 672. The court or judge thereof shall have power:

1. To determine the conditions specified in section 667; to determine the places of making connections, crossings, cattle guards and culverts, and to regulate the manner thereof, and of enjoying the common use mentioned in the fifth subdivision of section 666.

2. To hear and determine all adverse or conflicting claims to the property sought to be condemned, and to the damages therefor.

3. To determine the respective rights of different parties asking condemnation of the same property.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1247; Utah, 3596.

5615. Occupancy of premises pending action—Notice—Hearing—Proof—Bond—Restraining order.

SEC. 673. The plaintiff may move the court or a judge thereof, at any time after the commencement of suit, on notice for such time as the court or judge may direct to the defendant, if he is a resident of the county, or has appeared in the action, otherwise by serving a notice directed to him on the clerk of the court, for an order permitting the plaintiff to occupy the premises sought to be condemned, pending the action, and to do such work thereon as may be required for the easement sought, according to its nature. The court or a judge thereof shall take proof by affidavit or otherwise, of the value of the premises sought to be condemned and of the damages which will accrue from the condemnation, and of the reasons for requiring a speedy occupation, and shall grant or refuse the motion according to the equity of the case and the relative damages which may accrue to the parties. If the motion is granted, the court or judge shall require the plaintiff to execute and file in court a bond to the defendant, with sureties, to be approved by the court or judge in a penal sum to be fixed by the court or judge, not less than double the value of the premises sought to be condemned and the damages which will ensue from condemnation and occupation, as the same may appear to the court or judge on the hearing, and conditioned to pay the adjudged value of the premises and all damages, in case the property is condemned, and to pay all damages arising from occupation before judgment in case the premises are not condemned, and all costs adjudged to the defendant in the action. The sureties shall justify before the court or judge, after a reasonable notice to the defendant of the time and place of justification. The amounts fixed shall be for the purpose of the motion only, and shall not be admissible in evidence on final hearing. The court or judge may also, pending the action, restrain the defendant from hindering or interfering with the occupation of the premises and the doing thereon of the work required for the easement.

Utah, 3597.

5616. Damages, how assessed.

SEC. 674. The court, jury, commissioners, or referee must hear such legal testimony as may be offered by any of the parties to the proceedings, and thereupon must ascertain and assess:

1. The value of the property sought to be condemned and all improvements thereon pertaining to the realty, and of each and every separate estate or interest therein; if it consists of different parcels, the value of each parcel and of each estate or interest therein shall be separately assessed.

2. If the property sought to be condemned constitutes only a part of a large parcel, the damages which will accrue to the portion not sought to be condemned, by reason of its severance from the portion sought to be condemned, and the construction of the improvement in the manner proposed by the plaintiff.

3. If the property, though no part thereof is taken, will be damaged by the construction of the proposed improvement, the amount of such damages.

4. Separately, how much the portion not sought to be condemned, and each estate or interest therein, will be benefited, if at all, by the construction of the improvement proposed by the plaintiff; and if the benefit shall be equal to the damages assessed, under subdivision 2 of this section, the owner of the parcel shall be allowed no compensation except the value of the portion taken; but if the benefit shall be less than the damages so assessed, the former shall be deducted from the latter, and the remainder shall be the only damages allowed in addition to the value of the portion taken.

5. If the property sought to be condemned be for a railroad, the cost of good and sufficient fences along the line of such railroad between such railroad and other adjoining lands of the defendant; and the cost of cattle guards where fences may cross the line of such railroads.

6. As far as practicable, compensation must be assessed for each source of damages separately.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1248; Utah, 3598.

5617. Damages deemed accrued at date of service.

SEC. 675. For the purpose of assessing compensation and damages, the right thereto shall be deemed to have accrued at the date of the service of summons, and its actual value at that date shall be the measure of compensation for all property to be actually taken, and the basis of damages to property not actually taken, but injuriously affected, in all cases where such damages are allowed, as provided in the last section. No improvements put upon the property subsequent to the date of service of summons, shall be included in the assessment of compensation or damages.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1249; Utah, 3599.

5618. Action begun anew where defendant's title defective.

SEC. 676. If the title attempted to be acquired is found to be defective from any cause, the plaintiff may again institute proceedings to acquire the same as in this chapter prescribed.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1250; Utah, 3600.

5619. Damages to be paid within thirty days—Bond for railroad fence.

SEC. 677. The plaintiff must, within thirty days after final judgment, pay the sum of money assessed; and, if the plaintiff is a railroad company, it shall also execute to the defendant a bond, with sureties to be determined and approved by the court or judge, conditioned that the plaintiff shall build proper fences through any enclosed field before commencing actual construction. In an action on the bond all damages sustained and the cost of the construction of such fences and cattle guards, with a reasonable attorney fee, to be fixed by the court, may be recovered.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1251; Utah, 3601.

5620. Idem—To whom paid—Execution if not paid—Annulling proceedings.

SEC. 678. Payment may be made to the defendants entitled thereto, or the money may be deposited in court for defendants and be distributed to those entitled thereto. If the money be not so paid or deposited, the defendants may have execution as in civil cases; and if the money cannot be made on execution, the court, upon a showing to that effect, must set aside and annul the entire proceedings, and restore possession of the property to the defendants, if possession has been taken by the plaintiff.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1252; Utah, 3602.

5621. Final order made upon payment—Recording same.

SEC. 679. When payments have been made (and the bond given, if the plaintiff be required to give one), as required by the last two sections, the court must make a final order of condemnation, which must describe the property condemned and the purpose of such condemnation. A copy of the order must be filed in the office of the recorder of the county, and thereupon the title to the property described therein shall vest in the plaintiff for the purpose therein specified.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1253: Utah, 3603.

5622. Authorizing occupancy by plaintiff—Deposit—Payment—Effect.

SEC. 680. At any time after the entry of judgment, or pending an appeal from the judgment to the supreme court, whenever the plaintiff shall have paid into court for the defendant the full amount of the judgment, and such further sum as may be required by the court as a fund to pay any further damages and costs that may be recovered in said proceedings, as well as all damages that may be sustained by the defendant, if for any cause the property shall not be finally taken for public use, the district court in which the proceeding was tried may, upon notice of not less than ten days, authorize the plaintiff, if already in possession, to continue therein, and if not, then to take possession of and use the property during the pendency of and until the final conclusion of the litigation, and may, if necessary, stay all actions and proceedings against the plaintiff on account thereof. The defendant, who is entitled to the money paid into court for him upon any judgment, shall be entitled to demand and receive the same at any time thereafter upon obtaining an order therefor from the court. It shall be the duty of the court or judge thereof, upon application being made by such defendant, to order and direct that the money so paid into court for him be delivered to him upon his filing a satisfaction of the judgment, or upon his filing a receipt therefor, and an abandonment of all defenses to the action or proceeding, except as to the amount of damages that he may be entitled to in the event that a new trial shall be granted. A payment to a defendant, as aforesaid, shall be held to be an abandonment by such defendant of all defenses interposed by him, excepting his claim for greater compensation.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1254; Utah, 3604.

5623. Apportionment of costs.

SEC. 681. Costs may be allowed or not, and if allowed, may be apportioned between the parties on the same or adverse sides, in the discretion of the court.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1255; Utah, 3605.

5624. Procedure applicable.

SEC. 682. Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, the provisions of this act relative to civil actions, new trials, and appeals shall be applicable to and constitute the rules of practice in the proceedings in this chapter.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1256; Utah, 3606.

5625. Rights of cities and towns not affected.

SEC. 683. Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to abrogate or repeal any statute provided for the taking of property in any city, town or county for street or highway purposes.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1263; Utah, 3607.

5626. Crossings to be made and kept in repair.

SEC. 684. A party obtaining a right of way shall, without delay, construct such crossings and culverts as may be required by the court or judge, and shall keep them and the way itself in good repair.

Utah, 3608.

5627. Condemnation by railroad companies.

SEC. 685. Any company incorporated under the laws of this state, or constructing or operating a railway in this state, in addition to other rights conferred, shall have power to enter, by its servants, upon the real property of any person, for the purpose of selecting an advantageous route for its main line or any branch thereof, or for the purpose of relocating its line, subject to responsibility for all damages resulting therefrom; to acquire by purchase, donation, or otherwise, all such real and personal property as may be necessary for, or may be given to aid or encourage the construction and maintenance of its railroad and for its buildings and yards; to condemn, in the manner provided by law, a right of way with such additional lands as may be necessary for depot grounds or for the purpose of constructing necessary embankments, excavations, ditches, drains and culverts; to cross natural or artificial streams or bodies of water, streets, highways, or railroads which its road may intersect, and in such manner as to afford security for life and property and subject to the duty of immediately restoring such course or body of water, street, highway, or railway to its former condition, as nearly as may be; to cross, intersect, join, or unite its railroad with any other railroad, either before or after the construction, at any point upon its route, and upon the grounds of such other railroad corporation, with the necessary turnouts, sidings and switches, and other conveniences in furtherance of the objects of its connections, and every corporation whose railroad is or shall be hereafter intersected by any new railroad, shall unite with the owners of such new railroad in forming such intersections and connections, and grant facilities therefor; to construct and operate spurs or branch lines of railroad connecting with the main line or any branch thereof, not to exceed five miles in length each, though such spurs or branch lines be not named or described in the articles of incorporation, and to relocate any section or sections of its lines between the principal termini, with the same powers as in the case of original or first locations.

See Railroads, secs. 3535–3550.

5628. When two railroad companies may have right over same territory—Change and expense of reconstruction of way or road.

SEC. 686. Any railroad company whose right of way, or whose track or roadbed upon such right of way passes through any canon, pass or defile, shall not prevent any other railroad company from the use or occupancy of said canon, pass, or defile for the purposes of its road, in common with the road first located, or the crossing of other railroads at grade; and the location of such right of way through any canon, pass, or defile shall not cause the disuse of any wagon or other public highway now located therein, nor prevent the location through the same of any such wagon road, or highway where such road, or highway may be necessary for the public accommodation; and where any change in the location of such wagon road is necessary to permit the passage of such railroad through any canon, pass, or defile, said railroad company shall, before entering upon the ground occupied by such wagon road, cause the same to be reconstructed at its own expense in the most favorable location, and in as perfect a manner as the original road; provided, that such expenses shall be equitably divided between any number of railroad companies occupying and using the same canon, pass or defile.

5629. Right may be exercised by foreign corporations.

SEC. 687. The right of eminent domain is hereby granted to nonresident or foreign corporations, which are now organized or may be organized under the laws of another state or territory, or under any act of Congress, and upon the same terms and conditions as any resident citizen or domestic corporation; provided, however, that before any corporation organized or incorporated otherwise than under the laws of this state shall be entitled to any of the rights granted by this chapter, it must first comply with all laws of this state prescribing the conditions in which such foreign corporation may be authorized to do business within the state or within any county of the state wherein it seeks to exercise the right of eminent domain.

CHAPTER 67

LOST RECORDS AFFECTING REAL PROPERTY, RESTORATION OF

5630. Lost records rerecorded under date of original record — Affidavit — Force of copy.
5631. What deeds considered prima facie evidence, what not.
5632. Records of liens, mortgages or judgments may be restored—Subsequent purchasers or incumbrancers—Limitations.
5633. Records of deeds or instruments affecting title—Wills, action to restore—Parties.
5634. Idem—Complaint, what to allege—Summons—Waiver—Decree.
5635. Character of evidence which may be received.
5636. Action brought in county where property situated.
5637. Idem—Division of county after destruction of records.
5638. Limitations affecting restored records.
5639. Restored records validated.
5640. Lost instruments concerning matters other than real property and water rights may be restored, how.
5641. Procedure for restoration of lost instruments not affecting real property or water rights.
5642. Idem—Court to issue citation—Notice—Citation not required in naturalization matter.
5643. Service on parties residing outside county, how made—Idem, outside state.
5644. Contest may be made, how—Effect of judgment restoring lost record.
5645. Limitation of record of judgment which has been restored.
5646. Costs, how taxed.

5630. Lost records rerecorded under date of original record—Affidavit—Force of copy.

SEC. 688. Whenever the records, or any material part thereof, of any county in this state have been lost or destroyed by fire or otherwise, or shall hereafter be lost or destroyed by fire or otherwise, any map, plat, deed, conveyance, contract, mortgage, deed of trust, power of attorney, or other instrument in writing, of whatsoever nature or character, or record in any proceeding authorized by law to be recorded, affecting the title to real estate or water rights in such county, which have been heretofore recorded, or which may be hereafter recorded, may be rerecorded in the proper office therefor; and in rerecording the same, the officer shall record the certificate of the previous record with the date of original filing for record shown by the official endorsement on such original instrument, which shall be deemed and taken as the date of the recording of the instrument to which it is attached. Where the party desiring such record shall produce to the recorder an affidavit showing that the original is lost or destroyed, or that the same is not in his possession or control, a duly certified copy of such original may be recorded in the same manner and with the same force and effect as the original under this chapter. Copies of records herein authorized to be made, duly certified, shall have the same force and effect as evidence as certified copies of the original instrument or record.

5631. What deeds considered prima facie evidence, what not.

SEC. 689. In all cases where real estate has been sold by a sheriff, executor, administrator, guardian, assignee, receiver, trustee or commissioner of court, or other person appointed or authorized by the court, and the record of the action in which such sale had been made is lost or destroyed by fire or otherwise, the deed to such property made by said sheriff, executor, administrator, guardian, assignee, receiver, trustee, commissioner of court, or other person appointed or authorized by the court, shall be prima facie evidence of the legality and regularity of such sale, and of the correctness of the proceeding in the action or proceeding wherein said property was sold; but the deeds made by the treasurer of any county of lands sold at delinquent or forfeited tax sales shall not be prima facie evidence of the title in the purchasers of such lands, and no such presumption shall be indulged in favor of such tax deeds or sales when the records of the sales and the proceedings upon which the sale was based have been lost or destroyed by fire or otherwise.

5632. Records of liens, mortgages, judgments may be restored—Subsequent purchasers or incumbrances—Limitations.

SEC. 690. Whenever the record and entry of any judgment, or the record of any mechanic's lien, mortgage or other incumbrance or lien upon property is lost or destroyed by fire or otherwise, and the original documents or instruments or certified copies thereof cannot be found, the judgment creditor or his assignee and the person holding or entitled to the said mechanic's lien, mortgage or other incumbrance or lien on property, may, as to such judgments, begin a proceeding in the court wherein the same was rendered, and as to mortgages, mechanic's liens or other incumbrances or liens, begin a proceeding in any court having jurisdiction over such property, to have established the fact of the existence, prior to such loss or destruction, of the record of such judgment, mortgage, mechanic's lien or other incumbrance or lien, and the substance and effect thereof; and the decree in any such case shall be recorded in the records of the same office in which the original judgment, mortgage, mechanic's lien or other incumbrance or lien was recorded or entered; provided, however, no judgment, mortgage, mechanic's lien or other incumbrance upon property, the record whereof has been lost or destroyed as aforesaid, shall continue to be a lien upon such property, or affect the title thereto as against any purchaser for value or subsequent lienholder, unless the action or proceeding to establish the existence of such record, prior to the loss or destruction thereof as aforesaid, shall be begun within six (6) months from and after such loss or destruction, or within six (6) months from and after the passage of this act where the record was lost or destroyed prior to such passage, nor shall any judgment, mortgage, deed of trust, mechanic's lien or other lien or incumbrance, the record whereof has been lost or destroyed as aforesaid, be held binding and in force or be executed or foreclosed, unless the action or proceeding to reestablish the existence of such judgment or instrument, prior to the destruction of the record thereof, shall be begun within one (1) year from and after such loss or destruction or from and after the passage of this act where such record was lost or destroyed previous to such passage.

5633. Records of deeds or instruments affecting title—Wills, action to restore—Parties.

SEC. 691. Whenever the record of any deed or other instrument affecting the title to or concerning any interest in real estate or water rights in this state, which is authorized or required by law to be recorded, or any will, or the probate thereof, is lost or destroyed by fire or otherwise, and the original of such deed or will or the probate thereof, or other instrument, or a certified copy thereof, cannot be found, any person claiming title to such real estate or water right or any interest under said will may institute a proceeding in the district court of the county in which the property so affected is situated, to establish the fact of the existence, contents and record of such deed, will and probate thereof, or other instrument, prior to such loss or destruction, and the decree in the case shall be entered in the proper office of such county. Any person having or claiming an interest in said real estate or water right or being in possession and enjoyment thereof, as well as the parties to the said lost deed or other instrument, and their privies, and all persons interested under said will, shall be made parties defendant in such proceeding.

5634. Idem—Complaint, what to allege—Summons—Waiver—Decree.

SEC. 692. The proceeding provided in the foregoing section for the restoration of lost records shall be begun by filing a complaint in the court having jurisdiction thereof as herein provided, setting forth the nature, character and substance of the instrument and record thereof so lost or destroyed, the date of the loss or destruction as near as may be, the office in which such instrument was originally recorded, with the date when same was originally filed for record as near as may be, and that the restoration of such records is necessary to secure the legal rights of the applicant, or of some other person for whose benefit such application is made, which complaint shall be verified in the manner provided for the verification of pleadings in other civil actions, and thereupon summons shall issue, and actual service thereof, or service by publication, shall be made upon all persons interested in or affected by said original instrument or record in the manner provided by law for the commencement of civil actions; provided, the parties may waive the issuing or service of summons and enter their appearance to such application; and upon hearing such application without further pleadings, if the court or judge finds that such instrument and the record thereof have been lost or destroyed and that neither such instrument, record or certified copy thereof can be found or produced by the applicant in such proceeding, and the court or judge is enabled by the evidence produced to find the substance of such instrument or record, an order and decree shall be made setting forth the interest or record according to its substance and effect, and requiring the proper officer to reproduce such record which shall recite the substance and effect of said lost or destroyed record, or part thereof, as found by said order and decree, and such record shall have the same effect as the original record would have if the same had not been lost or destroyed, so far as it concerns the rights of the applicant, or person or parties so served with summons or entering their appearance, or persons claiming under them by title acquired subsequently to the filing of the application.

5635. Character of evidence which may be received.

SEC. 693. Upon the hearing of the application provided in the preceding sections, the court or judge may admit in evidence oral testimony, and any complete or partial abstract of such lost or destroyed instrument, record, docket entries or indexes, and any other written evidence of the contents or effect of such instrument or record, or published reports concerning such instrument or record when the court or judge is of the opinion that such abstracts, writings, and publications were fairly and honestly made before the loss or destruction of such instrument or record.

5636. Action brought in county where property situated.

SEC. 694. The district court of any county in which the property is situated which will be affected by proceedings to restore lost records, as provided in this chapter, shall have jurisdiction of such proceedings.

5637. Idem—Division of county after destruction of records.

SEC. 695. Whenever a county is segregated after the loss or destruction of the public records thereof, or any part of such records, and a portion of its territory is included in some new county created by act of legislature, all original instruments or duly certified copies of such instruments mentioned in section 688 shall be recorded in the office of the county recorder of the county in which the property affected thereby is situated after such segregation, and all proceedings to restore lost records as provided in this act, which are commenced after the creation of such new county, shall be begun in the county in which the lands affected by such records are then situated.

5638. Limitations affecting restored records.

SEC. 696. Where any judgment, mortgage, deed of trust, lien or the record thereof has been restored under this chapter, such judgment, mortgage, deed of trust or lien shall not continue to extend beyond the limitation prescribed by law at the time the original judgment, mortgage, deed of trust or lien was entered, recorded or created.

5639. Restored records validated.

SEC. 697. Whenever the records or any material part thereof of any county in this state have been lost or destroyed by fire or otherwise, and any map, plat, deed or other instrument in writing mentioned in section 688, affecting the title to any real estate or water rights in any such county, shall have been rerecorded therein, or where a duly certified copy of such instrument shall have been recorded in such county, prior to the passage of this act, the record so made is hereby validated and given the same force and effect as records hereafter restored in accordance with the provisions of section 688.

AFFECTING OTHER INSTRUMENTS

5640. Lost instruments concerning matters other than real property and water rights may be restored, how.

SEC. 698. In all cases where the records of any judgments, not affecting real property or water rights, which said judgments have not expired by limitation, or other records of any court of either general or limited jurisdiction in this state, and all records of proceedings taken by, or in behalf of any alien to become a citizen of the United States in this state, have been lost or destroyed, the same may be restored and replaced, and become the records of said courts, in the manner prescribed in the following sections of this chapter.

5641. Procedure for restoration of lost instruments not affecting real property or water rights.

SEC. 699. When any record of any court in this state, not affecting real property or water rights, has been lost, destroyed, or defaced, so that its contents cannot be distinguished, the same may be restored by any party interested, by making and filing an affidavit in said court whose records it is proposed to restore, and that said affidavit shall set forth the nature of the action, demand or claim upon which said lost, destroyed, or defaced records was obtained, about the date of the discovery of its loss or destruction as near as may be, and when the record sought to be restored is that of a judgment, the affidavit shall set forth the amount and character of the judgment as nearly as can be ascertained, and in all cases the affidavit shall set forth that the restoration of said record or records is necessary to secure the legal rights of the affiant, or of some other person, for whose benefit the record or records is sought to be restored.

5642. Idem—Court to issue citation—Notice—Citation not required in naturalization matter.

SEC. 700. Upon making and filing of the said affidavits, the court or the judge thereof shall thereupon issue a citation to all parties interested, notifying them to appear and show cause why the record referred to in said case should not be restored; and that in said notice or citation shall be set forth, that the motion to restore said lost record is based upon affidavit on file in said court, and if the hearing of said case is before the district court, ten days' notice shall be given to all parties interested, and if before a justice court not less than five nor more than ten days' notice shall be required; provided, that in all cases of citizenship or naturalization no citation is required to issue.

5643. Service on parties residing outside county, how made—Idem—Outside state.

SEC. 701. When parties upon whom citation is required to be served reside outside of the county, but within this state, service shall be made in the same manner as is prescribed by law for the service of summons in civil actions in this state, and upon a citation issued from a justice's court under this chapter, the service of the same upon parties residing out of the county, but within the state, shall be in the same manner as that required for the service of summons in civil actions in the district courts, and where the parties upon whom service is required to be made reside out of this state, service shall be made by publication, in the same manner as is required for service of summons in civil cases in the courts of this state.

5644. Contest may be made, how—Effect of judgment restoring lost record.

SEC. 702. In all cases the parties interested shall, upon said motion, have an opportunity of appearing and using counter affidavits and contesting said application, and if it appear to the court at the hearing that the record in said case is lost, destroyed, or defaced, and what its contents were, it may then make, order, or cause to be made, a new roll or record, corresponding to the old one as near as can be done, and enter the same as of record in said court, and the matter thus substituted will thenceforward be received in all courts and given in all respects the same effect as though it were the original record.

5645. Limitation of record of judgment which has been restored.

SEC. 703. Where any record of a judgment has been restored under this chapter said judgment shall not continue or extend beyond the limitation prescribed by law at the time the original judgment so restored was entered.

5646. Costs, how taxed.

SEC. 704. The costs to be taxed upon an application to restore a lost or destroyed record, as provided in this chapter, shall be the same as are provided for like service in civil actions, and may be adjudged against either or any party to such proceeding or application, or may, in the discretion of the court, be apportioned between such parties.

CHAPTER 68

DEATH BY WRONGFUL ACT, ACTION FOR

5647. Liability for death by wrongful act.

SEC. 705. Whenever the death of a person shall be caused by wrongful act, neglect or default, and the act, neglect or default is such as would, if death had not ensued, have entitled the party injured to maintain an action and recover damages in respect thereof then, and in every such case, the persons who, or the corporation which would have been liable if death had not ensued shall be liable to an action for damages notwithstanding the death of the person injured; and although the death shall have been caused under such circumstances as amount in law to a felony.

Kerr, C. C. P., 377.

The right to bring an action for death by wrongful act in a foreign jurisdiction does not rest upon principles of comity, but exists because the action is transitory, and not local. Christensen v. Floriston P. Co., 29 Nev. 552, 557 (92 P. 210).

Courts will enforce a cause of action for death by wrongful act growing out of the laws of another state, when not contrary to the public policy of the state of the forum. Idem.

The public policy of a state in respect to enforcing the remedy in an action for death by wrongful act only goes to the extent that it by legislation has changed the common law, and unless the lex fori is substantially the same as the lex loci, the latter law will not be deemed consistent with the public policy of the forum. Idem.

Where the lex loci and lex fori in respect to actions for death by negligent acts give the same remedy to the same persons, that the former places no restrictions upon the transitory nature of the action, while the latter does, does not affect the policy of the latter so far as it recognizes the cause of action and its enforcement. Idem.

Injury to servant — Negligence — Proximate cause—Question for jury. In an action for death, the question whether decedent was guilty of negligence proximately causing the accident is for the jury. Idem.

In an action for death, an abstract instruction that no person has a right to unnecessarily so use his own property as to endanger the physical safety of another is not prejudicial, where, when taken in connection with other instructions, the jury could not have been misled. Idem.

In an action for death, an instruction that it is the duty of a master to provide a safe place for his servants to work, and he cannot escape responsibility for a failure to do so unless it is shown that the servant was guilty of "proximate negligence" in the assumption of obvious risks which resulted in his injury, was not prejudicial, there being no evidence of contributory negligence. Idem.

Parents have a legal right to financial support from a child during his whole life, and their right to recover for his death is not affected by the amount of his contributions during his life, though the same may be a material factor in determining the amount of damages. Idem.

In an action for the death of a man 30 years old performing manual labor for good wages, an instruction that there was no evidence that decedent had any expectancy of life beyond the day of his death, or that his parents had any expectancy of life beyond the time of the trial, and in the event of a finding for plaintiff only nominal damages should be allowed, was properly refused. Idem.

In an action for death inflicted in another state, the recovery of damages is governed by the lex loci. Idem.

In an action for death, only actual monetary damages sustained by the person for whose benefit the action is brought are recoverable, and, when more than nominal damages are claimed, their amount must be largely determined upon questions of relationship and dependency existing between decedent and beneficiary at the time of his death. Idem.

While the jury is allowed great latitude in awarding damages in actions for tortious death and their decision will not be disturbed except in extreme cases, yet the size of the judgment must be justified by the evidence. Idem.

A verdict of $10,000 for the death of a laborer 30 years old, earning $3 a day, is excessive, where it does not appear that he contributed anything to his parents for whose benefit the action is brought, nor that they are in need of assistance, and there is no proof of the expectancy of life of the decedent or beneficiaries except their ages. Idem.

5648. Judgment for damages not liable for debts—Distribution, how made.

SEC. 706. The proceeds of any judgment obtained in any action brought under the provisions of this chapter shall not be liable for any debt of the deceased; provided, he or she shall have left a husband, wife, child, father, mother, brother, sister, or child or children of a deceased child; but shall be distributed as follows:

1. If there be a surviving husband or wife, and no child, then to such husband or wife; if there be a surviving husband or wife, and a child or children, or grandchildren, then, equally to each, the grandchild or children taking by right of representation; if there be no husband or wife, but a child or children, or grandchild or children, then to such child or children and grandchild or children by right of representation; if there be no child or grandchild, then to a surviving father or mother; if there be no father or mother, then to a surviving brother or sister, or brothers or sisters, if there be any; if there be none of the kindred hereinbefore named, then the proceeds of such judgment shall be disposed of in the manner authorized by law for the disposition of the personal property of deceased persons; provided, every such action shall be brought by and in the name of the personal representative or representatives of such deceased person; and, provided, further, the jury in every such action may give such damages, pecuniary and exemplary, as they shall deem fair and just, and may take into consideration the pecuniary injury resulting from such death to the kindred as herein named.

Kerr, C. C. P., 377.

Where one already diseased has suffered from a personal injury, the mere fact of personal condition does not deny him all the damages suffered from the accident, and this is true whether the damages proximately result from the wrong complained of, or whether the disease existed at the time of the injury and was aggravated by it. Murphy v. Southern Pacific, 31 Nev. 122 (101 P. 322).

See Christensen v. Floriston P. Co., under sec. 705 of this act.

CHAPTER 69

PERSONAL INJURIES, ACTION FOR

5649. Person causing injury liable—Fellow servant, when liable.
5650. Common carriers and mill and mine owners and operators liable for injury to employees, when.
5651. When contributory negligence of employee slight will not bar recovery.
5652. Contract of insurance or indemnity will not bar recovery by injured employee.

5649. Person causing injury liable—Fellow servant, when liable.

SEC. 707. Whenever any person shall suffer personal injury by wrongful act, neglect or default of another, the person causing the injury shall be liable to the person injured for damages; and where the person causing such injury is employed by another person or corporation responsible for his conduct, such person or corporation so responsible shall be liable to the person injured for damages.

Murphy v. Southern Pacific, 31 Nev. 122 (101 P. 322); Burch v. Southern Pacific, 32 Nev, 75 (104 P. 225); Sherman v. Southern Pacific, 33 Nev. — (111 P. 416); Cutler v. Pittsburg Silver Peak M. Co., 34 Nev. — (116 P. 418).

5650. Common carriers and mill and mine owners and operators liable for injury to employees, when.

SEC. 708. That every common carrier engaged in trade or commerce in the State of Nevada, and every mine and mill owner and operator actually engaged in mining, or in milling or reduction of ores, in the State of Nevada, shall be liable to any of its employees, or, in case of the death of such employee, to his personal representative for the benefit of his widow and children, if any, and if none, then for his next of kin, for all damages which may result from the negligence of the officers, agents, or employees of said common carrier or mine or mill operator, or by reason of any defect or insufficiency due to their negligence in its cars, engines, appliances, machinery, track, roadbed, ways or works, or to their negligent handling or storing of explosives.

5651. When contributory negligence of employee slight will not bar recovery.

SEC. 709. That in all actions hereinafter brought against any common carrier or mine or mill owner and operator to recover damages for personal injuries to or death of an employee, the fact that the employee may have been guilty of contributory negligence shall not bar a recovery where his contributory negligence was slight and the negligence of the employer, or its officers, agents, or employees was gross in comparison. All questions of negligence and contributory negligence shall be for the jury.

5652. Contract of insurance or indemnity will not bar recovery by injured employee.

SEC. 710. That no contract of employment, insurance, relief benefit, or indemnity for injury or death, entered into by or on behalf of any employee, nor the acceptance of any insurance, relief benefit or indemnity by the person entitled thereto, shall constitute any bar or defense to any action brought to recover damages for personal injuries to, or death of such employee; provided, however, that upon the trial of such action the defendant may set off therein any sum it has contributed toward any such insurance, relief benefit, or indemnity that may have been paid to the person entitled thereto.

CHAPTER 70

ACTIONS AGAINST THE STATE

5653. Actions on rejected claims against the state may be brought in Ormsby County—Summons served on controller.

SEC. 711. An officer or person who has presented a claim against the state for services or advances authorized by law, and for which an appropriation has been made, but of which the amount has not been fixed by law, to the board of examiners, which claim said board or the state controller has refused to audit and allow, in whole or in part, may commence an action in any court in Ormsby County having jurisdiction of the amount, for the recovery of such portion of the claim as shall have been rejected. In such action the State of Nevada shall be named as defendant, and the summons shall be served upon the state controller, and the action shall proceed as other civil actions to final judgment.

The constitution states that provision may be made by general law for bringing suit against the state for certain liabilities, Const., sec. 280.

See Ormsby Co. v. State, 6 Nev. 283, 285, 286; State v. Hallock, 20 Nev. 326, 330.

5654. Idem—Attorney-general to defend—Controller may appeal.

SEC. 712. The attorney-general shall defend all such actions on the part of the state. The controller shall cause to be subpenaed and examined such witnesses, and procure and cause to be introduced such documentary evidence as he shall deem necessary for the defense. Appeals may be taken in all such actions by the controller in behalf of the state.

5655. Controller to draw warrant for amount of judgment.

SEC. 713. Upon the presentation of a certified copy of a final judgment in favor of the claimant in any such action, the controller shall draw his warrant in favor of the claimant for the amount awarded by the judgment.

See citations under sec. 711 of this act.

CHAPTER 71

QUO WARRANTO

5656. Action in the name of state, against whom.
5657. Action in the name of state, against corporation.
5658. Attorney-general to begin action, when.
5659. Action begun upon whose relation—Security for costs.
5660. Action for usurpation by claimant in name of state—Bond.
5661. Action for usurpation by claimant—Contents of complaint.
5662. All claimants to the same office made defendants.
5663. Jurisdiction in supreme or district court.
5664. Application to file complaint—Notice to defendant.
5665. Summons, when issued—When unnecessary.
5666. Pleadings.
5667. Judgment of ouster—Costs—Delivery of books—Violation by corporation.
5668. Judgment ousting director of corporation.
5669. Action for damages, within one year.
5670. Judgment against corporation—Dissolution or restraint.
5671. Court shall appoint trustee for dissolved corporation—Compensation.
5672. Idem—Bond of trustee.

5673. Suit on bond of trustee, by whom may be brought.
5674. Trustee to collect debts and divide surplus.
5675. Court may order books and effects delivered to trustee.
5676. Trustee to file sworn inventory with clerk.
5677. Trustee to sue for debts—Responsibility.
5678. Liability of corporation directors when judgment of ouster rendered.
5679. Penalty for refusal to obey order of court.
5680. Quo warranto actions take precedence.
5681. Procedure in supreme court same as in district court—Jury.
5682. Appeal does not stay judgment of ouster.

5656. Action in the name of state, against whom.

SEC. 714. A civil action may be brought in the name of the state:

1. Against a person who usurps, intrudes into, or unlawfully holds or exercises, a public office, civil or military, or a franchise, within this state, or an officer in a corporation created by the authority of this state.

2. Against a public officer, civil or military, who does or suffers an act which, by the provisions of law, works a forfeiture of his office.

3. Against an association of persons who act as a corporation within this state without being legally incorporated.

Kerr, C. C. P., 803; Mont. Civ. P., 1410; Utah, 3609.

See citations under Const., sec. 319, p. 94, ante.

Statement in quo warranto held sufficient. Greeley v. Holland, 14 Nev. 320, 323.

The affirmative of the issue and the burden of proof is on the state. State v. Haskell, 14 Nev. 209, 210.

The question of the constitutionality of the statute increasing the number of district judges to four and the right of respondent to hold the office of district judge under that statute, can only be raised by a direct proceeding of quo warranto and is not properly before the court by a proceeding for a writ of prohibition. Walcott v. Wells, 21 Nev. 47 (37 A. S. 478, 9 L. R. A. 59, 24 P. 367).

Collateral questions will not be inquired into on quo warranto. State ex rel. Davenport v. Horton, 19 Nev. 199 (8 P. 171).

An information in the nature of quo warranto, filed against the incumbent of an office for the sole purpose of having a judicial determination as to who possesses the power of appointment to such office, it being apparent that defendant will remain in office whatever will be the decision, will be dismissed. State ex rel. Alexander v. McCullough, 20 Nev. 154 (18 P. 756).

Stats. 1865, 164, sec. 14, as to propriety of allowing relator to prosecute the action in his own name, cited in State ex rel. Mack v. Torreyson, 21 Nev. 517 (34 P. 879).

Under the common law any information in the nature of quo warranto will lie only for usurping a public office, and is never exercised in the case of a mere agency or employment determinable at the will of the employer. State ex rel. Ryan v. Cronan, 23 Nev. 437, 446 (49 P. 41).

The provisions of sec. 1, Stats. 1865, 164, while it extends the remedy to any office in a corporation created under the laws of this state, the question of what constitutes an office within the settled rule is not affected by the statute. Idem.

Under the provisions of sec. 1, Stats. 1865, 164, it was held: A private individual may file an information against any "person unlawfully holding or exercising any public office or franchise or when any persons act as a corporation without being authorized by law, or when they exercise powers not conferred by law," and such proceeding is the proper remedy to determine questions involving the corporate existence or the constitutionality of an act incorporating a city, or the right to exercise in any manner the functions of a city council. State ex rel. Fletcher v. Osburn, 24 Nev. 187, 191 (51 P. 837).

When the attorney-general refuses to bring an action, a person claiming election to a state office may, by leave of court, bring quo warranto on his own relation, where he has no other remedy. State ex rel. McMillan v. Sadler, 25 Nev. 131, 165 (83 A. S. 753, 58 P. 284); State ex rel. Springmeyer v. Baker, 34 Nev. —; State ex rel. Legate v. Josephs, 34 Nev. —.

Quo warranto is the only remedy a person, who may be duly elected to a state office, has to oust one unlawfully holding the same and have himself instituted. Idem.

5657. Action in the name of state, against a corporation.

SEC. 715. A like action may be brought against a corporation:

1. When it has offended against a provision of an act by or under which it was created, altered, or renewed, or any act altering or amending such acts.

2. When it has forfeited its privileges and franchises by a nonuser.

3. When it has committed or omitted an act which amounts to a surrender or a forfeiture of its corporate rights, privileges, and franchises.

4. When it has misused a franchise or privilege conferred upon it by law, or exercised a franchise or privilege not so conferred.

Mont. Civ. P. 1411; Utah, 3610.
Against telegraph company, sec. 4630.

5658. Attorney-general to begin action, when.

SEC. 716. The attorney-general, when directed by the governor, shall commence any such action; and when, upon complaint or otherwise, he has good reason to believe that any case specified in the preceding section can be established by proof, he shall commence an action.

Mont. Civ. P., 1412; Utah, 3611.

5659. Action begun, upon whose relation—Security for costs.

SEC. 717. Such officer may, upon his own relation, bring any such action, or he may, on the leave of the court, or a judge thereof in vacation, bring the action upon the relation of another person; and, if the action be brought under subdivision one of the first section of this chapter, he may require security for costs to be given as in other cases.

Mont. Civ. P., 1413; Utah, 3612.

5660. Action for usurpation by claimant in name of state—Bond.

SEC. 718. A person claiming to be entitled to a public office unlawfully held and exercised by another may, by himself or by an attorney and counselor at law, bring an action therefor in the name of the state, as provided in this chapter. On filing the complaint, such person shall enter into an undertaking with two sufficient sureties, to be approved by the judge, or any judge of the court in which the action is brought conditioned that such person will pay any judgment for costs or damages recovered against him, and all costs and expenses incurred in the prosecution of the action, which undertaking shall be filed with the clerk of the court.

Mont. Civ. P., 1414; Utah, 3613.

5661. Action for usurpation by claimant—Contents of complaint.

SEC. 719. When the action is against a person for usurping, intruding into, or unlawfully holding or exercising an office, the complaint shall set forth the name of the person who claims to be entitled thereto, with an averment of his right thereto, and judgment may be rendered upon the right of the defendant, and also upon the right of the person so averred to be entitled, or only upon the right of the defendant, as justice requires.

Mont. Civ. P., 1415; Utah, 3614.

5662. All claimants to the same office made defendants.

SEC. 720. All persons who claim to be entitled to the same office or franchise may be made defendants in the same action to try their respective rights to such office or franchise.

Mont. Civ. P., 1416; Utah, 3615.

5663. Jurisdiction in supreme or district court.

SEC. 721. An action under this chapter can be brought in the supreme court of the state, or in the district court of the proper county.

Mont. Civ. P., 1417; Utah, 3616.
Regarding jurisdiction of the supreme court to issue writs of quo warranto, see Const., sec. 319; for jurisdiction of the district courts and the judges thereof to issue writs of quo warranto, see Const., sec. 321.

5664. Application to file complaint—Notice to defendant.

SEC. 722. Upon application for leave to file a complaint, the court or judge may, in its discretion, direct notice thereof to be given to the defendant previous to granting such leave, and may hear the defendant in opposition thereto; and if leave be granted, an entry thereof shall be made on the minutes of the court, or the fact shall be endorsed by the judge on the complaint, which shall then be filed.

Mont. Civ. P., 1418; Utah, 3617.

5665. Summons, when issued—When unnecessary.

SEC. 723. When the complaint is filed without leave and notice, or upon leave and notice in case all the defendants do not appear, a summons shall issue and be served as in other cases. When all the defendants appear to oppose the filing of the complaint, no summons need issue.

Mont. Civ. P., 1419; Utah, 3618.

5666. Pleadings.

SEC. 724. The pleadings shall be as in other cases.

Mont. Civ. P., 1421; Utah, 3619.

5667. Judgment of ouster—Costs—Delivery of books—Violation by corporation.

SEC. 725. When a defendant is found guilty of usurping, intruding into or unlawfully holding or exercising an office, franchise, or privilege, judgment shall be rendered that such defendant be ousted and altogether excluded therefrom, and that the relator recover his costs. The court, after such judgment, shall order the defendant to deliver over all books and papers in his custody, or under his control, belonging to said office, to the parties entitled thereto. If the defendant be found guilty of unlawfully holding or exercising any office, franchise, or privilege; or if a corporation be found to have violated the law by which it holds its existence, or in any other manner to have done acts which amount to a surrender or a forfeiture of its privileges, judgment shall be rendered that such defendant be ousted and altogether excluded from such office, franchise, or privilege, and also that he pay the costs of the proceedings. If the defendant be found to have exercised merely certain individual powers and privileges to which he is not entitled, the judgment shall be the same as above directed, but only in relation to those particulars in which he is thus exceeding the lawful exercise of his rights and privileges. In case judgment is rendered against a pretended, but not real, corporation, the costs may be collected from any person who has been acting as an officer or proprietor of such pretended corporation.

Kerr, C. C. P., 809; Mont. Civ. P., 1422; Utah, 3620.

5668. Judgment ousting director of corporation.

SEC. 726. When the action is against a director of a corporation and the court finds that at his election, either illegal votes were received or legal votes were rejected, or both, sufficient to change the result, judgment may be rendered that the defendant be ousted, and judgment of induction entered in favor of the person who was entitled to be declared elected at such election.

Mont. Civ. P., 1423; Utah, 3621.

5669. Action for damages within one year.

SEC. 727. Such person may, at any time within one year after the date of such judgment, bring an action against the person ousted and recover the damages he sustained by reason of such usurpation.

Mont. Civ. P., 1426; Utah, 3622.

5670. Judgment against corporation—Dissolution or restraint.

SEC. 728. When, in any such action, it is found and adjudged, that a corporation has, by an act done or omitted, surrendered or forfeited its corporate rights, privileges, or franchises, or has not used the same during a term of two years, judgment shall be entered that it be ousted and excluded therefrom, and that it be dissolved; and when it is found and adjudged that a corporation has offended in any matter or manner which does not work such surrender or forfeiture or has misused a franchise, or exercised a power not conferred by law, judgment shall be entered that it be enjoined from the continuance of such offense or the exercise of such power.

Mont. Civ. P., 1428; Utah, 3623.

5671. Court shall appoint trustee for dissolved corporation—Compensation.

SEC. 729. If a corporation is ousted and dissolved by the proceedings herein authorized, the court shall appoint some disinterested person as trustee of the creditors and stockholders, who shall receive a compensation for his services to be fixed by the court.

5672. Idem—Bond of trustee.

SEC. 730. Said trustee shall enter into bond in such a penalty, and with such security, as the court approves, conditioned for the faithful discharge of his duties.

5673. Suit on bond of trustee, by whom may be brought.

SEC. 731. Suit may be brought on such bond by any person injured by the negligence or wrongful act of the trustee in the discharge of his duties.

5674. Trustee to collect debts and divide surplus.

SEC. 732. The trustee shall proceed immediately to collect the debts and pay the liabilities of the corporation, and to divide the surplus among those thereto entitled.

5675. Court may order books and effects delivered to trustee.

SEC. 733. The court shall, upon an application for that purpose, order an officer of such corporation, or any other person having possession of any of the effects, books, or papers of the corporation, in anywise necessary for the settlement of its affairs, to deliver the same to the trustee.

5676. Trustee to file sworn inventory with clerk.

SEC. 734. As soon as practicable after his appointment, the trustee shall make and file in the office of the clerk of the court, an inventory of all the effects, rights, and credits, which come to his possession or knowledge, the truth of which inventory shall be sworn to.

5677. Trustee to sue for debts—Responsibility.

SEC. 735. He shall sue for and recover the debts and property of the corporation, and shall be responsible to the creditors and stockholders respectively, to the extent of the effects which come into his hands, in the same manner as though he was the executor of a deceased person.

5678. Liability of corporation directors when judgment of ouster rendered.

SEC. 736. When judgment of ouster is rendered against a corporation on account of the misconduct of the directors, or officers thereof, such officers shall be jointly and severally liable to an action by any one injured thereby.

5679. Penalty for refusal to obey order of court.

SEC. 737. Any person who, without good reason, refuses to obey an order of the court, as provided in this chapter, shall be deemed guilty of a contempt of court, and shall be fined in any sum not exceeding five thousand dollars, and imprisonment in the county jail until he comply with said order, and shall be further liable for the damages resulting to any person on account of his refusal to obey such order.

5680. Quo warranto actions take precedence.

SEC. 738. Actions under this chapter in any court shall have precedence of any civil business pending therein; and the court, if the matter is of public concern, shall, on motion of the attorney-general, or of the attorney of the party, require as speedy a trial of the merits of the case as may be consistent with the rights of the parties.

Mont. Civ. P., 1433; Utah, 3624.

5681. Procedure in supreme same as in district court—Jury.

SEC. 739. Actions under this chapter commenced in the supreme court shall be conducted in the same manner as if commenced in the district court, and the clerk of the supreme court shall have the same authority to issue process and to enter orders and judgments as the clerk of the district court has in like cases. All pleadings and the conduct of the trial shall be the same as in the district court. If a jury is required to determine an issue of fact, the court shall order the question to be tried before a jury in the district court of any county designated in such order, and that the verdict be certified to the supreme court.

Mont. Civ. P., 1434; Utah, 3625.

5682. Appeal does not stay judgment of ouster.

SEC. 740. If the action is commenced in the district court, an appeal may be taken from the final judgment by either party to the supreme court as in other cases; but if there is judgment of ouster against the defendant, there shall be no stay of execution or proceedings pending such appeal.

Mont. Civ. P., 1435; Utah, 3626.

CHAPTER 72

CERTIORARI

5683. Writ of certiorari denominated writ of review.
5684. When the writ should be granted.
5685. Application for writ on affidavit, when court may grant.
5686. The writ, to whom directed.
5687. Idem—What to command.
5688. When stay of proceedings not wanted —Words requiring stay omitted.
5689. Service of writ.
5690. Review upon writ, extent of.
5691. Return of writ—Procedure—Court may give judgment, effect of.
5692. Clerk to transmit copy of judgment to officer having custody of record.
5693. Judgment roll, what constitutes—Appeal, how taken.

5683. Writ of certiorari denominated writ of review.

SEC. 741. The writ of certiorari may be denominated the writ of review.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1067.

A writ of certiorari is not inhibited to a party aggrieved in all proceedings or actions wherein a right of appeal is given. Paul v. Armstrong, 1 Nev. 82, 95.

The province of the writ of certiorari extends only to the question of jurisdictional power. State v. Washoe Co., 5 Nev. 317; Maxwell v. Rives, 11 Nev. 213.

See citations under Const., sec. 319, ante.

The only question which can be inquired into on certiorari is whether the inferior board or tribunal had jurisdiction to do the acts sought to be reviewed. State ex rel. Fall v. Humboldt Co., 6 Nev. 100, 101.

Inadmissible return, motion to strike out. State ex rel. Thompson v. Board of Equalization, 7 Nev. 83, 91, 93.

What return may include. Idem.

Certificate on information not certificate of fact. Idem.

Certiorari lies to annul a justice court judgment, void because in excess of the jurisdiction of the justice's court since there is no right of appeal. Fitchett v. Henley, 31 Nev. 327, 340 (102 P. 865); Williams v. Henderson, 22 Nev. 103 (36 P. 459).

5684. When the writ should be granted.

SEC. 742. This writ may be granted, on application, by the supreme court, a district court, or a judge of the district court. When the writ is issued by the district court or a judge of the district court it shall be made returnable before the district court. The writ shall be granted in all cases when an inferior tribunal, board, or officer, exercising judicial functions, has exceeded the jurisdiction of such tribunal, board, or officer and there is no appeal, nor, in the judgment of the court, any plain, speedy, and adequate remedy.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1068.

Regarding jurisdiction of supreme court to issue writs of certiorari, see Const., sec. 319; and concerning power of district courts and judges to issue these writs, see Const., sec. 321.

Judgment of district court, when not a bar. Twaddle v. Washoe Co., 12 Nev. 17.

Where on certiorari an order of county commissioners discharging a supplemental assessment, the record showed that the commissioners acted within their jurisdiction, and it was objected that the evidence was in conflict with the order, it was held, that the question as to how they acted was not a subject of review on certiorari. State ex rel. Mason v. Ormsby Co., 7 Nev. 393, 396.

If a board of county commissioners regularly pursue its authority and act within its jurisdiction, there can be no error in its action which can be reviewed on certiorari. Hetzel v. Eureka Co., 8 Nev. 359, 362.

An appellate court cannot, upon the writ of certiorari, review contempt proceeding upon the merits. (Beatty, J., dissenting.) Phillips v. Welch, 12 Nev. 159, 175.

The review upon certiorari extends only to the question whether the inferior tribunal has kept within its jurisdiction. In re Wixom, 12 Nev. 219, 223.

The writ of certiorari can only be issued where the inferior tribunal, in the exercise of judicial functions, has exceeded its jurisdiction. In re Rourke, 13 Nev. 253, 256.

A justice of the peace in issuing execution upon a judgment acts ministerially, and such act, however erroneous, cannot be reviewed upon certiorari. Idem.

The action of a judicial officer in regard to matters which are exclusively executive or administrative in their nature, even when the act of the legislature requiring such duties to be performed is in violation of constitutional provisions, cannot be reviewed by certiorari. Esmeralda Co. v. District Court, 18 Nev. 438, 439 (5 P. 64).

The supreme court is only authorized to review the record and proceedings of inferior courts, officers or tribunals acting in a judicial capacity and exercising judicial functions. Idem. Also, State ex rel. Beck v. Washoe Co., 23 Nev. 247, 248 (45 P. 529).

The making of an order by a board of county commissioners for the employment of a firm of attorneys in certain litigation in which the county was interested is not the exercise of judicial functions, and such order will not be reviewed on certiorari. State ex rel. Beck v. Washoe Co., 23 Nev. 247, 248 (45 P. 529).

Upon this writ the supreme court has no power to pass upon the constitutionality of an act incorporating the city of Reno nor the right of respondents to exercise the functions of city council. State ex rel. Fletcher v. Osburn, 24 Nev. 187, 190 (51 P. 837).

Certiorari is the proper remedy by which to review municipal regulations and ordinances which are judicial in nature, but should never be allowed to review such ordinances or resolutions as are legislative in character. Idem.

The determination as to the result of an election by a canvass of the returns of a city council is not a judicial act. Idem.

The determination of a city council to issue bonds in conformity with the result of an election is not a judicial act. Idem.

The revocation of a lease by a board of county commissioners is not the exercise of judicial functions, and if the lessees obtained any right under the original order, certiorari is not a proper remedy therefor. Southern Development Co. v. Douglass, 26 Nev. 50, 54.

Where the action to review which certiorari is brought is dismissed by the successful party on the service of the writ, at his own costs, the writ will also be dismissed. State ex rel. Watt v. Jones, 27 Nev. 58 (71 P. 664).

Where on service of such writ, the successful party dismisses the action, it is a confession of error, and the costs of the certiorari will be awarded petitioner, without regard to whether the case was a proper one for certiorari. Idem.

Certiorari does not lie from the supreme court to review a conviction before a justice on the ground that the statute authorizing the conviction is unconstitutional. Chapman v. Justice Court, 29 Nev. 154, 158 (86 P. 552).

Certiorari will lie from the supreme court to review a judgment rendered on appeal from conviction before a justice, though it is claimed that the district court as well as the justice court has no jurisdiction. Idem.

Certiorari will not lie in a criminal case merely because the time for taking an appeal has been suffered to elapse. Idem.

Certiorari does not lie where there is an appeal. Leonard v. Peacock, 8 Nev. 157; Nev. Cent. R. Co. v. District Court, 21 Nev. 409 (32 P. 673).

See Paul v. Armstrong, under sec. 741 of this act.

A board of county commisioners in contracting for the indexing of the records did not exercise judicial functions, and therefore the writ will not lie. State ex rel. Murphy v. White Pine Co., 31 Nev. 113, 117 (101 P. 104).

Certiorari will only lie to review the proceedings of a board exercising judicial functions, and then only when there is no other plain and adequate remedy. Idem.

Upon a return to a writ of certiorari the supreme court can only inquire whether the tribunal certifying its proceedings has, or has not, exceeded its jurisdiction. Maynard v. Railey, 2 Nev. 313, 314.

5685. Application for writ on affidavit, when court may grant.

SEC. 743. The application shall be made on affidavit by the party beneficially interested, and the court, or judge to whom the application is made, may require a notice of the application to be given to the adverse party, or may grant an order to show cause why it should not be allowed, or may grant the writ without further notice.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1069.

A writ of certiorari will not be issued to review claims against a county which have been audited, allowed and paid. State ex rel. Beck v. Washoe Co., 14 Nev. 69.

5686. The writ, to whom directed.

SEC. 744. The writ may be directed to the inferior tribunal, board, or officer, or to any other person having the custody of the record or proceedings to be certified. When directed to a tribunal, the clerk, if there be one, shall return the writ with the transcript required.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1070.

Though the return to a writ of certiorari may include, in addition to the record properly so called, such orders and proceedings in the nature of records, and as much of the evidence as may bear upon the question of jurisdiction, it cannot include matter which is neither a part of the record nor the proceedings before the inferior tribunal, such as affidavits presented to the clerk of such tribunal after the issuance of a writ or his certificate based thereon. State ex rel. Thompson v. Board of Equalization, 7 Nev. 83, 95.

5687. Idem—What to commmand.

SEC. 745. The writ of review shall command the party to whom it is directed to certify fully to the court before which the writ is returnable, at a specified time and place, and annex to the writ a transcript of the record and proceeding, describing or referring to them with convenient certainty, that the same may be reviewed by the court, and requiring the party, in the meantime, to desist from further proceedings in the matter to be reviewed.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1071.

On certiorari against the board of county commissioners, a motion by respondent, to file and make a part of the record papers not embraced in the record or proceedings of the board, should be denied. State ex rel. Hayes v. White Pine Co., 22 Nev. 80 (35 P. 485).

See State ex rel. Thompson v. Board of Equalization, under sec. 744 of this act.

No more of the facts are required to be returned to a writ of certiorari than are necessary to determine jurisdiction, and the return being deemed conclusive, no evidence, not included therein, will be received and examined. Alexander v. Archer, 21 Nev. 23 (24 P. 373).

5688. When stay of proceedings not wanted—Words requiring stay omitted.

SEC. 746. If a stay of proceedings be not intended the words requiring the stay shall be omitted from the writ. These words may be inserted or omitted, in the sound discretion of the court or the judge issuing the writ, but if omitted, the power of the inferior court or officer shall not be suspended nor the proceedings stayed.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1072.

5689. Service of writ.

SEC. 747. The writ shall be served in the same manner as a summons in civil action, except when otherwise expressly directed by the court, or judge issuing the writ.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1073.

5690. Review upon writ, extent of.

SEC. 748. The review upon this writ shall not be extended further than to determine whether the inferior tribunal, board, or officer has regularly pursued the authority of such tribunal, board, or officer.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1074.

If the court erred in allowing any costs that were not taxable against the relator, it was not an excess of jurisdiction and its action cannot be reviewed upon certiorari. State ex rel. Quinn v. District Court, 16 Nev. 76.

Order on proceedings against garnishee not reviewable on certiorari. Birchfield v. Harris, 9 Nev. 382.

Criminal proceedings instituted for offense committed upon land, jurisdiction of which has been ceded to the United States, were annulled upon certiorari. State ex rel. Jones v. Mack, 23 Nev. 359 (62 A. S. 811, 47 P. 763).

See Maynard v. Railey, under sec. 742 of this act.

See Hetzel v. Eureka Co., Phillips v. Welch, In re Wixom, State ex rel. Fletcher v. Osburn, and State ex rel. Watt v. Jones, under sec. 745 of this act.

Error in allowing costs not properly taxable against a party cannot be reviewed on certiorari. State ex rel. Thompson v. District Court, 23 Nev. 243, 246 (45 P. 467).

Certiorari does not lie when a court has jurisdiction of the parties and the subject-matter, and jurisdiction is questioned only by a supplemental answer pleading a former judgment as a bar to the action. Wilson v. Morse, 25 Nev. 375, 376 (60 P. 832).

The inquiry on a writ of certiorari will not be extended further than to determine whether the inferior tribunal has jurisdiction to make the orders complained of; and, if the record discloses that it has complete jurisdiction, any error in an order will not be considered. Kapp v. District Court, 31 Nev. 444 (103 P. 235).

Where the court has jurisdiction of divorce action, and has discretion to make such allowance to the wife as the circumstances warrant, pendente lite, the supreme court will not annul such an order by writ of certiorari. Idem.

See State ex rel. Kerr v. Pike, 32 Nev. 189 (105 P. 1022); State ex rel. Cohn v. Mack, District Judge, 26 Nev. 253; So. Development Co. v. Board of Com. Esmeralda County, 26 Nev. 51; State ex rel. Watt v. Jones, District Judge, 27 Nev. 58; Jumbo M. Co. v. Murphy, District Judge, 28 Nev. 253; Andrews v. Cook, 28 Nev. 265; Lutz v. Murphy, District Judge, 29 Nev. 152; State v. Launiza, 29 Nev. 191; Chapman v. Brissell, 29 Nev. 154.

5691. Return of writ—Procedure—Court may give judgment, effect of.

SEC. 749. If the return to the writ be defective, the court may order a further return to be made. When a full return has been made, the court shall proceed to hear the parties, or such of them as may attend for that purpose, and may thereupon give judgment, either affirming or annulling or modifying the proceedings below.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1075.

See Phillips v. Welch, under sec. 742 of this act.

A party seeking to review by certiorari a justice's judgment in an action for trespass on the ground that title to real estate was involved, cannot on rehearing in the supreme court, after the dismissal of the writ, introduce an amended record showing that a general denial of the allegations of the complaint by oral answer was entered in the justice's court. State ex rel. Launiza v. Justice Court, 29 Nev. 192, 203 (87 P. 1).

A probate court has power to issue a writ of restitution, in an action of forcible entry and unlawful detainer brought before it on certiorari. Paul v. Armstrong, 1 Nev. 82, 104.

5692. Clerk to transmit copy of judgment to officer having custody of record.

SEC. 750. A copy of the judgment, signed by the clerk, shall be transmitted to the inferior tribunal, board, or officer having the custody of the record or proceeding certified up.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1076.

If proceedings of an inferior court are annulled on certiorari, there is no further positive or affirmative action to be taken by the inferior tribunal. Leonard v. Peacock, 8 Nev. 157, 160.

In certiorari cases the judgment roll is preserved in the court granting the writ, as in the court of original jurisdiction in an ordinary case, and the copy only of the judgment is sent to the inferior tribunal. Idem.

5693. Judgment roll, what constitutes—Appeal, how taken.

SEC. 751. A copy of the judgment, signed by the clerk, entered upon or attached to the writ and return, shall constitute the judgment roll. If the proceedings be had in any other than the supreme court, an appeal may be taken from the judgment in the same manner and upon the same terms as from a judgment in a civil action.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1077.

CHAPTER 73

MANDAMUS

5694. Mandamus denominated writ of mandate.
5695. In what cases the writ may issue.
5696. Writ, when and how issued.
5697. Writ must be either alternative or peremptory—Form of.
5698. When alternative or peremptory will issue—Notice—Default—Hearing by court.
5699. Answer to writ may show cause, how made.
5700. When answer raises question of fact—Questions tried before jury.
5701. May object to sufficiency of answer and introduce proof.
5702. New trial may be had, when—Jury summoned within five days.
5703. Clerk to transmit verdict, when—Argument—Notice.
5704. If no answer filed, case how heard—If certain answer, argument to be heard.
5705. Execution may issue to enforce judgment.
5706. Writ, how served.
5707. Penalty for refusal to obey writ.

5694. Mandamus denominated writ of mandate.

SEC. 752. The writ of mandamus may be denominated the writ of mandate.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1084.

Mandamus is the proper remedy to put one into office where the title of the relator is clear, and no other person is claiming the office under color of right. State ex rel. Curtis v. McCullough, 3 Nev. 202.

The office of mandamus may be to compel the action, but it cannot be to correct the errors of an inferior court. When such court has acted, its action, however informal or erroneous, cannot be set aside or reversed by such writ. State ex rel. Treadway v. Wright, 4 Nev. 119, 123.

Cavanaugh v. Wright (2 Nev. 166), as to the propriety of mandamus to compel an inferior court to proceed with the trial, cited with approval. Idem.

A writ of mandamus requiring a board of trustees of a mining corporation to call an election, obliges them to take the proper steps for such election in the manner provided by law. Flagg v. Lady Bryan M. Co., 4 Nev. 401.

The writ of mandamus will not be issued to compel a district judge to try an action for malicious injury to real estate, transferred from a justice's court, because the district court has no jurisdiction of the offense. State ex rel. Murphy v. Rising, 10 Nev. 97.

See citations under Const., sec. 319, ante.

Mandamus is not the proper remedy when relator has a plain, speedy and adequate remedy at law. State ex rel. Elliott v. Guerrero, 12 Nev. 105.

Mandamus ought not to be issued to compel the trustees of a corporation to issue certain certificates of stock to relator where it appears, from the petition, that the stock is also claimed by other persons not parties to the proceedings before the court. Idem.

5695. In what cases the writ may issue.

SEC. 753. It may be issued by the supreme court, a district court, or a judge of the district court, to compel the performance of an act which the law especially enjoins as a duty resulting from an office, trust, or station; or to compel the admission of a party to the use and enjoyment of a right or office to which he is entitled, and from which he is unlawfully precluded by such inferior tribunal, corporation, board, or person. When issued by a district court or a judge of the district court it shall be made returnable before the district court.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1085.

Regarding jurisdiction of supreme court and district courts and judges to issue writs of mandamus, see Const., secs. 319, 321.

See Curtis v. McCullough and State ex rel. Treadway v. Wright, under sec. 752 of this act.

See citations of State ex rel. White v. Dickerson, under secs. 294 and 300, ante.

A mandamus will not issue to require the performance of a duty, unless it appears that the defendant has it in his power to perform the duty required. State ex rel. McGuire v. Waterman, 5 Nev. 323, 326.

The service of the alternative writ of mandamus upon the president of a corporation held sufficient in this case. The better practice is to serve each individual trustee. State ex rel. Sears v. Wright, 10 Nev. 174.

A mandamus directed against the individual trustees of a corporation is virtually the same as if directed against the board of trustees, and is sufficient. Idem.

The verification to a petition for mandamus in the form of a jurat to ordinary affidavits is sufficient. Idem.

To entitle a party to intervene in proceedings for a writ of mandamus, it must be shown that the applicant would either gain or lose by the direct legal operation or effect of any decision that might be rendered. Idem.

Before relator can obtain the writ of mandamus, he must establish sufficient facts to show that he has a legal right to have something done by respondents which they had refused to do. Idem.

The relator should not be compelled to contest his rights against third persons; the investigation should be limited to such facts as are necessary to determine the rights of the parties properly before the courts. Idem.

The mere fact that an action or proceeding will lie does not necessarily supersede the remedy by mandamus. The relator must not only have a specific, adequate and legal remedy, but it must be one competent to afford relief upon the very subject-matter of his application. Idem.

When the question is one of public rights, and the object of the writ of mandamus is to procure the enforcement of a public duty, the relator is not required to show that he has any legal or special interest in the result; he is interested, as a citizen, in having the laws executed and the right enforced. State ex rel. Piper v. Gracey, 11 Nev. 223, 233.

A private citizen and a taxpayer has such a direct and special interest in the collection of county taxes as entitles him to move for and prosecute the writ of mandamus to enforce that duty upon the part of public officers. Idem.

The proceeding by mandamus is a civil remedy having all the qualities and attributes of a civil action, and is applied solely for the protection of civil rights. Idem.

The alternative writ and the return thereto are usually regarded as constituting the pleadings, the writ standing in the place of the complaint and the return taking the place of the plea or answer in an ordinary action at law. Idem.

To justify the issuance of the writ to enforce the performance of an act by a public officer, the act must be one the performance of which the law specially enjoins as a duty resulting from his office, and an actual omission upon the part of the officer to perform. Idem.

The relator must show not only that the officer has failed to perform the required duty, but that the performance thereof is actually due from him at the time of the application. Idem.

The court cannot anticipate that a public officer will not perform his duties within the time prescribed by statute, and an actual default or omission of duty is just as essential a prerequisite to the issuance of the writ as is the want of an adequate remedy in the ordinary course of law. Idem.

Mandamus will not issue to compel a county treasurer to make a statement after his term of office has expired. State ex rel. Storey Co. v. Kirman, 17 Nev. 380, 381 (30 P. 1075).

Mandamus is the only speedy and adequate means by which a person entitled to a position of superintendent of a mining company, which he is unlawfully precluded from, may be placed in the enjoyment of the right which he claims. State ex rel. Ryan v. Cronan, 23 Nev. 437, 446 (49 P. 41).

Mandamus is the proper remedy to enforce the right of a licensed attorney to appear for his client, who is being prosecuted for an offense before a court-martial. State ex rel. Huffaker v. Crosby, 24 Nev. 116, 123 (77 A. S. 786, 50 P. 127).

Mandamus lies to compel commissioners to consider a petition to reduce a tax levy, but not to control exercise of their discretion in making a levy with the limitations prescribed by statute, where some tax must be levied (Talbot, C. J., dissenting). State ex rel. Holley v. Boerlin, 30 Nev. 473, 491, 494 (98 P. 402).

Mandamus does not lie to compel county commissioners to meet and abate a special tax levy where they have met and denied a petition to abate, though they have exceeded their powers. Idem.

Mandamus will not lie where there is a plain, speedy and adequate remedy at law. Idem.

Mandamus will not lie unless a clear legal right to the remedy is shown. Idem.

An order refusing to transfer a cause to United States court should be reviewed by appeal, and not by mandamus. State ex rel. Combination S. M. Co. v. Curler, 4 Nev. 445.

A registry agent may be compelled by mandamus to register the names of all persons applying and entitled under the constitution to vote. Davies v. McKeeby, 5 Nev. 369.

Where a discretion is to be exercised by an officer as to the manner in which an act may be done or the act depends upon his judgment, a writ of mandate directed to him will not control his discretion, but only command him to act without in any way interfering with the manner of his action; but where a specific act is required to be done, and no discretion given, the writ may command the doing of the very act itself. Humboldt Co. v. Churchill Co., 6 Nev. 31.

When the performance of the duty sought to be enforced is of a character that could not be expected to be performed until demanded, the writ should not issue until demand made; but when the law unconditionally requires the doing of the specified act, no demand is necessary. Idem.

Where county commissioners were by statute absolutely required to set apart certain funds in the treasury for a specific purpose, and refused or neglected to do so, it was held that mandamus was the only plain, speedy and adequate remedy to compel them to do their duty. Idem.

Where the trustees of a public school refuse to admit a negro properly qualified for admission as a pupil in such school, an application for mandamus to compel such admission should be granted. State ex rel. Stoutmeyer v. Duffy, 7 Nev. 342 (8 A. R. 713).

Mandamus lies to compel an inferior tribunal to exercise its judgment and render a decision, when a failure of justice would otherwise result from delay or refusal to act; but it does not lie to review or correct its conclusions after it has acted. State v. Com. Eureka Co., 8 Nev. 309.

In a case where ejectment affords a plain, speedy and adequate remedy, mandamus cannot be maintained. Washoe Co. v. Hatch, 9 Nev. 357.

Costs, how taxed. State ex rel. Watkins v. Bonnifield, 10 Nev. 401.

Mandamus is not the proper remedy to try title to a public office. Denver v. Hobart, 10 Nev. 28.

If the acts which the state controller refuses to perform concern the public interests and are such as the law requires to be performed by him, the writ of mandamus should issue to compel the performance of such duty. State ex rel. Drake v. Hobart, 12 Nev. 408.

If the district court refuses to try a cause on the ground that it has no jurisdiction, the writ of mandamus will be issued to compel the court to hear and decide the cause upon its merits. Floral Springs W. Co. v. Rives, 14 Nev. 431.

Where the law specially enjoins a duty upon the county commissioners and leaves them no discretion, mandamus is the proper remedy to enforce performance of the law. Mau v. Liddle, 15 Nev. 271.

A writ of mandamus should not be issued before respondent is in actual default. State ex rel. Ah Chew v. Rising, 15 Nev. 164.

A subordinate body can be directed to act, but not how to act, in a matter as to which it has the right to exercise its judgment; and where it is vested with power to determine a question of fact, the duty is judicial, and however erroneous its decision may be, it cannot be compelled by mandamus to alter its determination. Hoole v. Kinkead, 16 Nev. 217.

Mandamus is the proper remedy to compel a district judge to settle a statement on motion for a new trial where it is his duty to settle the statement. State ex rel. Keane v. Murphy, 19 Nev. 89 (6 P. 840).

The rule that mandamus will not issue to control discretion, or revive judicial action, has no application to the determination or preliminary questions relating to the settlement of a statement on motion for a new trial. Idem.

Mandamus will not lie against the state controller to compel him to issue a warrant in any greater amount than audited and allowed by the board of examiners. State ex rel. Lyon Co. v. Hallock, 20 Nev. 326 (22 P. 123).

Where there are two or more simultaneous applicants for the same lands, and neither claims the preferred right by reason of prior occupancy or possession, mandamus to the land register to compel him to sell to one applicant, in preference to the others, will be denied. State ex rel. Sohl v. Preble, 20 Nev. 44 (14 P. 586).

Where there is but one applicant claiming a preferred right to purchase lands, the register should proceed at once to enter into a contract with the applicant, provided his claim presents a prima facie case, and was filed in time, and his duty in this respect, being ministerial, may be enforced by mandamus. State ex rel. Springer v. Preble, 20 Nev. 38 (14 P. 584).

Where a justice has dismissed an action, a writ of mandamus will not lie to compel him to proceed and try the action, although such dismissal was error. N. C. R. R. Co. v. District Court, 21 Nev. 409 (32 P. 673).

Where a board of commissioners, without legal justification, refuses to allow a claim based upon a judgment regularly obtained against the county, mandamus is the proper remedy. State ex rel. Humboldt Co. v. Lander Co., 22 Nev. 71 (35 P. 300).

The writ of mandamus should be resorted to only when the usual and ordinary remedies fail to afford adequate relief, and without it there would be a failure of justice. State ex rel. Torreyson v. Storey Co., 22 Nev. 263 (38 P. 668).

A petition for mandamus must show on its face a clear legal right to that for which it is sought in the proceeding. State ex rel. Pyne v. La Grave, 22 Nev. 417 (41 P. 115).

Mandamus is never granted in anticipation of a supposed omission of duty, however strong the presumption may be that the persons whom it is sought to coerce by the writ will refuse to perform their duty when the proper time arrives, nor will the writ issue unless the relator shows a clear legal right to the relief demanded. State ex rel. Shaw v. Noyes, 25 Nev. 32 (56 P. 946).

On filing an application for mandamus, the general practice of the supreme court is to issue an order to respondents to show cause why the relief asked should not be granted. State ex rel. Gleeson v. Jumbo Ex. M. Co., 30 Nev. 192 (133 A. S. 715, 94 P. 74).

While there is little difference whether the issues on a mandamus proceeding are raised by a motion to quash a citation or by demurrer, it is the better practice to raise any objection by demurrer or answer. Idem.

Where an affidavit for mandamus was entitled against a corporation and individuals, who were its directors, separate demurrers filed by the individual defendants and respondents are proper. Idem.

Mandamus to compel the issuance and delivery of the stock of a corporation will not lie unless the stock sought to be recovered has some pecuniary or special value peculiar in itself, differing from that of other like shares, or unless the shares are detained and the control of some corporation is at issue, and by securing the shares in question the party applying for a writ would obtain control; and in such cases it must affirmatively appear from the petition that the relator has a clear legal right to their possession and that he has no plain, speedy and adequate remedy at law. Idem.

See Turley v. Thomas, 31 Nev. 181.

Mandamus will issue to compel a judge who was of counsel in an action previous to his appointment as judge to change the place of trial of such action to some other judicial district, although no motion for that purpose was ever made in open court, where the application for the change, signed by petitioner's attorneys, was presented to the judge, the originals later being properly filed, and the motion for removal was informally made, and a list of authorities forwarded to him, he being engaged in judicial duties in another county, and, from his reasons for refusal, it was evident that he would not have granted the motion, had it been formally made. (Talbot, J., dissenting). State ex rel. Gamble et al. v. Murphy, 27 Nev. 233.

Mandamus will not lie to compel the assessor, after once making valuation of property for the purpose of taxation, to makes a revaluation, though the court finds the valuation fixed to be excessive. Hardin v. Guthrie, 26 Nev. 246.

As to when county treasurer will be compelled to apportion license money to state and city funds. State ex rel. City of Reno v. Boyd, 27 Nev. 249.

A writ of mandamus will issue to compel a district judge to settle statement on motion for new trial preliminary to appeal in estate proceedings to set aside a homestead to the widow. State ex rel. Cook v. Langan, 32 Nev. 176 (105 P. 568).

Mandamus will not lie where there is a plain, speedy, and adequate remedy, by motion to dismiss an appeal, for determination of the same matter. An appeal from an order setting aside a default entered by the clerk is not within the cases set forth in the section of the civil practice act providing when an appeal may be taken, and therefore mandamus will not lie. State ex rel. Botsford v. Langan, 29 Nev. 459 (91 P. 737).

The question whether the court has exceeded his power and jurisdiction cannot be determined in mandamus. State ex rel. Office Specialty Co. v. Curler, 26 Nev. 347.

Where relator's complaint for divorce against his wife alleged that the acts constituting the cause of action were committed by defendant before she became insane, her subsequent insanity constituted no ground for the trial court's refusal to try the cause which was at issue, during the continuance of such insanity. Where the trial judge did not deny or answer the allegation of a petition for mandamus, that he had refused ever to try petitioner's divorce case on account of the insanity of the defendant, such allegation would be regarded as admitted. State ex rel. Bachelder v. Murphy, 29 Nev. 149.

As to when controller will be compelled to draw warrant for salary of an appointive officer where an appropriation has been made by the legislature. See State ex rel. Davis v. Eggers, 29 Nev. 469, 16 L. R. A. (N. S.) 630, 91 P. 819; State ex rel. Fowler v. Eggers, 33 Nev. — (112 P. 699).

See, also, State ex rel. Mighels v. Eggers, 34 Nev. —.

As to when mandamus will lie to compel officers of mining company to stamp mining stock "treasury stock" or "promotion stock." "Treasury stock" and "promotion stock" defined. See State ex rel. Moore v. Man. Verde Co., 32 Nev. 474 (109 P. 442). See, also, State ex rel. Miles v. Wedge, 27 Nev. 63.

5696. Writ, when and how issued.

SEC. 754. This writ shall be issued in all cases where there is not a plain, speedy, and adequate remedy in the ordinary course of law. It shall be issued upon affidavit, on the application of the party beneficially interested.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1086.

See State ex rel. Piper v. Gracey, State ex rel. Sears v. Wright, State ex rel. Ryan v. Cronan, State ex rel. Huffaker v. Crosby, and State ex rel. Holley v. Boerlin, under sec. 753 of this act.

The writ of mandamus will not be issued in a case where petitioner has a plain, speedy and adequate remedy at law. Mayberry v. Bowker, 14 Nev. 336, 340.

In view of the provisions of the above section, the old rule of practice, according to which mandamus proceedings are instituted in the name of the state upon the relation of the party interested, will not be disturbed. State ex rel. Office S. M. Co. v. Curler, 26 Nev. 347, 353 (67 P. 1075).

Under Stats. 1901, 93, it was held that, where the district judge heard the petition of a person claiming the benefit of the statute, but refused to appoint appraisers, mandamus would not issue to compel the judge to make such appointment, since the power to hear, given to him by the statute, involved the power to determine, and the determination upon such hearing being a judicial act, it could not be reviewed by mandamus. Idem.

The question whether the court has exceeded his power and jurisdiction cannot be determined in mandamus. Idem.

See State ex rel. Curtis v. McCullough, under sec. 752 of this act.

Where a district court refused to transfer a cause pending in it to a United States court, and mandamus was applied for to compel such transfer, it was held that such was not the proper remedy, for the reason that the writ could only direct the court below to act, not how to act, and that to entertain the application would be in effect to review judicial action, which is not the function of mandamus. State ex rel. Comb. S. M. Co. v. Curler, 4 Nev. 445, 447.

5697. Writ must be either alternative or peremptory—Form of.

SEC. 755. The writ shall be either alternative or peremptory. The alternative writ shall state generally the allegation against the party to whom it is directed, and command such party, immediately, after the receipt of the writ, or at some other specified time, to do the act required to be performed, or to show cause before the court, at a specified time and place, why he has not done so. The peremptory writ shall be in a similar form, except that the words requiring the party to show cause why he has not done as commanded shall be omitted, and a return day shall be inserted.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1087.

5698. When alternative or peremptory will issue—Notice—Default—Hearing by court.

SEC. 756. When the application to the court or district judge is made without notice to the adverse party, and the writ is allowed, the alternative shall be first issued; but if the application be upon due notice, and the writ is allowed, the peremptory may be issued in the first instance. The notice of the application, when given, shall be at least ten days. The writ shall not be granted by default. The case shall be heard by the court, whether the adverse party appear or not.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1088.

5699. Answer to writ may show cause, how made.

SEC. 757. On the return day of the alternative, or the day on which the application of the writ is noticed, or such further day as the court or district judge issuing the writ may allow, the party on whom the writ or notice shall have been served may show cause by answer under oath, made in the same manner as an answer to a complaint in a civil action.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1089.

It being shown by the affidavit and answer that relator was entitled to the office when he applied for the alternative writ, and so also when the original answer was filed, he is entitled to his costs incurred up to that time. State ex rel. Curtis v. McCullough, 3 Nev. 203, 223.

5700. When answer raises question of fact—Question tried before jury.

SEC. 758. If an answer is made, which raises a question as to matter of fact essential to the determination of the motion, and affecting the substantial rights of the parties, and upon the supposed truth of the allegation of which the application for a writ is based, the court may, in its discretion, order the question to be tried before a jury, and postpone the argument until such trial can be had and the verdict certified to the court. The question to be tried shall be distinctly stated in the order for trial, and the county shall be designated in which the same shall be had.

The order may also direct the jury to assess any damages which the applicant may have sustained, in case they find for him.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1090.

5701. May object to sufficiency of answer and introduce proof.

SEC. 759. On the trial the applicant shall not be precluded by the answer, of any valid objection to its sufficiency, and may contravail it by proof either in direct denial or by way of avoidance.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1091.

5702. New trial may be had, when—Jury summoned within five days.

SEC. 760. If either party is dissatisfied with the verdict of the jury, he may move for a new trial upon the minutes of the court as provided in section 379. The motion for a new trial may, upon reasonable notice, be brought on before the judge of the court in which the cause was tried either in term or vacation. If a new trial be granted, the jury shall, within five days thereafter, unless the parties agree on a longer time, be summoned to try the issue. After a second verdict in favor of the same party, a new trial shall not be had.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1092.

5703. Clerk to transmit verdict, when—Argument—Notice.

SEC. 761. If no notice for a new trial be given, or, if given, be denied, the clerk, within five days after the rendition of the verdict, or denial of the motion, shall transmit to the court in which the application for the writ is pending, a certified copy of the verdict, attached to the order of trial; after which either party may bring on the argument of the application, upon reasonable notice to the adverse party.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1093.

5704. If no answer filed, case how heard—If certain answer, argument to be heard.

SEC. 762. If no answer be made, the case shall be heard on the papers of the applicant. If an answer be made which does not raise a question such as is mentioned in section 758, but only such matters as may be explained or avoided by a reply, the court may, in its discretion, grant time for replying. If the answer, or answer and reply, raise only questions of law, or put in issue immaterial statements, not affecting the substantial rights of the parties, the court shall proceed to hear, or fix a day for hearing, the argument of the case.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1094.

See State ex rel. Piper v. Gracey, under sec. 753 of this act.

5705. Execution may issue to enforce judgment.

SEC. 763. If judgment be given for the applicant, he shall recover the damages which he shall have sustained as found by the jury, or as may be determined by the court or referees, upon a reference to be ordered, together with costs; and for such damages and costs an execution may issue, and peremptory mandate shall also be awarded without delay.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1095.

5706. Writ, how served.

SEC. 764. The writ shall be served in the same manner as a summons in a civil action, except when otherwise expressly directed by the order of the court or district judge issuing the writ.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1096.

This section seems expressly to authorize the court to make the writ returnable at any time. State ex rel. Curtis v. McCullough, 3 Nev. 214.

5707. Penalty for refusal to obey writ.

SEC. 765. When a peremptory mandate has been issued and directed to any inferior tribunal, corporation, board, or person, if it appear to the court that any member of such tribunal, corporation, or board, or such person, upon whom the writ has been personally served, has, without just excuse, refused or neglected to obey the same, the court may, after notice and hearing adjudge the party guilty of contempt and upon motion, impose a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars. In case of persistence in a refusal of obedience, the court may order the party to be imprisoned for a period not exceeding three months and may make any orders necessary and proper for the complete enforcement of the writ. If a fine be imposed upon a judge or officer who draws a salary from the state or county, a certified copy of the order shall be forwarded to the controller or county treasurer, as the case may be, and the amount thereof may be retained from the salary of such judge or officer. Such judge or officer for his wilful disobedience shall also be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor in office. Service upon a majority of the members of any board or body is service upon the board or body, whether at the time of the service the board or body was in session or not.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1096, 1097.

CHAPTER 74

PROHIBITION

5708. Writ of prohibition defined.

SEC. 766. The writ of prohibition is the counterpart of the writ of mandate. It arrests the proceedings of any tribunal, corporation, board, or person, whether exercising functions judicial or ministerial, when such proceedings are without or in excess of the jurisdiction of such tribunal, corporation, board, or person.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1102.

5709. Where and when issued.

SEC. 767. It may be issued only by the supreme court, to an inferior tribunal, or to a corporation, board, or person, in all cases where there is not a plain, speedy and adequate remedy in the ordinary course of law. It is issued upon affidavit, on the application of the person beneficially interested.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1103.

Regarding jurisdiction of supreme court to issue writs of prohibition, see Const., sec. 319.

5710. Writ may be alternative or peremptory—Form of.

SEC. 768. The writ must be either alternative or peremptory. The alternative writ must state generally the allegation against the party to whom it is directed and command such party to desist or refrain from further proceedings in the action or matter specified therein, until the further order of the court from which it is issued, and to show cause before such court, at a specified time and place, why such party should not be absolutely restrained from any further proceedings in such action or matter.

The peremptory writ must be in a similar form, except that the words requiring the party to show cause why he should not be absolutely restrained, etc., must be omitted and a return day inserted.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1104.

The order of prohibition may issue from the supreme court in a proper case to arrest the progress of a trial. But such order should not issue where there is other and adequate remedy. The office of such writ is not to correct errors, but to prevent courts transcending the boundaries of their jurisdiction. Upon a writ of prohibition we cannot review an interlocutory order made in the court below. That can only be reviewed on appeal from the final judgment. Low v. Crown Point M. Co., 2 Nev. 75, 77.

If the district court did not have power to proceed originally by indictment in a criminal case, prohibition is the proper remedy to prevent it from taking jurisdiction. Moore v. Orr, 30 Nev. 458 (90 P. 398).

A writ of prohibition will not issue to prevent an inferior court from trying an action once properly before it, but claimed to have been afterwards dismissed, as the question of dismissal was a proper one for the inferior court to decide; nor will the writ issue upon the claim that the action has been transferred to the circuit court of the United States, as that question is also a proper one for the inferior court to decide, subject to appeal, and for the further reason that the decision of this court would not be final should the United States court decide otherwise and remand the action to the state court for trial, and in either event error in the inferior court is only reviewable on appeal or by petition to the United States court. Walcott v. Wells, 21 Nev. 47 (37 A. S. 478, 9 L. R. A. 59, 24 P. 367).

A writ of prohibition cannot ordinarily be used to correct errors by inferior tribunals, and will not issue either in civil or criminal proceedings, where there is an adequate remedy by appeal or writ of certiorari.

Where an action was brought to recover possession of certain mining ground on an agreement containing a provision for plaintiff's taking possession of and working the mines, and the court had original jurisdiction to hear and determine the issues, if it erred in ordering judgment for plaintiff for possession and for an accounting, or for damages for defendant's refusal to deliver possession under the agreement, its decision was reviewable by appeal only, and not on a writ of prohibition.

Where defendants, in an action to recover a mining claim, contended that a provision of the decree in favor of plaintiff and directing an accounting was not within the issues, whether the court had jurisdiction to decree such an accounting was reviewable by appeal, and not by a writ of prohibition. Silver Peak Mines v. Second Judicial District Court, 33 Nev. — (110 P. 503).

While the great function of the writ of prohibition is to restrain courts and judicial tribunals from exceeding their jurisdiction, nevertheless, the writ has not been restricted exclusively to such class of cases, but it has run to other officers exercising or attempting to exercise judicial or quasi-judicial functions beyond their powers, where no other adequate remedy existed. State ex rel. Schloss v. Stevens, 33 Nev. — (116 P. 105).

The power conferred upon the supreme court to issue writs of mandamus, quo warranto, and other writs is an original jurisdiction, and not merely auxiliary to its appellate jurisdiction. Curtis v. McCullough, 3 Nev. 202, 214, 215, 216.

Where petitioners were sought to be removed from office for malfeasance, under our law, authorizing the filing of a complaint by a private complainant, the hearing of the matter by summary proceedings, and declaring that, if an appeal is taken from an order of removal, the officer removed shall not occupy the office pending appeal, and it was claimed that such sections were unconstitutional, petitioners' remedy by appeal was not adequate, and they were therefore entitled to a determination of the constitutionality of the statute on writ of prohibition to restrain the further prosecution of the removal proceedings against them. Bell v. District Court, 28 Nev. 280.

The writ of prohibition will not lie to restrain a judge of the district court from canvassing the returns from an election precinct in an election contest, since the party aggrieved by an erroneous action of the court has an adequate remedy by appeal. Turner v. Langan, 29 Nev. 281.

Proceedings for contempt being quasi-criminal, the petition or affidavit must show contempt before the court has jurisdiction to punish, and where the court attempts to punish for violation of a void order by referees, prohibition will issue, and the party is not required to review by appeal. Cline v. Langan, 31 Nev. 239.

Where a court; in appointing a receiver of a bank, had no jurisdiction of the proceeding because necessary parties had not been served with notice, prohibition is the proper remedy to restrain the court and the receivers appointed from proceeding under the order appointing the receiver and all orders subsequent thereto and based thereon. Golden v. District Court, 31 Nev. 250.

CHAPTER 75

GENERAL PROVISIONS AS TO CERTIORARI, MANDAMUS AND PROHIBITION

5711. Court may order return and hearing at any time.

SEC. 769. Writs of certiorari, mandamus, and prohibition may, in the discretion of the court, or judge issuing the writ, be made returnable and a hearing thereon be had at any time.

5712. Civil procedure applicable—Exception.

SEC. 770. Except as otherwise provided in the three chapters next preceding, the provisions of this code relative to civil actions in the district courts are applicable to and constitute the rules of practice in the proceedings mentioned in those chapters.

5713. New trials and appeals.

SEC. 771. The provisions of this act relative to new trials in, and appeals from the district court, except so far as they are inconsistent with the provisions of the three chapters next preceding, apply to the proceedings mentioned in those chapters.

See section 319 State Constitution and authorities thereunder cited, pages 93-95, ante.

CHAPTER 76

JUSTICES' COURTS—JURISDICTION

5714. Justices' courts, where held—Always open—Jurisdiction.

SEC. 772. The courts held by justices of the peace are denominated justices' courts. They shall have no terms, but shall always be open. Justices' courts shall be held in their respective townships, precincts or cities.

Justices' courts shall have jurisdiction of the following actions and proceedings:

1. In actions arising on contract for the recovery of money only if the sum claimed, exclusive of interest, does not exceed three hundred dollars.

2. In actions for damages for injury to the person, or for taking, detaining, or injuring personal property, or for injury to real property where no issue is raised by the verified answer of the defendant involving the title to or possession of the same, if the damage claimed does not exceed three hundred dollars.

3. In actions for a fine, penalty, or forfeiture, not exceeding three hundred dollars, given by statute, or the ordinance of an incorporated or unincorporated city, where no issue is raised by the answer involving the legality of any tax, impost, assessment, toll, or municipal fine.

4. In actions upon bonds or undertakings conditioned for the payment of money, if the sum claimed does not exceed three hundred dollars, though the penalty may exceed that sum.

5. Of an action upon a surety bond or undertaking, though the penalty exceed, if the amount claimed does not exceed three hundred dollars.

6. In actions to recover the possession of personal property if the value of such property does not exceed three hundred dollars.

7. To take and enter judgment on the confession of a defendant, when the amount confessed, exclusive of interest, does not exceed three hundred dollars.

8. Of actions for the possession of lands and tenements, where the relation of landlord and tenant exists.

9. Of actions when the possession of lands and tenements has been unlawfully or fraudulently obtained or withheld, in which case the proceedings shall be as prescribed by the acts upon that subject.

10. Of suits for the collection of taxes, where the amount of the tax sued for does not exceed three hundred dollars.

11. Concurrent jurisdiction with the district courts of actions for the enforcement of mechanics' liens, where the amount of the lien sought to be enforced, exclusive of interest, does not exceed three hundred dollars.

The jurisdiction conferred by this section shall not extend to a civil action, in which the title of real property or mining claims, or questions affecting the boundaries of land, are involved, or to actions to enforce mechanics' liens; and if questions of title to real property be involved, cases involving such questions shall be disposed of as hereinafter provided in this act.

Regarding jurisdiction of justices of the peace, see Const., sec. 323. Jurisdiction in criminal cases, sec. 4851; extends to limits of the county, sec. 7470.

Trials before justice of the peace for misdemeanors, sec. 7470, et seq.

Duties of as committing magistrate, sec. 6929, et seq.
In case of illness or absence may call another, sec. 4926.
Ex officio registry agent, and as such may appoint deputy, sec. 1705.
Violation of town ordinances, see sec. 866.
Proceedings for sale of personal property for taxes, sec. 3679.
See Children, sec. 741, 742.
Official bond and oath, sec. 4927.
See Const., sec. 321, 323.

Consent of parties cannot give jurisdiction. Paul v. Armstrong, 1 Nev. 82, 100.

Courts of justices of the peace, being mere creatures of statutes, have no jurisdiction except that which is expressly granted them by law. Paul v. Beegan 1 Nev. 327, 330, 331.

When any rights are claimed by virtue of a judgment of a court of special or limited jurisdiction, all the facts necessary to confer jurisdiction must be affirmatively shown. Mallett v. Uncle Sam G. & S. M. Co., 1 Nev. 188.

A mere recital in a transcript from a justice's docket that defendant was duly served is not sufficient. Before the transcript can be admitted to establish the rights of one holding under the judgment of a justice, the facts in regard to the service of summons must appear. McDonald v. Prescott, 2 Nev. 109.

Under sec. 539, Stats. 1869, 196, it was decided: Justices of the peace have jurisdiction to try an action for malicious injury to real estate in cases where the defendant claims an adverse title to the property. State ex rel. Murphy v. Rising, 10 Nev. 97.

Stats. 1869, 196, sec. 509, provides that in cases where the damages claimed for an injury to real property do not exceed $300, the justices' courts shall have jurisdiction. Secs. 1 and 2, Stats. 1893, 30, provide for damages against anyone raising live stock on land to which another has title, or on which first payment has been made by another. A complaint filed in the district court alleged trespass by defendant's sheep on plaintiff's land to his damage in the sum of $100. Defendant demurred for lack of jurisdiction because of the amount involved. It was held that, no issue being made save that of law raised by demurrer, the court could not have known whether title to real estate be involved, and properly sustained a demurrer. Dangberg v. Ruhenstroth, 26 Nev. 455, 459 (70 P. 320).

Courts of justices of the peace, being of special and limited jurisdiction, can take nothing by intendment or implication. Paul v. Armstrong, 1 Nev. 82.

Where a statute prescribes the mode of acquiring jurisdiction, that mode must be complied with or the proceedings will be a nullity. Idem.

A justice of the peace has jurisdiction of an action against a county for a sum less than $300. Floral Springs W. Co. v. Rives, 14 Nev. 431.

CHAPTER 77

JUSTICES' COURTS—PLACE OF TRIAL

5715. Actions, in what township or city may be commenced.
5716. Place of trial may be changed in certain cases.
5717. Limitation on the right to change.
5718. To what court transferred.
5719. Proceedings after order changing place of trial.
5720. Effect of an order changing place of trial.
5721. Transfer of cases to the district court.

5715. Actions, in what township or city may be commenced.

SEC. 773. Actions in justices' courts must be commenced, and, subject to the right to change the place of trial, as in this chapter provided, must be tried:

1. If there is no justices' court for the township or city in which the defendant resides: in any city or township of the county in which he resides.

2. When two or more persons are jointly, or jointly and severally, bound in any debt or contract, or otherwise jointly liable in the same action, and reside in different townships or different cities of the same county, or in different counties: in the township or city in which any of the persons liable may reside.

3. In cases of injury to the person or property: in the township or city where the injury was committed, or where the defendant resides.

4. If for the recovery of personal property, or the value thereof, or damages for taking or detaining the same: in the township or city in which the property may be found, or in which the property was taken, or in which the defendant resides.

5. When the defendant is a nonresident of the county: in any township or city wherein he may be found.

6. When the defendant is a nonresident of the state: in any township or city in the state.

7. When a person has contracted to perform an obligation at a particular place, and resides in another county, township, or city: in the township or city in which such obligation is to be performed, or in which he resides; and the township or city in which the obligation is incurred shall be deemed to be the township or city in which it is to be performed, unless there is a special contract to the contrary.

8. When the parties voluntarily appear and plead without summons: in any township or city in the state.

9. In all other cases: in the township or city in which the defendant resides.

Kerr, C. C. P., 832.

If a judgment be rendered by a justice of the peace in a case in which he has acquired no jurisdiction, his action is void; and where there is no other plain, speedy and adequate remedy, it will be annulled on certiorari. Roy v. Whitford, 9 Nev. 370, 372.

5716. Place of trial may be changed in certain cases.

SEC. 774. The court may, at any time before the trial, on motion, change the place of trial in the following cases:

1. When it appears to the satisfaction of the justice before whom the action is pending, by affidavit of either party, that such justice is a material witness for either party.

2. When either party makes and files an affidavit that he believes that he cannot have a fair and impartial trial before such justice, by reason of the interest, prejudice, or bias of the justice.

3. When a jury has been demanded, and either party makes and files an affidavit that he cannot have a fair and impartial trial, on account of the bias or prejudice of the citizens of the township or city against him.

4. When, from any cause, the justice is disqualified from acting.

5. When the justice is sick or unable to act.

In lieu of changing the place of trial, the justice before whom the action is pending, may for any of the cases mentioned in the 1, 2, 4 and 5 subdivisions of this section call another justice of the county to conduct the trial.

Kerr, C. C. P., 833.

5717. Limitation on the right to change.

SEC. 775. The place of trial cannot be changed, on motion of the same party, more than once, upon any or all the grounds specified in the first, second, and third subdivisions of the preceding section.

Kerr, C. C. P., 834.

5718. To what court transferred.

SEC. 776. When the court orders the place of trial to be changed, the action must be transferred for trial to a court the parties may agree upon; and if they do not so agree, then to another justice's court in the same county.

Kerr, C. C. P., 835.

5719. Proceedings after order changing place of trial.

SEC. 777. After an order has been made, transferring the action for trial to another court, the following proceedings must be had:

1. The justice ordering the transfer must immediately transmit to the justice of the court to which it is transferred, on payment by the party applying of all the costs that have accrued, all the papers in the action, together with a certified transcript from his docket of the proceedings therein.

2. Upon the receipt by him of such papers, the justice to whom the case is transferred has thereafter the same jurisdiction over the action as though it had been commenced in his court. He must issue a notice, stating when and where the trial will take place, which notice must be served upon the parties at least one day before the time fixed for trial.

Kerr, C. C. P., 836.

5720. Effect of an order changing place of trial.

SEC. 778. From the time the order changing the place of trial is made the court to which the action is thereby transferred has the same jurisdiction over it as though it had been commenced in such court.

Kerr, C. C. P., 837.

5721. Transfer of cases to the district court.

SEC. 779. The parties to an action in a justice's court cannot give evidence upon any question which involves the title or possession of real property, or the legality of any tax, impost, assessment, toll, or municipal fine; nor can any issue presenting such question be tried by such court; and if it appear, from the plaintiff's own showing on the trial, or from the answer of the defendant, verified by his oath, that the determination of the action will necessarily involve the question of title or possession to real property, or the legality of any tax, impost, assessment, toll, or municipal fine, the justice must suspend all further proceedings in the action and certify the pleadings, and, if any of the pleadings are oral, a transcript of the same, from his docket to the clerk of the district court of the county; and from the time of filing such pleadings or transcript with the clerk, the district court shall have over the action the same jurisdiction as if it had been commenced therein; provided, that in cases of forcible entry and detainer, of which justices' courts have jurisdiction, any evidence, otherwise competent, may be given, and any question properly involved therein may be determined.

Kerr, C. C. P., 838.
See sec. 833.

Where the trial of a case in a justice's court, involves a question of possession and right of possession of real estate, the case should be transferred to the district court. Tull v. Anderson, 15 Nev. 426.

Where plaintiff suing in a justice's court for trespass on land gave no evidence of his title by patent, deed, prior possession or otherwise, to any part of the land, the justice had jurisdiction to enter judgment for defendant for the costs, title to land not being involved. State ex rel. Launiza v. Justice Court, 29 Nev. 191, 198 (87 P. 1).

Where, in trespass on land, action brought in a justice's court, and plaintiff did not prove ownership to the land, and there was no evidence that the same belonged to a third person, and defendant made no claim to the land, title to land was not necessarily involved. Idem.

A justice of the peace cannot certify a case to the district court, on the ground that title to real estate is involved, unless it appears by the verified answer or on plaintiff's own showing that title is involved. Idem.

See Const., sec. 323, ante.

It may be that the district court would have power to remand in cases where a justice of the peace had erroneously certified a case to the district court upon the mistaken theory that a question involving title to real estate, or the legality of a tax, impost, assessment, toll or municipal fine was involved. Bancroft v. Pike, 33 Nev. — (110 P. 2).

CHAPTER 78

MANNER OF COMMENCING ACTIONS IN JUSTICES' COURTS

5722. Actions, how commenced.
5723. Summons may issue within a year.
5724. Defendant may waive summons.
5725. Parties may appear in person or by attorney.
5726. When guardian necessary, appointed, how.

5727. Summons, how issued, directed, and what to contain.
5728. Time for appearance of defendant.
5729. Alias summons.
5730. Same.
5731. Summons, limitation on service of.
5732. Summons, by whom and how served.
5733. Notice of hearing.

5722. Actions, how commenced.

SEC. 780. An action in a justice's court is commenced by filing a complaint and the issuance of a summons thereon.

Kerr, C. C. P., 839.

An account was filed in the justice's court against "Irving, McKay & Co."; the summons was returned served on "the defendants," and the judgment was entered by default: Held, that the complaint and summons were sufficient to sustain the judgment. Martin v. District Court, 13 Nev. 85, 88.

5723. Summons may issue within a year.

SEC. 781. The court must indorse on the complaint the date upon which it was filed, and at any time within one year thereafter the plaintiff may have summons issued.

Kerr, C. C. P., 840.

5724. Defendant may waive summons.

SEC. 782. At any time after the complaint is filed, the defendant may, in writing, or by appearing and pleading, waive the issuing of summons.

Kerr, C. C. P., 841.

5725. Parties may appear in person or by attorney.

SEC. 783. Parties in justices' courts may appear and act in person or by attorney; and any person except the constable by whom the summons or jury process was served, may act as attorney.

Kerr, C. C. P., 842.

5726. When guardian necessary, how appointed.

SEC. 784. When an infant, insane, or incompetent person is a party, he must appear, either by his general guardian if he have one, or by a guardian ad litem appointed by the justice. When a guardian ad litem is appointed by the justice, he must be appointed as follows:

1. If the infant, insane, or incompetent person be plaintiff, the appointment must be made before the summons is issued, upon the application of the infant, if he be of the age of fourteen years; if under that age, or if insane or incompetent, upon the application of a relative or friend.

2. If the infant, insane, or incompetent person be defendant, the appointment must be made at the time the summons is returned or before the answer, upon the application of the infant, if he be of the age of fourteen years, and apply at or before the summons is returned; if he be under the age of fourteen, or be insane or incompetent, or neglect so to apply, then upon the application of a relative or friend, or any other party to the action, or by the justice, on his own motion.

Kerr, C. C. P., 843.

5727. Summons, how issued, directed, and what to contain.

SEC. 785. The summons must be directed to the defendant, signed by the justice, and must contain:

1. The title of the court, name of the county, or township in which the action is brought, and the names of the parties thereto.

2. A direction that the defendant appear and answer before the justice, at his office, as specified in section 786.

3. A notice that unless the defendant so appear and answer, the plaintiff will take judgment for any money or damages demanded in the complaint, as arising upon contract, or will apply to the court for the relief demanded in the complaint. If the plaintiff appears by attorney, the name of the attorney must be indorsed upon the summons.

Kerr, C. C. P., 844.

Cited, Martin v. District Court, 13 Nev. 89.

It is improper to take judgment on the completion of the publication in cases where a personal service cannot be had. The defendant is entitled to twenty days in which to make his appearance as in the case of personal service against one served elsewhere than within the county in which the action is brought. Forsyth v. Chambers, 30 Nev. 337, 340 (96 P. 930).

This section does not require that the names of the attorneys shall be included in the notice of publication. Idem.

5728. Time for appearance of defendant.

SEC. 786. The time specified in the summons for the appearance of the defendant must be as follows:

1. If an order of arrest be indorsed upon the summons, forthwith.

2. In all other cases, the summons must contain a direction that the defendant must appear and answer the complaint within five days, if the summons be served in the county, township, or city, in which the action is brought; within ten days, if served out of the township or city, but in the county in which the action is brought, and within twenty days, if served elsewhere.

Kerr, C. C. P., 845.

A justice of the peace has no jurisdiction to enter judgment in a case where the summons was personally served on defendant without the state in lieu of publication until after the expiration of six weeks from date of service. Pratt v. Stone, 25 Nev. 365, 370, 373 (60 P. 514).

See Forsyth v. Chambers, under sec. 785 of this act.

5729. Alias summons.

SEC. 787. If the summons is returned without being served upon any or all of the defendants, the justice, upon the demand of the plaintiff, may issue an alias summons, in the same form as the original, except that he may fix the time for the appearance of the defendant at a period not to exceed ninety days from its date.

Kerr, C. C. P., 846.

5730. Same.

SEC. 788. The justice may issue as many alias summons as may be demanded by the plaintiff.

Kerr, C. C. P., 847.

5731. Summons, limitation on service of.

SEC. 789. The summons cannot be served out of the county wherein the action is brought, except in the following cases:

1. When the action is upon the joint contract or obligation of two or more persons, one of whom resides within the county.

2. When the action is brought against a party who has contracted in writing to perform an obligation at a particular place, and resides in a different county, in which case the summons may be served in the county where he resides.

3. When the action is for injury to person or property, and the defendant resides in a different county, in which case summons may be served in the county wherein he may be found.

4. In all cases where the defendant was a resident of the county when the action was brought, and thereafter departed therefrom, in which event he may be served wherever he may be found.

5. In actions of forcible entry and detainer, or to enforce and foreclose liens on, or to recover possession of, personal property, situate within the county.

Kerr, C. C. P., 848.

5732. Summons, by whom and how served.

SEC. 790. The summons may be served by a sheriff or constable of any of the counties of this state or by any other person of the age of twenty-one years or over, not a party to the action. When a summons issued by a justice of the peace is to be served out of the county in which it was issued, the summons must have attached to it a certificate, under seal, by the county clerk of such county, to the effect that the person issuing the same was an acting justice of the peace at the date of the summons, and must be served and returned, as provided in chapter 8 of this act, or it may be served by publication; and sections 84 to 88, both inclusive, of this act, so far as they relate to the publication of summons, are made applicable to justices' courts, the word "justice" being substituted for the word "judge" wherever the latter word occurs.

Kerr, C. C. P., 849.

Cited, Nesbitt v. Delamar's N. G. M. Co., 24 Nev. 282 (77 A. S. 867, 177 U. S. 523, 52 P. 609).

5733. Notice of hearing.

SEC. 791. When all the parties served with process shall have appeared, or some of them have appeared, and the remaining defendants have made default, the justice must fix the day for the trial of said cause, whether the issue is one of law or fact, and give notice thereof to the plaintiff and the defendants who have appeared, but in case any of the parties are represented by an attorney, then to such attorney. Such notice shall be in writing, signed by the justice, and substantially in the following form (filling blanks according to the facts):

In the justice court,.....township (or city), county of....., State of Nevada. ....., plaintiff, vs. ....., defendant. To....., plaintiff, or ....., attorney for plaintiff, and to ....., defendant, or ....., attorney for defendant.

You and each of you will please take notice that the undersigned justice of the peace before whom the above-entitled cause is pending, has set for hearing the demurrer of ....., filed in said cause (or has set the said cause for trial, as the case may be), before me at my office in said township (or city), at .... o'clock ....m., on the ..... day of ....., 19.....

Dated this.....day of....., 19.....

(Signed).....,

Justice of the peace.

Said notice shall be served by mail or personally. When served by mail the justice of the peace shall deposit copies thereof in a sealed envelope in the postoffice at least ten days before the trial or hearing addressed to each of the persons on whom it is to be served at their place of residence and the postage prepaid thereon; provided, that such notice shall be served by mail only when the attorney on whom service is to be made, resides out of the county in which said justice's court is situated. When personally served said notice shall be served at least five days before the trial or hearing on the persons on whom it is to be served by any person competent and qualified to serve a summons in a justice's court and when personally served it shall be served, returned and filed in like manner as a summons. The justice shall enter in his docket the date of trial or hearing; and when such notice shall have been served by mail the justice shall enter in his docket the date of mailing such notice of trial or hearing, and such entry shall be prima facie evidence of the fact of such service. The parties are entitled to one hour in which to appear after the time fixed in said notice, but are not bound to remain longer than that time unless both parties have appeared and the justice, being present, is engaged in the trial of another cause.

Kerr, C. C. P., 850.

CHAPTER 79

PLEADINGS IN JUSTICES' COURTS

5734. Form of pleadings.
5735. Pleadings in justices' courts.
5736. Complaint defined.
5737. When demurrer to complaint may be put in.
5738. Answer.
5739. If the defendant omits to set up counterclaim.
5740. When plaintiff may demur to answer.
5741. Proceedings on demurrer.
5742. Amendments of pleadings—Adjournment — Costs — Relief from judgment by default.
5743. Answer on demurrer to amended pleadings.

5734. Form of pleadings.

SEC. 792. Pleadings in justices' courts:

1. Are not required to be in any particular form, but must be such as to enable a person of common understanding to know what is intended.
2. May, except the complaint, be oral or in writing.
3. Must not be verified, unless otherwise provided in this title.
4. If in writing, must be filed with the justice.
5. If oral, an entry of their substance must be made in the docket.

Kerr, C. C. P., 851.

Under sec. 534, Stats. 1869, 196, it was held that the sufficiency of pleadings in justices' courts is not to be tested by the rules that are applied in the higher courts. The statute makes the copy of an account a sufficient complaint in justices' courts. It is allowed to import allegations that must be expressly made in similar actions commenced in the district court. Martin v. District Court, 13 Nev. 88.

Above was quoted with approval in Pratt v. Stone, 25 Nev. 371 (60 P. 514).

5735. Pleadings in justices' courts.

SEC. 793. The pleadings are:

1. The complaint by the plaintiff.
2. The demurrer to the complaint.
3. The answer by the defendant.
4. The demurrer to the answer.

Kerr, C. C. P., 852.

5736. Complaint defined.

SEC. 794. The complaint in justices' courts is a concise statement, in writing, of the facts constituting the plaintiff's cause of action; or a copy of the account, note, bill, bond, or instrument upon which the action is based.

Kerr, C. C. P., 853.

5737. When demurrer to complaint may be put in.

SEC. 795. The defendant may, at any time before answering, demur to the complaint.

Kerr, C. C. P., 854.

5738. Answer.

SEC. 796. The answer may contain a denial of any or all of the material facts stated in the complaint, which the defendant believes to be untrue, and also a statement, in a plain and direct manner, of any other facts constituting a defense or counterclaim, upon which an action might be brought by the defendant against the plaintiff in a justice's court.

Kerr, C. C. P., 855.

An equitable defense to an action in a justice's court cannot be plead. Duffy v. Moran, 12 Nev. 96.

5739. If the defendant omits to set up counterclaim.

SEC. 797. If the defendant omit to set up a counterclaim in the cases mentioned in the last section, neither he nor his assignee can afterward maintain an action against the plaintiff therefor.

Kerr, C. C. P., 856.

5740. When plaintiff may demur to answer.

SEC. 798. When the answer contains new matter in avoidance, or constituting a defense or a counterclaim, the plaintiff may, at any time before the trial, demur to the same for insufficiency stating therein the grounds of such demurrer.

Kerr, C. C. P., 857.

If the defendant, in an action commenced in a justice's court, thinks the complaint states no cause of action, he may object to it upon that ground, and if he chooses he may stand upon that issue and appeal upon it, but if he does it will be the only issue triable in the district court. If he wishes to make an issue of fact, he must make it in the justice's court, or he cannot have it tried in the district court. Martin v. District Court, 13 Nev. 91.

5741. Proceedings on demurrer.

SEC. 799. The proceedings on demurrer are as follows:

1. If the demurrer to the complaint is sustained, the plaintiff may, within such time, not exceeding two days, as the court allows, amend his complaint.

2. If the demurrer to a complaint is overruled, the defendant may answer forthwith.

3. If the demurrer to an answer is sustained, the defendant may amend his answer within such time, not exceeding two days as the court may allow.

4. If the demurrer to an answer is overruled, the action must proceed as if no demurrer had been interposed.

Kerr, C. C. P., 858.

5742. Amendments of pleadings—Adjournment—Costs—Relief from judgment by default.

SEC. 800. Either party may at any time before the conclusion of the trial, amend any pleading; but if the amendment is made after the issue, and it appears to the satisfaction of the court, by oath, that an adjournment is necessary to the adverse party in consequence of such amendment, an adjournment must be granted. The court may also, in its discretion, when an adjournment will by the amendment be rendered necessary, require, as a condition to the allowance of such amendment, made after issue joined, the payment of costs to the adverse party, to be fixed by the court, not exceeding twenty dollars. The court may also, on such terms as may be just, and on payment of costs, relieve a party from a judgment by default taken against him by his mistake, inadvertence, surprise, or excusable neglect, but the application for such relief must be made within ten days after notice of the entry of the judgment and upon an affidavit showing good cause therefor.

Kerr, C. C. P., 859.

Cited, Martin v. District Court, 13 Nev. 91.

5743. Answer or demurrer to amended pleadings.

SEC. 801. When a pleading is amended, the adverse party may answer or demur to it within such time, not exceeding two days, as the court may allow.

Kerr, C. C. P., 860.

CHAPTER 80

PROVISIONAL REMEDIES IN JUSTICES' COURTS

5744. Order of arrest, and arrest of defendant.
5745. Affidavit and undertaking for order of arrest.
5746. A defendant arrested must be taken before the justice immediately.
5747. The officer must give notice to the plaintiff of arrest.

5748. The officer must detain the defendant.
5749. Attachment to issue upon affidavit.
5750. Undertaking on attachment — Exception to sureties — Justification — Waiver.
5751. Writ of attachment, substance of.
5752. Certain provisions apply to all attachments in justices' courts.
5753. How claim and delivery enforced.

5744. Order of arrest, and arrest of defendant.

SEC. 802. An order to arrest the defendant may be indorsed on a summons issued by the justice, and the defendant may be arrested thereon by the sheriff or constable, at the time of serving the summons, and brought before the justice, and there detained until duly discharged, in the following cases:

1. In an action for the recovery of money or damages on a cause of action arising upon contract, express or implied, when the defendant is about to depart from the state, with intent to defraud his creditors.

2. In an action for a fine or penalty, or for money or property embezzled or fraudulently misapplied, or converted to his own use by one who received it in a fiduciary capacity.

3. When the defendant has been guilty of a fraud in contracting the debt or incurring the obligation for which the action is brought.

4. When the defendant has removed, concealed, or disposed of his property, or is about to do so, with intent to defraud his creditors.

But no female can be arrested in any action.

Kerr, C. C. P., 861.

5745. Affidavit and undertaking for order of arrest.

SEC. 803. Before an order for an arrest can be made, the party applying must prove to the satisfaction of the justice, by the affidavit of himself or some other person, the facts upon which the application is founded. The plaintiff must also execute and deliver to the justice a written undertaking in the sum of three hundred dollars, with sufficient sureties, to the effect that the plaintiff will pay all costs that may be adjudged to the defendant, and all damages which he may sustain by reason of the arrest, if the same be wrongful, or without sufficient cause, not exceeding the sum specified in the undertaking.

Kerr, C. C. P., 862.
See Const., sec. 243.

5746. A defendant arrested must be taken before the justice immediately.

SEC. 804. The defendant, immediately upon being arrested, must be taken to the office of the justice who made the order, and if he is absent or unable to try the action, or if it appears to him by the affidavit of defendant, that he is a material witness in the action, the officer must immediately take the defendant before another justice of the township or city, if there is another, and if not, then before the justice of an adjoining township, who must take jurisdiction of the action, and proceed thereon, as if the summons had been issued and the order of arrest made by him.

Kerr, C. C. P., 863.

5747. The officer must give notice to the plaintiff of arrest.

SEC. 805. The officer making the arrest must immediately give notice thereof to the plaintiff, or his attorney or agent, and indorse on the summons, and subscribe a certificate, stating the time of serving the same, the time of the arrest, and of his giving notice to the plaintiff.

Kerr, C. C. P., 864.

5748. The officer must detain the defendant.

SEC. 806. The officer making the arrest must keep the defendant in custody until he is discharged by order of the justice.

Kerr, C. C. P., 865.

ATTACHMENT

5749. Attachment to issue upon affidavit.

SEC. 807. A writ to attach the property of the defendant must be issued by the justice at the time of, or after, issuing summons, on receiving an affidavit by or on behalf of the plaintiff, showing the same facts as are required to be shown by the affidavit specified in section 205.

Kerr, C. C. P., 866.
See sec. 5147.

An affidavit reciting that an action had been brought to recover a sum of money for goods sold and delivered at defendant's request, and that defendant was indebted to plaintiff in such sum over and above all set-offs and counterclaims, and averring the existence of two grounds for attachment, was sufficient to warrant the issuance of an attachment by a justice of the peace. Pratt v. Stone, 25 Nev. 365, 372 (60 P. 514).

Attachment, when dissolved. Ranft v. Young, 21 Nev. 401.

5750. Undertaking on attachment—Exception to sureties—Justification—Waiver.

SEC. 808. Before issuing the writ, the justice must require a written undertaking on the part of the plaintiff, with two or more sufficient sureties, in the amount sued for, and for not less than fifty dollars, to the effect that if the defendant recovers judgment, the plaintiff will pay all costs that may be awarded to the defendant, and all damages which he may sustain by reason of the attachment, not exceeding the sum specified in the undertaking. At any time after the issuing of the attachment, but not later than five days after notice of its levy, the defendant may except to the sufficiency of the sureties. If he fails to do so, he is deemed to have waived all objections to them. When excepted to they must justify at a time fixed by the justice and within three days, otherwise the justice must order the writ of attachment vacated.

Kerr, C. C. P., 867.

5751. Writ of attachment, substance of.

SEC. 809. The writ may be directed to the sheriff or any constable of the county, or the sheriff of any other county, and must require him to attach and safely keep all the property of the defendant within his county, not exempt from execution, or so much thereof as may be sufficient to satisfy the plaintiff's demand, the amount of which must be stated in conformity with the complaint, unless the defendant give him security, by the undertaking of two sufficient sureties, in an amount sufficient to satisfy such demand besides costs; in which case, to take such undertaking. Several writs may be issued at the same time to the sheriffs of different counties; provided, that where a writ of attachment issued by a justice of the peace is to be served out of the county in which it was issued, the writ of attachment shall have attached to it a certificate under seal, by the county clerk of such county, to the effect that the person issuing the same was an acting justice of the peace of said county at the date of the writ.

Kerr, C. C. P., 868.

5752. Certain provisions apply to all attachments in justices' courts.

SEC. 810. The sections of this act from section 209 to 216, both inclusive, are applicable to attachments issued in justices' courts, the word "constable" being substituted for the word "sheriff," whenever the writ is directed to a constable, and the word "justice" being substituted for the word "judge."

Kerr, C. C. P., 869.
See secs. 5151–5158.

CLAIM AND DELIVERY

5753. How claim and delivery enforced.

SEC. 811. In an action to recover possession of personal property, the plaintiff may, at the time of issuing summons, or at any time thereafter before answer, claim the delivery of such property to him; and the sections of this act from section 182 to 193, both inclusive, are applicable to such claim when made in justices' courts, the powers therein given and duties imposed on sheriffs being extended to constables, and the word "justice" being substituted for "judge."

Kerr, C. C. P., 870.

See secs. 5125-5135.

CHAPTER 81

TRIALS AND JUDGMENTS IN JUSTICES' COURTS

5754. Judgment when defendant fails to appear.
5755. Judgment against defendant on demurrer.
5756. Time when trial must be commenced.
5757. When court may of its own motion postpone trial.
5758. Postponement by consent.
5759. Postponement on application of a party.
5760. No continuance for more than ten days to be granted, unless upon filing of undertaking.
5761. Issue defined, and the different kinds.
5762. Issue of law, how raised.
5763. Issue of fact, how raised.
5764. Issue of law, how tried.
5765. Issue of fact, how tried.
5766. Jury, how waived.
5767. Trial of either party failing to appear.
5768. Jury, how summoned—Number of challenges.
5769. Written instrument—Order of inspection—Evidence.
5770. Original copy or instrument—Signatures deemed admitted, unless denied under oath.
5771. Judgment by confession.
5772. Judgment of dismissal entered in certain cases without prejudice.
5773. Judgment upon verdict.
5774. Judgment after trial by the court.
5775. Judgment when the defendant is subject to arrest.
5776. If sum found due exceeds jurisdiction, excess may be remitted.
5777. Offer to compromise before trial.
5778. Costs must be included in the judgment.
5779. Abstract of judgment.
5780. Abstract may be filed and docketed in district court.
5781. Effect of docketing — Execution to other counties.
5782. Filing abstract in recorder's office makes judgment a lien.

5754. Judgment when defendant fails to appear.

SEC. 812. If the defendant fails to appear, and to answer or demur within the time specified in the summons, then, upon proof of service of summons, the following proceedings must be had:

1. If the action is based upon a contract, and is for the recovery of money, or damages only, the court must render judgment in favor of the plaintiff for the sum specified in the summons.

2. In all other actions the court must hear the evidence offered by the plaintiff and must render judgment in his favor for such sum (not exceeding the amount stated in the summons) as appears by such evidence to be just.

Kerr, C. C. P., 871.

5755. Judgment against defendant on demurrer.

SEC. 813. In the following cases the same proceedings must be had, and judgment must be rendered in like manner, as if the defendant had failed to appear and answer or demur:

1. If the complaint has been amended, and the defendant fails to answer it as amended, within the time allowed by the court.

2. If the demurrer to the complaint is overruled, and the defendant fails to answer at once.

3. If the demurrer to the answer is sustained, and the defendant fails to amend the answer within the time allowed by the court.

Kerr, C. C. P., 872.

5756. Time when trial must be commenced.

SEC. 814. Unless postponed, as provided in this chapter, or unless transferred to another court, the trial of the action must commence at the expiration of one hour from the time specified in the notice mentioned in section 791, and the trial must be continued, without adjournment for more than twenty-four hours at any one time, until all the issues therein are disposed of.

Kerr, C. C. P., 873.
See sec. 5733.

5757. When court may, of its own motion, postpone trial.

SEC. 815. The court may, of its own motion, postpone the trial:

1. For not exceeding one day, if, at the time fixed by law or by an order of the court for the trial, the court is engaged in the trial of another action.

2. For not exceeding two days, if, by an amendment of the pleadings, or the allowance of time to make such amendment or to plead, a postponement is rendered necessary.

3. For not exceeding three days, if the trial is upon issues of fact, and a jury has been demanded.

Kerr, C. C. P., 874.

5758. Postponement by consent.

SEC. 816. The court may, by consent of the parties, given in writing or in open court, postpone the trial to a time agreed upon by the parties.

Kerr, C. C. P., 875.

5759. Postponement upon application of a party.

SEC. 817. The trial may be postponed upon the application of either party, for a period not exceeding four months:

1. The party making the application must prove, by his own oath or otherwise, that he cannot, for want of material testimony, which he expects to procure, safely proceed to trial, and must show in what respect the testimony expected is material, and that he has used due diligence to procure it, and has been unable to do so.

2. If the application is on the part of the plaintiff, and the defendant is under arrest, a postponement for more than three hours discharges the defendant from custody, but the action may proceed, notwithstanding, and the defendant is subject to arrest on execution, in the same manner as if he had not been discharged.

3. If the application is on the part of a defendant under arrest, before it can be granted he must execute an undertaking, with two or more sufficient sureties, to be approved by, and in a sum to be fixed by the justice, to the effect that he will render himself amenable to the process of the court during the pendency of the action, and to such as may be issued to enforce the judgment therein; or that the sureties will pay to the plaintiff the amount of any judgment which he may recover in the action, not exceeding the amount specified in the undertaking. On filing the undertaking specified in this subdivision, the justice must order the defendant to be discharged from custody.

4. The party making the application must, if required by the adverse party, consent that the testimony of any witness of such adverse party, who is in attendance, may be then taken by deposition before the justice, and that the testimony so taken may be read on the trial, with the same effect and subject to the same objections, as if the witness was produced; but the court may require the party making the application to state, upon affidavit, the evidence which he expects to obtain; and if the adverse party thereupon admit that such evidence would be given and that it be considered as actually given on the trial, or offered and overruled as improper, the trial must not be postponed.

Kerr, C. C. P., 876.

5760. No continuance for more than ten days to be granted, unless upon filing of undertaking.

SEC. 818. No adjournment must, unless by consent, be granted for a period longer than ten days, upon the application of either party, except upon condition that such party file an undertaking, in an amount fixed by the justice, with two sureties, to be approved by the justice, to the effect that they will pay to the opposite party the amount of any judgment which may be recovered against the party applying, not exceeding the sum specified in the undertaking.

Kerr, C. C. P., 877.

Where by consent of parties a case in a justice's court is adjourned for more than ten days, the undertaking provided by this section is not required, and a dismissal of the action, for the reason that such undertaking has not been given, is error. Nev. Cent. R. Co. v. District Court, 21 Nev. 409, 411 (32 P. 673).

5761. Issues defined, and the different kinds.

SEC. 819. Issues arise upon the pleadings when a fact or conclusion of law is maintained by the one party and is controverted by the other. They are of two kinds:

1. Of law; and,
2. Of fact.

Kerr, C. C. P., 878.

5762. Issue of law, how raised.

SEC. 820. An issue of law arises upon a demurrer to the complaint or answer, or to some part thereof.

Kerr, C. C. P., 879.

5763. Issue of fact, how raised.

SEC. 821. An issue of fact arises:

1. Upon a material allegation in the complaint controverted by the answer; and,
2. Upon new matter in the answer, except an issue of law is joined thereon.

Kerr, C. C. P., 880.

5764. Issue of law, how tried.

SEC. 822. An issue of law must be tried by the court.

Kerr, C. C. P., 881.

5765. Issue of fact, how tried.

SEC. 823. An issue of fact must be tried by a jury, unless a jury is waived, in which case it must be tried by the court.

Kerr, C. C. P., 882.

5766. Jury, how waived.

SEC. 824. A jury may be waived:

1. By consent of parties, entered in the docket.
2. By a failure of either party to demand a jury before the commencement of the trial of an issue of fact.
3. By the failure of either party to appear at the time fixed for the trial of an issue of fact.

Kerr, C. C. P., 883.

5767. Trial on either party failing to appear.

SEC. 825. If either party fails to appear at the time fixed for trial, the trial may proceed at the request of the adverse party.

Kerr, C. C. P., 884.

5768. Jury, how summoned—Number of challenges.

SEC. 826. The jury shall be summoned upon an order of the justice, from the citizens of the city, precinct, or township, and not from the bystanders. At the time appointed for the trial the justice shall proceed to call from the jurors summoned the names of the persons to constitute the jury for the trial of the issue. The jury, by consent of the parties, may consist of any number, not more than twelve nor less than four. If a sufficient number of competent and indifferent jurors do not attend, the justice shall direct others to be summoned from the vicinity, and not from the bystanders, sufficient to complete the jury. The challenges are either peremptory or for cause. Each party is entitled to three peremptory challenges. Either party may challenge for cause on any grounds set forth in section 264. Challenges for cause must be tried by the justice.

Kerr, C. C. P., 885.
See sec. 5206.

5769. Written instrument—Order of inspection—Evidence.

SEC. 827. When the cause of action or counterclaim arises upon an account or instrument for the payment of money only, the court, at any time before the trial, may, by an order under his hand, require the original to be exhibited to the inspection of, and a copy to be furnished to, the adverse party, at such time as may be fixed in the order; or, if such order is not obeyed, the account or instrument cannot be given in evidence.

Kerr, C. C. P., 886.
Cited, Martin v. District Court, 13 Nev. 88.

5770. Original copy or instrument—Signatures deemed admitted, unless denied under oath.

SEC. 828. If the plaintiff annex to his complaint, or file with the justice at the time of issuing the summons, the original or a copy of the promissory note, bill of exchange, or other written obligation for the payment of money, upon which the action is brought, the defendant is deemed to admit the genuineness of the signatures of the makers, indorsers, or assignors thereof, unless he specifically deny the same in his answer, and verify the answer by his oath.

Kerr, C. C. P., 887.

5771. Judgment by confession.

SEC. 829. Judgments upon confession may be entered up in any justice's court specified in the confession.

Kerr, C. C. P., 889.

5772. Judgment of dismissal entered in certain cases without prejudice.

SEC. 830. Judgment that the action be dismissed, without prejudice to a new action, may be entered with costs, in the following cases:

1. When the plaintiff voluntarily dismisses the action before it is finally submitted.

2. When he fails to appear at the time specified in the summons, or at the time to which the action has been postponed, or within one hour thereafter.

3. When, after a demurrer to the complaint has been sustained, the plaintiff fails to amend it within the time allowed by the court.

4. When it is objected at the trial, and appears by the evidence, that the action is brought in the wrong county, or township, or city; but if the objection is taken and overruled, it is cause only of reversal on appeal and does not otherwise invalidate the judgment; if not taken at the trial, it is waived.

Kerr, C. C. P., 890.

5773. Judgment upon verdict.

SEC. 831. When a trial by jury has been had, judgment must be entered by the justice, at once, in conformity with the verdict.

Kerr, C. C. P., 891.

A justice should enter up judgment immediately on the rendition of a verdict. But if he omits to do so the day the verdict is rendered, still he may complete his record by afterwards entering the judgment.

The filing of notice of appeal and undertaking on appeal in a justice's court after the rendition of a verdict by the jury, but before the entry of judgment thereon, does not deprive the justice of authority to enter up judgment on the verdict. Fugitt v. Cox, 2 Nev. 370.

5774. Judgment after trial by the court.

SEC. 832. When the trial is by the court, judgment must be entered at the close of the trial.

Kerr, C. C. P., 892.

5775. Judgment when the defendant is subject to arrest.

SEC. 833. The judgment in justices' courts must be entered substantially in the form required by section 327. When the judgment is rendered in a case where the defendant is subject to arrest and imprisonment thereon, the fact that the defendant is so subject, must be stated in the judgment.

Kerr, C. C. P., 893.
See sec. 5266.

5776. If sum found due exceeds jurisdiction, excess may be remitted.

SEC. 834. When the amount found due to either party exceeds the sum for which the justice is authorized to enter judgment, such party may remit the excess, and judgment may be rendered for the residue.

Kerr, C. C. P., 894.

5777. Offer to compromise before trial.

SEC. 835. If the defendant, at any time before the trial, offers, in writing, to allow judgment to be taken against him for a specified sum, the plaintiff may immediately have judgment therefor, with the costs then accrued; but if he does not accept such offer before the trial, and fails to recover in the action a sum in excess of the offer, he cannot recover costs incurred after the offer, but costs must be adjudged against him, and, if he recovers, be deducted from his recovery. The offer and failure to accept it cannot be given in evidence nor affect the recovery, otherwise than as to costs.

Kerr, C. C. P., 895.

5778. Costs must be included in the judgment.

SEC. 836. The justice must tax and include in the judgment the costs allowed by law to the prevailing party.

Kerr, C. C. P., 896.
See secs. 5376–5393.

5779. Abstract of judgment.

SEC. 837. The justice, on demand of a party in whose favor judgment is rendered, must give him an abstract of the judgment in substantially the following form (filling blanks according to the facts): State of Nevada, ...county, ..., plaintiff, v. ....., defendant. In justice's court, before....., justice of the peace, ...township (or city), county ....., 19..... (inserting date of abstract). Judgment entered for plaintiff (or defendant) for $....., on the..... day of..... I certify that the foregoing is a correct abstract of a judgment rendered in said action in my court, ..., or (as the case may be) in the court of ....., justice of the peace, as appears by his docket, now in my possession, as his successor in office. ....., justice of the peace.

Kerr, C. C. P., 897.

The issuance of an execution before a transcript of the judgment of the justice court had been filed and docketed in the office of the clerk of the district court, is illegal, and the execution void. In re Rourke, 13 Nev. 255, 256.

Cited, State ex rel. N. T. G. & T. Co. v. Grimes, 29 Nev. 58.

5780. Abstract may be filed and docketed in district court.

SEC. 838. The abstract may be filed in the office of the county clerk of the county in which the judgment was rendered, and the judgment docketed in the judgment docket of the district court thereof. The time of the receipt of the abstract by the clerk must be noted by him thereon, and entered in the docket.

Kerr, C. C. P., 898.

5781. Effect of docketing—Execution to other counties.

SEC. 839. From the time of docketing in the county clerk's office, execution may be issued thereon by the county clerk to the sheriff of any county in the state, other than the county in which the judgment was rendered, in the same manner and with like effect as if issued on a judgment of the district court.

Kerr, C. C. P., 899.

5782. Filing abstract in recorder's office makes judgment a lien.

SEC. 840. A judgment rendered in a justice's court creates no lien upon any lands of the defendant, unless such an abstract is filed in the office of the recorder of the county in which the lands are situated. When so filed, and from the time of filing, the judgment becomes a lien upon all the real property of the judgment debtor, not exempt from execution, in such county, owned by him at the time, or which he may afterwards, and before the lien expires, acquire. The lien continues for two years, unless the judgment be previously satisfied.

Kerr, C. C. P., 900.

CHAPTER 82

EXECUTIONS FROM JUSTICES' COURTS

5783. Execution may issue at any time within five years—Stay of execution of judgment.
5784. Execution, contents of.
5785. Renewal of execution.
5786. Duty of officer receiving execution.
5787. Proceedings supplementary to execution.

5783. Execution may issue at any time within five years—Stay of execution of judgment.

SEC. 841. Execution for the enforcement of a judgment of a justice's court may be issued by the justice who entered the judgment, or his successor in office, on the application of the party entitled thereto, at any time within five years from the entry of judgment. The court, or any justice thereof, may stay the execution of any judgment, including any judgment in a case of forcible or unlawful detainer, for a period not exceeding ten days.

Kerr, C. C. P., 901, 901a.

5784. Execution, contents of.

SEC. 842. The execution must be directed to the sheriff or to a constable of the county, and must be subscribed by the justice, and bear date the day of its delivery to the officer. It must intelligibly refer to the judgment, by stating the names of the parties, and the name of the justice before whom, and of the county and the township or city where, and the time when it was rendered; the amount of judgment, if it be for money; and, if less than the whole is due, the true amount due thereon. It must contain, in like cases, similar directions to the sheriff or constable, as are required by the provisions of chapter 42 of this act, in an execution to the sheriff.

Kerr, C. C. P., 902.
See secs. 5280–5306.

Where in an action to restrain proceedings under a writ of execution issued by a justice of the peace in a certain tax suit commenced before him, and in which he had denied a motion to transfer to the district court, in accordance with this section, the complaint set forth the fact of an appeal from the judgment to the district court, but failed to allege any motion to either the justice or district court to stay the execution issued, it was held that, as there was a plain, adequate and convenient remedy by simple motion in the original suit, no case for injunction was made out. Hamer v. Kane, 7 Nev. 61, 62.

5785. Renewal of execution.

SEC. 843. An execution may, at the request of the judgment creditor, be renewed before the expiration of the time fixed for its return, by the word "renewed" written thereon, with the date thereof, and subscribed by the justice. Such renewal has the effect of an original issue, and may be repeated as often as necessary. If an execution is returned unsatisfied, another may be afterwards issued.

Kerr, C. C. P., 903.

5786. Duty of officer receiving execution.

SEC. 844. The sheriff or constable to whom the execution is directed must execute the same, in the same manner as the sheriff is required by the provisions of chapter 42 of this act, to proceed upon executions directed to him; and the constable, when the execution is directed to him, is vested for that purpose with all the powers of the sheriff.

Kerr, C. C. P., 904.
See secs. 5280–5306.

5787. Proceedings supplementary to execution.

SEC. 845. The provisions of chapter 43 of this act are applicable to justices' courts, the word "constable" being substituted, to that end, for the word "sheriff," and the word "justice" for the word "judge."

Kerr, C. C. P., 905.
See secs. 5307–5314.

CHAPTER 83

NEW TRIALS AND APPEALS FROM JUSTICES' COURTS

5788. Appeal from judgment of justice's court.
5789. Appeal on questions of law, statement.
5790. Appeal on questions of fact, or law and fact.
5791. Transmission of papers to appellate court.
5792. Undertaking on appeal to the district court — Deposit — Justification of sureties.
5793. Stay of proceedings on filing undertaking.
5794. Powers of district court on appeal—Dismissal—Damages—Costs—Judgment.

5788. Appeal from judgment of justice's court.

SEC. 846. Any party dissatisfied with a judgment rendered in a civil action in a justice's court, may appeal therefrom to the district court of the county, at any time within thirty days after the notice of entry of the judgment. The appeal is taken by filing a notice of appeal with the justice and serving a copy on the adverse party. The notice must state whether the appeal is taken from the whole or a part of the judgment, and if from a part, what part, and whether the appeal is taken on questions of law or fact, or both.

Kerr, C. C. P., 974.

An appeal will lie from a judgment rendered in a justice's court improperly dismissing the action. Especially is that the case where both issues of law and of fact have been made in a justice's court. Nev. Cent. R. Co. v. District Court, 21 Nev. 410 (32 P. 673).

Where the notice of appeal properly describes a judgment from which the appeal is taken, the addition of other words indicating that the appeal is taken from the order dismissing the action, on which the judgment is founded, should be treated as surplusage and they do not invalidate the appeal (Murphy, C. J., dissenting). N. C. R. R. Co. v. District Court, 21 Nev. 411, 413 (32 P. 653).

The order in which the notice is served and filed is immaterial. State ex rel. Jones v. Brown, 30 Nev. 495, 496, 499, 503 (98 P. 871).

No appeal lies from a judgment rendered by default in a justice's court. The district court can only retry issues of law or fact that were made in the justice's court. Martin v. District Court, 13 Nev. 86.

5789. Appeal on questions of law, statement.

SEC. 847. When a party appeals to the district court on questions of law alone, he must, within ten days from the rendition of the judgment, prepare a statement of the case and file the same with the justice. The statement must contain the grounds upon which the party intends to rely on the appeal, and so much of the evidence as may be necessary to explain the grounds, and no more. Within ten days after he receives notice that the statement is filed, the adverse party, if dissatisfied with the same, may file amendments. The proposed statement and amendments must be settled by the justice, and if no amendment be filed, the original statement stands as adopted. The statement thus adopted, or as settled by the justice, with a copy of the docket of the justice, and all motions filed with him by the parties during the trial, and the notice of appeal, may be used on the hearing of the appeal before the district court.

Kerr, C. C. P., 975.

5790. Appeal on questions of fact, or law and fact.

SEC. 848. When a party appeals to the district court on questions of fact, or on questions of both law and fact, no statement need be made, but the action must be tried anew in the district court.

Kerr, C. C. P., 976.

See sec. 837.

"Tried anew" means in the same manner, with the same effect, and upon the issues tried in the court below. Paul v. Armstrong, 1 Nev. 96.

See Martin v. District Court, under sec. 846 of this act.

District courts have no power to impose damages for frivolous appeals, nor to directly, and without trial, reverse or affirm judgments brought by appeal from justices' courts. Such cases must be tried anew. State ex rel. Barnett v. District Court, 18 Nev. 286, 289 (3 P. 417).

Cited, Nev. Cent. R. Co. v. District Court, 21 Nev. 412 (32 P. 673).

Error in allowing costs not properly taxable against a party cannot be reviewed on certiorari. State ex rel. Thompson v. District Court, 23 Nev. 243, 245 (45 P. 467).

A party appealing to the district court from a justice's judgment and there obtaining a reduction of such judgment is not entitled to costs as a matter of right, but the question whether such reduced judgment is more favorable to him is a question for the sound discretion of the district court. State ex rel. Cohn v. District Court, 26 Nev. 253, 257 (66 P. 743).

The supreme court has power and will impose damages for frivolous appeals taken for delay. Paroni v. Simonsen, 33 Nev. — (115 P. 415).

5791. Transmission of papers to appellate court.

SEC. 849. Upon receiving the notice of appeal, and on payment of the fees of the justice, payable on appeal and not included in the judgment, and filing an undertaking as required in the next section, and after settlement or adoption of statement, if any, the justice must, within five days, transmit to the clerk of the district court, if the appeal be on questions of law alone, a certified copy of his docket, the statement as admitted or as settled, the notice of appeal, and the undertaking filed; or, if the appeal be on questions of fact, or both law and fact, a certified copy of his docket, the pleadings, all notices, motions, and all other papers filed in the cause, the notice of appeal, and the undertaking filed; and the justice may be compelled by the district court, by an order entered upon motion, to transmit such papers, and may be fined for neglect or refusal to transmit the same. A certified copy of such order may be served on the justice by the party or his attorney. In the district court, either party may have the benefit of all legal objections made in the justice's court.

Kerr, C. C. P., 977.

A district court on appeal has exactly the same jurisdiction as the justice of the peace from whose court the appeal is taken. Peacock, v. Leonard, 8 Nev. 84.

As a justice of the peace has no jurisdiction of an action of forcible entry, a district court has no jurisdiction thereof on appeal; and its proceedings and judgment to the contrary will be annulled on certiorari. Idem.

If the decisions of the justice upon motions are erroneous or arbitrary, the party aggrieved may renew his motion or objection in the district court. Martin v. District Court, 13 Nev. 91.

Petitioner applied by motion to the district court for an order requiring the justice before whom the cause was tried, to transmit to the district court the papers on appeal. The order was refused. Petitioner thereafter, upon the same state of facts, applied to the supreme court for a writ of mandamus to compel the justice to transmit said papers to the district court. It was held that the order of the district court denying the petitioner's motion was a final judgment in that proceeding, from which an appeal lies (Beatty, C. J., dissenting). Mayberry v. Bowker, 14 Nev. 336, 338, 340.

5792. Undertaking on appeal to the district court—Deposit—Justification of sureties.

SEC. 850. An appeal from a justice's court where no stay of proceedings is claimed is not effectual for any purpose unless an undertaking is filed, with two or more sureties, in the sum of one hundred dollars, for the payment of the costs on the appeal. If a stay of proceedings is claimed, the appellant must file an additional undertaking, in a sum equal to twice the amount of the judgment, including costs, when the judgment is for the payment of money; or twice the value of the property, including costs, when the judgment is for the recovery of specific personal property, and which must be conditioned, when the action is for the recovery of money, that the appellant will pay the amount of the judgment appealed from, and all costs, if the appeal is withdrawn or dismissed, or the amount of any judgment and all costs that may be recovered against him in the action in the district court.

When the action is for the recovery of, or to enforce or foreclose a lien on, specific personal property, the undertaking must be conditioned that the appellant will pay the judgment and costs appealed from, and obey the order of the court made therein, if the appeal is withdrawn or dismissed, or any judgment and costs that may be recovered against him in said action in the district court, and will obey any order made by the court therein. When the judgment appealed from directs the delivery of possession of real property, the execution of the same cannot be stayed unless a written undertaking is executed on the part of the appellant, with two or more sureties, to the effect that during the possession of such property by the appellant, he will not commit, or suffer to be committed, any waste thereon, and that if the appeal is dismissed or withdrawn, or the judgment affirmed, or judgment be recovered against him in the action in the district court, he will pay the value of the use and occupation of the property from the time of the appeal until the delivery of possession thereof, or that he will pay any judgment and costs that may be recovered against him in said action in the district court, not exceeding a sum to be fixed by the justice of the court from which the appeal is taken, and which sum must be specified in the undertaking. A deposit of the amount of the judgment, including all costs, appealed from or of the value of the property, including all costs, in actions for the recovery of specific personal property, with the justice, is equivalent to the filing of the undertaking, and in such cases the justice must transmit the money to the clerk of the district court, to be by him paid out on the order of the court. The adverse party may except to the sufficiency of the sureties within five days after the filing of the undertaking, and unless they or other sureties justify before the justice within five days thereafter, upon notice to the adverse party, to the amounts stated in their affidavits, the appeal must be regarded as if no such undertaking had been given.

Kerr, C. C. P., 978.

An undertaking for $600, reciting a desire to appeal and binding appellant to pay the judgment and all costs on withdrawal or dismissal of the appeal, or to pay the judgment on appeal, is good as an undertaking to pay the costs on appeal, and is sufficient to perfect the appeal, regardless of its sufficiency to stay proceedings (Sweeney, J., dissenting). State ex rel. Jones v. Brown, 30 Nev. 495, 500 (98 P. 871).

5793. Stay of proceedings on filing undertaking.

SEC. 851. If an execution be issued on the filing of the undertaking staying proceedings, the justice must, by order, direct the officer to stay all proceedings on the same. Such officer must, upon payment of his fees for services rendered on the execution, thereupon relinquish all property levied upon, and deliver the same to the judgment debtor, together with all moneys collected from sales or otherwise. If his fees be not paid, the officer may retain so much of the property or proceeds thereof as may be necessary to pay the same.

Kerr, C. C. P., 979.

5794. Powers of district court on appeal—Dismissal—Damages—Costs—Judgment.

SEC. 852. Upon an appeal heard upon a statement of the case, the district court may review all orders affecting the judgment appealed from, and may set aside, or confirm, or modify any or all of the proceedings subsequent to and dependent upon such judgment, and may, if necessary or proper, order a new trial. When the action is tried anew on appeal, the trial must be conducted in all respects as other trials in the district court. The provisions of this act as to changing the place of trial, and all the provisions as to trials in the district court, are applicable to trials on appeal in the district court. For a failure to prosecute an appeal, or unnecessary delay in bringing it to a hearing, the district court, after notice, may order the appeal to be dismissed, with costs; and if it appear to such court that the appeal was made solely for delay, it may add to the costs such damages as may be just, not exceeding twenty-five per cent of the judgment appealed from. Judgments rendered in the district court on appeal shall have the same force and effect, and may be enforced in the same manner, as judgments in actions commenced in the district court.

Kerr, C. C. P., 980.

JUSTICES' COURTS—CONTEMPTS AND GENERAL PROVISIONS

5795. Contempts a justice may punish for.
5796. Proceedings for contempts—Immediate view and presence.
5797. Idem—Not in immediate view and presence.
5798. Punishments and contempts.
5799. The conviction must be entered in the docket.
5800. Docket, what to contain.
5801. Entries therein prima facie evidence of facts.
5802. An index to the docket must be kept.
5803. Dockets must be delivered by justice to successor or county clerk.
5804. Proceedings when office becomes vacant, and before successor is appointed.
5805. Justice may issue execution or other process upon docket of predecessor.
5806. Who successor of justice.
5807. Designation of succeeding justice.
5808. Justice may issue subpenas and final process to any part of county.

5809. Blanks must be filled in all papers issued by a justice, except subpenas.
5810. Justices to receive all moneys collected and pay same to parties.
5811. In case of disability of justice another justice may attend on his behalf.
5812. Justices may require security for costs.
5813. Who entitled to costs.
5814. Attorney's fees may be recovered.
5815. What provisions of code applicable to justices' courts.
5816. Deposit instead of undertaking.

5795. Contempts a justice may punish for.

SEC. 853. A justice may punish as for contempt persons guilty of the following acts, and no other:

1. Disorderly, contemptuous, or insolent behavior toward the justice while holding court, tending to interrupt the due course of a trial or other judicial proceeding.

2. A breach of the peace, boisterous conduct, or violent disturbance in the presence of the justice, or in the immediate vicinity of the court held by him, tending to interrupt the due course of a trial or other judicial proceeding.

3. Disobedience or resistance to the execution of a lawful order or process, made or issued by him.

4. Disobedience to a subpena duly served, or refusing to be sworn or to answer as a witness.

5. Rescuing any person or property in the custody of an officer by virtue of an order or process of the court held by him.

Kerr, C. C. P., 906.

5796. Proceedings for contempts—Immediate view and presence.

SEC. 854. When a contempt is committed in the immediate view and presence of the justice, it may be punished summarily; to that end an order must be made, reciting the facts as they occurred, and adjudging that the person proceeded against is thereby guilty of contempt, and that he be punished as therein prescribed.

Kerr, C. C. P., 907.

5797. Idem—Not in immediate view and presence.

SEC. 855. When the contempt is not committed in the immediate view and presence of the justice, a warrant of arrest may be issued by such justice, on which the person so guilty may be arrested and brought before the justice immediately, when an opportunity to be heard in his defense or excuse must be given. The justice may, thereupon, discharge him, or may convict him of the offense.

Kerr, C. C. P., 908.
Ex Parte Hedden, 29 Nev. 352 (90 P. 737).

5798. Punishments for contempts.

SEC. 856. A justice may punish for contempts by fine or imprisonment, or both; such fine not to exceed, in any case, one hundred dollars, and such imprisonment one day, or both.

Kerr, C. C. P., 909.

5799. The conviction must be entered in the docket.

SEC. 857. The conviction, specifying particularly the offense and the judgment thereon, must be entered by the justice in his docket.

Kerr, C. C. P., 910.

5800. Docket, what to contain.

SEC. 858. Every justice must keep a book, denominated a "docket," in which he must enter:

1. The title of every action or proceeding.

2. The object of the action or proceeding; and if a sum of money be claimed, the amount thereof.

3. The date of the summons, and the time of its return; and if an order to arrest the defendant be made, or a writ of attachment be issued, a statement of the fact.

4. The time when the parties, or either of them, appear, or their non-appearance, if default be made; a minute of the pleadings and motions; if in writing, referring to them; if not in writing, a concise statement of the material parts of the pleading.

5. Every adjournment, stating on whose application and to what time.

6. The demand for a trial by jury, when the same is made, and by whom made, the order for the jury, and the time appointed for the return of the jury and for the trial.

7. The names of the jurors who appear and are sworn, and the names of all witnesses sworn, and at whose request.

8. The verdict of the jury, and when received; if the jury disagree and are discharged, the fact of such disagreement and discharge.

9. The judgment of the court, specifying the costs included, and the time when rendered.

10. The issuing of the execution, when issued and to whom; the renewals thereof, if any, and when made, and a statement of any money paid to the justice, when and by whom.

11. The receipt of a notice of appeal, if any be given, and of the appeal bond, if any be filed.

Kerr, C. C. P., 911.

The docket of a justice of the peace is only primary evidence of those facts which it is required to contain, and it is not required to contain any finding that summons has been served; but only the date of the summons and the time of its return. Scorpion S. M. Co. v. Marsano, 10 Nev. 370, 382.

See Martin v. District Court, under sec. 849 of this act.

Ex Parte Breckenridge, 34 Nev. —.

5801. Entries therein prima facie evidence of facts.

SEC. 859. The several particulars of the last section specified must be entered under the title of the action to which they relate, and (unless otherwise in this title provided) at the time when they occur. Such entries in a justice's docket, or a transcript thereof, certified by the justice, or his successor in office, are prima facie evidence of the facts so stated.

Kerr, C. C. P., 912.

5802. An index to the docket must be kept.

SEC. 860. A justice must keep an alphabetical index to his docket, in which must be entered the names of the parties to each judgment, with a reference to the page of entry. The names of the plaintiffs must be entered in the index, in the alphabetical order of the first letter of the family name.

Kerr, C. C. P., 913.

5803. Dockets must be delivered by justice to successor or county clerk.

SEC. 861. Every justice of the peace, upon the expiration of his term of office, must deposit with his successor his official dockets, and all papers filed in his office, as well his own as those of his predecessors, or any other which may be in his custody, to be kept as public records.

Kerr, C. C. P., 914.

5804. Proceedings when office becomes vacant, and before successor appointed.

SEC. 862. If the office of a justice become vacant by his death or removal from the township or city, or otherwise, before his successor is elected and qualified, the docket and papers in possession of such justice must be deposited in the office of some other justice in the township, to be by him delivered to the successor of such justice. If there is no other justice in the township, then the docket and papers of such justice must be deposited in the office of the county clerk of the county, to be by him delivered to the successor in office of the justice.

Kerr, C. C. P., 915.

5805. Justice may issue execution or other process upon docket of predecessor.

SEC. 863. Any justice with whom the docket of his predecessor, or of any other justice, is deposited, has and may exercise over all actions and proceedings entered in such docket, the same jurisdiction as if originally commenced before him. In case of the creation of a new county, or the change of the boundary between two counties, any justice into whose hands the docket of a justice formerly acting as such within the same territory may come, is, for the purposes of this section, considered the successor of such former justice.

Kerr, C. C. P., 916.

5806. Who successor of justice.

SEC. 864. The justice elected to fill a vacancy is the successor of the justice whose office became vacant before the expiration of a full term. When a full term expires, the same or another person elected to take office in the same township or city, from that time is the successor.

Kerr, C. C. P., 917.

5807. Designation of succeeding justice.

SEC. 865. When two or more justices are equally entitled, under the last section, to be deemed the successors in office of the justice, a judge of the district court must, by a certificate subscribed by him and filed in the office of the county clerk, designate which justice is the successor of a justice going out of office, or whose office has become vacant.

Kerr, C. C. P., 918.

5808. Justices may issue subpenas and final process to any part of county.

SEC. 866. Justices of the peace may issue subpenas in any action or proceeding in the courts held by them, and final process on any judgment recovered therein, to any part of the county.

Kerr, C. C. P., 919.

5809. Blanks must be filled in all papers issued by a justice, except subpenas.

SEC. 867. The summons, execution, and every other paper made or issued by a justice, except a subpena, must be issued without a blank left to be filled by another, otherwise it is void.

Kerr, C. C. P., 920.

5810. Justices to receive all moneys collected and pay same to parties.

SEC. 868. Justices of the peace must receive from the sheriff or constables of their county, all moneys collected on any process or order issued from their courts respectively, and must pay the same, and all moneys paid to them in their official capacity, over to the parties entitled or authorized to receive them; without delay.

Kerr, C. C. P., 921.

5811. In case of disability of justice another justice may attend on his behalf.

SEC. 869. In case of the sickness or other disability, or necessary absence of a justice, on a return of a summons, or at the time appointed for a trial, another justice of the same township or city may, at his request, attend in his behalf, and thereupon is vested with the power, for the time being, of the justice before whom the summons was returnable. In that case, the proper entry of the proceedings before the attending justice, subscribed by him, must be made in the docket of the justice before whom the summons was returnable. If the case is adjourned, the justice before whom the summons was returnable may resume jurisdiction.

Kerr, C. C. P., 922.

5812. Justices may require security for costs.

SEC. 870. Justices may, in all cases require a deposit of money or an undertaking, as security for costs of court, before issuing a summons.

Kerr, C. C. P., 923.

5813. Who entitled to costs.

SEC. 871. The prevailing party in justices' courts is entitled to costs of the action, and also of any proceedings taken by him in aid of an execution issued upon any judgment recovered therein.

Kerr, C. C. P., 924.

5814. Attorneys' fees may be recovered.

SEC. 872. The prevailing party in any civil action at law in the justice courts of this state shall receive in addition to the costs of court as now allowed by law, a reasonable attorney's fee, said fee to be fixed by the justice of the peace, and taxed as costs against the losing party.

5815. What provisions of code applicable to justices' courts.

SEC. 873. Justices' courts being courts of peculiar and limited jurisdiction, only those provisions of this act which are, in their nature, applicable to the organization, powers, and course of proceedings in justices' courts or which have been made applicable by special provisions in this title, are applicable to justices' courts and the proceedings therein.

Kerr, C. C. P., 925.

5816. Deposit instead of undertaking.

SEC. 874. In all civil cases arising in justices' courts, wherein an undertaking is required as prescribed in this act, the plaintiff or defendant may deposit with said justice a sum of money in United States gold coin equal to the amount required by the said undertaking, which said sum of money shall be taken as security in place of said undertaking.

Kerr, C. C. P., 926.

CHAPTER 85

CONCERNING THE REPEAL OF CERTAIN PROVISIONS OF THE CIVIL PRACTICE ACT AND ACTS IN RELATION THERETO

5817. Same provisions in this act as in existing acts deemed continuation thereof.
5718. Existing or prior existing rights preserved.
5819. Limitations not affected.
5820. Act to take effect January 1, 1912.
5821. Schedule of acts repealed.

5817. Same provisions in this act as in existing acts deemed continuation thereof.

SEC. 875. The provisions of this act, so far as they are substantially the same as those of existing statutes, shall be construed as a continuation thereof and not as new enactments, and a reference in a statute which has not been repealed to provisions of law which are revised and reenacted herein shall be construed as applying to such provisions as so incorporated in this act.

Act cited generally, in dissenting opinion of Fitzgerald, J., to the effect that such sections of the acts of 1861, 314, as were contained in the act of 1869, 196, in the same identical words, were not to have the force of later enactments of the legislature, and therefore to be the latest and true expression of the legislative will, but were to be considered merely as continuations of the old enactment. Peters v. Jones, 26 Nev. 265 (66 P. 745).

5818. Existing or prior existing rights preserved.

SEC. 876. The repeal of a law by this act shall not affect any act done, ratified or confirmed, or any right accrued or established, or any action, suit or proceeding commenced or had in a civil case, before the repeal takes effect, but the proceedings in such case shall, as far as practicable, conform to the provisions of this act.

5819. Limitations not affected.

SEC. 877. If a limitation or period of time prescribed in any of the acts repealed for acquiring a right, barring a remedy or any other purpose has begun to run, and the same or a similar limitation is prescribed in any law of the state, the time of limitation shall continue to run and shall have like effect as if the whole period had begun and ended under the operation of the law then in force.

5820. Act to take effect January 1, 1912.

SEC. 878. This act shall take effect on the first day of January, one thousand nine hundred and twelve.

5821. Schedule of acts repealed.

SEC. 879. The acts, and parts of acts, which are specified in the annexed schedule shall be expressly repealed from and after the first day of January in the year nineteen hundred and twelve, subject to all the provisions contained in this chapter; but no implication shall be drawn from such repeal that said acts were in force until so repealed:

SCHEDULE

MINERAL CABINETS EXEMPT FROM EXECUTION

An Act to encourage the collection of geological, paleontological, and mineral specimens in this state.

Approved March 5, 1879. 64.

5822. Specimen cabinets exempt from execution.

SECTION 1. Any person who shall be the bona fide owner of a collection, or cabinet of metal-bearing ores, geological specimens, art curiosities, or paleontological remains, and who shall properly arrange, classify, number, and catalogue in a suitable book or books of reference any such collection of ores, specimens, curiosities, or remains, whether the same shall be kept at a private residence or in a public hall, or in a place of public business or traffic, the said bona fide owner of such collection shall be entitled to hold the same exempt from execution, as other property is exempted from execution under the provisions of section 221 of an act entitled "An act to regulate proceedings in civil cases in the courts of justice of this state, and to repeal all other acts in relation thereto," approved March eighth, eighteen hundred and sixty-nine.

5823. Idem—Numismatic collections defined—Not exempt.

SEC. 2. Nothing in section 1 of this act shall be construed so as to exempt from execution any numismatic collection, such as gold and silver coins, paper currency, bank notes, legal tender currency, national or state bonds, or any negotiable note, or valuable copper, bronze, nickel, platinum, or other coin whatsoever.

5824. Idem—Must keep catalogues.

SEC. 3. It is hereby made the duty of the owner of any such collection or cabinet, as described in section 1 of this act, to keep constantly at or near such collections or cabinet, for the free inspection of all visitors who may desire to examine the same, either written or printed catalogues, as provided in section 1 of this act; and any person owning such collection or cabinet, who shall fail or neglect to comply with the provisions of this section of this act, shall forfeit all right to hold such collections or cabinet as exempt from legal execution, as provided in section 1 of this act.

An Act to provide for the adoption of children.

Approved February 20, 1885, 29

5825. Adoption of children—Requirements.
5826. Idem—Necessary consent—Appearance before district judge — Agreement to support.
5827. Unlawfully separated married persons shall not adopt without consent of spouse—Exception.
5828. Consent of parents — Exception, proviso—Illegitimate child—Child over twelve must consent in writing.
5829. Judge to examine under oath—Order of adoption — Rights of adopted child same as lawful child.
5830. May take name of adopting party—Legal relation of parties.
5831. If abandonment of child be shown, consent not necessary—Consent of absent parents, how obtained—Custodian or next friend cited and examined.
5832. Papers to be filed by judge—Order entered in court minutes—Copy recorded with county recorder—Record of legal notice.
5833. When illegitimate child is deemed adopted by conduct of father—Effect—Acknowledged by father becomes legitimate from its birth.
5834. Shall not apply to Mongolians.

5825. Adoption of children—Requirements.

SECTION 1. Any minor child may be adopted by any adult person or by any husband and wife, in the cases and subject to the provisions prescribed in this act. The person or persons adopting a child must be at least ten years older than the child adopted; provided, that in the case of a husband and wife adopting a child, if only one of them shall be ten years older than the child, it shall be sufficient.

See sec. 746.

5826. Idem—Necessary consent — Appearance before district judge — Agreement to support.

SEC. 2. The person or persons adopting a child, and the child adopted, and the other persons, if known, if within or residents of this state, whose consent is necessary, must appear before the district judge of the county where the person or persons adopting reside, and the necessary consent must thereupon be signed and an agreement be executed by the person or persons adopting, to the effect that the child shall be adopted and treated in all respects as his, or her, or their own lawful child should be treated, including the rights of support, protection and inheritance.

5827. Unlawfully separated married persons shall not adopt without consent of spouse—Exception.

SEC. 3. A married man, not lawfully separated from his wife, or a married woman, not thus separated from her husband, cannot adopt a child without the consent of the other spouse; provided, the husband or wife not consenting is capable of giving such consent.

5828. Consent of parents — Exception — Proviso — Illegitimate child— Child over twelve must consent in writing.

SEC. 4. A legitimate child cannot be adopted without the consent of its parents, if they be living and known, nor an illegitimate child without the consent of its mother, if she be living and known, and not without the consent of the father of such illegitimate child also, if he be living and known, and if he shall have adopted such illegitimate child as his own, by the acts and in the manner prescribed by section 8 [9] of this act; provided, that such consent shall not be necessary from a father or mother deprived of civil rights, or adjudged guilty of adultery, or cruelty, abandonment, or for either of said causes, divorced, or adjudged to be a habitual drunkard, or has been judicially deprived of the custody of the child on account of adultery, drunkenness, cruelty or neglect; and, provided further, that no child over the age of twelve years shall be adopted without his or her own consent in writing.

5829. Judge to examine under oath—Order of adoption — Rights of adopted child same as lawful child.

SEC. 5. The judge must examine, under oath, all persons appearing before him under the provisions of this act, and if satisfied that the interest of the child will be promoted by the adoption, he shall make an order declaring that the child shall henceforth be regarded and treated in all respects as, and have all rights, including the right of support, and of protection, and of inheritance, of a lawful child of the person or persons so adopting the child.

5830. May take name of adopting party—Legal relation of parties.

SEC. 6. A child, when adopted, may take the family name of the person or persons adopting, and after adoption the persons adopting, and the child, shall sustain towards each other the legal relation of parent and child, and have all the rights, including the rights of support, maintenance, protection, and inheritance, and be subject to all of the duties of that relation; and the natural parents of an adopted child are, from the time of the adoption, relieved of all parental duties toward, and all responsibilities for, the child so adopted, and have no rights over it.

5831. Consent of absent parents, how obtained—If abandonment of child be shown, consent not necessary—Custodian or next friend cited and examined.

SEC. 7. If the persons whose consent is necessary to the adoption of the child are not within this state, their consent, in writing, if they be known and their whereabouts can be ascertained, must be obtained and filed with the judge, duly executed and acknowledged, in like manner as conveyances of real estate are required to be executed and acknowledged; provided, that if the judge shall find that the person or persons whose consent is required have abandoned such child, or if such persons are unknown, or their whereabouts cannot be ascertained, then in that case the judge may, in his discretion, proceed to make the order of adoption without such consent; but in that case it shall be the duty of the judge to cause to appear before him, by citation or otherwise, the persons in whose custody the child is, and may also bring before him, in his discretion, such of the next friends of the child as he may deem proper, and shall examine them under oath, and if he deem it for the best interests of the child, he shall make the order of adoption.

5832. Papers to be filed by judge—Order entered in court minutes—Copy recorded with county recorder—Legal notice.

SEC. 8. The district judge shall file in the office of the county clerk all papers presented before him, or copies thereof, in the matter of the adoption of any child, and shall cause the order of adoption to be entered in the minutes of the district court of the county where the proceeding is had, and a certified copy of such minute entry to be filed and recorded in the office of the county recorder of said county, and such records shall be notice to the world of such adoption of the child.

5833. When illegitimate child deemed adopted by conduct of father—Effect—Acknowledged by father becomes legitimate from birth.

SEC. 9. The father of an illegitimate child, by publicly acknowledging it as his own, or receiving it as such, with the consent of his wife, if he is married, into his family, or otherwise treating it as his legitimate child, thereby adopts it as such; and such child shall, thereupon and thenceforth, be deemed, for all purposes, legitimate from the time of its birth. The provisions of the foregoing sections of this act do not apply to such an adoption, except as specified in section 4 of this act.

See sec. 6117.

5834. Shall not apply to Mongolians.

SEC. 10. The provisions of this act shall not apply to any Mongolian, either as the adopting or adopted party.

CHANGING NAMES OF PERSONS

An Act in relation to changing the names of individuals.

Approved February 10, 1869, 60

5835. Name, how may be changed—Verified petition filed with clerk of court.

SECTION 1. Any person desiring to have his or her name changed, may file with the clerk of the district court, of the district in which he or she may reside, a petition, verified by his or her oath, addressed to said court, stating his or her present name, the name which he or she desires to bear in future, and the reason for desiring said change.

Change of name of female in divorce proceeding, section 5844.

5836. Idem—Notice published.

SEC. 2. Upon the filing of said petition the applicant shall make out and procure to be published in some newspaper of general circulation in the county, for the period of thirty days, a notice, stating the fact of the filing of the petition, its object, his or her present name, and the name which he or she desires to bear in future.

5837. Court to make order, when—Objections determined—Recorded as judgment.

SEC. 3. If, within ten days after the expiration of the thirty days, no written objection shall be filed with said clerk, upon proof of the filing of the petition and publication of notice, as required in section 2, and upon being satisfied by the statements in the petition, or by other evidence, that good reason exists therefor, the said court shall make an order, changing the name of the applicant as prayed for in the petition. If, within said period, objection be filed, the court shall appoint a day for hearing the proofs respectively of the applicant and the objection, upon reasonable notice; and upon said day shall hear the proofs, and grant or refuse the prayer of the petitioner, according as the proofs shall or shall not show satisfactory reasons for making said change. Upon the making of an order, granting the prayer of the petitioner, the same shall be recorded as a judgment of said court, and the name of the applicant shall thereupon be as stated in said order.

An Act relating to marriage and divorce.

Approved November 28, 1861, 94

5838. Divorce from bonds of matrimony, how obtained—Grounds for divorce.
5839. Nonresident defendants to be notified —Court may make order—Publication—Service of summons—Compulsory process may issue, when.
5840. Disposition of children pending proceedings and upon divorce—Judge may order production of child—Orders, how enforced.
5841. Disposition of property—What considerations determine — Effect of decree on matters not specifically mentioned—Preliminary restraining orders.
5842. Testimony, pleadings, and orders.
5843. Disposition of property rights—Rule where wife obtains decree on ground of imprisonment or adultery of husband—Alimony pendente lite—Procedure—Orders.
5844. Effect of divorce—Contract dissolved as to both parties—Female's name may be changed.
5845. Jury trial.

[Sections 1–21, relating to marriage, will be found under that head, secs. 2338–2357.]

5838. Divorce from bonds of matrimony, how obtained—Grounds for divorce.

SEC. 22. Divorce from the bonds of matrimony may be obtained, by complaint under oath, to the district court of the county in which the cause therefor shall have accrued, or in which the defendant shall reside or be found, or in which the plaintiff shall reside, if the latter be either the county in which the parties last cohabited, or in which the plaintiff shall have resided six months before suit be brought, for the following causes:

First—Impotency at the time of the marriage continuing to the time of the divorce.

Second—Adultery, since the marriage, remaining unforgiven.

Third—Wilful desertion, at any time, of either party by the other, for the period of one year.

Fourth—Conviction of felony or infamous crime.

Fifth—Habitual gross drunkenness, contracted since marriage of either party, which shall incapacitate such party from contributing his or her share to the support of the family.

Sixth—Extreme cruelty in either party.

Seventh—Neglect of the husband, for the period of one year, to provide the common necessaries of life, when such neglect is not the result of poverty on the part of the husband, which he could not avoid by ordinary industry. As amended, Stats. 1875, 63.

Kerr, Civ. C., 92-107.

For sections relating to annulment of void marriage, see secs. 2354-2357.

Cited, Sheckles v. Sheckles, 3 Nev. 407.

The acts or character of treatment which will amount to extreme cruelty sufficient to constitute a ground of divorce must in a great measure depend on the character of the respective parties, and the peculiar circumstances of each case. Reed v. Reed, 4 Nev. 395.

There may be extreme cruelty without the slightest violence; if it appear probable that the life of one of the parties will be rendered miserable by any character of misconduct upon the part of the other, although no personal violence be apprehended, a separation should be decreed. Idem.

A mere act of violence, where there is no apprehension of its repetition, and which is the result of rashness rather than malignity, does not furnish a ground of divorce for extreme cruelty, because this relief is not granted to punish the party guilty of misconduct, but to relieve the other party from future suffering or violence. Idem.

A divorce will not be granted on the ground of extreme cruelty where it appears that the complaining party has wilfully provoked the violence or misconduct complained of, unless such violence greatly exceeds the provocation. Idem.

In an action for divorce for extreme cruelty, where nothing is said in the pleading about the disposition of the common property, it is error to award it all to one of the parties. Howe v. Howe, 4 Nev. 469.

Where the decree of divorce for extreme cruelty in an action in which there was no averment in the pleadings as to the common property, awarded it all to the plaintiff, it was held that in so far as it purported to make disposition of or direction concerning such property, it should be reversed, and the cause remanded for amendment of the pleadings and for further proceedings. Idem.

The element of danger to life, limb or health, or the reasonable apprehension of such danger, must exist in order to constitute legal cruelty. There may, however, be cruelty without personal violence, and such cruelty working upon the mind may affect the health. Kelly v. Kelly, 18 Nev. 49 (51 A. R. 732, 1 P. 194).

False accusations, by the wife, of marital infidelity on the part of the husband, may in certain cases constitute such extreme cruelty as to entitle the husband to a divorce. The statute contemplates cases in which the husband may be the complaining party, and in such cases it affords him the same relief it extends to a complaining wife. Idem.

Evidence held sufficient to constitute a cause of action for divorce on the ground of extreme cruelty (Belknap, J., dissenting). Gardner v. Gardner, 23 Nev. 207 (45 P. 139).

In an action for divorce on the ground of extreme cruelty, the evidence is not necessarily to be limited to the particular facts charged, but evidence of other facts whether before or after suit brought, which serves to give character to the acts of cruelty alleged and proved, is admissible. Idem.

The admission of incompetent evidence in a divorce suit is not ground for reversal where it appears that the finding of the court was not based thereon. Idem.

A complaint, in an action by wife for divorce, alleging that defendant inhumanly caught plaintiff by the throat in an angry and threatening manner, and forced her out of the house; threatened her and commanded that she leave; called her vile and opprobrious names, thereby causing her to become weak and nervous, fearful of suffering bodily injury at defendant's hands—sufficiently alleged extreme cruelty. Kapp v. District Court, 31 Nev. 444 (103 P. 235).

An attorney, who published and advertised a pamphlet to attract nonresidents to the state to apply for divorce through him, will be shown leniency and suspended for only eight months and till the further order of the court, he having discontinued the advertising when his attention was called to his methods being condemned by the bar association, and his being the first case of the character brought to the attention of the court. In re Schnitzer, 33 Nev. — (112 P. 848, 851).

For an attorney to publish and advertise a pamphlet, the purpose of which is to attract nonresidents to the state to apply to its courts for divorce, through his agency as an attorney, that he may profit financially thereby, is "misconduct" within the meaning of the law providing for removal or suspension of attorneys. Idem.

For further cases of misconduct of attorneys, and suspension therefor, see sec. 511, ante.

See application of Reno Bar Association for disbarment of Robert Scoutar, 34 Nev.—.

5839. Nonresident defendants to be notified—Court may make order—Publication—Service of summons—Compulsory process may issue, when.

SEC. 23. If the defendant is not a resident of the territory, or cannot, for any cause, be personally summoned, the court, or judge, in vacation, may order notice of the pendency of the suit to be given in such manner, and during such time, as shall appear most likely to convey a knowledge thereof to the defendant, without undue expense or delay; and if no such order be made, it shall be sufficient to publish such notice in a weekly newspaper, printed in, or nearest to, the county in which the suit is pending, three months in succession; and if the defendant fail to appear and make defense, at the first term after such notice, or after thirty days' personal service of summons, the evidence may be heard, and the cause decided, at that term; or compulsory process may be had to obtain an appearance, or answer, if it be necessary to the disposition of property, or of children.

Kerr, Civ. C., 130.
See Residence, secs. 3609–3616.
Summons, service of, as provided in civil practice act, see secs. 5016–5034.
Cited, Wuest v. Wuest, 17 Nev. 217 (30 P. 886).

5840. Disposition of children pending proceedings and upon divorce—Judge may order production of child—Orders, how enforced.

SEC. 24. The court, in granting a divorce, shall make such disposition of, and provision for, the children, as shall appear most expedient under all the circumstances, and most for the present comfort and future well-being of such children; and when, at the commencement, or during the pendency, of the suit, it shall be made to appear to the court, or to the judge, in vacation, that any child of the wife, whether she be plaintiff or defendant, which is too young to dispense with the care of its mother, or other female, has been or is likely to be, taken or detained from her, or that any child of either party, has been, or is likely to be taken, or removed, by, or at the instance of, the other party, out of the country, or concealed within the same, it shall be the duty of the court, or of such judge in vacation, forthwith to order such child to be produced before him, and then to make such disposition of the same, during the pendency of the suit, as shall appear most advantageous to such child, and most likely to secure to it the benefit of the final order to be made in its behalf; and all such orders may be enforced, and made effectual, by attachment, commitment, and requiring security for obedience thereto, or by other means, according to the usages of courts, and to the circumstances of the case; provided, the court, upon good cause shown, may change the custody of such minor children, if they should be satisfied that such change will be for the welfare of such children.

Kerr, Civ. C., 138.

A complaint praying for divorce and that the defendant be awarded custody of the children and for such other and further relief as may seem just and equitable, does not authorize award of custody of the children to plaintiff and payments to her by defendant for support of plaintiff and the children. Mitchell v. Mitchell, 28 Nev. 110, 125 (79 P. 50).

The method of proceeding by a petition or complaint reciting an order for alimony pendente lite, its nonpayment, the amount accrued and unpaid, and defendant's refusal to pay, and praying for judgment that plaintiff have execution against defendant's property subject thereto, is substantially a writ of scire facias, unknown to the Nevada practice. Kapp v. District Court, 32 Nev. 264 (107 P. 95).

Execution will not ordinarily issue except to enforce a final judgment. Idem.

As execution ordinarily issues only to enforce a final judgment, an interlocutory order for alimony pendente lite will not be so enforced except where special statutory provision warrants it. Idem.

Section 27 of the act relating to marriage and divorce provides for the enforcement of orders for alimony pendente lite as is provided in section 24, which provides for enforcing orders by attachment, commitment, and requiring security, "or by other means, according to the usages of the courts." Held, that the words quoted do not authorize an order that execution issue to enforce an interlocutory order, as enforcement of such orders to pay money is not according to such usage. Idem.

An order or judgment for execution to enforce payment of alimony pendente lite, not mentioning specific property, cannot be supported on the theory that it directs application of specific property of defendant to such object, and if execution were permitted to issue, it would be left entirely with the sheriff under the law governing such cases. Idem.

5841. Disposition of property, what considerations determine—Effect of decree on matters not specifically mentioned — Preliminary restraining orders.

SEC. 25. In granting a divorce, the court shall also make such disposition of the property of the parties as shall appear just and equitable, having regard to the respective merits of the parties, and to the condition in which they will be left by such divorce, and to the party through whom the property was acquired, and to the burdens imposed upon it, for the benefit of the children. And all property and pecuniary rights and interests, and all rights touching the children, their custody and guardianship, not otherwise disposed of or regulated by the order of the court, shall, by such divorce, be divested out of the guilty party, and vested in the party at whose instance the divorce was granted. And if after the filing of the petition, it shall be made to appear probable to the court or the judge, in vacation, that either party is about to do any act that would defeat or render less effectual any order which the court might ultimately make concerning property or pecuniary interests, an order shall be made for the prevention thereof, to be enforced as such preliminary orders are enforced respecting children.

Cited, Wuest v. Wuest, 17 Nev. 217 (30 P. 886).
See Lake v. Bender, and Darrenberger v. Haupt, under sec. 27 of this act.

5842. Testimony, pleadings, and orders.

SEC. 26. The testimony of witnesses in suits for divorce, shall be given orally in court, with the right to either party to take and use depositions, on the same terms and in the same manner as in actions at law; and the proceedings, pleadings, and practice, shall conform to those at law, as nearly as conveniently may be, but all preliminary and final orders may be in such form as will best effect the object of this act, and produce substantial justice.

5843. Disposition of property rights—Rule when wife obtains decree on ground of imprisonment or adultery of husband—Alimony pendente lite—Procedure—Orders.

SEC. 27. When the marriage shall be dissolved by the husband being sentenced to imprisonment, and when a divorce shall be ordered for the cause of adultery committed by the husband, the wife shall be entitled to the same proportion of his lands and property as if he were dead; but in other cases the court may set apart such portion for her support, and the support of their children, as shall be deemed just and equitable. In any suit for divorce now pending, or which may hereafter be commenced, the court or judge may, in its discretion, upon application, of which due notice shall have been given to the husband, or his attorney, at any time after the filing of the complaint, require the husband to pay such sums as may be necessary to enable the wife to carry on or defend such suit, and for her support and the support of the children of the parties during the pendency of such suit; and the court or judge may direct the application of specific property of the husband to such object, and may also direct the payment to the wife for such purpose of any sum or sums that may be due and owing to the husband from any quarter, and may enforce all orders made in this behalf, as is provided in section 24 of this act. As amended, Stats. 1865, 99.

Kerr, Civ. C., 137, 139, 146.
See sec. 2166.

The court cannot make an order for the payment of past expenses after the suit has been finally decided against the wife, although the motion was made before the decision of the case. Wilde v. Wilde, 2 Nev. 306, 307.

When an allowance is made to a wife for expenses of procuring attendance of witnesses in one district, and the case is afterwards removed to another district, where all witnesses reside, it would be proper for the judge of the latter district to review the allowance made, and modify it according to his views of the necessary costs in his district. Sheckles v. Sheckles, 3 Nev. 404.

See Howe v. Howe, under sec. 22 of this act.

The rights of husband and wife to property acquired before the adoption of the state constitution and before the passage by the legislature of any statute providing for the separate or common property of husband and wife, must be governed by the rules of the common law. Darrenberger v. Haupt, 10 Nev. 43, 46, 47.

It was the intention of the legislature that in case of a divorce for the misconduct of the husband other than imprisonment or adultery, his individual or sole property is subject to the order of the court. Idem.

In an action for divorce, the notice of application for the allowance of counsel fees must be served upon the attorney, if there is one, instead of the party. Lake v. Lake, 16 Nev. 363, 366.

The power of the court to make an allowance of counsel fees, while the cause is pending, is incident to divorce suits, and may be made as often as the circumstances may require. Idem.

Where the wife obtained a decree of divorce and the court adjudged a large estate, claimed by her as community property, to be the separate property of the husband and awarded it all to him, it was held that the court was justified in making an allowance of counsel fees to enable her to proceed further and contest the question relating to the property, it appearing that such proceedings were contemplated in good faith. Idem.

Where the husband appeals from an order of the district court allowing counsel fees to the wife, the supreme court has the power to make an allowance of counsel fees to the wife so as to enable her to appear, by counsel, in the supreme court upon such appeal. Idem.

See Kapp v. District Court, under sec. 22 of this act.

The court has power to award without abusing its discretion all of the property of the husband to the wife, and require him to pay twenty dollars per month for the support of an infant child. Wuest v. Wuest, 17 Nev. 218 (30 P. 886).

Having awarded all the property of the husband to the wife, it was held that the court erred in ordering the husband to pay counsel fees to the attorney for the wife. Idem.

In an action for divorce and division of community property, where a divorce is first granted and subsequently the issues relating to the property are determined, the district court has power to grant a new trial of the issues relating to the property rights alone, provided there is any material error affecting that branch of the case only without ordering a retrial of all the issues in the case. Lake v. Bender, 18 Nev. 361, 402, 403.

Upon granting a divorce the question as to the amount of allowance for the support of the wife is left to the legal discretion of the trial court and should not be interfered with in the appellate court, unless the discretion has been abused. Idem.

It is the duty of the district court to allow such sum for the wife's support as is just and equitable under the circumstances of the case and the surroundings of the parties. Idem.

In this case the allowance by the district court was increased in the supreme court. Idem.

An order increasing alimony pendente lite is not appealable. Kapp v. Kapp, 31 Nev. 70 (99 P. 1077).

See Kapp v. District Court, under sec. 24 of this act.

The court may, where it has jurisdiction, during a divorce action, increase or diminish the allowance from time to time as the circumstances may require. Kapp v. District Court, 31 Nev. 444 (103 P. 235).

Where the court has jurisdiction of divorce action, and has discretion to make such an allowance to the wife as the circumstances warrant, pendente lite, the supreme court will not annul such an order by writ of certiorari. Idem.

5844. Effect of divorce—Contract dissolved as to both parties—Female's name may be changed.

SEC. 28. Whenever an order of divorce from the bonds of matrimony is granted in this territory by the court of competent authority, such order shall fully and completely dissolve the marriage contract as to both parties; and in all suits for a divorce brought by a female, if a divorce be granted, the court may, for just and reasonable cause, change the name of such female, and shall, in its order, decree and appoint.

When a divorce is granted at the instance of a wife against her husband, on the ground of extreme cruelty, the court is authorized to set aside such portion of the husband's separate property for the support of the wife and children as shall be deemed just, and the court, in a proper case, has power to invest the wife with the husband's title to the property as one of the means of securing such support (Wuest v. Wuest, 17 Nev. 221, affirmed). Powell v. Campbell, 20 Nev. 232, 239, 240 (19 A. S. 350, 2 L. R. A. 615, 20 P. 156).

In an action in equity the court will, at the instance of the wife, set aside the deed of such purchaser and require the legal title to the property to be conveyed to her. Idem.

To such suit the former husband, who was duly served with process in the divorce action and all his interests in the land divested by the decree therein, is not a necessary party. Idem.

In an action for divorce where the wife alleges her necessities and her husband's abilities, and prays that specific real property be set apart for her support, it was held that the rule of lis pendens applies against a purchaser, pendente lite, with actual knowledge of all the facts. Idem.

5845. Jury trial.

SEC. 29. Either party, on application to the court, may be entitled, at such trial, to have the issue of fact involved in such case and presented by the pleadings, tried by a jury, in accordance with the general rules governing the trial of civil actions in the district court.

Public may be excluded from hearing in certain cases, sec. 4863.

JOINT DEBTORS

An Act concerning the liabilities of joint debtors.

Approved February 15, 1866, 67

5846. Joint debtor may be released—Effect of release.

SECTION 1. Any one of two or more joint debtors, or parties jointly, or jointly and severally, bound by any contract or judgment, may be released from his, her, or its liability upon such contract or judgment by the creditor or creditors, and such release shall not operate, nor be held to operate, in law as a release to the other debtor or debtors upon such contract or judgment, except as to the released debtor's proportion of such liability or debt, estimated upon the basis of the number of such debtors; but such release shall operate only as a release of all liability of such debtor to the creditor in such contract or judgment, and as a credit upon the same of such proportionate sum as herein provided.

Hoppin v. First Nat. Bank, 25 Nev. 84.

The conveyance of one joint mortgageor of her interests in the mortgaged premises to the plaintiff in satisfaction of the mortgage would operate as a release of her proportionate part of the mortgage debt. Hoppin v. First National Bank, 25 Nev. 84 (56 P. 1121).

5847. Not necessary party to action against other joint debtors.

SEC. 2. It shall not be necessary to make the party released, as provided in the foregoing section, a party to any action upon such contract, but the creditor or creditors aforesaid may pursue the remaining debtors for the remaining portion of such debt, the same as though no such release had been made.

5848. Credit on judgment—Release from liability.

SEC. 3. In case a release as aforesaid be made to any judgment debtor by the judgment creditor, the judge or justice shall order the proper credit, as aforesaid, made upon such judgment, and that such debtor be released from liability upon the same.

POSSESSORY ACTIONS

Civil practice act, sections 4943–5821.
Public lands, page 870, et seq.
Unlawful enclosure of public lands, sections 3173–3176.

An Act prescribing the mode of maintaining and defending possessory actions on public lands in this state.

Approved March 9, 1865, 343

5849. Action to defend possession—Not to affect mining rights.
5850. Extent of claim 160 acres.
5851. Possessory claims to be surveyed and recorded—Affidavit.

5852. Land improved in certain time—Value of improvements.
5853. Occupant may absent himself—Fee to be paid—How disposed of.
5854. Proof of actual enclosure not required.
5855. All lands deemed public, exception—Action for unlawful entry.
5856. Acts repealed.

5849. Action to defend possession—Not to affect mining rights.

SECTION 1. Any person now legally occupying and settled upon, or who may hereafter occupy or settle upon, any of the public lands in this state, for the purpose of cultivating or grazing the same, may commence and maintain any action for interference with, or injuries done to, his or her possession of said land, against any person or persons so interfering with or injuring such land or possession; provided, that if the lands so occupied and possessed contain mines of any of the precious metals, the possession or claim of the person or persons occupying the same, for the purposes aforesaid, shall not preclude the working of such mines by any person or persons desiring so to do, as fully and unreservedly as they might or could do had no possession or claim been made for grazing or agricultural purposes.

What facts are sufficient to constitute such a possession of public land as will maintain ejectment, must, in a great measure, depend upon the character of the land, the locality and the object for which it is taken up. Sankey v. Noyes, 1 Nev. 68.

Possession is prima facie evidence of title and sufficient to maintain ejectment, but where possession alone is relied on, it must be an actual bona fide occupation. Idem.

The mere staking off of land, without occupation or other acts of ownership, would not constitute such a possession as would maintain ejectment. Idem.

Until there is some decisive act to show an ouster or adverse possession, the possession of one joint tenant, or tenant in common, inures to the benefit of all. Van Valkenburg v. Huff, 1 Nev. 142.

Facts held to constitute possession. Brown v. Roberts, 1 Nev. 462.

Cited, Whitman M. Co. v. Baker, 3 Nev. 392, 393; Rivers v. Burbank, 13 Nev. 399, 409.

A title to public land, not surveyed or brought into market by government, sufficient to maintain ejectment may be acquired only in one of two ways; either by compliance with the requirements of this statute, or by actual possession or occupation of such land. Stainінger v. Andrews, 4 Nev. 59, 66.

A settler on public land is entitled to a reasonable time after his location to enclose it, or to make such improvements as may be necessary to its enjoyment; and during such time he will be protected precisely the same as if he had perfected by possession, by enclosure, or otherwise. Idem.

A settler on public land, if ousted after the lapse of a reasonable time within which to improve it, can recover against the person in possession only by showing an actual, notorious prior possession. Idem.

Actual possession of land is the purpose to enjoy the same, united with or manifested by such visible acts, improvements or enclosures as will give to the locator the absolute and exclusive enjoyment of it. Idem.

A locator upon public land, who shows that he first entered upon it, marked out the boundaries, and diligently proceeded, or diligently made preparations, to do such acts as were necessary to constitute an actual possession, will be entitled, even without showing an actual possession, to recover against a person subsequently entering. Idem.

The question as to whether a settler on public land has proceeded with reasonable diligence to follow up his location with the necessary improvements, so as to recover against a subsequent possessor, is a question of fact for the jury. Idem.

In an action to determine an adverse claim to land lying on both sides of a river, the refusal of an instruction asked by defendant "that, if they found from the evidence that plaintiff had shown a right only to that portion of the land on the north side of the river, he was not entitled to recover with respect to that located on the south side," was held error. Van Vliet v. Olin, 4 Nev. 95, 97 (97 A. D. 513).

Facts held an insufficient showing to maintain ejectment. Kraft v. Carlow, 9 Nev. 20, 22; Courtney v. Turner, 12 Nev. 345, 348.

Where possession is relied upon to maintain ejectment, it must be an actual bona fide possession, a subjection to the will and dominion of a claimant, as distinguished from the mere assertion of title and the exercise of occasional acts of ownership. Idem.

Actual possession of land—Acts necessary to constitute possession—Natural boundaries. Eureka Con. M. & S. Co. v. Way, 11 Nev. 171; Lechler v. Chapin, 12 Nev. 65.

When agricultural land need not be fenced. Courtney v. Turner, 12 Nev. 345.

Evidence held wholly insufficient to create any possessory right to land. Rivers v. Burbank, 13 Nev. 399, 409.

When no better right than possession is shown, he who is prior in time is prior in right. Brown v. Killabrew, 21 Nev. 437 (33 P. 865).

One who has purchased and received a conveyance of the improvements and possessory right of a settler on unsurveyed public lands, is entitled to recover in ejectment against one who entered by his permission and afterwards refused to surrender possession. Idem.

Actual possession of land consists in subjecting it to the will and dominion of the occupant, and must be evidenced by those things which are essential to its beneficial use. The law requires that the extent of the claim should be clearly defined, and that the possession should be open, notorious and continuous. Robinson v. Imp. M. Co., 5 Nev. 44; Rogers v. Cooney, 7 Nev. 213.

Possession of land—When enclosure not necessary. Hamburg M. Co. v. Stephenson, 17 Nev. 449 (30 P. 1088).

Prior possession of land by the plaintiff, and ouster by the defendant, makes a prima facie case for plaintiff, and throws the burden of proof on defendant to show that he has some superior right. McFarland v. Culbertson, 2 Nev. 280.

What parties must show. Idem.

Preemption claim under United States laws—When cannot be made. Nickals v. Winn, 17 Nev. 188; Nickals v. Bird, 17 Nev. 195.

Prior possession—Question of fact. In ejectment for land, on the ground of prior possession, if there is some evidence tending to prove acts of appropriate domain, its sufficiency is a question of fact for the jury, and not one of law for the court to decide. Sharon v. Davidson, 4 Nev. 416.

Insufficiency of evidence—Nonsuit—Error to grant if there is some evidence tending to show possession. Idem.

Possession to maintain trespass quare clausum fregit. It was formerly held necessary for the plaintiff to establish an actual possession of the locus in quo; but under more modern decisions a constructive possession is held sufficient. Courchaine v. Bullion Co., 4 Nev. 369.

Right of possession in defendant—Right of preemptor of government land—Recognized preemption rights—Effect of land office decision—Preemption rights relate back to first steps. Idem.

5850. Extent of claim 160 acres.

SEC. 2. Every such claim, to entitle the holder to maintain any action as aforesaid, shall not contain more than one hundred and sixty acres, and the same shall be surveyed and marked by metes and bounds, so that the boundaries may be readily traced and the extent of such claim easily known; and no person shall be entitled to maintain any such action for possession of, or injury to, any claim, unless he or she occupy the same, and shall have complied with the provisions of the third and fourth sections of this act.

5851. Possessory claims surveyed and recorded—Affidavit.

SEC. 3. Any person claiming any of the public lands in this state shall have the same surveyed by the county surveyor of the county in which said lands are situated, and shall have the plot of such survey duly certified to by said surveyor, recorded in the office of the county recorder, and shall take and subscribe his or her affidavit that he or she has taken no other claim under this act, and that, to the best of his or her knowledge and belief, the said lands are not claimed under any existing title.

5852. Land improved in certain time—Value of improvements.

SEC. 4. Within ninety days after the date of said record, the party recording is hereby required to improve the lands thus recorded to the value of two hundred dollars, by putting such improvements thereon as shall partake of the realty, unless such improvements shall have been made prior to the application for survey and record, according to section 3 of this act.

5853. Occupant may absent himself—Fee to be paid—How disposed of.

SEC. 5. At any time after the provisions of the second, third and fourth sections of this act shall have been complied with, the party so complying shall be permitted to absent himself or herself from such claim, without being required to occupy the same, for a period of not more than twelve months; provided, the person so wishing to absent himself or herself shall first pay to the treasurer of the county in which said claim shall be situated, the sum of fifteen dollars, in gold or silver coin, upon which payment the treasurer shall issue a receipt for the same. At any time within twelve months after the date thereof, such receipt shall be received as prima facie evidence of possession in any court having jurisdiction in such cases. Any person absenting himself or herself from said claim for a longer period than sixty days, without first paying the sum provided in this section, shall forever forfeit his or her claim to the lands. One-half of the amount paid to any county treasurer, under the provisions of this section, shall be paid by said treasurer into the general fund of such county, and the balance into the state treasury, whenever making his regular settlements with the state treasurer. The state treasurer shall set apart and retain all moneys received from such source as a special fund, which may hereafter be appropriated by law for the maintenance and protection of the insane.

5854. Proof of actual enclosure not required.

SEC. 6. On the trial of any such causes, the possession or possessory right of the plaintiff, shall be considered as extending to the boundaries embraced in such survey, so as to enable him or her, according to section 3 of this act, to have and maintain any action as aforesaid, without being compelled to prove an actual inclosure.

5855. All lands deemed public—Exception—Action for unlawful entry.

SEC. 7. All lands in this state shall be deemed and regarded as public lands, until the legal title is known to have passed from the government to private individuals or parties. Every person who shall have complied with the provisions of this act shall be deemed and held to have the right or title of possession of all the lands embraced within their survey, not to exceed one hundred and sixty acres; and any person who shall thereafter, without the consent of the person so complying, enter into or upon said lands adversely, shall be deemed and held guilty of an unlawful and fraudulent entry thereon, and may be removed therefrom by proceedings had before any justice of the peace of the township in which the lands are situated (or in case of the absence or other disability of such justice, before any other justice of an adjoining township). Such proceedings may be commenced and prosecuted under the provisions of an act of the legislature of the State of Nevada, entitled "An act concerning forcible entries and unlawful detainers," approved February sixteenth, eighteen hundred and sixty-five; and all the provisions contained in said act are made applicable to proceedings under this act. As amended, Stats. 1869, 72.

See secs. 5585–5605, 5714.

5856. Acts repealed.

SEC. 8. Sections 10 and 13 of an act passed by the legislative assembly of the Territory of Nevada, entitled "An act to regulate surveys and surveying," approved November twenty-ninth, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-one, and all other acts or parts of acts, so far as the same are inconsistent with or repugnant to the provisions of this act, are hereby repealed.

5857. District court—Jurisdiction—Residence of decedent controls—Nonresident decedent.

SECTION 1. Wills may be proved and letters testamentary or of administration granted in the county of which deceased was a resident at the time of death, whether death occurred in such county or elsewhere, and the district court of such county shall have exclusive jurisdiction of the settlement of such estates, whether such estate is in one or more counties. The estate of a nonresident decedent may be settled by the district court of any county wherein any part of such estate may be. The district court to which application shall first be made shall have exclusive jurisdiction of the settlement of such estates.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1294.

Although the same court has jurisdiction under our system of cases at law, in equity and in letters of probate, yet the several classes of cases must be kept separate, and a petition to the court of probate cannot be compounded with an action at law or a suit in chancery. Lucich v. Medin, 3 Nev. 93 (93 A. D. 376).

This act is copied mainly from the code of civil procedure of California, title 2. The California law does not contain the statutory rule of construction found in section 269 of this act. After comparing sections 124 and 157 of this act with the corresponding sections in California, it was held that the difference between the two statutes was such that the construction placed on the above section by the courts of California is inapplicable in Nevada. Kirman v. Powning, 25 Nev. 379 (60 P. 834).

The probate court, in the absence of statute, has no jurisdiction to adjudicate disputed rights to an estate. Estate of Singleton, 26 Nev. 106 (64 P. 513).

The appointment as an administrator of a nonresident by the district court of the county other than that in which decedent died or left property is unauthorized. In re Bailey's Estate, 31 Nev. 378, 383, 384 (103 P. 232).

5858. Wills delivered to court or executor.

SEC. 2. Any person having any will in his possession shall within ten days after knowledge of the death of the person who executed such will deliver it into the district court that has jurisdiction of the case, or to the person named in such will to execute it.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1298.

5859. Person named as executor—Duty to present will.

SEC. 3. Any person named as executor or executrix in any will shall within fifteen days after the death of the testator or testatrix, or within fifteen days after knowledge of such naming, present the will, if in possession of it, to the district court.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1298.

5860. Renunciation of trust—Petition for probate—Averments—Defects, how cured.

SEC. 4. Any person so named may decline the trust by filing a renunciation in writing. If such person intends to accept the trust, there shall be presented a petition for the probating of such will, setting forth in such petition the facts necessary to give the court jurisdiction, and, when the same are known, the names, ages and residence of the heirs and devisees of the deceased, also the character and probable value of the estate and praying that the will be admitted to probate, and that letters testamentary be issued thereon to the party entitled thereto. If the jurisdictional facts existed, but are not fully set forth in the petition and the same shall be afterwards proved in the course of the administration, the probate of the will and the subsequent proceedings shall not on account of such want of jurisdictional averments be held void.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1301.

5861. Liability for neglect.

SEC. 5. Every person who shall neglect to perform any of the duties required in the preceding sections without reasonable cause, shall be liable to every person interested in the will for the damages such interested person may sustain by reason of such neglect.

5862. Who may petition for probate.

SEC. 6. Any person named in a will to execute it, though not in possession of such will, may present a petition to the district court having jurisdiction, praying that the person in possession of the will may be required to produce it, that it may be admitted to probate, and that letters testamentary be issued.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1303.

5863. Idem—By any interested person.

SEC. 7. Any person having an interest in a will may, in like manner, present a petition, praying that it may be required to be produced and admitted to probate.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1303.

5864. Order for production of will.

SEC. 8. If it be alleged in any petition that any will of a deceased person is in the possession of a third person, and the court shall be satisfied that the allegation is correct, an order shall be issued and served upon the person having possession of the will, requiring such person to produce it at a time to be named in the order.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1302.

5865. Idem—Penalty for refusal—Contempt.

SEC. 9. Any person having the possession of a will and neglects or refuses to produce it in obedience to such order, such person may, by warrant from the court, be committed to the jail of the county, and be kept in close confinement until such person produces the will.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1302.

5866. Petition signed and filed—Notice of hearing, how given.

SEC. 10. All petitions for the probate of a will, and for the issuance of letters, shall be signed by the party petitioning, or the attorney for such petitioners, and filed with the clerk of the court who shall publish a notice in some newspaper, if there is one printed in the county, if not, then by posting such notice in three public places in the county, stating in such notice the filing of such petition, the object, and designating a time for proving such will, which shall not be less than ten nor more than twenty days.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1303.

5867. Idem—Powers of judge to enforce orders.

SEC. 11. The judge may make all necessary orders to enforce the production of any will at chambers.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1305.

5868. Citation to heirs, service of.

SEC. 12. If the heirs of the deceased reside in the county, the party petitioning for the probate of a will shall obtain from the clerk a citation and cause it to be served upon such heirs, requiring them to appear and contest the probate of the will at the time appointed by the clerk, if they so desire. Such citation shall be served at least three days before the time so appointed.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1303.

5869. Citation to persons named to execute will.

SEC. 13. If a petition for probate is presented by any person other than the one named in the will to execute it, or if it is presented by one of several of such persons named in the will, citation shall in like manner issue and be served upon such not joining in the petition, if resident within the county.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1303.

5870. Subpenas to subscribing witnesses:

SEC. 14. The clerk shall also issue subpenas to the subscribing witnesses to a will, if they reside in the county.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1305.

5871. Hearing of proof—Oral testimony.

SEC. 15. At the time appointed, or at any other time to which the hearing may be continued, upon proof being made by affidavit or otherwise, to the satisfaction of the court, that notice has been given as required by the preceding sections, the court shall proceed to hear the testimony in proof of the will. All witnesses who appear and are sworn shall testify orally.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1306.

5872. Who may contest—Court to appoint attorney for minor or absent heirs.

SEC. 16. Any person interested may appear and contest the probate of a will. If it appears that there are minors or other persons who are interested in the estate, but reside out of the county, and are unrepresented, the court shall appoint some attorney to represent them.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1307.

5873. One witness sufficient if no contest—Ex parte affidavit, when accepted.

SEC. 17. If no person shall appear to contest the probate of a will, the court may admit it to probate on the testimony of one of the subscribing witnesses, only, if such testimony shall show that the will was executed in all particulars as required by law, and that the testator or testatrix was of sound mind at the time of its execution; provided, however, in all cases where the witness resides at a distance of more than twenty-five (25) miles from the place where said court is held, the ex parte affidavit of said witness, showing that the will was executed in all particulars as required by law, and that the testator or testatrix was of sound mind at the time of its execution, shall be received in evidence and have the same force and effect as if the witness was present and testified orally. As amended Stats. 1903, 30.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1308.

5874. Contest and proceedings—Issues of fact, how tried.

SEC. 18. If any person appears to contest the probate of a will, such person shall file a statement in writing, setting out the grounds of contest, and file the same with the clerk, which shall constitute a joinder of such issues of fact as may be alleged in opposition to the will, such as respects the competency of the deceased to make a last will and testament, or respecting the execution by the deceased of such last will and testament, under restraint, or undue influence, or fraudulent representations, or for any other cause affecting the validity of such will. And any and all issues of fact shall be tried as issues of facts are tried in other cases in the district court.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1312.

It is the manifest intention of the legislature that formal and technical pleading should not be required in the presentation of claims. Kirman v. Powning, 25 Nev. 393 (60 P. 834).

Cited, Abel v. Hitt, 30 Nev. 105 (93 P. 227).

5875. Idem—Subscribing witnesses examined—Exception.

SEC. 19. When the probate of a will is contested all the subscribing witnesses who are present in the county, and who are of sound mind, must be produced and examined, and the death, absence or insanity of any of them shall be satisfactorily shown to the court.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1315.

5876. Decree admitting to probate—Record.

SEC. 20. If the court shall be satisfied upon the proof taken when heard by the court, or by the verdict of a jury, in case a jury trial is had, that the will was duly executed by a person at the time of sound and disposing mind, and not under restraint, undue influence or fraudulent representation, the court, by decree in writing, shall admit the will to probate, whereupon the will and the decree admitting it to probate shall be recorded together by the clerk in a book to be provided for that purpose.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1317, 1318.

Cited, Abel v. Hitt, 30 Nev. 105, 106 (93 P. 227).

May appoint guardian of minor named in will, sec. 6150.

5877. Exemplified copy of record—Evidence.

SEC. 21. A copy of the record of the will and decree admitting it to probate, exemplified by the clerk in whose custody it may be, shall be received in evidence and be as effectual in all cases as the original would be if proved.

5878. Foreign wills admitted to probate, when.

SEC. 22. All wills which shall have been duly proved and allowed in any other of the United States, or any territory thereof, or in any foreign country or state, may be admitted to probate by the district court of any county in which the deceased shall have left any estate; provided, it has been executed in conformity with the laws of the place where made.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1322.

5879. Idem—Procedure as in case of original will.

SEC. 23. When a copy of a will, as mentioned in the preceding sections, and the probate thereof, duly authenticated, shall be filed in the clerk's office, with a petition for letters, notice shall be given for the hearing thereof, and such proceedings shall be had as in case of an original will for probate, and with like force and effect.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1323.

5880. Lost or destroyed will, how proven.

SEC. 24. Whenever any will shall be lost by accident, or destroyed by fraud, the district court shall have power to take proof of the execution and validity of such will, and to establish the same, notice to all persons interested having been first given, as prescribed in regard to proofs of wills in other cases.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1338.

5881. Idem—What to be proved—Amount of proof.

SEC. 25. No will shall be allowed to be proved as a lost or destroyed will unless the same shall be proved to have been in existence at the time of the death of the person whose will it is claimed to be, or be shown to have been fraudulently destroyed in the lifetime of such person, nor unless its provisions shall be clearly and distinctly proved by at least two credible witnesses.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1339.

5882. Idem—Pending proof may restrain administration.

SEC. 26. If before or during the pendency of an application to prove a lost or destroyed will letters of administration shall have been granted upon the estate of the deceased, or letters testamentary of any previous will of such deceased, the court shall have authority to restrain such administration if necessary to protect the interests of legatees or devisees claiming under the lost or destroyed will.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1339.

5883. Letters testamentary to be issued, when.

SEC. 27. When any will shall have been admitted to probate the district court shall direct letters thereon to issue to the person or persons named in the will to execute the same, who may be competent to discharge the trust, and who shall appear and qualify.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1349.

5884. Executors, who competent—Letters with will annexed.

SEC. 28. No person shall be deemed competent to serve as executor or executrix who at the time the will is probated shall be: First—Under the age of majority; or, second, who shall have been convicted of an infamous crime; or, third, who, upon proof, shall be adjudged by the court incompetent to execute the duties of the trust by reason of drunkenness, improvidence or want of understanding. If any such person be named as the sole executor or executrix in any will, or if all persons so named are incompetent, or shall renounce the trust, or fail to appear and qualify, letters of administration with the will annexed shall issue.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1350.

5885. Objections to executors—Hearing—Petition for letters with will annexed.

SEC. 29. Any person interested in a will may file objections in writing to the granting of letters testamentary to the persons named as executors or executrixes, or any of them, and such objections shall be heard and determined by the court. A petition may also be filed for the issuance of letters of administration, with the will annexed, in all proper cases.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1351.

5886. Marriage of unmarried woman extinguishes authority—Married woman named as executrix may act.

SEC. 30. When an unmarried woman who shall have been appointed executrix shall marry, her marriage shall extinguish her authority. When a married woman is nominated as executrix she may be appointed and serve, in all respects, as if she were a femme sole.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1352.

5887. Executor of executor cannot act—Letters with will annexed.

SEC. 31. No executor of an executor shall as such be authorized to administer on the estate of the first testator, but on the death of the sole or surviving executor or executrix of any last will, letters of administration, with the will annexed of the estate of the first testator or testatrix left unadministered, shall be issued.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1353.

5888. Letters testamentary to minors, when may issue—Joint executors.

SEC. 32. When any person under the age of twenty-one years shall be named executor, or under the age of eighteen years executrix, letters of administration with the will annexed shall be granted, during the minority of such person, unless there is another executor or executrix, who shall accept the trust and qualify, in which case letters testamentary shall issue to such, who shall administer the estate, until the minor shall arrive at legal age, when such may be admitted as joint executor or executrix.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1354.

5889. Power of one or more of several executors—Absence or disability—Majority to control.

SEC. 33. When all the persons named as executors or executrixes shall not be appointed by the court, such as shall be appointed shall have the same authority to perform every act and discharge every trust required by the will, and their acts shall be effectual for every purpose as if all had been appointed, and should act together. When there are two executors or administrators the acts of one alone shall be valid if the other is absent from the state, or for any cause is laboring under any legal disability, and when there are more than two, the act of a majority shall be sufficient.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1355.

5890. Power of administrators with will annexed.

SEC. 34. Administrators with the will annexed shall have the same authority as the executor named in the will would have had if he should have qualified, and their acts shall be as effectual for every purpose.

5897. Who not entitled to letters.

SEC. 41. No person shall be entitled to letters of administration who shall be: First—Under the age of majority; or, second, who shall have been convicted of an infamous crime; or, third, who upon proof shall be adjudged by the court incompetent to execute the duties of the trust, by reason of drunkenness, improvidence or want of integrity or understanding.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1369.

See In re Nickals, under sec. 38 of this act.

5898. Marriage of unmarried woman extinguishes authority.

SEC. 42. When any unmarried woman who shall have been appointed administratrix shall marry, her marriage shall extinguish her authority.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1370.

Defendant, prior to the trial, married. It was held that this marriage extinguished her authority as administratrix of the estate, but did not deprive her of the right to retain possession of the property of the estate until the appointment of her successor, or until otherwise ordered by the court. Buckley v. Buckley, 16 Nev. 180.

5899. Application for letters by petition—What to state—Defects, how cured—Notice, how given.

SEC. 43. Application for letters of administration shall be made by petition in writing, signed by the applicant or his attorney, and filed in the office of the clerk of the court. The petition must state the facts essential to give the court jurisdiction of the case, and when known the names, ages and residence of the heirs of the deceased; also the character and value of the property. When filed the clerk shall give notice thereof by causing notices to be posted up in at least three public places in the county, one of which shall be at the place where the court is held. The notice shall state the name of the deceased, the name of the applicant, and designate a day on which the application will be heard, which shall be at least ten days after posting the notices. If the jurisdictional facts existed, but are not fully set forth in the petition, and the same shall afterwards be proved in the course of the administration, the administration shall not be void on account of a want of such jurisdictional averments.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1371, 1373.

The community property, after the husband's death, is vested in the widow, subject to the payment of the debts, and if she pays all the indebtedness legally due from the estate, then the community property is not subject to administration. Wright v. Smith, 19 Nev. 143 (7 P. 365).

There is no legal presumption either for or against the existence of debts, and the court has no right to appoint an administrator without satisfactory proof that the property was subject to administration and that the appointment would accomplish some useful end. Idem.

See, In re Cook's Estate, 34 Nev. — (117 Pac. —).

In settling the final account of an administrator an attorney's fee for procuring letters of administration cannot be allowed. Bowman v. Bowman, 27 Nev. 413 (76 P. 634).

Sec. 57 of the act of 1861, 194, provided: "If any person entitled to administration shall be a minor, administration shall be granted to his or her guardian." It was held that said section referred to a guardian appointed in this state and not to one appointed in some other state. In re Estate of Nickals, 21 Nev. 462, 464, 465 (34 P. 250).

Except as a matter of comity, in exceptional cases, a guardian of a minor appointed in one state is not recognized as such in another state. Idem.

5900. Who may contest—May pray for letters.

SEC. 44. Any person interested may contest the application by filing a written opposition thereto, on the ground of the incompetency of the applicant, or may assert his own right to the administration, and pray that letters be issued to himself.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1374.

5901. Hearing of application—Order for letters.

SEC. 45. On the hearing, it being first proved that proper notice has been given, the court shall proceed to hear the allegations and proof of the parties, and to order the issuance of letters of administration, as the case may require.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1375.

5902. Minute entry of proof of notice conclusive evidence.

SEC. 46. An entry in the minutes of the court that proof was made that notice had been given according to law, shall be conclusive evidence of the fact of such notice.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1376.

5903. Letters may be granted to persons of lesser right, when.

SEC. 47. Letters of administration may be granted to any applicant, though it appear that there are other persons having better rights to the administration, when such fail to appear and claim the issuance of letters to themselves.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1377.

5904. Proof of death and of intestacy—Value of property—Witnesses.

SEC. 48. Before letters of administration shall be granted on the estate of any person who is represented to have died intestate, the fact of his having died intestate shall be proved by the testimony of the applicant and any other testimony that may be produced. Proof must also be made concerning the time, place and manner of death, the place of his residence at the time of his death, the location, character and value of his property, and whether the deceased left a will. Any person may be compelled to attend as a witness for such purpose.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1378.

5905. Granted to one not entitled at request of others entitled—How request made.

SEC. 49. Administration may be granted to one or more competent persons, although not entitled to the same, at the request of the person entitled to be joined with such persons. The request shall be in writing and filed in the court. When the person entitled is a nonresident of the state his request, acknowledged before a notary public or other officer having a seal, and authorized by the laws of the state or territory to take acknowledgments, may be received as prima facie evidence of the identity of the party, upon which the letters shall be ordered issued as requested, if the person is competent.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1379.

This section implies that nonresidents may, under certain circumstances, become entitled to letters. In re Bailey's Estate, 31 Nev. 377, 381 (103 P. 232).

5906. Certain persons entitled to preference may obtain revocation of letters to others.

SEC. 50. When letters of administration have been granted to any other person than the surviving husband or wife, the child, the father, mother, brother or sister of the intestate, any one of them may obtain the revocation of the letters by presenting to the district court a petition praying the revocation, and that letters of administration be issued to him or her.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1383.

See In re Nickals, under sec. 38 of this act.

5907. Idem—Procedure—Hearing—Order.

SEC. 51. When any such petition shall be filed, a copy must be served upon the administrator, when the matter shall be deemed at issue, and may be brought on for hearing at any time thereafter, by consent of parties or by either party, on giving the other party two days' previous notice that he will move the court to set the matter for a day certain. Upon the hearing, the court, being satisfied that a copy of the petition has been duly served upon the administrator, shall proceed to hear the allegations and proofs of the parties, and if the right of the applicant is established, and he or she be competent, letters of administration shall be granted to the applicant and the letters of the former administrator revoked.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1384, 1385.

5908. Idem—Surviving husband or wife—May assert prior right—Revocation.

SEC. 52. The surviving husband or wife, when letters of administration have been granted to a child, the father or mother, brother or sister of the intestate, or any other person, may assert his or her prior right, and obtain letters of administration and have the letters before granted revoked in the manner prescribed in the two preceding sections.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1386.

5909. Form of letters of administration.

SEC. 53. Letters of administration shall be signed by the clerk, and be under the seal of the court, and may be in the following form, to wit (after properly entitling court and cause): "This is to certify that, by order of the above-named court made and entered on the ____ day of _____, 189__, _____ was appointed administrat__ of the estate of _____, deceased, by virtue of which these letters are issued this ____ day of _____, 189__, he having duly qualified. Witness my official signature, with the seal of the court affixed."

Kerr, C. C. P., 1362.

5910. Executor or administrator to take oath—Form of—Filed and recorded—Certified copies of records and papers have force of originals.

SEC. 54. Before letters testamentary or of administration shall be issued to the executor or administrator he shall take and subscribe an oath or affirmation before the clerk that he will perform, according to law, the duties of executor or administrator; said oath shall be filed and recorded by the clerk. All duly certified copies of any record or paper in matters of estates shall have the same force and effect in all cases whatsoever as the original papers would have.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1387.

The authority of an administrator cannot be attacked, in a collateral proceeding, because the oath provided by statute was not taken until after the letters were issued, and was then taken before a notary public. Since the letters, having been regularly issued, are valid until revoked, the irregularities complained of were cured by taking the oath before the proper officer before the trial of the case. Gallagher v. Holland, 20 Nev. 164, 167 (18 P. 834).

5911. Bond to be given—Form of—Judge to approve—Additional bond, when.

SEC. 55. Every person to whom letters testamentary (unless the will otherwise provides) or of administration shall have been directed to issue shall, before receiving the letters, execute a bond to the State of Nevada, with two or more sureties to be approved by the district judge. In form the bond shall be joint and several, and the penalty shall not be less than the value of the personal property, including rents and profits belonging to the estate, which value shall be ascertained by the court by the examination on oath of the party applying, and of any other persons the judge may think proper to examine. The district judge shall require an additional bond whenever the sale of any real estate belonging to an estate is ordered by him to be sold. The bond shall be conditioned that the executor or administrator will faithfully execute the duties of the trust according to law, and shall be recorded by the clerk. As amended, Stats. 1903, 209.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1388, 1390.

See McNabb v. Wixom, 7 Nev. 164.

An order issuing letters on the estate of an intestate is void, where no bond was required or given. In re Bailey's Estate, 31 Nev. 377, 382, 383 (103 P. 232).

That the estate of a deceased was insignificant in value, the principal asset being a claim alleged to be due for the wrongful death of deceased, was not ground for exempting an administrator from doing wrong. Idem.

5912. Bond in force until penalty exhausted.

SEC. 56. The bond shall not be void upon the first recovery, but may be sued upon from time to time by any person aggrieved in his or her own name until the whole penalty is exhausted.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1392.

5913. Sureties to justify, before whom—When penalty exceeds $2,000 sureties may qualify for $500 or more.

SEC. 57. In all cases when bonds are required by this act, the sureties must justify on oath before the judge or clerk of a court having a seal, or before a notary public, or a justice of the peace of the county, to the effect that they are householders, or freeholders, within this state and worth the amount for which they become surety, over and above all just debts and liabilities, exclusive of property exempt from execution, and such justification must be signed by the sureties and certified by the officer taking the same and endorsed on or attached to and filed with the bond. When the whole penal sum of such bond exceeds two thousand dollars, sureties may go thereon for any sum not less than five hundred dollars, so that the whole be equal to two sufficient sureties for the whole penal sum.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1393.
Cited, In re Bailey's Estate, 31 Nev. 383 (103 P. 232).

5914. Doubtful sureties—Reexamination may be required—Citation—Additional surety.

SEC. 58. Before the district judge approves any bond required by this act, he may, of his own motion, or at any time after the approval of such bond, upon motion of any person interested in said estate supported by affidavit that any one or all of such sureties is or are not worth as much as justified to, order a citation to issue, requiring such surety or sureties to appear before him at a particular time and place, to testify touching his or their property, and its value; and the judge shall at the time such citation is issued cause a notice or subpena to issue to the executor or administrator, requiring his appearance at the return of the citation. Upon the return of the citation the judge may swear the surety and such witnesses as may be produced touching the property and its value of such surety or sureties; and if upon such investigation the judge is satisfied that the bond is insufficient, he may require sufficient additional surety within such time as may be reasonable.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1394.
Cited, In re Bailey's Estate, 31 Nev. 383 (103 P. 232).

5915. Idem—Failure to give surety—Rights cease—New appointee.

SEC. 59. If sufficient surety is not given within the time fixed by the judge's order, or such further time as the judge may give, the right of such executor or administrator to the administration shall cease, and the person next entitled to the administration on the estate, who will execute a sufficient bond, shall be appointed to the administration.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1395.
Cited, In re Bailey's Estate, 31 Nev. 383 (103 P. 232).

5916. Letters testamentary without bond when will so provides—May be required for cause.

SEC. 60. When it is expressly provided in the will of a deceased that no bond shall be required of the executor or executrix, letters testamentary may issue without any bonds having been given; but an executor or executrix to whom letters have been issued without bonds may, at any time afterwards, whenever it shall be shown for any cause to be necessary or proper, be required to approve and file a bond as in other cases.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1396.

5917. Persons interested may apply for additional security.

SEC. 61. Whenever any person interested in an estate shall discover that the sureties of any executor or administrator have become or are becoming insolvent, or that they or any one have or has removed from or are or is about to remove from the state, or that from any other cause the bond is insufficient, such person may apply by petition to the district judge praying that further security be given.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1397.
Cited, In re Bailey's Estate, 31 Nev. 383 (103 P. 232).

5918. Idem—Investigation—Citation to issue—How served.

SEC. 62. If the district judge shall be satisfied that the matter requires investigation he shall direct the clerk to issue a citation to the party complained of requiring him to appear at a time and place, to be therein specified, to show cause why he or she should not give further surety. The citation shall be served personally on the executor or administrator, executrix or administratrix, at least five days before the return day. If he or she shall have absconded or cannot be found, it may be served by leaving a copy of it at his or her last place of abode.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1398.

5919. Idem — Hearing of application — Additional security may be required.

SEC. 63. On the return of the citation, or at such other time as the judge may appoint, he shall proceed to hear the allegations and proof of the parties. If it shall satisfactorily appear that the security is from any cause insufficient he may make an order requiring the executor or administrator to give additional security, or to file a new bond in the usual form within such reasonable time as the judge may fix.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1399.

5920. Idem—Letters revoked for failure to comply.

SEC. 64. If the executor or administrator neglect to comply with the order within the time prescribed, the judge shall, by order, revoke his letters, and his authority shall thereupon cease.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1400.

5921. Idem—Pending application court may suspend authority.

SEC. 65. When a petition is presented praying that an executor or administrator be required to give further security, and when it also shall be alleged on oath or affirmation that the executor or administrator is wasting the property of the estate, the judge may, by order, suspend his powers until the matter can be heard and determined.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1401.

5922. Court may require further security upon own motion.

SEC. 66. When it shall come to his knowledge that the bond of any executor or administrator is from any cause insufficient, it shall be the duty of the district judge, without any application, to cause him to be cited to appear and show cause why he should not give further security, and to proceed thereon as upon the petition of any person interested.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1402.

5923. Sureties released, how—Citation and hearing.

SEC. 67. When any one or all of the sureties of any executor or administrator shall desire to be released from any further liability as such surety, he or they may file a petition with the clerk praying for relief, whereupon the clerk shall issue a citation to the executor or administrator requiring him to appear before the court, at a time to be therein stated, to show cause why the prayer of said petition should not be granted and he give further security. Such citation shall be served personally, and made returnable not later than ten days from its date.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1403.

5924. Idem—Released sureties not liable for subsequent acts.

SEC. 68. If new sureties be given to the satisfaction of the judge, he may thereupon make an order that the surety or sureties who applied for relief shall not be liable for any subsequent act, default or misconduct of the executor or administrator.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1404.

5925. Letters revoked upon failure to furnish required security.

SEC. 69. If the executor or administrator neglect or refuse to give new sureties to the satisfaction of the judge, on the return of the citation, the court or judge being satisfied the citation has been personally served, or within such reasonable time as the judge shall allow, not exceeding five days, unless the surety or sureties petitioning shall consent to a longer extension of time, the court or judge shall revoke the letters granted.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1405.

5926. Special administrator appointed, when—Purpose.

SEC. 70. When there shall be a delay in granting letters testamentary or administration, from any cause, or when such letters shall have been granted irregularly or no sufficient bond shall have been filed as required by law, or when no petition shall be filed for such letters, and in any other proper case, the district judge shall appoint a special administrator to collect and take charge of the estate of the deceased, in whatever county or counties the same may be found, and to exercise such other powers as may be necessary to preserve the estate.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1411.

5927. Idem—Appointment, how made—Letters, how issued.

SEC. 71. The appointment may be made at chambers, and without notice, and shall be made by entry upon the minutes of the court, which shall specify the powers to be exercised by the administrator. Upon such order being entered, and after the person appointed has given bonds, as fixed by the judge, the clerk shall issue letters of administration, with a certified copy of the order attached, to such person.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1412.

5928. Idem—Who to have preference—No appeal from appointment.

SEC. 72. In making the appointment of a special administrator, the district judge shall give preference to the person or persons entitled to letters testamentary or of administration, but no appeal shall be allowed from the appointment.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1413.

5929. Idem—Powers, duties and liabilities—Not to pay claims.

SEC. 73. The special administrator shall collect and preserve for the executor or administrator when appointed, all the goods, chattels and debts of the deceased, all incomes, rents, issues and profits, claims and demands of the estate, shall take charge and management of, enter upon and preserve from damage, waste and injury the real estate, and for any such and all necessary purposes, may commence, maintain or defend suits and other legal proceedings as an administrator. He may sell such perishable estate as the district court may order to be sold, and may exercise such other powers as may have been conferred upon him by his appointment; but in no case shall he be liable to an action by any creditor, on any claim against the estate, nor pay any claim against the deceased.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1415.

5930. Idem—Powers cease on appointment of administrator—Duties.

SEC. 74. When letters testamentary or of administration shall be granted on the estate of the deceased, the powers of the special administrator shall cease, and he shall forthwith deliver to the executor or administrator all the property and effects of the deceased in his hands, and the executor or administrator may be permitted to prosecute to final judgment any suit commenced by the special administrator.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1416.

5931. Idem—Duty to render account.

SEC. 75. The special administrator shall also render an account, under oath, of his proceedings in like manner as other administrators are required to do.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1417.

5932. Special administrator appointed to succeed executor.

SEC. 76. Whenever an executor or administrator shall die or his letters be revoked, and the circumstances require the immediate appointment of an administrator, the district judge may appoint a special administrator, as provided in the preceding sections.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1411.

5933. Remaining executor or administrator to proceed without filling vacancy.

SEC. 77. In case any one of several executors or administrators of the same estate to whom letters shall have been granted shall die, become lunatic, be convicted of an infamous crime, or otherwise become incapable of executing the trust, or, in case the letters testamentary or of administration shall be revoked or annulled according to law with respect to any one executor or administrator, the remaining executor or administrator shall proceed and complete the execution of the will or administration.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1425.

5934. New letters to issue in case of vacancy for any cause—Bond—Powers.

SEC. 78. If all such executors or administrators shall die or from any cause become incapable of executing the trust, or the power and authority of all of them shall be revoked or annulled according to law, the district court shall direct letters of administration with the will annexed or otherwise to be issued to the widow, next of kin or others, in the same manner as directed in relation to original letters of administration. The administrator so appointed shall give bond in like penalty with like sureties and conditions as hereinbefore required of administrators and shall have the like power and authority.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1411.

5935. Letters of administration revoked upon proof of will—Account to render.

SEC. 79. If after granting letters of administration on the ground of intestacy, a will of the deceased shall be duly proved and allowed by the court, the letters of administration shall be revoked and the power of the administrator shall cease, and he shall render an account of his administration within such time as the court shall direct.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1423.

5936. Idem—Powers of new administration.

SEC. 80. In such case, the executor of the will or the administrator with the will annexed shall be entitled to demand, sue for and collect all the goods, chattels and effects of the deceased remaining unadministered, and may prosecute to final judgment any suit commenced by the administrator before the revocation of his letters.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1424.

5937. Resignation, how made—Account.

SEC. 81. Any executor or administrator may at any time, by writing filed in the district court, resign his appointment; provided, he shall first settle his accounts and deliver up all the estate to such person as may be appointed by the court.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1427.

5938. Acts done before revocation, validity of.

SEC. 82. All acts of an executor or administrator as such, before the revocation of his letters testamentary or of administration, shall be as valid to all intents and purposes as if such executor or administrator had continued to execute lawfully the duties of his trust.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1428.

5939. Transcript of record same force as letters.

SEC. 83. A transcript from the minutes of court, showing the appointment of any person as executor or administrator, together with the certificate of the clerk, under his hand and the seal of the court that such person has given bond and been qualified, and that letters testamentary or of administration have been issued to him, and have not been revoked, shall have the same effect in evidence as the letters themselves.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1429.

5940. Judge, when disqualified to act.

SEC. 84. No district judge shall admit to probate any will, or grant letters testamentary, or of administration, in any case where he shall be interested as next of kin to the deceased or as a legatee or devisee under the will, or where he shall be named as executor or trustee in the will, or shall be a witness thereto.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1430.

A judge who was a stockholder of a corporation presenting a claim against an estate was disqualified from passing thereon, and should call in another judge to act. State ex rel. Bullion & Exchange Bank v. Mack, 26 Nev. 430, 443 (69 P. 862).

No formal application for the calling of a qualified judge to pass upon a claim against an estate was necessary where the record disclosed that the acting judge was disqualified. Idem.

5941. Idem—Duty to call other judge to act—Retains jurisdiction.

SEC. 85. When any district judge who would otherwise be authorized to act shall be precluded from acting from the causes mentioned in the preceding section, or when he shall in any manner be interested, he shall call a district judge of another district to hold the court of his county; and such judge shall hold such court, and be vested with all the powers of the court and judge so disqualified, and shall retain jurisdiction as to all subsequent proceedings in regard to the estate.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1431.

See State ex rel. Bullion & Exchange Bank v. Mack, under sec. 84 of this act.

See sec. 4922.

5942. Inventory, return of.

SEC. 86. Every executor or administrator shall make and return to the court, within twenty days after his appointment, unless the court shall extend the time, a true inventory and appraisement of all the estate of the deceased which shall have come to his possession or knowledge.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1443.

See secs. 5943–5945, 6025.

5943. Appraisement, how made—Compensation of appraisers—Inventory, what to include.

SEC. 87. For the purpose of making the appraisement, the court or judge shall appoint three disinterested persons, any two of whom may act, and who shall be entitled to a reasonable compensation for their services, to be allowed by the court. This compensation as allowed shall be in the form of a bill of items for their services, including all necessary disbursements, which shall be sworn to by them, and filed at the same time as the inventory. The compensation shall not exceed five dollars per day each, and may be paid out of the estate at any time. The inventory shall include all the estate of the deceased, wherever situated.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1444.

See sec. 6025.

That the appraisers of an estate were not disinterested parties, is no reason why the just accounts of the executor should not be settled and allowed. Estate of Millenovich, 5 Nev. 162, 178.

5944. Appraisers to take oath—Appraisement, how made—Inventory, what to contain—Separate and community property.

SEC. 88. Before proceeding to the execution of their duty, the appraisers, before any officer authorized to administer oaths, shall take and subscribe an oath to be attached to the inventory, that they will truly, honestly and impartially appraise the property which shall be exhibited to them or called to their attention, according to the best of their knowledge and ability. They shall then proceed to appraise the property of the estate, each article or parcel shall be set down separately with the value thereof in dollars and cents, in figures opposite to each article or parcel respectively. The inventory shall contain all the estate of the deceased, real and personal; a statement of all debts, partnerships, and other interests, bonds, mortgages, notes, and other securities for the payment of money, belonging to deceased, specifying the name of the debtor in each security, the date, the sum originally payable, the indorsements thereon if any, with their dates, and the sum which in the judgment of the appraisers may be collectible on each debt, interest or security. The inventory shall also show, so far as can be ascertained, what portion of the estate is community property, and what portion is the separate property of the deceased; also an account of all moneys belonging to the deceased which shall have come to the hands of the executor or administrator.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1445.

See sec. 6025.

5945. Executors debt to decedent not discharged—Included in inventory.

SEC. 89. The naming of any person as executor in a will shall not operate as a discharge of any just claim which the testator had against such person, but the claim shall be included in the inventory, and the person named as executor shall be liable for the same, or for so much money in his hands at the time the debt or demand becomes due, if he be the executor.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1447.

5946. Discharge of debt in will not valid against creditors—How construed.

SEC. 90. The discharge or bequest in a will of any debt or demand of the testator against any person named as executor in his will, or against any other person, shall not be valid against the creditors of the deceased, but shall be construed as a specific bequest only of such debt or demand; and the amount thereof shall be included in the inventory and shall, if necessary, be applied in payment of his debts. If not necessary for that purpose, it shall be disposed of in the same manner as other specific legacies or bequests.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1448.

5947. Executor or administrator to make oath to inventory—Contents of.

SEC. 91. The inventory shall be signed by the appraisers, and the executor or administrator shall take and subscribe an oath, before any officer authorized to administer oaths, that the inventory contains a true statement of all the estate of the deceased which has come to his possession or of which he has knowledge, and particularly of all moneys belonging to the deceased, and of all just claims of the deceased against the executor or administrator. The oath shall be indorsed upon or annexed to the inventory.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1449.

See sec. 6025.

5948. Nonreturn of inventory—Cause for revocation of letters—Liability.

SEC. 92. If an executor or administrator shall neglect or refuse to return the inventory, within the time prescribed, or within such further time as the court or judge shall, for good cause, allow, the court may, with or without further notice, revoke the letters testamentary or of administration, and the executor or administrator shall be liable on his bond for any injury sustained by the estate through his neglect.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1450.

5949. Supplemental inventory—Appraisement—Enforcement.

SEC. 93. Whenever any property not mentioned in any inventory that shall have been made shall come to the possession or knowledge of the executor or administrator, he shall return a supplementary inventory of such property within twenty days after the discovery thereof in the same manner as an original inventory. If the first appraisers are not in the county others may be appointed. The court may enforce the making of a supplementary inventory as an original.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1451.

5950. Right of possession—Duties in relation to property.

SEC. 94. The executor or administrator shall have a right to the possession of all the real as well as personal estate of the deceased, and may receive the rents and profits of the real estate until the estate shall be settled, or until delivered over by order of the district court to the heirs or devisees, and shall keep in good tenantable repair all houses, buildings and fences thereon which are under his control.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1452, 1453.
See sec. 6021.

Where there are no creditors to be affected, no debts outstanding against the estate, no equity in favor of the administrator, the heirs of the estate have the right of possession and may bring an action in ejectment in their own name to recover any property belonging to the estate. Gossage v. Crown Point G. & S. M. Co., 14 Nev. 153, 156, 160.

5951. Personal estate first chargeable for debts and expenses—Real estate may be sold.

SEC. 95. The personal estate of the deceased which shall come into the hands of the executor or administrator shall be first chargeable with the payment of the debts and expenses, and if the goods, chattels, rights and credits in the hands of the executor or administrator shall not be sufficient to pay the debts, expenses of administration and the allowances to the family of the deceased the whole, or such part as may be necessary for that purpose, of the real estate may be sold in the manner prescribed in this act.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1516.

5952. Conversion before letters—Liability.

SEC. 96. If any person, before the granting of letters testamentary or of administration, shall convert to his or her own use, take or alienate any of the moneys, goods, chattels or effects of any deceased person, he shall stand chargeable and be liable to an action by the executor or administrator of the estate for double the value of the property so converted, taken or alienated, to be recovered for the benefit of the estate.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1458.

5953. Idem—Proceedings where conversion alleged—Expenses.

SEC. 97. If any executor or administrator, heir, devisee, legatee, creditor or other person interested in the estate of any deceased person shall complain, on oath, to the district judge that any person has, or is suspected to have, concealed, converted to his or her own use, conveyed away or otherwise disposed of any moneys, goods, chattels or effects of the deceased, or that he has in his possession or knowledge, any deeds, conveyances, bonds, contracts or other writings which contain evidence of, or tend to disclose the right, title or interest of the deceased in or to any real or personal estate, or any claim or demand, or any last will of the deceased, the said judge may cause such person to be cited to appear before the district court to answer, upon oath, upon the matter of such complaint. If such person be not in the county when letters have been granted, he or she may be cited and examined either before the district court of the county where he may be found, or before the court issuing the citation. But if in the latter case such person appears and shall be found innocent, his or her necessary expenses shall be allowed out of the estate.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1459.

5954. Idem — Refusing to answer complaint—Court may commit—May order delivery—Prima facie evidence—Witnesses.

SEC. 98. If the person so cited should refuse to appear and submit to such examination, or to testify touching the matter of such complaint, the court may commit such person to the county jail, there to remain confined until he or she shall obey the order of the court, or be discharged according to law, and if upon such examination it shall appear that such person has concealed, converted to his or her own use, smuggled, conveyed away, or in any manner disposed of any moneys, goods or chattels of the deceased, or that he has in his possession or under his control any deeds, conveyances, bonds, contracts or other writings, which contain evidence of, or tend to disclose, the right, title, interest or claim of the deceased to any real or personal estate, claim or demand, or any last will of the deceased, the district court may make an order requiring such person to deliver any such property or effects to the executor or administrator, at such time as the court may fix, and should such person fail to comply with such order, the court may commit he or she to the county jail till such order shall be complied with, or the person discharged according to law. The order of the court for the delivery of such property shall be prima facie evidence of the right of the executor or administrator to such property in any action that may be brought for the recovery thereof; and any judgment recovered therein shall be for double the value of the property, and damages in addition thereto equal to the value of such property. In addition to the examination of the party, witnesses may be produced and examined on either side.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1460.

5955. Person entrusted with part of estate may be cited to appear—Procedure.

SEC. 99. The district judge, upon the complaint on oath of any executor or administrator, may cause any person who shall have been intrusted by such executor or administrator with any part of the estate of the decedent to be cited to appear before such court and render on oath a full account of any money, goods, chattels, bonds, accounts, or other papers or effects belonging to the estate which shall have come into his possession in trust for the executor or administrator, and if the person so cited shall fail or refuse to appear and render such account, he or she may be proceeded against as provided in the preceding section.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1461.

5956. Widow or children may retain homestead—Provision for support.

SEC. 100. When any person shall die leaving a widow or a minor child or children, the widow, child or children shall be entitled to remain in possession of the homestead and of all the wearing apparel and provisions on hand of the family, and all of the household furniture, and shall also be entitled to a reasonable provision for their support, to be allowed by the district judge at chambers or in court.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1464.

The issue as to whether property sought to be set aside to a widow of a homestead is separate or community property, is raised by a petition showing that the husband was in possession when he died, the presumption being in favor of the community in such case. State ex rel. Cook v. Langan, 32 Nev. 176 (105 P. 568).

5957. Property set apart for use of family not subject to administration.

SEC. 101. Upon the return of the inventory or at any time thereafter during the administration, the court or judge, of his own motion, or on application, may set apart for the use of the family of the deceased all personal property which is exempt by law from execution, and the homestead as designated by the general homestead law now in force, whether such homestead has theretofore been selected as required by said law or not, and the property thus directed to be set apart shall not be subject to administration.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1465.

"The homestead as designated by the general homestead law," which the judge is commanded to set aside, is not a homestead that has already been secured by that law, but a homestead of the character and value prescribed by that law. Estate of Walley, 11 Nev. 260, 262, 263, 267.

The expression "may set apart for the use of the family of deceased" must be considered as imperative and mandatory as if it had read "shall set apart." Idem.

A childless widow is embraced within the meaning of the words "family of the deceased." Idem.

Under the probate act the homestead is exempted in favor of the widow or minor child or children of a deceased person from the payment of the general debts contracted by him in his lifetime, and from the debts accruing in the course of administration. Idem.

When no declaration has been filed on the homestead property, no joint tenancy is created; in such case, if it was common property, one-half vested in the wife upon the death of the husband, and the other half vested in the minor children of said deceased and his wife. Smith v. Shrieves, 13 Nev. 303, 325.

See In re Cook, under sec. 2142, ante.

5958. Idem—Further allowance for family—Exempt property insufficient—Time limit in insolvent estate.

SEC. 102. If the whole property exempt by law be set apart, and should not be sufficient for the support of the widow, child or children, the district court or judge shall make such reasonable allowance out of the estate as shall be necessary for the maintenance of the family according to their circumstances during the progress of the settlement of the estate, which in case of an insolvent estate shall not be longer than one year after granting letters of administration.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1466.

The legislature intended to embrace within the meaning of the words "family of the deceased" a childless widow. Estate of Walley, 11 Nev. 260, 263, 267.

5959. Idem—Allowance, priority of charge.

SEC. 103. Any allowance made by the court or judge in accordance with the provisions of this act shall be paid by the executor or administrator in preference to all other charges, except funeral charges.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1467.

5960. Property set apart, how apportioned between widow and children.

SEC. 104. When property shall have been set apart for the use of the family, in accordance with the provisions of this act, if the deceased shall have left a widow and no minor child, such property shall be the property of the widow. If he shall have left a minor child, or children also, the one-half of such property shall belong to the widow, and the remainder to the child, or in equal shares to the children, if there be more than one. If there be no widow, the whole shall belong to the child or children.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1468.

See sec. 2165.

5961. Estates not exceeding $500, when not administered—How and to whom set apart—Affidavit.

SEC. 105. When a person shall die, leaving an estate the whole value of which does not exceed five hundred dollars, and there be a surviving husband or wife, or a minor child or children, such estate shall not be administered upon, but the whole thereof shall be by the court or judge, by an order for that purpose, assigned and set apart for the support of the surviving husband or wife, or minor children of deceased, or for the support of the minor child or children if there be no surviving husband or wife; provided, that the whole of such estate even though there be a surviving husband or wife, may in the discretion of the court be set aside to the minor child or children of the deceased according to the subserviency of the best interests of such minor child or children. Such order may be made by the court or judge on motion made by or on behalf of the surviving husband or wife, or next friend of any minor child or children upon an affidavit setting forth the necessary facts, and the court or judge being satisfied that the value of the whole of such estate does not exceed five hundred dollars. As amended, Stats. 1911, 28.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1469.

5962. Property set apart to go to minor children, when.

SEC. 106. If the widow has a maintenance derived from her own property equal to the portion set apart to her under the provisions of this act, the whole property so set apart shall go to the minor children.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1470.

5963. Notice of appointment of executor published—What to specify—Posted and filed.

SEC. 107. Every executor or administrator shall, immediately after his appointment, cause to be published in some newspaper published in the county, if there be one, if not, then in such newspaper as may be designated by the court or judge, and post copies thereof in three public places of the county, a notice of his appointment as such executor or administrator. Such notice shall be properly entitled of court and cause, specifying the date of appointment, the name of deceased, and shall be dated and officially signed by the executor or administrator, and shall direct that all persons having claims against the estate are required to file the same, with the proper vouchers and statutory affidavits attached, with the clerk of the court within three months from the date of the first publication of the notice. Such notice shall be published for at least once a week for four weeks. After the notice shall have been given as above required, a copy thereof, with the affidavit of publication and posting, shall be filed. As amended, Stats. 1899, 110.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1490.

It is unnecessary that the notice to be given by an executor or administrator to the creditors of an estate should specify whether the place where the claims are to be presented is his place of residence or his place of business. Douglass v. Folsom, 21 Nev. 441, 443–446 (33 P. 660).

Claims against an estate may be legally presented at the place where the notice directs them to be presented, without regard to whether the executor or administrator is there to receive them. His absence from the state makes no difference in this rule. Idem.

Under the statutes of Nevada it is not a sufficient presentation of such a claim to hand it to the "attorney for the estate"; at least not without showing that it actually reached the administratrix within the proper time for the presentation of claims. Idem.

There is no such officer as an attorney of record or attorney generally for an estate. An attorney's employment with reference to an estate must always be in a particular matter, and with that matter his legal connection with the estate ends. Idem.

A claim against an estate of a decedent may be filed after the expiration of the statutory time for the publication of the notice to creditors barring unpresented claims, where it appears by affidavit of the claimant that he had no notice, as the publication of such notice is not summons. Pacific S. L. & B. Co. v. Fox, 25 Nev. 229, 234, 235 (59 P. 4).

5964. Claims not filed within three months barred—Proviso.

SEC. 108. All persons having claims against the deceased must, within three months after the first publication of the notice specified in the preceding section, file the same with the necessary vouchers with the clerk of the court, who shall file and register each claim. If a claim be not filed with the clerk within three months after the first publication of said notice, it shall be forever barred; provided, that when it shall be made to appear by the affidavit of the claimant, or by other proof that he had no notice as provided in this act, to the satisfaction of the court or judge, it may be filed at any time before the filing of the final account. As amended, Stats. 1899, 111.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1493.

A joint action at law cannot be maintained against survivor and administrator of deceased maker of a promissory note. Maples v. Geller, 1 Nev. 233, 235.

In a suit in equity against the representative of a deceased person, to recover the amount of the unpaid subscription, of deceased, to a bank corporation, it is not necessary that the claim should be presented for allowance, as ordinary claims are required to be presented, for the reason that such unpaid subscription is a trust fund for the benefit of the creditors of the bank, and constitutes no part of the estate of deceased persons. Thompson v. Reno Savings Bank, 19 Nev. 242, 244 (3 A. S. 883, 9 P. 121).

Cited, Douglass v. Folsom, 21 Nev. 444 (33 P. 660).

A claim against an estate was not presented to the executrix, nor was it presented at the place designated in the notice to creditors as the executrix's place of residence or of business, but was presented to an attorney who was acting as attorney for the estate. The court found that the attorney was authorized by the executrix to receive the presentation of claims, and that he had actually presented a claim in question to the executrix. Evidence examined, and held, that these findings are not sustained. Douglass v. Folsom, 22 Nev. 217, 219 (38 P. 111).

See Pacific States S. L. & B. Co. v. Fox, 25 Nev. 229, 234, 235 (59 P. 4).

A mortgage upon the lands of a decedent may be foreclosed whether a claim thereon has been filed against the estate or not, the only effect of a failure to file such claim being the prevention of the mortgagee from making any deficiency that might remain after exhausting the mortgaged property out of the remainder of the estate. Kirman v. Powning, 25 Nev. 378, 390 (60 P. 834).

A mortgage is something more than "a claim against the deceased." It is a lien upon the specific property described therein, carrying with it the right, in case of default, of action to foreclose, and by such proceedings have applied to its discharge the proceeds arising from the sale of the specific property. Idem.

The district judge acting in probate matters has no power or authority to determine the question of the validity or invalidity of the mortgage, or to make any decree or order for the sale of the mortgaged premises upon the presentation of the claim as defined in the statute. His allowance or rejection of the claim does not determine the validity of the lien created by the mortgage. Idem.

5965. Claim to be supported by affidavit—Form of—Defective affidavit, amendment of.

SEC. 109. Every claim filed with the clerk shall be supported by the affidavits of the claimant that the amount is justly due (or if the claim is not yet due, that the amount is a just demand and will be due on the____day of _____), that no payments have been made thereon which are not credited, and that there are no offsets to the same to the knowledge of the claimant or other affiant; provided, that when the affidavit is made by any other person than the claimant the reasons why it is not made by the claimant shall be set forth in the affidavit. The oath may be taken before any officer authorized to administer oaths. The amount of interest shall be computed and included in the statement of the claim and the rate of interest determined. The court may in its discretion for good cause shown allow a defective affidavit to be corrected or amended on application made at any time before the filing of the final account. As amended, Stats. 1899, 111.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1494.

Where an administratrix of an estate, upon a full knowledge of all the facts, without any fraud or deceit, voluntarily pays a debt legally due from the estate which was never presented for allowance, she cannot, thereafter, recover back the amount thus paid. Adams v. Smith, 19 Nev. 259, 278 (3 A. S. 888, 9 P. 337).

In an action by a claimant on a rejected claim, an appeal will not lie from an order refusing permission to amend a defective affidavit, since the claimant may, in making his proofs in the action upon the rejected claim, reserve any question growing out of the abuse of the court of its discretion in such matter. Lonkey v. Powning, 25 Nev. 428, 430 (62 P. 235).

5966. Claim of judge or executor may be filed.

SEC. 110. Any district judge may file a claim against the estate of any deceased person, and have the same rights and remedies in reference thereto as any other creditor filing a claim. Any executor or administrator may file a claim against the estate of any deceased person.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1495.

5967. Executor to examine all claims—When deemed rejected—Judge to approve—Allowance after time limitation—Claims founded on written instrument, how prepared.

SEC. 111. Within fifteen days after the time for filing claims has expired, as hereinbefore provided, the executor or administrator shall examine all claims filed, and endorse on each claim his allowance or rejection with the day and the year thereof, and within five days after the fifteen days in this section first specified, the executor or administrator shall present all claims allowed by him to the district judge for his approval or rejection. If an executor or administrator refuse or neglect to endorse on a claim his allowance or rejection within fifteen days, as above specified, the claim shall be deemed rejected, but the executor or administrator may nevertheless allow said claim at any time before the filing of the final account. All claims, when approved by the judge, shall be ranked among the acknowledged debts of the estate, to be paid in due course of administration. If the claim be founded upon a bond, bill, note or other instrument the original instrument need not be filed, but a copy with all endorsements may be attached to the statement of the claim and filed therewith, and if the claim be secured by mortgage or other evidence of lien, it shall, or a certified copy from a record, be attached to the claim and filed therewith. As amended, Stats. 1899, 111.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1496.

An action of foreclosure cannot be maintained against the estate of a deceased mortgageor after the note or mortgage has been allowed as a valid claim against the estate and before the final settlement, where there are no parties affected except the claimant and the administrator. Corbett v. Rice, 2 Nev. 330, 333, 336, 337.

The word "claim" includes secured as well as unsecured claims. Idem.

Cited, Douglass v. Folsom, 21 Nev. 444 (33 P. 660).

The only distinction which the law seems to make between secured and unsecured debts is that the former shall have the proceeds of the security applied to its payment, if the security is sold. Idem.

The words "may" and "shall" in the last clause of this section are directory. Kirman v. Powning, 25 Nev. 378 (60 P. 834).

The rejection of a claim for any reason is not a final determination of the rights of a claimant. He may institute a suit thereon and reserve all questions affecting his right for review in the appellate court. Lonkey v. Powning, 25 Nev. 428 (62 P. 235).

5968. Rejected claim, notice of—Holder may bring suit—Time of—Barred, when—Nonresident, notice to.

SEC. 112. When a claim is rejected by the executor or administrator, or the district judge, the holder shall be immediately notified by the executor or administrator, and such holder must bring suit in the proper court against the executor or administrator within thirty days after such notice, whether the claim is due or not, otherwise the claim shall be forever barred. If the holder of a claim resides out of the state he may be informed of the rejection of his claim by written notice forwarded to his postoffice address by registered mail. As amended, Stats. 1899, 112.

Where a party dies owing a debt not barred by the statute of limitations at his death, the holder of the claim has one year after administration granted on the debtor's estate within which to bring his action, although the action would have been barred in less than one year, if the debtor had lived. Wick v. O'Neale, 2 Nev. 303, 304.

The extension of time within which the action may be brought is subject only to this qualification, that if the claim is presented to the administrator and rejected, suit must be brought thereon within three months after rejection. Idem.

This twelve months' extension applies to all classes of cases, as well those debts contracted out of the state, and which are otherwise barred by six months' limitation, as others. Idem.

Where, in a suit to declare a deed a mortgage and to foreclose it, no judgment for any deficiency was demanded or granted by the judgment directed only against the premises, the fact that the suit was not begun within the time required by the probate act, after the rejection of a demand by the executrix of the deceased grantor was immaterial, though the executrix was made party defendant. Fox v. Bernard, 29 Nev. 127 (85 P. 351).

5969. Claim barred by statute not to be allowed.

SEC. 113. No claim shall be allowed by the executor or administrator or the district judge which is barred by the statute of limitations at the time of the death of the person whose estate is being administered.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1499.

A waiver of a statute by an administrator, and his allowance of a claim barred thereby, are invalid. Jones v. Powning, 25 Nev. 399, 403 (60 P. 833).

5970. Action not maintained unless on claim filed.

SEC. 114. No holder of any claim against an estate shall maintain any action thereon unless it shall have been first filed, and under the conditions hereinbefore specified.

5972. Action pending—Claim to be filed for.

SEC. 116. If an action be pending against the deceased at the time of his or her death, the plaintiff, in like manner, shall file his claim with the clerk, and no recovery shall be had in the action unless proof be made of such filing.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1502.

5973. Amount of allowance indorsed on claim—Allowance in part—Action—Costs.

SEC. 117. Whenever the executor or administrator or the district judge shall act upon any claim that may be filed, he shall indorse on the claim the amount he is willing to allow, and should the creditor refuse to accept the amount allowed in satisfaction of his claim he shall recover no costs in any action which he may bring on such claim against the executor or administrator, unless he shall recover a greater amount than that offered to be allowed.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1503.

The statute does not prohibit bringing suit on an allowed claim, but simply denies the plaintiff costs if he recovers no more than the administrator was willing to allow. Corbett v. Rice, 2 Nev. 330, 336, 337.

5974. Effect of judgment—Certified copy filed—Execution not to issue.

SEC. 118. The effect of any judgment rendered against any executor or administrator upon any claim for money against the estate of his testator or intestate, shall only be to establish the claim in the same manner as if it had been allowed by the executor or administrator and the district judge, and the judgment shall be that the executor or administrator pay in due course of administration the amount ascertained to be due. A certified copy of the judgment shall be filed in the estate proceedings. No execution shall issue upon such judgment nor shall it create any lien upon the property of the estate or give the judgment creditor any priority of payment.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1504.
Cited, Corbett v. Rice, 2 Nev. 233.

5975. Judgment before death—Execution not to issue unless levied before death.

SEC. 119. When any judgment has been rendered against the deceased in his or her lifetime no execution shall issue thereon after his or her death; but a certified copy of such judgment shall be attached to the statement of claim filed with the clerk and shall be acted on as any other claim; provided, however, that if an execution has been actually levied upon any property of the deceased the same may be sold for the satisfaction thereof and the officer making the sale shall account to the executor or administrator for any surplus in his hands.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1505.

5976. Liability for costs.

SEC. 120. When a judgment has been recovered with costs against any executor or administrator the executor or administrator shall be personally liable for the costs, but they shall be allowed him in his administration accounts unless it shall appear that the suit or proceeding in which the costs were taxed shall have been prosecuted or resisted without just cause.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1509.

5977. Claim of executor, judge to pass upon.

SEC. 121. If an executor or administrator is himself a creditor of the deceased, he shall as any other creditor file his claim with the clerk, and the district judge shall allow or reject it, and its allowance by the judge shall be sufficient evidence of its correctness.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1510.

5978. Failure to give notice to creditors cause for revocation.

SEC. 122. If any executor or administrator shall neglect for fifteen days after his appointment to give notice of his appointment, as hereinbefore prescribed, it shall be the duty of the court to revoke his letters.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1511.

5979. Statement of claims to be filed, what set forth.

SEC. 123. Within ten days after the expiration of the time for the judge to approve or reject claims, the executor or administrator shall file a statement of all claims filed against the estate, and at any other time the court may order. In all such statements he shall designate the names of the creditors, the character of each claim, when it became or will become due, and whether allowed or rejected.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1512.
See In re Cook, 33 Nev.— (117 P. 27), under sec. 2142, ante.

5980. Sale of property—When not valid—Options, leases and bonds on mining property—Copies filed with clerk—Deeds.

SEC. 124. No sale of any property of an estate of a deceased person shall be valid unless made under an order of the district court, except as otherwise provided in this act or other acts; provided, that when the personal property of an estate is insufficient to pay the debts and expenses of administration, the administrator or executor of such estate may, with the approval of the district judge written thereon, give options and execute written bonds and working leases and other writings for the working or sale of mines, mining claims and mining property; and upon the performance of said written and approved contracts, may execute deeds of conveyance of the property so contracted to be sold, and said deeds shall convey to the grantees therein all the right, title, estate and claim of the deceased at the time of his death, or which his estate may have acquired since his death, by operation of law or otherwise, to the mines, mining claims and mining properties described therein and in said written and approved contracts. (SEC. 2.) A copy of all such approved contracts or writings shall be filed with the clerk of the court having jurisdiction of the settlement of said estate and be a part of the record of the settlement of said estate. As amended, Stats. 1905, 69.

Probate act regulates the proceedings of executors and administrators as such, and, acting in that capacity alone, the validity of their acts depends upon a compliance with its provisions, but the act has no application to a case like the present, where the executrix is owner of the residuary estate. Hunt v. Hunt, 11 Nev. 442, 450.

5981. Application for order of sale on petition—Objections—Hearing.

SEC. 125. All applications for orders of sale shall be by petition in writing, in which shall be set forth the facts showing the sale to be necessary, and, upon the hearing, any person interested in the estate may file written objections, which shall be heard and determined.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1518.

5982. Sale of perishable property — Personal property—Procedure — Orders—Property bequeathed.

SEC. 126. At any time after receiving letters the executor, administrator or special administrator may apply to the court or judge for an order to sell the perishable property of the estate, or so much of other property, if necessary, to pay the allowance made to the family of deceased. If there be a delay in obtaining such order, such property may be sold without an order of sale; provided, that the executor, administrator or special administrator shall be held responsible for the property sold by him, unless, after making a sworn return, the court shall confirm the sale. If claims against the estate have been allowed, and a sale of property shall be necessary for their payment, or of the expenses of the administration, the executor or administrator may also apply for an order to sell so much of the personal property as may be necessary. Upon filing his petition, notice of at least five days shall be given of the hearing of the application, either by posting or publishing, as the court or judge may order. A similar application may be made from time to time to the court or judge at chambers as long as any personal property remains in his hands, and a sale thereof is necessary; and if he deem it for the best interest of the estate, he may at any time after the filing of the inventory make a like application, and after giving like notice, for an order to sell the whole of the personal property belonging to the estate; and if on the hearing it shall be made to appear that a sale is necessary, or for the best interest of the estate, the court or judge shall order it to be made. In making such sales the court or judge shall order such articles as are not necessary for the support and subsistence of the family of the deceased, or are not specially bequeathed, to be first sold. Articles so bequeathed shall not be sold until the residue of the personal property has been applied to the payment of the debts and expenses of administration.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1522.

5983. Sale of personal property, how made—Notice, time and place.

SEC. 127. The sale of personal property shall be made at public auction, and after public notice given at least ten days, unless for good reasons shown, the court or judge shall order a private sale or a shorter notice. Public sales of such property shall be made at the court-house door, at the residence of the deceased, or at some other place to be mentioned in the notice, and no sale shall be made of any property which is not present at the time of selling.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1526.

5984. Idem—Notice, how given.

SEC. 128. The notice shall specify the time and place, and shall be given by posting in three public places of the county, or by publication in a newspaper, as the court or judge shall order.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1526.

5985. Real estate may be sold, when.

SEC. 129. When the personal estate of the deceased shall be insufficient to pay the allowance to the family, the debts of the deceased, expenses of last illness and funeral, and the charges and cost of administration, the executor or administrator may petition to have the real estate sold for such purpose.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1536.

Property may be mortgaged, sec. 6146.

5986. Idem—Petition for order to sell—What to show.

SEC. 130. Such petition shall be presented to the district court or the judge at chambers, setting forth the amount of personal estate that has come to the hands of the petitioner, and how much thereof, if any, remains undisposed of; the debts outstanding against the deceased, as far as the same can be ascertained or estimated; the amount due upon the family allowance or that will be due after the same shall have been in force for one year; the sum, if any, due for last sickness and funeral of deceased; the costs and expenses of the administration already accrued and an estimate of what will or may accrue during the administration; a description of all the real estate of which the deceased died seized, or in which he or she had any interest or in which the estate has acquired any interest, and the condition and value of the respective portions and lots, and whether the same be community or separate property; the names, ages and residence of the devisees or legatees, if any, and of the heirs of the deceased, which petition shall be verified by the oath of petitioner. If all of said matter cannot be ascertained it shall be so stated in the petition.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1537.

5987. Idem—Order to show cause to all interested parties—Time of hearing.

SEC. 131. If it shall appear to the court or judge by such petition that it is necessary to sell the whole or some part of the real estate for the purposes therein mentioned, or any one of them, such petition shall be filed, and an order thereupon made directing the clerk to issue a notice to all persons interested in the estate to be and appear before the court at a time and place specified, not less than three weeks nor more than six weeks from the date of such notice, to show cause why an order should not be granted to authorize the executor or administrator to sell so much of the real estate as may be necessary.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1538.

5988. Idem—Notice, how served—Parties may assent.

SEC. 132. A copy of such notice shall be personally served on all persons in the county interested in the estate at least five days before the time specified in the notice, or shall be published at least two successive weeks in such newspaper as the court or judge shall order; provided, however, if all persons interested in the estate signify in writing their assent to such sale, the notice may be dispensed with.

Kerr. C. C. P., 1539.

5989. Idem—Proof of notice—Hearing of application.

SEC. 133. The district court, at the time and place specified in such notice, or at such other time as the hearing may be adjourned to, upon satisfactory proof of the due service or publication of the notice, by affidavit or otherwise, shall proceed to the hearing of the petition and any opposition that may be filed.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1540.

5990. Idem—Service on guardian of minor—Attorney may be appointed for minor, creditors or heirs.

SEC. 134. If any of the legatees, devisees or heirs of the deceased are minors, and have a general guardian in the county, a copy of the notice shall be served upon such guardian. If they have no guardian, the court or judge shall, at the time of filing said petition, or before proceeding to act upon it, appoint some disinterested person their attorney, for the purpose of appearing for them in the proceeding, and taking care of their interests. The court or judge may also, if deemed necessary, appoint such attorney for the heirs, devisees or legatees, if they are unrepresented, whether minors or otherwise, and may likewise appoint an attorney for the creditors if unrepresented.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1540.

5991. Idem—Witness examined—Process for.

SEC. 135. The executor or administrator may be examined and witnesses on the part of any party interested, and process to compel their attendance and testimony may issue in the same manner and with like effect as in other cases.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1541.

5992. Idem—Order of sale of whole or part.

SEC. 136. If it shall appear to the court that it is necessary to sell a part of the estate, real or personal, and that by a sale of such part the residue of the estate, or some specific part or piece thereof would be greatly injured or diminished or subject to expense, or rendered unprofitable, the court may authorize the sale of the whole estate, or such part as may be judged necessary and most beneficial for the interests of all concerned.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1542.

5993. Idem—Order to specify, what—Sale, how made—Credit allowed—Devised portion—Sale may be compelled.

SEC. 137. The order shall specify the lands to be sold and the terms of the sale, which may be either for cash or on a credit not exceeding one year, payable in gross or installments with interest as the court may direct. If sold on a credit the purchaser shall give his promissory note with security for deferred payments, which shall also be a lien upon any real estate sold. The tract or tracts of land may be sold in one parcel or in subdivisions, as the executor or administrator shall judge most beneficial to said estate, unless the court shall otherwise specially direct. If it appears that any part of such real estate has been devised and not charged in such devise with the payment of debts or legacies, the court shall order that part descending to the heirs to be sold before that devised. Every such sale shall be made at public auction unless, in the opinion of the court, it would benefit the estate to sell the whole or some part of the real estate at private sale, in which case the court may order or direct such real estate, or any part thereof, to be sold at either public or private sale, as may be made to appear most beneficial to the estate. If the executor or administrator shall neglect or refuse to make a sale under the order of sale he may be compelled to proceed to sell by order of the court made on motion after due notice by any party interested.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1544, 1545.

5994. Idem—Person other than executor may apply for order of sale—Procedure.

SEC. 137. If the executor or administrator shall neglect to apply for an order of sale whenever it may be necessary, any person interested in the estate may petition therefor in the same manner as the executor or administrator, and like proceedings shall be had thereon, the notice being also served upon the executor or administrator.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1544, 1545.

5995. Idem—Certified copy of order furnished administrator.

SEC. 138. Upon making an order of sale, under the provisions of the preceding section, a certified copy of such order shall be delivered by the clerk to the executor or administrator, who shall thereupon be authorized and required to sell the real estate as directed.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1545.

5996. Idem—Notice of time and place of sale, how given.

SEC. 139. When a sale is ordered, notice of the time and place of holding the same shall be given by posting a copy in three of the most public places of the county in which the land is situated, and by publishing it in a newspaper published in the county, if there be one; if not, then in such paper as the court may direct, for three weeks successively next before such sale, in which notice the lands and tenements shall be described with common certainty.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1547.

5997. Idem—Sale to be made, where, when and how—Private sale—Restrictions—Reappraisement, when.

SEC. 140. Such sale shall be made in the county where the land is situated, but when the tract of land is situated in two or more counties, it may be sold in any one of such counties. The sale shall be made between the hours of 9 o'clock in the forenoon and 5 o'clock in the afternoon of the same day, at public auction or private sale, as the court may have ordered, but the same shall not be sold at private sale, unless the real estate to be sold has been appraised within a year previous to the time of such sale; nor shall the same be sold at private sale for less than two-thirds of its appraised value. If such real estate has not been so appraised, the court shall appoint three disinterested real estate holders to appraise the same, who shall return their said appraisement under oath to the court before the sale shall be made.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1548.

5998. Idem—Confirmation of sale, notice of—Vacated, when—New sale.

SEC. 141. The executor or administrator making any sale of any real estate shall within five days thereafter make and file with the clerk a return of his proceedings, whereupon the clerk shall give notice by posting in three public places of the county that the return has been filed and will be heard by the court at a time and place to be designated in said notice, not less than ten days after such posting, and notify all interested to appear and show cause why said sale should not be confirmed. At the time set, or at such other times as the hearing may be continued to, the court shall hear the matter and if it shall appear that the proceedings were unfair, or that the sum bid is disproportional to the value, and that a sum exceeding such bid at least ten per cent exclusive of the expense of a new sale may be obtained, the court shall vacate such sale and direct a new sale to be made, and the proceedings thereon shall be as upon an original order to sell; provided, that if an offer of ten per cent or more exclusive of the expense of a new sale shall be made in writing by a responsible person, to the court or judge, it shall be discretionary with the court to accept such offer and confirm the sale to such person or to order a new sale.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1542.

5999. Idem—Order confirming sale—Conveyance—Delinquent purchaser—Liability—New sale.

SEC. 142. If upon the hearing, when all persons interested who desire have been heard for or against, and any testimony that may be offered, it shall appear to the court that the sale was legally made and fairly conducted, and that the sum bid is not disproportionate to the value of the property sold, or if disproportionate that a greater sum as above specified cannot be obtained, or that the advance bid mentioned in section 141 of this act be made and accepted, the court shall confirm the sale and direct proper conveyances to be made and executed, and such sale from that time shall be confirmed and valid; provided, that if after such confirmation the purchaser shall neglect or refuse to comply with [the] terms of sale the court may, on motion of the executor or administrator, and after notice to the purchasers, order a new sale of the property, and if the amount realized on such sale does not cover the bid and expenses of the previous sale, such delinquent purchaser shall be liable for the deficiency.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1554.

6000. Idem—Conveyances—What deemed passed after acquired title.

SEC. 143. Proper conveyances shall thereupon be executed to the purchasers by the executor or administrator. The conveyances so made shall be deemed to convey all the right, title, interest and estate of the deceased in the premises at the time of his or her death. When, however, by operation of law or otherwise the estate shave [shall] have acquired any right, title, or interest in the premises other than or in addition to that of the deceased at the time of his or her death, such right, title, or interest shall also be passed by such conveyances.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1555.

6001. Idem—Before confirmation—Proof of notice—Order to recite.

SEC. 144. Before any order is entered confirming the sale it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the court that notice of the sale was given as in this act prescribed, and the order of confirmation shall state that such proof was made.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1556.

6002. Idem—Postponement of sale—Sixty-day limit.

SEC. 145. If at the time appointed for the sale the executor or administrator shall deem it best for the interest of all parties concerned therein that the same should be postponed, he may adjourn the sale from time to time, not exceeding in all sixty days.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1557.

6003. Idem—Adjournment, notice of—How given.

SEC. 146. In case of adjournment notice thereof shall be given by a public declaration at the time and place first appointed for the sale, and if the adjournment be for more than one day, further notice shall be given by posting in three public places in the county where the land is situated, or publishing the same, or both, as time and circumstances will admit.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1558.

6004. Idem—Sale to pay legacies.

SEC. 147. When the testator shall have given any legacy by will that is effectual to pass or charge real estate, and his goods, chattels, rights and credits shall be insufficient to pay a legacy together with his debts and the charges and expenses of administration, the executor or administrator, with the will annexed, may obtain an order to sell his real estate for that purpose, in the same manner and upon the same terms and conditions as hereinbefore provided in case of a sale for the payment of debts.

6005. Payment according to will.

SEC. 148. If a deceased person shall have made provision by will, designating the estate to be appropriated for the payment of debts, expenses of administration, or family expenses, they shall be paid according to the provisions of the will, and out of the estate thus appropriated, so far as the same may be sufficient.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1560.

6006. Order not required, when—Sale authorized by will—Notice—Confirmation.

SEC. 149. When such provision has been made, or any property directed by will be sold for any purpose, the executor or the administrator, with the will annexed, may proceed to sell, as directed by the will, without an order of the district court, but he shall be bound to give notice of the sale, and proceed in all respects as if acting under an order of sale from the court. Such sale shall not be valid until confirmed by the court.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1561.

6007. Idem—When property designated in will insufficient, other may be appropriated.

SEC. 150. If the provisions made by the will, or the estate appropriated be not sufficient to pay the debts, expenses of administration and family expenses, such part of the estate as shall not have been disposed of by the will, if any, shall be appropriated to that purpose as provided in this act.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1562.

6008. Devises and legacies liable for debts—When may be exempted.

SEC. 151. The estate, real and personal, given by will to any devisees or legatees, shall be held liable for the payment of debts, expenses of administration and family expenses in proportion to the value or amount of the several devises or legacies, except that specific devises or legacies may be exempted, if it shall appear to the court necessary to carry into effect the intention of the deceased, if there shall be other sufficient estate.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1563.

6009. Sale of devised property—Contribution by other devisees and legatees—Court to decree.

SEC. 152. When the estate given by any will has been sold for the payment of debts and expenses all the devisees and legatees shall be liable to contribute according to their respective interests, to any devisee or legatee from whom the estate devised or bequeathed to him or her may have been taken for the payment of debts or expenses, and the district court, when distribution is made, shall settle the amount of the several liabilities, and decree how much each person shall contribute.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1564.

6010. Contract for purchase of lands may be sold—Procedure.

SEC. 153. If a deceased person, at the time of death, was possessed of a contract for the purchase of lands, the interest of deceased in such lands, and under such contract, may be sold in the same manner as if said person had died seized of such land, and the same proceedings shall be had for that purpose as are prescribed in this act in respect to lands of which a person dies seized, except as hereinafter provided.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1565.

6011. Idem—Sale subject to payments—Confirmation subject to indemnity bond.

SEC. 154. Such sale shall be made subject to all payments that may thereafter become due on such contract, and if there be any such payments thereafter to become due, such sale shall not be confirmed by the district court until the purchaser or purchasers shall execute a bond to the executor or administrator for his benefit and indemnity, and for the benefit and indemnity of the person or persons entitled to the interest of deceased in the land so contracted for. The amount of such bond shall be double the whole amount of payments thereafter to become due on such contract, with such sureties as the district court or judge shall approve.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1566.

6012. Idem—Bond, how conditioned—Bond not required, when.

SEC. 155. Such bond shall be conditioned that the purchaser or purchasers will make all payments for such lands, that shall become due after the date of such sale, and will indemnify the executor or administrator, and the person or persons so entitled, against all demands, costs, charges and expenses, by reason of any covenant or agreement contained in such contract, but if there be no payment thereafter to become due on such contract, no bond shall be required of the purchaser or purchasers.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1567.

6013. Idem—Assignment of contract—Rights of purchaser.

SEC. 156. Upon the confirmation of such sale, the executor or administrator shall execute to the purchaser or purchasers an assignment of the contract, which assignment shall vest in the purchaser or purchasers all the right, title and interest of the person or persons entitled to the interest of the deceased in the lands sold at the time of the sale, and such purchaser or purchasers shall have the same rights and remedies against the vendor of such lands as the deceased would have if living.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1568.

6014. Sale of land subject to lien—Purchase money, how applied—Liens not affected by statute of limitations pending settlement of estate.

SEC. 157. When any sale is made by any executor or administrator, pursuant to the provisions of this act, of land subject to any mortgage or other lien, which is a valid claim against the estate of the deceased, the purchase money shall be applied, after paying the necessary expenses of the sale, first to the satisfaction of the mortgage or other lien and the residue in due course of administration. Such application of the purchase money shall be made without delay and the land shall remain subject to such mortgage or other lien until the purchase money shall have been actually so applied. No lien against any estate shall be affected by the statute of limitation pending the proceedings for the settlement of such estate.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1569.

The legislature, by the use of the words "valid claim against the estate of the deceased," construed with other language used in the same section, clearly intended that lands sold by the administrator, which were justly chargeable with the payment of a mortgage lien, should be subject to sale divested of such lien only upon the actual application of the proceeds as specified. Kirman v. Powning, 25 Nev. 378, 379, 397, 398 (60 P. 834).

6015. Expenses of sale, primary charge.

SEC. 158. In all cases in which lands are sold by an executor or administrator the necessary expenses of the sale shall first be paid out of the proceeds.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1569.

6016. Misconduct in sale—Administrator liable on bond.

SEC. 159. If there shall be any neglect or misconduct in the proceedings of an executor or administrator in relation to any sale by which any person interested in the estate shall suffer any damage, the party aggrieved may recover for the same in a suit upon the bond of the executor or administrator or otherwise, as the case may require.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1571.

6017. Fraudulent sale—Administrator liable on bond—Double damages.

SEC. 160. Any executor or administrator who shall fraudulently sell any real estate of his decedent contrary to the provisions of this act shall be liable on his bond, in double the value of the land sold, as damages, to be recovered in an action by the person or persons having an estate of inheritance therein.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1572.

6018. Limitation for action to recover estate sold by executor or administrator—Three years—Disability, effect of.

SEC. 161. No action for the recovery of any estate sold by an executor or administrator under the provisions of this act shall be maintained by any heir or other person claiming under the deceased unless it be commenced within three years next after the sale, saving to minors or others under any legal disability at the time when the right of action shall first accrue the right to commence such action at any time within three years after the removal of the disability.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1573.
See secs. 4964–4966.

6019. Account of sale to be made, when—Penalty for neglect—Contempt—Revocation—Attachment for appearance.

SEC. 162. Whenever a sale has been made by an executor or administrator of any property of the estate, real or personal, it shall be his duty to return to the district court a return of sale thereof within five days after making such sale. If he neglects to make such return he may be punished as for a contempt or his letters may be revoked, one day's notice having first been given him to appear and show cause why he should not be punished for a contempt or his letters should not be revoked, and his appearance may be compelled by attachment or other proper process.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1575.

6020. Executor or administrator not to purchase.

SEC. 163. No executor or administrator shall directly or indirectly purchase any property of the estate he represents.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1576.

6021. Executor or administrator to take possession of all property—Exception—Deemed in possession for certain suits—Possession of heirs or devisees.

SEC. 164. The executor or administrator shall take into his possession all the estate of the deceased, real and personal, except that exempted as hereinbefore provided, and shall collect all debts due the deceased. For the purpose of bringing suits to quiet title or for partition of such estate, the possession of the executor or administrator shall be deemed the possession of the heirs or devisees. Such possession of heirs or devisees shall be subject, however, to the possession of the executor or administrator for all other purposes.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1581.
See sec. 5950.
Cited, Price v. Ward, 25 Nev. 215 (46 L. R. A. 459, 58 P. 849).

6022. Executors or administrators may sue and be sued, for what.

SEC. 165. Actions for the recovery of any property, real or personal, or for the possession, and all actions founded upon contracts, may be maintained by and against executors and administrators in all cases where the same might have been maintained by or against their respective testators or intestates in their lifetime.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1582.
Cited, Schwartz v. Stock, 26 Nev. 153 (65 P. 35); Price v. Ward, 25 Nev. 215 (46 L. R. A. 459, 58 P. 849).

6023. Idem—May sue for trespass, waste or conversion.

SEC. 166. Executors or administrators may maintain actions against any person or persons, who shall have wasted, destroyed, taken, carried away or converted to his or their own use the goods of their testator or intestate in his lifetime. They may also maintain actions for trespass committed on the real estate of the deceased while living.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1583.
Cited, Price v. Ward, 25 Nev. 215 (46 L. R. A. 459, 58 P. 849).

6024. Executor or administrator may be sued for waste, trespass or conversion committed by decedent.

SEC. 167. Any person or his personal representatives shall have a right of action against the executor or administrator of any testator or intestate who in his lifetime shall have wasted, destroyed, taken, carried away or converted to his own use the goods or chattels of any such person, or committed any trespass on the real estate of such person.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1584.

6025. Surviving partner may continue in possession of partnership property—Duty to settle and account—May be compelled by attachment—May be sued—Inventory and appraisement.

SEC. 168. When there was a partnership existing between the testator or intestate at the time of his death and any other person, the surviving partner shall have the right to continue in possession of the effects of the partnership, and to settle its business, but the interest of the deceased shall be included in the inventory, and appraised as other property. The surviving partner shall proceed to settle the affairs of the partnership without delay, and shall account to the executor or administrator, and pay over such balance as may from time to time be payable to him in right of his testator or intestate. Upon the application of the executor or administrator the district judge may, whenever it may appear necessary, order the surviving partner to render an account, and in case of neglect or refusal may, after notice, compel it by attachment; and the executor or administrator may maintain against him any action which the deceased could have maintained.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1585.

A surviving partner is entitled to sue in his representative capacity for the amount due the partnership, and in his own name for the amount due himself individually. The respective demands may be united in the same action, but should be separately stated. Quillen v. Arnold, 12 Nev. 235, 248.

6026. Action on bond of former executor or administrator.

SEC. 169. Any administrator may, in his own name, for the use and benefit of all parties interested in the estate, maintain actions on the bond of an executor of any former administrator of the same estate.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1586.

6027. Joinder of parties—Executors not qualifying.

SEC. 170. In actions brought by or against executors, it shall not be necessary to join those as parties who have not qualified.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1587.

6028. Debts and cases compromised, how.

SEC. 171. Whenever a debtor of a deceased person shall be unable to pay all his debts, the executor or administrator, with the approval of the district court or judge, may compromise with such debtor and give him a discharge, upon receiving a fair and just dividend of his effects. A compromise may also be authorized in any case when it shall be made to appear to the court to be just and for the best interests of the estate.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1588.

An executor may pay money to compromise a suit pending against an estate. But he cannot lawfully make such payment without the previous consent of the court. Lucich v. Medin, 3 Nev. 94, 109.

6029. Fraudulent conveyance by decedent—Duty of executor or administrator as to—Rights or credits.

SEC. 172. When there shall be a deficiency of assets in the hands of an executor or administrator, and when the deceased, in his lifetime, shall have conveyed any real estate or any rights or interests therein with intent to defraud his creditors or to avoid any right debt or duty of any person, or shall have so conveyed such estate that by law the deeds or conveyances are void as against creditors, the executor or administrator may, and it shall be his duty, to commence and prosecute to final judgment any proper action for the recovery of the same for the benefit of the creditors, and may also for such benefit sue for and recover all goods, chattels, rights or credits or their value, which may have been so fraudulently conveyed by the deceased in his lifetime, whatever may have been the manner of such fraudulent conveyance.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1589.

6030. Idem—Creditors to apply for—Costs secured.

SEC. 173. No executor or administrator shall be bound to sue for such estate as mentioned in the preceding section for the benefit of the creditors, unless upon application of creditors of the deceased, nor unless such creditors shall pay the costs and expense of such litigation, or give such security therefor as the court or judge shall direct.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1590.

6031. Idem—Disposition of, when recovered.

SEC. 174. All real estate so recovered shall be sold for the payment of debts in the same manner as hereinbefore prescribed for sales of real estate by executors or administrators, and the proceeds of all goods, chattels, rights or credits so received shall be applied in payment of debts in the same manner as other personal property in the hands of the executor or administrator.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1591.

6032. Specific performance of contracts of decedents—All interested parties to be made defendants.

SEC. 175. When any person who is bound by contract in writing to convey any real estate shall die before making the conveyance, the district court in a proper proceeding therefor may decree that the executor or administrator convey such real estate to the person entitled thereto in all cases where such deceased person, if living, might be compelled to make such conveyance.

All persons interested in the estate shall be made parties defendant in such action.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1597.
See secs. 6147, 6148.

6033. Idem—Effect of conveyance.

SEC. 176. Every conveyance made in pursuance of a decree of the court as above provided, shall be as effectual to pass the estate contracted for as fully as if the contracting party himself were living and executed the conveyance himself.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1603.

6034. Executor or administrator not liable out of own estate for damages or debts of decedents except upon promise in writing—Statute of frauds.

SEC. 177. No executor or administrator shall be chargeable upon any special promise to answer damages or to pay the debts of the deceased out of his own estate, unless the agreement for that purpose or some memorandum or note thereof is in writing and signed by such executor or administrator, or by some other person by him thereunto specially authorized.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1612.
See sec. 1075.

6035. Executor or administrator, with what chargeable in account.

SEC. 178. Every executor and administrator shall be chargeable in his account with the whole of the estate of the deceased which should come to his possession at the value of the appraisement contained in the inventory, except as hereinafter provided, and with all the interest, profit and income of the estate.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1613.

6036. Not to profit or lose unless in fault.

SEC. 179. He shall not make profit by the increase nor suffer loss by the decrease or destruction of any part of the estate without his fault. He shall account for the excess when he shall sell any part of the estate for more than the appraisement, and if any be sold for less than the appraisement he shall not be responsible for the loss if the sale has been justly made.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1614.

6037. Idem—Debts uncollected without fault.

SEC. 180. No executor or administrator shall be accountable for any debts due the deceased that remain uncollected without his fault.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1615.

6038. Expenses and compensation—Provision in will—May renunciate.

SEC. 181. He shall be allowed all necessary expenses in the care and management as well as settlement of the estate, and for his services such fees as provided by law; but when the deceased shall, by his will, make some other provision for the compensation of his executor, this shall be deemed a full compensation for such services, unless the executor files a renunciation, in writing, of all claim for the compensation provided by the will.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1617.

Insurance paid by an administrator on the property of a decedent is properly allowed as one of the expenses and charges of the administration. In re Nicholson, 1 Nev. 518.

An executor may employ counsel to attend to litigation concerning the estate. But he has no right to employ counsel at the expense of the estate to keep the accounts and do that business for which he is compensated by his fees. Lucich v. Medin, 3 Nev. 93.

Under former act (Stats. 1861, 186) it was held: An executor or administrator has no authority to borrow money for the use of the estate represented by him, nor will interest on money borrowed for the estate be allowed. Estate of Millenovich, 5 Nev. 189.

Act cited, Merriman v. Stern, 14 Nev. 418.

The act of 1861, 186, was repealed by this act. See Kennedy v. Adams, under sec. 282 of this act.

If necessary, the executor or administrator is authorized to employ counsel in a particular matter, but such employment is terminated by the disposal of that matter. The allowance for such services is made, not to the counsel, but to the administrator, as a part of the necessary expenses of administration. Torreyson v. Bowman, 26 Nev. 371, 372 (68 P. 472).

6039. Not to purchase claims—Charge amounts actually paid.

SEC. 182. No administrator or executor shall purchase any claim against the estate he represents; and if he shall pay any claim for less than its nominal value he shall not charge in his account more than he has actually paid.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1617.

This section was designed to protect the estates of deceased persons, and to prevent administrators and executors from taking advantage of their position to the injury of the estate. Furth v. Wyatt, 17 Nev. 180, 182 (30 P. 828).

If an administrator purchases a claim for less than is due, he could not enforce it for the full amount, but would be entitled to be remunerated for the amount he actually paid. Idem.

When the money was advanced by the administrator for the benefit of the estate and to avoid litigation, and resulted to the benefit of the estate without gain to the administrator, the administrator is entitled to protection, and can maintain an action against the estate for the amount advanced. Idem.

There is nothing to prohibit an executor from becoming interested in property of the estate of his testator after the estate has ceased to have any interest in it. Estate of Millenovich, 5 Nev. 162.

An executor, who came into possession of an estate in his fiduciary capacity, cannot buy up a title adverse to the estate and withhold the rents on the ground that the title he has bought is superior to that of his testator. Lucich v. Medin, 3 Nev. 94 (93 A. D. 376).

6040. Commissions—Additional allowance, when.

SEC. 183. When no compensation shall have been provided by the will, or the executor shall renounce all claims thereto, he shall be allowed commissions upon the whole amount of the personal estate accounted for by him, as follows: For the first thousand dollars, at the rate of six per cent; for all above that sum and not exceeding five thousand dollars, at the rate of four per cent; for all above five thousand dollars, at the rate of two per cent, and the same commissions shall be allowed to administrators. In all cases such additional allowance may be made by the court for services in regard to the real estate, when it shall be made to appear that the same is just and reasonable.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1618.

Attorneys' fees may or may not be properly charged among the expenses of administration according to the peculiar circumstances of the case.

The percentage allowed by law to administrators for collecting and disbursing money is one of the expenses of administration which should be allowed in preference even to funeral expenses. Estate of Nicholson, 1 Nev. 518, 520.

6041. First account rendered, what to contain.

SEC. 184. Within thirty days after the judge has acted upon the claims filed against the estate, the executor or administrator shall file his first account, under oath, of his administration. Such account shall be itemized, showing the amount of money received and expended by him; the amount of all claims filed against the estate; the names of all claimants; the claims, if any, rejected, and all other matters necessary to show the conditions of the affairs of the estate.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1622.

6042. Full account and report to be rendered, when.

SEC. 185. Every executor or administrator shall render and file under oath, a full account and report of his administration whenever he deems it advisable, or shall be directed to do so by the court on its own motion, or on motion on behalf of any person interested, when it shall appear to the court to be proper.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1622.

Cited, McNabb v. Wixom, 7 Nev. 170, 171; Deegan v. Deegan, 22 Nev. 186, 197 (58 A. S. 742, 37 P. 360).

6043. Citation to appear on failure to render account—Attachment—Revocation of letters.

SEC. 186. If the executor or administrator fail to render and file his first account within the time specified in section 184, above, it shall be the duty of the court or judge, to order a citation to issue requiring him to file such account by a time to be stated in said citation as fixed by the court or judge, or appear and show cause why he should not be compelled to file said account. If he fail to file said account by the time stated, or show cause why he should not, the court by attachment or other proper process may compel him to file such an account or may revoke his letters in the discretion of the court, and like action may be had in reference to any subsequent account he may be ordered to file.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1623.

Waste, negligence and mismanagement afford as good grounds for the removal of an executor as actual fraud. Lucich v. Medin, 3 Nev. 101 (93 A. D. 376).

If an executor qualify as such and totally neglect his duties, he should be removed, although he has committed no positive act of wrong. Idem.

6044. Clerk to give notice of account by posting.

SEC. 187. When any account shall be filed by an executor or administrator with the clerk, he shall give notice thereof by posting in three public places of the county, and notifying all persons interested in the estate, at a time and place, not less than ten days after the posting, to be stated in the notice, to appear and show cause why the account should not be approved and allowed and confirmed. As amended, Stats. 1899, 112.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1633.

Cited, Estate of Millenovich, 5 Nev. 188.

6045. Account, who may contest—Hearing—Examination.

SEC. 188. Any person interested in an estate may contest any account or any item therein of the executor or administrator, by filing in writing with the clerk, at any time before the hearing on approving the account, his objection. At the time fixed in the notice, or at such further time as the court may order, the court shall proceed to hear the matter, when the executor or administrator, or any other person, may be sworn and examined by either party, and the matter shall be adjudged by the court as law and right demand.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1635.

6046. Vouchers to be produced—Lost, how proved—May be withdrawn—Examination of account.

SEC. 189. In rendering his account the executor or administrator shall produce vouchers for all payments he may have made, which vouchers shall be filed and remain in court, and he may be examined on oath touching such payments, and also touching any property and effects of the deceased and the disposition thereof. When any such voucher shall be required for other purposes it may be withdrawn on leaving a certified copy on file. If any vouchers be lost, or for other good reason cannot be produced on settlement of an account, the payment may be proved by the oath of one competent witness.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1631.

Cited, Estate of Millenovich, 5 Nev. 188.

6047. Minors, guardians for—Attorney appointed for, when—For absent heirs, devisees or legatees—Contests.

SEC. 190. If there be a minor interested in the estate who has no legally appointed guardian, the court shall appoint some disinterested attorney to represent him, who, on behalf of the minor, may contest the account as any other person having an interest might contest it. The court may also appoint an attorney to represent absent heirs and devisees or legatees. All matters, including allowed claims not passed upon on the settlement of any former account, or on making a decree of sale, may be contested by heirs for cause shown.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1664.

Concerning guardians, see secs. 6190–6192.

6048. Settlement conclusive except as to persons under disability—Two-year limitation—Presumption of correctness.

SEC. 191. The settlement of an account and the allowance thereof by the court shall be conclusive against all persons in any way interested in the estate, saving, however, to all persons laboring under any legal disability their rights to proceed against the executor or administrator, either individually or upon his bond, within two years after their respective disabilities shall cease, and in any action brought by any such person the settlement and allowance of the account shall be presumptive evidence of its correctness.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1637.

This section seems to provide that what is settled at one settlement of an executor's account shall not be open to resettlement at any future time. Lucich v. Medin, 3 Nev. 93, 105, 110; Estate of Millenovich, 5 Nev. 163, 187.

The rule that the court cannot reinquire into that which has once been settled, only applies to those items of account which were properly before the court for adjustment. The general result at which the probate court arrives is immaterial. It is only as to those items of account acted on that the doctrine of res adjudicata applies. Idem.

It has been held that a mistake in a former settlement may be corrected in a subsequent one. The only difficulty in applying this rule is to determine what shall be treated as a mistake and what shall stand as res adjudicata. Perhaps the best rule is to say everything may be corrected which shows on its face the mistake or error. This would allow the court before final settlement to correct its own errors of judgment, but not to go de novo into proof of items already passed on. Idem.

6049. Proof of notice—Hearing on account—Order must show—Conclusive.

SEC. 192. No account shall be allowed by the court until it be first proved that the notice hereinbefore required has been given, and the order or decree shall show that such proof was made to the satisfaction of the court and shall be conclusive evidence of the fact.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1638.

6050. Account may be required after authority ceases.

SEC. 193. Whenever the authority of an executor or administrator shall cease or shall be revoked for any reason, he may be cited by the court to account, at the instance of the person succeeding to the administration of the same estate, in like manner as he might have been by any person interested in the estate, during the time he was executor or administrator.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1629.

6051. Failure to account, cause for revocation of letters—Absence or concealment.

SEC. 194. If the executor or administrator resides out of the county, or absconds or conceals himself so that the citation cannot be personally served, and shall neglect to file an account within twenty days after the time fixed for that purpose, his letters shall be revoked.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1630.

6052. Debts, order of payment.

SEC. 195. The debts of the estate shall be paid in the following order: First—Funeral expenses. Second—The expenses of the last sickness. Third—Debts having preference by the laws of the United States. Fourth—

Judgments rendered against the deceased in his lifetime, and mortgages in order of their date. Fifth—All other demands against the estate.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1643.
See secs. 5959, 6145.

In the settlement of executors' accounts for funeral expenses, all the circumstances of the case should be taken into consideration, and their accounts allowed, if they have acted with ordinary prudence and with a regard for decency and respectability, according to the condition and life of deceased. Estate of Millenovich, 5 Nev.-162.

If the charges allowed and paid by an executor for the expenses of the last sickness of his testator, though apparently extravagant, are no more than the usual charges for like services at the time, an order approving his account of them will not be disturbed on appeal. Idem.

6053. Preference to mortgages—Extends only to proceeds.

SEC. 196. The preference given in the preceding section to a mortgage shall only extend to the proceeds of the property mortgaged. If the proceeds of such property be insufficient to pay the mortgage the part remaining unsatisfied shall be classed with other demands against the estate.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1644.

6054. Estate insufficient to pay debts in full—Dividends—Preference.

SEC. 197. If the estate be insufficient to pay all the debts of any one class, each creditor of such class shall be paid a dividend in proportion to his claim, and no creditor of any one class shall receive any payment until all of those of the preceding class have been fully paid.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1645.

6055. Funeral, last sickness and family expenses, when payable.

SEC. 198. It shall be the duty of the executor or administrator, as soon as he has sufficient funds in his hands to pay the funeral expenses, the expenses of the last sickness, and the allowance made to the family of the deceased, and he may retain in his hands the necessary expenses of administration, but he shall not be obliged to pay any other debt or any legacy until the payment shall have been ordered by the court.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1646.

6056. Order for payment to creditors—Dividends—When account final—Discharge.

SEC. 199. Upon the settlement of any account of an executor or administrator as in this act provided, the court may make an order for the payment of debts as the condition of the estate will warrant. If there shall not be sufficient funds in the hands of the executor or administrator to pay the debts in full, the court shall specify in the decree the sum to be paid to each creditor. If the whole estate should be exhausted by such payments, such account as is then before the court shall be the final account, and the executor or administrator shall be entitled to his discharge on producing and filing the necessary vouchers and proofs showing that such payments have been made and that he has fully complied with the decree of the court.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1647.

6057. Claims contingent, disputed or not due—Payment into court—Consent.

SEC. 200. If there be any claim not due or any contingent or disputed claim against the estate, the amount thereof or such part of the same as the holder would be entitled to if the claim were due, or established or absolute, shall be paid into court, where it shall remain to be paid over to the party when he shall become entitled thereto, or, if he fail to establish the claim, to be paid over or distributed, as the circumstances of the estate require; provided, that if any creditor whose claim has been allowed, but is not yet due, shall appear and consent to a deduction therefrom of the legal interest for the time the claim has yet to run, he shall be entitled to be paid accordingly.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1648.

6058. Liability of executor or administrator to debtors after settlement of account—Execution may issue.

SEC. 201. Whenever a decree shall be made by the court for the payment of creditors, the executor or administrator shall be personally liable to each creditor for the amount of his claim, or the dividend thereon, and execution may be issued upon such decree as upon a judgment in any other action, in favor of each creditor, and the same proceedings may be had under such execution as if it had been issued upon a judgment. The executor or administrator shall also be liable on his bond to each creditor.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1649.

6059. Payment of legacies and distribution.

SEC. 202. When the whole of the debt and liabilities of an estate have been paid, the court shall proceed to direct the payment of legacies and the distribution of the estate among those entitled, as hereinafter provided; provided, the estate is in condition to be closed; if not, then at such time as it thereafter may be in condition.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1651.

Taxes to be ordered paid prior to distribution, sec. 3629.

Where an executor files his final account, an order of the court directing him to pay over money in his hands to the county treasurer, to be placed to the credit of the heirs and devisees of the testator, and to be paid to such heirs and devisees on the order of the court after proof of identity, is void. Estate of McMahan, 19 Nev. 241 (8 P. 797).

See McNabb v. Wixom, under sec. 203 of this act.

6060. Final account, when to be rendered.

SEC. 203. Whenever all the property of an estate shall have been sold, or there shall be sufficient funds in his hands for the payment of all debts due by the estate, and the estate be in a proper condition to be closed, the executor or administrator shall render and file his final account and pray a settlement of his administration.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1652.

Whenever an administrator does what the law prohibits, or fails to exercise reasonable care and diligence in the endeavor to do what the law enjoins, he and his sureties are liable for the damages consequent upon such act or omission. McNabb v. Wixom, 7 Nev. 163, 172.

If an administrator deposits money of an estate in a bank, and allows it to remain after the time when if he had fulfilled his duty it would have been distributed and in the hands of those entitled to it; and the bank fails and the money is lost, he and his sureties are liable therefor. Idem.

Where money of an estate is lost by reason of such neglect of an administrator as he and his sureties are liable for, the sum lost constitutes the measure of damages. Idem.

In settling the final account of an administrator, an attorney's fee for procuring letters of administration cannot be allowed. Bowman v. Bowman, 27 Nev. 413 (76 P. 634).

6061. Neglect to render final account—Proceedings.

SEC. 204. If he neglects to render and file his final account the same proceedings may be had as prescribed in this act in regard to the first account to be filed by him, and all the provisions relative to said first account, and the notice and settlement thereof, shall apply to his account for final settlement.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1653.

See secs. 6041–6051.

6062. Distribution, when made.

SEC. 205. When the accounts of an executor or administrator have been settled and a decree for the distribution of the estate made by the court, the executor or administrator shall without any unnecessary delay distribute the estate remaining in his hands as by the decree directed.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1665.

6063. Accounts confirmed, when.

SEC. 206. At the time any account comes before the court for allowance, if there are no exceptions filed by any person interested in the estate, and the account is made to appear to the court to be correct and according to law, the court may allow and confirm the account.

6064. Heirs, devisees or legatees may receive their portion of estate on giving bond, when.

SEC. 207. At any time after the lapse of three months after the issuing of letters testamentary or of administration, any heir, devisee or legatee may present his petition to the court, praying that the legacy or share of the estate to which he or she is entitled may be given to him or her upon giving bond, with approved security, for the payment of his or her proportion of the debts of the estate.

District courts, though now vested with jurisdiction of probate matters, are governed by the rules of practice that formerly applied to probate courts and the rules prescribed by the probate act, and must be governed by provisions of said act as to the character and extent of the judgment or decree. Estate of Foley, 24 Nev. 197 (31 P. 834).

Sections 252 and 260 (Stats. 1861, 186) provide when, on whose application, and to whom distribution may be made in proceedings for partial and final distribution, respectively. The courts are authorized to act in pursuance of these provisions, and not otherwise in the distribution of estates. Idem.

Under secs. 252, 253 and 255 (Stats. 1861, 186) it was held that, in a proceeding for partial distribution on petition of decedent's widow, the court cannot distribute any part of the property of the estate to parties having title thereto as grantees of the petitioner under an agreement with her, and not as heirs, legatees or devisees of the decedent. Idem.

In proceedings for partial distribution under the above sections, none other than an heir, devisee or legatee, having an interest as such in the property for which distribution is asked, is authorized to petition for such distribution, and the court is not authorized to make such distribution to any claimant other than one entitled to the property as an heir, devisee or legatee. Idem.

In such proceedings the question is not properly before the court to determine whether all the property or only the separate property of the decedent was embraced in an agreement between the widow and other heirs for a distribution of the estate. Idem.

Where, under the stipulation of the parties to this proceeding, the petitions present a case for the partial distribution of separate property to the appellant, and the respondents as heirs with respect to that property, and a case for partial distribution of community property to the appellant as the widow of the deceased, and to the respondents as grantees of the appellant, the court has no authority to distribute any portion of the community property to the respondents. Idem.

When any person appears in a proceeding for partial distribution of the estate of a decedent, claiming the property sought to be distributed as the grantee of an heir, devisee or legatee, and objects to such distribution being made to his grantor, the distribution should be denied or suspended until the rights of the contestant are determined on final distribution or in some other appropriate proceeding. Estate of Foley, 24 Nev. 291 (52 P. 1134).

6065. Idem—Notice of petition.

SEC. 208. Notice of the application shall be given to the executor or administrator personally, and to all persons interested in the estate, in the same manner that notice is required to be given of the settlement of an account of an executor or administrator, or [as] the court may direct.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1659.

6066. Idem—Who may resist.

SEC. 209. The executor or administrator, or any person interested in the estate, may appear and resist the application, or any other heir, devisee or legatee may make a similar application for himself or herself.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1660.

See Estate of Foley, under sec. 207 of this act.

6067. Idem—Decree of distribution—Bond.

SEC. 210. If, on the hearing, it appears that the estate is but little indebted, and that the share or shares of the party or parties petitioning may be allowed, without injury to the creditors of the estate, the court shall make a decree in conformity to the prayer of the applicant or applicants; provided, that each one of them shall first execute and deliver to the executor or administrator a bond in such sum as shall be designated by the court or judge, and with sureties to be approved by the judge. Such bond shall be made payable to the executor or administrator and conditioned for the payment by the heir, devisee or legatee whenever required of his or her proportion of the debts of the estate.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1661.
See sec. 3629.
See Estate of Foley, under sec. 207 of this act.

6068. Idem—Decree, what may direct.

SEC. 211. Such decree may direct the executor or administrator to deliver to the petitioner or petitioners the whole portion of the estate to which he, she or they may be entitled, or a part only thereof.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1661.

6069. Idem—Partition.

SEC. 212. If in the execution of such decree any partition be necessary between two or more of the parties, it shall be made in the manner hereinafter prescribed.

6070. Idem—Cost of proceedings, how paid.

SEC. 213. The costs of such proceedings shall be paid by the applicant, or if there be more than one, shall be apportioned equally amongst them.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1663.

6071. Idem—Contribution to pay debts—Citation—Order—Action on bond.

SEC. 214. Whenever any bond has been executed and delivered as above prescribed, and the executor or administrator shall ascertain that it is necessary for the settlement of the estate to require the payment of any part of the money thereby secured, he shall petition the court for an order requiring the payment, and cause a citation to be issued and served upon the party bound, requiring him or her, at a time and place, not more than ten days after the date of the citation, to be stated therein, to appear and show cause why the order shall not be made. At the hearing the court, if satisfied of the necessity for such payment to be made, shall make an order accordingly, designating the amount and giving a time in which it shall be paid. If the money be not paid within the time allowed, an action may be maintained by the executor or administrator on the bond.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1662.

6072. Petition for distribution may accompany final account—When otherwise—Supplementary account—Decree.

SEC. 215. When an executor or administrator files his final account, with a petition praying for the allowance and confirmation thereof, he may also include in such petition a prayer for the distribution of the estate, and upon the settlement and allowance of the final account the court may also decree a distribution of the residue of the estate, if any, among the persons who are by law entitled. If a final account be settled and allowed without a decree of distribution the executor or administrator, or any heir, devisee or legatee, or assignee or grantee of any heir, devisee or grantee, at any time thereafter, may petition the court for a decree distributing the estate. A statement of the receipts and disbursements of the executor or administrator since the rendition of his final account shall be reported and filed before or at the time of making such distribution, unless distribution of real estate only be made, and a settlement thereof, together with an estimate of the expense of closing the estate, shall be made by the court, and shall be included in the decree, or the court or judge may order notice of the settlement of such supplementary account.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1665.
Cited, McNabb v. Wixom, 7 Nev. 171.
See Estate of Foley, under sec. 207 of this act.

6073. Form of decree.

SEC. 216. In the decree the court shall name the persons and the proportion or parts to which each shall be entitled, and such person shall have the right to demand and recover his or her respective share from the executor or administrator or any other person having the same in possession.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1666.
See sec. 3629, payment of taxes.

Where defendant, before she was appointed executrix of an estate, promised, for the purposes of an amicable settlement of all questions as to the probate and validity of a certain will, that she would, when appointed executrix, make certain payments to the heirs and distributees of the decedent, she is bound individually by the agreement, when, as a result of the contract, she becomes executrix of the estate. Painter v. Kaiser, 27 Nev. 421 (103 A. S. 772, 65 L. R. A. 672, 76 P. 747); Esden v. Kaiser, 27 Nev. 432 (76 P. 1134); Kent v. Kaiser, 27 Nev. 435 (76 P. 1134).

Where defendant entered into a contract whereby she promised, on becoming executrix of an estate, to make certain payments, one for whose benefit the contract was made and partly executed could maintain an action thereon against the defendant, though she was not one of the parties that signed the contract. Idem.

6074. Petition for distribution, notice of—Service—Publication—Further notice.

SEC. 217. When a petition for distribution shall be filed, notice of the hearing of said petition shall be personally served, at the time of the filing of the final account or subsequently thereto, on all personally interested in the estate at least five days before the time specified in the notice, or shall be given by publication for at least three successive weeks in such newspaper as the court or judge shall order, and the court may order such further notice as it may deem proper. As amended, Stats. 1899, 112.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1668.

6075. Estates in common—Partition.

SEC. 218. When the estate, real or personal, assigned to two or more heirs, devisees or legatees shall be in common and undivided and the respective shares cannot be separated and distinguished, or when property of the estate shall be held in common and undivided with other parties, partition thereof may be made as hereinafter provided.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1675.

6076. Idem—Petition, who may file—Citation—Hearing—Decree.

SEC. 219. To secure such partition any person interested may file a petition stating the necessary facts, particularly describing the property to be partitioned and the party or parties interested in such property. Upon filing such petition a citation shall issue to all persons interested who shall reside in this state, or their guardians, and to agents, attorneys or guardians, if there be any in this state, or such as reside out of this state, to appear and show cause why a decree of partition should not be made as prayed for. The citation shall specify the estate and the party petitioning for partition, also the time and place for hearing the petition, not more than twenty days from its date, and must be served five days before the hearing at the time specified in the citation or at such further time as the court may continue the hearing. Upon proof, to the satisfaction of the court, that the citation has been properly served as above required, the court shall proceed to hear the petition and the allegation and proofs of the respective parties, and decree accordingly.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1676.

6077. Idem—Petition may be filed, when—Partition, when ordered.

SEC. 220. A petition for partition may be filed at any time before the decree of distribution, and attorneys, guardians and agents appointed and the citation issued, and the petition heard and determined as above provided, in which case the commissioners hereinafter provided for to make partition shall not be appointed until the decree has been made assigning the estate, when the court, having assigned the estate, may appoint commissioners to partition it as hereinafter provided. But when application is made solely to have partition between the estate administered upon and any other parties, such application may be heard and determined, and partition ordered at any time the court may direct.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1675.

6078. Idem—Commissioners appointed—Number of—Qualifications and proceedings—Surveyor.

SEC. 221. When the property to be partitioned is entirely personal property the court or judge shall appoint three competent, disinterested persons as commissioners for that purpose, who shall be duly sworn by any officer authorized to administer oaths, to faithfully and impartially discharge their duties. A certified copy of the order appointing them, attached to a certified copy of the decree assigning and distributing the estate, shall be given to them as their warrant, and their oath must be endorsed thereon. When the property to be divided is real estate, or partly real and partly personal, one of the three commissioners shall be a practical surveyor. Upon consent of the parties, and when the court shall deem it proper and just, the court may appoint one commissioner only, who shall have the same authority and be governed by the same rules as if three were appointed.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1675.

6079. Idem—When real estate is in different counties.

SEC. 222. If the real estate to be partitioned shall be in different counties, the court or judge, if deemed proper, may appoint commissioners for each county, and in such case the estate in each county shall be divided separately, as if there were no other estate to be partitioned; but the commissioners first appointed shall, unless otherwise directed by the court, make division of the real estate, wherever situated in this state.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1677.

6080. Idem—When interest parted with.

SEC. 223. Partition may be made as provided herein, although some of the original heirs, devisees or legatees may have assigned or conveyed their shares to other persons, and such shares shall be partitioned to the person holding the same, in the same manner as they would have been to the heirs, devisees or legatees, had they not transferred their shares.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1678.

6081. Idem—Shares, how set out—Description—In common, when.

SEC. 224. The several shares in the real and personal estate shall be set out to each individual in proportion to his or her right, and the real estate by metes and bounds, or such description that the same can be easily distinguished. If two or more of the parties request to have their shares set out so as to be held in common and undivided, such shares may be so partitioned.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1679.

6082. When partition cannot be made—May be assigned to one—Compensation to others, how determined—Minors.

SEC. 225. When any such real estate cannot be divided without prejudice or inconvenience to the owners, the court may assign the whole to one or more of the parties entitled to shares therein, who will accept and pay to the other parties interested their just proportion of the true value thereof, or secure the same to their satisfaction, or, in case of the minority of such party or parties, to the satisfaction of the guardian of such minor or minors, and the true value of the estate shall be ascertained and reported by the commissioners or appraisers appointed specially for that purpose.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1680.

6083. Idem—Value of property greater than either party's share—Commissioners to set off—Compensation to others.

SEC. 226. When any tract of land or tenement shall be of greater value than either party's share in the estate to be divided and cannot be divided without injury to the same, it may be set off by the commissioners to any one of the parties, who will accept it and pay, or secure to be paid, to one or more of the others interested, such sum or sums as the commissioners shall award to make the partition equal, and the commissioners shall make their award accordingly; but such partition shall not be established by the court until the sums so awarded shall be paid to the parties entitled to the same or secured to their satisfaction.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1681.

6084. Idem—When cannot be fairly divided—Estate sold—Sale conducted, how—Proceeds divided.

SEC. 227. When it cannot otherwise be fairly divided, the whole or any part of the estate, real or personal, may be recommended by the commissioners to be sold, and if the report be confirmed the court may order a sale by the executor or administrator or by a commissioner appointed for that purpose, and distribute the proceeds. The sale shall be conducted, reported upon and confirmed in the same manner and under the same rules as in ordinary cases of sales of land by an administrator under this act.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1682.

6085. Idem—Estates in common with other persons, how partitioned—Suit authorized.

SEC. 228. When partition of real estate among heirs, devisees, or legatees shall be required, and such real estate shall be in common and undivided with the real estate of any other person, the commissioner shall first divide and sever the estate of the deceased from the estate in which it lies in common, and such division so made and established by the court shall be binding upon all the persons interested. The court may authorize the executor or administrator to bring suit for such partition when deemed necessary.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1675.
Partition, civil practice act, secs. 5527–5583.

6086. Idem—Shares of equal cash value—Quality and quantity considered.

SEC. 229. In making partition the commissioners shall always have regard to quantity and quality, and may set off quantity against quality, or quality against quantity, so that when the partition is made all the shares partitioned shall be of equal cash value, as near as possible.

6087. Idem—Guardians and attorney appointed—Minors or absent heirs—Commissioners to give notice—May take testimony.

SEC. 230. Before any partition shall be made as provided herein guardians shall be appointed for all minor and insane persons interested in the estate to be divided, and an attorney shall be appointed for all nonresident or absent heirs or other persons interested. The commissioners shall notify all persons interested in the partition, their guardians, agents or attorneys, of the time when they will proceed to make partition, which time shall be as reasonable after their appointment as circumstances will admit or the court in the order of appointment may fix the time. The commissioners may take testimony, for which purpose any one of them may administer an oath, and they may take all necessary steps to enable them to form a correct judgment upon the matters before them.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1664.

6088. Idem—Report of commissioners, exceptions to—Hearing—Court may recommit partition—New commissioners—Confirmation and conveyance.

SEC. 231. The commissioners, when they shall have completed their work, within a reasonable time [shall] make a report of their proceedings and of the partition made by them, and file the same with the clerk of the court. Within fifteen days after the report is filed any person interested may file exceptions to the report, particularly specifying the grounds of objection. A copy of such objection shall be served upon the commissioners and all parties interested in the partition, their guardians, agents or attorneys in the county, before or at the time they are filed, with a notice to such persons that the objecting party will, at a certain time to be mentioned, not later than twenty days after the filing of said report, move the court to set aside the report, and for a new partition. At the time specified, or at such other time as the court may sit, the court shall proceed to hear the report and exceptions, and may hear proof by either party, and for sufficient reasons the court may set aside the report, and recommit the partition to the same commissioners, or appoint others, or may confirm the report. If no exceptions shall be filed to the report within the time above specified, the court, on the expiration of said fifteen days, or at any time thereafter, if the report appears [to] be just and correct and all the proceedings regular, shall confirm the report, and when such report shall be finally confirmed the decree of confirmation and the report shall be recorded by the clerk, and the court shall order proper conveyance to be made by the respective parties to one another, or may, if for any reason necessary appoint a commissioner to make such conveyance or conveyances which, when acknowledged or recorded, shall effectually pass the title.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1684.

6089. Advancements, questions of, heard by court—Right of appeal.

SEC. 232. All questions as to advancement made or alleged to have been made by the deceased to any heirs may be heard and determined by the court, and shall be specified in the decree distributing the estate, and in the warrant to the commissioners, and the final decree of the court shall be binding on all parties interested in the estate with right, however, of any party to appeal from a final decree of the court to the supreme court as in other action.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1686.

Advancement, see secs. 6120–6124.

6090. Court may appoint agent for absentees.

SEC. 233. When any estate shall be distributed by the court or partitioned by commissioners as in this act provided to any person residing out of this state, and having no agent therein, and it shall be necessary that some person should be authorized to take charge and possession of the same for the benefit of such absent person, the court may appoint an agent for that purpose and authorize him to take charge of such estate.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1691.

6091. Idem—Bond of agent.

SEC. 234. Such agent shall give a bond to the district judge in such sum as the judge shall fix, which bond shall be approved by the judge and conditioned for the faithful management of, and accounting for the estate, before such agent shall be authorized to receive the same, and the court may allow a reasonable sum out of the profits of the estate for services and expenses of such agent.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1692.

Regarding setting apart homestead on death of husband, see sec. 2165.

6092. Idem—Unclaimed estates—Sale—Proceeds paid to state treasurer—Receipt for.

SEC. 235. When the estate shall remain unclaimed in the hands of the agent for a year, it shall be sold under an order of the court, and the proceeds, deducting the expenses of the sale to be allowed by the court, shall be paid into the state treasury, for which the treasurer shall receipt in duplicate to the agent, one of which the agent shall file in the office of the state comptroller and the other in the estate matter in the district court.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1693.

6093. Idem—Liability of agent.

SEC. 236. The agent shall be liable on his bond for the care and preservation of the estate while in his hands, and for the payment of the proceeds of the sale as required in the preceding section, and may be sued thereon by the state or any person interested.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1695.

6094. Idem—Amount recovered by claimant—Proceedings.

SEC. 237. When any person shall appear and claim the money paid into the treasury, the district court having ordered the sale, being first satisfied of his right, shall give him a certificate attested by the clerk, under the seal of the court, and upon the presentation of the certificate to the state comptroller shall draw his warrant on the treasurer for the amount.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1696.

6095. Decree of discharge of executor or administrator.

SEC. 238. When the estate has been fully administered, and it is shown by the executor or administrator, by the production of satisfactory vouchers, that he has paid all sums of money due from him, and delivered up on the order of court all the property of the estate to the parties entitled, and has performed all acts lawfully required of him, the court shall make a decree discharging him and his sureties from all liability thereafter to be incurred.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1697.

6096. Subsequent letters may issue for cause.

SEC. 239. The final settlement of an estate shall not prevent a subsequent issuance of letters testamentary or of administration should other property of the estate be discovered, or should it become necessary or proper from any cause that letters should again be issued.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1698.

6097. Powers suspended by order of court pending investigation for cause.

SEC. 240. Whenever a district judge has reason to believe from his own knowledge or from credible information that any executor or administrator has wasted, converted to his own use, or mismanaged, or is about to waste or convert to his own use, the property of the estate committed to his charge, or has committed or is about to commit any wrong or fraud upon the estate, or has become incompetent to act, or has permanently removed from the state, or has wrongfully neglected the estate, or has unreasonably delayed the performance of necessary acts in any particular as such executor or administrator, it shall be his duty, by an order entered upon the minutes of the court, to suspend the powers of such executor or administrator until the matter can be investigated.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1436.
Cited, State v. Borowsky, 11 Nev. 126.

6098. Idem—Special administrator may be appointed—Bond—Account.

SEC. 241. During the suspension of the powers of an executor or an administrator, as provided in the preceding section, the district court, or judge, if the condition of the estate requires it, may appoint a special administrator to take charge of the effects of the estate, who shall give bond and account as other special administrators are required to do.

6099. Idem—Proceedings on suspension—Revocation—New letters.

SEC. 242. When such suspension has been made the clerk shall issue a citation, reciting the order of suspension, to the executor or administrator, to appear before the court at a time therein to be stated, as fixed by the court or judge, to show cause why his letters should not be revoked, said citation to be served by the sheriff, or other person, as provided in the civil practice act for service of process. If he fail to appear in obedience to the citation, or appearing the court shall be satisfied that there exists good grounds for his removal, his letters shall be revoked, and letters of administration granted anew, as the case may require.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1437.

6100. Idem—Who may appear and participate in hearing.

SEC. 243. Any person interested may appear at the hearing and file allegations in writing, showing that the executor or administrator should be removed. Such allegations shall be heard and determined by the court.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1438.

6101. Executor absconding, concealed or out of state—Citation, how served.

SEC. 244. If the executor or administrator has absconded or conceals himself, or has removed or absented himself from the state, the citation may be served by leaving a copy at his last known place of abode and upon his attorney of record, when the court shall have jurisdiction to proceed as if the citation had been personally served.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1439.

6102. Process to compel attendance—Required to answer—Commitment—Revocation of letters.

SEC. 245. In such proceedings for the removal of an executor or administrator the court may compel his attendance by attachment or other proper process and may require him to answer questions, on oath, touching his administration, and upon his refusal so to do may commit him to jail until he obey, or may revoke his letters, or both.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1440.

6103. General provisions—Minutes of proceedings—Probate register—Publications, how made—Times may be shortened.

SEC. 246. The clerk shall enter a minute of all proceedings in matters of estates, as in other actions, and also in the probate register. When publication is ordered such publication shall be made daily, or otherwise, as often as during the prescribed period as the paper is regularly issued, unless otherwise provided in this act. The court or judge, however, may prescribe a less number of publications during the period for publication, and the court or judge may, for good cause shown, extend or shorten any of the times prescribed in this act.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1704, 1705.
Clerk may give notices without order, sec. 6143.

The neglect of the clerk to enter the order could in no way affect the rights of executor nor render the order less effective as a protection to him. Estate of Millenovich, 5 Nev. 163, 186.

Where an order of the probate court necessary as an authorization to justify the acts of an executor is lost, secondary evidence of its character is allowed. Idem.

6104. Personal notice, how given—Citation.

SEC. 247. Whenever personal notice is required by this act to be given to any party in the matter of an estate, and no other mode of giving notice is prescribed, it shall be given by citation, which shall be issued by the clerk under the seal of the court, and directed to the sheriff of the proper county, commanding such person to appear before the court or judge, as the case may be, at a time and place to be named in the citation; also the nature or character of the proceeding shall be briefly stated in the body thereof.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1710.

6105. Citation, how served.

SEC. 248. The officer to whom a citation is directed, unless otherwise provided herein, or the order of the court or judge, shall serve the same by delivering a copy to the person therein named, or to each one of them, if there be more than one, and shall return the original to the court, according to its direction, indorsing thereon the time and manner of service.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1709.

6106. Proofs of service of papers—Publication—Affidavit—Evidence.

SEC. 249. All proofs of publication or other mode or modes of giving notice or serving papers may be made by the affidavit of any person competent to be a witness, which affidavit shall be filed, and shall constitute prima facie evidence of such publication or service, as the case may be.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1711.

6107. Citation, time of service.

SEC. 250. When no other time is specially prescribed, citation shall be served at least two days before the return day.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1711.

6108. Testimony in other places, how taken.

SEC. 251. For the purpose of taking the testimony of a witness or witnesses in other counties of this state, or in other states or territories, or foreign countries, a commission may be issued as in other cases, and, when issued ex parte no cross-interrogatories shall be necessary.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1713.

6109. Issues of fact, how tried—Costs determined by court—Execution.

SEC. 252. All issues of fact in matters of an estate shall be disposed of in the same manner as is by law provided upon the trial of issues of fact in a common-law action. All questions of costs may be determined by the court, and execution may issue therefor in accordance with the order of the court.

6110. Attorney for minors.

SEC. 253. When, upon any proceeding in an estate, an attorney has been appointed for minors or others interested in the estate, such attorney, until another may be appointed, shall represent the party or parties for whom he has been appointed in all subsequent proceedings.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1718.

6111. Decree setting aside homestead—Copy recorded.

SEC. 254. When a decree is rendered setting apart a homestead, a certified copy of such decree shall be recorded in the county recorder's office where the property is.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1719.

Cited, State ex rel. N. T. G. & T. Co. v. Grimes, 29 Nev. 59.

6112. Appeal—What decisions and orders may be appealed from to the supreme court—How governed.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1714.

See sec. 6089.

See Lonkey v. Powning, under sec. 109 of this act.

A decree in a probate proceeding, reading, "It is ordered, adjudged and decreed that the said final account of said administrator be, and the same is, settled, allowed, and affirmed," is a "decision and decree allowing a final account" of an administrator, within this section, which authorizes an appeal from such a decision or decree. Bowman v. Bowman, 27 Nev. 413, 417–419 (76 P. 634).

A notice of appeal stating that appellants appealed from an "order" allowing, settling and affirming a final account of administrator, also reciting the date of the entry of the document appealed from, and the amount of the attorney's fee fixed by the order, which was objected to, was sufficiently descriptive of the document and matter appealed from to meet the requirements of this section. Idem.

An appeal will lie from an order refusing to revoke letters. In re Bailey's Estate, 31 Nev. 377 (103 P. 232).

6113. Power of appellate court—Costs, execution may issue for.

SEC. 256. Upon an appeal the appellate court may in its discretion reverse, affirm, or modify the judgment, order or decree appealed from, and as to any or all of the parties, and order a remittitur as in other cases, and may order costs to be paid by any party to the proceedings, or out of the estate as justice may require. Execution for costs may issue out of the district court.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1714.

6114. Undertaking on appeal not required by executor or administrator.

SEC. 257. An appeal by an executor or administrator as herein provided, who has given an official bond, shall be complete and effectual without an undertaking on appeal.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1714.

6115. Reversal of order appointing executor or administrator—Prior acts valid—Successor—Certain proof not again required.

SEC. 258. When an order or decree appointing an executor or administrator shall be reversed on appeal, all lawful acts in administration upon the estate performed by such executor or administrator, if he shall have qualified, shall be as valid as if such order or decree had been affirmed. When an executor or administrator resigns or is removed, a successor may be appointed if a necessity therefor exists, without again proving the death and residence of the deceased.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1728.

6116. Estate of intestate—Descent and distribution—When to escheat to state for support of common schools.

SEC. 259. When any person having title to any estate, not otherwise limited by marriage contracts, shall die intestate as to such estate, it shall descend and be distributed subject to the payment of his or her debts in the following manner:

First—If there be a surviving husband or wife, and only one child, or the lawful issue of one child, one-half to the surviving husband or wife and one-half to such child or issue of such child. If there be a surviving husband or wife and more than one child living, or one child living and the lawful issue of one or more deceased children, one-third to the surviving husband or wife and the remainder in equal shares to his or her children, and to the lawful issue of any deceased child by right of representation. If there be no child of the intestate living at his or her death, the remainder shall go to all of his or her lineal descendants, and if all of the said descendants are in the same degree of kindred to the intestate, they shall share equally, otherwise they shall take according to the right of representation.

Second—If he or she shall leave no issue, the estate shall go in equal shares to the surviving husband or wife and to the intestate's father, and if he or she shall leave no father, it shall go in equal shares to the surviving husband or wife, and to the intestate's mother. If he or she shall leave no issue nor father nor mother, the whole community property of the intestate shall go to the surviving husband or wife, and one-half of the separate property of the intestate shall go to the surviving husband or wife, and the other half thereof shall go in equal shares to the brothers and sisters of the intestate, and to the children of any deceased brother or sister by right of representation. If he or she shall leave no issue, or husband, or wife, the estate shall go to his or her father, if living, if not to his or her mother, if living.

Third—If there be no issue, nor husband, nor wife, nor father, nor mother, then in equal shares to the brothers and sisters of the intestate, and to the children of any deceased brother or sister by right of representation.

Fourth—If the intestate shall leave no issue, nor husband, nor wife, nor father, nor mother, and no brother or sister living at his or her death, the estate shall go to the next of kin in equal degree, excepting that when there are two or more collateral kindred in equal degree, but claiming through different ancestors, those who claim through the nearest ancestors shall be preferred to those who claim through ancestors more remote; provided, however, if any person shall die leaving several children, or leaving one child and issue of one or more children and any such surviving child shall die under age and not having been married, all the estate that came to such deceased child by inheritance from such deceased parent shall descend in equal shares to the other children of the same parent, and to the issue of any such other children who may have died, by right of representation.

Fifth—If at the death of such child, who shall die under age and not having been married, all the other children of his said parent being also dead, and any of them shall have left issue, the estate that came to such child by inheritance from his or her said parent shall descend to all the issue of the other children of the same parent, and if all the said issue are in the same degree of kindred to said child they shall share the said estate equally; otherwise they shall take according to the right of representation.

Sixth—If the intestate shall leave no husband nor wife nor kindred, the estate shall escheat to the state for the support of the common schools. As amended, Stats. 1899, 113; 1901, 44; 1903, 218.

See secs. 2164, 2165, 6125, 6140–6142.

Right of representation defined, sec. 6129.

C. died intestate without issue, leaving a widow and brothers and sisters, but no father or mother. Upon the sale of real property belonging to the estate, the court distributed the proceeds one-half to the widow and one-half to the brothers and sisters. Such distribution was held correct under the rules of the common law. Clark v. Clark, 17 Nev. 124 (28 P. 238).

It was held under this section, that one-half of the property shall descend and be distributed, subject to the payment of the debts, to the surviving husband or wife and the other half to the intestate's brothers and sisters and to the children of any deceased brother or sister by right of representation, provided, if the intestate shall also have a mother, she shall share equally with the brothers and sisters. Estate of Foley, 24 Nev. 197, 214 (51 P. 834).

6117. Illegitimate child, inheritance of—Acknowledgment by father—Issue of null or dissolved marriage deemed legitimate.

SEC. 260. Every illegitimate child shall be considered as an heir of the person who shall acknowledge himself to be the father of such child by signing in writing a declaration to that effect in the presence of one credible witness, who shall sign the declaration also as a witness, and shall in all cases be considered as heir of the mother, and shall inherit in whole or in part, as the case may be, in the same manner as if born in lawful wedlock. The issue of all marriages deemed null in law or dissolved by divorce shall be legitimate.

See sec. 5833.

6118. Heirs of illegitimate child.

SEC. 261. If any illegitimate child shall die intestate without lawful issue and shall not have been acknowledged as above provided, his estate shall descend to his mother, or, in case of her decease, to her heirs at law.

6119. Degrees of kindred computed—Rules of civil law—Kindred of half blood—Inheritance.

SEC. 262. The degrees of kindred shall be computed according to the rules of the civil law, and kindred of the half blood shall inherit equally with those of the whole blood in the same degree, unless the inheritance comes to the intestate by descent, devise or gift from some one of his or her ancestors, in which case all those who are not of the blood of such ancestor shall be excluded from the inheritance.

6120. Advancement considered a part of estate for purposes of distribution.

SEC. 263. Any estate, real or personal, that may have been given by the deceased in his or her lifetime as an advancement to any child or other lineal descendant shall be considered as part of the estate of the intestate, so far as regards the distribution and division thereof among his or her issue, and shall be taken by such child or other lineal descendant towards his or her share of the estate of the deceased.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1686.
See sec. 6089.

6121. When advancement exceeds share—When not.

SEC. 264. If the amount of such advancement shall exceed the share of the heir so advanced, such heir shall be excluded from any further portion in the distribution and division of the estate, but he or she shall not be required to refund any part of such advancement; and if the amount so received shall be less than his or her share, he or she shall be entitled to as much more as will give him or her his or her full share of the estate of the deceased.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1686.

6122. Gifts and grants not deemed advancement, when.

SEC. 265. No gift or grant shall be deemed to have been made as an advancement unless so expressed in the gift or grant, or charged in writing by the deceased as an advancement, or acknowledged in writing by the child or other descendant to be such.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1686.
See sec. 6089.

6123. Value of advancement, how determined.

SEC. 266. If the value of the advancement shall be expressed in the conveyance, or in the charge thereof made by the deceased, or in the acknowledgment of the party receiving it, it shall be considered of that value in the distribution and division of the estate; otherwise it shall be estimated according to its value when given as nearly as the same can be ascertained.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1686.

6124. In case of prior death of recipient, how advancement affects heirs.

SEC. 267. If any child, or other lineal descendant so advanced, shall die before the person making the advancement leaving issue, the advancement shall be taken into consideration in the distribution and division of the estate, and the amount thereof shall be allowed accordingly by the representatives of the heir so advanced in the like manner as if the advancement had been made directly to them.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1686.

6125. Husband and wife—Separate property only affected.

SEC. 268. The provisions of this act, as to the inheritance of the husband and wife from each other, apply only to the separate property of the intestate.

See secs. 2164, 2165.

6126. Act to be liberally construed—Proceedings of record—Attorneys of record, powers of—Compensation.

SEC. 269. This act shall be liberally construed, to the end that justice may be done all parties, and as speedy settlement of estates at the least expense secured; and all proceedings in matters of estate shall be proceedings of record as other actions and proceedings; and all attorneys for estates or executors or administrators or appointed in the proceedings shall be attorneys of record with like powers and responsibilities as attorneys in other actions and proceedings, and shall be entitled to receive a reasonable compensation, to be paid out of the estate they respectively represent for services rendered, to be allowed by the court.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1710.

6127. Summary administration may be ordered, when—Value of estate not in excess of $2000—Procedure—Costs limited.

SEC. 270. When it shall be made to appear to the court or judge, by affidavit or otherwise, that the value of an estate does not exceed two thousand dollars, the court or judge may, if deemed advisable, make an order for a summary administration of such an estate, dispensing with all regular proceedings and notices, except the notice of appointment of executor or administrator, which shall always be given by publication for four weeks, provided the cost does not exceed five dollars. Creditors of such an estate must file their claims, due or to become due, with the clerk, within forty days after the first publication of said notice, and within five days thereafter the executor or administrator must act on the claims filed, and present them in three days thereafter to the judge for his action. Any claim which shall not be filed within said forty days shall be barred forever. The judge or court may, however, if deemed proper, order the notice herein provided for to be given by posting, instead of by publication. The court or judge must be satisfied that proper notice has been given before decreeing distribution of the estate and discharging the executor or administrator. Every claim which shall have been filed as above provided, allowed by the executor or administrator, and approved by the judge, shall then, and not till then, be ranked as an acknowledged debt of the estate, to be paid in due course of administration.

The administration of the estate may be closed and distribution made at any time after the expiration of the time for the judge to act on the claims, when it shall appear to the court that all the debts of the estate, expenses and charges of administration and allowance to the family, if any, have been paid, and the estate in condition to be finally settled. The total of fees and costs of the clerk in a summary administration shall not exceed fifteen dollars. The provisions of this section shall apply only to estates of which summary administrations shall be ordered.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1469.

6128. Form of notice to creditors.

SEC. 271. The notice in this act required to be given by every executor or administrator upon his qualifying shall be in substantially the following form: "Notice to Creditors: Notice is hereby given that the undersigned has been duly appointed and qualified by the (giving the title of the court), as (executor or administrator, as the case may be) of the estate of_____, late of said county, deceased. All creditors having claims against said estate are required to file the same, with proper vouchers attached, with the clerk of the court, within three months of the first publication of this notice. Dated_____." As amended, Stats. 1899, 114.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1469.

6129. "Right of representation" defined—Posthumous children, rights of.

SEC. 272. Inheritance or succession "by right of representation" takes place when the descendants of any deceased heir take the same share or right in the estate of another person that their parents would have taken if living. Posthumous children are considered as living at the death of their parents.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1665.

6130. Estates, when escheat to state.

SEC. 273. If any person shall die, or any person who may have died, within this state, seized of any real or personal estate, and leaving no heirs, representatives, devisees or legatees capable of inheriting or holding the same, and in all cases where there is no owner of such estate capable of holding the same, such estate shall escheat to and be vested in the State of Nevada.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1269.

See Estate of Sticknoth, 7 Nev. 223, 238.

6131. Idem—Duty of attorney-general—Information to file—Citation to issue.

SEC. 274. Whenever the attorney-general shall be informed, or shall have reason to believe, that any real or personal estate has become escheatable to this state for the reasons specified in the preceding section, or that any such estate has for any other reason become escheatable, it shall be his duty to file an information in behalf of the state in the district court of the county wherein such estate, or any part thereof, is situated, setting forth a description of the estate, the name of the person last lawfully seized, the name of the terre-tenant and persons claiming such estate, if known, and the facts and circumstances in consequence of which said estate is claimed to have become escheated, and alleging that by reason thereof the State of Nevada has by law right to such estate; whereupon, such court shall order that a citation be issued, to such person or persons, bodies politic or corporate, alleged in such information to hold, possess or claim such estate, requiring them to appear and show cause why such estate should not be vested in the State of Nevada, said citation to be made returnable within the time allowed by law in other civil actions. The court may also, if deemed advisable, order the citation to be published in a newspaper published in said county (if any), and, if none, then in some other newspaper in this state.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1269.

6132. Idem—Contesting escheats—Procedure—Judgment and costs—Sale of real property—Proceeds from escheats paid into state treasury.

SEC. 275. All persons, bodies politic or corporate, named in such information as terre-tenants or claimants to such estate, may appear and plead to such proceedings, and may traverse or deny the facts stated in such information—the title of the state to the estate therein mentioned—at any time on or before the return day of the citation; and any other person claiming an interest in such estate may appear and be made a defendant, and plead as aforesaid, by motion for that purpose made in open court, within the time allowed for pleading as aforesaid; and if any person shall appear and plead as aforesaid, denying the title set up by the state, or traverse any material fact set forth in the information, or issue or issues of fact to be made up, the matter shall proceed as other civil actions on issues of fact, and a survey may be ordered as in other civil actions when the boundary is called into question; and after the issues are tried, if it shall appear from the facts that the state has a good title to the estate in the information mentioned, or any part thereof, or if no defense be made by anyone, judgment shall be rendered that the state be seized thereof, and recover costs of suit against the defendants, if any appear. Upon any judgment hereafter rendered, or that has heretofore been rendered by any court of competent jurisdiction, escheating real property to the state, on motion of the attorney-general, or on motion of any executor or administrator having charge of such estate, the court shall, or the court may, upon its own motion, make an order that said real property be sold by the sheriff of the county wherein the same is situated, at public sale, for gold coin, after giving such notice of the time and place of sale as is provided in cases of sale of property under execution; and the sheriff shall, within ten days after such sale, make a report thereof to the court, and upon the hearing of said report, the court may examine the said report and witnesses in relation to the same, and if the proceedings were unfair, or the sum bid disproportionate to the value of the property sold, or if it appear that a sum exceeding such bid at least ten per cent, exclusive of the expenses of a new sale, may be obtained, the court may vacate the sale and direct another sale to be had of which notice must be given, and the sale in all respects conducted as if no previous sale had taken place. In an offer of ten per cent more in amount than that named in the report be made to the court in writing, by a responsible person, the court may, in its discretion, accept such offer, and confirm the sale to such person, or order a new sale. If it appears to the court that the sale was legally made and fairly conducted, and that the sum bid is not disproportionate to the value of the property sold, and that a greater sum than ten per cent, exclusive of the expense of a new sale, cannot be obtained, or if the increased bid above mentioned be made and accepted by the court, the court must make an order confirming the sale, and directing the sheriff, in the name of the state, to execute to the purchaser or purchasers, a conveyance of said property sold; and conveyance shall vest in the purchaser or purchasers all of the right and title of the state therein, and the sheriff shall, out of the proceeds of such sale, pay the cost of said proceedings incurred on behalf of the state, including the expenses of making such sale, and also an attorney's fee, if additional counsel was employed in such proceedings, to be fixed by the court, not exceeding fifteen per cent on the amount of such sale, and the residue thereof shall be paid by said sheriff into the state treasury. In all proceedings to recover estates which have vested in the state by escheat, whenever the same has been sold as provided in this section, the party adjudged entitled thereto, shall be entitled to the proceeds of such sale paid into the state treasury, in lieu of the real property sold, and the court shall decree accordingly. As amended, Stats. 1905, 46.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1269.

Court may order money paid into state treasury as escheats paid back to heirs, sec. 1625.

6133. Idem—Appeal may be taken.

SEC. 276. Any party who shall have appeared to any proceedings as aforesaid, and the attorney-general, in behalf of the state, shall respectively have the same right to prosecute an appeal or writ of error upon any judgment, as aforesaid, as parties in other cases.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1269.

6134. Idem—Controller to keep account of—Proceedings to recover from state, when and how taken—Costs—Limitations—Persons under disability—Legislature may cause sale of lands.

SEC. 277. The state comptroller shall keep a just and true account of all moneys paid into the treasury, as also of all lands and personal property vested in the [e]state by escheat; and if, within ten years after any judgment escheating property to the state any person shall appear and claim any money that may have been paid into the state treasury on any real or personal property vested in the state by such judgment, such person may file a petition in the district court, at the seat of government, stating the nature of the claim, with an appropriate prayer for the relief demanded. A copy of such petition shall be served upon the attorney-general before or at the time of filing the same, who shall, within twenty days thereafter, appear in said proceeding and plead or answer to such petition; or, if the attorney-general, after examining all the facts, should become convinced that the state had no legal defense against the petition, he may, with the consent of the court, confess on behalf of the state judgment. If judgment shall not be so confessed the petition shall be considered at issue on the twentieth day after its filing, and may be heard by the court on that day or at such future day as the court may order. Upon the hearing the court shall examine into said claim and hear the allegations and proofs, from which, if the court shall find that such person is entitled to any money paid into the state treasury as aforesaid, it shall, by judgment, order and direct the state comptroller to draw his warrant in favor of such claimant upon the treasurer for the sum specified in such order, but without interest or cost to the state. If any real estate is the subject of such trial, and the court finds the claimant entitled to it, the court shall decree accordingly, which shall be effectual for divesting the interests of the state in or to such real estate, but no costs shall be taxed against the state. A certified copy of the judgment and order directing the comptroller to draw his warrant for money, shall be a sufficient voucher for him so to do. All persons who shall fail to appear and file their petitions within the time limited as aforesaid, shall be forever barred, saving, however, infants, married women, persons of unsound mind, and persons beyond the limits of the United States the right to appear and file their petition as aforesaid, at any time within five years after their respective disabilities shall be removed. The legislature may cause any lands, escheated to the state, or personal estate, other than money, at any time after the judgment of escheatal, to be sold as may be provided by law, and the proceeds paid into the state treasury, in which case the petitioners shall be entitled to the proceeds thereof, in lieu of such lands or personal estate, and the court shall decree accordingly.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1272.

See sec. 1625.

6135. Idem—Receiver may be appointed pending determination of title—To give bond.

SEC. 278. The said district court, upon the filing of the information herein-before provided, upon the motion of the attorney-general, either before or after answer, upon notice to the party or parties claiming the estate, if known, may, sufficient cause therefor being shown, appoint a receiver to take charge of the real estate or personal property, other than money, mentioned in such information, and receive the rents and profits of the same until the title of such property shall be finally settled. Such receiver shall, before entering upon his duties, execute to the State of Nevada a bond in a sum to be fixed by the court, with sureties to be approved by the judge, conditioned to faithfully perform the duties of the trust, and fully account to the party finally adjudged to be entitled to the property. Such party may maintain an action on such bond for any default or damage.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1270.

6136. Idem—Information to attorney-general—Percentage to informer—Proviso.

SEC. 279. Any person furnishing original information to the attorney-general of any property escheatable to the state, with the necessary evidence to sustain the action of the state in that behalf, shall be entitled to receive, upon the final recovery of such property, five per cent of the value of such property so recovered; provided, that the amount so recovered by the person furnishing the information shall not in the aggregate exceed the sum of twenty thousand dollars in any one case; and, provided further, that one person only shall be entitled to compensation for such service.

Kerr, C. C. P., 1269.

6137. Idem—Disposition of money.

SEC. 280. All moneys which have accrued or may hereafter accrue to the state from escheated estates shall be paid into the general fund, and, if need be, in defraying the current expenses of the government and the redemption of the comptroller's warrants.

6143. Notices to be given by clerk without order from judge.

SECTION 1. All notices required to be given by the act entitled "An act to regulate the settlement of the estates of deceased persons," approved March 23, 1897, may hereafter be given by the county clerk without an order from the judge for the same; and when so given for the time and in the manner required by law, they shall be as legal and valid as though made upon an order from such judge.

6144. Objections filed with clerk—Time of hearing.

SEC. 2. If the court is not in session at the time set for the hearing of any matter concerning the settlement of the estates of deceased persons, any one opposing the application therein made may file objections thereto with the clerk, and thereafter the matter shall be heard upon the first day when the court is in session, unless such hearing is continued to some future day.

Approved March 22, 1911. 316

6146. Property of estate may be mortgaged, when and how.

SECTION 1. In all cases in the settlement of the estates of deceased persons, the court or judge may, on a petition setting forth facts showing the advisability, and upon notice the same as on petition for the sale of real property, and on sufficient proof, make an order authorizing the mortgaging of real or personal property belonging to the estate, by the executor or administrator.

See sec. 5985, et seq., for sales of real property.

An Act to facilitate the execution of deeds and conveyances of property of persons who are bound by bond or contract to convey real estate or transfer personal property, but who die before making the conveyance or transfer, authorizing the district court having jurisdiction over the estate to decree that the executor or administrator complete the execution of the contract.

Approved March 22, 1911. 315

6147. Executors may complete contract of decedent in conveying property.

SECTION 1. If any deceased person was, at the time of his death, a party to a bond or contract in writing for a deed for a sale and conveyance of real estate, or personal property, his interest in said property may be conveyed by his executor or administrator, upon full compliance of the terms and conditions of such bond or contract by the other parties thereto, and a deed of conveyance so made shall transfer the same title as though made by such deceased if alive. Such conveyance shall be made upon report to the district court of the county in which the estate of such deceased person is being administered, showing that all the terms and conditions of said bond or contract have been met, and if satisfied therewith, said district court shall thereupon make an order authorizing and directing the execution of requisite deed or transfer to the proper parties.

6148. Present cases included.

SEC. 2. This act shall affect estates of deceased persons now being probated.

6149. Guardians of minors may be appointed.

SECTION 1. When necessary or convenient, guardians of the person and estate or either, of minors, who are inhabitants of, or reside in the county wherein application may be made; or minors who being now residents of the state, have any estate in such county, may be appointed as herein provided.

Guardians ad litem, how appointed, sec. 4993.
See secs. 4992, 4995, 4996.
See juvenile court law, secs. 728–756.

In guardianship matters where the judgment of the district court is collaterally attacked, the jurisdiction of the court is conclusively presumed, and evidence to the contrary is not admissible. Deegan v. Deegan, 22 Nev. 186, 197 (58 A. S. 742, 37 P. 360).

The judgment of the district court on matters concerning persons or estates of minors cannot be successfully resisted until overruled or modified by some proceeding impeaching it. Idem.

Such judgments are conclusive not only against the guardian himself, but also against the sureties on his guardianship bond; whatever binds and concludes the guardian equally binds and concludes his sureties. Idem.

6150. Idem—Petition to be filed in relation to—Notice, how given—Petition and notice not required when guardian named in will.

SEC. 2. To secure the appointment of a guardian, any relative of or any person interested in or befriending a minor, may file in the clerk's office of the district court of the proper county a petition setting forth the necessary facts, and praying for the appointment of some designated person or persons as guardian or guardians. Upon such petition being filed, the clerk shall give notice of the hearing thereof by posting in three public places in the county, one of which shall be at the front door of the court house thereof, a notice containing the name or names of the minor or minors, the party petitioning, the object, and the time and place for the hearing, which shall not be later than ten days after such posting. The party petitioning shall also cause notice to be served upon any person in whose custody or care such minor or minors may be; provided, if any person shall be nominated guardian by will, the court may, on the probate of such will, or at any time thereafter, appoint such person or persons guardian without any petition or notice.

See sec. 5376.

In the appointment of a guardian the interest of the minor is the paramount consideration. The parental request is entitled to great weight and ought to prevail unless good reason to the contrary be shown. Padenhoof v. Johnson, 11 Nev. 87, 89.

The district judge has no authority to appoint any person guardian of the person or estate of a minor except upon a written petition in his behalf and after notice of his application. Idem.

The appointment of a stranger as guardian of the person and estate of an infant within three days after petition and without notice to the infant's relatives or the persons having its custody, is gravely irregular. In re Winkleman, 9 Nev. 303.

The provisions of the old probate law that letters of administration shall issue to the guardian of a minor, instead of to the minor himself, refers to a guardian appointed in this state and not the one appointed in some other state. Estate of Nickals, 21 Nev. 462, 465, 466 (34 P. 250).

Except as a matter of comity, in exceptional cases, a guardian of a minor appointed in one state is not recognized as such in another state. Idem.

6151. Idem—Hearing—Appointment—Minor may nominate, when.

SEC. 3. At the time fixed in the notice for the hearing, or at such other time to which the hearing may be continued, upon proof of the proper notices having been posted and served, the court may hear the petition and appoint a guardian or guardians. If a minor is above the age of fourteen years, he or she may nominate his or her own guardian, who, if approved by the judge, shall be appointed accordingly, but if the guardian so nominated by the minor should not be approved by the judge, or if the minor shall reside out of the state or is not fourteen years of age, the judge may nominate and appoint the guardian.

6152. Idem—Minor arriving at age of fourteen may nominate—Judge to approve.

SEC. 4. When a guardian of a minor under the age of fourteen years has been appointed by the judge, such minor, at any time after attaining to said age, may nominate his or her guardian who, if approved by the judge, shall be appointed.

6153. Idem—Father or mother entitled to, when.

SEC. 5. The father, if living, and in case of his decease, the mother, being each competent to transact his or her own business, and not otherwise unsuitable, shall be entitled to the guardianship of the minor.

6154. Idem—Powers and duties of guardian—Lawful age.

SEC. 6. Every guardian appointed as aforesaid, shall have the custody and tuition of the minor, and the care and management of the estate, of which appointed, until such minor shall attain to the age of twenty-one years, if a male, or eighteen years, if a female, unless sooner discharged according to law.

6155. Idem—Bond to be given—Sureties—Conditions of bond.

SEC. 7. Before the order appointing any person guardian under this act shall take effect, and before letters shall issue, the person or persons so appointed shall take and subscribe the official oath, to be endorsed on the letters, and shall give bond to the minor or minors in such sum as the court may order, with at least two sufficient sureties to be approved by the court or judge, and conditioned that the guardian shall faithfully execute the duties of his or her trust according to law; and the following conditions shall be deemed to form a part of such bond without being expressed therein:

First—To make a full and true inventory of all the estate, real and personal, of the ward, and have the same appraised by three disinterested persons, to be appointed by the court or judge, and to return and file in the clerk's office, within twenty days after qualifying, such inventory and appraisement under oath.

Second—To manage all such estate according to law and for the best interest of the ward, and to discharge faithfully his or her trust in relation thereto, and also in relation to the care, custody and education of the ward.

Third—To render under oath a true account of the property, estate and moneys of the ward, and all proceeds or interest derived therefrom, and of the management and disposition of the same, within one year after appointment, and annually thereafter, and at such other time as the court may direct.

Fourth—At the expiration of his trust, to settle his or her final account with the court or with the ward if of legal age, or his or her legal representative, and to pay over all moneys, and deliver all the estate and effects remaining in his or her hands or justly chargeable to the guardian on such settlement, to the person or persons lawfully entitled thereto.

Upon filing such bonds duly approved by the district judge, and taking the oath of office as aforesaid, the clerk shall issue letters of guardianship to the person or persons appointed. Letters of guardianship may be substantially in the following form:

(After properly entitling court and cause.) Whereas, by order of said court herein made and entered on the_____day of_____, 1____, _____ _____was (or were, as the case may be) appointed guardian of the (person and estate, or either, as the case may be) of_____, minor; and, whereas, the said_____has (or have, as the case may be) duly qualified according to law, these letters are hereby issued to_____, as such guardian. Witness my hand and the seal of said court, this_____ day of_____. _____, Clerk.

Provided, if a person is appointed in a will to be guardian without bonds, the court may direct letters to issue to such on taking and subscribing the oath of office.

Sections 8 and 32 of former act (Stats. 1861, 256) were cited in connection with the following:

A ward, on attaining his majority, brought suit against his guardian and the sureties on his general bond to recover moneys received by the guardian on sale of the ward's real estate, and not accounted for. It was held that the suit could not be maintained on the general bond, for the reason that the sale of real estate was not one of the general duties of a guardian, and that therefore a nonsuit was properly granted. Henderson v. Coover, 4 Nev. 429, 433, 434.

The general duties of a guardian do not include the sale of a ward's real estate, and he has no right to sell such real estate except upon special license from the court, and no valid sale can take place until a special bond for the faithful application of the proceeds is given, and for such faithful application the sureties on the special bond only, and not those on the general bond, are bound. Idem.

Though the general bond of a guardian is conditioned for the payment and delivery by him of "all the estate, moneys and effects remaining in his hands or due from him on final settlement," it does not make the sureties responsible for the misapplication of moneys arising from the sale of real estate, for the reason that the sale and application of the proceeds of real estate are not general duties of a guardian. Idem.

There is wisdom in the rule, and it is of the highest importance, that a guardian's bond, though inartistically drawn or slightly defective, is to be held sufficient to bind the obligors. The law regards not the form but the substance of such an obligation. Deegan v. Deegan, 22 Nev. 185 (57 A. S. 742, 37 P. 360).

Where a guardian of several minors gives but one bond, the sureties cannot escape liability in an action on a bond, on the ground that it is not such a bond as the law requires, in that it is joint instead of several as to the obligees, nor on the ground that the action is brought by only one of the obligees. Idem.

If a guardian converts the funds of his ward to his own use, there is a breach of his duty as guardian, and consequently a breach as to the condition of his bond, for which the sureties are liable. Idem.

6156. Idem—Insufficiency of bond—Procedure to determine—Service.

SEC. 8. Whenever any guardian's bond shall become insufficient by reason of the death, insolvency or removal from the state of any surety or sureties, it shall be the duty of the guardian to give further security, and he may be ordered by the court to do so within a given time, whenever the court shall be satisfied the bond has become insufficient. To this end, whenever the district judge shall be satisfied that the matter requires investigation he shall direct the clerk to issue a citation to the guardian, requiring him or her to appear at a given time and place, to be therein specified, to show cause why he or she should not give further security. Such citation shall be served personally on the guardian by the sheriff or any other citizen of the United States over twenty-one years of age, at least five days before the return day thereof; provided, if the guardian shall have absconded, or cannot be found, it may be served by leaving a copy thereof at his or her last place of abode.

6157. Idem—District judge to investigate—Further security required.

SEC. 9. At the time designated, or at such other time as the judge may appoint, he shall proceed, on proof of service of citation, to investigate the sufficiency of the bond of such guardian, and if satisfied that the security is from any cause insufficient, he may, by order, require the guardian to give further security or file a new bond within a reasonable time.

6158. Idem—Neglect to comply with order, cause for revocation of letters.

SEC. 10. If the guardian shall neglect to comply with the order within the time prescribed, the judge shall by order revoke his or her letters, and his or her authority shall thereupon cease.

6159. Idem—Removal for incapacity or mismanagement—Citation and hearing—May suspend pending judgment.

SEC. 11. Any person may file a petition under oath, for the removal of a guardian by reason of incapacity, or that the guardian is mismanaging or wasting the estate, or that the best interests of the ward require it, and upon filing such petition a citation shall issue and be served as provided in section 8 of this act, and until the same can be heard and determined the court or judge may suspend the guardian, and on the hearing enter such judgment and order as the facts may warrant.

6160. Education and maintenance—Minor's estate may be applied to, when.

SEC. 12. If any minor who has a father living has property, the income of which is sufficient for his maintenance and education in a manner more expensive than the father can reasonably afford, regard being had to the situation of the father's family and to all the circumstances of the case, the expenses of the education and maintenance of such minor may be defrayed, in whole or in part, out of the income of such property as shall be judged reasonable and directed by the district court; and the charges therefor shall be allowed the guardian of such minor in the settlement of his accounts.

6161. Guardian pendente lite—Next friend may sue or defend for—Power to appoint by will.

SEC. 13. Nothing contained in this act shall affect or impair the power of the court to appoint a guardian to defend the interest of any minor, in any suit or matter pending therein, or to appoint or allow any person as the next friend of a minor to commence and prosecute any suit in behalf of a minor; nor impair the right of the father, or in case of his decease or divorce, the mother, of any minor child, to appoint by last will and testament, a guardian or guardians of such child, whether born before or after the time of making such will.

Guardian ad litem, how appointed, see sec. 4993.

In an action for damages for malicious prosecution, the suit was properly brought in the name of his mother and guardian. Ricord v. C. P. R. R. Co., 15 Nev. 167.

6162. Petition to be filed in relation to insane or other incompetent person—Citation and procedure.

SEC. 14. Any relative or friend of any insane person, or of any person, who, by reason of extreme old age, or for any other cause, is mentally incompetent to manage his or her property, may present a petition, under oath, setting out the necessary facts, to the district judge, praying that a guardian for the person and estate, or either, be appointed. Such judge shall direct the clerk to issue a citation, requiring such supposed insane or incompetent person to be and appear at a time and place to be therein specified to show cause why a guardian should not be appointed. Such citation shall be served as provided in section 8 of this act, on such person, and also on such person, with whom or in whose custody, such insane or incompetent may be, not less than five days before the return day thereof; and if able to attend, the judge shall cause such insane or incompetent person to be produced before him on the hearing.

See sec. 4992.

6163. Idem—District judge to appoint.

SEC. 15. If, after a full hearing and examination upon such petition, it shall appear to the district judge that the person in question is incapable of taking care of himself or herself, and managing his or her property, he shall appoint a guardian of the person and estate or either, of such person.

6164. Idem—Power of guardian—Qualifications—Bond.

SEC. 16. Every guardian appointed under the provisions of the preceding section shall have the care and custody of the person or estate of the ward, until such guardian shall be discharged according to law; and he shall give bond and qualify in like manner and with like conditions as hereinbefore prescribed with respect to the guardian of a minor.

See secs. 4992, 4995, 4996, 5571.

6165. Guardians generally—Payment of debts—Sale or mortgage of property—Notice and hearing.

SEC. 17. Every guardian appointed under the provisions of this act, whether for a minor or any other person, shall pay all just debts due from the ward out of the personal estate and the income from the real estate of the ward, if sufficient, and if not, then from the proceeds of a sale of the personal or real estate, upon obtaining an order for such sale according to law; provided, that if, upon petition of the guardian, it shall appear for the best interest of the ward to mortgage any of his real estate, instead of making a sale of any of his property, the court may authorize the guardian to execute such a mortgage upon such terms and conditions as the court shall deem prudent, upon the guardian filing a bond in favor of the ward in such sum as the court shall fix, to be approved by the court or a judge thereof; and notice of the petition and hearing shall be given as prescribed by sections 25 and 26 of this act. As amended, Stats. 1911, 71.

See secs. 5571, 6195.

6166. Idem—Management of estate—Application of income—Sales and partition.

SEC. 18. Every guardian shall manage the estate of his or her ward frugally and without unreasonable waste, and apply the income and profits thereof, as far as may be necessary, for the comfortable and suitable maintenance, support and education of the ward, and if such income and profits be insufficient for such purposes, the guardian may sell the personal or real estate upon obtaining an order therefor, as provided by law for such purpose. A guardian may join in and assent to a partition of the real estate of the ward in the cases and in the manner provided by law.

6167. Idem—To settle or compound all accounts—Legal proceedings.

SEC. 19. Every guardian shall settle all accounts of the ward, and demand, sue for and receive all and every debt or property due the ward; or may, with the consent of the district judge, compound for the same and give a discharge to the debtors on receiving a fair and just dividend of his or her estate and effects; and he shall appear for and represent his ward in all legal proceedings, unless when another person shall be appointed for that purpose as guardian ad litem, or next friend.

6168. Idem—Inventory to be returned—Accounts—Law of estates to apply.

SEC. 20. Every guardian shall return to the district court an inventory of the estate of his or her ward within twenty days after his or her qualification, and annually, or at such other times as the court may order, present to and have settled by said court his account as guardian, and shall return to said court additional inventories whenever any further property belonging to the ward not included in any previous inventory shall come to his hands or knowledge. If there be no estate he shall return that fact. The provisions of law regulating the settlement of the estates of deceased persons regarding inventories shall apply to the inventories herein required in all respects, except as to the time of filing.

For inventory, see secs. 5942–5945, 6025.

6169. Idem—Insufficiency of income to maintain—Sale of property.

SEC. 21. When the income of the estate of any person under guardianship shall not be sufficient to maintain the ward and his or her family, if any, or to educate his or her family, or the ward, if a minor, the guardian may sell the personal or real estate of the ward, or such portion as may be necessary for such purpose, upon obtaining an order therefor and proceeding therein as in this act provided.

6170. Idem—Sale of realty for investment for benefit of ward.

SEC. 22. Whenever it shall be made to appear that it would be for the benefit of the ward that his or her real estate, or some portion thereof, should be sold in order that the proceeds thereof may be put out at interest, or invested in some productive security, or in the improvement or security of other real estate of the ward, or to be reinvested in other real estate, the same may be sold as in this act provided.

6171. Idem—Proceeds of sales generally, how may be applied.

SEC. 23. If the estate shall be sold for maintenance or education, the guardian shall apply the proceeds of the sale to such purposes, so far as necessary, and shall put out the residue, if any, at interest or invest it to the best advantage, under the direction of the court, until the capital may be required for the maintenance of the ward and his or her family, or the education of the family, if any, or for the education of the ward, if a minor, in which case the capital may be used as far as necessary for such purpose.

See sec. 5571.

6172. Idem—Proceeds invested to the best advantage—Judge to approve.

SEC. 24. If the estate be sold for the purpose of putting out the proceeds on interest, or investing, or reinvesting the same as in this act provided, the guardian shall, with the approval of the district judge, so dispose of such proceeds to the best advantage possible.

6173. Idem—Petition for order of sale to be filed—Citation to issue.

SEC. 25. To obtain an order for the sale of a ward's estate, or any part thereof, the guardian must file in the clerk's office of the district court having jurisdiction, a petition therefor, setting forth the condition of the estate of the ward with the facts and circumstances on which the petition is founded, tending to show the necessity or expediency of a sale, which petition shall be verified by the oath of the petitioner, whereupon the clerk shall issue a citation to the next of kin to the ward, if any, in the county, and to all persons interested in the estate who may be in the county, to appear before the court at a time and place therein to be specified, not less than twenty days after the date of the citation, to show cause why an order for the sale of such estate should not be granted.

6174. Idem—Citation, upon whom served—Court may order publication.

SEC. 26. The citation shall be served personally on the next of kin and all persons interested in the estate within the county at least ten days before the return day thereof, or, if thought advisable, the court instead may order the service of the citation to be made by the publication thereof, for fifteen days before the return day, in some newspaper in the county, but if there be no newspaper in the county, then in such newspaper as the court or judge may designate.

6175. Idem—Hearing—Who may object to order.

SEC. 27. At the time designated in the citation, or at such other time as the hearing may be adjourned to, upon proof of the due service or publication of the citation, the court shall proceed to hear the petition and any objections that may be made to such sale. Any person may object to an order being made to sell a ward's estate.

6176. Idem—Examination of guardian—Process for witnesses.

SEC. 28. On such hearing the guardian may be examined under oath and witnesses may be produced and examined by any party, and process to compel their attendance and testimony may issue as in other cases and with like effect.

6177. Idem—In case of objection, costs may be imposed.

SEC. 29. If any person shall appear and object to the granting of the order prayed for, and it shall appear to the court that either the petition or the objection thereto is unreasonable, the court may in its discretion award costs to the party prevailing and enforce the payment thereof.

6178. Idem—Order of sale, what to specify—Notice of sale, when posting sufficient.

SEC. 30. If, after a full examination, it shall appear to the court either that it is necessary or would be for the benefit of the ward, for any purpose mentioned in sections 21 and 22 of this act, that his or her real estate or some part of it should be sold, such court may grant an order therefor, specifying therein whether necessary or proper and the object for which made. The order may also direct the sale to be at public auction or private sale upon like proceedings and in the manner as prescribed by law in case of the sale of real estate by an executor or administrator, and subject to the same proceedings in relation to the report, confirmation or rejection of the sale, or resale thereof; provided, that where the property ordered sold shall have been valued in the inventory at less than five hundred dollars, it shall be in the discretion of the court to order the notice of sale thereof to be given by posting only. As amended, Stats. 1903, 211.

6179. Idem—Additional bond to be given.

SEC. 31. Every guardian authorized to sell real estate as aforesaid, shall before the sale give an additional bond to the ward, in an amount to be fixed by the court or judge, with sufficient security, to be approved by the judge, and conditioned to sell the property as prescribed by law and to account for and dispose of the proceeds of the sale in the manner provided by law.

See Henderson v. Coover, under sec. 7 of this act.

6180. Idem—Proceeds of sale or money on hand, how invested—Notice, hearing and order.

SEC. 32. The district court, on the application of a guardian, or of any other person interested in the welfare of the ward, after such notice to the next of kin and all persons interested therein as the judge shall direct, may authorize and require the guardian to invest the proceeds of sales, and also any other money in his hands, in real estate, or in any other manner as in this act provided; and the district court may make such further orders and give such directions as the case may require for managing, investing and disposing of the estate and effects in the hands of the guardian.

See Henderson v. Coover, under sec. 7 of this act.

6181. Removal or resignation of guardian—Causes for removal—Appointment of successor.

SEC. 33. Whenever any guardian, either testamentary or otherwise, appointed under this act, shall become insane, remove from the state, or otherwise become incapable of discharging the trust, or evidently unsuitable therefor, or shall have wasted or mismanaged the estate, the district judge, after notice served as hereinbefore provided for service of citation, may remove him or her; and every guardian may, upon request, be allowed to resign his or her trust, when it shall appear to the district judge proper to allow the same, and proper accounts have been settled and allowed. And upon every such resignation or removal, or upon the death of any guardian, the court or judge may appoint another.

After a guardian has been duly cited to account, the court has jurisdiction to remove him for failure to do so without further notice. Deegan v. Deegan, 22 Nev. 186, 197 (58 A. S. 742, 37 P. 360).

6182. When discharged.

SEC. 34. The guardian of any person may be discharged by the district court or judge when upon the application of the ward or otherwise, it shall appear that such guardianship is no longer necessary.

6183. When a new bond shall be required—Discharge of sureties.

SEC. 35. The district judge may require a new bond to be given by any guardian whenever he shall deem it necessary, and may discharge the existing sureties from further liability, after due notice given as such judge may direct, when it shall appear that no injury can result therefrom to the estate, or any one interested therein.

6184. Form of bond—Where filed—Liability of parties to proceedings in action in behalf of ward.

SEC. 36. Every bond given by a guardian may be to one or more wards and shall be filed and preserved in the office of the clerk of the district court of the county; and in case of the breach of any condition thereof, an action may be maintained therefor in behalf of the ward, or wards jointly, if all are interested, or of any person interested in the estate, and shall not be void on the first recovery; and if the action is in behalf of one ward on a bond given to more than one, the others mentioned in the bond need not be united in or made parties to such action.

6185. Action against sureties to be commenced within three years after discharge—Disability, effect of.

SEC. 37. No action shall be maintained against the sureties in any bond given by a guardian unless it be commenced in three years from the time when the guardian shall have been discharged; provided, if at the time of such discharge the person entitled to bring such action shall be under any legal disability to sue, the action may be brought at any time within three years after such disability shall be removed.

6186. Examination upon charge of fraud—Complaint and proceedings.

SEC. 38. Upon complaint made to the district judge by any guardian, ward, creditor of, or any other person interested in the ward or his or her estate, against any one, charging such an one with having concealed, converted, having in possession or conveyed away any of the money, goods or effects of, or any instrument in writing belonging to the ward, the judge may cause such person by citation to appear before him for examination, and proceed in the same manner as is provided with respect to persons suspected of concealing, converting or conveying away the effects of a deceased person.

See sec. 6024.

6187. Letters of guardianship for nonresident minor—Bond—Guardian in other state—Proof.

SEC. 39. When any minor, or other person liable to be placed under guardianship, according to the provisions of this act, shall reside out of this state, and shall have estate therein, any friend of such person, or anyone interested in his or her estate, in expectancy or otherwise, may apply to the district court of any county in which there may be any estate of such absent person in expectancy or otherwise for letters of guardianship of such estate, as in case of a resident ward, and the court may proceed in like manner and appoint a guardian. If a guardian of the estate of such absent person has been appointed in the state of his or her residence by a court there having jurisdiction, said guardian may be appointed as such guardian in this state upon giving a bond and qualifying as prescribed by section 7 of this act, and no citation need be issued or served. In such case the production of duly authenticated copies of the order appointing guardian and of the letters of guardianship shall be prima facie proof of the necessity of the appointment of such guardian in this state. As amended, Stats. 1911, 72.

See secs. 6198–6201.

6188. Idem—Powers and duties alike.

SEC. 40. Every guardian appointed under the provisions of the preceding section shall have the same power and perform the same duties with respect to any estate of the ward that may be found within this state, and also with respect to the person of the ward if he or she shall come to reside therein, as are prescribed with respect to any other guardian appointed under this act.

6189. Idem—Bond and qualification—Duties.

SEC. 41. Every such guardian shall give bond to the ward and qualify in the same manner and with like conditions as hereinbefore provided with respect to other guardians, excepting that the provisions repecting the inventory, disposal of the estate and effects, and the accounts to be rendered by the guardian shall be confined to such estate and such effects as shall come to his hands in this state.

6190. Guardianship, first granted—Exclusive powers—Jurisdiction.

SEC. 42. The guardianship, which shall be first lawfully granted of the estate of any person residing without this state shall extend to all the estate of the ward within this state, and shall include the jurisdiction of every other district court.

6191. Expenses allowed—Reasonable compensation.

SEC. 43. Every guardian shall be allowed his or her reasonable expenses incurred in the execution of his or her trust, and shall also have such other compensation for his or her services as the court in which the accounts are settled shall allow as just and reasonable.

6192. Joint guardians.

SEC. 44. The court in its discretion may appoint more than one guardian of any person or estate subject to guardianship.

6193. Idem—Form of bond.

SEC. 45. Joint guardians may unite in a bond to the ward or wards, or each may give a separate bond.

6194. Idem—Account—Oath of one.

SEC. 46. When an account shall be rendered by two or more joint guardians, the district court or judge may allow the same upon the oath of any one of them.

6195. Sales of realty—Credit may be allowed.

SEC. 47. All sales of real estate of minor heirs, made in accordance with the provisions of this act, shall be for cash or on credit, or part cash and part on credit, as in the discretion of the court or judge may be most beneficial for such heirs. When credit is given, the court or judge shall fix the credit, and the purchaser or purchasers shall execute and deliver to the guardian or guardians promissory notes for deferred payments, bearing interest and secured by mortgage on the real estate sold, with such additional security as the judge may deem necessary and sufficient to secure the payment of the deferred payments, and the interest thereon.

6196. Fees of clerk, limitation on.

SEC. 48. The total fees and charges of the clerk where any estate in guardianship shall not exceed in value two thousand dollars, shall not exceed fifteen dollars.

6197. Acts repealed—Saving clause.

SEC. 49. An act entitled "An act to provide for the appointment and prescribe the duties of guardians," approved November 29, 1861 [p. 255], and all acts and parts of acts amendatory thereof, or supplementary thereto, are hereby repealed, saving the rights in matters of guardianship pending at the date of the approval of this act to proceed with and close up such guardianship under the law existing at the institution of such proceedings.

An Act supplemental to an act entitled "An act to provide for the appointment of guardians and to prescribe their duties," approved March 11, 1899.

Approved March 12, 1901, 54

6198. Nonresident guardian of nonresident ward may remove property out of state upon application.

SECTION 1. If a ward be a nonresident of this state, and entitled to property in this state, and have a guardian by authority of the laws of any state, territory or possession of the United States, or of a foreign country in which such ward resides, such property may be removed to such state or territory or possession or foreign country in which such ward resides upon the application of such guardian to the district court of this state in the county in which the property of such ward, or any part of such property, is situated.

See sec. 6187.

6199. Idem—Notice and showing.

SEC. 2. The application must be made upon ten days' notice to the resident executor, administrator or guardian, if there be such, and upon such application the nonresident guardian must produce and file a certificate under the hand of the clerk and seal of the court from which his appointment was derived, showing:

First—A transcript of the record of his appointment.

Second—That he has entered upon the discharge of his duties.

Third—That he is entitled by the laws of the state, territory, possession or country of his appointment to the possession of the estate of his ward, or must produce and file a certificate, under the hand and seal of the clerk of the court having jurisdiction in the country of his residence, of the estates of persons under guardianship, or of the highest court of such country, attested by a minister, consul or any consular officer of the United States resident in such country, that by the laws of such country the applicant is entitled to the custody of the estate of his ward without the appointment of any court.

6200. Idem—Discretion of court—Order granting authority to recover property.

SEC. 3. Upon such application, unless good cause to the contrary is shown, the court may in its discretion, upon satisfactory proof that the interests of such ward are fully protected by sufficient security, in the place of residence of such foreign guardian, make an order granting to such guardian leave to take and remove the property of his ward to the state or place of his residence, which is authority to him to sue for and receive the same in his own name for the use and benefit of his ward.

6201. Idem—Order—Discharge of local guardian—Receipt to file.

SEC. 4. Such order is a discharge of the executor, administrator, local guardian, or other person in whose possession the property may be at the time the order is made, on filing with the court the receipt therefor of the foreign guardian of such absent ward; said receipt shall be recorded in the records of said court, and the court shall make an order discharging said executor, administrator or local guardian from all further duties and responsibilities as such executor, administrator or guardian, and that his letters of administration or guardianship are vacated, and that the sureties upon the bond of such executor, administrator or local guardian are released from any liability thereafter incurred.

6209. Revocation of wills, how affected—When implied.
6210. Second wills, cancelation of, does not revive first—Exception.
6211. Effect of marriage on wills—When deemed revoked.
6212. Idem.
6213. Subsequent bond, covenant or agreement to convey property bequeathed, not a revocation—Remedy.
6214. Mortgage not a revocation—Effect of.
6215. Children born after wills made to share—Exception.
6216. Children or issue of, unprovided for, to share—Exception.
6217. After-born or omitted children, how provided for.
6218. Advancement, effect of.
6219. Descendants of devisee inherit share of devisee.
6220. Devise of land, how construed.
6221. After-acquired property, how considered.
6222. Will defined—To include codicils.

6202. Who may make wills—Subject to testator's debts.

SECTION 1. Every person over the age of eighteen years, of sound mind, may, by last will, dispose of all his or her estate, real and personal, the same being chargeable with the payment of the testator's debts.

Evidence held to show that a testatrix was mentally incompetent to execute a will, and that in making her will she acted under undue influence. Abel v. Hitt, 30 Nev. 93 (93 P. 227).

6203. Wills of married women—Separate estate—General provisions control.

SEC. 2. Any married woman may dispose of all her separate estate by will, absolutely, without the consent of her husband, either express or implied, and may alter or revoke the same in like manner as a person under no disability may do. Her will must be attested, witnessed, and proved in like manner as all other wills. As amended, Stats. 1873, 102.

6204. Requisites of valid wills—Nuncupative, exception.

SEC. 3. No will, except such nuncupative wills as are mentioned in this act, shall be valid unless it be in writing, and signed by the testator, and sealed with his seal, or by some person in his presence, and by his express direction, and attested by at least two competent witnesses, subscribing their names to the will in the presence of the testator.

Attesting witnesses to a will are not required for the purpose of protecting the contingent and possible right of property in the state by way of escheat; but to prevent the setting up of fictitious wills against heirs and representatives. Estate of Sticknoth, 7 Nev. 223.

A special act (Stats. 1871, 129) was passed validating the will considered in above case, but such acts are now expressly prohibited by Const., sec. 278, ante.

Though the statute contains an absurd and novel requirement that a will should be sealed, it is unnecessary to make mention of the seal in the instrument, nor is it necessary, if by the act of sealing the condition imposed by the statute is performed, that the seal should remain. Idem.

6205. Provisions in favor of subscribing witnesses, when void.

SEC. 4. All beneficial devises, legacies, and gifts, whatsoever, made or given in any will to a subscribing witness thereto, shall be void, unless there are two other competent subscribing witnesses to the same; but a mere charge on the estate of the testator for the payment of debts shall not prevent his creditors from being competent witnesses to his will.

6206. Nuncupative wills limited to estates of $1,000—Witnesses—Proof.

SEC. 5. No nuncupative or verbal will shall be good where the estate bequeathed exceeds the value of one thousand dollars, nor unless the same be proved by two witnesses who were present at the making thereof, nor unless it be proved that the testator, at the time of pronouncing the same, did bid some one present to bear witness that such was his will, or words of like import, nor unless such nuncupative will was made at the time of the last sickness of the deceased.

6207. Idem—Proof within three months.

SEC. 6. No proof shall be received of any nuncupative will unless it be offered within three months after speaking the testamentary words.

6208. Idem—Probate of, when made—Process or notice.

SEC. 7. No probate of any nuncupative will shall be granted for fourteen days after the death of the testator, nor shall any nuncupative will be at any time proved unless the testamentary words, or the substance thereof, be first committed to writing by the probate judge, and process be issued to call in the widow, should she be a resident of the territory, or other person or persons interested as heirs of the testator, residing in the territory, to contest the probate of such will, if they think proper.

6209. Revocation of wills, how effected—When implied.

SEC. 8. No will in writing shall be revoked unless by burning, tearing, canceling, or obliterating the same, with the intention of revoking it, by the testator, or by some person in his presence, or by his direction, or by some other will or codicil in writing, executed as prescribed by this act; but nothing contained in this section shall prevent the revocation implied by law from subsequent changes in the condition or circumstances of the testator.

6210. Second wills, cancelation of, does not revive first—Exception.

SEC. 9. If, after the making of any will, the testator shall duly make and execute a second will, the destruction, canceling, or revocation of such second will shall not revive the first will, unless it appear by the terms of such revocation that it was the intention to revive and give effect to the first will, or unless, after such destruction, canceling or revocation the first will shall be duly reexecuted.

6211. Effect of marriage on wills—When deemed revoked.

SEC. 10. If, after the making of any will, the testator shall marry, and the wife shall be living at the death of the testator, such will shall be deemed revoked unless she shall be provided for in the will, or in such way mentioned therein as to show an intention not to make such provision, and no other evidence to rebut the presumption of such revocation shall be received.

6212. Idem.

SEC. 11. A will executed by an unmarried woman shall be deemed revoked on her subsequent marriage, and shall not be revived by the death of her husband.

6213. Subsequent bond, covenant or agreement to convey property bequeathed not a revocation—Remedy.

SEC. 12. A bond, covenant, or agreement, made by a testator, to convey any property devised or bequeathed in any will previously made, shall not be deemed a revocation of such previous devise or bequest, but such property shall pass by the devise or bequest, subject to the same remedies on such bond, covenant, or agreement, for the specific performance or otherwise, against the devisees or legatees, as might be had by law, against the heirs of the testator, if the same had descended to them.

6214. Mortgage not a revocation—Effect of.

SEC. 13. A charge or incumbrance upon any estate, for the purpose of securing the payment of money, or the performance of any covenant or agreement, shall not be deemed a revocation of any will relating to the same estate which was previously executed, but the devise and legacies therein contained shall pass, subject to such charge or incumbrance.

The testator, by his will, disposed of his property to his wife, "having the fullest confidence in her capacity, judgment, discretion and affection to properly bring up, educate and provide for our children, and to manage and dispose of my said property in the best manner for their interests and her own." It was held that the devisee took the property devised as absolute owner and not upon trust. Hunt v. Hunt, 11 Nev. 442, 449.

In construing this will, the court held that the widow had the absolute right to sell and dispose of the estate at her discretion. Idem.

Above section cited, and held not to apply. Idem.

6215. Children born after wills made to share—Exception.

SEC. 14. When any child shall have been born after the making of its parent's will, and no provision shall be made for him or her therein, such child shall have the same share in the estate of the testator as if the testator had died intestate, unless it shall be apparent from the will that it was the intention of the testator that no provision should be made for such child.

6216. Children, or issue of, unprovided for to share—Exception.

SEC. 15. When any testator shall omit to provide in his or her will for any of his or her children, or for the issue of any deceased child, unless it shall appear that such omission was intentional, such child, or the issue of such child, shall have the same share in the estate of the testator as if he or she had died intestate.

6217. After-born or omitted children, how provided for.

SEC. 16. When any share of the estate of a testator shall be assigned to a child born after the making of a will, or to a child or the issue of a child omitted in the will, as hereinbefore mentioned, the same shall first be taken from the estate not disposed of by the will, if any; if that shall not be sufficient, so much as shall be necessary shall be taken from all the devisees or legatees, in proportion to the value they may respectively receive under the will, unless the obvious intention of the testator, in relation to some specific devise or bequest or other provision in the will would thereby be defeated; in such case, such specific devise, legacy, or provision, may be exempted from such apportionment, and a different apportionment, consistent with the intention of the testator, may be adopted.

6218. Advancement, effect of.

SEC. 17. If such child or children, or their descendants, so unprovided for shall have had an equal proportion of the testator's estate bestowed upon them in the testator's lifetime, by way of advancement, they shall take nothing in virtue of the provisions of the three preceding sections.

6219. Descendants of devisee inherit share of devisee.

SEC. 18. When any estate shall be devised to any child or other relation of the testator, and the devisee shall die before the testator, leaving lineal descendants, such descendants shall take the estate so given by the will, in the same manner as the devisee would have done if he would have survived the testator.

6220. Devise of land, how construed.

SEC. 19. Every devisee of land in any will shall be construed to convey all the estate of the devisor therein which he could lawfully devise, unless it shall clearly appear by the will that he intended to convey a less estate.

6221. After-acquired property, how considered.

SEC. 20. Any estate, right, or interest in lands acquired by the testator, after the making of his or her will, shall pass thereby, in like manner as if it passed at the time of making the will, if such should manifestly appear by the will to have been the intention of the testator.

6222. Will defined—To include codicils.

SEC. 21. The term "will" as used in this act, shall be so construed as to include all codicils as well as wills.

An Act relating to holographic wills.

Approved March 20, 1895, 112

6223. Holographic wills valid.

SECTION 1. Property may be disposed of and taken under holographic wills. Such wills shall be valid and have full effect for the purpose for which they are intended.

6224. Holographic will defined—Provisions concerning.

SEC. 2. An holographic will is one that is entirely written by the hand of the testator himself. It is subject to no other form, and may be made in or out of this state and need not be witnessed.

6225. Idem—How proved.

SEC. 3. An holographic will may be proved in the same manner as other private writings are proved.

6263. Penalty for custodian disobeying or avoiding writ.
6264. Idem—Accessories.
6265. Further penalty—Imprisonment.

6226. Who may prosecute writ.

SECTION 1. Every person unlawfully committed, detained, confined, or restrained of his liberty, under any pretense whatever, may prosecute a writ of habeas corpus to inquire into the cause of such imprisonment or restraint.

Kerr, P. C., 1473.

The writ is not to be used to do the work of a writ of error or an appeal. Breckenridge v. Lamb, 34 Nev. —; Ex Parte Maxwell, 11 Nev. 428; Dimmick v. Tompkins, 194 U. S. 551.

But if the statute on which the prosecution is founded is unconstitutional, or if the undisputed facts sought to be charged against the accused do not constitute a public offense, he may be discharged by the writ. Ex Parte Rosenblatt, 19 Nev. 439; Ex Parte Boyce, 27 Nev. 29 (75 P. 1, 65 L. R. A. 47); Ex Parte Rickey, 31 Nev. 82; Ex Parte Hose, 34 Nev. — (116 P. 417); Ex Parte Smith, 33 Nev. — (111 P. 930); Ex Parte Lewis, 33 Nev. — (115 P. 729); Ex Parte Waterman, 29 Nev. 288, 11 L. R. A. (N. S.) 424.

If by reason of mistaken identity the wrong person is arrested under a warrant of extradition he may be discharged. Ex Parte Spencer, 34 Nev. — (117 P. 1).

A writ of habeas corpus cannot be used to perform the functions of an appeal or writ of error, but can only review questions going to the jurisdiction of the court to enter the particular judgment, and not as to whether the court erred in the exercise of such jurisdiction. Ex Parte Davis, 33 Nev. — (110 P. 1131).

See Ex Parte Finlen, under Const., sec. 236, ante; Ex Parte Rickey, under sec. 20 of this act.

Where, on trial for a criminal offense, the evidence without conflict shows that defendant is exempted from the penal provisions of the act, the court is without power to render a judgment of conviction. Idem.

Where the evidence without conflict establishes that the defendant belongs to a class not within a penal statute, habeas corpus is available to bring up for determination the court's jurisdiction to render judgment of conviction and to obtain defendant's discharge. Idem.

6227. Application for, what to state.

SEC. 2. Application for such writ shall be made by a petition, signed either by the party for whose relief it is intended, or by some person in his behalf, and shall specify: First—That the person in whose behalf the writ is applied for is imprisoned or restrained of his liberty; the officer or person by whom he is so confined, or restrained, and the place where, naming all the parties, if they are known, or describing them, if they are not known. Second—If the imprisonment be illegal, the petition must also state in what the alleged illegality consists. Third—The petition must be verified by the oath or affirmation of the party making the application.

Kerr, P. C., 1474.

Habeas corpus is not the proper remedy to correct errors. Ex Parte Smith, 2 Nev. 238.

A state court or judge, duly authorized by the laws of the state, may issue the writ of habeas corpus in any case where a party is imprisoned within its territorial limits, provided it does not appear when the application is made that the party imprisoned is in custody under the authority of the United States. Ex Parte Hill, 5 Nev. 154.

In every case where process regular upon its face has been issued from the United States court having power to issue process of such a nature, the officer while acting thereunder is fully protected against any interference from a state court, and such state court, when judicially informed of the existence of the process, cannot go behind the same to make any further inquiry. Ex Parte Hill, 5 Nev. 154.

The second clause of this section contemplates that the facts showing the alleged illegality should be stated. Ex Parte Deny, 10 Nev. 212, 213.

A general statement that the warrant is illegal, null and void, and that it was issued without authority of law, is a mere conclusion of law, not a statement of any fact. Idem.

Before a writ of habeas corpus is granted, sufficient probable cause must be shown to enable the court to form such judgment in a case, and if it appears from the petitioner's statement that there is no sufficient ground for his discharge, the court should not issue the writ. Idem.

Where it is sought to bring petitioner from a distant country, a writ of habeas corpus will not be made returnable before the supreme court, in the first instance, without a showing of the absence, disability or refusal of the district judge of the county to act, or other good cause why it should be heard by the supreme court, or a justice thereof. Idem.

Petitioner cannot be in the custody of two different officers at the same time; and where petitioner alleges that he is in the custody of the sheriff, but suggests to the court that the sheriff will deliver him to another officer upon receipt of the governor's requisition, the supreme court will not anticipate such arrest in order to determine the validity of the governor's warrant. Idem.

Where petitioner had been held to answer before the grand jury for the crime of murder, the grand jury had met and ignored the charge, and the court, upon sufficient cause shown, ordered that he be held to appear before the next grand jury, it was decided that petitioner was not entitled to his discharge upon a writ of habeas corpus. Ex Parte Isbell, 11 Nev. 295.

Where it appears from the facts set out in petition that there is no sufficient ground to grant the relief asked for, the writ should not be issued. Idem.

A petition for habeas corpus, which fails to state any facts from which it can be inferred that petitioner's imprisonment is illegal, is insufficient to authorize the issuance of the writ. Ex Parte Allen, 12 Nev. 87, 88.

6228. Who may grant writ—Granted at any time.

SEC. 3. Such writ of habeas corpus may be granted by any judge of the supreme or district courts, at any time in term or vacation.

Kerr, P. C., 1475.

See Ex Parte Deny, under sec. 2 of this act.

See secs. 319, 321.

6229. Granted without delay.

SEC. 4. Any judge empowered to grant a writ applied for under this act, if it appear that the writ ought to issue, shall grant the same without delay.

Kerr, P. C., 1476.

See Ex Parte Davis, under sec. 1 of this act.

6230. To whom directed and what commanded.

SEC. 5. Such writ shall be directed to the officer or party having such person in custody or under restraint, commanding him to have the body of such person, so imprisoned or detained, as it is alleged by the petition, before the judge, at such time as the judge shall direct, specifying in such writ the place where the petition will be heard, to do and receive what shall then and there be considered concerning such person, together with the time and cause of his detention, and have then and there such writ.

Kerr, P. C., 1477.

See Ex Parte Deny, under sec. 2 of this act.

6231. Clerk to deliver without delay, when.

SEC. 6. If such writ be directed to the sheriff or other ministerial officer, it shall be delivered by the clerk of the court presided over by the judge issuing said writ to such officer without delay.

Kerr, P. C., 1478.

6232. Sheriff or deputy to serve, when.

SEC. 7. If such writ be directed to any person other than is specified in the last preceding section, the same shall be delivered to the sheriff or his deputy, and shall be by him served upon such person by delivering the same to him without delay.

Kerr, P. C., 1478.

6233. Service, how made.

SEC. 8. If the officers or person to whom such writ is directed cannot be found, or shall refuse admittance to the officer or person serving or delivering such writ, the same may be served or delivered by leaving it at the residence of the officer or person to whom it is directed, or by affixing the same on some conspicuous place on the outside of his dwelling house, or the place where the party is confined or under restraint. The service of said writ is made by serving a copy and exhibiting the original, and, where posting is required, by posting a copy.

Kerr, P. C., 1478.

6234. Refusal to obey, judge to issue attachment—Court may appoint elisor to serve, when.

SEC. 9. If the officer or person to whom such writ is directed refuse, after due service as aforesaid, to obey the same, it shall be the duty of the judge, upon affidavit, to issue an attachment against such person, directed to the sheriff, or, if the sheriff be the defendant, to an elisor, appointed for the purpose by the judge, commanding him forthwith to apprehend such person and bring him immediately before such judge; and upon being so brought he shall be committed to the jail of the county until he make due return of such writ, or be otherwise legally discharged.

Kerr, P. C., 1479.

6235. Return of writ, what to be stated—When to be sworn to.

SEC. 10. The party upon whom such writ shall be duly served shall state in his return plainly and unequivocally: First—Whether he have or have not the party in custody, or under his power or restraint. Second—If he have the party in his custody or power, or under his restraint, he shall state the authority and cause of such imprisonment or restraint, setting forth the same at large. Third—If the party be detained by virtue of any writ, warrant or any other written authority, a copy thereof shall be annexed to the return, and the original shall be produced and exhibited to the judge on the hearing of such return. Fourth—If the officer or person upon whom such writ shall have been served shall have had the party in his power or custody, or under his restraint, any time prior or subsequent to the date of the writ of habeas corpus, but such officer or person has transferred such custody or restraint to another, the return shall state particularly to whom, at what time and place, for what cause, and by what authority such transfer took place. Fifth—The return must be signed by the person making the same, and, except when such person shall be a sworn public officer, and shall make such return in his official capacity, it shall be verified by his oath or affirmation.

Kerr, P. C., 1480.

This section, which prescribes what returns shall be made to the writ, does not confine the party or officer making that return (and admitting that he was the person named in the writ in his custody) to what is prescribed in either of the second or third subdivisions of the section, but his return may embrace matters embraced in both subdivisions. Ex Parte Salge, 1 Nev. 449, 452.

It is the duty of any person having the custody of a prisoner to make known by a proper return to the court or judge issuing a writ of habeas corpus to him, the authority by which he holds such person in custody; and this duty applies to a United States marshal in response to a writ from a state court or judge. Ex Parte Hill, 5 Nev. 154.

6236. Body of party in custody to be brought—Exception.

SEC. 11. If the writ of habeas corpus be served, the person or officer to whom the same is directed shall also bring the body of the party in his custody or under his restraint, according to the command of the writ, except in the cases specified in the next two sections.

Kerr, P. C., 1481.

6237. Idem—When not able to appear—Return to show.

SEC. 12. Whenever, from sickness or infirmity of the person directed to be produced by any writ of habeas corpus, such person cannot, without danger, be brought before the judge, the officer or person in whose custody or power he is, may state that fact in his return to the writ, verifying the same by affidavit.

Kerr, P. C., 1482.

6238. Idem—Hearing on absence of party—May take adjournment.

SEC. 13. If the judge be satisfied of the truth of such allegation of sickness or infirmity, and the return to the writ is otherwise sufficient, such judge may proceed to decide on such return and to dispose of the matter, as if such party had been produced on the writ, or the hearing thereof may be adjourned until such party can be produced.

Kerr, P. C., 1482.

6239. Immediate hearing on the return.

SEC. 14. The judge before whom a writ of habeas corpus shall be returned shall, immediately after the return thereof, proceed to hear and examine the return, and such other matters as may be properly submitted for his hearing and consideration.

Kerr, P. C., 1483.

6240. Traverse of return.

SEC. 15. The party brought before the judge on the return of the writ may deny or controvert any of the material facts or matters set forth in the return, or except to the sufficiency thereof, or allege any fact to show either that his imprisonment or detention is unlawful or that he is entitled to his discharge.

Kerr, P. C., 1484.

The writ of habeas corpus is not intended to have the force or operation of an appeal, writ of error or certiorari, nor is it designed as a substitute for either. Ex Parte Maxwell, 11 Nev. 429, 439.

Where there has been a legal jeopardy it is equivalent to a verdict of acquittal; and, on motion, the prisoner is entitled to his discharge; but the writ of habeas corpus will not lie. Idem.

The jurisdiction of a court or judge to render a particular judgment or sentence by which a person is imprisoned is a proper subject of inquiry on habeas corpus. Ex Parte Dela, 25 Nev. 346, 351 (83 A. S. 603, 60 P. 217).

In a proceeding on habeas corpus where it is shown by the return that the petitioner is detained by virtue of a process issued upon a judgment of a competent court of criminal jurisdiction, such showing is prima facie only of the fact, and may be attacked or impeached by the record of the action, for the purpose of showing such excess or want of jurisdiction of the court or officer rendering or issuing the same as to make its action absolutely void, and that where the record shows such excess of jurisdiction, or such want of jurisdiction, as to render the judgment or process void, the petitioner, under such showing, is entitled to his discharge. Idem.

Upon an indictment and trial for murder, and a verdict adjudging defendant guilty of rape, the court has no jurisdiction to sentence and imprison defendant for such crime of rape, since the constitution (sec. 237, ante) requires presentment and indictment for the particular offense before conviction is had, and, further, because the defendant is thereby deprived of his liberty without due process of law. Idem.

Murder is a distinct class of offense under our law. It is a generic offense. Rape is of another class, and is, also, a generic offense. Hence, the act of making all murder which shall be committed in the perpetration of arson, rape, etc., murder in the first degree, did not create a new crime, but merely made a distinction with a view of different degrees of punishment, based on different grades of crime. Idem.

Under our statute making murder committed in the perpetration of rape, arson, etc., murder in the first degree, proof that the murder was committed in the perpetration of such other offense stands in lieu of the proof of malice aforethought. Idem.

6241. Summary proceeding.

SEC. 16. Such judge shall thereupon proceed in a summary way to hear such allegation and proof as may be produced against such imprisonment or detention, or in favor of the same, and to dispose of such party as the justice of the case may require.

Kerr, P. C., 1484.

See Ex Parte Maxwell, under sec. 15 of this act.

6242. Power of judge—Witnesses.

SEC. 17. Such judge shall have full power and authority to require and compel the attendance of witnesses by process of subpena and attachment and to do and perform all other acts and things necessary to a full and fair hearing and determination of the case.

Kerr, P. C., 1489.

Cited, Ex Parte Finlen, 20 Nev. 141, 150 (18 P. 827).

A prisoner charged with a grave offense will not be discharged on habeas corpus on the ground that all efforts to obtain a competent jury at the term at which he was properly triable failed, and that no competent jury can be obtained, until it appears that all possible means of securing a jury have failed and a trial cannot be had within a reasonable time. Ex Parte Stanley, 4 Nev. 113.

If it appear that a jury cannot be procured in a criminal case at the term at which it is regularly triable, an order of indefinite postponement is irregular, but does not operate as a release of the prisoner. Idem.

A court is not authorized upon a writ of habeas corpus to inquire into the question of fact as to whether or not an indictment, regular upon its face, was ever found by the grand jury. Ex Parte Twohig, 13 Nev. 302.

A judgment of conviction in the district court, regular upon its face, is conclusive until reversed, and cannot be reviewed upon habeas corpus. Idem.

To hold a fugitive from justice to await the requisition of the governor of another state, it must affirmatively appear from the complaint filed before the committing magistrate in this state: 1. That a crime has been committed in the other state. 2. That the accused has been charged in that state with the commission of such crime. 3. That he has fled from justice, and is within this state. Ex Parte Lorraine, 16 Nev. 63.

To hold a fugitive from justice, upon the ground that the money taken by him in committing the robbery was brought into this state, there must be a complaint charging him with this offense substantially in the language of the statute. Idem.

If a prisoner is held under a legal and valid commitment, the illegality of other commitments need not be considered until his term of service under the valid commitment has expired. Ex Parte Ryan, 10 Nev. 261, 17 Nev. 139 (28 P. 1040).

Alleged errors and irregularities in the proceedings of the court cannot be reviewed on habeas corpus. Ex Parte Bergman, 18 Nev. 331 (4 P. 209).

The supreme court will review, upon habeas corpus, the question of the constitutionality of an act under which petitioner has been convicted, and if the act is unconstitutional the petitioner will be discharged. Ex Parte Rosenblatt, 19 Nev. 439 (3 A. S 901, 14 P. 298).

When an accused person is held by a judge for examination before him, under the provisions of the habeas corpus act, he is invested with such powers only as are conferred on other magistrates in matters of preliminary examinations. Ex Parte Ah Kee, 22 Nev. 374 (40 P. 879).

In order to justify a committing magistrate in holding an accused to answer to a charge, the evidence need not show guilt beyond a reasonable doubt. In re Kelly, 28 Nev. 491 (83 P. 223).

The court, on habeas corpus for the discharge of one arrested as a fugitive from justice, under an executive warrant, may examine into the sufficiency of the papers on which the warrant is based, and, if the indictment or complaint on which the requisition is made, and the executive warrant issued, is insufficient, the court will discharge the prisoner. In re Waterman, 29 Nev. 288, 11 L. R. A. (N. S.) 424, 89 P. 29.

6243. When party entitled to discharge.

SEC. 18. If no legal cause be shown for such imprisonment or restraint, or for the continuation thereof, such judge shall discharge such party from the custody or restraint under which he is held.

Kerr, P. C., 1485.

See Ex Parte Rickey, under sec. 20 of this act.

6244. When may be remanded.

SEC. 19. It shall be the duty of such judge, if the time during which such party may be legally detained in custody has not expired, to remand such party, if it shall appear that he is detained in custody by virtue of the final judgment or decree of any competent court of criminal jurisdiction, or of any process issued upon such judgment or decree, or in cases of contempt of court.

Kerr, P. C., 1486.

A person held in custody under a regular commitment of a justice of the peace will not be discharged on habeas corpus, unless it appears that the jurisdiction of the justice has been exceeded or that the commitment issued without authority of any judgment, order or decree of any court or any provision of law. Ex Parte Winston, 9 Nev. 71, 74.

A habeas corpus is not a writ of error, nor can it be used to authorize the exercise of appellate jurisdiction. Idem.

On habeas corpus, in case of a commitment under the judgment of a court, such judgment cannot be disregarded; nor will the record be looked into except to ascertain whether a judgment exists, without regard to the question whether it be right or wrong. Idem.

When it appears that petitioner was imprisoned under a final judgment of a justice of the peace, and the justice had jurisdiction of the offense charged as well as of the petitioner, it was held the petitioner must be remanded; that if error was committed on the trial the only remedy of petitioner was by appeal, and not by habeas corpus. Ex Parte Edgington, 10 Nev. 215, 217; Ex Parte Crawford, 24 Nev. 91, 92 (49 P. 1038).

A sentence against two defendants jointly on a joint verdict is not void, the court having jurisdiction, though the same may be erroneous, but whether erroneous or not cannot be determined on habeas corpus. Ex Parte Gafford, 25 Nev. 101, 104 (83 A. S. 568, 57 P. 484).

Habeas corpus proceedings cannot be used to authorize the exercise of appellate jurisdiction. Idem.

The jurisdiction of the court may be properly inquired into on habeas corpus. See Ex Parte Dela, under sec. 15 of this act.

On conviction of a felony, the sentence imposed was within the discretion vested in the district court as to the amount of the fine and the time of alternative imprisonment in the event that the fine was not paid, and was erroneous only that it declared that such alternative imprisonment should be in the state prison, whereas it should have declared the same should be in the county jail. It was held that, in habeas corpus proceedings, such direction as to the place of imprisonment might be rejected as surplusage and did not vitiate the entire sentence. Ex Parte Tani, 29 Nev. 385, 389, 13 L. R. A. (N. S.) 518, 91 P. 197.

6245. Grounds for discharge.

SEC. 20. If it appears on the return of the writ of habeas corpus that the prisoner is in custody by virtue of process from any court of this territory, or judge or officer thereof, such prisoner may be discharged, in any one of the following cases, subject to the restrictions of the last preceding section: First—When the jurisdiction of such court or officer has been exceeded. Second—When the imprisonment was at first lawful, yet by some act, omission, or event, which has taken place afterwards, the party has become entitled to be discharged. Third—When the process is defective in some matter of substance required by law, rendering such process void. Fourth—When the process, though proper in form, has been issued in a case not allowed by law. Fifth—When the person having the custody of the prisoner is not the person allowed by law to detain him. Sixth—Where the process is not authorized by any judgment, order, or decree of any court, nor by any provision of law. Seventh—Where a party has been committed on a criminal charge without reasonable or probable cause.

Kerr, P. C., 1487.

A state court or judge cannot on habeas corpus examine or decide whether a particular offense charged in an indictment, found in a United States court, is or is not an offense against the laws of the United States. Ex Parte Hill, 5 Nev. 155.

Where it appears that the petitioner is held in custody by the sheriff by virtue of a commitment, which shows that the prisoner was found guilty of a public offense, and no objection is made touching the regularity of the commitment, and the jurisdiction of the court was not questioned, it was held that whether petitioner was guilty or not was the question to be decided upon the trial, and, if erroneously decided, the remedy is by appeal (Ex Parte Edgington, 10 Nev. 215, affirmed). Ex Parte Crawford, 29 Nev. 91 (49 P. 1038).

The provision of the seventh clause of this section only applies to cases where the evidence given on the examination is insufficient to warrant the committing magistrate in holding the prisoner to answer. Ex Parte Allen, 12 Nev. 87, 88.

Petitioner cannot claim the issuance of a writ of habeas corpus for the sole purpose of impeaching the witnesses who testified against him at his examination. Idem.

Petitioner discharged under provisions of clause 4 above. Ex Parte Diedesheimer, 14 Nev. 311, 314.

See Ex Parte Winston and Ex Parte Tani, under sec. 19 of this act; Ex Parte Maxwell, under sec. 15 of this act.

There are three essential elements necessary to render conviction valid. These are that the court must have jurisdiction over the subject-matter, the person of the defendant, and authority to render the particular judgment. If either of these elements is lacking, the judgment is fatally defective and the prisoner held under such judgment may be released on habeas corpus. Ex Parte Webb, 24 Nev. 238 (51 P. 1027).

When one is imprisoned under a statute entirely void, the remedy is habeas corpus. Ex Parte Kair, 28 Nev. 127 (113 A. S. 817, 80 P. 463); Ex Parte Boyce, 27 Nev. 299 (65 L. R. A. 47, 75 P. 1).

Where accused avers that the indictment does not allege an offense and the state admits that the facts are stated therein, the court on habeas corpus must consider the question whether the indictment states an offense, and if it does not, accused must be discharged. Ex Parte Rickey, 31 Nev. 82, 89 (100 P. 134, 135 A. S. 651).

The question of the legality of impaneling a jury in a criminal case should be raised on appeal from the judgment and from an order denying a new trial, and not on habeas corpus. Ex Parte Jackman, 31 Nev. 106 (100 P. 749).

6246. Defect of form of warrant not valid ground.

SEC. 21. If any person be committed to prison, or be in custody of any officer on any criminal charge, by virtue of any warrant or commitment of a justice of the peace, such person shall not be discharged from such imprisonment or custody on the ground of any defect of form in such warrant or commitment.

Kerr, P. C., 1488.

6247. When judge may conduct reexamination—Powers under.

SEC. 22. If it shall appear to the judge, by affidavit, or upon hearing of the matter, or otherwise, or upon the inspection of the process or warrant of commitment, and such other papers in the proceedings as may be shown to such judge, that the party is guilty of a criminal offense, or ought not to be discharged, such judge, although the charge be defectively or unsubstantially set forth in such process or warrant of commitment, shall cause the complainant, or other necessary witnesses, to be subpenaed to attend at such time as shall be ordered, to testify before such judge; and upon the examination, he shall discharge such prisoner, let him to bail, if the offense be bailable, or recommit him to custody, as may be just and legal.

Kerr, P. C., 1489.

6248. May be granted for release on bail.

SEC. 23. Whenever any person may be imprisoned, or detained in custody, on any criminal charge, for want of bail, such person shall be entitled to a writ of habeas corpus, for the purpose of giving bail, upon averring that fact in his petition, without alleging that he is illegally confined.

Kerr, P. C., 1490.

6249. Idem—Recognizance, may take.

SEC. 24. Any judge, before whom any person who has been committed on a criminal charge shall be brought on a writ of habeas corpus, if the same be bailable, may take a recognizance from such person, as in other cases, and shall file the same in the proper court without delay.

Kerr, P. C. 1491.

6250. May remand to custody.

SEC. 25. If any party brought before the judge, on the return of the writ, be not entitled to his discharge, and be not bailed where such bail is allowable, such judge shall remand him to custody, or place him under the restraint from which he was taken, if the person, under whose custody or restraint he was, be legally entitled thereto.

Kerr, P. C., 1492.

If the indictment be defective but enough appears to retain the accused in custody, he should not be discharged on habeas corpus Ex Parte Kitchen, 19 Nev. 178 (18 P. 886).

6251. Judge may order change of custody.

SEC. 26. In cases where any party is held under illegal restraint or custody, or any other person is entitled to the restraint or custody of such party, such judge may order such party to be committed to the restraint or custody of such person as is by law entitled thereto.

Kerr, P. C., 1493.

Prisoner taken from the custody of the warden of the penitentiary and committed to the sheriff of Storey County. Ex Parte Janes, 1 Nev. 319, 322.

Where a petitioner is brought before the supreme court upon a writ of habeas corpus, the court is authorized, if after examining the case, it should be of the opinion that petitioner was guilty of an offense other than that on which he is held, to issue a new commitment. Ex Parte Ricord, 11 Nev. 288.

6252. Pending judgment on proceedings, may commit or place in custody.

SEC. 27. Until judgment be given on the return, the judge, before whom any party may be brought on such writ, may commit him or her to the custody of the sheriff of the county, or place him or her in such care or under such custody as his or her age or circumstances may require.

Kerr, P. C., 1494.

6253. Defect of form not material.

SEC. 28. No writ of habeas corpus shall be disobeyed for defect of form, if it sufficiently appear therefrom in whose custody or under whose restraint the party imprisoned or restrained is, the officer or person detaining him, and the judge before whom he is to be brought.

Kerr, P. C., 1495.

6254. Person discharged not again imprisoned on same cause—Exception.

SEC. 29. No person who has been discharged by the order of the judge upon a habeas corpus issued pursuant to the provisions of this act, shall be again imprisoned, restrained, or kept in custody for the same cause, except in the following cases: First—If he shall have been discharged from custody on a criminal charge, and be afterwards committed for the same offense by legal order or process. Second—If after a discharge for defect of proof, or for any defect of the process, warrant, or commitment, in a criminal case, the prisoner be again arrested on sufficient proof, and committed by legal process for the same offense.

Kerr, P. C., 1496.

6255. Warrant may issue, when, authorizing sheriff or constable to bring party.

SEC. 30. Whenever it shall appear by satisfactory proof, by affidavit, to any judge authorized by law to grant a writ of habeas corpus, that any one is illegally held in custody, confinement, or restraint, and that there is good reason to believe that such person will be carried out of the jurisdiction of such judge, before whom the application is made, or will suffer some irreparable injury before compliance with the writ of habeas corpus can be enforced, said judge may cause a warrant to be issued, reciting the facts, and directed to the sheriff or any constable of the county, commanding such officer to take such person thus held in custody, confinement, or restraint, and forthwith bring him or her before such judge, to be dealt with according to law.

Kerr, P. C., 1497.

6256. Idem—Arrest of restraining party.

SEC. 31. Such judge may also, if the same be deemed necessary, insert in such warrant a command for the apprehension of the person charged with such illegal detention and restraint.

Kerr, P. C., 1498.

6257. Idem—Execution of warrant.

SEC. 32. The officer to whom such warrant is delivered shall execute the same by bringing the person or persons therein named before the judge who may have directed the issuing of such warrant.

Kerr, P. C., 1499.

6258. Idem—Return to, traverse and hearing.

SEC. 33. The person alleged to have such party under illegal confinement or restraint may make return to such warrant, as in the case of a writ of habeas corpus, and the same may be denied, and like allegations, proofs, and trial, shall be thereon had as upon the return to a writ of habeas corpus.

Kerr, P. C., 1500.

6259. Idem—Discharge or remand.

SEC. 34. If such party be held under illegal restraint or custody, he or she shall be discharged, and if not, he or she shall be restored to the custody of the person entitled thereto, or left at liberty, as the case may require.

Kerr, P. C., 1501.

6260. Writ may issue on Sunday or nonjudicial day.

SEC. 35. Any writ or process authorized by this act may be issued and served on the first day of the week, commonly called Sunday, or any other nonjudicial day.

Kerr, P. C., 1502.

For list of nonjudicial days, see sec. 4870.

6261. Clerk to issue writs, warrants and process—When sealed—Service and return.

SEC. 36. All writs, warrants, processes, and subpenas, authorized by the provisions of this act, shall be issued by the clerk of the court, and, except subpenas, sealed with the seal of the court, and shall be served and returned forthwith, unless the judge shall specify a particular time for any such return.

Kerr, P. C., 1503, 1504.

6262. Penalty for refusing to grant, or obedience to writ.

SEC. 37. If any judge, after a proper application is made, shall refuse to grant an order for a writ of habeas corpus, or if the officer or person to whom such writ may be directed shall refuse obedience to the command thereof, he or she shall forfeit and pay to the person aggrieved a sum not exceeding five thousand dollars, to be recovered by an action of debt in any court having cognizance thereof.

Kerr, P. C., 1505.

The writ of habeas corpus is guaranteed, except in case of rebellion or invasion, by the federal constitution (sec. 130) and the state constitution (sec. 234).

6263. Penalty for custodian disobeying or avoiding writ.

SEC. 38. Any person having in his custody or under his restraint or power any person for whose relief a writ of habeas corpus shall have been duly issued pursuant to the provisions of this act, who, with the intent to elude the service of such writ, or to avoid the effect thereof, shall transfer such person to the custody of another, or shall place him or her under the power or control of another or shall conceal or exchange the place of his or her confinement or restraint, or shall remove him or her without the jurisdiction of such judge, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and fined in a sum not exceeding five thousand dollars.

Kerr, P. C., 362-364.

6264. Idem—Accessories.

SEC. 39. Every person who shall knowingly aid or assist in the commission of any offense specified in the last preceding section, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and punished as in the last preceding section mentioned.

6265. Further penalty, imprisonment.

SEC. 40. Every person convicted of any offense under the provisions of the last two preceding sections, in addition to the punishment therein mentioned, may be also imprisoned in the county jail for a term not exceeding two years.

CHAPTER 1

6266. Classification of crimes.

SECTION 1. A crime is an act or omission forbidden by law and punishable upon conviction by death, imprisonment, fine or other penal discipline. Every crime which may be punished by death or by imprisonment in the state prison is a felony. Every crime punishable by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in a county jail for not more than six months, is a misdemeanor. Every other crime is a gross misdemeanor.

The act supplementary to an act entitled "An act concerning crimes and punishments, approved November 26, 1861," does, in its title, express the subject embraced therein as required by Const., sec. 275, ante. State v. Davis, 14 Nev. 439, 442 (33 A. R. 563).

CHAPTER 2

PERSONS LIABLE TO PUNISHMENT

6267. Persons punishable.
6268. Persons capable of committing crime—Exceptions.
6269. Who considered of sound mind.
6270. Indians amenable to criminal law.
6271. Must be union of act and intention.
6272. Intent, how manifested.

6267. Persons punishable.

SEC. 2. The following persons, except as provided in the next section, are liable to punishment:

1. A person who commits in the state any crime, in whole or in part.

2. A person who commits out of the state any act which, if committed within it, would be larceny, and is afterwards found in the state with any of the stolen property.

3. A person who, being out of the state, counsels, causes, procures, aids or abets another to commit a crime in this state.

4. A person who, being out of the state, abducts or kidnaps, by force or fraud, any person, contrary to the laws of the place where the act is committed, and brings, sends or conveys such person into this state.

5. A person who commits an act without the state which affects persons or property within the state, or the public health, morals or decency of the state, which, if committed within the state, would be a crime.

6268. All persons capable of committing crime, except following.

SEC. 3. All persons are liable to punishment except those belonging to the following classes:

1. Children under the age of eight years;

2. Children between the ages of eight years and fourteen years, in the absence of clear proof that at the time of committing the act charged against them they knew its wrongfulness;

3. Idiots;

4. Lunatics and insane persons;

5. Persons who committed the act or made the omission charged under an ignorance or mistake of fact, which disproves any criminal intent, where a specific intent is required to constitute the offense.

6. Persons who committed the act charged without being conscious thereof.

7. Persons who committed the act or made the omission charged, through misfortune or by accident, when it appears that there was no evil design, intention, or culpable negligence;

8. Married women, unless the crime be punishable with death, acting under the threats, command, or coercion of their husbands; provided, it appear, from all the facts and circumstances of the case, that violent threats, command, or coercion were used;

9. Persons, unless the crime be punishable with death, who committed the act or made the omission charged under threats or menaces sufficient to show that they had reasonable cause to believe, and did believe, their lives would be endangered if they refused, or that they would suffer great bodily harm.

Proceedings against defendants over 18 and under 21 years of age, see sec. 737.

6269. Who considered of sound mind.

SEC. 4. A person shall be considered of sound mind who is neither an idiot or lunatic, or affected with insanity, and who has arrived at the age of fourteen years, or before that age, if such person knew the distinction between good and evil.

Opinion of witnesses, not experts, as to the sanity of a defendant is admissible in evidence if the witnesses have had sufficient observation to enable them to form a belief upon the question, without giving in detail the facts upon which their opinions are based. State v. Lewis, 20 Nev. 333 (22 P. 241).

The real question to be determined by the jury is as to defendant's sanity or insanity, at the time of the homicide. Testimony as to condition of mind at times previous and subsequent thereto is admissible solely upon the ground that it tends to show the mental condition at the time of the homicide. Idem.

A person who had known accused for four months, had seen him every day during that time, had sat at the same table and eaten with him once or twice, had observed his manner of speech and conversation, had seen him in the evening and night before the homicide, and had considerable conversation with him on the day after, is a competent witness as to sanity of accused. Idem.

The instructions of the court to the effect that if the defendant has capacity and reason sufficient to enable him to distinguish right from wrong as to the particular act in question and has knowledge and consciousness that the act he is doing is wrong and will deserve punishment, he is, in the eye of the law, of sound mind and memory, and should be held responsible for his acts. Held, correct. Idem.

The court instructed the jury that the defendant "is presumed to be sane until the contrary is shown, and a doubt upon this question alone should not acquit, for insanity is an affirmative proposition, and the burden of proving it is upon the defense." Held, correct. Idem.

Insanity as a defense to crime must be established by a preponderance of evidence. Idem.

The court instructed the jury that "an insane delusion is an incorrigible belief, not the result of reasoning, in the existence of facts which are either impossible absolutely or are impossible under the circumstances of the individual," etc. Held, correct. Idem.

The court instructed the jury that "when the person labors under a partial delusion only, and is not in other respects insane—that is, not insane upon all subjects—he must be considered in the same situation as to responsibility as if the facts, with regard to which the delusion exists, were real." Held, correct. Idem.

See State v. Petty, 32 Nev. 384 (108 P. 934); State v. Casey, 33 Nev.— (117 P. 5).

6270. Indians amenable to criminal law.

SEC. 5. All the laws of this state concerning crimes and punishments, or applicable thereto, are extended to and over all Indians in this state, whether such Indians be on or off an Indian reservation, and all of said laws are hereby declared to be applicable to all crimes committed by Indians within this state, whether committed on or off an Indian reservation, save and except an offense committed upon an Indian reservation by one Indian against the person or property of another Indian.

An Indian on trial for crime is subject to the same laws as govern in the case of a white man. State v. Johnny, 29 Nev. 203 (87 P. 3).

It is not necessary for the indictment against one Indian for an offense against another to charge, or that the state prove, that the offense was committed off a reservation, since it is not necessary that a state prosecution negative the federal jurisdiction, nor for the state to prove more than that the offense was committed within the county. State v. Buckaroo Jack, 30 Nev. 326 (96 P. 497).

That a homicide occurred at a house about a quarter of a mile from an Indian day school is insufficient to show that it occurred on a reservation. Idem.

The burden is on an Indian, accused by the state of an offense against another Indian, to show that the offense was committed on a reservation, so as to give the federal courts exclusive jurisdiction, under the above section and the act of Congress (23 Stats. U. S. 385, sec. 9), excepting in cases where judicial notice will be taken of the existence of the reservation. Idem.

See State v. McKinney, 18 Nev. 182 (2 P. 171).

6271. Must be union of act and intention.

SEC. 6. In every crime or public offense, there must exist a union or joint operation of act and intention, or criminal negligence.

It is the character of the weapon and the manner in which it is used (not the purpose for which it is carried), taken in connection with the facts and circumstances of the assault, that indicates the intention of the defendant. State v. Davis, 14 Nev. 407.

The defendant in a criminal case has a right to have the jury consider declarations in his favor made by him at the trial, when a witness, in connection with his actions and words at the time of the commission of the alleged offense. It cannot be said as a fact in every case, or as a rule of law in any, that if a defendant's actions, when considered by themselves alone, are inconsistent with the declared intent, it is safer to draw a conclusion from his actions than from his sworn statement as a witness. State v. Maynard, 19 Nev. 285 (9 P. 514).

See State v. Ward, 19 Nev. 297 (10 P. 133).

An intent to murder cannot be conclusively inferred from the mere use of a deadly weapon; and an instruction to the jury to that effect in a murder trial, is error. When a deadly weapon is used in a manner likely to produce death, and death results, the presumptions are that the person used it intending to kill, and that such intent is a malicious one, but neither presumption is conclusive. An intent to take life is an essential element in the commission of a murder in the first degree, except where it is committed in the perpetration or attempt to perpetrate arson, rape, robbery or burglary. State v. Newton, 4 Nev. 410.

See State v. Marks, 15 Nev. 33.

Where a specific intent is required by statute to constitute a crime, such specific intent enters into the nature of the act itself, and must be alleged and proved beyond a reasonable doubt. When the statute forbids the doing of a certain thing and is silent concerning the intent with which it is done, a person who does the forbidden act is not guiltless because he has no wrongful intent beyond that which is involved in the doing of the prohibited act. (State v. Gardner, 5 Nev. 377, overruled). State v. Zichfield, 23 Nev. 304, 94 P. 221, 62 A. S. 800, 34 L. R. A. 784.

To constitute the crime of burglary, it is just as essential to prove the intent as it is to prove the entry. State v. Cowell, 12 Nev. 337; State v. Ryan, 12 Nev. 401.

Where the assault is made in a manner calculated to produce death, the law presumes an intent to kill, and the burden of showing facts in justification or mitigation are thrown upon the defendant. Where an act in itself indifferent becomes criminal if done with a particular intent, then the intent must be proved and found; but where the act is in itself unlawful, the proof of justification or excuse lies on the defendant; and, in failure thereof, the law implies a criminal intent unless the proof on the part of the prosecution sufficiently manifests that the accused was justified or excused in committing the assault. State v. Marks, 15 Nev. 33.

The wrongful intent being a necessary ingredient of the crime of receiving stolen goods, such intent must exist at the time of the buying or receiving of such stolen goods. State v. Pray, 30 Nev. 206 (94 P. 218).

Where a specific intent is a material element of an offense, it need not be proved by positive and direct evidence, but may be inferred from the conduct of the parties and other facts and circumstances disclosed by the evidence. State v. Thompson, 31 Nev. 209 (101 P. 557).

In a prosecution for extortion, evidence of similar offense committed about the same time is admissible to show intent. State v. Vertrees, 33 Nev. — (112 P. 42).

In a prosecution for escape, evidence to establish the acts of accused in making the attempted escape as charged in the indictment are admissible to prove his criminal intent, as the logical deduction is that a person intended to do what he did. State v. Clarke, 32 Nev. 145 (104 P. 593).

The crime of assault with intent to kill consists of two essential elements, the act of the assaulter, and the intent; and to convict one of this crime it is necessary that the intent to kill must be alleged and proved beyond a reasonable doubt. State v. Rodriguez, 31 Nev. 342 (102 P. 863).

6272. Intent, how manifested.

SEC. 7. Intention is manifested by the circumstances connected with the perpetration of the offense, and the sound mind and discretion of the person accused.

An intent with which a person charged with embezzlement appropriates property to his own use, is a question of fact to be determined from the evidence in the particular case. State v. Trolson, 21 Nev. 419 (32 P. 930).

CHAPTER 3

PARTIES TO CRIMES

6273. Classified as principals and accessories.
6274. Principal defined.
6275. Accessory defined.
6276. Trial and punishment of accessories.

6273. Classified as principals and accessories.

SEC. 8. Parties to crimes are classified as:

1. Principals; and,
2. Accessories.

A feigned accomplice may not be an accessory. State v. Douglas, 26 Nev. 196 (99 A. S. 688, 65 P. 802); State v. Smith, 33 Nev.— (117 P. 19).

6274. Principal defined.

SEC. 9. Every person concerned in the commission of a felony, gross misdemeanor or misdemeanor, whether he directly commits the act constituting the offense, or aids or abets in its commission, and whether present or absent; and every person who directly or indirectly counsels, encourages, hires, commands, induces or otherwise procures another to commit a felony, gross misdemeanor or misdemeanor, is a principal, and shall be proceeded against and punished as such. The fact that the person aided, abetted, counseled, encouraged, hired, commanded, induced or procured, could not or did not entertain a criminal intent, shall not be a defense to any person aiding, abetting, counseling, encouraging, hiring, commanding, inducing, or procuring him.

See secs. 7071, 7180.

An accessory before the fact to a crime, though not present and in fact out of the state at its commission, may be proceeded against in all respects as a principal. State v. Chapman, 6 Nev. 320.

See, also, State v. Hamilton, 13 Nev. 386.

Where a question is presented as to the sufficiency of the evidence to corroborate that of an accomplice, the question is one as to the character of the evidence, and not as to its weight. State v. Chapman, 6 Nev. 320.

It is not essential to the conviction of an accessory to first prove the guilt of the principal; it is only necessary to show that a crime has been committed and that the defendant aided and assisted or advised or encouraged it. State v. Jones, 7 Nev. 408.

Proof of the possession of the subject of a larceny is sufficient to corroborate the direct testimony of an accomplice. Where several confederates act in pursuance of a common plan in the commission of an offense, all are held to be present where the offense is committed and all are principals. State v. Hamilton, 13 Nev. 386.

Evidence that the defendant came with the robbers, left when they left, was present at the robbery and apparently acquiesced therein, held sufficient to justify a conviction. State v. O'Keefe, 23 Nev. 127 (62 A. S. 768, 43 P. 918).

An accomplice is not incompetent to give testimony, but the weight thereof is for the jury, under proper instructions subject to the restriction that a conviction cannot be had on the uncorroborated testimony of such accomplice. State v. Douglas, 26 Nev. 196 (99 A. S. 688, 65 P. 802).

Where there is no testimony of an accomplice, an instruction referring to such testimony is properly refused. State v. Burns, 27 Nev. 290 (74 P. 983).

Where a husband and wife were jointly tried for the crime of extortion and the evidence tended to show that the wife was an accessory before the fact, acts and declarations made by her in the consummation of the wrongful act are admissible against the husband. State v. Vertrees, 33 Nev. — (112 P. 42).

In a prosecution for larceny of ore, statements of an accomplice relating in part to the taking of the ore and its division according to agreement were admissible in evidence. A statement of an accomplice who conspired with accused to steal ore that he had made thousands of dollars for accused was inadmissible, it not appearing that the statement related to the conspiracy. A statement made by a conspirator after the conspiracy is ended is not admissible against a conspirator. State v. Smith, 33 Nev. — (117 P. 19); State v. Johnson, 16 Nev. 36.

See Ex Parte Smith, 34 Nev. — (111 P. 131, 938); State v. Mangana, 34 Nev. — (112 P. 698).

A statement made by one defendant, upon his preliminary examination, tending to exculpate himself and inculpate his codefendant, is inadmissible against any one but himself. State v. Soule, 14 Nev. 453.

After the death of the deceased, each of the defendants made statements in regard to the homicide, exculpating himself, and imputing the crime to the other. These statements were offered by the prosecution, and admitted by the court, to be considered by the jury as evidence only against the party making them: Held, that the respective statements were admissible for that purpose; that the prejudice resulting to the defendants, from their mutual recriminations, was an unavoidable evil, necessarily incident to their joint trial. State v. McLane, 15 Nev. 345.

The evidence to corroborate the testimony of an accomplice is sufficient if it tends to connect the defendant with the commission of the offense. State v. Lewis, 20 Nev. 333 (22 P. 241).

6275. Accessory defined.

SEC. 10. Every person not standing in the relation of husband or wife, brother or sister, parent or grandparent, child or grandchild, to the offender, who after the commission of a felony shall harbor, conceal or aid such offender with intent that he may avoid or escape from arrest, trial, conviction or punishment, having knowledge that such offender has committed a felony or is liable to arrest, is an accessory to the felony.

See note to sec. 6274.

6276. Trial and punishment of accessories.

SEC. 11. Every accessory to a felony may be indicted, tried and convicted either in the county where he became an accessory, or where the principal felony was committed; and whether the principal offender has or has not been convicted, or is or is not amenable to justice, or has been pardoned or otherwise discharged after conviction; and, except where a different punishment is specially provided by law, such accessory shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for not less than one year nor more than five years, or by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars, or by both.

CHAPTER 4

RIGHTS AND PRIVILEGES OF DEFENDANTS

6277. Presumption of innocence—Conviction of lowest degree, when.
6278. Convicts protected—Forfeitures abolished.
6279. Foreign conviction or acquittal.
6280. Conviction or acquittal in other county.
6281. Omission, when not punishable.
6282. Intoxication, when it may be considered in mitigation of offense.

6277. Presumption of innocence—Conviction of lowest degree, when.

SEC. 12. Every person charged with the commission of a crime shall be presumed innocent until the contrary is proved by competent evidence beyond a reasonable doubt; and when an offense has been proved against him, and there exists a reasonable doubt as to which of two or more degrees he is guilty, he shall be convicted only of the lowest.

6278. Convicts protected—Forfeitures abolished.

SEC. 13. Every person sentenced to imprisonment in any penal institution shall be under the protection of the law, and any unauthorized injury to his person shall be punished in the same manner as if he were not so convicted or sentenced. A conviction of crime shall not work a forfeiture of any property, real or personal, or of any right or interest therein. All forfeitures in the nature of deodands, or in case of suicide or where a person flees from justice, are abolished.

6279. Foreign conviction or acquittal.

SEC. 14. Whenever, upon the trial of any person for a crime, it appears that the offense was committed in another state or country, under such circumstances that the courts of this state had jurisdiction thereof, and that the defendant has already been acquitted or convicted upon the merits, upon a criminal prosecution under the laws of such state or country, founded upon the act or omission with respect to which he is upon trial, such former acquittal or conviction is a sufficient defense.

6280. Conviction or acquittal in other county.

SEC. 15. Whenever, upon the trial of any person for a crime, it shall appear that the defendant has already been acquitted or convicted upon the merits, of the same crime, in a court having jurisdiction of such offense in another county of this state, such former acquittal or conviction is a sufficient defense.

6281. Omission, when not punishable.

SEC. 16. No person shall be punished for an omission to perform an act when such act has been performed by another acting in his behalf, and competent to perform it.

6282. Intoxication, when it may be considered in mitigation of offense.

SEC. 17. No act committed by a person while in a state of voluntary intoxication shall be deemed less criminal by reason of his condition, but whenever the actual existence of any particular purpose, motive or intent is a necessary element to constitute a particular species or degree of crime, the fact of his intoxication may be taken into consideration in determining such purpose, motive or intent.

On a trial for murder instructions that drunkenness can only be considered for the purpose of determining the degree of the crime, and for this purpose must be received with great caution; that presumptively every killing is murder; that in cases of premeditated murder the fact of drunkenness is immaterial; that the jury must discriminate between the condition of mind merely excited by intoxicating drink and yet capable of forming a deliberate intent to take life, and such a prostration of the faculties as renders a man incapable of forming the intent; that the evidence must convince the jury that the deliberate premeditated design to murder was intentionally formed; that, in considering whether such a design was formed, the jury must consider the evidence of drunkenness, and, if accused was too much intoxicated to form such a deliberate and premeditated purpose, he cannot be found guilty of murder in the first degree, correctly states the law on the defense of drunkenness. State v. Johnny, 29 Nev. 203 (87 P. 3).

See State v. O'Connor, 11 Nev. 416; State v. Thompson, 12 Nev. 140; State v. Casey, 33 Nev. — (117 P. 5).

CHAPTER 5

PUNISHMENTS FOR OFFENSES NOT OTHERWISE FIXED

6283. Punishment of felony when not fixed by statute.
6284. Punishment of gross misdemeanor when not fixed by statute.
6285. Punishment of misdemeanor when not fixed by statute.
6286. Penalty for misdemeanor by corporations when not fixed by statute.
6287. Conviction of public officer forfeits trust.
6288. Prohibited acts are misdemeanors.
6289. Failure of duty by public officer a misdemeanor.

6283. Punishment of felony when not fixed by statute.

SEC. 18. Every person convicted of a felony for which no punishment is specially prescribed by any statutory provision in force at the time of conviction and sentence, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for not less than one year or more than ten years, or by a fine of not less than five hundred dollars or more than five thousand dollars, or by both.

6284. Punishment of gross misdemeanor when not fixed by statute.

SEC. 19. Every person convicted of a gross misdemeanor for which no punishment is prescribed in any statute in force at the time of conviction and sentence, shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than six months or more than one year, or by a fine of not less than five hundred dollars or more than one thousand dollars, or by both.

6285. Punishment of misdemeanor when not fixed by statute.

SEC. 20. Every person convicted of a misdemeanor for which no punishment is prescribed by any statute in force at the time of conviction and sentence, shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than six months, or by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars, or by both.

6286. Penalty for misdemeanor by corporations when not fixed by statute.

SEC. 21. In all cases where a corporation is convicted of an offense for the commission of which a natural person would be punishable as for a misdemeanor, and there is no other punishment prescribed by law, such corporation is punishable by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars.

6287. Conviction of public officer forfeits trust.

SEC. 22. The conviction of a public officer of any felony or malfeasance in office shall entail, in addition to such other penalty as may be imposed, the forfeiture of his office, and shall disqualify him from ever afterwards holding any public office in this state.

6288. Prohibited acts are misdemeanors.

SEC. 23. Whenever the performance of any act is prohibited by any statute, and no penalty for the violation of such statute is imposed, the committing of such act shall be a misdemeanor.

6289. Failure of duty by public officer a misdemeanor.

SEC. 24. Whenever any duty is enjoined by law upon any public officer or other person holding any public trust or employment, their wilful neglect to perform such duty, except where otherwise specially provided for, shall be a misdemeanor.

CHAPTER 6

CONVICTIONS FOR ATTEMPTS AND LESSER DEGREES

6290. Conviction of lesser crime.

SEC. 25. Upon the trial of an indictment, the defendant may be convicted of the crime charged therein, or of a lesser degree of the same crime, or of an attempt to commit the crime so charged, or of an attempt to commit a lesser degree of the same crime. Whenever the jury shall find a verdict of guilty against a person so charged, they shall in their verdict specify the degree or attempt of which the accused is guilty.

See sec. 7219.

See State v. Gray, 19 Nev. 213 (8 P. 456); State v. Brannan, 3 Nev. 238; State v. Pickett, 11 Nev. 255; State v. Thompson, 31 Nev. 209 (117 P. 17).

Where a defendant is indicted for murder, the jury may, in proper cases, return a verdict of involuntary manslaughter. Gibson v. Somers, District Judge, 31 Nev. 531 (103 P. 1073).

6291. Attempts, how punished.

SEC. 26. An act done with intent to commit a crime, and tending but failing to accomplish it, is an attempt to commit that crime; and every person who attempts to commit a crime, unless otherwise prescribed by statute, shall be punished as follows:

1. If the crime attempted is punishable by death or life imprisonment, the person convicted of the attempt shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for not more than twenty years;

2. In every other case he shall be punished by imprisonment in such manner as may be prescribed for the commission of the completed offense, for not more than half the longest term, or by a fine of not more than half the largest sum, prescribed upon conviction for the commission of the offense attempted, or by both such fine and imprisonment; but nothing herein shall protect a person who, in an unsuccessful attempt to commit one crime, does commit another and different one, from the punishment prescribed for the crime actually committed; and a person may be convicted of an attempt to commit a crime, although it appears on the trial that the crime was consummated, unless the court in its discretion shall discharge the jury and direct the defendant to be tried for the crime itself.

See secs. 6271, 6272.

An attempt to commit a crime contains three elements—the intent, the performance of the act toward its commission, and failure of consummation. State v. Thompson, 31 Nev. 209.

Evidence reviewed and held sufficient to warrant a conviction of attempting to commit grand larceny in feloniously attempting to sever gold-bearing ore from the realty of a mining claim (Norcross, C. J., dissenting). Idem.

See State v. Raymond, 34 Nev. — (117 P. 17).

See note to sec. 6271.

CHAPTER 7

6292. Habitual criminals.

SEC. 27. Every person convicted in this state of any crime of which fraud or intent to defraud is an element, or of petit larceny, or of any felony, who shall previously have been twice convicted, whether in this state or elsewhere, of any crime which under the laws of this state would amount to a felony, or who shall previously have been three times convicted, whether in this state or elsewhere, of petit larceny, or of any misdemeanor or gross misdemeanor of which fraud or intent to defraud is an element, shall be adjudged to be an habitual criminal and shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for not less than ten years.

Every person convicted in this state of any crime of which fraud or intent to defraud is an element, or of petit larceny, or of any felony, who shall previously have been three times convicted, whether in this state or elsewhere, of any crime which under the laws of this state would amount to a felony, or who shall previously have been five times convicted, whether in this state or elsewhere, of petit larceny, or of any misdemeanor or gross misdemeanor of which fraud or intent to defraud is an element, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for life.

6293. Prevention of procreation.

SEC. 28. Whenever any person shall be adjudged guilty of carnal abuse of a female person under the age of ten years, or of rape, or shall be adjudged to be an habitual criminal, the court may, in addition to such other punishment or confinement as may be imposed, direct an operation to be performed upon such person, for the prevention of procreation; provided, the operation so directed to be performed shall not consist of castration.

CHAPTER 8

DEFINITIONS, CONSTRUCTION, MISCELLANEOUS

6294. Definition of terms.
6295. Rule of construction.
6296. Application to prior offenses.
6297. Application to existing civil rights.
6298. Proceedings to impeach preserved.
6299. Military tribunals and punishment for contempt not affected hereby.
6300. Common law to supplement statute.
6301. To be construed as continuation of former acts.
6302. Civil remedies preserved.

6294. Definition of terms.

SEC. 29. In construing the provisions of this act, save when otherwise plainly declared or clearly apparent from the context, the following rules shall be observed:

1. Each of the words "neglect," "negligence," "negligent," and "negligently" shall import a want of such attention to the nature or probable consequences of an act or omission as an ordinarily prudent man usually exercises in his own business.

2. Each of the words "corrupt" and "corruptly" shall import a wrongful desire to acquire or cause some pecuniary or other advantage to himself or another, by the person to whom applicable.

3. "Malice" and "maliciously" shall import an evil intent, wish or design to vex, annoy or injure another person. Malice may be inferred from an act done in wilful disregard of the rights of another, or an act wrongfully done without just cause or excuse, or an act or omission of duty betraying a wilful disregard of social duty.

4. The word "knowingly" imports a knowledge that the facts exist which constitute the act or omission of a crime, and does not require knowledge of its unlawfulness; knowledge of any particular fact may be inferred from the knowledge of such other facts as should put an ordinary prudent man upon inquiry.

5. Whenever an intent to defraud constitutes a part of a crime, it is not necessary to aver or prove an intent to defraud any particular person.

6. The word "boat" shall include ships, steamers and other structures adapted to navigation or movement from place to place by water.

7. The word "signature" shall include any memorandum, mark, or sign made with intent to authenticate any instrument or writing, or the subscription of any person thereto.

8. The word "writing" shall include printing.

9. The word "property" shall include both real and personal property.

10. The term "real property" shall include every estate, interest and right in lands, tenements and hereditaments, corporeal or incorporeal.

11. The term "personal property" shall include dogs and all domestic animals and birds, water, gas and electricity, all kinds or descriptions of money, chattels and effects, all instruments or writings completed and ready to be delivered or issued by the maker, whether actually delivered or issued or not, by which any claim, privilege, right, obligation or authority, or any right or title to property real or personal, is, or purports to be, or upon the happening of some future event may be evidenced, created, acknowledged, transferred, increased, diminished, encumbered, defeated, discharged or affected, and every right and interest therein.

12. The word "bond" shall include an undertaking.

13. Words in the present tense shall include the future tense; and in the masculine shall include the feminine and neuter genders; and in the singular shall include the plural; and in the plural shall include the singular.

14. The word "person" shall include a corporation or joint-stock association; and whenever it is used to designate a party whose property may be the subject of an offense it shall also include the state, or any other state, government or country which may lawfully own property within this state.

15. The term "judge" shall include every judicial officer authorized, alone or with others, to hold or preside over a court of record.

16. Any person shall be deemed an "owner" of any property who has a general or special property in the whole or any part thereof, or lawful possession thereof, either actual or constructive.

17. The words "dwelling house" shall include every building or structure which shall have been usually occupied by a person lodging therein at night, and whenever it shall be so constructed as to consist of two or more parts or rooms occupied or intended to be occupied, whether permanently or temporarily, by different tenants separately by usually lodging therein at night, or for any other separate purpose, each part shall be deemed a separate dwelling house of the tenant occupying the same.

18. The word "building" shall include every house, shed, boat, water craft, railway car, tent or booth, whether completed or not, suitable for affording shelter for any human being, or as a place where any property is or shall be kept for use, sale or deposit.

19. The word "nighttime" shall include the period between sunset and sunrise; the word "daytime" the period between sunrise and sunset.

20. The word "break," when used in connection with the crime of burglary, shall include:

(a) Breaking or violently detaching any part, internal or external, of a building;

(b) Opening, for the purpose of entering therein, any outer door of a building or of any room, apartment or set of apartments therein separately used and occupied, or any window, shutter, scuttle or other thing used for covering or closing any opening thereto or therein, or which gives passage from one part thereof to another;

(c) Obtaining entrance into such building or apartment by any threat or artifice, used for that purpose, or by collusion with any person therein;

(d) Entering such building, room or apartment by or through any pipe, chimney or other opening, or by excavating or digging through or under a building or the walls or foundation thereof.

21. The word "enter," when constituting an element or part of a crime, shall include the entrance of the offender, or the insertion of any part of his body, or of any instrument or weapon held in his hand and used or intended to be used to threaten or intimidate a person, or to detach or remove property.

22. The term "railway" or "railroad" shall include all railways, railroads and street railways, whether operated by steam, electricity or any other motive power.

23. The words "indicted" and "indictment" shall include "informed against" and "information"; and the words "informed against" and "information" shall include the words "indicted" and "indictment."

24. The words "officer" and "public officer" shall include all assistants, deputies, clerks and employees of any public officer and all persons exercising or assuming to exercise any of the powers or functions of a public officer.

25. The word "juror" shall include a talesman, and extend to jurors in all courts, whether of record or not.

26. The word "prisoner" shall include any person held in custody under process of law, or under lawful arrest.

27. The word "prison" shall mean any place designated by law for the keeping of persons held in custody under process of law, or under lawful arrest.

6295. Rule of construction.

SEC. 30. Every provision of this act shall be construed according to the fair import of its terms.

6296. Application to prior offenses.

SEC. 31. Nothing contained in any provision of this act shall apply to an offense committed or act done at any time before the day when this act shall take effect. Such an offense shall be punished according to, and such act shall be governed by, the provisions of law existing when it is done or committed, in the same manner as if this act had not been passed.

6297. Application to existing civil rights.

SEC. 32. Nothing in this act shall be deemed to affect any civil right or remedy existing at the time when it shall take effect by virtue of the common law or of the provision of any statute.

6298. Proceedings to impeach preserved.

SEC. 33. The omission to specify or affirm in this act any ground of forfeiture of a public office or other trust or special authority conferred by law, or any power conferred by law to impeach, remove, depose or suspend any public officer or other person holding any trust, appointment or other special authority conferred by law, shall not affect such forfeiture or power, or any proceeding authorized by law to carry into effect such impeachment, removal, deposition or suspension.

6299. Military tribunals and punishment for contempt not affected hereby.

SEC. 34. This act does not affect any power conferred by law upon any court-martial, or other military authority, or officer, to impose or inflict punishment, upon offenders; nor any power conferred by law upon any public body, tribunal, or officer, to impose or inflict punishment for a contempt.

6300. Common law to supplement statute.

SEC. 35. The provisions of the common law relating to the commission of crime and the punishment thereof, in so far as not inconsistent with the institutions and statutes of this state, shall supplement all penal statutes of this state and all persons offending against the same shall be tried in the district courts of this state.

See secs. 323, 5474, 6827.

6301. To be construed as continuation of former acts.

SEC. 36. The provisions of this act, in so far as they are substantially the same as existing statutes, shall be construed as continuations thereof and not as new enactments.

6302. Civil remedies preserved.

SEC. 37. The omission to specify or affirm in this act any liability to any damages, penalty, forfeiture or other remedy, imposed by law, and allowed to be recovered or enforced in any civil action or proceeding, for any act or omission declared punishable herein, shall not affect any right to recover or enforce the same.

CHAPTER 9

MISCELLANEOUS

6303. Imprisonment on two or more convictions.
6304. Acts punishable under foreign law.
6305. Punishment for contempt.
6306. Intent to defraud.
6307. Sending letter, when complete—Venue.

6303. Imprisonment on two or more convictions.

SEC. 38. Whenever a person shall be convicted of two or more offenses before sentence has been pronounced for either, the imprisonment to which he is sentenced upon the second or other subsequent conviction shall commence at the termination of the first or other prior term or terms of imprisonment to which he is sentenced; and whenever a person while under sentence of felony shall commit another felony and be sentenced to another term of imprisonment, such latter term shall not begin until the expiration of all prior terms.

See sec. 7256.

6304. Acts punishable under foreign law.

SEC. 39. An act or omission punishable as a crime in this state is not less so because it is also punishable under the laws of another state, government or country, unless the contrary is expressly declared in the law relating thereto.

6305. Punishment for contempt.

SEC. 40. A criminal act which at the same time constitutes contempt of court, and has been punished as such, may also be punished as a crime, but in such case the punishment for contempt may be considered in mitigation.

6306. Intent to defraud.

SEC. 41. Whenever an intent to defraud shall be made an element of an offense, it shall be sufficient if an intent appears to defraud any person, association or body politic or corporation whatsoever.

6307. Sending letter, when complete—Venue.

SEC. 42. Whenever any statute makes the sending of a letter criminal, the offense shall be deemed complete from the time it is deposited in any postoffice or other place, or delivered to any person with intent that it shall be forwarded; and the sender may be proceeded against in the county wherein it was so deposited or delivered, or in which it was received by the person to whom it was addressed.

CHAPTER 10

CRIMES AGAINST THE SOVEREIGNTY OF THE STATE TREASON

6308. Treason defined—Penalty.

SEC. 43. Treason against the people of the state consists in:

1. Levying war against the people of the state, or
2. Adhering to its enemies, or
3. Giving them aid and comfort.

Treason is punishable by death. No person shall be convicted for treason unless upon the testimony of two witnesses to the same overt act or by confession in open court.

See Const., sec. 248.

6309. Levying war.

SEC. 44. To constitute levying war against the state an actual act of war must be committed. To conspire to levy war is not enough. When persons arise in insurrection with intent to prevent, in general, by force and intimidation, the execution of a statute of this state, or to force its repeal, they shall be guilty of levying war. But an endeavor, although by numbers and force of arms, to resist the execution of a law in a single instance, and for a private purpose, is not levying war.

6310. Misprision of treason.

SEC. 45. Every person having knowledge of the commission of treason, who conceals the same, and does not, as soon as may be, disclose such treason to the governor or a judge of the supreme court or a district court, shall be guilty of misprision of treason and punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than five years or in a county jail for not more than one year.

CHAPTER 11

CRIMES BY OR AGAINST PUBLIC OFFICERS—BRIBERY, CORRUPTION AND EXTORTION

6311. Bribery of public officer.
6312. Asking or receiving bribe—Extortion.
6313. Rebate or division of salary unlawful.
6314. Agreement to divide salary, unlawful.
6315. Liability for debt.
6316. Penalty.
6317. Offering reward for appointment.
6318. Bribing legislators, penalty.
6319. Offering legislative or election bribes, penalty.
6320. Juror and others, accepting bribe.
6321. Bribing witness.
6322. Witness accepting bribe.
6323. Influencing juror.
6324. Juror, arbitrator or referee promising verdict or decision or receiving communication.
6325. Misconduct of officer drawing jury.
6326. Soliciting jury duty.
6327. Misconduct of officer in charge of jury.
6328. Offender a competent witness.
6329. Interfering with public officer.
6330. Grafting.
6331. Misconduct of public officer.
6332. Intrusion into and refusal to surrender public office.
6333. Disturbing legislature, or intimidating member.
6334. Witness refusing to attend legislature or committee or to testify.
6335. Threats to induce extortion, penalty.
6336. Rescuing prisoner.
6337. Taking property from an officer.
6338. Escaped prisoner recaptured.
6339. Prisoner escaping.
6340. Aiding prisoner to escape.
6341. Custodian suffering escape.
6342. Ministerial officer permitting escape.
6343. Concealing escaped prisoner.
6344. Injury to public record.
6345. Injury to and misappropriation of record.
6346. Altering legislative measures.
6347. Altering enrolled bills.
6348. Offering false instrument for filing or record.
6349. False report by public officer.

6311. Bribery of public officer.

SEC. 46. Every person who shall give, offer or promise, directly or indirectly, any compensation, gratuity or reward to any executive or administrative officer of the state, with intent to influence him with respect to any act, decision, vote, opinion or other proceeding, as such officer; or who shall give, offer or promise, directly or indirectly, any compensation, gratuity or reward to a member of the legislature, or attempt, directly or indirectly, by menace, deceit, suppression of truth or other corrupt means, to influence such member to give or withhold his vote or to absent himself from the house of which he is a member or from any committee thereof; or who shall give, offer or promise, directly or indirectly, any compensation, gratuity or reward to a judicial officer, juror, referee, arbitrator, appraiser, assessor or other person authorized by law to hear or determine any question, matter, cause, proceeding or controversy, with intent to influence his action, vote, opinion or decision thereupon; or who shall give, offer or promise, directly or indirectly, any compensation, gratuity or reward to a person executing any of the functions of a public officer other than as hereinbefore specified, with intent to influence him with respect to any act, decision, vote or other proceeding in the exercise of his powers or functions, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than ten years, or by a fine of not more than five thousand dollars, or by both.

6312. Asking or receiving bribe—Extortion.

SEC. 47. Every executive or administrative officer or person elected or appointed to an executive or administrative office who shall ask or receive, directly or indirectly, any compensation, gratuity or reward, or any promise thereof, upon an agreement or understanding that his vote, opinion or action upon any matter then pending, or which may by law be brought before him in his official capacity, shall be influenced thereby; and every member of either house of the legislature of the state who shall ask or receive, directly or indirectly, any compensation, gratuity or reward, or any promise thereof, upon an agreement or understanding that his official vote, opinion, judgment or action shall be influenced thereby, or shall be given in any particular manner, or upon any particular side of any question or matter upon which he may be required to act in his official capacity; and every judicial officer, and every person who executes any of the functions of a public office not hereinbefore specified, and every person employed by or acting for the state or for any public officer in the business of the state, who shall ask or receive, directly or indirectly, any compensation, gratuity or reward, or any promise thereof, upon an agreement or understanding that his vote, opinion, judgment, action, decision or other official proceeding shall be influenced thereby, or that he will do or omit any act or proceeding or in any way neglect or violate any official duty, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than ten years, or by a fine of not more than five thousand dollars, or by both.

6313. Rebate or division of salary unlawful.

SEC. 48. It shall be unlawful for any state, county or municipal officer to offer or agree to appoint, or for any person whomsoever to offer to procure, or to offer to aid in procuring, the appointment of any deputy officer or attache of the state, county or municipal government of this state, for any consideration contemplating any division or rebate of the salary of such deputy or attache during his term of office, or for any monetary or other valuable consideration whatsoever, or, after such appointment is made, to receive or to accept any portion of the salary of such deputy or attache, or to receive any money or other valuable reward whatsoever, as a consideration for retaining such deputy or attache, or as a consideration for procuring, or for aid in obtaining the procuring of, the retention of such deputy or attache in any position to which he may be or shall have been appointed, or for any purpose whatsoever except in payment of a bona fide debt as hereinafter provided.

6314. Agreement to divide salary, unlawful.

SEC. 49. It shall be unlawful for any deputy officer or attache of the state, county or municipal government of this state to rebate, refund, pay or divide, to or with his principal or to or with any person whomsoever, any part or portion of his salary or compensation now fixed, or that may hereafter be fixed or established, by law, as a consideration either for the making or for the procuring of such appointment, or for aid in procuring the same, or for the retention, or for the procuring or aid in procuring the retention, of such an appointment as deputy or attache, or to make any division or payment out of his salary to this end, except in payment of a bona fide debt as hereinafter provided.

6315. Liability for debt.

SEC. 50. Nothing in the last two preceding sections shall be construed to relieve any deputy officer or attache from the payment of a bona fide debt, contracted for value received, for which a civil action would lie in a court of law, or to prevent such deputy officer or attache from paying the same out of his salary.

6316. Penalty.

SEC. 51. Any person violating any of the provisions of the two preceding sections shall be deemed guilty of bribery, and shall be punished by a fine of not less than one thousand dollars nor more than five thousand dollars, or by imprisonment in the state prison for not less than one nor more than seven years or by both.

6317. Offering reward for appointment.

SEC. 52. Every person who shall give, offer or promise, directly or indirectly, any compensation, gratuity or reward, in consideration that he or another person shall be appointed to a public office or to a clerkship, deputation or other subordinate position in such office, or that he or any other person shall be permitted to exercise, perform or discharge any prerogative or duty or receive any emolument of such office, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

See secs. 1829, 2822.

6318. Bribing legislators, penalty.

SEC. 53. Every person who obtains or seeks to obtain money or other thing of value from another person upon a pretense, claim or representation that he can or will improperly influence in any manner the action of any member of a legislative body in regard to any vote or legislative action, is guilty of a felony, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for a period of not less than two nor more than ten years.

6319. Offering legislative or election bribes, penalty.

SEC. 54. Every person who gives or offers a bribe to any officer or member of any caucus, political convention, committee, primary election, or political gathering of any kind, held for the purpose of nominating candidates for offices of honor, trust, or profit in this state, with intent to influence the person to whom such bribe is given or offered to be more favorable to one candidate than another, shall be guilty of felony, punishable by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars or ten years' imprisonment in the state prison, or both such fine and imprisonment.

6320. Juror and others, accepting bribe.

SEC. 55. Every juror, referee, arbitrator, appraiser, assessor, or other person authorized by law to hear or determine any question, matter, cause, controversy or proceeding, who shall ask or receive, directly or indirectly, any compensation, gratuity or reward, or any promise thereof, upon an agreement or understanding that his vote, opinion, action, judgment or decision shall be influenced thereby, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than ten years, or by fine of not more than five thousand dollars, or by both.

6321. Bribing witness.

SEC. 56. Every person who shall give, offer or promise, directly or indirectly any compensation, gratuity or reward to any witness or person who may be called as a witness, upon an agreement or understanding that the testimony of such witness shall be thereby influenced, or who shall wilfully attempt by any other means to induce any witness or person who may be called as a witness to give false testimony, or to withhold true testimony, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than ten years, or by a fine of not more than five thousand dollars, or by both.

6322. Witness accepting bribe.

SEC. 57. Every person who is or may be a witness upon a trial, hearing, investigation or other proceeding before any court, tribunal or officer authorized to hear evidence or take testimony, who shall ask or receive, directly or indirectly, any compensation, gratuity or reward, or any promise thereof, upon an agreement or understanding that his testimony shall be influenced thereby, or that he will absent himself from the trial, hearing or other proceeding, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than ten years, or by a fine of not more than five thousand dollars, or by both.

6323. Influencing juror.

SEC. 58. Every person who shall influence, or attempt to influence, improperly, a juror in a civil or criminal action or any proceeding, or any person chosen or appointed as an arbitrator or referee, in respect to his verdict, judgment, report, award or decision in any cause or matter pending or about to be brought before him, in any case or in any manner not hereinbefore provided for, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

There is no such crime known to the law as an attempt to commit embracery. Embracery is itself but an attempt to do wrong. It is a crime to solicit another to commit embracery. It is a crime in A to solicit B to attempt to corrupt a juror. State v. Sales, 2 Nev. 268.

6324. Juror, arbitrator or referee promising verdict or decision, or receiving communication.

SEC. 59. Every juror and every person chosen or appointed arbitrator or referee, who shall make any promise or agreement to give a verdict, judgment, report, award or decision for or against any party, or who shall wilfully receive any communication, book, paper, instrument or information relating to a cause or matter pending before him, except according to the regular course of proceeding upon the trial or hearing of such cause or matter, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

6325. Misconduct of officer drawing jury.

SEC. 60. Every person charged by law with the preparation of any jury list or list of names from which any jury is to be drawn, and every person authorized by law to assist at the drawing of a grand or petit jury to attend a court or term of court or to try any cause or issue, who shall:

1. Place in any such list any name at the request or solicitation, direct or indirect, of any person; or
2. Designedly put upon the list of jurors, as having been drawn, any name which was not lawfully drawn for that purpose; or
3. Designedly omit to place upon such list any name which was lawfully drawn; or
4. Designedly sign or certify a list of such jurors as having been drawn which were not lawfully drawn; or
5. Designedly and wrongfully withdraw from the box or other receptacle for the ballots containing the names of such jurors any paper or ballot lawfully placed or belonging there and containing the name of a juror, or omit to place therein any name lawfully drawn or designated, or place therein a paper or ballot containing the name of a person not lawfully drawn and designated as a juror; or

6. In drawing or empaneling such jury, do any act which is unfair, partial or improper in any respect; shall be guilty of a felony.

6326. Soliciting jury duty.

SEC. 61. Every person who shall, directly or indirectly, solicit or request any person charged with the duty of preparing any jury list to put his name, or the name of any other person, on any such list, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

6327. Misconduct of officer in charge of jury.

SEC. 62. Every person to whose charge a jury shall be committed by a court or magistrate, who shall knowingly, without leave of such court or magistrate, permit them or any one of them to receive any communication from any person, to make any communication to any person, to obtain or receive any book, paper or refreshment, or to leave the jury room, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

6328. Offender a competent witness.

SEC. 63. Every person offending against any of the provisions of law relating to bribery or corruption shall be a competent witness against another so offending and shall not be excused from giving testimony tending to criminate himself, but such testimony shall not afterwards be used against him in any judicial proceeding, except for perjury in giving such testimony.

6329. Interfering with public officer.

SEC. 64. Every person who, by means of any threat, force or violence, shall attempt to deter or prevent any executive or administrative officer from performing any duty imposed upon him by law, or who shall knowingly resist by force or violence any executive or administrative officer in the performance of his duty, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

See secs. 6804, 6828.

6330. Grafting.

SEC. 65. Every person who shall ask or receive any compensation, gratuity or reward, or any promise thereof, upon the representation that he can, directly or indirectly, or in consideration that he shall, or shall attempt to, directly or indirectly, influence any public officer, whether executive, administrative, judicial or legislative, to refuse, neglect, or defer the performance of any official duty; or who shall ask or receive any compensation, gratuity or reward, or any promise thereof, the right to retain or receive which shall be conditioned that such person shall, directly or indirectly, successfully influence by any means whatever any executive, administrative or legislative officer, in respect to any act, decision, vote, opinion or other proceeding, as such officer; or who shall ask or receive any compensation, gratuity or reward, or any promise thereof, upon the representation that he can, directly or indirectly, or in consideration that he shall, or shall attempt to, directly or indirectly, influence any public officer, whether executive, administrative, judicial or legislative, in respect to any act, decision, vote, opinion or other proceeding, as such officer, unless it be clearly understood and agreed in good faith between the parties thereto, on both sides, that no means or influence shall be employed except explanation and argument upon the merits, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor, and, in any prosecution, under the third clause of this section, evidence of the means actually employed to influence such officer shall be admitted as proof of the means originally contemplated by the defendant.

6331. Misconduct of public officer.

SEC. 66. Every public officer who shall—

1. Ask or receive, directly or indirectly, any compensation, gratuity or reward, or promise thereof, for omitting or deferring the performance of any official duty; or for any official service which has not been actually rendered, except in case of charges for prospective costs or fees demandable in advance in a case allowed by law; or

2. Be beneficially interested, directly or indirectly, in any contract, sale, lease or purchase which may be made by, through or under the supervision of such officer, in whole or in part, or which may be made for the benefit of his office, or accept, directly or indirectly, any compensation, gratuity or reward from any other person beneficially interested therein; or

3. Employ or use any person, money or property under his official control or direction, or in his official custody, for the private benefit or gain of himself or another;

Shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor, and any contract, sale, lease or purchase mentioned in subdivision 2 hereof shall be void.

Assessor, neglect of duty, section 1574.
City officer, interested in contract, section 812.
Commissioners, auditor and treasurer, neglecting duties of board of examiners, section 1551.
Commissioners, interested in contracts, section 1522.
Commissioners, voting on contract extending beyond term of office, sections 1537, 1538.
County and district recorders violating provisions of mining act, section 1638.
County officers, failure to keep open offices during office hours, section 1565.
County surveyor, neglect of duty, section 1673.
District attorney and partner, opposing each other in same action, section 1611.
District attorney, misfeasance or malfeasance in office, section 1606.
Drunkenness in office, sections 2861–2863.
Mayor or councilmen, malfeasance in office, section 808.
Municipal officer, refusing examination by or information to revenue examiner, section 983.
Officers authorized to take acknowledgments, failure to keep records of official acts, section 1099.
Public administrator, misdemeanor in office, section 1621.
Salaried officers, neglect to pay over fees, section 1698.
Sheriff, charging illegal fees, section 1654.
Town or city officials refusing inspection of town or city finances, section 983.
Voting for excessive municipal tax, section 976.
Voting for unlawful municipal indebtedness, section 981.

For other violations of official duty by various officers, see schedule of statutory offenses under other titles preceding this act.

6332. Intrusion into and refusal to surrender public office.

SEC. 67. Every person who shall falsely personate or represent any public officer, or who shall wilfully intrude himself into a public office to which he has not been duly elected or appointed, or who shall wilfully exercise any of the functions or perform any of the duties of such officer, without having duly qualified therefor, as required by law, or who, having been an executive or administrative officer, shall wilfully exercise any of the functions of his office after his right to do so has ceased, or wrongfully refuse to surrender the official seal or any books or papers appertaining to such office, upon the demand of his lawful successor, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

6333. Disturbing legislature or intimidating member.

SEC. 68. Every person who shall wilfully disturb the legislature of this state, or either house thereof, while in session, or who shall commit any disorderly conduct in the presence or view of either house thereof, tending to interrupt its proceedings or impair the respect due to its authority, or who wilfully, by intimidation or otherwise, shall prevent any member of the legislature from attending any session of the house of which he shall be a member or any committee thereof, or from giving his vote upon any question which may come before such house or committee, or from performing any other official act, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

6334. Witness refusing to attend legislature or committee or to testify.

SEC. 69. Every person duly summoned to attend as a witness before either house of the legislature of this state, or any committee thereof authorized to summon witnesses, who shall refuse or neglect, without lawful excuse, to attend pursuant to such summons, or who shall wilfully refuse to be sworn or to affirm or to answer any material or proper question or to produce, upon reasonable notice, any material or proper books, papers or documents in his possession or under his control, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

6335. Threats to induce extortion, penalty.

SEC. 70. If any person, other than an officer, either verbally or by any written or printed communication, shall maliciously threaten any injury to the person or property of another, with intent thereby to extort money or any pecuniary advantage whatever, or to compel the person so threatened to pay any money or do any act against his or her will, he shall be punished, upon conviction thereof, by imprisonment in the county jail not less than six months nor more than one year, or by a fine not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or by both.

See secs. 173, 474 and 556 of this act.

6336. Rescuing prisoner.

SEC. 71. Every person who shall, by force or fraud, rescue from lawful custody, or from an officer or person having him in lawful custody, a prisoner held upon a charge, arrest, commitment, conviction or sentence for felony, shall be guilty of a felony; and every person who shall rescue a prisoner held upon a charge, arrest, commitment, conviction or sentence for a gross misdemeanor or misdemeanor shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

6337. Taking property from an officer.

SEC. 72. Every person who shall take from the custody of any officer or other person any personal property in his charge under any process of law, or who shall wilfully injure or destroy such property, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

See sec. 7173.

6338. Escaped prisoner recaptured.

SEC. 73. Every person in custody, under sentence of imprisonment for any crime, who shall escape from custody, may be recaptured and imprisoned for a term equal to the unexpired portion of the original term.

6339. Prisoner escaping.

SEC. 74. Every prisoner confined in a prison, or being in the lawful custody of an officer or other person, who shall escape or attempt to escape from such prison or custody, by force or fraud, if he is held on a charge, conviction or sentence of a felony, shall be guilty of a felony; if held on a charge, conviction or sentence of a gross misdemeanor or misdemeanor, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Before any person can be found guilty of prison breaking, the imprisonment from which he attempted to break must be shown to be lawful. It is the legality of the imprisonment and not the guilt or innocence of the defendant which determines the lawfulness of his confinement. Ex Parte Ah Bau, 10 Nev. 264.

If a person with or without force goes away from his place of lawful custody without authority of law, the offense of escaping from jail is complete. Defendant offered to prove in excuse and mitigation of his act that the condition of the jail was intolerable, without offering to show that he had used any lawful means of relief before escaping therefrom: Held, that the testimony as to the condition of the jail was properly excluded. State v. Davis, 14 Nev. 439.

Sufficiency of indictment for an attempt to escape from prison considered in State v. Angelo, 18 Nev. 425 (4 P. 1080).

See State v. Clark, 32 Nev. 145.

The punishment which the prisoner received at the hands of the prison authorities after his recapture, having nothing to do with the question of guilt or innocence, was properly excluded. State v. Angelo, 18 Nev. 425 (4 P. 1080).

Where a person is confined in a jail under an indictment regularly brought against him for a crime and he attempts to escape, he commits a crime, although the bench warrant under which he was arrested was irregularly issued, but, when the imprisonment is unlawful, the right to liberty is absolute, and the one who is confined is not guilty of the offense of escape by regaining it. State v. Clark, 32 Nev. 145 (104 P. 593).

Questions of fact as to the intention of accused in making an attempted escape with which he was charged were for the jury. State v. Grady, 32 Nev. 154 (104 P. 596).

See State v. Ryan, 10 Nev. 261.

6340. Aiding prisoner to escape.

SEC. 75. Every person who, with intent to effect or facilitate the escape of a prisoner, whether such escape shall be effected or attempted or not, shall convey or send to a prisoner any information or aid, or convey or send into a prison any disguise, instrument, weapon or other thing, or aid or assist a prisoner in escaping or attempting to escape from the lawful custody of a sheriff or other officer or person, shall be guilty of a felony if such prisoner is held upon a charge, arrest, commitment, conviction or a sentence for felony, and shall be guilty of a misdemeanor if such prisoner is held upon a charge, arrest, commitment, conviction or sentence for a gross misdemeanor or misdemeanor.

6341. Custodian suffering escape.

SEC. 76. Every person who shall allow a prisoner lawfully in his custody to escape, or shall connive at or assist such escape, or shall omit any act or duty by reason of which omission such escape is occasioned, contributed to or assisted, shall, if he connive at or assist such escape, be guilty of a felony; and in any other case, of a gross misdemeanor.

Sheriff or jailer permitting escape, sec. 1657.

6342. Ministerial officer permitting escape.

SEC. 77. Every officer who shall ask or receive, directly or indirectly any compensation, gratuity or reward, or promise thereof, to procure, assist, connive at or permit any prisoner in his custody to escape, whether such escape shall be attempted or not, or shall commit any unlawful act tending to hinder justice, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

6343. Concealing escaped prisoner.

SEC. 78. Every person who shall conceal, or harbor for the purpose of concealment, a prisoner who has escaped or is escaping from custody, shall be guilty of a felony if the prisoner is held upon a charge or conviction or sentence of felony, and of a misdemeanor if the prisoner is held upon a charge or conviction of a gross misdemeanor or misdemeanor.

6344. Injury to public record.

SEC. 79. Every person who shall wilfully and unlawfully remove, alter, mutilate, destroy, conceal or obliterate a record, map, book, paper, document or other thing filed or deposited in a public office, or with any public officer, by authority of law, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than five years, or by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars, or by both.

Stealing, altering or defacing records, sec. 2817.

6345. Injury to and misappropriation of record.

SEC. 80. Every officer who shall mutilate, destroy, conceal, erase, obliterate or falsify any record or paper appertaining to his office, or who shall fraudulently appropriate to his own use or to the use of another person, or secrete with intent to appropriate to such use, any money, evidence of debt or other property intrusted to him by virtue of his office, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than ten years, or by a fine of not more than five thousand dollars, or by both.

6346. Altering legislative measures.

SEC. 81. Every person who fraudulently alters the drafts of any bill or resolution which has been presented to either of the houses composing the legislature to be passed or adopted, with intent to procure it to be passed or adopted by either house in language different from that intended by such house, is guilty of felony, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in a sum not less than five hundred dollars nor more than two thousand dollars, or confined in the state prison for a period not less than one year nor more than five years, or both.

6347. Altering enrolled bills.

SEC. 82. Every person who fraudulently alters the enrolled copy of any bill or resolution which has been passed or adopted by the legislature of this state, with intent to procure it to be approved by the governor, or certified by the secretary of state, or printed or published by the printer of the statutes in language different from that in which it was passed or adopted by the legislature is guilty of felony, and shall be punished as provided in the preceding section.

6348. Offering false instrument for filing or record.

SEC. 83. Every person who shall knowingly procure or offer any false or forged instrument to be filed, registered or recorded in any public office, which instrument, if genuine, might be filed, registered or recorded in such office under any law of this state or of the United States, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than five years, or by a fine of not more than five thousand dollars, or by both.

6349. False report by public officer.

SEC. 84. Every public officer who shall knowingly make any false or misleading statement in any official report or statement, under circumstances not otherwise prohibited by law, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

CHAPTER 12

CRIMES AND OFFENSES AGAINST PUBLIC JUSTICE

6350. Perjury and subornation.
6351. Attempt to suborn perjury.
6352. Conviction and execution of innocent person by perjury, deemed murder.
6353. "Oath" and "swear" defined.
6354. Irregularity in administering oath, or incompetency of witness no defense.
6355. Deposition, when complete.
6356. Statement of what one does not know to be true.
6357. Offering false evidence.
6358. Destroying evidence.
6359. Tampering with witness.
6360. Neglect or refusal to receive a person into custody.
6361. Refusal to make arrest or to aid officer.
6362. Resisting public officer.
6363. Compounding crimes.
6364. Intimidating public officer.
6365. Malicious prosecution—Penalties.
6366. Inducing law suit, penalty.
6367. Buying or promising reward by justice or constable.
6368. Criminal contempt.
6369. Grand juror acting after challenge allowed.
6370. Production of pretended heir.
6371. Substitution of child.
6372. Instituting suit in name of another.
6373. Unauthorized communication with prisoner.
6374. Disclosing transaction of grand jury.
6375. Public officer making false certificate.
6376. False auditing and paying claims.
6377. Conspiracy.
6378. Overt act not necessary.

6350. Perjury and subornation.

SEC. 85. Every person having taken a lawful oath, or made affirmation in a judicial proceeding, or in any other matter where, by law, an oath or affirmation is required, who shall wilfully and corruptly make an unqualified statement of that which he does not know to be true, or who shall swear or affirm wilfully, corruptly and falsely, in a matter material to the issue or point in question, or who shall suborn any other person to make such unqualified statement, or to swear or affirm, as aforesaid, shall be deemed guilty of perjury, or subornation of perjury, as the case may be, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for any term not less than one or more than fourteen years.

It is perjury to verify an answer in a civil case which contains denials of facts known by the person making the verification to be unquestionably true. Roeder v. Stein, 23 Nev. 92 (42 P. 867).

See schedule of statutory offenses under other titles, "Perjury," preceding this act.

6351. Attempt to suborn perjury.

SEC. 86. Every person who, without giving, offering or promising a bribe, shall incite or attempt to procure another to commit perjury, or to offer any false evidence, or to withhold true testimony, though no perjury be committed or false evidence offered or true testimony withheld, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

6352. Conviction and execution of innocent person deemed murder.

SEC. 87. Every person who, by wilful and corrupt perjury or subornation of perjury, shall procure the conviction and execution of any innocent person, shall be deemed and adjudged guilty of murder, and, upon conviction thereof, shall suffer the punishment of death.

Cited, Sias v. Hallock, 14 Nev. 335.

6353. "Oath" and "swear" defined.

SEC. 88. The term "oath" shall include an affirmation and every other mode authorized by law of attesting the truth of that which is stated. A person who shall state any matter under oath shall be deemed to "swear" thereto.

6354. Irregularity in administering oath or incompetency of witness no defense.

SEC. 89. It shall be no defense to a prosecution for perjury that an oath was administered or taken in an irregular manner or that the defendant was not competent to give the testimony, deposition, certificate or affidavit of which falsehood is alleged. It shall be sufficient that he actually gave such testimony or made such deposition, certificate or affidavit.

6355. Deposition, when complete.

SEC. 90. The making of a deposition, certificate or affidavit shall be deemed to be complete when it is subscribed and sworn to or affirmed by the defendant with intent that it be uttered or published as true.

6356. Statement of what one does not know to be true.

SEC. 91. Every unqualified statement of that which one does not know to be true is equivalent to a statement of that which he knows to be false.

6357. Offering false evidence.

SEC. 92. Every person who, upon any trial, hearing, inquiry, investigation or other proceeding authorized by law, shall offer or procure to be offered in evidence, as genuine, any book, paper, document, record or other instrument in writing, knowing the same to have been forged or fraudulently altered, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than ten years.

6358. Destroying evidence.

SEC. 93. Every person who, with intent to conceal the commission of any felony, or to protect or conceal the identity of any person committing the same, or with intent to delay or hinder the administration of the law or to prevent the production thereof at any time, in any court or before any officer, tribunal, judge or magistrate, shall wilfully destroy, alter, erase, obliterate or conceal any book, paper, record, writing, instrument or thing, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

6359. Tampering with witness.

SEC. 94. Every person who shall wilfully prevent or attempt to prevent, by persuasion, threats or otherwise, any person from appearing before any court, or officer authorized to subpena witnesses, as a witness in any action, proceeding or investigation, with intent thereby to obstruct the course of justice, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

6360. Neglect or refusal to receive a person into custody.

SEC. 95. Every officer who, in violation of any legal duty, shall wilfully neglect or refuse to receive a person into his official custody or into a prison under his charge, shall, in a case where no other punishment is specially provided by law, be guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

See sec. 2820.

6361. Refusal to make arrest or to aid officer.

SEC. 96. Every person who, after having been lawfully commanded by any magistrate to arrest another person, shall wilfully neglect or refuse so to do; and every person who, after having been lawfully commanded to aid an officer in arresting any person, or in retaking any person who has escaped from lawful custody, or in executing any lawful process, shall wilfully negect or refuse to aid such officer, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

See secs. 2833, 6863, 6956.
Failure to aid fish warden on command, sec. 2070.
Refusal to aid state police, sec. 4290.
Refusing to join posse comitatus, sec. 6606.

6362. Resisting public officer.

SEC. 97. Every person who, in any case or under any circumstances not otherwise specially provided for, shall wilfully resist, delay or obstruct a public officer in discharging or attempting to discharge any legal duty of his office, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Molestation of state police in discharge of duty, sec. 4291.

6363. Compounding crimes.

SEC. 98. Every person who shall ask or receive, directly or indirectly, any compensation, gratuity or reward, or any promise thereof, upon an agreement or understanding that he will compound or conceal a crime or violation of a statute, or abstain from testifying thereto, delay a prosecution therefor or withhold any evidence thereof, except in a case where a compromise is allowed by law, shall be guilty—

1. Of a felony and punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than five years, where the agreement or understanding relates to a felony;

2. Of a misdemeanor, where the agreement or understanding relates to a gross misdemeanor or misdemeanor, or to a violation of statute for which a pecuniary penalty or forfeiture is prescribed.

In any proceeding against a person for compounding a crime, it shall not be necessary to prove that any person has been convicted of the crime or violation of statute in relation to which an agreement or understanding herein prohibited was made.

6364. Intimidating public officer.

SEC. 99. Every person who shall directly or indirectly, address any threat or intimidation to a public officer or to a juror, referee, arbitrator, appraiser or assessor, or to any other person authorized by law to hear or determine any controversy or matter, with intent to induce him, contrary to his duty to do or make or to omit or delay any act, decision or determination, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

6365. Malicious prosecution—Penalties.

SEC. 100. Every person who shall, maliciously and without probable cause therefor, cause or attempt to cause another to be arrested or proceeded against for any crime of which he is innocent—

1. If such crime be a felony, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than five years; and,

2. If such crime be a gross misdemeanor or misdemeanor, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

6366. Inducing law suit, penalty.

SEC. 101. Every person who shall on his behalf bring or instigate, incite or encourage another to bring, any false suit at law or in equity, in any court of this state, with intent thereby to distress or harass a defendant therein, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

6367. Buying or promising reward by justice or constable.

SEC. 102. Every justice of the peace or constable who shall, directly or indirectly, buy or be interested in buying anything in action for the purpose of commencing a suit thereon before a justice of the peace, or who shall give or promise any valuable consideration to any person as an inducement to bring, or as a consideration for having brought, a suit before a justice of the peace, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

See sec. 2821.

6368. Criminal contempt.

SEC. 103. Every person who shall commit a contempt of court of any one of the following kinds shall be guilty of a misdemeanor:

1. Disorderly, contemptuous or insolent behavior committed during the sitting of the court, in its immediate view and presence, and directly tending to interrupt its proceedings or to impair the respect due to its authority; or,

2. Behavior of like character in the presence of a referee, while actually engaged in a trial or hearing pursuant to an order of court, or in the presence of a jury while actually sitting in the trial of a cause or upon an inquest or other proceeding authorized by law; or,

3. Breach of the peace, noise or other disturbance directly tending to interrupt the proceedings of a court, jury or referee; or,

4. Wilful disobedience to the lawful process or mandate of a court; or

5. Resistance, wilfully offered, to its lawful process or mandate; or,

6. Contumacious and unlawful refusal to be sworn as a witness or, after being sworn, to answer any legal and proper interrogatory; or,

7. Publication of a false or grossly inaccurate report of its proceedings; or,

8. Assuming to be an attorney or officer of a court or acting as such without authority.

See sec. 2834.

6369. Grand juror acting after challenge allowed.

SEC. 104. Every grand juror who, with knowledge that a challenge interposed against him by a defendant has been allowed, shall be present at, or take part, or attempt to take part, in the consideration of the charge against the defendant who interposed such challenge, or the deliberations of the grand jury thereon, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

6370. Production of pretended heir.

SEC. 105. Every person who shall fraudulently or falsely pretend that any infant child was born of a parent whose child is or would be entitled to inherit real property or to receive any personal property, or who shall falsely represent himself or another to be a person entitled to an interest or share in the estate of a deceased person as executor, administrator, husband, wife, heir, legatee, devisee, next of kin or relative of such deceased person, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than ten years.

6371. Substitution of child.

SEC. 106. Every person to whom a child has been confided for nursing, education or any other purpose, who, with intent to deceive a person, guardian or relative of such child, shall substitute or produce to such parent, guardian or relative, another child or person in the place of the child so confided, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than ten years.

6372. Instituting suit in name of another.

SEC. 107. Every person who shall institute or prosecute any action or other proceeding in the name of another, without his consent and contrary to law, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

6373. Unauthorized communication with prisoner.

SEC. 108. Every person who, not being authorized by law or by any officer authorized thereto, shall have any verbal communication with any prisoner in any jail, prison or other penal institution, or shall bring into or convey out of the same any writing, clothing, food, tobacco or any article whatsoever, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

6374. Disclosing transaction of grand jury.

SEC. 109. Every judge, grand juror, prosecuting attorney, clerk, stenographer or other officer who, except in the due discharge of his official duty, shall disclose the fact that a presentment has been made or indictment found or ordered against any person, before such person shall be in custody; and every grand juror, clerk or stenographer who, except when lawfully required by a court or officer, shall disclose any evidence adduced before the grand jury, or any proceeding, discussion or vote of the grand jury or any member thereof, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

See sec. 7031.

6375. Public officer making false certificate.

SEC. 110. Every public officer who, being authorized by law to make or give a certificate or other writing, shall knowingly make and deliver as true such a certificate or writing containing any statement which he knows to be false, in a case where the punishment thereof is not expressly prescribed by law, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

6376. Falsely auditing and paying claims.

SEC. 111. Every public officer, or person holding or discharging the duties of any public office or place of trust under the state or in any county, town or city, a part of whose duty it is to audit, allow or pay, or take part in auditing, allowing or paying, claims or demands upon the state or such county, town or city, who shall knowingly audit, allow or pay, or, directly or indirectly, consent to or in any way connive at the auditing, allowance or payment of any claim or demand against the state or such county, town or city, which is false or fraudulent or contains any charge, item or claim which is false or fraudulent, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

6377. Conspiracy.

SEC. 112. Whenever two or more persons shall conspire—

1. To commit a crime; or,

2. Falsely and maliciously to procure another to be arrested or proceeded against for a crime; or,

3. Falsely to institute or maintain any action or proceeding; or,

4. To cheat or defraud another out of any property by unlawful or fraudulent means; or,

5. To prevent another from exercising any lawful trade or calling, or from doing any other lawful act, by force, threats or intimidation, or by interfering or threatening to interfere with any tools, implements or property belonging to or used by another, or with the use or employment thereof; or,

6. To commit any act injurious to the public health, public morals, trade or commerce, or for the perversion or corruption of public justice or the due administration of the law; or,

7. To accomplish any criminal or unlawful purpose, or to accomplish a purpose, not in itself criminal or unlawful, by criminal or unlawful means;

Every such person shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

See sec. 6801.

Neither at common law nor under statutes modifying the common-law doctrine is it lawful for workmen to combine to injure another's business by causing his employees to leave his services by intimidation, threats, molestation, or coercion, and such a combination constitutes an indictable conspiracy. The term "boycott" ordinarily means a confederation, generally secret, of many persons whose intent is to injure another by preventing any and all persons from doing business with him through fear of incurring the displeasure, persecution, and vengeance of the conspirators. Branson v. I. W. W., 30 Nev. 270 (95 P. 354).

See State v. Hennessy, 29 Nev. 320 (90 P. 221).

6378. Overt act not necessary.

SEC. 113. In any such proceeding for violation of section 112 of this act, it shall not be necessary to prove that any overt act was done in pursuance of such unlawful conspiracy or combination.

R '13 362

6379. Suicide defined.

SEC. 114. Suicide is the intentional taking of one's own life.

6380. Attempting suicide, penalty.

SEC. 115. Every person who, with intent to take his own life, shall commit upon himself any act dangerous to human life, or which, if committed upon or toward another person and followed by death as a consequence, would render the perpetrator chargeable with homicide, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than two years, or by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars.

See State v. Lindsey, 19 Nev. 47 (3 A. S. 776, 5 P. 822).

6381. Aiding suicide, manslaughter.

SEC. 116. Every person who, in any manner, shall wilfully advise, encourage, abet or assist another in taking his own life shall be guilty of manslaughter.

6382. Abetting attempt at suicide.

SEC. 117. Every person who, in any manner, shall wilfully advise, encourage, abet or assist another person in attempting to take the latter's life shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than ten years.

6383. Incapacity of person aided no defense.

SEC. 118. The fact that the person attempting to take his own life was incapable of committing crime shall not be a defense to a prosecution under either of sections 116 or 117 of this act.

6384. Murder defined.

SEC. 119. Murder is the unlawful killing of a human being, with malice aforethought, either express or implied. The unlawful killing may be effected by any of the various means by which death may be occasioned.

See sec. 7174.

To convict one on trial for murder it is necessary, not only to prove the prisoner committed the offense charged, but committed it within the territorial jurisdiction of the court and grand jury where the indictment is found. The defendant under all circumstances is entitled to an instruction embodying these two principles of law. On a trial for murder, the good character of the defendant may be proved to explain the motive when the fact of the killing is not denied. People v. Gleason, 1 Nev. 173.

Length of time for deliberation is not an essential ingredient in murder in the first degree. It is sufficient if the design to murder was formed before the striking of the fatal blow. Where there is a preconceived design to commit some felony other than murder, and the result of the attempt, unintentional on the part of the felon, proves fatal to a human being, this premeditated felony would make malice aforethought at common law. But this would not be wilful, deliberate, premeditated killing under our statute, because of the absence of intent to take life. State v. Millain, 3 Nev. 409. (See dissenting opinion of Lewis, J.) Idem.

Where the pistol with which the crime was committed belongs to defendant and was found in the defendant's bedroom shortly after a homicide: Held, that these facts tended to establish one link in the chain of circumstantial evidence and the court was not authorized to withdraw its consideration from the jury. The fact that other parties had access to the room might have the tendency to weaken the force of this link, but it would not of itself destroy it. State v. Larkin, 11 Nev. 314.

There may be murder without any intent to kill. A voluntary killing which is committed in the prosecution of a felonious intent, is murder; and if the felony attempted is arson, rape, robbery, or burglary, it is murder in the first degree. Taking money from the person of another, is not necessarily robbery and it is inaccurate to say in an instruction that killing "in the attempt to take money" is murder in the first degree. State v. Lopez, 15 Nev. 407.

An instruction that to constitute malice aforethought it was only necessary that there should be a formed intention to kill; that malice aforethought means the intention to kill: Held, error, as murder is an inference to be drawn from all the facts in the case and is not established by mere proof of an intentional killing, for there may be an intentional killing in justifiable self-defense or where the crime only amounts to manslaughter. State v. Vaughan, 22 Nev. 285 (39 P. 733).

A murder not perpetrated by means of poison, lying in wait, or torture, nor in the perpetration, or attempt to perpetrate, arson, rape, robbery or burglary, can only become murder in the first degree by being wilful, deliberate and premeditated; an instruction which ignores these conditions, and informs the jury that, if they find that the defendant unlawfully and with malice aforethought killed the deceased, their verdict must be murder in the first degree, is erroneous. The words "wilful, deliberate and premeditated," as used in the statute, defining murder in the first degree, are not synonymous with "malice aforethought." State v. Wong Fun, 22 Nev. 336 (40 P. 95).

See State v. Thompson, 12 Nev. 140.

A surgeon who has held an autopsy may give his opinion regarding the course of the bullet and incidentally as to the relative position of the parties at the time the fatal shot was fired. State v. Buralli, 27 Nev. 41 (71 P. 532).

Where a homicide occurred as a part of a continuous assault about two minutes after the robbery and was for the apparent purpose of preventing detection, defendant was guilty of murder in the first degree. State v. Williams, 28 Nev. 395 (82 P. 363).

In a murder case, decedent was shot twice, and accused admitted firing both shots. The first shot he contended was fired in self-defense, and the second as the result of an accidental discharge of his weapon. A witness who saw the shooting subsequently performed an autopsy, and testified, describing the course of each bullet, and that the wound from either shot was sufficient to cause death: Held, that if it was error to permit the witness to give his opinion as to which was the first wound received, it was not prejudicial. A charge that it is only necessary that the act of unlawful killing be preceded by a concurrence of the will, deliberation, and premeditation on the part of the slayer, if erroneous for omitting the words "and the result of," after "preceded by," it was not prejudicial, where accused was convicted of second-degree murder. State v. Jackman, 31 Nev. 511 (104 P. 13).

The statute making all murder by poison, lying in wait, or torture, or any other kind of wilful, deliberate and premeditated killing, or that committed in the perpetration or attempt to perpetrate any robbery or other enumerated felony, murder in the first degree, and under an indictment charging a killing with malice aforethought, accused may be convicted of either wilful, deliberate, and premeditated killing, or of a killing committed in the perpetration of a robbery, whether wilful, deliberate, and premeditated or not; but if the indictment should allege that a killing was committed in the perpetration of a robbery, and the evidence should indicate that the killing was premeditated, but not in the perpetration of robbery, the variance would be fatal. A killing committed in the perpetration of a robbery is presumed to have been wilful, deliberate and premeditated. State v. Mangana, 33 Nev. — (112 P. 693).

The words "deliberate" and "premeditated," as used in our statutory definition of murder, are of similar import—each implies the other, and it makes no difference whether they are used conjunctively or disjunctively. During the trial defendant moved the court, upon an affidavit showing the materiality of the testimony, to order an examination of the body of the deceased, and to have the bullets found in his head extracted and produced in court: Held, that the court did not err in denying the motion. State v. McLane, 15 Nev. 346.

Charging the homicide to have been with "malice aforethought" is tantamount to an averment that the act was "wilful, deliberate, and premeditated." State v. Hing, 16 Nev. 307.

Where evidence is offered to prove a certain state of facts, and the claim is made that they are proved, the court should, if requested so to do, charge the jury what the law is applicable to the facts claimed to be proved. In reviewing an instruction: Held, that it mattered not which of the parties owned the ore, or was in possession of it, lawfully or unlawfully, since the verdict was manslaughter only; that in any event the defendant was guilty of that unless, without his own fault, he had reason to believe, and did believe, as a reasonable man, at the time of the fatal shot, that he was in serious danger of receiving great bodily injury or of losing his life at the hands of deceased. When the character of a weapon is not doubtful and does not depend upon its use, as, for instance, a loaded pistol, the court has the right to declare it a deadly weapon. The court, of its own motion, instructed the jury: "If you believe from the evidence that the defendant is guilty, then, if the defendant has proved a previous good character for peace and quietness, such good character would be of no avail to him, and would not authorize an acquittal": Held, not erroneous. Testimony as to the previous good character of a defendant is admissible in evidence and should always be considered by the jury in connection with all the other facts and circumstances; but if the jury believe from the evidence that the defendant is guilty, they must so find, notwithstanding his good character. State v. Levigne, 17 Nev. 435 (30 P. 1084).

When a defendant is convicted of the crime of murder, alleged to have been committed by the administering of poison, the jury may find the defendant guilty of murder in the second degree, for the reason that the statute leaves the question of degree to be settled by the jury. If the jury fix the crime at murder in the second degree, in a case where the law and the facts make it murder in the first degree, it is an error in favor of the prisoner, of which the law will not take any cognizance, and of which the prisoner ought not to complain. Instructions to the effect that in the event of the defendant's preparing poison with suicidal intent and the deceased person having drank the same by mistake that the defendant would be "liable for the consequences," in the same connection stating correctly what the consequences would be, are not erroneous or misleading. State v. Lindsey, 19 Nev. 47 (3 A. S. 776, 5 P. 822).

If an intent to commit a felony be abandoned voluntarily and freely before the act is put in process of final execution, there being no outside cause prompting such abandonment, this is a defense, but if such abandonment is caused by fear of detection, it is no defense if the attempt progresses sufficiently towards execution to be per se indictable before such abandonment. Where a party, while attempting to perpetrate a robbery, shoots and kills the party attempted to be robbed, he is guilty of murder in the first degree. The jury may be instructed that if they find that the accused shot and killed the deceased while attempting to perpetrate a robbery on him, they had "no option but to find the perpetrator guilty of murder in the first degree." State v. Gray, 19 Nev. 213 (8 P. 456).

See State v. Pierce, 8 Nev. 291; State v. Smith, 10 Nev. 106; State v. Thompson, 12 Nev. 140.

6385. Express malice defined.

SEC. 120. Express malice is that deliberate intention unlawfully to take away the life of a fellow creature, which is manifested by external circumstances capable of proof.

Express malice necessarily renders any murder murder of the first degree. State v. Lopez, 15 Nev. 408.

6386. Degrees of murder—Punishment.

SEC. 121. Malice shall be implied when no considerable provocation appears, or when all the circumstances of the killing show an abandoned and malignant heart. All murder which shall be perpetrated by means of poison, or lying in wait, torture, or by any other kind of wilful, deliberate, and premeditated killing, or which shall be committed in the perpetration, or attempt to perpetrate, any arson, rape, robbery, or burglary, shall be deemed murder of the first degree; and all other kinds of murder shall be deemed murder of the second degree; and the jury before whom any person indicted for murder shall be tried, shall, if they find such person guilty thereof, designate by their verdict whether it be murder of the first or second degree; but, if such person shall be convicted on confession in open court, the court shall proceed, by examination of witnesses, to determine the degree of the crime, and give sentence accordingly. Every person convicted of murder in the first degree shall suffer death or confinement in the state prison for life, at the discretion of the jury trying the same; or upon a plea of guilty the court shall determine the same; and every person convicted of murder of the second degree shall suffer imprisonment in the state prison for a term of not less than ten years, and which may be extended to life.

6387. Manslaughter defined.

SEC. 122. Manslaughter is the unlawful killing of a human being, without malice express or implied, and without any mixture of deliberation. It must be voluntary, upon a sudden heat of passion, caused by a provocation apparently sufficient to make the passion irresistible; or, involuntary, in the commission of an unlawful act, or a lawful act without due caution or circumspection.

Where there is no evidence tending to reduce a homicide to the grade of manslaughter, it is not error for the court to refuse instructions upon the law of manslaughter. State v. Johnny, 29 Nev. 203 (87 P. 3), citing to same effect State v. Donovan, 10 Nev. 36; State v. Millain, 3 Nev. 409.

See State v. Smith, 10 Nev. 106.

6388. Voluntary manslaughter defined.

SEC. 123. In cases of voluntary manslaughter, there must be a serious and highly provoking injury inflicted upon the person killing, sufficient to excite an irresistible passion in a reasonable person, or an attempt by the person killed to commit a serious personal injury on the person killing.

6389. When punished as murder.

SEC. 124. The killing must be the result of that sudden, violent impulse of passion supposed to be irresistible; for, if there should appear to have been an interval between the assault or provocation given and the killing, sufficient for the voice of reason and humanity to be heard, the killing shall be attributed to deliberate revenge, and punished as murder.

6390. Involuntary manslaughter defined.

SEC. 125. Involuntary manslaughter shall consist in the killing of a human being, without any intent so to do, in the commission of an unlawful act, or a lawful act which probably might produce such a consequence in an unlawful manner; provided, that where such involuntary killing shall happen in the commission of an unlawful act, which, in its consequences, naturally tends to destroy the life of a human being, or is committed in the prosecution of a felonious intent, the offense shall be deemed and adjudged to be murder.

There is no such crime known to the law as an attempt to commit embracery. Embracery is itself but an attempt to do wrong. It is a crime to solicit another to commit embracery. State v. Sales, 2 Nev. 268.

Under an indictment for murder a defendant may be lawfully convicted of an assault with intent to kill. Ex Parte Curnow, 21 Nev. 33 (24 P. 430).

Where the evidence shows defendant to be guilty of robbery, he cannot complain that he was convicted of an attempt to commit the crime. State v. O'Keefe, 23 Nev. 127 (62 A. S. 768, 43 P. 918).

This section applies to all offenses then or thereafter defined by statute, and therefore one charged under a later statute with selling liquor to an Indian may be convicted of an attempt to commit that offense. Ex Parte Finnegan, 27 Nev. 57 (71 P. 642).

The word "attempt" used in an indictment charging a defendant with an attempt to escape from jail implies both an intent and an endeavor to accomplish such escape. State v. Clark, 32 Nev. 145 (104 P. 593).

An attempt to commit a crime contains three elements—the intent, the performance of some act toward its commission, and failure of consummation. State v. Thompson, 31 Nev. 209 (101 P. 557).

See State v. Raymond, 33 Nev. — (117 P. 1); State v. Kelly, 1 Nev. 227; State v. Harris, 12 Nev. 422; State v. Lopez, 15 Nev. 408, 413, 415; State v. Gray, 19 Nev. 220 (8 P. 456); State v. Hartley, 22 Nev. 362 (28 L. R. A. 33, 40 P. 372).

6391. Manslaughter, punishment.

SEC. 126. Every person convicted of the crime of manslaughter shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for a term not exceeding ten years.

6392. Death within a year and a day.

SEC. 127. In order to make the killing either murder or manslaughter, it is requisite that the party die within a year and a day after the stroke received, or the cause of death administered, in the computation of which the whole of the day on which the act was done shall be reckoned the first.

An indictment charging that a mortal wound was inflicted on a date about four months before the finding of the indictment, and that deceased died from it in the meantime, sufficiently charges that death occurred within a year and a day after the infliction of the wound. State v. Williams, 31 Nev. 360 (102 P. 974).

See State v. Huff, 11 Nev. 20.

6393. Place of trial for homicide.

SEC. 128. If the injury be inflicted in one county, and the party die within another county, or without the state, the accused shall be tried in the county where the act was done, or the cause of death administered. If the party killing shall be in one county, and the party killed in another county, at the time the cause of death shall be administered, the accused may be tried in either county.

6394. Justifiable homicide defined.

SEC. 129. Justifiable homicide is the killing of a human being in necessary self-defense, or in defense of habitation, property, or person, against one who manifestly intends, or endeavors, by violence or surprise, to commit a felony, or against any person or persons who manifestly intend and endeavor, in a violent, riotous, or tumultuous manner, to enter the habitation of another, for the purpose of assaulting or offering personal violence to any person dwelling or being therein.

See secs. 6384, 6395, 6859–6861.

A requested instruction, on a trial for murder, wherein it was contended that the killing was in defense, not only of defendant, but also of another, that the law makes it the duty of everyone who sees a felony attempted by violence to prevent it, if possible, and that one may kill in the defense of another under the same circumstances that he would have a right to kill in defense of himself, should have been given, notwithstanding an instruction was given which was substantially the statutory definition of justifiable homicide. State v. Hennessy, 29 Nev. 320 (90 P. 221).

Threats by decedent to kill defendant the first time he saw him, made within an hour before the shooting, are admissible, although they were not communicated to defendant, on the issue of who was the aggressor. State v. Jackman, 29 Nev. 403 (91 P. 143).

While the burden of establishing self-defense is on accused, he is not required to establish such fact beyond a reasonable doubt; an instruction requiring such a degree of proof is prejudicial error. State v. Skinner, 32 Nev. 70 (104 P. 223).

See State v. Smith, 10 Nev. 106; State v. Hartley, 22 Nev. 362 (28 L. R. A. 33, 40 P. 372); State v. Stewart, 9 Nev. 121.

6395. What necessary for defense.

SEC. 130. A bare fear of any of these offenses, to prevent which the homicide is alleged to have been committed, shall not be sufficient to justify the killing. It must appear that the circumstances were sufficient to excite the fears of a reasonable person, and that the party killing really acted under the influence of those fears and not in a spirit of revenge.

See secs. 6384, 6394.

Where a person, without voluntary seeking, provoking, inviting, or willingly engaging in a difficulty of his own free will, is attacked by an assailant, and it is necessary for him to take the life of his assailant to protect his own, then he need not flee for safety, but has the right to stand his ground and slay his adversary. State v. Grimet, 33 Nev. — (112 P. 273).

The character of the deceased can only be brought in issue where the circumstances are such as to raise a doubt whether the homicide was committed in malice or was prompted by the instinct of self preservation: Held, upon a review of the facts, that no evidence as to the character of the deceased would have justified defendant's action, or had any tendency to reduce the offense. State v. Pearce, 15 Nev. 188; State v. Levigne, 17 Nev. 435 (30 P. 1084); State v. Harrington, 12 Nev. 136; State v. Stewart, 9 Nev. 121; State v. Smith, 10 Nev. 106; State v. Hartley, 22 Nev. 362 (28 L. R. A. 33, 40 P. 372).

6396. Justifiable homicide by public officer.

SEC. 131. Homicide is justifiable when committed by a public officer, or person acting under his command and in his aid, in the following cases:

1. In obedience to the judgment of a competent court.

2. When necessary to overcome actual resistance to the execution of the legal process, mandate or order of a court or officer, or in the discharge of a legal duty.

3. When necessary in retaking an escaped or rescued prisoner who has been committed, arrested for, or convicted of a felony; or in arresting a person who has committed a felony and is fleeing from justice; or in attempting, by lawful ways or means, to apprehend a person for a felony actually committed; or in lawfully suppressing a riot or preserving the peace.

See State v. Ferguson, 9 Nev. 106.

6397. What considered justifiable or excusable homicide.

SEC. 132. All other instances which stand upon the same footing of reason and justice as those enumerated, shall be considered justifiable or excusable homicide.

6398. Homicide by other person, when justifiable.

SEC. 133. Homicide is also justifiable when committed either—

1. In the lawful defense of the slayer, or his or her husband, wife, parent, child, brother or sister, or of any other person in his presence or company, when there is reasonable ground to apprehend a design on the part of the person slain to commit a felony or to do some great personal injury to the slayer or to any such person, and there is imminent danger of such design being accomplished; or,

2. In the actual resistance of an attempt to commit a felony upon the slayer, in his presence, or upon or in a dwelling, or other place of abode, in which he is.

See secs. 6859-6861.
See State v. Hennessy, 29 Nev. 320 (90 P. 221), under sec. 6394.

6399. Mitigating circumstances, who to prove.

SEC. 134. The killing being proved, the burden of proving circumstances of mitigation, or that justify or excuse the homicide, will devolve on the accused, unless the proof on the part of the prosecution sufficiently manifests that the crime committed only amounts to manslaughter, or that the accused was justified, or excused in committing the homicide.

See State v. Skinner, 32 Nev. 70 (104 P. 223); State v. McCluer, 5 Nev. 137; State v. Pierce, 8 Nev. 302; State v. Marks, 15 Nev. 37.

6400. Excusable homicide by misadventure.

SEC. 135. Excusable homicide by misadventure, is when a person is doing a lawful act, without any intention of killing, yet unfortunately kills another, as where a man is at work with an ax, and the head flies off and kills a bystander, or where a parent is moderately correcting his child, or a master his pupil, or an officer punishing a criminal, and happens to occasion death, it is only a misadventure, for the act of correction was lawful; but if a parent or master exceed the bounds of moderation, or the officer the sentence under which he acts, either in the manner, the instrument, or quantity of punishment, and death ensue, it will be manslaughter or murder, according to the circumstances of the case.

6401. Appearing justifiable, acquittal.

SEC. 136. The homicide appearing to be justifiable or excusable, the person indicted shall, upon his trial, be fully acquitted and discharged.

6402. Killing in self-defense.

SEC. 137. If a person kill another in self-defense, it must appear that the danger was so urgent and pressing, that, in order to save his own life, or to prevent his receiving great bodily harm, the killing of the other was absolutely necessary; and it must appear, also, that the person killed was the assailant, or that the slayer had really, and in good faith, endeavored to decline any further struggle before the mortal blow was given.

See State v. Grimet, 33 Nev.— (112 P. 273), under sec. 6395; State v. Forsha, 8 Nev. 140; State v. Smith, 10 Nev. 122.

6403. Killing unborn quick child.

SEC. 138. The wilful killing of an unborn quick child, by any injury committed upon the mother of such child, is manslaughter.

6404. Administering poison.

SEC. 139. Every person who shall wilfully and maliciously administer, or cause to be administered to or taken by any person, any poison, or other noxious or destructive substance or liquid, with the intention to cause the death of such person, and being thereof duly convicted, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for a term not less than ten years, and which may extend to life.

6405. Woman taking drugs to procure miscarriage.

SEC. 140. Every woman quick with child who shall take or use, or submit to the use of, any drug, medicine or substance, or any instrument or other means, with intent to procure her own miscarriage, unless the same is necessary to preserve her own life or that of the child whereof she is pregnant, and thereby causes the death of such child, shall be guilty of manslaughter.

6406. Killing by overloading passenger vessel.

SEC. 141. Every person navigating a vessel for gain who shall wilfully or negligently receive so many passengers or such a quantity of other lading on board, that by means thereof such vessel shall sink, be overset or injured, and thereby a human being shall be drowned or otherwise killed, shall be guilty of manslaughter.

6407. Owner of vicious animal may become guilty of manslaughter.

SEC. 142. If the owner or custodian of any vicious or dangerous animal, knowing its propensities, shall wilfully or negligently allow it to go at large, and such animal while at large shall kill a human being not himself in fault, such owner or custodian shall be guilty of manslaughter.

6408. Reckless operation of steamboat or engine.

SEC. 143. Every person having charge of a steamboat used for the conveyance of passengers, or of a boiler or engine thereof, who, from ignorance, recklessness or gross negligence, or for the purpose of excelling another boat in speed, shall create or allow to be created such an undue quantity of steam as to burst the boiler or other apparatus in which it is generated or contained, or to break any apparatus or machinery connected therewith, whereby the death of a human being is occasioned; and every engineer or other person having charge of a steam boiler, steam engine or other apparatus for generating or applying steam, who, wilfully or from ignorance or gross negligence, shall create or allow to be created such an undue quantity of steam as to burst the boiler, engine or apparatus, or to cause any other accident, whereby the death of a human being is occasioned, shall be guilty of manslaughter.

6409. Keeping explosive unlawfully.

SEC. 144. Every person who shall make or keep gunpowder, or any other explosive substance, in a city or village, in any quantity or manner prohibited by law or by ordinance of such municipality, if an explosion thereof shall occur whereby the death of a human being is occasioned, shall be guilty of manslaughter.

See secs. 1947, 6560.

6410. Liability of intoxicated physician.

SEC. 145. Every physician or surgeon, or person practicing as such, who, being in a state of intoxication, or under the influence of any narcotic drug, shall prescribe or administer any poison, drug or medicine, or do any other act as a physician, to another person, which, though done without design, shall cause the death of the latter, shall be guilty of manslaughter.

6411. Assault and intimidation.

SEC. 146. If any person shall assault and beat another with a cowhide, stick, or whip, having at the time, in his possession, a pistol or other deadly weapon, with intent to intimidate and prevent the person assaulted from defending himself, such person shall, on conviction thereof, be imprisoned in the state prison not less than one or more than ten years.

6412. Assault defined.

SEC. 147. An assault is an unlawful attempt, coupled with a present ability, to commit a violent injury on the person of another, and every person convicted thereof shall be fined not exceeding five hundred dollars, or imprisoned in the county jail not exceeding six months.

See note to sec. 6413.

See State v. O'Connor, 11 Nev. 423; State ex rel. Quinn v. District Court, 16 Nev. 76; State v. Warren, 18 Nev. 463 (5 P. 134).

6413. Assault with intent to commit a crime.

SEC. 148. An assault with intent to kill, commit rape, the infamous crime against nature, mayhem, robbery, or grand larceny, shall subject the offender to imprisonment in the state prison for a term not less than one year, nor more than fourteen years; provided, that if an assault with intent to commit rape be made, and if such crime be accompanied with acts of extreme cruelty and great bodily injury inflicted, the person guilty thereof shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for a term of not less than fourteen years, or he shall suffer death, if the jury by their verdict affix the death penalty. An assault with a deadly weapon, instrument or other thing, with an intent to inflict upon the person of another a bodily injury, where no considerable provocation appears, or where the circumstances of the assault show an abandoned and malignant heart, shall subject the offender to imprisonment in the state prison not less than one year or exceeding two years, or to a fine not less than one thousand, nor exceeding five thousand dollars, or to both such fine and imprisonment.

In an indictment for assault with a deadly weapon with intent to inflict upon the person of another a bodily injury, which is in other respects good, the mere addition of the words "did strike and stab" are simply surplusage and do not vitiate. In a prosecution for an assault with a deadly weapon with intent to inflict upon the person of another a bodily injury, properly charged, a verdict of "guilty" is in effect a verdict of guilty as charged in the indictment. Acts occurring a day or two prior to the assault and known to the defendant cannot of themselves alone be shown as evidence of a provocation for the assault. In cases where a provocation either mitigates or justifies an act of violence, such an act must be the immediate result of and closely follow the provocation. As a general rule, the determination as to what length of time may intervene between an act of provocation and the commission of a crime should be left to the jury, when the provocation is not so far distant as to leave no doubt. The simple exercise of a legal right, no matter how offensive to another, is never in law deemed provocation sufficient to justify or mitigate an act of violence. Under the statute relating to the crime of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to inflict upon the person of another a bodily injury, a court has no authority to impose a fine of any sum less than one thousand dollars, though the sentence may also be for imprisonment. Where the court below in a criminal case imposed a less fine than that fixed by statute, it was on appeal stricken out from the sentence. State v. Lawry, 4 Nev. 161.

An intent to murder cannot be conclusively inferred from the mere use of a deadly weapon; and an instruction to the jury to that effect in a murder trial, is error. When a deadly weapon is used in a manner likely to occasion the death of another, and death is the result, the presumptions are that the person using it intended to kill, and that such intent is a malicious one, but neither presumption is conclusive. State v. Newton, 4 Nev. 410.

To constitute the crime of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to inflict a bodily injury, there must be an unlawful attempt with a weapon, deadly either in its nature or capable of being used in a deadly manner, to inflict a bodily injury, and with the present ability so to do. Where, on a trial for assault with a deadly weapon with intent to inflict a bodily injury, it appeared that defendant, within shooting, but not within striking distance, held a capped pistol in his hand, pointed it at the prosecutor, and attempted to discharge it: Held, that there could be no conviction without proof that the pistol was loaded. A pistol may be a deadly weapon under some circumstances without being loaded, but not so unless it can be used in some other deadly manner beside shooting. The fact that an attempt was made to use a pistol as if it were loaded is not of itself sufficient to warrant an inference that it was loaded. To warrant a conviction for assault with a deadly weapon with intent to inflict a bodily injury, there must be a showing of both ability and intention to commit the offense. State v. Napper, 6 Nev. 113.

It cannot be said that an indictment, which charges "an assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill," does not charge the statutory offense of "an assault with intent to kill" merely because it describes the means or instrument of the assault. It is not necessary to include in an indictment a formal statement of the crime of which the defendant is accused according to the statutory designation; a statement of the acts constituting the offense is sufficient. It is not necessary in charging an assault to allege a present ability to kill or inflict injury. As a general rule, the question whether a particular weapon is deadly or not is one of law for the court and not of fact for the jury. State v. Rigg, 10 Nev. 284.

Malice or deliberate purpose on the part of the defendant is not a necessary element of the crime of assault with intent to kill. State v. Tickel, 13 Nev. 502; State v. O'Connor, 11 Nev. 424.

The crime of assault with intent to kill consists of two essential elements, the act of the assaulter and the intent; and to convict one of this crime it is necessary that the intent to kill must be alleged and proved beyond a reasonable doubt. State v. Rodriguez, 31 Nev. 342 (102 P. 863).

It is the character of the weapon and the manner in which it is used (not the purpose for which it is carried), taken in connection with the facts and circumstances of the assault, that indicates the intention of the defendant. Where the character of the weapon, whether deadly or not, is doubtful, or where its character depends upon the particular manner in which it was used, the question is one of fact, and should be submitted to the jury. State v. Davis, 14 Nev. 407.

The court instructed the jury that "an assault with intent to kill, is an unlawful attempt, coupled with a present ability, to kill another person under such circumstances as would constitute an unlawful killing, had the death of the person assaulted actually resulted": Held, correct. State v. Marks, 15 Nev. 33.

The sufficiency of an indictment must be determined with reference to the crime charged, and if the indictment is good for the crime of "an assault with intent to kill," it is sufficient to sustain a conviction of "an assault with a deadly weapon, with intent to inflict bodily injury." The graver charge includes the less. In an indictment for an assault with intent to kill it is not necessary to allege in direct terms that the instrument used was a deadly weapon. The means of effecting the criminal intent, or the circumstances of evincing the design with which the assault was made, are matters of evidence, and need not be set forth in the indictment. When there is any doubt as to whether the instrument used in committing the assault was a deadly weapon, it is a question for the court and jury to decide. State v. Collyer, 17 Nev. 275 (30 P. 891).

Declarations, made by the person assaulted, to persons who were present a few minutes after the difficulty, to the effect that the defendant made the assault, are not admissible as part of the res gestæ. State v. Dougherty, 17 Nev. 376 (30 P. 1074).

See State v. Roderigas, 7 Nev. 328, 329; State v. Robey, 8 Nev. 321; State v. Johnson, 9 Nev. 175, 178; State v. Pickett, 11 Nev. 259; Ex Parte Tani, 29 Nev. 388, 401, 13 L. R. A. (N. S.) 518, 91 P. 137.

6414. Assault and battery defined, penalty.

SEC. 149. Assault and battery is the unlawful beating of another, and a person duly convicted thereof shall be fined in any sum not exceeding five hundred dollars, or imprisoned in the county jail for a term not exceeding six months.

6415. Provoking assault.

SEC. 150. Every person who shall by word, sign or gesture, wilfully provoke, or attempt to provoke, another person to commit an assault or breach of the peace, shall be guilty of misdemeanor.

6416. Mayhem defined. penalty.

SEC. 151. Mayhem consists of unlawfully depriving a human being of a member of his or her body, or disfiguring or rendering it useless. If any person shall cut out or disable the tongue, put out an eye, slit the nose, ear, or lip, or disable any limb or member of another, or shall voluntarily, or of purpose, put out an eye or eyes, every such person shall be guilty of mayhem. The crime of mayhem shall be punishable by imprisonment in the state prison for a term not exceeding fourteen years.

6417. Idem—Instrument or manner of maiming.

SEC. 152. To constitute mayhem it is immaterial by what means or instrument or in what manner the injury was inflicted.

6418. Idem—Recovery from injury, when a defense.

SEC. 153. Whenever upon a trial for mayhem it shall appear that the injury inflicted will not result in any permanent disfiguration of appearance, diminution of vigor, or other permanent injury, no conviction for maiming shall be had, but the defendant may be convicted of assault in any degree.

6419. Kidnaping defined—How punished.

SEC. 154. Every person who shall wilfully—

1. Seize, confine, or inveigle another with intent to cause him without authority of law to be secretly confined or imprisoned, or in any way held to service, or with intent to extort or obtain money or reward for his return, release, or disposition, or to lead, take, entice away, or detain, a child under the age of sixteen years with intent to conceal him from his parent, guardian or other person having lawful care or control of him, or to steal any article upon his person; or,

2. Abduct, entice, or by force or fraud unlawfully take or carry away another to or from a place without the state, and shall afterwards send, bring or keep such person, or cause him to be kept or secreted within this state;

Shall be guilty of kidnaping, and punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not less than five years.

6420. Selling services of person kidnaped.

SEC. 155. Every person, who within this state or elsewhere, shall sell or in any manner transfer for any term, the services or labor of any person who has been forcibly taken, inveigled, or kidnaped in or from this state, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than ten years.

6421. Idem—Venue—Effect of consent.

SEC. 156. Any proceeding for kidnaping may be instituted either in the county where the offense was committed or in any county through or in which the person kidnaped or confined was taken or kept while under confinement or restraint. Upon a trial for violation of section 154 or 155 of this act, the consent thereto of the person kidnaped or confined shall not be a defense unless it appears satisfactorily to the jury that such person was above the age of sixteen years and that his consent was not extorted by threats, duress or fraud.

6422. Dueling—Death by deemed murder.

SEC. 157. If any person shall, by previous appointment or agreement, fight a duel with a rifle, shotgun, pistol, bowie knife, dirk, smallsword, backsword, or other dangerous weapon, and in so doing shall kill his antagonist, or any person or persons, or shall inflict such wound as that the party or parties injured shall die thereof within one year thereafter, every such offender shall be deemed guilty of murder in the first degree, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished accordingly.

See sec. 2823.

6423. Disfranchisement for dueling.

SEC. 158. Any person who shall engage in a duel with any deadly weapon, although no homicide ensue, or shall challenge another to fight such duel, or shall send or deliver any verbal or written message purporting or intending to be such challenge, although no duel ensue, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison not less than two nor more than ten years, and shall be incapable of voting or holding any office of trust or profit under the laws of this state.

See secs. 250, 370, 371.

6424. Competent witness in trial for dueling.

SEC. 159. Any and every person who shall be present at the time of fighting any duel with deadly weapons, either as second, aid, surgeon, or spectator, or who shall advise or give assistance to such duel, shall be a competent witness against any person offending against any of the provisions of section 157 or 158, and may be compelled to appear and give evidence before any justice of the peace, grand jury, or court, in the same manner as other witnesses; but the testimony so given shall not be used in any prosecution or proceeding, civil or criminal, against the person so testifying.

6425. Posting for not fighting duel, penalty.

SEC. 160. If any person shall post another, or, in writing, or print, or orally shall use any reproachful or contemptuous language to, or concerning another, for not fighting a duel, or for not sending or accepting a challenge, he shall be imprisoned in the state prison for a term not less than six months nor more than one year, and fined in any sum not less than five hundred nor exceeding one thousand dollars.

6426. Penalty for dueling—Acting as second—Deemed manslaughter.

SEC. 161. If any person or persons, with or without deadly weapons, upon previous concert and agreement, fight one with the other or give or send, or authorize any other person to give or send, a challenge verbally or in writing, to fight any other person, the person or persons giving, sending or accepting a challenge to fight any other person, with or without weapons, upon conviction thereof shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison not less than two years, or more than five years; and every person who shall act for another in giving, sending, or accepting, either verbally or in writing, a challenge, to fight any other person, upon conviction thereof they, or either, or any of them, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison not less than two years or more than five years. Should death ensue to any person in such fight, or should any person die from any injuries received in such fight within one year and one day, the person or persons causing, or having any agency in causing such death, either by fighting or by giving or sending for himself, or for any other person, or in receiving for himself, or for any other person, such challenge to fight, shall be deemed guilty of manslaughter, and punished accordingly.

See sec. 2823.
See Ex Parte Finlen, 20 Nev. 141 (18 P. 827).

6427. Robbery defined—Penalty.

SEC. 162. Robbery is the unlawful taking of personal property from the person of another, or in his presence, against his will, by means of force or violence or fear of injury, immediate or future, to his person or property, or the person or property of a member of his family, or of anyone in his company at the time of the robbery. Such force or fear must be used to obtain or retain possession of the property, or to prevent or overcome resistance to the taking; in either of which cases the degree of force is immaterial. If used merely as a means of escape, it does not constitute robbery. Such taking constitutes robbery whenever it appears that, although the taking was fully completed without the knowledge of the person from whom taken, such knowledge was prevented by the use of force or fear. Every person who shall commit robbery shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not less than five years; providing such robbery is committed upon any train traveling upon any railroad within this state the jury may, in its discretion, impose the penalty of death or the court in the event of a plea of guilty, may impose such death penalty.

It was not definitely shown that defendant participated in the robbery, other than he came with the robbers, and left when they left, was present at the robbery, and apparently acquiesced therein. Held, that the evidence would have justified the jury in finding him guilty of the robbery. State v. O'Keefe, 23 Nev. 127 (62 A. S. 768, 43 P. 918).

The phrase "in pursuance of," according to Webster, means "in accordance with; in prosecution or fulfilment of"; and an indictment alleging that defendant assaulted prosecutor with a deadly weapon and "in pursuance of said assault" attempted to rob him, etc., means "in fulfilment of," rendering the indictment sufficient to charge an assault with intent to rob. In an indictment alleging that defendant assaulted the prosecutor and attempted to feloniously rob him, the word "feloniously" means "done with intent to commit" the crime. The custom of manufacturers of guns and revolvers of placing a distinguishing number on each instrument, may be shown by a hardware merchant who also deals in firearms, and has gained his knowledge in the course of trade and through the statements of others engaged in the business. State v. Hughes, 31 Nev. 270 (102 P. 562).

It is unnecessary to prove both violence and intimidation; and, if the fact be attended with the circumstance of terror, such threatening word or gesture as in common experience is likely to create apprehension of danger, and induce a man to part with his property for the safety of his person, it is robbery, and it is unnecessary to prove actual fear, as the law will presume it in such case. In a prosecution for robbery, evidence held sufficient to warrant the jury in finding defendant guilty, on the view that the money was taken by intimidation. State v. Luhano, 31 Nev. 278 (102 P. 260).

See State v. Chapman, 6 Nev. 320.

6428. Libel defined—Penalty.

SEC. 163. A libel is a malicious defamation, expressed either by printing, or by signs, or pictures, or the like, tending to blacken the memory of one who is dead, or to impeach the honesty, integrity, virtue, or reputation or publish the natural defects of one who is alive, and thereby to expose him or her to public hatred, contempt, or ridicule; every person, whether the writer or the publisher, convicted of the offense, shall be fined in a sum not exceeding five thousand dollars, or imprisoned in the county jail not exceeding one year, or in the state prison not exceeding five years. In all prosecutions for libel the truth may be given in evidence to the jury, and if it shall appear to the jury that the matter charged as libelous is true, and was published with good motive and for justifiable ends, the party shall be acquitted, and the jury shall have the right to determine the law and the fact.

6429. Publication defined.

SEC. 164. Any method by which matter charged as libelous may be communicated to another shall be deemed a publication thereof.

6430. Liability of editors and others.

SEC. 165. Every editor or proprietor of a book, newspaper or serial, and every manager of a copartnership or corporation by which any book, newspaper or serial is issued, is chargeable with the publication of any matter contained in any such book, newspaper or serial, but in every prosecution for libel the defendant may show in his defense that the matter complained of was published without his knowledge or fault and against his wishes by another who had no authority from him to make such publication, and was retracted by him as soon as known with an equal degree of publicity.

6431. Venue, punishment restricted.

SEC. 166. Every other person publishing a libel in this state may be proceeded against in any county where such libelous matter was published or circulated, but a person shall not be proceeded against for the publication of the same libel against the same person in more than one county.

6432. Furnishing libelous information.

SEC. 167. Every person who shall wilfully state, deliver or transmit by any means whatever, to any manager, editor, publisher, reporter or other employee of a publisher of any newspaper, magazine, publication, periodical or serial, any statement concerning any person or corporation, which, if published therein, would be a libel, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

6433. Threatening to publish libel.

SEC. 168. Every person who shall threaten another with the publication of a libel concerning the latter, or his spouse, parent, child, or other member of his family, and every person who offers to prevent the publication of a libel upon another person upon condition of the payment of, or with intent to extort money or other valuable consideration from any person, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

6434. Slander of woman.

SEC. 169. Every person who, in the presence or hearing of any person other than the female slandered, whether she be present or not, shall maliciously speak of or concerning any female of the age of twelve years or upwards, not a common prostitute, any false or defamatory words or language which shall injure or impair the reputation of any such female for virtue or chastity or which shall expose her to hatred, contempt or ridicule, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. Every slander herein mentioned shall be deemed to be malicious unless justified, and shall be justified when the language charged as slanderous, false or defamatory is true and fair, and was spoken with good motives and for justifiable ends.

6435. Testimony necessary to convict.

SEC. 170. No conviction shall be had under the provisions of section 169 of this act, upon the testimony of the woman slandered unsupported by other evidence.

6436. Slandering character of woman.

SEC. 171. Every male person who shall in any language or words whatsoever, either truthfully or falsely, orally declare, in the presence of two or more other persons, of good general reputation, in the locality in which they reside that he has had carnal knowledge of any certain female person other than his lawful wife, except when under oath in a court of justice, or elsewhere with or without oath in the matter of a preparation for a judicial proceeding, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail for a period of not less than ninety days, nor more than six months, or by a fine of not less than two hundred nor exceeding five hundred dollars.

6437. Extortion by threats—Penalty.

SEC. 172. If any person, either verbally or by any written or printed communication, shall maliciously threaten any injury to the person or property of another, with intent thereby to extort money, or any pecuniary advantage whatever, or to compel the person so threatened to do any act against his will, he shall be punished, upon conviction thereof, by imprisonment, not more than one year, nor less than six months, and by a fine not exceeding five hundred nor less than one hundred dollars.

See sec. 6739, 6821.
See State v. Vertrees, 33 Nev.— (112 P. 42).

6438. Threatening letters or writing—Penalty.

SEC. 173. If any person shall knowingly send or deliver any letter or writing threatening to accuse another of a crime or misdemeanor, or to expose or publish any of his infirmities or failings, with intent to extort money, goods, chattels, or other valuable thing; or threatening to maim, wound, kill, or murder, or to burn or destroy his or her house or other property, or to accuse another of a crime or misdemeanor, or expose or publish any of his or her infirmities, though no money, goods, chattels, or other valuable thing be demanded; or writes and sends, or writes and delivers, either through the mail, express, by private parties, or otherwise any anonymous letter, or any letter bearing a fictitious name, charging any person with crime, or writes and sends any anonymous letter or letters bearing a fictitious name, containing vulgar or threatening language, obscene pictures, or containing reflections upon his or her standing in society or in the community, such person so offending shall, on conviction, be fined in a sum not exceeding five hundred dollars, and imprisoned in the county jail not exceeding six months.

See secs. 70, 474 and 556 of this act.

6439. Drawing deadly weapons—Duties of officers.

SEC. 174. Any person in this state having, carrying, or procuring from another person any dirk, dirk-knife, sword, sword-cane, pistol, gun, or other deadly weapon, who shall, in the presence of two or more persons, draw or exhibit any of said deadly weapons, in a rude, angry, or threatening manner, not in necessary self-defense, or who shall in any manner unlawfully use the same in any fight or quarrel, the person or persons so offending shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not exceeding five hundred dollars, or shall be imprisoned in the county jail for a term not exceeding six months; provided, nevertheless, that no sheriff, deputy sheriff, marshal, constable, or other peace officer, shall be held to answer, under the provisions of this section, for drawing or exhibiting any of the weapons hereinbefore mentioned, while in the lawful discharge of his or their duties.

See State v. Anderson, 3 Nev. 254; State v. Levigne, 17 Nev. 435 (30 P. 1084).

6440. False imprisonment.

SEC. 175. False imprisonment is an unlawful violation of the personal liberty of another, and consists in confinement or detention without sufficient legal authority. Any person convicted of false imprisonment shall pay all damages sustained by the person so imprisoned, and be fined in any sum not exceeding five thousand dollars or imprisoned in the state prison for a term not exceeding one year.

6441. Unlawful to keep vicious dog.

SEC. 176. It is hereby made unlawful for any person in this state to own or keep any vicious dog. And if any person shall hereafter own or keep any such dog, and such dog shall injure any person, such owner or keeper of such dog shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, on conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine in a sum not exceeding five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment, as the court shall adjudge.

6526. Duties of manufacturers.
6527. Substitute for butter stamped or branded.
6528. Letters for brands.

6442. Rape defined—Penalty.

SEC. 177. Rape is the carnal knowledge of a female, forcibly and against her will, and a person duly convicted thereof shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for a term of not less than five years and which may extend to life; provided, that if such crime be accompanied with acts of extreme violence and great bodily injury inflicted, the person guilty thereof shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for a term not less than twenty years, or he shall suffer death, if the jury by their verdict affix the death penalty. And any person of the age of sixteen years or upwards who shall have carnal knowledge of any female child under the age of sixteen years, either with or without her consent, shall be adjudged guilty of the crime of rape, and be punished as before provided.

An attempt to commit rape does not constitute an assault when the female actually consents to what is done, whether she be within the age of twelve years or not. An assault is a necessary ingredient of every rape or attempted rape, but it is not a necessary ingredient of the crime of carnally knowing a child under the age of twelve years with or without her consent, which under the statute of this state is also called rape. As an assault implies force and resistance, the crime of "carnally knowing a child," etc., may be committed, or at least attempted, without an assault, if there is actual consent on the part of the female. There can be no assault upon a consenting female, although there may be what the statute designates a rape. The defendant might have been convicted of an "attempt to commit rape," even if the child consented to all he did, but it was error to instruct the jury that he could under such circumstances be convicted of "assault with intent to commit rape." State v. Pickett, 11 Nev. 255 (21 A. R. 754).

The slightest proof of penetration will justify submitting the question to the jury, and such proof can be inferred from circumstances. In this case there was proof of penetration. State v. Depoister, 21 Nev. 107 (25 P. 1000).

In the crime of rape, the force necessary to complete the offense may be constructive. Such constructive force exists where sexual intercourse is had with a woman who is unconscious or mentally unable to fairly comprehend the nature and consequences of the sexual act. When a woman's consent to the sexual act is induced by fraud it is not rape. To constitute the crime of attempt to commit rape by the use of constructive force, the defendant must have intended to either destroy the woman's power of resistance by the administration of liquors or drugs, or else to take advantage of the fact that she was already in a condition in which either the mental or physical ability to resist is wanting. An act to constitute an attempt must go further than mere preparation. It must be a direct movement towards the commission of the offense after the preparation is made and must be adequate to its commission. The attempted administration of cantharides to a woman for the purpose of having sexual intercourse with her, but without any offer or effort at sexual connection, is mere preparation, is not an act adequate to the commission of the crime, and does constitute an attempt to commit a rape upon her. A charge in an indictment that the defendant attempted to commit a crime only argumentatively charges that he intended to commit it, and is sufficient. State v. Lung, 21 Nev. 209, 210 (37 A. S. 505, 29 P. 235).

Upon an indictment and trial for murder, and a verdict adjudging defendant guilty of rape, the court has no jurisdiction to sentence and imprison defendant for such crime of rape, since the constitution (art. 1, sec. 8) requires presentment and indictment for the particular offense before conviction is had, and, further, because the defendant is thereby deprived of his liberty without due process of law. Ex Parte Dela, 25 Nev. 346 (83 A. S. 803, 60 P. 217).

Statements made by prosecutrix the day after an alleged rape are too remote to constitute part of the res gestæ. On a preliminary examination on a charge of rape, evidence by a medical expert that from an examination of prosecutrix soon after the alleged offense he thought she had had intercourse with some one, and by other witnesses that they had seen marks of violence on her person, was sufficient, when coupled with an admission by defendant shortly after the offense that he had committed it, to justify the commitment of defendant to answer for the crime. In re Kelly, 28 Nev. 491 (83 P. 223).

On a trial for rape, the court properly excluded evidence as to particular instances of unchastity on the part of the prosecutrix, not connected with the case on trial. A witness testifying to the general reputation of the prosecutrix may, upon cross-examination, have his attention directed to particular acts of unchastity for the purpose of ascertaining the weight to be attached to his testimony. On a trial for rape, it is error to admit evidence of the statements made by prosecutrix at the time of making complaint, her testimony not being attacked. State v. Campbell, 20 Nev. 122 (17 P. 620).

6443. Sexual intercourse and carnal knowledge defined.

SEC. 178. Any sexual penetration, however slight, is sufficient to complete sexual intercourse or carnal knowledge.

See sec. 7171.

6444. Forcing woman to marry.

SEC. 179. Every person who shall take any woman unlawfully, against her will, and by force, menace, or duress, compel her to marry him, or to marry any other person, or to be defiled, and shall be thereof convicted, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for a term not less than two nor more than fourteen years; and the record of such conviction shall operate as a divorce to the party so married.

6445. Placing female in house of prostitution—Penalty.

SEC. 180. Every person who—

1. Shall place a female in the charge or custody of another person for immoral purposes, or in a house of prostitution, with intent that she shall live a life of prostitution, or who shall compel any female to reside with him or with any other person for immoral purposes, or for the purposes of prostitution, or shall compel any such female to reside in a house of prostitution or to live a life of prostitution; or,

2. Shall ask or receive any compensation, gratuity or reward, or promise thereof, for or on account of placing in a house of prostitution or elsewhere any female for the purpose of causing her to cohabit with any male person or persons not her husband; or,

3. Shall give, offer, or promise any compensation, gratuity or reward, to procure any female for the purpose of placing her for immoral purposes in any house of prostitution, or elsewhere, against her will; or,

4. Being the husband of any woman, or the parent, guardian or other person having legal charge of the person of a female under the age of eighteen years, shall connive at, consent to, or permit her being or remaining in any house of prostitution or leading a life of prostitution; or,

5. Shall live with or accept any earnings of a common prostitute, or entice or solicit any person to go to a house of prostitution for any immoral purposes, or to have sexual intercourse with a common prostitute; or,

6. Shall decoy, entice, procure or in any manner or way to induce any female to become a prostitute or to become an inmate of a house of ill-fame or prostitution, for purposes of prostitution, or for purposes of employment, or for any purpose whatever, when she does not know that the house is one of prostitution; or,

7. Shall decoy, entice, procure or in any manner or way to induce any person, under the age of twenty-one years, to go into or visit, upon any pretext or for any purpose whatever, any house of ill-fame or prostitution, or any room or place inhabited or frequented by any prostitute, or used for purposes of prostitution;

Shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for not more than five years or by fine of not more than two thousand dollars.

6446. Abandonment of wife or child.

SEC. 181. Every person who shall wilfully and without lawful excuse desert, or wilfully neglect or refuse to provide for the support and maintenance of his wife, or child under the age of sixteen years, either said wife or child being in necessitous circumstances, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for not more than three years, or in the county jail for not more than one year, or by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars, or by both fine and imprisonment; provided, that, before trial, with the consent of the defendant, or after conviction, the court may, in its discretion, require the defendant to enter into a recognizance in such amount as the court may fix, with or without sureties, conditioned that such defendant will faithfully pay weekly, such sum and for such a time as the court may direct, to or for the benefit of such wife or child, and so long as the defendant shall faithfully comply with the conditions of such recognizance, all proceedings in such action, or upon such judgment, shall be stayed; but if the defendant shall fail to comply with the conditions of such recognizance, or shall fail to comply with any order for his appearance in said court, such proceeding shall be revived and continued as if no stay had taken place.

Abandonment or neglect of illegitimate child, sec. 766.
See Ex Parte Lewis, 33 Nev.— (115 P. 729); Ex Parte Hose, 33 Nev.— (116 P. 417).

6447. Abortion defined.

SEC. 182. Every person who, with intent thereby to produce the miscarriage of a woman, unless the same is necessary to preserve her life or that of the child whereof she is pregnant, shall—

1. Prescribe, supply, or administer to a woman, whether pregnant or not, or advise or cause her to take any medicine, drug or substance; or,

2. Use, or cause to be used, any instrument or other means;

Shall be guilty of abortion, and punished by imprisonment in the state prison for not more than five years, or in the county jail for not more than one year.

6448. Selling drugs to produce miscarriage.

SEC. 183. Every person who shall manufacture, sell or give away any instrument, drug, medicine, or other substance, knowing or intending that the same may be unlawfully used in procuring the miscarriage of a woman, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

6449. Evidence.

SEC. 184. In any prosecution for abortion, attempting abortion, or selling drugs unlawfully, no person shall be excused from testifying as a witness on the ground that said testimony would tend to incriminate himself, but such testimony shall not be used against him in any criminal prosecution except for perjury in giving such testimony.

6450. Concealing birth.

SEC. 185. Every person who shall endeavor to conceal the birth of a child by any disposition of its dead body, whether the child died before or after its birth, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

See secs. 2986, 2987, 2972.

6451. Advertising goods to prevent conception.

SEC. 186. It shall not be lawful for any person to advertise or publish, or cause to be advertised or published in a newspaper, pamphlet, handbill, book, or otherwise, within this state, any medicine, nostrum, drug, substance, or device for the prevention of human propagation, or which purports to be, or is represented to be, a preventive of conception or pregnancy in women.

6452. Idem—Advertising of services to prevent conception.

SEC. 187. It shall not be lawful for any person to advertise or publish, or cause to be advertised or published in the manner mentioned in the next preceding section or otherwise, any medicine, nostrum, drug, substance, instrument, or device, to produce the miscarriage or premature delivery of a woman pregnant with child, or which purports to be, or is represented to be, productive of such miscarriage or premature delivery, nor to advertise in any manner his or her services, aid, assistance, or advice, or the services, assistance, or advice of any other person, in the procurement of such miscarriage or premature delivery.

6453. Idem—Penalty for advertising.

SEC. 188. Every person who shall violate the provisions of section 186 or section 187 of this act shall be deemed guilty of a gross misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof be punished by a fine of not less than one thousand dollars or more than three thousand dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not less than six months or more than one year, or both.

6454. Idem—Liability of publisher.

SEC. 189. The proprietor or proprietors, and the manager or managers of any newspaper, periodical or other printed sheet published or printed within this state, which shall contain any advertisement prohibited by sections 186 and 187 of this act, shall, for each publication of such advertisement, be deemed guilty of a gross misdemeanor, and, on conviction thereof, be punished in the same manner as is provided in section 188 of this act.

6455. Idem—Circulation of publications containing prohibited matter forbidden.

SEC. 190. Every person who shall knowingly sell, distribute, give away, or in any manner dispose of or exhibit to another person any newspaper, pamphlet, book, periodical, handbill, printed slip, or writing, or cause the same to be so sold, distributed, disposed of, or exhibited, containing any advertisement prohibited in sections 186 or 187 of this act, or containing any description or notice of, or reference to, or information concerning, or direction how or where to procure any medicine, drug, nostrum, substance, device, instrument, or service, the advertisement of which is herein prohibited or declared to be unlawful, shall, on conviction thereof, be liable to the same punishment as prescribed in section 187 of this act; provided, that nothing in this act shall be construed to interfere with or apply to legally licensed physicians in the legitimate practice of their profession.

6456. Bigamy defined—Penalty.

SEC. 191. Bigamy consists in the having of two wives or two husbands at one and the same time, knowing that the former husband or wife is still alive. If any person or persons within this state being married, or who shall hereafter marry, do at any time marry any person or persons, the former husband or wife being alive, the person so offending shall, on conviction thereof, be punished by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, and be imprisoned in the state prison not less than one year nor more than five years. It shall not be necessary to prove either of the said marriages by the register and certificate thereof, or other record evidence, but the same may be proved by such evidence as is admissible to prove a marriage in other cases; and when such second marriage shall have taken place without this state cohabitation in this state after such second marriage shall be deemed the commission of the crime of bigamy. Nothing herein contained shall extend to any person or persons whose husband or wife shall have been continually absent from such person or persons for the space of five years together prior to the said second marriage, and he or she not knowing such husband or wife to be living within that time. Also, nothing herein contained shall extend to any person that is or shall be, at the time of such second marriage, divorced by lawful authority from the bonds of such former marriage, or to any person where the former marriage hath been by lawful authority declared void.

What is known as a common-law marriage by contract per verba de præsenti is valid in this state. Defendant was married in 1893 to S. by written contract, without the services of any of the persons authorized by the statutes to join persons in marriage. Subsequently the parties separated by mutual consent, and thereafter the defendant, while he was so married and knowing that the said S. was still alive, was formally married to L. by a justice of the peace of Washoe County, this state. Held, that the marriage to S. was a valid marriage, and that the subsequent marriage to L. constituted bigamy in defendant. In a prosecution for bigamy, evidence was not admissible to show that defendant, by his second marriage, had no criminal intent, he believing that the first marriage had been annulled by agreement between him and his wife. State v. Zichfeld, 23 Nev. 304 (94 P. 221, 62 A. S. 800, 34 L. R. A. 784).

6457. Marrying a married person.

SEC. 192. If any man or woman, being unmarried, shall knowingly marry the husband or wife of another, such man or woman shall, on conviction, be fined not less than one thousand dollars or imprisoned in the state prison not less than one nor more than two years.

6458. Incest defined.

SEC. 193. Persons being within the degree of consanguinity within which marriages are declared by law to be incestuous and void, who shall intermarry with each other, or who shall commit fornication or adultery with each other, shall, on conviction, be punished by imprisonment in the state prison not less than one nor exceeding ten years.

6459. Crime against nature defined.

SEC. 194. The infamous crime against nature, either with man or beast, shall subject the offender to be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for a term not less than five years, and which may extend to life.

6460. Lewdness.

SEC. 195. Every person who shall lewdly and viciously cohabit with another not the husband or wife of such person, and every person who shall be guilty of open or gross lewdness, or make any open and indecent or obscene exposure of his person, or of the person of another, and every male person who shall habitually resort in any house of prostitution, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

6461. Obscene literature.

SEC. 196. Every person who—

1. Shall sell, lend, or give away, or have in his possession with intent to sell, lend, give away or show any obscene or indecent book, magazine, pamphlet, newspaper, story paper, writing, picture, drawing, photograph, or any article or instrument of indecent or immoral character; or who shall design, copy, draw, photograph, print, utter, publish or otherwise prepare such a book, picture, drawing, paper or other article; or write or print any circular, advertisement or notice of any kind, or give oral information stating when, where, how or of whom such an indecent or obscene article or thing can be purchased or obtained; or,

2. Shall sell, lend, give away or have in his possession with intent to sell, lend, give away or show any book, pamphlet, magazine, newspaper or other printed paper devoted to the publication, or largely made up of criminal news, police reports, accounts of criminal deeds, or pictures and stories of deeds of bloodshed, lust or crime; or,

3. Shall exhibit within the view of any minor any of the books, papers or other things hereinbefore enumerated; or,

4. Shall hire, use or employ, or having custody or control of his person shall permit any minor to sell, give away, or in any manner distribute any article hereinbefore mentioned; or,

5. Shall cause to be performed or exhibited, or engage in the performance or exhibition of any obscene, indecent or immoral show, act or performance;

Shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

6462. Advertising for divorce business.

SEC. 197. Every person who shall cause to be published in any newspaper, magazine or other publication, or who shall cause or allow to be posted or distributed in any place frequented by the public any card or notice offering to procure or obtain, or to aid in procuring or obtaining any divorce or the dissolution or nullification of any marriage, or offering to appear or act as attorney or counsel in any suit for divorce, alimony, or the dissolution or nullification of any marriage, either in this state or elsewhere, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

See In re Schnitzer, 33 Nev.—.

6463. Swindling.

SEC. 198. Every person who, by color, or aid of any trick or sleight-of-hand performance, or by any fraud or fraudulent scheme, cards, dice, or device, shall win for himself or for another any money or property, or representative of either, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for not more than ten years.

See sec. 6518.

6464. Bunco-steering.

SEC. 199. Every person who shall entice, or induce another, upon any pretense, to go to any place where any gambling game, scheme or device, or any trick, sleight-of-hand performance, fraud or fraudulent scheme, cards, dice or device, is being conducted or operated; or while in such place shall entice or induce another to bet, wager or hazard any money or property, or representative of either, upon any such game, scheme, device, trick, sleight-of-hand performance, fraud or fraudulent scheme, cards, dice, or device, or to execute any obligation for the payment of money, or delivery of property, or to lose, advance, or loan any money or property, or representative of either, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for not more than ten years.

6465. Pawn broker—Duty to record transactions.

SEC. 200. It shall be the duty of every pawn broker and second-hand dealer doing business in any city of the population of 4,000 or over in this state to maintain in his place of business a book or other permanent record in which shall be legibly written in the English language, at the time of each loan, purchase or sale, a record thereof containing—

1. The date of the transaction;

2. The name of the person or employee conducting the same;

3. The name, age, street and house number, and a general description of the dress, complexion, color of hair, and facial appearance of the person with whom the transaction is had;

4. The name and street and house number of the owner of the property bought or received in pledge;

5. The street and house number of the place from which the property bought or received in pledge was last removed;

6. A description of the property bought or received in pledge, which in the case of watches shall contain the name of the maker and the number of both the works and the case, and in the case of jewelry shall contain a description of all letters and marks inscribed thereon; provided, that when the article bought or received is furniture, or the contents of any house or room actually inspected on the premises, a general record of the transaction shall be sufficient;

7. The price paid or the amount loaned;

8. The names and street and house numbers of all persons witnessing the transaction; and

9. The number of any pawn ticket issued therefor.

Sale of merchandise in violation of bulk act, sec. 3910.

6466. Inspection of records and goods.

SEC. 201. Such record, and all goods received, shall at all times during the ordinary hours of business be open to the inspection of the district attorney or of any peace officer.

6467. Report to chief of police.

SEC. 202. Every pawn broker and second-hand dealer doing business in any city of the population of 4,000 or over shall, before noon of each day, furnish, in duplicate, to the chief of police of such city, on such forms as such chief of police may provide therefor, a full, true and correct transcript of the record of all transactions had on the preceding day, and, having good cause to believe that any property in his possession has been previously lost or stolen, he shall forthwith report such fact to the chief of police, together with the name of the owner, if known, and the date when, and the name of the person from whom the same was received by him. On receipt of the report provided for herein the chief of police shall immediately forward a copy thereof to the superintendent of the Nevada state police, and the same shall be filed of record in the office of such superintendent.

6468. Retention of property.

SEC. 203. No property bought or received in pledge by any pawn broker or second-hand dealer shall be removed from his place of business, except when redeemed by the owner thereof, within four days after the receipt thereof shall have been reported to the chief of police as herein provided.

6469. Penalty.

SEC. 204. Every pawn broker or second-hand dealer, and every clerk, agent or employee of such pawn broker or second-hand dealer, who shall—

1. Fail to make an entry of any material matter in his book or record kept as provided for in section 200 of this act; or,

2. Make any false entry therein; or,

3. Falsify, obliterate, destroy or remove from his place of business such book or record; or,

4. Refuse to allow the prosecuting attorney or any peace officer to inspect the same, or any goods in his possession, during the ordinary hours of business; or,

5. Report any material matter falsely to the chief of police; or,

6. Fail to report forthwith to the chief of police the possession of any property which he may have good cause to believe has been lost or stolen, together with the name of the owner, if known, and the date when, and the name of the person from whom the same was received by him; or,

7. Remove, or allow to be removed from his place of business, except upon redemption by the owner thereof, any property received, within four days after the receipt thereof shall have been reported to the chief of police; or,

8. Receive any property from any person under the age of twenty-one years, any common drunkard, any habitual user of narcotic drugs, any habitual criminal, any person in an intoxicated condition, any known thief or receiver of stolen property, or any known associate of such thief or receiver of stolen property, whether such person be acting in his own behalf or as the agent of another;

Shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

6470. Rates of interest and sale of pledged property.

SEC. 205. All pawn brokers are authorized to charge and receive interest at the rate of three per cent a month for money loaned on the security of personal property actually received in pledge, and every person who shall ask or receive a higher rate of interest or discount on any such loan, or on any actual or pretended sale, or redemption of personal property, or who shall sell any property held for redemption within ninety days after the period for redemption shall have expired, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

6471. "Pawn broker" defined.

SEC. 206. Every person engaged, in whole or in part, in the business of loaning money on the security of pledges, deposits or conditional sales of personal property, shall be deemed to be a pawn broker.

6472. "Second-hand" dealer defined.

SEC. 207. Every person engaged in whole or in part in the business of buying or selling second-hand personal property, metal junk, or melted metals, shall be deemed to be a second-hand dealer.

6473. Dissection, when permitted.

SEC. 208. The right to dissect the dead body of a human being shall be limited to cases specially provided by statute or by the direction or will of the deceased; cases where a coroner is authorized to hold an inquest upon the body, and then only as he may authorize dissection; and cases where the husband, wife or next of kin charged by law with the duty of burial shall authorize dissection for the purpose of ascertaining the cause of death, and then only to the extent so authorized. Every person who shall make, cause or procure to be made any dissection of the body of a human being, except as hereinbefore provided, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

6474. Burial or cremating.

SEC. 209. Except in cases of dissection provided for in the last section, and where a dead body shall rightfully be carried through or removed from the state for the purpose of burial elsewhere, every dead body of a human being lying within this state, and the remains of any dissected body, after dissection, shall be decently buried, or cremated within a reasonable time after death.

See sec. 6519.

6475. Opening grave—Stealing body—Receiving same.

SEC. 210. Every person who shall remove the dead body of a human being or any part thereof, from a grave, vault, or other place where the same has been buried or deposited awaiting burial or cremation, without authority of law, with intent to sell the same, or for the purpose of securing a reward for its return, or for dissection, or from malice or wantonness, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for not more than five years, or by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars, or by both. Every person who shall purchase or receive, except for burial or cremation, any such dead body, or any part thereof, knowing that the same has been removed contrary to the foregoing provisions, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for not more than three years, or by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars, or by both. Every person who shall open a grave or other place of interment, temporary or otherwise, or a building where such dead body is deposited while awaiting burial or cremation, with intent to remove said body or any part thereof, for the purpose of selling or demanding money for the same, for dissection, from malice or wantonness, or with intent to sell or remove the coffin or of any part thereof, or anything attached thereto, or any vestment, or other article interred, or intended to be interred with the body, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for not more than three years, or by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars, or by both.

6476. Interfering with dead body or funeral.

SEC. 211. Every person who shall arrest or attach the dead body of a human being upon a debt or demand, or shall detain or claim to detain it for any debt or demand, or upon any pretended lien or charge; or who, without authority of law, shall obstruct or detain a person engaged in carrying or accompanying the dead body of a human being to a place of burial or cremation, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

6477. Opening road through cemetery.

SEC. 212. Every person who shall make or open any road, or construct any railway, turnpike, canal, or other public easement over, through, in or upon, such part of any inclosure as may be used for the burial of the dead, without authority of law or the consent of the owner thereof, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

6478. Disturbing religious meeting.

SEC. 213. Every person who shall wilfully disturb, interrupt, or disquiet any assemblage of people met for religious worship—

1. By noisy, rude or indecent behavior, profane discourse, either within the place where such meeting is held, or so near it as to disturb the order and solemnity of the meeting; or,

2. By exhibiting shows or plays, or promoting any racing of animals, or gaming of any description, or engaging in any boisterous or noisy amusement; or,

3. By disturbing in any manner, without authority of law within one mile thereof, free passage along a highway to the place of such meeting, or by maliciously cutting or otherwise injuring or disturbing a harness, conveyance, tent or other property belonging to any person in attendance upon such meeting;

Shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

See sec. 6597.

6479. Unlawful to marry person without license.

SEC. 214. It shall be unlawful for any judge of a district court in his district, or justice of the peace in his county, or minister of any religious society or congregation, within this state, to join together as husband and wife, persons allowed by law to be joined in marriage, until the persons proposing such marriage shall exhibit to him a license from the county clerk as now provided by law.

Failure to deliver or record certificate of marriage, sec. 2346.
False marriage certificate, gross misdemeanor, sec. 2347.
Marriage ceremony by unauthorized person or where known legal impediment, see. 2348.
See State v. Zichfield, under sec. 6456.

6480. Idem—Penalty.

SEC. 215. Any judge of a district court, or justice of the peace, or minister violating the provisions of the next preceding section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in a sum not exceeding five hundred dollars or imprisonment in the county jail for a period not exceeding six months, or both.

6481. Failure to support wife and children misdemeanor—Penalty.

SEC. 216. It shall be unlawful for any man residing in this state to wilfully neglect, fail or refuse to provide reasonable support and maintenance for his wife or minor child or children; and any person guilty of such neglect, failure or refusal, upon complaint of the wife or any member of the board of county commissioners of the county where such wife or children reside, and upon due conviction thereof shall be adjudged guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be committed to the county jail for the period of not more than sixty days, unless it shall appear that owing to physical incapacity or other good cause he is unable to furnish such support; provided, that in cases of conviction for the offense aforesaid, the court before which such conviction is had, may, in lieu of the penalty herein provided, accept from the person convicted a bond to the board of county commissioners of the county in which such conviction is had, with good and sufficient surety conditioned for the support of his wife, child or children, as the case may be, for the term of six months after the date of said conviction; and the court may accept such bond at any time after such conviction, and order the release of the person so convicted.

See Ex Parte Lewis, 33 Nev.— (115 P. 729); Ex Parte Hose, 33 Nev.— (116 P. 417).

6482. Justice to issue warrant and conduct hearing.

SEC. 217. Any justice of the peace of the county in which the offense defined in the preceding section is committed, may, upon complaint being made under oath, issue a warrant for the arrest of any person charged with such offense, and the justice of the peace before whom such person is brought under such warrant shall hear and determine the cause, subject to the right of appeal as provided by law in other cases.

6483. Wife competent witness.

SEC. 218. In all prosecutions under the two preceding sections a wife shall be a competent witness against her husband with or without his consent.

6484. Keeping disorderly house.

SEC. 219. Any person in this state who shall keep any disorderly house, or any house of public resort, by which the peace, comfort, or decency of the immediate neighborhood, or of any family thereof, is habitually disturbed, or who shall keep any inn in a disorderly manner, is guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding six months, or by both.

See Breckenridge v. Lamb, 34 Nev.—; Moore v. Orr, 30 Nev. 458 (98 P. 398).

6485. Selling opium, felony.

SEC. 220. Any person who shall sell, barter, exchange, or in any manner dispose of any opium, morphine, yen shee, cocaine, or any by-product thereof, or any spirituous or malt liquor or beverage to any person lawfully confined in the state prison or any county or city jail or public institution for the insane, or other public institutions where persons are lawfully confined, shall be deemed guilty of a felony and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for a period of not less than one nor more than five years. This section shall not apply to any physician prescribing or furnishing any such drug or liquor to any such person, when said drugs are prescribed or furnished for medicinal purposes only.

See State v. Ching Gang, 16 Nev. 62.

6486. Use and sale prohibited.

SEC. 221. It shall be unlawful for any person or persons to have in his, her or their possession any opium pipe, or part thereof, or to smoke opium, or to sell or give away for such purpose, or otherwise dispose of any opium in this state, except druggists and apothecaries; and druggists and apothecaries shall sell it only on the prescription of legally practicing physicians.

See secs. 6543, 6544; State v. On Gee How, 15 Nev. 184; State v. Ah Chew, 16 Nev. 50.

6487. Opium smoking—Punishment.

SEC. 222. Any person who shall be found guilty of violating the provisions of the preceding section, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment not exceeding six months, or both, and the court pronouncing a judgment of conviction shall declare such opium and pipes contraband and unlawful, and direct and order that all opium and all pipes and utensils used in smoking opium, taken and found, destroyed by the officer or person having the possession thereof as soon as the same is no longer necessary for the purposes of evidence.

See note to sec. 6489.

6488. Liability of property owner.

SEC. 223. Any person who shall keep, or who, being the owner thereof, shall knowingly permit to be kept, any house, room, apartment, or other place of any kind, to be used for the purpose of a resort by any person or for the purpose of indulging in the use of opium, or any preparation containing opium, by smoking or otherwise, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof, be punished accordingly.

6489. Unlawful to resort.

SEC. 224. It shall be unlawful for any person to resort to any house, room, or apartment, or other place kept for any of the purposes forbidden by the four next preceding sections, for the purpose of indulging in the use of opium, or any preparation containing opium, by smoking or otherwise, and any person who shall violate the provisions of this section, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

The word "resort," as used in the opium act, means to go once or more to a place kept for opium smoking. A room where all the apparatus for opium smoking is found, and a number of persons, white men and Chinamen, are present, is a place of resort within the meaning of those words as used in the statute. State v. Ah Sam, 15 Nev. 27.

It is the intent to use opium that gives character to the act. The mode of using it "by smoking or otherwise" is unessential, and need not be stated in the indictment.

An indictment, under section 6 of the opium act, must charge the defendant with going to a house, room, or apartment kept "to be used as a place of resort" by some person or persons for the purpose of using opium. The omission of the words "as a place of resort" held, a fatal defect. State v. On Gee How, 15 Nev. 184.

See State v. McCormick, 14 Nev. 348.

6490. Lessor liable.

SEC. 225. If any person shall lease any house, room, apartment, or other place to be used as a place of resort, to any person for the purpose of indulging in the use of opium, or any preparation containing opium, knowing the purposes for which said house, room, or apartment are to be used, any judgment obtained as provided in section 223, shall be a lien upon such house, room, apartment, or other place of business so leased.

6491. Judgment, lien on property.

SEC. 226. Any judgment obtained under the provisions of the last four preceding sections, for a fine and costs, or either, shall be a lien on the property wherein the offense was committed, which lien shall not be discharged until such judgment shall have been paid, or otherwise legally satisfied; provided, that such lien shall not attach in cases where it shall appear that the owner of the property was not a party to the commission of the offense, and had no knowledge thereof before its commission.

6492. Forfeiture of lease.

SEC. 227. If any person shall use any house, room, apartment, or other place leased to him or her for any of the purposes forbidden by sections 220 to 226, both inclusive, such illegal use shall, at the option of the lessor, operate as a forfeiture of such lease, and of all rights given thereby, whether the same be expressed or not in such lease.

6493. Fee of district attorney.

SEC. 228. In all cases when fines and costs shall be paid by the defendant under the provisions of the two last preceding sections, the fee of the district attorney shall be twenty-five dollars, and the fee of the informer shall be fifteen dollars; but neither of said fees shall in any case be a charge against or be paid by the county in which the offense was committed, or in which the defendant was convicted of the crime, but shall be taxed as costs against the defendant.

6494. Lotteries defined.

SEC. 229. A lottery is any scheme for the disposal or distribution of property, by chance, among persons who have paid or promised to pay any valuable consideration for the chance of obtaining such property, or a portion of it, or for any share or any interest in such property upon any agreement, understanding, or expectation that it is to be distributed or disposed of by lot or chance, whether called a lottery, raffle or gift enterprise, or by whatever name the same may be known.

Lotteries are prohibited by Const., sec. 282.
See State v. Overton, 16 Nev. 136; Ex Parte Blanchard, 9 Nev. 101.

6495. Lottery drawing—Penalty.

SEC. 230. Every person who contrives, prepares, sets up, proposes, or draws any lottery, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

6496. Selling of tickets, misdemeanor.

SEC. 231. Every person who sells, gives or in any manner whatever furnishes or transfers to or for any other person any ticket, chance, share, or interest, or any paper, certificate or instrument purporting or understood to be or to represent any ticket, chance, share, or interest in or depending upon the event of any lottery, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

6497. Aiding sale of tickets, misdemeanor.

SEC. 232. Every person who aids or assists, either by printing, writing, advertising, publishing, or otherwise, in setting up, managing, or drawing any lottery, or in selling or disposing of any ticket, chance, or share therein, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

6498. Keeping tickets, misdemeanor.

SEC. 233. Every person who opens, sets up, or keeps by himself or by any other person, any office or other place for the sale of or for registering the number of any ticket in any lottery, or who by printing, writing, or otherwise advertises or publishes the setting up, opening, or using of any such office, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

6499. Insuring or guaranteeing ticket, misdemeanor.

SEC. 234. Every person who insures or receives any consideration for insuring for or against the drawing of any ticket in any lottery whatever, whether drawn or to be drawn within this state or not, or who receives any valuable consideration upon any agreement to repay any sum or deliver the same, or any other property, if any lottery ticket or number of any ticket in any lottery shall prove fortunate or unfortunate, or shall be drawn or not be drawn at any particular time or in any particular order, or who promises or agrees to pay any sum of money, or to deliver any goods, things in action or property, or to forbear to do anything for the benefit of any person, with or without consideration, upon any event or contingency dependent upon the drawing of any ticket in any lottery, or who publishes any notice or proposal of any of the purposes aforesaid, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

6500. Property forfeited to state.

SEC. 235. All moneys and property offered for sale or distribution in violation of any of the provisions of sections 229 to 234, both inclusive, are forfeited to the state, and may be recovered by information filed or by an action brought by the attorney-general, or by any district attorney, in the name of the state. Upon the filing of the information or complaint, the clerk of the court, or if the suit be in a justice's court, the justice must issue an attachment against the property mentioned in the complaint or information, which attachment has the same force and effect against such property, and is issued in the same manner as attachments from the district courts in civil cases.

6501. Idem—Letting use of building misdemeanor.

SEC. 236. Every person who lets or permits to be used any building or vessel, or any portion thereof, knowing that it is to be used for setting up, managing, or drawing any lottery, or for the purpose of selling or disposing of lottery tickets, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

6502. Unlawful to sell tobacco to minors—Penalty.

SEC. 237. It shall be unlawful for any person or persons within this state to sell or give to any minor, under the age of twenty-one years, any cigarette or cigarettes, or any tobacco of any description, except that upon the written order of the parent or guardian of the minor, the person applied to may give or sell to the minor, for the use of the guardian or parent, tobacco or cigars; said written request to be kept on file by the seller or giver of the article so sold or given away. Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, on conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine in any sum not exceeding five hundred dollars and not less than one hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for a period not exceeding six months nor less than fifty days, or both. The justice of the peace shall also tax as costs fifty dollars, in addition to the fine, which sum shall be paid to the informer.

Unlawful to sell or give away cigarettes or cigarette papers to minors, secs. 3874, 3875.

6503. Idem—Dealer to forfeit license.

SEC. 238. If any dealer in cigarettes, cigars and tobacco shall be convicted twice for the commission of the offense described in the preceding section, he shall forfeit his license or licenses for carrying on his business, and no license shall be again granted to him to carry on a like business in this state.

6504. Sale of liquor within half mile of state prison unlawful—Penalty.

SEC. 239. It shall be unlawful for any person or persons to sell by wholesale or retail any spirituous or malt liquors, wine or cider, within one-half mile of the state prison, and no license shall be granted authorizing the sale of any spirituous or malt liquors, wine, or cider, within one-half mile of said state prison. A violation of the provisions of this section shall, on conviction, be punished by a fine of not less than fifty dollars, nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not less than twenty-five days, nor exceeding six months.

Sale of liquor near construction camp, secs. 6839-6841.

6505. Liquors prohibited in capitol building—Penalty.

SEC. 240. Any person who shall sell, barter, give, or in any way dispose of, any spirituous or malt liquors, wines or cider, of any description whatever, within the capitol building of this state, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof, shall be fined in any sum, not less than one hundred dollars, and not exceeding five hundred dollars, or be imprisoned in the county jail for any time, not less than one month and not exceeding six months, or both.

6506. Selling liquor to minors or imbeciles, or allowing minors in billiard halls—Employing minor as barkeeper.

SEC. 241. Every person who shall sell or give to any person under the age of twenty-one years, or to any one known to be an imbecile, any intoxicating drink or drinks or who shall employ a minor as a barkeeper, and every minor who shall falsely represent himself to be twenty-one years of age in order to obtain such intoxicating drink or drinks, is guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or imprisonment in the county jail not less than fifty days, nor more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment; provided, that nothing in this section shall be deemed to apply to parents of such minors and imbeciles, or guardian of their wards, or physicians. Every person owning or having in charge any saloon, or public hall, or public room, where one or more billiard tables or pool tables are kept, and every person owning or having in charge any billiard or pool table kept for hire or for the purpose of charging persons who play thereon, or for the use of persons who may buy drinks, cigars or tobacco in the building in which such table or tables are kept, who shall allow any minor under the age of twenty-one years to play billiards or pool upon any such table, or to frequent the room where such table is kept, without the written consent of the parent or guardian of such minor, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

See subdivision 11 of sec. 6619.
See secs. 6842, 6843.
Sale of liquor near construction camp, secs. 6839-6841.
"Saloon" defined. Ex Parte Livingston, 20 Nev. 282 (4 L. R. A. 732, 21 P. 322).

6507. Providing Indian liquor, felony.

SEC. 242. It shall be unlawful for any person to sell, barter, give or in any manner dispose of ardent, spirituous or malt liquors, or any intoxicating liquors, liquids, drug or substance whatsoever, to any Indian within this state; and any such person or persons so unlawfully disposing of such intoxicants, within this state, to an Indian who is not a ward of the government of the United States shall be deemed guilty of a felony, and upon conviction thereof, shall be fined in any sum not less than five hundred dollars, nor more than one thousand dollars, or be imprisoned in the state prison for a term not less than one year nor more than five years, or both.

The introduction of intoxicating liquors into Indian reservations, or the selling or giving of the same to Indians who are wards of the government, is prohibited by the United States. See U. S. Rev. Stat. (1878), sec. 2139; 27 U. S. Stat. L. 260, 29 U. S. Stat. L. 506.

See State v. Finnegan, 27 Nev. 57 (71 P. 642); State v. Niblett, 31 Nev. 246 (102 P. 229); State v. Murphy, 23 Nev. 390 (48 P. 628).

6508. Federal government to prosecute—Terms defined.

SEC. 243. Any person who shall, within this state, so unlawfully dispose of any such intoxicants, as set forth in section 242, to any Indian who shall be a ward of the government of the United States, and for which offense the government has enacted, or may hereafter enact, laws against, with punishments therefor, may be arrested by any peace officer and delivered to the United States authorities, for punishment under the laws of the United States. Upon such arrest, the arresting officer shall immediately notify the nearest proper United States official (United States commissioner, United States district attorney, or United States marshal, for the District of Nevada) that such offense has been committed, and that the offender has been so arrested and shall request such United States officials, so notified, to take charge of such offender, to be prosecuted under the laws of the United States. Such arresting officer shall hold and detain, or cause to be held and detained, such offender, in the same manner as holding and detaining other offenders against the laws of the state or city, for a reasonable length of time, to enable the authorities of the United States to respond to such notification and request, and to take charge of the offender; and upon request of a proper United States official, the state or local authority having him in charge shall at once deliver the offender into the custody of such United States official, to be proceeded against under the laws of the United States, and shall furnish him with all information and evidence he may possess for the prosecution of the offender. The term "ward of the government of the United States," for the purposes of this and the preceding section, shall be construed to mean any Indian over whose tribe or person the government of the United States assumes any superintendency, guardianship or wardship, whether the same arises from government Indian reservation, holding lands in allotment, or from any other cause.

See State v. Niblett, 31 Nev. 246 (102 P. 229).

6509. Idem—Arresting officer to receive fees.

SEC. 244. The holding of such offender to answer before a United States court, by a proper United States authority, or the conviction of such offender in a United States court, shall be considered sufficient warrant for his arrest and detention by such state or local officer or officers, and upon and after such holding to answer, or conviction, such state or local officer or officers, making and causing such arrest and detention of such offenders set forth in section 243 shall be entitled to receive from the county wherein such offense was committed the same fees, in the same manner, for such arrest and all actual expenses which he or they necessarily incur in such arrest and detention, as he or they would receive under the state laws, were such offender to be prosecuted under the laws of the state. All of which fees and expenses may be included in his or their usual bills presented against the county for official services.

6510. Houses of ill-fame, location of.

SEC. 245. It shall be unlawful for any owner, or agent of any owner, or any other person to keep any house of ill-fame, or to let or rent to any person whomsoever, for any length of time whatever, to be kept or used as a house of ill-fame, or resort for the purposes of prostitution, any house, room or structure situated within four hundred yards of any school house or school room used by any public or common school in the State of Nevada, or within four hundred yards of any church edifice, building or structure erected for and used for devotional services or religious worship in this state.

Location of house of prostitution, see secs. 3457-3459. See Ex Parte Ah Pah, 34 Nev.—.

6511. Certain property not to be rented for hurdy house, or prostitution.

SEC. 246. It shall be unlawful for any owner or agent of any owner or any other person to keep, let or rent for any length of time, or at all, any house fronting on the principal business street or thoroughfare of any of the towns of this state, for the purpose of prostitution or for the purpose of keeping any dance house or house commonly called a hurdy house, or house where wine, beer or spirituous liquors are sold or served by females or female waiters or attendants, or where females are used or employed to attract or solicit custom, nor shall any entrance or exit way to any house referred to in this section be made or used from the principal business street or thoroughfare of any of the towns of this state.

6512. Idem—Penalty.

SEC. 247. Any person violating the provisions of the last two preceding sections shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction shall be fined not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than three hundred dollars, or be imprisoned in the county jail not less than five nor more than sixty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

6513. Idem—Competent evidence.

SEC. 248. In the trial of all cases arising under the provisions of sections 245 to 247, inclusive, evidence of general reputation shall be deemed competent evidence as to the question of the ill-fame of any house alleged to be so kept, and to the question of the ill-fame of such woman.

6514. Marriages between Caucasian and other races prohibited.

SEC. 249. It shall be unlawful for any person of the Caucasian or white race to intermarry with any person of the Ethiopian or black race, Malay or brown race, Mongolian or yellow race, or the American Indian or red race, within the State of Nevada.

6515. Penalty for contracting parties.

SEC. 250. All persons marrying contrary to the provisions of the last preceding section shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

6516. Penalty for minister.

SEC. 251. Any officer, minister, priest or other person authorized by the laws of the State of Nevada to perform ceremonies of marriage, who shall knowingly perform, or knowingly assist in the performance within the State of Nevada of any ceremony of marriage between any person of the Caucasian or white race and any person of any other race contrary to the provisions of section 249, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

6517. Fornication between certain races prohibited—Penalty.

SEC. 252. If any white person shall live and cohabit with any black person, mulatto, Indian, or any person of the Malay or brown race or of the Mongolian or yellow race, in a state of fornication, such person so offending shall, on conviction thereof, be fined in any sum not exceeding five hundred dollars, and not less than one hundred dollars, or be imprisoned in the county jail not less than six months or more than one year, or both.

6518. All gambling prohibited—Penalty.

SEC. 253. It shall be unlawful for any person to deal, play or carry on, open or conduct in any capacity whatever, any game of faro, monte, roulette, lansquenet, rouge et noir, rondo, tan, fantan, stud-horse poker, seven-and-a-half, twenty-one, hokey-pokey, craps, klondyke, poker, or any banking or percentage game played with cards, dice, or any device, for money, property, checks, credit or any representative of value; or any gambling game in which any person keeping, conducting, managing or permitting the same to be carried on receives, directly or indirectly, any compensation or reward, or any percentage or share of the money or property played, for keeping, running, carrying on or permitting the said game to be carried on; or to play, maintain or keep any slot machine played for money or for checks or tokens redeemable in money, or played for chance; or to buy, sell or deal in pools or make books on horse races; and any person who violates any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a felony and upon conviction thereof shall be imprisoned in the state prison for a period of not less than one year nor more than five years.

See secs. 6463, 6464, 6561.

See Scott v. Courtney, 7 Nev. 419; Evans v. Cook, 11 Nev. 69; Burke v. Buck, 31 Nev. 74, 22 L. R. A. (N. S.) 627, 99 P. 1078; Menardi v. Wacker, 32 Nev. 169 (105 P. 287); State ex rel. Patterson v. Donovan, 20 Nev. 75 (15 P. 783).

6519. Penalty for person permitting games.

SEC. 254. Every person who knowingly permits any of the games or slot machines mentioned in the preceding section to be played, conducted, dealt, or maintained in any house, building or part thereof owned or rented by such person, shall be punished as provided in the preceding section, and every day of the violation of any of the provisions of sections 253 to 257, both inclusive, shall be deemed a separate offense.

6520. Penalty for having gambling implements in possession.

SEC. 255. If any person shall keep, exhibit, or have in his possession, any cards, tables, checks, wheels, slot machines or gambling devices of any nature used or kept for the purpose of playing any of the games mentioned in section 253, or shall aid, assist or permit others to do the same, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not less than one month nor more than six months, or by both.

6521. Duty of officer to seize gambling paraphernalia.

SEC. 256. It shall be the duty of all sheriffs, constables, police and other peace officers whenever it shall come to the knowledge of such officer that any person has in his possession any cards, tables, checks, balls, wheels, slot machines or gambling devices of any nature or kind used or kept for the purpose of playing at any of the games mentioned in section 253, or that any cards, tables, checks, balls, wheels, slot machines or gambling devices used or kept for the purposes aforesaid may be found in any place, to seize and take such cards, tables, checks, balls, wheels, slot machines or other gambling devices, and convey the same before a magistrate of the county in which said devices shall be found; and it shall be the duty of such judge to inquire of such witnesses as he shall summon or as may appear before him in that behalf, touching the nature of such gambling devices, and if such judge shall determine that the same are used or kept for the purpose of being used at any game or games of chance described in section 253, it shall be his duty to destroy the same. It shall be lawful for officers in executing the duties imposed upon them by this section to break open doors for the purpose of obtaining possession of any such gambling devices; and all persons having such possession of any of the articles aforesaid, shall be conveyed before a magistrate of such county and held or committed for appearance to answer any complaint which may be preferred against them for violation of sections 253 to 257, both inclusive.

6522. Witness not exempt from testifying but cannot be prosecuted.

SEC. 257. No person, otherwise competent as a witness, shall be exempt from testifying as such concerning offenses of gambling, as set forth in sections 253 to 257, both inclusive, on the ground that such testimony may criminate himself; but no prosecution can afterwards be had against him for any offense concerning which he testified.

6523. Selling liquor to drunkards—Penalty for drunkenness.

SEC. 258. It shall be unlawful for the proprietor, bartender, or person in charge of any saloon or bar, to sell or give, or to permit to be sold or given, any intoxicating liquor to any person who is drunk, or to any person known by such proprietor, bartender or person in charge to be an habitual drunkard, or dipsomaniac, or to any habitual drunkard or dipsomaniac, after being notified by the wife, father or mother, son or daughter of such habitual drunkard or dipsomaniac, or by any peace officer, nor to sell or give liquor to such habitual drunkard or dipsomaniac. The proprietor, bartender, or person in charge of any saloon or bar, may post behind the bar, where the same may be readily seen by the bartender, but may not be seen by the persons in front of the bar, a list of the names of habitual drunkards, or person to whom intoxicating liquors are not to be sold. It shall be unlawful for any habitual drunkard, dipsomaniac, or drunken person, after being refused intoxicating liquor, to again demand the same on the same day from the person refusing to sell or to give him intoxicating liquors. It shall be unlawful for any person to sell any intoxicating liquor to any husband or father whose wife, or minor child or children, are in destitute circumstances and who are not supplied with the common necessaries of life by such husband or father, after notice, from the wife or minor child of such husband or father, or from any peace officer, not to sell any intoxicating liquor to such husband or father, and that such husband or father fails to provide his wife or minor child with the common necessaries of life. Any person violating the foregoing provisions of this section or who, as a result of the use of intoxicating liquors shall abuse or fail properly to support or care for his wife or any minor child lawfully in his custody, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

See secs. 6836, 6838.

6524. Horse meat—Misdemeanor to sell without informing.

SEC. 259. It shall be unlawful for any person to sell the meat of any equine animal, without informing the purchaser thereof, at the time of such sale, that said meat is the meat of an equine animal. Any person violating the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof, shall be punished by fine in a sum not exceeding fifty dollars, or be imprisoned in the county jail not more than twenty-five days, or both.

6525. Horse meat—Seller must exhibit hide.

SEC. 260. It shall be unlawful for any person peddling the meat of any equine animal, who is not the keeper of any shop or meat market, to sell such meat without having in his possession then and there, and upon request exhibiting the hide of such animal containing the brand and other marks thereon. Any person violating the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be punished as prescribed in the next preceding section.

6526. Duties of manufacturers.

SEC. 261. Every person who shall manufacture for sale any article or substance in semblance of butter, that is not the legitimate product of the dairy, and not made exclusively of milk or cream, but into which the oil or fat of animals, not produced from milk, enters as a component part, or into which melted butter, or any oil thereof has been introduced, to take the place of cream, unless the package containing such article or substance shall be labeled or branded with the word "oleomargarine," as provided in the next following section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

See secs. 3486, 3508.

6527. Substitute for butter stamped or branded.

SEC. 262. Every person who shall sell, or offer, or expose for sale, or have in his or her possession with intent to sell any of the said article or substance mentioned in the next preceding section, shall distinctly mark, brand or label every package containing such substance, whether at wholesale or retail, with the word "oleomargarine," and every person who shall sell, or offer for sale, such substance not so branded, marked, or labeled, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

See secs. 3486, 3508.

6528. Letters for brands.

SEC. 263. The branding or marking required in the two next preceding sections, if on rolls or prints, shall be in letters not less than one-fourth of an inch square, and if on tubs or other packages, the letters shall not be less than one-half inch square.

Every person owning or having in charge any animal that has died or been killed on account of disease, shall immediately bury the carcass thereof at least three feet underground, or cause the same to be consumed by fire. No person shall sell or offer to sell or give away the carcass of any animal which died or was killed on account of disease, or convey the same along any public road or land not his own in a manner dangerous to the public health or the health of other animals. Every violation of any provision of this section shall be a misdemeanor.

Bringing stock from infected state or district in violation of quarantine, sec. 2271.
Diseased or infected animals on public highways, secs. 2266, 2268, 2272.
Failing to burn or bury stock dying of contagious diseases, secs. 2272, 2273.
See note to sec. 6531.

6533. Bedding used about contagious diseases not to be used again.

SEC. 268. Any person who shall knowingly have or use about his premises, or who shall convey, or cause to be conveyed, into any neighborhood, any clothing, bedding, or other substance, used by or in taking care of any person afflicted with small-pox or other infectious or contagious disease, or infected thereby, or shall do any other act with the intent to, or necessarily tending to the spread of such disease into any neighborhood or locality; every person so offending shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, on conviction thereof shall be punished by fine in any sum not more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding six months, or both; and the court trying any such offender, may also include in any judgment rendered an order to the effect that the clothing or other property infected be burned or otherwise destroyed, and shall have power to carry such order into effect.

6534. Hospital, unlawful near school.

SEC. 269. It shall be unlawful for any person, persons, firm, corporation, or association, to locate or maintain any hospital for the treatment of diseased or injured persons within three hundred feet of any public school building; provided, that nothing in this section shall apply to hospitals now being operated. Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, shall be fined not less than fifty dollars nor more than three hundred dollars.

6535. Selling diseased flesh.

SEC. 270. Any person who shall knowingly sell any flesh of any diseased animal is guilty of a gross misdemeanor and shall be punished accordingly.

See sec. 2995.

6536. Selling impure milk.

SEC. 271. Any person who shall knowingly sell or exchange, or expose for sale or exchange, any impure, adulterated or unwholesome milk, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or be imprisoned in the county jail for not more than six months, or both.

See pure food law, secs. 3486-3510.

6537. Adulteration and quality of milk.

SEC. 272. Any person who shall adulterate milk with the view of offering the same for sale or exchange, or shall keep cows for the production of milk for market, or for sale or exchange, in a crowded or unhealthy condition, or feed the same on food that produces impure, diseased or unwholesome milk, or who shall sell or exchange or offer to sell or exchange any milk as pure, from which the cream or any portion thereof has been taken, except as provided in the next following section, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or be imprisoned in the county jail not exceeding six months, or both.

See pure food law, secs. 3436-3510.

6538. Idem—Sale of skimmed milk.

SEC. 273. Nothing in the next preceding section shall be construed to prevent the sale of skimmed milk, provided the person or persons selling the same shall first make known the fact that it is skimmed milk, and shall sell it as such.

6539. Adulterations of milk, what are.

SEC. 274. The addition of water or any substance is hereby declared any adulteration; any milk that is obtained from animals that are fed on distillery, brewery, hotel, or restaurant waste, usually called "swill," or upon any substance in a state of putrefaction, or upon impure matter from stalls, and stables, is hereby declared to be impure and unwholesome, and any person or persons offending, as aforesaid, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, on conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars or be imprisoned in the county jail for not more than six months, or both.

See pure food law, secs. 3486-3510.

6540. Furnishing impure water.

SEC. 275. Every owner, agent, manager, operator or other person having charge of any waterworks furnishing water for public or private use, who shall knowingly permit any act or omit any duty or precaution by reason whereof the purity or healthfulness of the water supplied shall become impaired, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

See secs. 2047, 4720, 6547.

6541. Wilfully poisoning food.

SEC. 276. Every person who shall wilfully mingle poison in any food, drink or medicine intended or prepared for the use of a human being, and every person who shall wilfully poison any spring, well or reservoir of water, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for not less than five years.

6542. Person omitting to label drugs, or labeling them wrongly.

SEC. 277. Every person who, in putting up any drug, medicine, or food, or preparation used in medical practice, or making up any prescription, or filling any order for drugs, medicines, food or preparation shall put any untrue label, stamp or other designation of contents upon any box, bottle or other package containing a drug, medicine, food or preparation used in medical practice, or substitute or dispense a different article for or in lieu of any article prescribed, ordered, or demanded, or put up a greater or less quantity of any ingredient specified in any such prescription, order or demand than that prescribed, ordered, or demanded, or otherwise deviate from the terms of the prescription, order, or demand by substituting one drug for another, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor; provided, however, that, except in the case of physicians' prescriptions, nothing herein contained shall be deemed or construed to prevent or impair or in any manner affect the right of an apothecary, druggist, pharmacist or other person to recommend the purchase of an article other than that ordered, required or demanded, but of a similar nature, or to sell such other article in place or in lieu of an article ordered, required or demanded, with the knowledge and consent of the purchaser.

Adulteration of drugs, sec. 4511.
Retailing poisons without label, sec. 4512.
See pure food law, secs. 3486-3510.

6543. Regulating the sale of narcotic drugs.

SEC. 278. It shall be unlawful for any person to sell, furnish or dispose of any opium, morphine, alkaloid-cocaine, or alpha or beta eucaine, or any derivative, except upon the signed prescription of a physician, dentist or veterinary surgeon, duly licensed under the laws of this state, and the proprietor or manager of the store shall keep all such prescriptions in a permanent file, and shall be filled but once and of which no copy shall be taken by any person, and shall at any time allow the same to be inspected, and copies thereof to be made by any peace officer, the district attorney of the county where sold, or any authorized inspector of drugs; provided, that nothing herein contained shall prohibit any manufacturer or licensed druggist from selling or delivering any of the drugs named to a person known to be a licensed druggist, licensed physician, licensed dentist or veterinary surgeon, nor prohibit a physician or dentist from dispensing the same in good faith to his patients, nor prohibit the sale of patent or proprietary medicines containing opium or any of its derivatives in combination or compound with other active elements when the dose of opium or any derivative thereof is less than one-quarter grain; nor to the sales of any mixture of the above drugs recognized in the United States pharmacopia or national formulary. Every person who shall violate any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

See secs. 3486, 4511, 6486, 6493.

6544. Fraudulent prescription by physician.

SEC. 279. Every physician who shall sell or give to or prescribe for any person any opium, morphine, alkaloid-cocaine, or alpha or beta eucaine, or any derivative, mixture or preparation of any of them, except to a patient believed in good faith to require the same for medicinal use, and in quantities proportioned to the needs of such patient, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

Pollution of streams, detrimental to fish, sec. 2047.
See sec. 4720.

6545. Presenting fraudulent prescription.

SEC. 280. Every person who shall falsely make, forge or alter, or, knowing the same to have been falsely made, forged or altered, shall present to any druggist a physician's prescription with intent by means thereof to procure from such druggist any opium, morphine, alkaloidcocaine, or alpha or beta eucaine, or any derivative, mixture or preparation of any of them, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

6546. Deposit of unwholesome substance.

SEC. 281. Every person who shall deposit, leave or keep, on or near a highway or route of public travel, on land or water, any unwholesome substance; or who shall establish, maintain or carry on, upon or near a highway or route of public travel, on land or water, any business, trade or manufacture which is detrimental to the public health; or who shall deposit or cast into any lake, creek or river, wholly or partly in this state, the offal from or the dead body of any animal, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

6547. Polluting waters.

SEC. 282. Any person or persons, firm, company, corporation or association in this state, or the managing agent of any person or persons, firm, company, corporation or association in this state, or any duly elected, appointed or lawfully created state officer of this state, or any duly elected, appointed or lawfully created officer of any county, city, town, municipality, or municipal government in this state, who shall deposit, or who shall permit or allow any person or persons in their employ or under their control, management or direction to deposit in any of the waters of the lakes, rivers, streams, springs or ditches in this state any sawdust, rubbish, filth, or poisonous, or deleterious substance or substances, liable to affect the health of person, fish, or live stock, or injure ditches, or agricultural lands, or place or deposit any such deleterious substance or substances in any place where the same may be washed or infiltered into any of the waters herein named, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not less than fifty dollars, nor more than five hundred dollars; provided, that in cases of state institutions, municipalities, towns, incorporated towns or cities, when, owing to the magnitude of the work, immediate correction of the evil is impracticable, then in such cases the authorities shall adopt all new work, and as rapidly as possible reconstruct the old systems of drainage sewerage so as to conform with the provisons of this section; and provided further, that all such new and reconstructed systems shall be completed before March 20, 1917; provided, that nothing in this section shall be so construed as to prevent mining or milling companies or persons engaged in the operation of ore reduction plants from dumping tailings directly into any stream in this state in such manner as will not prevent or impede the natural flow of such stream and will not damage agricultural lands or other property and will not poison or injure persons or animals.

6549. Burial of dead—Certificate of physician—Coroner's permit to issue.

SEC. 284. It shall be unlawful for any undertaker or other person within the State of Nevada to bury any deceased person who has died within the limits of any incorporated town or city in said state without first having procured a certificate from the physician who attended the said deceased person during his or her last illness, setting forth the name, nativity, sex, age, time of death, place of death and cause of death of said deceased person, as near as can be ascertained by said physician; provided, that in cases where no physician has attended said deceased person during his or her last illness, no such certificate shall be required, but the coroner's permit mentioned in the next succeeding section shall be obtained, and shall be sufficient authority for the burial of such deceased person.

Altering certificate of birth or death, sec. 2972.
Failure of physician to issue certificate of cause of death, or false certificate, secs. 2972, 2987.
See secs. 4454, 6473, 6474, 6476, 6814.

6550. To present certificate—Coroner to issue permit.

SEC. 285. It shall be the duty of any undertaker or other person obtaining the certificate mentioned in this or the next preceding section before burying such deceased person to present such certificate to the coroner of the county within which such deceased person shall have died. The said coroner, after being satisfied of the truth of the facts set forth in said certificate, shall issue a permit to the person presenting such certificate to bury the deceased person named in said certificate, or shall take such action under the law as the facts set forth in said certificate shall warrant. Said permit shall be in writing, signed by the coroner, and shall set forth the facts under which it was issued. Said coroner shall file in his office all physicians' certificates so presented to him, and shall keep a record of the same and a memorandum of all permits so issued by him, which records and memoranda he shall turn over to his successor in office as a part of the public records of his office. Any person wilfully violating any of the provisions of this or the next preceding section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not less than fifty dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not less than one month nor more than six months, or both.

Burial or removal permit, not obtaining, sec. 2972.
False certificate of death, sec. 2987.

6551. Physician issuing false certificate.

SEC. 286. Any physician who shall wilfully issue or sign, or cause to be issued or signed, any certificate, as provided for in the two next preceding sections, knowing the facts set forth in said certificate to be false, shall be deemed guilty of a felony, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be imprisoned in the state prison for a term not less than one year and not more than five years.

Altering certificate of birth or death, sec. 2972.
Failure to record certificate, sec. 2986.
Physician, failure to issue certificate of cause of death, or false certificate, secs. 2972, 2987.

6552. Exhuming remains of deceased person.

SEC. 287. Any person or persons, company, association or corporation in this state who shall exhume or disinter, or who shall cause to be exhumed or disinterred, any human remains, or any part of such remains which have been buried in the ground in this state, for the purpose of transporting the same to any other state or foreign country, except under the conditions provided in the next following section, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof, shall be punished by fine in any sum not less than three hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars for each and every such offense, or shall be imprisoned in the county jail for any period not less than three months nor more than six months, or both.

Burial or removal permit, not obtaining, sec. 2972.

6553. Idem—Commissioners to issue permits.

SEC. 288. The county commissioners of the several counties in this state, in which said human remains are buried or interred, as provided in section 287 of this act, are hereby authorized to grant and to issue written permits for the disinterment and removal of any such human remains referred to in section 287 of this act, whenever in their judgment the public health will not be endangered by such disinterment and removal; provided, however, that no such permit shall be granted or issued under any circumstances or at any time where the party or parties buried or interred have died from or with any contagious or loathsome disease.

Burial or removal permit, not obtaining, sec. 2972.
Altering certificate of birth or death, sec. 2972.
Transportation company shipping body without certificate of death, sec. 2972.

6554. Hours of labor in underground mines.

SEC. 289. The period of employment of working men in all underground mines or workings shall be eight hours per day, except in cases of emergency where life or property is in imminent danger.

For schedule of acts regarding employer and employee, see sec. 1915.
Eight-hour day for top men of underground mine, secs. 1941, 1942.
The above section was held constitutional in Ex Parte Boyce, 27 Nev. 299 (95 P. 215, 361, 65 L. R. A. 47).

6555. Hours of labor in smelters and mills.

SEC. 290. The period of employment of working men in smelters and in all other institutions for the reduction or refining of ores or metals shall be eight hours per day, except in cases of emergency where life or property is in imminent danger.

See secs. 1941–1942.
Above section was held constitutional in Ex Parte Kair, 28 Nev. 127, 425 (103 A. S. 817, 80 P. 463).

6556. Idem—Mines and mills—Penalty.

SEC. 291. Any person who violates either of the two preceding sections, or any person, corporation, employer or his or its agent, who hires, contracts with, or causes any person to work in an underground mine or other underground workings, or in a smelter or any other institution or place for the reduction or refining of ores or metals for a period of time longer than eight hours during one day unless life and property shall be in imminent danger, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars, nor more than five hundred dollars, or imprisonment in the county jail not more than six months, or both.

This act is not in conflict with Const., sec. 21, art. 4 (sec. 279, ante). Nor is it inimical to the fourteenth amendment to the federal constitution (sec. 185, ante). The legislature has inherent authority, under the general police power of the state, to enact laws for the promotion of the health, safety and welfare of the people, and its arm cannot be stayed when exercised for these purposes. If the restriction of the hours of labor be deemed a regulation or limitation on the right to acquire property, the occupations to which the act applies are not considered heathful; and it was therefore within the power and discretion of the legislature to enact the statute for the protection of the health and prolongation of the lives of the working men affected, and the resulting welfare of the state. Ex Parte Boyce, 27 Nev. 299, 328, 333, 335, 352, 360 (65 L. R. A. 47, 75 P. 1).

In an attack on the constitutionality of this act on the ground that the labor therein mentioned was not dangerous to health, evidence that particular reduction works and mills, including the one in which petitioner worked, were healthful, as distinguished from the healthfulness of mills in general throughout the country, was held inadmissible. Ex Parte Kair, 28 Nev. 425 (82 P. 453).

Cited, In re Chartz, 29 Nev. 112, 5 L. R. A. (N. S.), 124 A. S. 15, 85 P. 352.

This act is not void under Const., art. 1, sec. 1 (sec. 230, ante), but is sustainable as a valid health regulation under the police power. Nor does it violate the eighth amendment to the federal constitution (sec. 178, ante). The statute being sustainable as a valid health regulation within the police power, owing to the fact that prolonged labor in such places is injurious, as a matter of common knowledge, evidence that defendant's occupation was not injurious is not admissible in a prosecution under this section. Where one is imprisoned on a conviction under a statute entirely void, the remedy is habeas corpus. Ex Parte Kair, 28 Nev. 127, 140 (113 A. S. 817, 80 P. 463).

6557. Hours of labor in open mines.

SEC. 292. The period of employment of working men in open-pit and open-cut mines shall not exceed eight hours in any twenty-four hours, except in cases of emergency where life or property is in imminent danger.

6558. Idem—Penalty.

SEC. 293. Any person who violates any provision of the preceding section, or any person, persons, corporation, employer or his agent, who hires, contracts with, or causes any person to labor in any open-pit or open-cut mines, for a period of time longer than eight hours within any twenty-four hours, except in cases of emergency where life or property is in imminent danger, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than six months, or both.

6559. Hours of labor in plaster and cement mills.

SEC. 294. The period of employment of all persons engaged or employed in any mill or other institution wherein plaster or cement is manufactured shall not exceed eight hours in any twenty-four hours except in cases of emergency where life is in imminent danger, or the product of such mill or institution liable to loss or damage by delay in treatment.

6560. Idem—Penalty.

SEC. 295. Any person who violates any provision of the preceding section, or any person, persons, corporation, employer or agent who hires, contracts with or causes any person to be engaged or employed in any mill or other institution where plaster or cement is manufactured, for a period of time longer than eight hours in any twenty-four hours except in cases where life is in imminent danger or the product of such mill or institution liable to loss or damage by delay in treatment, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than six months, or both.

See secs. 1941–1942, ante.

6588. Endangering life by refusal to labor.
6589. Disturbance on highway.
6590. Dangerous exhibitions.
6591. Allowing vicious animal at large.

6561. Public nuisance defined.

SEC. 296. A public nuisance is a crime against the order and economy of the state. Every place—

1. Wherein any gambling, swindling game or device, book-making, pool-selling, or bucket-shop or any agency therefor shall be conducted, or any article, apparatus or device useful therefor shall be kept; or,

2. Wherein any fighting between animals or birds shall be conducted; or,

3. Wherein any intoxicating liquors are kept for unlawful use, sale or distribution; or,

4. Where vagrants resort; and,

Every act unlawfully done and every omission to perform a duty, which act or omission

1. Shall annoy, injure or endanger the safety, health, comfort, or repose of any considerable number of persons; or,

2. Shall offend public decency; or,

3. Shall unlawfully interfere with, befoul, obstruct, or tend to obstruct, or render dangerous for passage, a lake, navigable river, bay, stream, canal, ditch, mill-race or basin, or a public park, square, street, alley, bridge, causeway, or highway; or,

4. Shall in any way render a considerable number of persons insecure in life or the use of property;

Shall be a public nuisance.

Obstructing highway, sec. 3009.

6562. Unequal damage.

SEC. 297. An act which affects a considerable number of persons in any of the ways specified in the next preceding section is not less a public nuisance because the extent of the damage is unequal.

Failure of commissioners or district attorney to abate nuisance, sec. 1562.

6563. Maintaining or permitting nuisance.

SEC. 298. Every person who shall commit or maintain a public nuisance, for which no special punishment is prescribed; or who shall wilfully omit or refuse to perform any legal duty relating to the removal of such nuisance; and every person who shall let, or permit to be used, any building or boat, or portion thereof, knowing that it is intended to be, or is being used, for committing or maintaining any such nuisance, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

6564. Abatement of nuisance.

SEC. 299. Any court or magistrate before whom there may be pending any proceeding for a violation of the next preceding section, shall, in addition to any fine or other punishment which it may impose for such violation, order such nuisance abated, and all property unlawfully used in the maintenance thereof destroyed by the sheriff at the cost of the defendant.

6565. Keeping explosives unlawfully.

SEC. 300. Every person who shall make or keep any explosive or combustible substance in any city or town, or carry it through the streets thereof in a quantity, or manner prohibited by law, or by ordinance of such municipality; and every person who, by careless, negligent or unauthorized use or management of any such explosive or combustible substance, shall injure or cause injury to the person or property of another, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

County commissioners failing to comply with act relative to storage of explosives, sec. 1947.

6566. Transporting explosives.

SEC. 301. Every person who shall put up for sale, or who shall deliver to any warehouseman, dock, depot, or common carrier any package, cask or can containing benzine, gasoline, naphtha, nitroglycerine, dynamite, powder or other explosive or combustible substance, without having printed thereon in a conspicuous place in large letters the word "Explosive," shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

6567. Setting spring gun.

SEC. 302. Every person who shall set a so-called trap, spring pistol, rifle, or other deadly weapon, shall be punished as follows:

1. If no injury result therefrom to any human being, by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than one year or by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars, or by both.

2. If injuries not fatal result therefrom to any human being, by imprisonment in the state prison for not more than twenty years.

3. If the death of a human being results therefrom, under circumstances not rendering the act murder, by imprisonment in the state prison for not more than twenty years, otherwise the punishment shall be as for murder.

6568. Concealed weapons, carrying of, unlawful.

SEC. 303. It shall be unlawful for any person in this state, except peace officers, or persons while employed upon or traveling upon trains, stages, or other public conveyances, to wear, carry or have concealed upon his person, in any town, city or village, any dirk-knife, pistol, sword in case, slung-shot, sand-club, metal knuckles, or other dangerous weapon, without first obtaining permission from the board of county commissioners, attested by its clerk, of the county in which such concealed weapon shall be carried. The board of county commissioners of any county in this state, may, upon an application made in writing, showing the reason of the person, or the purpose for which any concealed weapon is to be carried, grant permission under its seal, and attested by its clerk, to the person making such application, authorizing such person to carry the concealed weapon described in such permission. Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction thereof shall be fined not less than twenty dollars, nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than thirty days, nor more than six months.

See Ex Parte Davis, 33 Nev.—(110 P. 1131).

6569. Discharging firearms unlawful, when.

SEC. 304. Any person, whether under the influence of liquor or otherwise, who shall maliciously, wantonly or negligently discharge or cause to be discharged any pistol, gun or any other kind of firearm, in or upon any public street or thoroughfare, or in any theater, hall, store, hotel, saloon or any other place of public resort, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail for a term not less than two nor more than six months, or by a fine not less than one hundred nor more than five hundred dollars, or both.

6570. Idem—Duties of officers.

SEC. 305. It shall be the duty of all civil, military and peace officers to be vigilant in carrying the provisions of the preceding section into full force and effect; and any peace officer who shall neglect his duty in the due arrest of any such offender, shall be deemed guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

6571. Infernal machines.

SEC. 306. It shall be unlawful for any person to manufacture or procure any dynamite machine or device or other device for the destruction of life or property, or to have either of the same in his possession. Any person violating the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a felony.

6572. Destruction of buildings by explosives.

SEC. 307. Every person who shall destroy, or attempt to destroy, any dwelling-house or other building, a human being being therein at the time, with dynamite, nitroglycerine, gunpowder, or other high explosive, shall be guilty of a felony, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by death or imprisonment for life in the state prison in the discretion of the jury.

6573. Idem—Conspirators.

SEC. 308. Any person or persons who shall conspire with others to commit the offense described in the last preceding section shall likewise be guilty of a felony and be subject to the same punishment.

6574. Dealers in explosives, duty of.

6575. Idem—Penalty.

SEC. 310. Any person violating the provisions of the last preceding section shall be deemed guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

6576. Obstruction of extinguishment of fire.

SEC. 311. Every person who, with intent to prevent or obstruct the extinguishment of any fire, shall cut or remove any bell rope, wire or other apparatus for communicating an alarm of fire, or cut, injure or destroy any engine, hose, or other fire apparatus, or otherwise prevent or obstruct the extinguishment of any fire, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for not more than five years, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than one year, or by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars.

6577. Obstructing firemen.

SEC. 312. Every person who at the burning of any building shall be guilty of any disobedience to the lawful orders of a public officer or fireman or of resistance to or interference with the lawful efforts of any firemen, or company of firemen, to extinguish the same, or of disorderly conduct likely to interfere with the extinguishment thereof, or who shall forbid, prevent or dissuade others from assisting to extinguish such fire, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

6578. Smoking—Where prohibited.

SEC. 313. Every person who shall light a pipe, cigar or cigarette in, or who shall enter with a lighted pipe, cigar or cigarette, any mill or other building on which is posted in a conspicuous place over and near each principal entrance a notice in plain, legible characters stating that no smoking is allowed in such building, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

6579. Negligent fires.

SEC. 314. Every person who shall wilfully or negligently set, or fail to carefully guard or extinguish any fire, whether on his own land or the land of another, whereby the timber or property of another shall be endangered, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

See sec. 6632.

6580. Operating dangerous engine.

SEC. 315. Every person who shall operate or permit to be operated in dangerous proximity to any brush, grass or other inflammable material, any engine or boiler which is not equipped with a modern spark arrester, in good condition, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

6581. Doors of public buildings to swing outward.

SEC. 316. The doors of all theaters, opera houses, school buildings, churches, public halls, or places used for public entertainments, exhibitions or meetings, which are used exclusively or in part for admission to or egress from the same, or any part thereof, shall be so hung and arranged as to open outwardly, and during any exhibition, entertainment or meeting, shall be kept unlocked and unfastened, and in such condition that in case of danger or necessity, immediate escape from such building shall not be prevented or delayed; and every agent or lessee of any such building who shall rent the same or allow it to be used for any of the aforesaid public purposes without having the doors thereof hung and arranged as hereinbefore provided, shall, for each violation of any provision of this section, be guilty of a misdemeanor.

6582. Engineer who cannot read.

SEC. 317. Every person who, as an officer of a corporation or otherwise, shall knowingly employ as an engineer or engine driver, to run a locomotive or train on any railway, any person who cannot read time tables and ordinary handwriting; and every person who, being unable to read time tables and ordinary handwriting, shall act as an engineer or run a locomotive or train on any railway, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

6583. Intoxication of employees.

SEC. 318. Every person who, being employed upon any railway, as engineer, motorman, gripman, conductor, switch tender, fireman, bridge tender, flagman or signalman, or person having charge of stations, starting, regulating or running trains upon a railway, or person employed as captain, engineer or other officer of a vessel propelled by steam, or being the driver of any animal or vehicle upon any public street, shall be intoxicated while engaged in the discharge of any such duties, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

Engineer or conductor, intoxication of, sec. 3564.

6584. Failure to ring bell.

SEC. 319. Every engineer driving a locomotive on any railway who shall fail to ring the bell or sound the whistle upon such locomotive, or cause the same to be rung or sounded at least eighty rods from any place where such railway crosses a traveled road or street, where such road or street is customarily used by the public for the purpose of travel (except in cities where other regulations are required), or to continue the ringing of such bell or sounding of such whistle until such locomotive shall have crossed such road or street, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

See sec. 3552.

6585. Other violations of duty.

SEC. 320. Every engineer, motorman, gripman, conductor, brakeman, switch tender, train dispatcher or other officer, agent or servant of any railway company, who shall be guilty of any wilful violation or omission of his duty as such officer, agent or servant, by which human life or safety shall be endangered, for which no punishment is specially prescribed, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

6586. Obstructing and delaying train.

SEC. 321. Every person who shall wilfully obstruct, hinder or delay the passage of any car lawfully operated upon any railway, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Injury to railroad property, if personal injury or death, felony, sec. 3565.

6587. Liability of person handling steamboat or steam boiler.

SEC. 322. Every person who shall apply, or cause to be applied to a steam boiler a higher pressure of steam than is allowed by law, or by any inspector, officer or person authorized to limit the same; every captain or other person having charge of the machinery or boiler in a steamboat used for the conveyance of passengers on the waters of this state, who, from ignorance or gross neglect, or for the purpose of increasing the speed of such boat, shall create or cause to be created an undue or unsafe pressure of steam; and every engineer or other person having charge of a steam boiler, steam engine or other apparatus for generating or employing steam, who shall wilfully or from ignorance or gross neglect, create or allow to be created such an undue quantity of steam as to burst the boiler, engine or apparatus, or cause any other accident, whereby human life is endangered, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

6588. Endangering life by refusal to labor.

SEC. 323. Every person who shall wilfully and maliciously, either alone or in combination with others, break a contract of service or employment, knowing or having reasonable cause to believe that the consequence of his so doing will be to endanger human life or to cause grievous bodily injury, or to expose valuable property to destruction or serious injury, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

6589. Disturbance on highway.

SEC. 324. Every person who shall ride or drive any horse upon a public street or other highway, in a manner likely to endanger the safety or life of another on such highway, shall create or participate in any noise, disturbance or other demonstration calculated or intended to frighten, intimidate or disturb any person, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

6590. Dangerous exhibitions.

SEC. 325. Every proprietor, lessee or occupant of any place of amusement, or any plat of ground or building, who shall allow it to be used for the exhibition of skill in throwing any sharp instrument or in shooting any bow gun, pistol or firearm of any description, at or toward any human being, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

6591. Allowing vicious animal at large.

SEC. 326. Every person having the care or custody of any animal known to possess any vicious or dangerous tendencies, who shall allow the same to escape or run at large in any place or manner liable to endanger the safety of any person, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor; and any person may lawfully kill such animal when reasonably necessary to protect his own or the public safety.

6599. Interfering with school children.
6600. Disturbing public schools.
6601. False fire alarms, misdemeanor.
6602. Act construed—Penalty.
6603. Flag, American, penalty for desecration.
6604. Armed association.
6605. Combination to resist process.
6606. Refusing to join posse, or prevent breach of peace.
6607. Disturbing meeting.
6608. Sabbath breaking.
6609. Aiming or discharging firearms.
6610. Use of firearms by minor.
6611. Offenses in public conveyances.
6612. Destruction of property.
6613. Criminal anarchy defined.
6614. Advocacy of criminal anarchy.
6615. Assemblages of anarchists.
6616. Permitting premises to be used for assemblages of anarchists.
6617. Publishing matter inciting breach of peace.
6618. Liability of editors and others.

6592. Disturbing the peace.

SEC. 327. If any person shall, maliciously and wilfully, disturb the peace or quiet of any neighborhood, or family, by loud or unusual noises, or by tumultuous and offensive conduct, threatening, traducing, quarreling, challenging to fight, or fighting, every person convicted thereof shall be fined in a sum not exceeding two hundred dollars, or imprisonment in the county jail not more than two months.

6593. Assembling to disturb the peace.

SEC. 328. If two or more persons assemble for the purpose of disturbing the public peace, or committing any unlawful act, and do not disperse, on being desired or commanded so to do by a judge, justice of the peace, sheriff, coroner, constable, or other public officer, the persons so offending shall, on conviction, be severally fined in any sum not exceeding five hundred dollars, and imprisonment in the county jail not more than six months.

See secs. 2836–2838.

6594. Affray.

SEC. 329. If two or more persons shall, by agreement, fight in a public place, to the terror of the citizens of this state, the persons so offending shall be deemed guilty of an affray, and shall be severally fined in a sum not exceeding two hundred dollars, and imprisoned in the county jail not more than one month.

6595. Unlawful assemblage.

SEC. 330. If two or more persons shall assemble together to do an unlawful act, and separate without doing or advancing towards it, such persons shall be deemed guilty of an unlawful assembly, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be severally fined in a sum not exceeding two hundred dollars, or imprisoned in the county jail not exceeding three months.

6596. Rout and riot.

SEC. 331. If two or more persons shall meet to do an unlawful act, upon a common cause of quarrel, and make advances toward it, they shall be deemed guilty of a rout, and, on conviction, shall be severally fined in a sum not exceeding five hundred dollars, or imprisonment in the county jail not more than six months; and if two or more persons shall actually do an unlawful act of violence, either with or without a common cause of quarrel or even do a lawful act, in a violent, tumultuous, and illegal manner they shall be deemed guilty of a riot, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be fined in any sum not exceeding five hundred dollars each or by imprisonment in the county jail for any term of time not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

6597. Disturbing religious meetings.

SEC. 332. Every person who shall wilfully disquiet or disturb any congregation, or assembly of people met for religious worship, by making a noise, or by rude or indecent behavior, or profane discourse within their place of worship, or so near to the same as to disturb the order or solemnity of the meeting, or menace, threaten, or assault any person there being, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and punished by fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding three months.

See secs. 6478, 6607.

6598. Selling liquor at camp meetings.

SEC. 333. Every person who shall erect or keep a booth, tent, stall, or other contrivance for the purpose of selling or otherwise disposing of any wine, or spirituous, or fermented liquors, or any drink of which wine, spirituous, or fermented liquors form a part, within one mile of any camp or field meeting for religious worship, during the time of holding such meeting, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and punished by fine not exceeding five hundred dollars.

6599. Interfering with school children.

SEC. 334. It shall be a misdemeanor for any person or persons to detain, beat, whip or otherwise interfere with any pupil or pupils attending any public school on his, her or their way to or from such school against the will of such pupil or pupils.

See sec. 3452.

6600. Disturbing public schools.

SEC. 335. It shall be a misdemeanor for any person or persons to disturb the peace of any public school in the State of Nevada by using vile or indecent language, or by threatening or assaulting any pupil or teacher within the building or grounds of such school, and for the purposes of this act the ground of every public school shall extend to a distance of fifty yards in all directions from the school building.

See sec. 3453.

6601. False fire alarm, misdemeanor.

SEC. 336. It shall be a misdemeanor for any person or persons intentionally to give or cause to be given or turn in or cause to be turned in any false alarm of fire, in any city, town or community in this state.

6602. Act construed—Penalty.

SEC. 337. The last preceding section shall not be construed to apply to alarms given for practice by any chief of a fire department or by any other person properly authorized to give such alarms, nor to alarms given by any person to attract attention of police, firemen, or people to acts of violence, disorder or menace. For each and every offense committed under the provisions of the preceding section, the person or persons so offending shall be punished by a fine of not to exceed one hundred dollars, or imprisonment in the county jail for a period of not to exceed fifty days.

6603. Flag—American, penalty for desecration.

SEC. 338. Any person who, in any manner, for exhibition or display puts or causes to be placed, any inscription, design, device, symbol, portrait, name, advertisement, words, character, marks or notice whatever upon any flag or ensign of the United States, or state flag of this state or ensign, evidently purporting to be either of said flags or ensign, or who in any manner appends, annexes or affixes to any such flag or ensign any inscription, design, device, symbol, portrait, name, advertisement, words, marks, notice or token whatever, or who displays or exhibits or causes to be displayed or exhibited, any flag or ensign, evidently purporting to be either of said flags, upon which shall in any manner be put, attached, annexed, or affixed any inscription, design, device, symbol, portrait, name, advertisement, words, marks, notice or token whatever, or who publicly or wilfully mutilates, tramples upon, or who tears down or wilfully and maliciously removes while owned by others, or otherwise defaces or defiles any of said flags, or ensign, which are public or private property, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor; provided, however, that this act shall not apply to flags or ensigns the property of or used in the service of the United States or of this state, upon which inscriptions, names of action, words, marks or symbols are placed pursuant to law or authorized regulations.

6604. Armed association.

SEC. 339. It shall not be lawful for any body of men other than the state or municipal police, university or public school cadets or companies, national guard or troops of the United States, to associate themselves together as a military company with arms, without the consent of the governor; but members of social and benevolent associations are not prohibited from wearing swords. Every person who shall associate with others in violation of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

6605. Combination to resist process.

SEC. 340. Every person who shall enter into a combination with another to resist the execution of any legal process or other mandate of a court of competent jurisdiction, under circumstances not amounting to a riot, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

6606. Refusing to join posse, or prevent breach of peace.

SEC. 341. Every male person, above eighteen years of age, who shall neglect or refuse to join the posse comitatus, or power of the county, by neglecting or refusing to aid and assist in taking or arresting any person or persons against whom there may be issued any process, or by neglecting to aid and assist in retaking any person or persons who, after being arrested or confined, may have escaped from such arrest or imprisonment, or by neglecting or refusing to aid and assist in preventing any breach of the peace, or the commission of any criminal offense, being thereto lawfully required by any sheriff, deputy sheriff, coroner, constable, judge, or justice of the peace, or other officer concerned in the administration of justice, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

See secs. 2833, 6361, 6863, 6956.

6607. Disturbing meeting.

SEC. 342. Every person who, without authority of law, shall wilfully disturb any assembly or meeting not unlawful in its character, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

See secs. 6478, 6597.

6608. Sabbath breaking.

SEC. 343. Every person who, on a Sunday, shall promote or engage in any noisy or boisterous sport or amusement, which disturbs the peace of the day, or shall keep open any race grounds, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

See Ex Parte Winston, 9 Nev. 71.

6609. Aiming or discharging firearms.

SEC. 344. Every person who shall aim any gun, pistol, revolver or other firearm, whether loaded or not, at or towards any human being, or who shall wilfully discharge any firearm, air gun or other weapon, or throw any deadly missile in a public place, or in any place where any person might be endangered thereby, although no injury result, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

6610. Use of firearms by minor.

SEC. 345. No minor under the age of fourteen years shall handle or have in his possession or under his control, except while accompanied by or under the immediate charge of his parent or guardian, any firearm of any kind for hunting or target practice or for other purposes. Every person violating any of the foregoing provisions, or aiding or knowingly permitting any such minor to violate the same, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

6611. Offenses in public conveyances.

SEC. 346. Every person who shall wilfully use profane, offensive, or indecent language or engage in any quarrel in any public conveyance, or interfere with or annoy any passenger therein, or having refused to pay the proper fare, shall fail to leave any such conveyance upon demand, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

6612. Destruction of property.

SEC. 347. Whenever any persons unlawfully assembled shall pull down or destroy any dwelling house or other building, or any shop, steamboat, vessel or other property, they severally shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for not more than five years, or by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars.

6613. Criminal anarchy defined.

SEC. 348. Criminal anarchy is the doctrine that organized government should be overthrown by force or violence, or by assassination of the executive head or of any of the executive officials of government, or by any unlawful means. The advocating of such doctrine either by word of mouth or writing is a felony.

6614. Advocacy of criminal anarchy.

SEC. 349. Every person who—

1. By word of mouth or writing shall advocate, advise or teach the duty, necessity or propriety of overthrowing or overturning organized government by force or violence, or by assassination of the executive head or of any of the executive officials of government, or by any unlawful means; or,

2. Shall print, publish, edit, issue or knowingly circulate, sell, distribute or publicly display any book, paper, document, or written or printed matter in any form, containing or advocating, advising or teaching the doctrine that organized government should be overthrown by force, violence or any unlawful means; or,

3. Shall openly, wilfully and deliberately justify by word of mouth or writing the assassination or unlawful killing or assaulting of any executive or other officer of the United States or of any state or of any civilized nation having an organized government because of his official character, or any other crime, with intent to teach, spread or advocate the propriety of the doctrines of criminal anarchy; or,

4. Shall organize or help to organize or become a member of or voluntarily assemble with any society, group or assembly of persons formed to teach or advocate such doctrine;

Shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for not more than ten years, or by a fine of not more than five thousand dollars, or both.

6615. Assemblages of anarchists.

SEC. 350. Whenever two or more persons assemble for the purpose of advocating or teaching the doctrines of criminal anarchy, as defined in this act, such an assembly is unlawful, and every person voluntarily participating therein by his presence, aid or instigation, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for not more than ten years, or by a fine of not more than five thousand dollars, or both.

6616. Permitting premises to be used for assemblages of anarchists.

SEC. 351. Every owner, agent, superintendent, janitor, care-taker or occupant of any place, building or room, who shall wilfully and knowingly permit therein any assemblage of persons prohibited by the next preceding section, or who, after notification that the premises are so used, shall permit such use to be continued, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

6617. Publishing matter inciting breach of peace.

SEC. 352. Every person who shall wilfully print, publish, edit, issue, or knowingly circulate, sell, distribute or display any book, paper, document or written or printed matter, in any form, advocating, encouraging or inciting, or having a tendency to encourage or incite the commission of any crime, breach of the peace or act of violence, or which shall tend to encourage or advocate disrespect for law or for any court or courts of justice, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

6618. Liability of editors and others.

SEC. 353. Every editor or proprietor of a book, newspaper or serial and every manager of a partnership, corporation or association by which a book, newspaper or serial is issued, is chargeable with the publication of any matter contained in such book, newspaper or serial. But in every prosecution therefor, the defendant may show in his defense that the matter complained of was published without his knowledge or fault and against his wishes by another who had no authority from him to make the publication, and was retracted by him as soon as known, with an equal degree of publicity.

CHAPTER 18

VAGRANCY

6619. What constitutes vagrancy.
6620. Vagrants may be employed on public works.
6621. Credit given for work.
6622. Punishment for refusal to work.
6623. Sheriff to procure employment for vagrants.

6619. What constitutes vagrancy.

SEC. 354. Every—

1. Idle or dissolute person, without visible or known means of living, who has the physical ability to work, and who does not for the space of ten days make proper inquiry for, and use due diligence to seek employment, nor labor when employment is offered him; or,

2. Idle or dissolute person who roams about the country from place to place without any lawful business; or,

3. Healthy beggar who solicits alms as a business; or,

4. Person who makes a practice of going from house to house begging food, money, or other articles, or seeks admission to such houses upon frivolous pretexts for no other apparent motive than to see who may be therein, or to gain an insight of the premises; or,

5. Idle or dissolute person or associate of known thieves who wanders about the streets at late and unusual hours of the night, or prowls around dark alleys, byways, and other dark or unfrequented places at any hour of the night, without any legitimate business in so doing; or,

6. Idle or dissolute person who lodges in any barn, shed, shop, outhouse, or place other than that kept for lodging purposes, without the permission of the owner or person entitled to the possession thereof; or,

7. Common drunkard who is in the habit of lying around the streets, alleys, sidewalks, saloons, barrooms or other public places in a state of intoxication; or,

8. Pimp, pander, procurer or procuress; or,

9. Lewd or dissolute male person who lives in and about houses of prostitution or solicits for any prostitute or house of prostitution; or,

10. Lewd and dissolute female person known as a "street walker," or common prostitute, who shall upon the public streets, or in or about any public place or assemblage, or in any saloon, barroom, clubroom, or any other public or general place of resort for men, or anywhere within the sight or hearing of ladies or children, conduct and behave herself in an immodest, drunken, indecent, profane, or obscene manner, either by actions, language, or improper exposure of her person; or,

11. Boy or male person under the age of twenty-one years, who habitually remains away from his home or place of residence after the hour of nine o'clock p. m. without some lawful and necessary business, or other imperative duty, or good and sufficient reason or cause for such absence from home after such hour, for his own amusement and pastime, without any legitimate business for so doing, frequents and passes his time in any billiard room or other place where any such games are played, or any saloon or other place where intoxicating liquor is sold or drank; or who at any hour of the night or day, for his own amusement and pastime, without any legitimate business for so doing, frequents or loafs around any low den, house, or other place of vice, infamy, or immorality, where known thieves and other vicious and infamous persons resort or congregate; or who at any hour of the night, either alone or otherwise, prowls about the streets or town, disturbing the peace and quiet of the neighborhood by loud or unnecessary noise, or committing petty depredations, tricks, or pranks, upon the person or property of other people, or by abusive, obscene, or insulting language, or by any manner of rowdyism whatsoever, disturbs or annoys the passersby, any lawful assemblage of persons, or the neighborhood at large; or,

12. Person who keeps a place where lost or stolen property is concealed—

Is a vagrant, and shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than three months, or by a fine of not more than three hundred dollars, or both.

See secs. 6506, 6842.

See Tilden v. Esmeralda County, 32 Nev. 319 (107 P. 881).

6620. Vagrants may be employed on public works.

SEC. 355. All male persons having the physical ability to work, convicted of vagrancy and imprisoned on judgment therefor, may be required to perform labor on the public works, buildings, grounds, or ways in the county, and the sheriff or other person or persons having them in charge while performing such labor may, in his discretion, employ any usual, reasonable, humane, and sufficient means to guard against and prevent such prisoner escaping from custody while being so employed.

6621. Credit given for work.

SEC. 356. For each any every day's work willingly and faithfully performed by such vagrant, he shall receive credit for two days' time, which shall be by the sheriff applied upon and deducted from his term of imprisonment.

6622. Punishment for refusal to work.

SEC. 357. If any imprisoned vagrant, having the physical ability to work, refuse to work when required so to do, as herein provided, he may, as a punishment, be forced to work by being compelled to "pack sand," or carry other material and weight from place to place, or to perform other labor not unreasonable, inhumane, or too burdensome, until he declares himself willing to work, and does work as required; or in lieu thereof he may, in the discretion of the sheriff, be confined in a cell of the jail and fed upon no other food except bread and water, until he declares himself ready to work, as required herein; but both methods of punishment herein prescribed shall in no instance be inflicted at the same time. In either case of punishment the prisoner shall have no credit given him upon his term of imprisonment, for such forced labor or solitary confinement.

6623. Sheriff to procure employment for vagrants.

SEC. 358. It shall be the duty of the sheriff, during fair and reasonable weather, when the same can be done without extra expense to the county, to procure employment for and set at work such convicted vagrants, who are serving out their term of imprisonment; and to this end, upon application of any road supervisor, superintendent, foreman, or other overseer or custodian of any public works, buildings, or grounds, he may deliver into the custody and charge of such person making the application, such prisoners, to do labor as herein required, who, after working hours of the day, or after suspension of labor from any cause, shall be returned into the custody of the sheriff of the county for safe keeping until again required for labor.

CHAPTER 19

ARSON—FOREST AND NEGLIGENT FIRES

6624. Arson, first degree—Penalty.
6625. Arson, second degree.
6626. Burning to defraud insurer.
6627. Arson—Fine in addition to imprisonment.
6628. "Set on fire" defined.
6629. Contiguous fires.
6630. Ownership of building.
6631. Preparation is attempt.
6632. Starting and neglecting fires—Penalty.
6633. Damage by fire—Penalty and liability for.

6624. Arson, first degree—Penalty.

SEC. 359. Every person who shall wilfully burn or set on fire in the night-time or between sunset and sunrise the dwelling house of another, or any building in which there shall be at the time a human being, shall be guilty of arson in the first degree and be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for a term not less than two years, and which may extend to life, and in addition thereto, may be fined as provided in section 362.

See sec. 6626.
See State v. McMahan, 17 Nev. 365 (30 P. 1000).

6625. Arson, second degree.

SEC. 360. Every person who, under circumstances not amounting to arson in the first degree, shall wilfully and maliciously burn, or set on fire, any dwelling house or building owned by himself, or the property of another, or any kitchen, office, shop, barn, stable, storehouse, warehouse, or other building, or stacks of grain, or stacks or stocks of hay or straw, or cordwood, or lumber, or charcoal, of the value of fifty dollars or more, or standing crops, the property of any other person or corporation, or any church, meeting house, school house, state house, court house, or other public building, or any ship, vessel, boat, or other water craft, or any bridge or railroad car or engine, or any threshing machine, wagon, lumber or timber, whether cut or standing, of the value of fifty dollars or more, shall be deemed guilty of arson in the second degree, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for a term not less than one year nor more than ten years, and in addition thereto, may be fined, as provided in section 362; and should the life or lives of any person or persons be lost in consequence of such burning, as mentioned in this and the preceding section, such offender shall be deemed guilty of murder, and shall be indicted and punished accordingly.

See sec. 6626.
See Ex Parte Curnow, 21 Nev. 35 (24 P. 430).

6626. Burning to defraud insurer.

SEC. 361. Every person who shall wilfully burn, or cause to be burned, any building, or any goods, wares, merchandise, or other chattel, which shall be at the time insured against loss or damage by fire, with intent to injure or defraud such insurer, whether the same be the property of such person, or of any other, shall, upon conviction, be adjudged guilty of arson in the second degree, and punished as prescribed in the next preceding section.

Evidence of an overlarge insurance upon the goods of the accused destroyed by the fire was competent as tending to show a possible or probable motive—such motive being a material link in the chain of circumstances. When, in a prosecution for arson, the fact of a belief on the part of the accused that he was overinsured became material, as tending to show a motive and thus making an important link in the chain of circumstances: Held, that the place and amount of such insurance might be proved by parol, without producing the policy of insurance. State v. Cohn, 9 Nev. 179.

See Ex Parte Prosole, 32 Nev. 378 (108 P. 630).

6627. Arson—Fine in addition to imprisonment.

SEC. 362. When any person is convicted of arson in either the first or second degree, the court, in addition to any term of imprisonment provided by law, may order and adjudge that the accused pay a fine not exceeding ten thousand dollars and not exceeding twice the value of the property destroyed by fire.

6628. "Set on fire" defined.

SEC. 363. A building, structure or any property mentioned in the last three preceding sections shall be deemed "set on fire," whenever any part thereof or anything therein shall be scorched, charred or burned.

6629. Contiguous fires.

SEC. 364. Whenever any building or structure which may be the subject of arson in either the first or second degree shall be so situated as to be manifestly endangered by any fire and shall subsequently be set on fire thereby, any person participating in setting such fire shall be deemed to have participated in setting such building or structure on fire.

6630. Ownership of building.

SEC. 365. To constitute arson it shall not be necessary that another person than the defendant should have had ownership in the building or structure set on fire.

6631. Preparation is attempt.

SEC. 366. Any wilful preparation made by any person with a view to setting fire to any building or structure shall be deemed to be an attempt to commit the crime of arson, and shall be punished as such.

6632. Starting and neglecting fires—Penalty.

SEC. 367. Every person who, upon departing from camp, or from any fire started by him in the open, wilfully and negligently leaves the fire or fires burning or unexhausted, or fails to thoroughly extinguish the same, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

See sec. 6579.

The act of Congress to prevent forest fires on the public domain, approved February 24, 1897, amended May 5, 1900 (7 Fed. Stats. Anntd., 308, 31 Stats. L. 169), provides that any person who shall wilfully set on fire any timber, underbrush or grass on the public domain, or shall leave or suffer fire to burn unattended near any timber or other inflammable material, shall be punished by a fine of not more than five thousand dollars, or by imprisonment for not more than two years, or by both.

Section 2 of the act provides that any person building a fire in or near any forest, timber or inflammable material upon the public domain, who shall fail to totally extinguish the same before leaving it, shall be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both.

6633. Damage by fire, penalty and liability for.

SEC. 368. Every person who lights a fire for any purpose along the road through any woodland, or upon the same, or at any other place in the open, and thereby, or by any other means, sets fire to any growing timber or forest, shubbery, crops, grass or vegetation, and thereby causes the destruction of any timber, forest, crops, grass, vegetation or property not his own, of the value of fifty dollars or more, shall be guilty of a felony and imprisoned in the state prison for not less than one year nor more than five years, and in addition thereto may be fined in a sum not exceeding ten thousand dollars and not exceeding twice the value of the property destroyed, in addition to being liable to the owner of such property for the full value thereof in a civil action.

See preceding section and sec. 6579.

CHAPTER 20

BURGLARY

6634. Burglary defined.
6635. Presumption of intent.
6636. Crime in building—Punished separately.
6637. Making or having burglar tools.

6634. Burglary defined.

SEC. 369. Every person who enters any house, room, apartment, tenement, shop, warehouse, store, mill, barn, stable, outhouse, or other building, tent, vessel, or railroad car, with intent to commit grand or petit larceny, or any felony, is guilty of burglary. Every burglary committed in the night-time is burglary of the first degree, and every burglary committed in the daytime is burglary of the second degree. Burglary of the first degree is punishable by imprisonment in the state prison for not less than one nor more than fifteen years. Burglary of the second degree is punishable by imprisonment in the state prison for not more than five years. Whenever burglary is committed upon a railroad train, in motion or in rest, in this state, and it cannot with reasonable certainty be ascertained in what county said crime was committed, the offender may be arrested and tried in any county through which said railroad train may have run on the trip during which such burglary is committed. The phrase "night-time," as used in this section, means the period between sunset and sunrise.

An instruction, that if defendant entered the house and stole therefrom certain goods, it might be inferred that he entered with intent to steal, held correct. State v. Watkins, 11 Nev. 30.

In order to constitute the crime of burglarly, it is just as essential to prove the intent as it is to prove the entry. Evidence to establish intent reviewed and held sufficient. State v. Clark, 12 Nev. 337.

Evidence reviewed and held insufficient to establish that the entry was made with intent to steal. State v. Ryan, 12 Nev. 402.

The language of the statute is broad enough to include buildings of any kind, regardless of the fact of inhabitancy.

Where the premises are described in the indictment as belonging to a certain person, the further allegation that the premises were occupied by a particular tenant is immaterial, and a failure to prove the latter allegation is not a variance, as its only office was to further identify premises already sufficiently described. State v. Dan, 18 Nev. 345 (4 P. 336).

Prior to the above section taking effect, former provisions defined burglary of the second degree as housebreaking, and under an indictment for burglary it was essential to prove that the breaking or entry was done in the night-time. State v. Gray, 23 Nev. 301 (46 P. 801).

See State v. Ah Sam, 7 Nev. 127.

Where an indictment for burglary charged that defendant broke into a certain room occupied by a certain company in a particular building, it was not necessary to allege the ownership of the building, since the allegation that defendant entered the room occupied by the prosecutor sufficiently laid the ownership of the premises entered in the company. It was not incumbent on the state to show ownership otherwise than by possession and occupancy. Where the indictment charged that defendants entered into a certain room occupied by a certain company as a store, it was not necessary to allege that the company was either a corporation, an association, or a copartnership. State v. Simas, 25 Nev. 432 (62 P. 242).

The offense is complete when the house is entered with a specific intent to steal, and the actual stealing or attempt to steal property therein is but evidence of such intent, and the allegation in the indictment of ownership of the property in the house is mere surplusage. Where accused, in explaining his flight from the immediate vicinity of the house, after the breaking and entry thereof had been discovered, testified that he ran away because he had a dirk-knife in his possession, and that he was afraid if arrested that he would be in danger of conviction for carrying a concealed weapon, the error, if any, in admitting the dirk-knife in evidence, was not prejudicial. State v. Simpson, 32 Nev. 138 (104 P. 244).

6635. Presumption of intent.

SEC. 370. Every person who shall unlawfully break and enter or unlawfully enter any building or structure enumerated in the last preceding section shall be deemed to have broken and entered or entered the same with intent to commit grand or petit larceny or a felony therein, unless such unlawful breaking and entering or unlawful entry shall be explained by testimony satisfactory to the jury to have been made without criminal intent.

6636. Crime in building—Punished separately.

SEC. 371. Every person who, in the commission of a burglary shall commit any other crime, shall be punished therefor as well as for the burglary, and may be prosecuted for each crime separately.

6637. Making or having burglar tools.

SEC. 372. Every person who shall make or mend or cause to be made or mended, or have in his possession in the day or night-time, any engine, machine, tool, false key, picklock, bit, nippers or implement adapted, designed or commonly used for the commission of burglary, larceny or other crime, under circumstances evincing an intent to use or employ, or allow the same to be used or employed in the commission of a crime, or knowing that the same is intended to be so used, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. The possession thereof except by a mechanic, artificer or tradesman at and in his established shop or place of business, open to public view, shall be prima facie evidence that such possession was had with intent to use or employ or allow the same to be used or employed in the commission of a crime.

CHAPTER 21

LARCENY, ALTERING BRANDS, DRIVING AWAY ANIMALS

6638. Grand larceny defined.
6639. Petit larceny defined.
6640. Taking or misbranding domestic animals, selling or purchasing hide or carcass, grand larceny.
6641. Failure to exhibit hide or keep record of brand, misdemeanor.
6642. Stock not to be driven from range.
6643. Conversion of realty to personalty, grand larceny.
6644. Idem—Petit larceny.
6645. Negotiable and other instruments, subjects of larceny.
6646. Larceny by lodger.
6647. Dog stealing.
6648. Receiving stolen goods.

6649. Detention of person bringing stolen goods into state.
6650. Property restored to owner.
6651. Restoration of stolen property—Duty of officers.
6652. Commission or part ownership no defense for stealing.

6638. Grand larceny defined.

SEC. 373. Every person who shall feloniously steal, take, and carry away, lead or drive away, the personal goods or property of another, of the value of fifty dollars or more, shall be deemed guilty of grand larceny, and upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for any term not less than one year nor more than fourteen years.

Where it was objected to an indictment for grand larceny of certain "silver-bearing ore" that the property alleged to have been stolen savored of the realty: Held, that as "ore" in its usual acceptation meant something severed from the realty, there was a sufficient statement of facts in the indictment showing it to be personal property. The taking and carrying away of articles, which formed a part of the freehold, will not constitute a larceny unless an interval of time has elapsed between the acts of severance and asportation; but it seems only such an interval is necessary as that the two acts shall not constitute one transaction. State v. Berryman, 8 Nev. 262.

See State v. Smith, 34 Nev. — (117 P. 19); State v. Brannan, 3 Nev. 238; Ex Parte Maher, 25 Nev. 422 (62 P. 1).

There may be a larceny without any intent on the part of the thief to profit himself, but there cannot be a larceny without an intent to deprive the owner of his property. State v. Ryan, 12 Nev. 401 (28 A. R. 802).

The possession of stolen property is not alone sufficient to justify a conviction for the larceny thereof. State v. Gray, 23 Nev. 301 (46 P. 801).

In prosecutions for larceny, the fact that the stolen property is, recently after the theft, found in the possession of the defendant, can always be given in evidence against him. The strength of the presumption of guilt, raised by the possession of property recently stolen, is for the jury to determine. It is the province of the jury to determine whether the possession is recent enough to raise the presumption. The presumption arising from possession of stolen property is a presumption of fact. Whether the explanation of one found with property, recently stolen, in his possession is reasonable or otherwise, is for the jury. Where there are successive larcenies, each complete and distinct, and not constituting one continuing transaction, the mere retention and possession by the thief of the fruits of his petit larcenies will not make him guilty of grand larceny, though the aggregate value of the stolen property exceeds fifty dollars. Several successive larcenies do not constitute different offenses where there is a continuing transaction, and the defendant may be convicted for the final carrying away. Where accused took cyanides from a mine from time to time, in small quantities, to avoid detection, and then carried them away, it was a continuous transaction, and he was properly convicted for the final asportation, the value of the cyanides being in excess of fifty dollars. The court instructed the jury as follows: "You are instructed that, in order to convict the defendant, you must not only be satisfied beyond a reasonable doubt that the property described in the indictment was stolen from the April Fool Gold Mining and Milling Company, but that the defendant either stole the property, or that he aided or encouraged the theft, and, if circumstances are alone relied on by the prosecution, then each circumstance must be proved beyond a reasonable doubt. And all the circumstances so proved must be such that the defendant could not be innocent in the light of their existence": Held, that that portion of the instruction reading "all the circumstances so proved must be such that the defendant could not be innocent in the light of their existence," suggests that degree of certainty which would exclude the possibility of the innocence of the accused, the law requiring no such certainty. If the circumstances, all taken together, exclude to a moral certainty every hypothesis but the single one of guilt, and establish that one beyond a reasonable doubt, they are sufficient. State v. Mandich, 24 Nev. 336 (54 P. 516).

Where a party commits larceny in one state and carries the stolen goods into another state, and there makes any removal or asportation of them with intent to steal the same, he may be properly indicted and tried for the larceny in the latter state. State v. Bouton, 26 Nev. 34 (62 P. 595).

An indictment, charging defendant with stealing and driving away particularly described cattle of four different owners, charges but one larceny, and is not duplicitous, so as to require the state to elect on which count it stands. Where, in a prosecution for larceny which was planned and executed by defendant, it appeared that he had suggested it to a witness who had been appointed deputy sheriff, and was acting as such, without defendant's knowledge, when invited to join in commission of the theft, and keeping the sheriff fully informed as to what was transpiring between him and defendant, such witness was neither a coconspirator nor an accomplice. State v. Douglas, 26 Nev. 196 (99 A. S. 688, 65 P. 802).

Evidence reviewed and held sufficient to warrant a conviction of the attempting to commit grand larceny in feloniously attempting to sever gold-bearing ore from the realty of a mining claim. State v. Thompson, 31 Nev. 209.

A person charged with larceny of cattle may be indicted and tried for the offense in any county through which he drove them, as well as in the county where they were stolen or into which they were driven. A person stealing goods in one county and carrying them into other counties is considered guilty of the crime and may be indicted and convicted in any one of such counties; because every act of the thief in the removal of the property and keeping it from the possession of the owner is, in contemplation of law, an offense. If property feloniously taken in one county be removed by the thief into another, the jurisdiction of the offense may be in either; but an indictment in the latter county must allege the offense to have been committed in such county, or that the bringing of the property into such county was felonious; and if it do not, it will not be sufficient. State v. Brown, 8 Nev. 208.

When property is found in the highway, and the finder knows the owner, or there are any marks upon it by which the owner may be ascertained, and the finder, instead of restoring it, converts it to his own use, such conversion will constitute a felonious taking. If there be a felonious intent to appropriate the property, coupled with a reasonable belief that the owner could be found, it would be larceny. If the finder takes possession of the property without intending to steal it at the time of the original taking, he cannot be found guilty of larceny by any subsequent intention to convert it to his own use. Where there is no other evidence tending to establish the guilt of the defendant except the fact of his having the possession of the property stolen, and the jury believed that the defendant gives a reasonable account of such possession, it would be their duty to acquit. State v. Clifford, 14 Nev. 72 (33 A. R. 526).

The court instructed the jury that if they believed that the defendant took the property "with the intent to permanently deprive the owner of the property, and without an intention to return the same, it was a felonious intent and the defendant is guilty": Held, correct. It is not essential that the taking should be with a view to pecuniary profit. The court instructed the jury "that where the evidence is entirely circumstantial, yet is not only consistent with the guilt of the defendant, but inconsistent with any other rational conclusion, the law makes it the duty of the jury to convict, notwithstanding such evidence may not be as satisfactory to their minds as the direct testimony of credible eye witnesses. State v. Slingerland, 19 Nev. 135 (7 P. 280).

The indictment properly charged defendant with stealing two horses, one saddle, and one blanket. The stealing of different articles at the same time and place constituted but one crime. The facts that one took a horse from the premises of its owner, without the latter's knowledge or consent, rode it for a certain distance, and then abandoned it, after removing and concealing the saddle and blanket, are sufficient to justify a finding of intent to permanently deprive the owner of his property, although the person charged has testified that he expected some one to take the property back, or that he expected the animal to stray back. If the jury were satisfied, beyond a reasonable doubt, that defendant used the property in such a manner that the owner would be likely to be permanently deprived of it, the presumption is that he intended so to use it, and the burden is upon him to rebut such presumption by competent evidence. The declarations of a codefendant made while the conspiracy was pending, and in furtherance of the common design, is admissible in evidence. If such declarations are admitted before proof of the conspiracy, the error is cured by subsequent evidence of the conspiracy. State v. Ward, 19 Nev. 297 (10 P. 133).

A person charged with a criminal offense is not called upon to answer the charge without satisfactory proof, upon the part of the prosecution, of the corpus delicti; but it is not essential, in all cases, that there should be any direct evidence upon this point. The corpus delicti may be established by circumstantial evidence. The identification and ownership of cattle may be proved by the brands and marks on the hides therefrom. Whether the evidence upon this point, in any given case, is sufficient as to the ownership of the cattle, is a question of fact to be determined by the jury. The "act to regulate marks and brands of stock" which provides that "no mark, brand, or counterbrand shall be considered as lawful, if not recorded as specified in this act," has no application to the use of such mark or brand in the identification of cattle as evidence in a criminal prosecution for larceny. Neither the guilt or innocence of the defendant, the ownership of the cattle, or credibility of the witnesses, depended in any manner upon the question whether the owners of the cattle stolen had demanded payment, or possession of the cattle, from the persons who had innocently purchased and paid for them from the defendant. State v. Cardelli, 19 Nev. 319 (10 P. 433).

Where evidence was introduced of defendant's bad character while residing near the place of trial: Held, that, in order to strengthen the case, other evidence was admissible as to his character while residing in a neighboring state fifteen years before. A telegram offering horses for sale, sent by defendant shortly after leaving the place where the larceny was committed, is admissible as tending to prove a desire to speedily dispose of property and flee. An instruction that, in order to convict, the jury must believe beyond a reasonable doubt that the animal was taken by the defendant in the county of trial, and must draw no inference of his guilt from the fact that they believed he had the animal in another county, was properly refused. An instruction that the accused is bound to explain the possession of stolen property, in order to remove its effect as a circumstance to be considered by the jury in connection with other circumstances indicative of guilt: Held, correct. State v. Espinozei, 20 Nev. 209 (19 P. 677).

6639. Petit larceny defined.

SEC. 374. Every person who shall steal, take, and carry, lead, or drive away, the personal goods or property of another, under the value of fifty dollars, shall be deemed guilty of petit larceny, and upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail not more than six months, or by fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

6640. Taking or misbranding domestic animals, selling or purchasing hide or carcass, grand larceny.

SEC. 375. Every person who shall feloniously steal, take and carry, lead, drive or entice away any horse, mare, gelding, colt, cow, bull, steer, calf, mule, jack, jenny, or any one or more head of cattle or horses or any sheep, goat, hog, shoat or pig, not his own property but belonging to some other person; and every person who shall mark or brand, or cause to be marked or branded, or shall alter or deface, or cause to be altered or defaced, a mark or brand upon any horse, mare, gelding, colt, cow, bull, steer, calf, mule, jack, jenny, or any one or more head of cattle or horses, or any sheep, goat, hog, shoat or pig, not his own property but belonging to some other person, with intent thereby to steal the same or to prevent the identification thereof by the true owner, or to defraud; and every person who, with intent to defraud, or to appropriate to his own use, shall wilfully kill any animal running at large, not his own, whether branded, marked or not; and every person who shall sell or purchase, with intent to defraud, the hide or carcass of any animal the brand or mark on which has been cut out or obliterated, shall be deemed guilty of grand larceny, and upon conviction shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for any term not less than one year nor more than fourteen years.

See sec. 7172.
Branding in same place as previous brand, sec. 2247.
County recorder recording brand similar to one already of record, sec. 2248.
Failure to give notice of estray animals taken up, deemed larceny, secs. 2274, 2276.
Marking stock by removing more than one-half of ear, sec. 2240.
Mismarking or misbranding stock not one's own, sec. 2242.
Railroads receiving for transportation out of state horses not inspected, secs. 2289–2291.
Removing horses out of state without inspection, sec. 2295.
Sheriff making false certificate of horses transported out of state, sec. 2294.
Shipping horses out of state without inspection, sec. 2290.
Appointment of hide inspector, sec. 2285.

6641. Failure to exhibit hide or keep record of brand, misdemeanor.

SEC. 376. Any person slaughtering any cattle shall keep for the period of ten days, in some place where the same may be seen, the hide intact, with the ears on, and shall on demand of any person or persons be required to produce the hide, with the ears on, for the said period of ten days. It shall be unlawful for any person to sell any slaughtered bovine animal to the keeper of any butcher shop or any market in this state, without having, and upon request exhibiting, to such butcher, the hide containing the brand and other marks upon the hide of such animal, or for any person peddling the meat of any bovine animal, who is not the keeper of any shop or meat market, to sell such meat without having in his possession, then and there, and upon request exhibiting, the hide of such animal containing the brand and other marks thereon. It shall be unlawful for the keeper of any slaughter-house, or person engaged in slaughtering cattle for sale in this state, to purchase any cattle for slaughter, or any slaughtered bovine animal, without having exhibited to him the hide of such animal, and examining the brand and other marks upon such hide, and making and entering in a book kept for that purpose, and as hereafter provided in this section, a description of such brand and marks, with the name of the person from whom the purchase was made and the date of such purchase. It shall be the duty of every keeper of any slaughter-house, engaged in the business of slaughtering any bovine animals, to keep at his slaughter-house, place of business or office, a book, in which shall be recorded and preserved a description of the brand and other marks upon the hide of each slaughtered bovine animal, with the name of the person from whom the animal was purchased, when such name is known or can be ascertained, and the date of such purchase. Said book shall be open to the hide inspector or the owner of any cattle during business hours. Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than fifty nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding six months, or both.

6642. Stock not to be driven from range.

SEC. 377. No person shall be permitted to lead, drive, or in any manner remove, any horse, mare, colt, jack, jenny, mule, or any head of neat cattle, or hog, sheep, goat, or any number of these animals, the same being the property of another person, from the range on which they are permitted to run in common, without the consent of the owner thereof first had and obtained; provided, the owner of any such animals, as aforesaid, finding the same running on the herd grounds or commons, with other animals of the same kind, may be permitted to drive his own animal or animals, together with such other animals as he cannot conveniently separate from his own, to the nearest and most convenient corral, or other place for separating his own from other animals, if he, in such case, immediately, with all convenient speed, drive all such animals, not belonging to himself, back to the herd ground from which he brought such animals. Any person violating the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, on conviction thereof, shall be punishable by a fine of not less than twenty nor exceeding five hundred dollars, or imprisonment not exceeding six months nor less than thirty days, or both.

6643. Conversion of realty to personalty, grand larceny.

SEC. 378. Every person who shall convert any manner of real estate, of the value of fifty dollars or over, into personal property, by severing the same from the realty of another, with felonious intent to and shall so steal, take and carry away the same, shall be deemed guilty of grand larceny, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for any term not less than one year nor more than fourteen years.

See State v. Thompson, 31 Nev. 209 (101 P. 557); Ex Parte Smith, 33 Nev.—(111 P. 937), cited in Ex Parte Maher, 25 Nev. 422 (62 P. 1).

6644. Idem—Petit larceny.

SEC. 379. Every person who shall convert any manner of real estate, of the value of under fifty dollars, into personal property, by severing the same from the realty of another, with felonious intent to and shall so steal, take and carry away the same, shall be deemed guilty of petit larceny, and upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail for a period of not more than six months, or by fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or both.

6645. Negotiable and other instruments subjects of larceny.

SEC. 380. Bonds, promissory notes, bank notes, bills of exchange, or other bills, orders, drafts, checks, receipts or certificates, or warrants for or concerning money, goods, or property, due, or to become due, or to be delivered, or any public security issued by the United States, or by this state, and any deed or writing containing a conveyance of land, or valuable contract, in force, or any release or defeasance, or any other instrument whatever, shall be considered personal goods, of which larceny may be committed, and the money due thereon, or secured thereby and remaining unsatisfied, or which, in any event or contingency, might be collected thereon, or the value of the property transferred or affected thereby, as the case may be, shall be deemed the value of the article stolen.

6646. Larceny by lodger.

SEC. 381. If any lodger shall take away, with intent to steal, embezzle, or purloin, any bedding, furniture, goods, or chattels, which he is to use in or with his lodging, he shall be deemed guilty of grand or petit larceny, according to the value of the property so taken, and, on conviction, shall be punished accordingly.

6647. Dog stealing.

SEC. 382. Every person who shall steal, take, and carry, lead or drive away, any dog, either of the male or female kind, belonging to another, shall be deemed guilty of petit larceny, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail, not more than six months, or by a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars, or both. In any judgment rendered for a fine only, the judgment shall provide that, unless the same be paid, the defendant shall be imprisoned in the county jail, at the rate of one day for every two dollars of the fine.

6648. Receiving stolen goods.

SEC. 383. Every person who, for his own gain, or to prevent the owner from again possessing his property, shall buy or receive stolen goods, or anything the stealing of which is declared to be larceny, or property obtained by robbery, burglary, or embezzlement, knowing the same so to have been obtained, shall upon conviction, be imprisoned in the state prison for a term not exceeding five years, or by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or both; and every such person may be tried, convicted, and punished, as well before as after the trial of the principal. No person convicted of the offense specified in this section shall be condemned to imprisonment in the state prison, unless the value of the thing bought or received shall amount to fifty dollars, but the same shall be punished as provided in cases of petit larceny.

The rule of the common law requiring that an indictment be found in the county where the crime was committed prevails in Nevada, and, while the crime of larceny is an exception to the rule, in the absence of statute the venue of the crime of receiving stolen goods is in the county where they are received, and not in the county where they are stolen, nor the one to which they are subsequently taken. There are three material and essential elements of the offense, to wit: The person charged must receive or buy the property; he must know that the property was stolen, and there must be a purpose or intent to prevent the owner from again possessing the property, or to accomplish the receiver's own gain. The wrongful intent, being a necessary ingredient of the crime, must exist at the time of the buying or receiving of the stolen goods. Criminal practice act provides that when a public offense is committed in part in one county and in part in another, or the acts or effects thereof constituting or requisite to the consummation of the offense occur in two or more counties, the jurisdiction shall be in either county. Stolen goods were purchased, paid for, and received by accused in E. County, and were thereafter shipped by him to C. County. Held, that C. County had no jurisdiction of the offense, since the offense of receiving stolen goods is consummated when the goods are received with the unlawful intent specified in the statute, and the subsequent transportation of the goods into another county to reap the fruits of the crime is not an act essential to the consummation of the crime, and, if the effect of the transportation of the goods to C. County constituted the intent to deprive the owner of the property, the act of receiving was not accompanied by the wrongful intent necessary to constitute the crime. Where the evidence, in a prosecution in C. County for receiving stolen property, merely shows that the stolen property was purchased by accused in E. County, the indictment is not sustained by the proof, and the judgment should be reversed on appeal. State v. Pray, 30 Nev. 206 (94 P. 218).

Money received by a clerk who is intrusted by his employer with bills to collect, in the ordinary course of his business as a clerk, is money intrusted to him by his employer. Petitioner was an assistant of the agent of the Central Pacific Railroad Company, and had been held out to the public by the agent as having authority to collect bills, and was enabled, by reason of the trust reposed in him by the company, to collect the company's money and discharge its debtors from their obligations to the company. Held, that although he had no general authority to collect all bills due the company he was, under the circumstances, intrusted by the company with the money which he had collected. It does not lie in the mouth of petitioner to deny that he had the authority which he claimed in order to collect the money, and which the confidence reposed in him by his employer enabled him to claim with success. A clerk may commit more than one embezzlement of his employer's money, and if he does he may be separately indicted for each separate offense. If the money from different parties was all collected before any portion of it was converted, then petitioner committed but one offense; but the burden of establishing this fact is upon petitioner. Ex Parte Ricord, 98 A. D. 140.

An indictment need not allege that defendant appropriated the property wilfully, feloniously, or with intent to steal, as the offense is complete when the appropriation is made, though he intended to afterwards replace the property taken. State v. Trolson, 21 Nev. 419 (32 P. 930).

The intent with which an accused person appropriates money or property to his own use is a question of fact to be determined from the evidence in the particular case. On the trial of an indictment charging defendant with the embezzlement of certain money received by him as agent of an express company for transmission, the fact that the money so received was in the safe, constitutes no defense, where defendant was short in his accounts with the company in an amount larger than that alleged to have been embezzled. State v. Trolson, 21 Nev. 419 (32 P. 930).

The president of a corporation is a "person," within the statute declaring that any person, agent, manager, or clerk of a corporation with whom any money shall be deposited or intrusted, who shall appropriate it to his own use, shall be guilty of embezzlement. Where defendant, the president of a corporation, was charged with embezzlement in misappropriating the proceeds of treasury stock sold, it was the duty of the state to prove the legal organization of the corporation, the amount and character of its capital stock, that the money credited to defendant's bank account as the proceeds of the stock sold, was applied in whole or in part to his own use, or to that of another, or that defendant, on demand, had refused to repay the same to the rightful owner. State v. Weber, 31 Nev. 385 (103 P. 411).

6649. Detention of person bringing stolen goods into state.

SEC. 384. Every person bringing any goods or property into this state, taken by himself, or which he knew was taken by another, in another territory or state, by robbery, burglary, embezzlement, or larceny, shall, upon reasonable cause being shown to a magistrate to induce him to believe that the accused has brought such goods or property into this state, taken in either of the ways aforesaid in another territory or state, be committed to the county jail, to await a requisition from the governor of the territory or state whence such goods or property were brought as aforesaid into this state; provided, that such person shall not be detained in such custody longer than a period of eight weeks.

See Ex Parte Lorraine, 16 Nev. 63.

6650. Property restored to owner.

SEC. 385. All property obtained by larceny, robbery, burglary, or embezzlement, shall be restored to the owner, and no sale, whether in good faith on the part of the purchaser, or not, shall divest the owner of his right to such property. Such owner may maintain his action, not only against the felon, but against any person in whose possession he may find the property.

See sec. 7448.

A motion by the accused for an order directing the sheriff to pay over to him money unlawfully detained, as shown by an affidavit in support of such motion, was properly denied, as such money could be recovered by civil action, and, if the money was taken from him at the time of his arrest, the statute provides for its disposition. State v. Burns, 27 Nev. 289 (74 P. 983).

6651. Restoration of stolen property—Duty of officers.

SEC. 386. The officer arresting any person charged as principal or accessory in any robbery or larceny shall use reasonable diligence to secure the property alleged to have been stolen, and after seizure shall be answerable therefor while it remains in his hands, and shall annex a schedule thereof to his return of the warrant. Whenever the district attorney shall require such property for use as evidence upon the examination or trial, such officer, upon his demand, shall deliver it to him and take his receipt therefor, after which such district attorney shall be answerable for the same.

6652. Commission or part ownership no defense for stealing.

SEC. 387. It shall be no defense to a prosecution for larceny that the accused was entitled to a commission out of the money or property appropriated, as compensation for collecting or receiving the same for or on behalf of the owner thereof, or that the money or property appropriated was partly the property of another and partly the property of the accused; but it shall not be larceny for any bailee, factor, pledgee, servant, attorney, agent, employee, or trustee, executor, administrator, guardian, officer or other person to retain his reasonable collection fee or charges.

CHAPTER 22

EMBEZZLEMENT UNLAWFUL—RETENTION OR PAYMENT OF PUBLIC MONEY

6653. Embezzlement by bailee or others—Bailee defined.
6654. Embezzlement prima facie evidence.
6655. Contractor failing to pay for labor or material.
6656. Using public money, $50 or less, misdemeanor.
6657. Using public money, over $50, a felony.
6658. Misappropriation and falsification of accounts by public officer.
6659. Penalty for neglect or refusal to pay over.
6660. Misappropriation by treasurer.
6661. Compensation prohibited.
6662. Employment of clerks prohibited.

6653. Embezzlement by bailee or other person—Bailee defined.

SEC. 388. Any bailee of any money, goods or property, who shall convert the same to his own use, with the intent to steal the same or to defraud the owner or owners thereof and any agent, manager or clerk of any person, corporation, association or partnership, or any person with whom any money, property or effects shall have been deposited or entrusted, who shall use or appropriate such money, property or effects or any part thereof in any manner or for any other purpose than that for which the same was deposited or entrusted, shall be guilty of embezzlement, and shall be punished in the manner prescribed by law for the stealing or larceny of property of the kind and name of the money, goods, property or effects so taken, converted, stolen, used or appropriated. The term bailee, as used in this section, shall be construed to include and mean all persons with whom any money, goods, or property has been deposited, and all persons to whom any goods or property has been loaned or hired, and all persons to whom any goods or property shall be delivered, for any purpose whatsoever, and all persons who shall, either as agent, collector, or servant, be empowered, authorized, or entrusted to carry, collect, or receive any money, goods or property of another; and any use of said money, goods, or property by any bailee thereof, other than that for which the same was borrowed, hired, deposited, carried, received, or collected, shall be prima facie evidence of conversion and of intent to steal the same and defraud the owner or owners thereof.

Embezzlement or misapplication of bank funds or defrauding bank, sec. 648.

If a clerk by authority of his master collects one bill and fraudulently converts the money, the offense of embezzlement is complete, and if he collects another bill after the first conversion, and then fraudulently converts the proceeds, he is guilty of a second offense. Ricord v. C. P. R. R. Co., 15 Nev. 167.

See Ex Parte Ricord, 11 Nev. 287; State v. Malim, 14 Nev. 293; State v. Carrick, 16 Nev. 120; State v. Nevin, 19 Nev. 167 (7 P. 650, 3 A. S. 873); State v. Weber, 31 Nev. 385 (103 P. 411); Ex Parte Rickey, 31 Nev. 82 (135 A. S. 651, 100 P. 134); State v. Trolson, 21 Nev. 428 (32 P. 930).

6654. Embezzlement, prima facie evidence.

SEC. 389. If any clerk, apprentice, servant, or any other person whatsoever, whether bound or hired, to whom any money or goods, or chattels, or other property, shall be intrusted for any purpose whatsoever, by his or her master, employer, or any other person or persons, corporation or corporations, by whom he or she may be intrusted, shall withdraw himself or herself and shall go away with the said money, goods, chattels, or property, or any part thereof, with the intent to steal the same, and defraud his or her master, employer, or any other person or persons, corporation or corporations, of the same, or being in the service of his or her said master, or employer, corporation or corporations, or any other person or firm, shall embezzle the said money, goods, chattels, or property, or any part thereof, or shall otherwise convert the same to his or her own use, it shall be prima facie evidence of the intent to steal the same, and every such person or persons so offending shall be punished in the manner prescribed by law for feloniously stealing property of the value of the articles so taken, embezzled, stolen, or converted.

See notes to sec. 6653.

6655. Contractor failing to pay for labor or material.

SEC. 390. Every person having entered into a contract to supply any labor or materials for the value or price of which any lien might lawfully be filed upon the property of another, who shall receive the full price or consideration thereof, or the amount of any account stated thereon, or part payment thereon, shall be deemed to receive the same as the agent of the party with whom such contract was made, his successor or assign, for the purpose of paying all claims for labor and materials supplied, in so far as the money so received will pay such claims.

6656. Using public money, $50 or less, misdemeanor.

SEC. 391. Every public officer or other person who shall have in his possession, control or custody any public money belonging to this state, or to any county, town, city, district, or municipal corporation within this state, or to whom any such public money shall be intrusted for safe keeping, or for transmission to any treasurer, other officer or person entitled to receive the same, who shall use any of such public money for his own private purposes, or for any purpose other than one duly authorized by law, shall, if the amount so unlawfully used be fifty dollars or less, be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, on conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine not less than one hundred dollars, and not more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not less than one month nor more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

See State v. Nevin, 19 Nev. 167 (7 P. 650, 3 A. S. 873).

6657. Using public money, over $50, a felony.

SEC. 392. Every public officer or other person who shall have in his possession, control, or custody any public money belonging to this state, or to any county, town, city, district, or municipal corporation within this state, or to whom any such public money shall be intrusted for safe keeping or for transmission to any treasurer or other officer, or other person entitled to receive the same, who shall use any of such public money for his own private purposes, or for any purpose other than one duly authorized by law, shall, if the amount unlawfully used be more than fifty dollars, be deemed guilty of a felony, and, on conviction thereof, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for a term not less than one year or more than fifteen years.

6658. Misappropriation and falsification of accounts by public officer.

SEC. 393. Every public officer, and every other person receiving money on behalf or for or on account of this state or of any department of the state government or of any bureau or fund created by law in which the state is directly or indirectly interested, or for or on account of any county, city, town, municipal corporation, or any school or district, who—

1. Shall knowingly keep any false account, or make any false entry or erasure in any account, of or relating to any money so received by him; or,

2. Shall fraudulently alter, falsify, conceal, destroy or obliterate any such account; or,

3. Shall wilfully omit or refuse to pay over to the state, its officer or agent authorized by law to receive the same, or to such county, city, town or such school, municipal corporation, or district or to the proper officer or authority empowered to demand and receive the same, any money received by him as such officer when it is a duty imposed upon him by law to pay over and account for the same, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for not more than fifteen years.

6659. Penalty for neglect or refusal to pay over.

SEC. 394. If any clerk, justice of the peace, sheriff, constable, or other officer, who may receive any fine or forfeiture, shall refuse or neglect to pay over the same according to law, and within thirty days after the receipt thereof, he shall, in addition to being imprisoned and punished as provided by law, be liable upon his official bond for the amount thereof, with fifty per cent damages and interest, to be recovered in like manner as for failing to pay over money received on execution.

6660. Misappropriation by treasurer.

SEC. 395. Every state, county, city or town treasurer who shall wilfully misappropriate any moneys, funds or securities received by or deposited with him as such treasurer, or who shall be guilty of any other malfeasance or wilful neglect of duty in his office, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for not more than fifteen years or by a fine of not more than ten thousand dollars, and not more than twice the amount misappropriated.

6661. Compensation prohibited.

SEC. 396. No money shall be paid out of the state treasury in payment of the salary or compensation of the clerk or secretary of any commission connected with the state government, or for any clerical work done, performed, or rendered to such commission except in pursuance of a direct and explicit appropriation by law to pay for such service; and the state controller is hereby prohibited from drawing his warrant in payment of such salary or compensation unless authorized by a law making an explicit appropriation for that purpose.

6662. Employment of clerks prohibited.

SEC. 397. Any state officer employing or paying any person or persons out of any state money for any such service or labor, as set forth in the preceding section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof be fined in the sum of five hundred dollars, or imprisonment in the county jail for a period not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

SEC. 398. Every person who shall falsely make, alter, forge, or counterfeit any record, or other authentic matter of a public nature, or any charter, letters patent, deed, lease, indenture, writing obligatory, will, testament, codicil, annuity, bond, covenant, bank bill or note, post note, check, draft, bill of exchange, contract, promissory note, due bill for the payment of money or property, receipt for money or property, power of attorney, any auditor's warrant for the payment of the money at the treasury, county order or warrant, or request for the payment of money, or the delivery of goods or chattels of any kind, or for the delivery of any instrument of writing, or acquittance, release, or receipt for money or goods, or any acquittance, release, or discharge for any debt, account, suit, action, demand, or other thing, real or personal, or any transfer or assurance of money, stock, goods, chattels, or other property whatever, or any letter of attorney, or other power to receive money, or to receive or transfer stock or annuities, or to let, lease, dispose of, alien, or convey any goods or chattels, lands or tenements, or other estate, real or personal, or any acceptance or indorsement of any bill of exchange, promissory note, draft, order, or assignment of any bond, writing obligatory, or promissory note, for money or other property, or any order, writ or process lawfully issued by any court or public officer, or any document or paper recorded or filed in any court or with any public officer, or in the senate or assembly, or shall counterfeit or forge the seal or handwriting of another, with intent to damage or defraud any person or persons, body politic or corporate, whether the said person or persons, body politic or corporate reside in or belong to this state or not, or shall utter, publish, pass, or attempt to pass, as true and genuine, any of the above-named false, altered, forged, or counterfeited matters, as above specified and described, knowing the same to be false, altered, forged, or counterfeited with intent to prejudice, damage or defraud any person or persons, body politic or corporate, whether the said person or persons, body politic or corporate, reside in this state or not; shall be deemed guilty of forgery, and upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for a term not less than one year nor more than fourteen years.

Forging or counterfeiting returns, or substituting false for original returns, sec. 1828.

In a prosecution for forging a check drawn in favor of "Sapphire Mill or bearer": Held, that an objection that the check presented no sensible payee was invalid, for the reason that the check being payable to bearer was sufficient. In a prosecution for forging a check drawn on the "Agency of the Bank of California," where it was both alleged and proved that the bank was a corporation under the laws of California, and that it had an agency in Virginia City, whose business it was to receive deposits and pay out money on the checks of depositors: Held, than an objection that the check presented no sensible drawee was invalid. In a prosecution for forging a check upon an "Agency of the Bank of California": Held, that the facts of the existence of the corporation and of the agency might be made by oral testimony, and that the production of the certificate of incorporation was unnecessary. An instruction in a forgery case, that "when an offense involves the commission, or an attempt to commit private injury, and is described with sufficient certainty in other respects to identify the act, an erroneous allegation as to the person injured, or intended to be injured, shall not be deemed material": Held, to be simply a recital of the statutory provisions upon the subject, and proper under circumstances calling for an instruction upon the point. Where an indictment for forgery of a check on a bank alleged an intent to defraud the drawer: Held, that, though in one sense such drawer could not be defrauded, as he could not be held to pay forged paper, yet, as he might have paid, had the forgery not been discovered, and as the forger could not have intended a discovery, there was an existent possibility of fraud upon him, and that was sufficient. In cases of forgery there are generally two persons who legally may be defrauded—the one whose name is forged and the one to whom the forged instrument is to be passed, and the indictment may lay the intent to defraud either of them; and proof of an intent to defraud either and to pass the instrument as good, though there be shown no actual intent to defraud the particular person, will sustain the allegation. State v. Cleavland, 6 Nev. 181.

An indictment for forgery is sufficient, if the offense is substantially set forth, though not in the precise words of a statute. The word "falsely" is not essential to the validity of the indictment. The word "forged," as used in the indictment, necessarily implies that the writing was falsely made. These words, "wilfully, unlawfully, and feloniously," though not words of the same import, have a broader and more extensive significance than the word "falsely," and are more than its equivalent. When the indictment charges the forgery to have been committed by forging the signature of a person on the back of a draft, with intent to defraud such person: Held, unnecessary to allege that the bank upon which the draft was drawn was incorporated. State v. McKiernan, 17 Nev. 224 (30 P. 831).

In view of the statute providing that the offense charged shall be distinctly set forth in ordinary and concise language, so as to enable a person of common understanding to know what is intended, and the general rule that an indictment charging an offense in the words of the statute is sufficient, an indictment for forgery providing that every person who shall attempt to pass, utter, or publish, with intent to defraud, any fictitious note, bill, or check, shall be deemed guilty of forgery, sufficiently charged the offense by the averment that defendant did "attempt to pass a fictitious check," particularly when the sufficiency of the indictment was not raised until after verdict. State v. Raymond, 34 Nev. — (117 P. 17).

6668. True writing signed by wrong-doer's name or name of person not in existence.

SEC. 403. Whenever the false making or uttering of any instrument or writing is forgery, every person who, with intent to defraud shall offer, dispose of or put off such an instrument or writing subscribed or endorsed in his own name or that of any other person, whether such signature be genuine or fictitious, under the pretense that such subscription or endorsement is the act of another person of the same name, or that of a person not in existence, shall be deemed guilty of forgery and be punished accordingly.

6669. False certificate to certain instruments punishable as forgery.

SEC. 404. Every officer authorized to take a proof or acknowledgment of an instrument which by law may be recorded, who shall wilfully certify falsely that the execution of such instrument was acknowledged by any party thereto, or that the execution thereof was proved, shall be guilty of a felony, and be punished the same as persons who are guilty of forgery.

6670. Misconduct in signing or filing a petition.

SEC. 405. Every person who shall wilfully sign the name of another person or of a fictitious person to, or for any consideration, gratuity or reward shall sign his own name to or withdraw his name from any referendum or other petition circulated in pursuance of any law of this state or any municipal ordinance; or in signing his name to such petition shall wilfully subscribe to any false statement concerning his age, citizenship, residence or other qualifications to sign the same; or knowing that any such petition contains any such false or wrongful signature or statement, shall file the same, or put the same off with intent that it should be filed, as a true and genuine petition, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

6671. Destroying deeds or other writings.
